HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION TAKES ON BUSINESS LOOK

Now that the Board of Road Commissioners for Road District No. 1 has qualified it has begun forming plans for the preliminary work for the good roads improvement in said district. The bond record has been perfected to meet the requirements of the Attorney General's Department and in a few days the bonds will be presented for approval with the belief that the record will be satisfactory.

The board has employed Willard E. Simpson who resides in San Antonio, as the engineer for the district on a percentage basis. Mr. Simpson comes very highly recommended, and his employment by Kimble County makes his connection with that county very desirable for one of our highways extends through that county.

The engineer, under the guidance of the Road Commissioners, will at once begin a survey of the two highways passing through the district. No. 27 begins at Ingram and extends to the Kimble County line. No. 41, which has been designated by the State Highway Commission as the "Schreiner Highway" in honor of Capt. Chas. Schreiner, begins at Silver Creek and extends to the Real County line. The first is known as the Junction Road and the latter as the Rocksprings Road.

The location of these two roadbeds is highly important and necessarily many changes must be made from the present roadbeds. Wherever possible the permanent roadbed will be removed from the danger of high water damage. The general public can be of inestimable help to the board and engineer in assisting them by suggestions and otherwise in arriving at the best location of the roads, where changes are made or should be made.

Those composing the road board are doing this work at a great sacrifice; they are trying to place Kerr County on the map with reference to good highways; they need your cooperation and help. Be as patriotic as they are by backing them up in every way you can. The property owners, who own the land over which the roadbed may be finally located should in every instance, where no serious damage be done them, donate the roadbed to the county for the reason the highway will offset any damage to their property, and in fact will increase the value of their holdings.

Let us all take a real personal interest in this road improvement work, presenting an united and earnest effort and desire to do our full duty in the premises, and we know if this is done we shall accomplish the desired results.

THE FAMILY.

TRADE AT HOME

The wonderful influences of Trading at Home are first visible in Community Appearance. Smoothly paved streets and walks lined by tall, stately shade trees; well-kept, velvety green lawns; clean, newly painted buildings and homes; broad, grassy parks and playgrounds; large, modern school buildings—these are unmistakable signs of Trade at Home.

All these modern features of Community Environment find their birth in the revenues derived from Trading at Home. Money circulated at Home, sent out each day to Home Merchants for the necessities and the luxuries daily consumed in each Community Home, brings forth a fund of taxes and donations from the Merchants which is a great part in the financial stimulus to Civic Improvements. The Home Merchant is a dyed-in-the-wool Home Booster. He wants to see his Community grow. He wants it to flourish, prosper and keep pace with Civic Progress of the most advanced character.

Walk into a Community Grocery, a Community Pharmacy, a Community Jewelry Shop, a Community Dry Goods Store—any Home Boosting place of business—and look around. You will find stuck here and there around the cash register, on the counters, atop the show cases, tickets for School Entertainments, Woman's Club Bazaars, Y. M. C. A. Programs and Church Socials; membership cards for Good Roads, Chamber of Commerce, Get-together-Clubs, and every conceivable kind of character of Home Activity. These tickets and cards represent hundreds of dollars yearly that Home Merchants donate to Home Advancement, Community Progress.

Nor are the Home Merchants the sole beneficiaries of the splendid things making up Community Progress. Not at all. In fact, it is the plain citizen—man, woman and child—who derives the greatest pleasures. A child of the Community probably enjoys them most. Paved streets to ride a wheel upon, parks and playgrounds to romp, magnificent schools to learn in—these are the environments that develop healthy, happy, dependable children—sound morally, mentally and physically.

Are you Trading at Home? Are you supporting your Home Merchant in his loyal effort to bring the best things of clean Civic Life to your Community? Are you figuring that goods bought at Home are cheaper in the long run than those secured out of town even though the price in money may be slightly greater? Are you counting the good things of life brought about by Trading at Home as worth a few cents to your children? Or do you never lose sight of the penny itself and think not at all of the Mutual Welfare of your Community?

DIRECTOR WALTON SAYS TRIP OF GREAT VALUE

T. O. Walton of A. & M. College, in a letter to County Agent Quintal, says of the proposed trip for club boys:

"In a few instances the question of sending a club boy on the Texas Farm Boys' Special has been presented to organizations and business men who took the position that it would be best to spend $300 in sending a club boy to the A. & M. College for a year, or spend it in some other way. Those questions have been well thought out.

"In the first place a very small per cent of the club boys are of sufficient age to enter the A. & M. College at present, and a still smaller per cent have the necessary preparation. It is safe to predict that practically every boy who makes the tour on the Texas Farm Boys' Special will, in time, get a college education. Give a boy the proper vision and inspiration and he will get an education regardless of funds. The benefit of a trip on the "special" to the boys individually is only a small part of the total value that we hope to derive from the undertaking. The following are some of the things that we hope to accomplish: (1) Stimulate interest among boys in agriculture by getting them in the clubs and studying. (2) Give a representative number of boys from the various counties a vision of agriculture beyond their community and county. (3) Advise to the Nation the wonderful resources of the various counties of Texas and exhibit the spirit of Texas. (4) Impress upon the public the work of the Extension Service. This is not the most important object but, however, it has its value. This proposed undertaking furnishes an opportunity for the Extension Service and the various county interests to join together and put across a piece of work that will attract Nation-wide attention. If, on the other hand, by some individual plan each county spent two or three hundred dollars on club work its effects and influence would be largely local. It is the co-operation and concentration on a State plan and putting it over together that gets results.

"It occurred to me that a few thoughts on this subject may be of assistance to you when discussing it with your business people.

"Yours truly,
"T. O. WALTON,
"Director."

Appreciation

Hughes desire to express their most sincere thanks and heartfelt gratitude to all those friends who extended to them so generously their sympathy and kindness in the last illness and death of their beloved mother, and also to express their appreciation of the beautiful floral offerings.

HIGH SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT WHIRL OF ACTIVITY

During the past two weeks, the Kerrville High School has been the scene of ceaseless activity. Week before last was given up to reviews, final exams and preparation for commencement.

The Baccalaureate Service was held in the High School Auditorium on Sunday, May 16. The rostrum was beautifully decorated with ferns and flowers of the class colors, pink and lavender. Mrs. Young played the march to which the class entered, the girls being alternately dressed in class colors and the boys wearing button-hole streamers of the same. Rev. Mr. Houts read the Scripture Lesson and Mrs. Doyle and Miss Hattie Garrett gave a beautiful vocal rendition of "Nearer, My God, to Thee," accompanied by Mrs. Ferguson. Miss Ethelra Fraley delighted the audience with a violin solo. Dr. Macdougall made an excellent address to the class, after which Rev. Dr. Dickey dismissed the congregation.

On the following Monday morning the student body gathered in the auditorium for the program rendered by Miss Dunscomb's Class in Expression. They then retired to their respective rooms, where they submitted their text-books for inspection. During the afternoon, the Third Grade art work was exhibited to many visitors and the final Thrift Contest was held, in which Cassie Box was victorious.

The Junior Class tendered a reception to the Seniors Tuesday evening, and on the following evening the Home Economic Classes enjoyed a very jolly party.

On Thursday evening, the Senior Play, "Aaron Boggs, Freshman," was an unqualified success, with door receipts of $85.00. Every part was well played, and special mention should be made of Mrs. G. M. Doyle, whose untiring efforts as coach to the players made the success possible. In appreciation of Mrs. Doyle's interest, a beautiful cut-glass vase was presented her by the Senior Class.

The faculty attended, in a body, the luncheon given in honor of Miss Annie Webb Blanton, at the St. Charles Hotel last Friday, after which they repaired to the school building, where the pupils had gathered to obtain their promotion and text-book cards.

Acting upon the instruction of our future superintendent, R. A. Franklin, the entire school marched to the auditorium. At first, Superintendent Jones demurred, stating that he had issued no such orders, but Supt.-Elect Franklin stated in terms of emphasis that "the school would go to the auditorium," and Mr. Jones gracefully submitted to new authority. After all were assembled, little Misses Elizabeth Eastland and Ethel May Everson appeared on the stage, bearing bouquets of lovely flowers and a handsome travelling bag. The High School gave fifteen cheers for Mr. Jones, and during all this excitement his face wore a puzzled look. Upon being called to the front, he was presented the bag, a gift from the school. The presentation was made by Marshall Leazer, who, in well-chosen words, expressed appreciation of Mr. Jones' efficient leadership during the year.

Scotfield Commencement

Commencement Week at the Scotfield School opens with the baccalaureate sermon by Rev. Dr. G. M. Macdougall at 11 o'clock Sunday morning, May 30.

There will be school as usual on Monday and Tuesday for the undergraduates. Mrs. Howard's music pupils will give a recital at the school Tuesday at 4:30 p. m.

Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock, Rev. Dr. Dickey will address the graduates and present diplomas to Misses Alice Magruder, Mae Louise Schreiner and Florence Scotfield. After these exercises there will be a small exhibit of sewing done by the pupils of the sewing classes during the year.

Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock, the girls will give a playlet, "After the Game," presenting some scenes from college life.

The public is cordially invited to these exercises, all of which will be at the school, except the sermon on Sunday morning at St. Peter's Episcopal Church.

ATHLETICS DROP ONE AND TAKE THE OTHER

Kerrville-Base Ball Park, May 23.—The Public Service Co.'s substantial nine of San Antonio beat the Athletics in a heart-breaking contest by the close score of 3 to 1. The game was the best exhibition staged at the local park this season.

Dreisch for the conductors pitched superb ball, letting the hard-hitting Athletics down with only two hits. While Schulze for the Athletics started off a little wild and was found for two extra base knocks and a single with a walk mixed between in the first inning, netting the visitors two scores, after the first spasm he settled down and pitched a fair game. The Athletics had several opportunities to cinch the game, but failed to deliver the necessary blows in the pinches.

The hero of the game was Cicero the dependable all-around second-sacker for Kerrville, who secured the only two hits for the locals, a single in the second and a homerun in the fifth inning. Both teams fielded a first-class game.

The Athletics journeyed to Fritztown Monday and defeated the Fredericksburg Giants in a one-sided game by the score of 11 to 4. After Dreisch pitching for the Conductors of San Antonio, starved the Athletics on hits they made the Giant pitchers pay for it and hit the pit often and effective. Manny and Lochte each secured three smashes, while Cicero, Naylor, Wilson and Jap each obtained two safeties.

Manny hurled a dependable game, striking out 12 batters and keeping the hits well scattered, while Henke and Krauskopf for the Giants were hit alike.

NEFF CLUB PERFECTS STRONG ORGANIZATION

The Pat Neff Club met pursuant to call at the Court House, Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock, for the purpose of perfecting its organization. H. C. Geddie was elected chairman and J. B. McCauley secretary. Those who have been circulating the club list reported that about 150 voters in the Kerrville voting precinct had signed same to date.

On motion, a campaign committee, consisting of J. B. McCauley, Maj. G. B. Wilson, Orion Procter, Mrs. Ola B. Gammon and Mrs. J. B. Young, was appointed by the chair, this committee to be vested with the usual powers of an executive committee.

There were several short speeches made and it was the consensus of opinion of the membership that Pat Neff is far in the lead of any other candidate in the field.

No further business, meeting adjourned subject to call.

Pat Neff Club at Hunt

Hunt, May 22.—Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock, eighty-five citizens of this community met and organized a "Pat Neff for Governor Club," the first precinct in Kerr County declaring for the Democratic principles for which the Hon. Pat M. Neff stands.

Prof. Hammond called the meeting to order and presided, presenting the speakers, who had motored out from Kerrville for the occasion. J. B. McCauley, a life-long friend of Mr. Neff's, made a splendid speech, telling of his acquaintance in Waco since boyhood, which had developed into warm friendship as the years passed. He stressed the fact that Mr. Neff was honorable, dependable and able to cope with the situation that confronts the next Governor of Texas. The next speaker introduced was Judge Wheelless, who had served in the Legislature when Mr. Neff was Speaker of the House; his was a happy and humorous description of their political association, telling many incidents which proved Mr. Neff was a big man and able to cope with big problems. Judge Wheelless gave in detail Mr. Neff's position on the interests that are vital to Texas at this time, especially the agricultural proposition. The audience showed they were with the speaker by their enthusiastic applause during the talk.

Mrs. J. E. King of San Antonio was then introduced and gave the women's point of view on the subject.

The club then went into permanent organization and elected Prof. Hammond, chairman and Mrs. J. E. King, secretary of the "Hunt Pat Neff for Governor Club." A committee, composed of Harris Hardin, Dave Griffin and J. W. Barton, were appointed to secure new members to the club.

Mr. McCauley, on behalf of the Kerrville citizens, invited the Hunt Club to meet with them Monday evening, May 24, to help organize a similar club in Kerrville.

Mrs. Elizabeth Stansell Hughes

On Wednesday, the 19th of May, Mrs. Elizabeth Stansell Hughes passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. H. Vanham, in Kerrville.

Mrs. Hughes was born at Houston, Texas, in May, 1846. She was married to George W. Hughes fifty-three years ago. The family moved to Kerrville from Moulton, Texas, twenty-three years ago, since which time this has been her home.

Mrs. Hughes is survived by a son, D. H. Hughes of Kerrville, and three daughters, Mrs. C. W. Hampil of Nixon, Texas, Mrs. J. H. Vanham of Kerrville and Mrs. T. H. McFaddin of San Francisco, Cal., and by a brother, J. J. Stansell of Ardmore, Okla., and a sister, Mrs. J. T. Hamilton of Munger, Texas.

Since the death of her husband, Mrs. Hughes had made her home with her children, making frequent changes on account of ill health, but always considering Kerrville her home. A few weeks ago she became seriously ill in San Antonio and was brought home on her 74th birthday, May 13. She died quite suddenly from heart failure on the 19th. The funeral was conducted from the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. H. Vanham, last Thursday, the service being conducted by the Rev. W. P. Dickey of the Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Hughes was a devout Christian woman, a tender mother and a loyal friend, and will still live as a gracious influence in the hearts of those who knew and loved her.

A FRIEND.

The Prize Winning Letter

WHY TRADE AT HOME?

Dear Editor:

We should trade at home primarily for the reason that the home merchant is our friend. It is he we look to in times of emergency. Should we not be willing to reciprocate?

At home we get better service, promptly rendered, and see what we are getting for our money, instead of "trading sight unseen," as do those who deal by mail.

Money spent at home comes back to us. Money sent away is gone forever, so far as we are concerned.

We expect the home dealer to buy our produce and to give us a market for whatever we have to sell. Why not treat him the same way and buy from him what we have to buy?

Self-interest, if nothing else, should prompt us to make possible a local market to sell and buy in, by giving the home dealer all reasonable preference.

CATHOLIC CHURCH NOTES

By Father Kemper

Commencement exercises of Notre Dame Institute will take place Sunday, May 30, at 7:15 p. m., in Washington Hall, the school auditorium. Admission is free to everyone, whether Catholic or non-Catholic, a patron or otherwise. However, we beg to remind our many friends that seating accommodation is very limited, and as the entertainment will begin punctually, we cannot guarantee a place to every guest, broad and cordial as we want our welcome to be.

School work will be on exhibition all day in the large music room of St. Mary's Convent. The Palmer diplomas and certificates will also be displayed, with specimens of the penmanship and other scholastic productions.

Final examinations will be completed this week, bringing the session to an end on Friday at both schools. At the Mexican school, however, the commencement will be deferred till Sunday evening, June 6. This program, in English and Spanish, will also be free to all, both Americans and Mexicans. On the previous evening, Saturday, June 5, beginning at 6:30 p. m., the Guadalupe parishioners will hold a Mexican Supper on their school campus to help cut down the enormous deficit incurred in the operation of this charitable institution, which is generally considered to be one of the biggest blessings to our community. At bargain prices will be offered hot tamales, frioles, tortillas, bread, coffee, La Perla and ice cream. If you can't attend in person, telephone your order to Ramon Castillo (No. 102) or Juan Moreno (No. 39) and delivery will be made for ten cents extra.

An Ice Cream Social was given in St. Mary's Park on Saturday night as a surprise to the pastor in order to defray the expenses of the Ascension Thursday picnic. At the same time it was intended as a parochial gathering to honor the pastor's mother, Mrs. Wm. Kemper, who arrived on Thursday from Portland, Ore., with her young grandson, Walter Kalvelage.

Wm. S. Farrish is largely responsible for the success of the ice cream social, because he sponsored the idea and bore the lion's share of the burden. Unfortunately several handicaps had not been considered in the hurried and quiet preparations of this festival, but notwithstanding these impediments all who participated in the lawn party and the subsequent dance experienced a very enjoyable evening.

Mrs. Wm. Kemper intends to remain in our mountain resort till July 8th, when she and her daughter, Angeline, will visit Chicago relatives. Previous to coming to Kerrville, Mrs. Kemper called on her grandsons, Henry and Willie Voiss, at St. Louis College. She motored here from San Antonio. Miss Nannie Jackson had accompanied Miss Kemper to the metropolis, where she registered at the Menger Hotel.

On Sunday a family reunion was held at the home of Mrs. Mary Michon to celebrate her 68th birthday anniversary. She is the mother of Frank, Barney and Jake Michon, Mrs. Will Baker and Mrs. Horace Waite. Howell Parker of San Antonio was one of the outside guests.

Jas. J. Flanagan returned to Kerrville with his sister, Nellie, and his sister-in-law, Lucy Mallory, in order to pack up his belongings and move his children on Monday back to Omaha, Neb. Miss Alida Thibodeaux remained with the children to continue as their governess. We are hopeful of retaining Mr. Flanagan as a frequent visitor to our city, because he continues to be State agent for his tire concern in partnership with Rudolph Stehling.

Mrs. Wilhelmina Risacher traveled here from Verona, Pa., with her invalid daughter, Zita, who has been a school teacher for twelve years. Two of Mrs. Risacher's sons are priests in the Jesuit Order.

On the 11th of June, Rev. T. Smyth-Vaudry, who was pastor of Kerrville in 1907, will celebrate his golden sacerdotal jubilee. It is very rare that a priest lives to round out his fiftieth year in the sacred ministry.

Miss Julie Olivera was united in the holy bonds of marriage to Gregorio Contreras last Sunday in the Mexican Chapel. Francisca Perez and Guillermo Morales were sponsors for this occasion.

Both divisions of the Guadalupe Society held their customary Bible study on Sunday evening. Measures were also taken to provide for Francisco Vargas, who on Saturday night fell backwards out of the crowded motor truck on his return from working at the Soldiers' Tubercular Hospital. On the night prior to this serious accident the unfortunate stranger had been robbed of $150 that

The convention at Washington was in every way a success with the exception that there was not half enough room for the immense crowds that attended. The meeting was held in the Billy Sunday Tabernacle just across the park from the Union Depot. The building is now being used by the Y. M. C. A. and is called the Liberty Hut. The convention goes to Chattanooga, Tenn., next year.

The pastor had one of the most pleasant and profitable trips of his life, and hopes to give his good people the full benefit of what he saw and learned.

Returning home Friday afternoon, we found ourselves swamped with correspondence and other loose matters. Then the Sunday School Institute was to begin Sunday and things had to be gotten in readiness. Saturday night, Brother Wiley arrived and spoke for us Sunday morning. Sunday night, Brethren W. P. Phillips and W. H. Russell arrived. Secretary Phillips spoke at the evening hour and took full charge of the institute.

Sunday was a very good day. The rain interfered with the evening service. The music was sweet at both hours of worship. The morning quartet and the general singing were religious.

The Sunday School Institute is in full swing. The daily program is as follows: First class at 6:30 p. m., followed by lunch in basement of the church; second Normal Class comes at 7:45, and this is followed by an address by the General Secretary.

A complete religious census of the city has been taken, and the results will be made known Wednesday evening.

Our teachers are very anxious to be King's Teachers and such they will be when they finish the New Convention Normal Manual. Our very earnest desire is that every teacher be trained for his great task of teaching God's Word. A teacher without ambition to learn is a joke.

Next Lord's Day our Sunday School will be regraded throughout, and we will strike out for the Standard of Excellence.

All who are interested in the teaching of the Bible are invited to be with us next Sunday morning and afternoon.

The W. M. U. had a fine meeting at Mrs. Deering's Tuesday afternoon. The program was helpful and the refreshments were delicious. This is a noble band of women.

The Fifth Sunday Meeting of the Medina River Association will meet with us, beginning Thursday night. A splendid program has been made, and a good time is surely anticipated. It will close Sunday night. Everybody is invited.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

W. P. DICKEY, Pastor

The full services of the Presbyterian Church, interrupted by the illness of the pastor, will be resumed next Sunday.

The Sunday School, under the leadership of Supt. Miller Harwood, continues to grow in attendance and interest. It meets at 9:45 a. m.

The morning worship is at 11 a. m., when all the members and visiting friends are invited to be present.

The Junior Christian Endeavor, which is just being organized by the young ladies of the church, will meet at 5 p. m., under the direction of Misses Ruth Garrett and Margaret Thorburn.

The Senior Christian Endeavor meets at 7 p. m.

In this connection, the very important announcement has just been received that in connection with the Christian Endeavor Summer School, which will be held at the Presbyterian Encampment, from July 9 to 16, the Rev. Francis E. Clark, D. D., the famous organizer of the Christian Endeavor Society and World Secretary of the society, will be present for two days.

This is a rare opportunity to know and hear one of the greatest workers for young people in the world, and every young person and every one interested in work for young people should plan to see and hear him.

The Presbyterian Society is planning not only to have a full delegation at this Summer School, but to send a representative to the State Convention at Dallas, June 9 to 12.

The evening preaching service at the Presbyterian Church will be at 8 o'clock.

Infantile Diarrhea

Austin, Tex., May 24.—Diarrhea in breast-fed infants, while not so dangerous as in bottle-fed infants, does, nevertheless, require attention and in both cases the earlier the proper attention is given the lower the death rate will be among this class of cases, for although the case may be mild, no one can tell how soon complications may arise and the effects of the two diseases combined may prove to be too great a strain on the constitution of the victim. Neglect is dangerous in all cases but especially so in intestinal troubles, as in cases of bottle-fed babies the general nutrition and growth are very quickly affected by diarrhea. Toxic complications may develop which require quick action and rather complicated dietetic treatment.

So long as a case remains uncomplicated in the breast-fed infants, and the diarrhea is light, the lengthening of intervals between nursing periods and shortening the time at the breast may prove very beneficial, especially with the administration of pure boiled water between meals, with a gradual return to normal feeding for nursing periods. But do not take too many chances with the lives of these little people. Call a competent physician in time, as delay may mean disaster just as it has in so many thousand cases in the past.

When a physician is called, follow his instructions to the letter or be square with him and tell him you are not doing so, as the writer has been very much puzzled to understand why the little patient (who could not tell him the facts) was not getting along any better under treatment but in truth was growing rapidly worse in spite of the treatment and all his efforts in the child's behalf, until finally the facts were revealed that the infant was being fed potatoes or something else equally harmful by the fond mother, who was afraid the child would starve in a few days or hours.

IS IT PINK BOLL WORM OR POLITICS?

When Representative Pope of Nueces County told the Texas Legislature Friday that he was "against any investigation or legislation" in any matter of creating a non-cotton zone, to combat the alleged pink boll worm invasion of Texas fields, he no doubt sounded the sentiment of all thinking members of the House and Senate.

A special session of the Texas Legislature at this time, inspired, as it was, by Washington, leads the average taxpayer to wonder who is running Texas. No one doubts the fact that Washington Democrats induced Governor Hobby to call the special session, to clear up matters deemed necessary to the success of interests other than the Texas farmer and his field.

Months ago the pink boll worm question was before the Texas solons, but they passed it by as unimportant at that time. It was not until agitation started at Washington that Governor Hobby turned his attention to the specific matter of boll worm eradication. He rushed to the Capital to confer in secret with the powers, announcing immediately afterwards that a special session would be called.

Special sessions, special investigations and special legislation have always proven expensive and unsatisfactory to the country as well as to the taxpayer; a special session called in the midst of a warm political campaign can never pass legislation absolutely uncolored, politically; lawmakers can not make mature decision in these matters and at the same time keep themselves clear from current influences at home and in Austin.

Again, the pink boll worm session snatches of Federal interference in State matters, something every Texan and every citizen of other States question.

The army of school teachers is being rapidly demobilized for the vacation season, and it is going to take better salaries to get them back into the ranks in time for next school term.

"Make Mexico two republics," is what Henry Lane Wilson, former United States Ambassador to Mexico City, suggests. If Mexico were turned into one safe republic the United States would be satisfied.

Poor old Carranza was finally assassinated by his military escort while attempting to make his escape from his war-torn country. The assassin, Col. Rodolfo Herrera, is condemned by all factions of Mexico, and will go down in the history of that unfortunate country as one of the most infamous characters of his time.

Wednesday's headlines report the Republican State Convention as declaring for light wines and beer and the Democratic State Convention as going on record against same. There was a bolt from the Republican Convention on the "Lily White" question, but in the Democratic Convention harmony reigned supreme.

At San Diego, Cal., a dealer had some sugar he had purchased at sixteen cents, and was notified to put it on the market at eighteen cents, under the Fair Price regulation of two cents profit. Two thousand customers stormed his store with such eagerness that it took the police to restore order. Other dealers were charging twenty-six cents, having failed to get in on the bargain this dealer had picked up.

The other day we received a paper list from one of the leading paper houses of the State, effective May 17, 1920, and taking from the file the list from the same house, effective May 24, 1919, we compared the price of news print then and now, as follows: May 24, 1919, five and three-fourths cents per pound; May 17, 1920, eleven and one-half cents per pound, or exactly double. And even this latter price is "subject to change without notice," which usually means another advance by the time you get your order in.

PODGER'S PARAGRAPHS

My sister being away for the evening, it fell to me to put her 6-year-old son to bed. He explained the routine.

"First off I say my prayers," which he proceeded to do.

"N'en Muvver tells me a story."

"A story about what?"

"Oh, 'bout anything or nuffing."

I told a story.

"N'en she gives me a percept for the next day."

"What percept did she give you last night?" I asked.

"I guess it was time to go to sleep when she got to that far," he answered.

Attending church with my nephew of 5, we were entertained by a youngster of about his age, who sang, "Brighten the Corner Where You Are."

The following day I heard our ladie singing lustily, "Polish Up the Corner Where You're At."

I took a small lad to church, and as he behaved most admirably I complimented him upon our return to his mother.

"That was very nice of you, Dee," his mother said, kissing him.

"But Muvver," Dee remarked, "Miss Benson didn't think so."

"How do you know that?" his mother inquired.

"Cause she kept singing, 'Please Be Still' over and over again, an' I wasn't makin' no noise nor nothin'."

I then recalled that Miss Benson sang the old hymn, "Peace Be Still," very sweetly.

A woman sent her little girl to a neighbor's with a message. It afterwards developed that the message was not delivered. When questioned the little girl explained:

"Well, you see, mamma, Miss Clark kept me so stuffed full of cookies I just couldn't get a word out edge-ways."

Dee, a boy of 5, was confined to the house because of a drizzling rain. He was standing by the window, disconsolate.

"Well, Dee," I remarked, "Time goes slowly, eh?"

"Yes," he answered, "It's dribblin' along just like the rain."

The small son of a country merchant was supplied with every conceivable toy by his indulgent father. The father was about to start for the city, remarking that he was "short of some lines."

"Well, son," he inquired, "what shall I bring you?"

The boy looked over his available supply appraisingly, and replied:

"Well, I don't appear to be short on anything, but if you run out on something you think I need, why, just fetch it along."

An indulgent father took his small son to see "Alias Jimmy Valentine" and patiently explained the meaning of "Alias," using about these words:

"When this criminal wished to avoid prosecution or be caught he assumed the name of Jimmy Valentine, which is an alias."

A few days later the boy brought home a disreputable dog, which his father ordered him to dispose of. The dog's name was "Spot." However, as Spot still remained after a limited time, the father took the son to task.

"Eddie," he said, "I think I told you to dispose of Spot."

"You did and I done it," was the reply.

"How can you say that, when he is lying on the back porch this minute?"

"That ain't Spot," the boy replied.

"To avoid persecution I assumed an alias name for him. He's 'Jimmy Valentine' now."

The drawing teacher at school asked a lad what he was drawing.

"A cow," was the reply.

"But a cow isn't like that," the teacher criticised.

"Well," the lad explained, "maybe some day they'll get tired of cows the way they are now and change the style. Then they can try makin' 'em like this." Yours truly,

A. PODGER.

Despite his ripe old age this faithful veteran of the Cross retains his vitality wonderfully, and still enjoys fishing as much as a bare-foot boy.

Two Mexicans, one 18 years old and the other 30, were taken into custody by city officers yesterday, following the receipt of information from the Sheriff at Kerrville that the two were wanted there for severely beating and robbing a man near Kerrville Monday night. As the two Mexicans stepped off the train here, they were picked by Captain Van Riper and City Detectives Knight, Cooper and Berry.—San Antonio Express.

BOOKS AS MEDICINE

Books are frequently referred to as tools and as the key to the treasure trove of knowledge. The American Library is daily demonstrating in U. S. Public Health Service Hospitals that convalescent soldiers and sailors find returning health and increasing strength in good books.

BOOKS BRING AID TO SOLDIER SICK

American Library Association Serves Ten Thousand Men in Nation's Hospitals.

EFFORTS BRING RESULTS.

Works on Vocational Training Circulated Among Men Who Must Take Up New Callings Because of Their Injuries.

Hospital library service maintained by the American Library Association during the war was credited with great value in aiding in the recovery of many sick and disabled men.

There are still in our hospitals more than 10,000 former service men. Of these nearly 8,000 are in Public Health Service hospitals, the remainder in civilian hospitals. Books, magazines and newspapers are sent to these men from the American Library Association. In the larger hospitals, containing over 300 patients, special librarians are placed. To the smaller hospitals, through the co-operation of many public libraries, library visitors are sent to visit the wards once or twice a week and learn the book needs of the patients.

A special effort is made to supply to ex-service men in hospitals the books in demand as a result of the training given by the Federal Board for Vocational Education.

More Books for Blind.

The A. L. A. in co-operation with other agencies already interested in work for the blind, is printing books in the new Braille type. Because of the newness of the revised Braille adopted for teaching to the American war blind, literature printed in it is limited to fewer than 200 books. Though the total number of blinded soldiers is small, their need of books is great, and the "magic of print" can do much to restore hope and usefulness to them.

Not only for former service men who are sick or disabled is the association working. The value of books proved so great to men in camps that efforts are still being made to connect discharged soldiers and sailors with libraries wherever they may be. Hundreds of letters have reached A. L. A. headquarters from former service men telling of the lack of library facilities in particular localities to which those men have returned.

Direct Service Provided.

In many cases there is a state library commission or a nearby library to which a man can be referred for the books he needs, but if there is no such organization through which he can be served, books for almost any serious purpose may be borrowed directly from the A. L. A. War Service, 24 West Thirty-ninth street, New York city. The only expense in connection with these loans is prepayment of return postage on books borrowed.

The A. L. A. has published lists of books to help ex-service men who are studying to advance themselves in their work. "Five Hundred Business Books," "One Thousand Technical Books" and reading courses on practical subjects are now in preparation.

Other Work Being Done.

Other branches of work which the A. L. A. War Service is carrying on include service to the Merchant Marine, Coast Guard and Lighthouses, service to industrial communities which are resultant from the war, service to United States forces overseas. This work is carried on with money received from the United War Work funds, the use of which is limited by the conditions of the gift to these specific purposes.

The service of the Merchant Marine department provides free library service to seamen on American merchant ships in the form of "crews' libraries," bookcase boxes, each containing about 50 books. These libraries are exchangeable at principal ports. Books and magazines are sent also to men in coast guard stations, in lighthouses and on lightships.

FARM DWELLERS ASK FOR BOOKS

Announcement of the "Books for Everybody" Movement Brings Letter Flood.

INFORMATIVE WORKS SOUGHT

Requests for Reading Matter Range From Volume on Drainage to Collins' "Book of the Stars."

The announcement of the entrance of the American Library Association upon the "Books for Everybody" movement and still later news accounts of the activities of the organization along these lines resulted in a widespread appeal from residents of the rural districts of the country for books on farming. Whether the American farmer is simply evidencing his ambition to do a good job better or whether the better crops of his neighbor, who has attended an agricultural college or school, has spurred him on is a matter difficult to determine. But the fact remains the farmer is asking for books. The great majority of American farmers are either without libraries and book service or they are inadequately served.

One of the points which the American Library Association in its "Books for Everybody" movement is strongly urging is the extension of the county library system in states where enabling acts have been passed—some twenty-one in number—and the proper legislation in others which have not yet taken the step. The system, with its central library and radiating lines to stations in the remotest sections of the county, assures good books to every man, woman and child who cares to reach out a hand and grasp one.

Letters Show Need of Service.

The American Library Association is not giving its entire attention to the urban dweller, nor is it neglecting the centers of population for the rural districts and communities. It is, however, unquestionably eager to create a steady flow of informative reading to rural America. That the need for such service exists and that it is anxiously sought is evidenced in every letter of this nature received by state library commissions and by the A. L. A. A few excerpts have been selected because they seem to express most truly the needs of thousands of others.

When Lydia Carlson, whose farm is beyond Mason, Wis., asked for copies of "Productive Farm Crops," "Principles of the Practice of Poultry Raising" she echoed the book needs of her neighbors. Then she revealed the fact that her eyes are not always in the furrows by asking for a copy of Collins' "Book of the Stars."

What Others Desired.

There was a pressing need behind the letter from James Dunn, who lives ten miles from Convent, La., the nearest town, which has a population of only 500 people. He asked for a copy of "Practical Farm Drainage." The task of keeping his acres dry was beyond him. Walter Williams of Osseo, Wis., wanted to know if he could make fuel alcohol from frozen potatoes and spoiled fruits, and if he could, were there any books on the subject. The requests run the whole range of farm operations. Some wish to know how to treat scale, others desire facts on hog raising. Books giving information on crop rotation are in demand.

The American Library Association is raising a $2,000,000 fund to finance the "Books for Everybody" movement which during the next three years will be carried on in co-operation with existing libraries and library agencies. The money is not being raised through the medium of an intensive drive but through the individual efforts of the librarians, library trustees and friends of libraries.

ABREVIATED FICKSHUN

Written for The Mountain
Sun by A. Podger.

I wouldn't say no words about that there Sunday ball game only but so many of the fans and families wasn't to it. An' I ain't got no paper but the wrappings off the laundry package, so I could have a clean shirt.

Well, anyway as it was, them Public Service arroveed on the a-m train of cars (that toy train what runs to here an' not no farther cause it's the end of the track) an' de-roveed on the p-m ditto, an' I hope they forgottoed to get off'n the ditto an' are a ridin' on it as yet. They took the game with them on a 3-1 count, cause they busted into Schulz for two marks in the first round an' that was a large enough plenty. Then they took another point in the sixth.

In the fifth, Holchak he busted a homer cause the left fielder stood an' let it sail right over the fence, which he wouldn't a not done if he coulda helped it; an' Holchak, he made it the only other hit what was made off the P. S. flinger. The Hard Rocks couldn't only keep poppin' them up in the air, where the weeds didn't bother them fielders at all.

Rees of the High School team played short for the Kerrville boys and showed well all the way along. He played fast and steady in the field and was the pivot in a fast double play. At the bat he showed nerve by standing up to the plate and whaling out long flies, the same as the others was doing; that is, them that didn't strike out, which Rees didn't do.

I woulda gone to Over-and-Beyond (short for Fredericksburg—count 'em an' see) only it was that my shoes wasn't shined up an' I didn't have no coat, an' was wearing my overalls, which is what I got overalls for, an' it was Monday, an' there was other reasons which is all private like a feller's rich uncle's bank account.

Comfort News.
The case of the State of Texas vs. Andreas Domeier, for refusal to dip his live stock, went to trial in Justice Calrow's Court at Boerne last Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, as was announced in last week's issue of this paper.

After a jury had been selected the greater part of the day was consumed in the examination of witnesses. The attorneys in the case then made their arguments, and the case was given to the jury at about 6 o'clock. After deliberating more than an hour the jury returned a verdict of not guilty, and Mr. Domeier went forth rejoicing.

The jury was composed of Messrs. Chas. Gass, Hugo Rust, Albert Haufler, Gus. Seewald, Alb. Schwarz and Emil Lichtenberg.

It is reported that the outcome of this case has not discouraged Federal Inspector Hanna, and that he has prepared complaints against fifteen or more other residents of this county who have failed to comply with the dipping regulations, and that these cases will be brought to trial as soon as service can be had on them.

What Good Is a Dollar?

IT'S LARGELY UP TO YOU. It depends on how you spend it—on the value to you of what you get for it—on your ability to find where that value is to be had.

Of course, it's all right to shop around a bit if you like, but why not let the other fellow make it easier for you by doing a little shopping after your dollar—by showing you what you want and where you can get most of it for your money?

It's a great idea, once you get the hang of it, and here's how!

Right in The Mountain Sun you'll find various advertisements offering you merchandise. Some things you'll need today; some tomorrow; some next week or next year—but the point is that these merchants are coming to you, looking for your dollar and offering the best they have to get it.

You'll find, that by reading the advertisements in The Mountain Sun consistently this week and every week, you can increase the value—to yourself—of every dollar you have to spend. The things you see advertised are almost invariably as represented. The advertisers' statements are usually safer to trust than your own judgment. Advertised misrepresentation is business suicide.

Who Pays the Fiddler?

There is an old saying that "Those who dance must pay the fiddler." The same thought applies to other things as well.

For example, we have here a homelike community which we all appreciate and enjoy. But what would happen to our pleasant community if we all stopped replenishing the fund out of which the expense of upkeep is taken? Our community would soon go to rack and ruin so that we should be ashamed to call it our own.

For every dollar that is sent out of town, somebody has to pay more taxes, because that dollar has gone to do its work elsewhere. The dollar spent with a local dealer pays its share of the cost of local improvements, helps to reduce your taxes and to make your home enjoyable.

LARGEST COURT OF DOMESTIC RELATIONS IN WORLD CONCLUDING LABORS

Allotment and Allowance Division of Bureau of War Risk Insurance Which, With Exemption Section of Legal Division, Handled Record-Breaking Number of Family Problems Is/Rapidly Completing Its Cases—Work Has Been of Extreme Difficulty.

Rapid progress in completing adjustments of those allotment and allowance accounts of former service men concerning which confusion arose during the great war and the succeeding period of demobilization, is announced by Director R. G. Cholmley-Jones of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance. The main difficulty now experienced in the bureau in clearing up these cases is the obtaining of sufficient information of the kind outlined in the accompanying blank form which is prepared for the convenience of former service men in connection with this statement.

Like Needles in a Haystack

The magnitude and difficulty of the task of the Allotment and Allowance Division, which was without precedent, was rendered exceedingly complex by the presence in the files of records of 53,200 members of the Johnston family (Johnstone, Johnsons, Jonsons, etc.), including 2,138 John Johnstons and 2,032 William Johnstons, 51,900 Smiths, 48,000 Browns, 47,000 Williams, 28,050 Jones, 22,000 Apdersons, 18,500 Walkers, and other large groups of family names. The name of John was found spelled in 23 different ways, and the name of Aloysius in 49 ways. Sometimes people forgot to sign any name at all to the letters, or wrote so illegibly that the signature could not be read, and then wondered why they did not receive an answer.

Largest Court of Domestic Relations in the World

The Allotment and Allowance features of the War Risk Insurance law resulted in the conduct by the Legal Division of the Bureau of an exemption section, which, with 100,140 extraordinarily complicated cases, constituted the largest court of domestic relations in the world. Many of these cases necessitated long trips and the obtaining of statements and family records by the bureau's field examiners in order to establish an intelligent basis for rendering a decision. This work has resulted in the accumulation of a huge volume of family records of such an intimate character that they are held in strict confidence by the bureau.

Some Difficult Problems

Among the relatively few cases remaining to be settled are some in which it has been impossible to secure necessary information, owing to the residence in foreign countries of people from whom statements must be obtained. In many instances it is impossible to reach them or deliver checks through foreign mail service because of the incorrect or insufficient address or non-existence of address. Delay in many cases is due to the fact that a properly executed allotment application has never reached the bureau or because the enlisted man made his allotment through the office of the Quartermaster General of the Army. In the absence of an allotment application, an award cannot be made until evidence has been obtained showing (1) that the allotment was made (2) that the allowance was claimed during the service of the enlisted man, and (3) that Class B allottees are dependent, and this substantiated by a statement of the amount contributed monthly to their support before the man enlisted.

What Constitutes Allotments and Allowances

Most former service men know that an allotment refers to that portion of an enlisted man's pay which he allots or assigns to his dependent relatives. An allowance is a sum of money added by the Government to the allotment to those dependent relatives. In other words, by this provision of the law an enlisted man might, or in certain cases was required to, allot a part of his monthly pay to the folk back home, in which event the Government added an allowance of money to the family allotment where dependency could be shown to exist.

An enlisted man with a wife or children was required to allot to them a certain part of his monthly pay, to which the Government allowance was added as a matter of course if requested by the enlisted man or by or on behalf of the beneficiary. If the allotment was voluntary and went to certain relatives, the Government added an allowance upon condition that the allottee was dependent in whole or in part upon the enlisted man for support.

Does Not Handle All Allotments

Contrary to general opinion, all allotments do not go through the Bureau of War Risk Insurance. The bureau handles only Class A allotments and such Class B allotments as carry a Government family allowance.

Class A allotments are compulsory, being made by a soldier or sailor for the benefit of his wife or children or both, for a divorced wife who has not remarried and who has been granted alimony. Class A allotments always carry a Government allowance in addition to the allotment, if the allotment is claimed during the service of the enlisted man.

How Allotments Are Paid

The amount deducted from the pay of an enlisted man for a Class A allotment is $15 a month, to which is added the Government allowance, based upon the number of Class A dependents.

The Class B allotments paid by the Bureau of War Risk Insurance are those voluntary allotments made to parents, brothers, sisters, or grandchildren who are dependent upon the enlisted man in whole or in part and to whom he made habitual contributions because of dependency before his entry into the service, the amount of such contributions being sufficient to warrant a Government allowance. The War Risk Insurance Act provides that the Class B allotment, plus the family allowance paid, shall not exceed the average habitual contribution made by the enlisted man to his Class B allottee because of dependency before he enlisted.

If the man made no Class A allotment the Class B allotment is $15 a month. If the man made a Class A allotment the additional allotment to be made to Class B in order to obtain a Government family allowance is $5 a month.

In all cases the payment by the Bureau of War Risk Insurance of both allotment and family allowance will cease at the end of the fourth month after the month in which the present war emergency is terminated by proclamation of the President.

Like a Huge Banking Business

During the period of hostilities the Allotment and Allowance Division of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance was second in importance only to the Insurance Division. The bureau issued the first checks for allotment and allowance two months after the passage of the War Risk Insurance Act (October 6, 1917). On January 1, 1918, the total number of allotment and allowance cards paid was 234,850; a year later, the number reached 1,889,738. Up to April 1, 1920, the bureau had handled 4,454,746 allotment applications of enlisted men. These applications were thus divided: Number of enlisted men asking for allowance, 1,661,943; number making no allotment, 2,792,803.

Up to April 1, 1920, the number of allotment and allowance awards was 2,679,800, of which in 1,987,653 cases the awards had been closed and payments stopped. This left 92,037 outstanding awards; on 31,628 of these awards payments have been suspended pending final settlement, and on 60,409 awards payments are being made monthly.

Up to April 1, 1920, the total number of checks issued and mailed by the bureau on account of allotment and allowance payments was 18,507,504. The total amount of these checks was $547,583,476.19, representing payments as follows: $285,672,241.69 in allotments deducted from the enlisted men's pay, and $261,911,234.50 in allowances granted to the enlisted man's dependents.

Bustiest During the War

In the thick of the war the allotment and allowance business of the bureau was of maximum activity. The monthly high water mark of allotment and allowance payments was in November, 1918, when the bureau checks issued for allotments amounted to $29,073,040 and for allowances

$28,595,400, a total of $57,668,440. With the termination of hostilities discharge notices of enlisted men began to pour in upon the bureau until more than four millions were received, requiring in each case the immediate discontinuance of payment of the award; so that the number of checks forwarded monthly is steadily decreasing. In February of this year the bureau's allotment and allowance payments amounted to $3,046,317.52, of which $749,907.74 was for allotments and $2,296,319.78 for allowances.

A Difficult Problem

The closing of the allotment and allowance awards numbering almost two million upon which payment has been stopped, presented a difficult problem of administration. It was found in many instances that overpayments had been made involving a demand for a refund. Many discharged men when their dependents cease to receive payments write to the bureau, reporting the amounts paid and submitting estimates of the amounts which in their opinion their dependent relatives should have received. It requires laborious investigation of records and voluminous correspondence to satisfy the complainants. In some types of cases, statements from several parties and reports from official sources must be obtained. The bureau is rapidly cleaning up all cases. Every complaint is given careful and painstaking attention. Each case called up is carefully reviewed and a check for any amount found to be due is mailed as promptly as possible. If the case is found to be incomplete the necessary evidence is assembled if obtainable and an award made.

In writing to the bureau about allotment and allowance the inquirer can greatly aid in the speedy handling of his claim if he will give the information asked for in the form accompanying this statement.

TO TRAVEL OLD TRAIL FROM COAST TO COAST

San Antonio Light. Officials of the Old Spanish Trail are contemplating the organization of an expedition from end to end, to get memberships, log the trail, list hotels and garages and work up the history of the route and the cities it links.

The proposed expedition comes as the result of numerous suggestions and propositions to this effect, received from varied sources.

Writers, photographers and motion picture men have suggested schemes of varied nature, along these lines. If it is found possible to bring all these elements into an expedition, one will be started within the next month or two, it has been announced from Spanish Trail headquarters. Such a jaunt would furnish unlimited "copy" for papers and magazines; it is pointed out by trail officials, and would be of exceptional advertising quality for every stop along the journey to interest the general public in the country of the Spanish Trail.

LIEUT. ALVIN ST. JOHN AND COMPANION KILLED

San Antonio, May 22.—Lieut. Alvin M. St. John of Memphis and Pvt. Carl L. Cuhler of Elgin, Ill., were instantly killed here yesterday afternoon when a plane they were flying crashed into a flagpole and then into a building at Kelly Field. They were descending in an 18,000-foot drop and were straightening out when the accident occurred. The plane was demolished.

Lieutenant St. John was testing the airplane preparatory to an altitude flight to be made later in the afternoon by a brother officer, Lieut. Harry L. Weddington. Weddington was on the field waiting for the tested machine to descend when in straightening out for the landing it sailed over the buildings near the landing field and crashed into the flagpole, breaking a wing. This tilted the machine and its headway carried it slashing into one of the buildings on its nose.

St. John was considered one of the most competent pilots at Kelly Field. He had a brother in Memphis, Tenn., and a sister living in Nashville. Cuhler enlisted at Elgin, Ill.

Of the two unfortunate victims, Lieutenant St. John was well and favorably known in Kerrville, being a frequent visitor to the home of G. M. Doyle and family and making many friends here. His death is deeply deplored by our people. The other young man, Mr. Cuhler, had no acquaintances here so far as we have heard.

VALUABLE HORSE SAVED

Expected Horse Would Die—Now Sleek and Healthy.

In reporting his experience, Mr. J. C. Huste of Rock Bridge Baths, Va., stated: "My horse is the best advertisement you would want for Dr. LeGear's Stock Powders. He was in a run down fix and poor and I thought he would die soon. I got some of Dr. LeGear's Stock Powders—and today he is as fine a looking horse as you can see in this section. I only used a few boxes of Dr. LeGear's Stock Powders."

Mr. Huste benefited by the advice of Dr. LeGear. By following the Doctor's advice you can also keep your stock sleek and healthy. Get Dr. LeGear's Stock Powders from your dealer; feed it to your horses, milk cows, steers, hogs and sheep as per directions. Satisfaction or money back.—Dr. L. D. LeGear Med. Co., St. Louis, Mo.

CASH-AND-CARRY GROCERY

Let Your Dealer "Show You"

It is a very prevalent custom, to order goods by the "quarter's worth," or "half dollar's worth," but the custom is not a good one. It is much better to order by the pound or the yard or the gallon. Then, whether you have asked the price or not, your bill will show the price per pound, yard or gallon. In addition thereto, you can very easily verify the measurements or weights thus given whereas if you simply order "two bits' worth" or some other equally indefinite amount, it is very difficult with the means of weighing or measuring available in the ordinary household, to ascertain whether fair measurement or weight has been given, even if you know the price.

Now do not understand us to mean that it is usually necessary to weigh or measure your purchases. Upon the contrary, we do not believe that there is a merchant in Kerrville who would intentionally "short" a customer, but if there is, the system which will show him up, is a good one. Our plea is made however, for the sake of the honest, aboveboard merchant who gives you absolutely honest measure.

In these times of high and higher prices, you very often have the thought, "that is a mighty small dollar's worth," and tucked away somewhere in the back of your mind, is a half formed suspicion that the weight or measure is unfair.

Don't you see that you owe it to the merchant, if he has been fair, to verify his measurement and remove that suspicion, and if he has not been fair, you owe it to yourself to prove it and stop dealing with him?

Intelligent buying will ring the death knell of rascality, if it exists, and justice to the public and to the honest merchant alike, demands that it shall be done.

Our Policy for Half a Century

When Thrift perches on the window sill, Extravagance walks out through the door. For it is a well known fact that Thrift and Extravagance cannot breathe the same air; it is impossible for both to exist under one roof at the same time; one must choose 'twixt the two. Which is preferable? Extravagance, that sees no further than the sundown of today—or Thrift, that offers the supreme satisfaction of seeing "rainy-day insurance" accumulate, and the future well provided for? This store has chosen Thrift. Hence its policy of "selling what is best, with price the second consideration." It is this policy of economy that has created the powerful incentives of "greater values" for the money—incentives that are saving many dollars.

ing the past four years. Mr. Jones responded in words of deepest gratitude. The flowers were presented to Mrs. Jones as a token of love and appreciation of her loyal co-operation with Mr. Jones in his chosen profession. Misses Lee and Procter sang "Auld Lang Syne," and the school rose and sang, "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

Friday night completed the program of the week. With Mrs. Young at the piano, the Seniors entered to the strains of a stirring march. Invocation was offered by Rev. J. B. Holt. Judge Wheelless presented the Liberty Bond, offered by L. A. Schreiner in the Essay Contest, to Miss Bessie Biehler, who responded with an expression of thanks. Mrs. Holt and Miss Aylene Procter then sang, "Commencement Song" by Murray, after which Miss Blanton was cleverly introduced by Mrs. G. M. Doyle and delivered the class address. A. E. Self, president of the School Board, presented diplomas to Frank Moore, Harris Newman, Kirk Holdsworth, Louie Hendricks, Billy Brown, Cooper Brown, Rankin Starkey, Gilmer Morris, Polly Hamlyn, Laura Dieter, Icie Griffin, Doris Peterson, Lydia Raaz, Ruth Peterson, Dorothy Taquard, Mildred Saucier, Bessie Biehler and Mabel Materne, after which Rev. ### A Gift Shower

A very attractive entertainment was given by Mrs. R. T. Houts in her home, the Methodist Parsonage, last Monday evening, in honor of Miss Lucille Smith, whose marriage to Mr. Eldridge of Waco has been announced.

The Houts home was prettily adorned with vases of sweet peas. Several songs with appropriate sentiment were sung by Mrs. Alfred Scoble. Miss Smith was then asked to "wind up the woolen yarn," which she proceeded to do, following it through a labyrinth of the rooms and porches till she reached a large basket heaped with dainty gifts of linens and laces. The guests then all wrote in the "Advice Book." The advice to the bride-to-be varied all the way from "Be sweet, patient and dutiful" down to "Manage him, but don't let him know it." The book was read aloud by Miss Mary Holdsworth.

Ice cream and heart-shaped cookies were served. Roy Houts, the Second, presented himself to the guests along with the other delectable things and was much appreciated.

Miss Smith has been a valuable member of the Methodist congregation, being especially efficient in the young people's organizations. About thirty guests showed their appreciation of her at this gathering.
