GOOD PROGRESS BEING MADE ON SOLDIERS' SANATORIUM

Monday afternoon late, C. E. Salter and the writer of The Sun force visited the Soldiers' Sanatorium, three miles southeast of Kerrville, in process of construction for the ex-soldiers and ex-sailors of Texas who contracted tuberculosis during the war.

We were greeted by W. W. Miller, office manager; C. O. Forgy, superintendent of construction; Chas. Reel, general foreman; E. M. McDonald, time keeper, and George Uhl, representing the architects. These gentlemen represent the McKenzie Construction Company of San Antonio, that has the contract for the buildings and they are doing most excellent construction work, which will be highly creditable to the company they represent. They are also genial, courteous gentlemen, whom it is a pleasure to meet.

After a partial inspection of the buildings, the supper hour arrived, and we availed ourselves of an invitation to that, which proved to be a most substantial repast. The kitchen is conveniently arranged, having hot water at all times, large refrigerator and all modern conveniences for cooking. A dining room is on each side of the kitchen, one for the whites and one for the Mexicans.

The work already accomplished on the Sanatorium buildings shows up big, and to give an indication of the amount of material used we find that there were seventy-eight car loads of it, divided as follows: One car of lime, one of plaster, two of brick, seven of tile, fourteen of cement, ten of lumber, one of cast stone, four of sand, one of asbestos shingles, one of equipment, and 2,572 cubic yards of gravel, secured from the river bed near by on the Sanatorium property.

Two ward buildings nearly completed. These are 44x128 feet, built of re-enforced concrete, hollow tile, metal lathing and steel, except window and door frames, making them fire-proof. In the center is a long room with large sky-light and on each side screened-in porches. The beds of patients can easily be rolled from the inside enclosure onto the porches as the sliding windows extend to the floor. There will be accommodations in each of the two ward buildings for thirty-four patients. Every kind of convenience is provided for in the plans. At the rear of the ward buildings, connected by a small hallway, is a small building with all modern conveniences and place to cook for the use of the nurses in charge of the ward. These ward buildings will be finished outside in stucco and cast stone, making a very pretty combination.

The large three-story building, also nearing completion, is for the power light, laundry, kitchen, dining room and dormitory for employees. This building is 90x125 feet, three stories. The basement is deep enough and sufficient in size to provide for two 70-horse power boilers, the dynamo and the laundry, while adjoining is another section to store several cars of coal. The smoke stack of re-enforced concrete will be 92 feet high. The first story is reached by wide concrete steps on three sides of the building. The dining room will be 30x111 feet, and there will be built-in conveniences, including refrigerators, adjoining the kitchen and dining room.

The third story will be a dormitory for the employees. It will be provided with all modern conveniences. There is a well over 300 feet deep that supplies all the pure artesian water needed. In fact, with regular pumping there has not been any lowering of the supply, and it is said to be one of the best wells and purest water to be found in this section.

There will be a steel reservoir to pump the water into, and there will also be a sewer system with septic tank and a basin from which the land nearby will be irrigated.

When the plans and specifications are completed as designed, there will be in addition to those about finished, an administration building of three stories, four more ward buildings and seventy cottages at a total cost of about half a million dollars. For the present only sixteen cottages are provided for, and one that is being built by the employees, who are contributing their labor and the McKenzie Construction Company supply the material. This will be the first cottage finished and is very commendable on the part of all of them.

When the present buildings are completed there will be a grand opening with barbecue and dancing to which people from San Antonio and all other cities and towns of this section will be invited, as all have an interest in this humanitarian institution.

EXCELLENT WORK

The following articles show the splendid work that has been done by Rev. Macdougall, rector of the Episcopal Church at Kerrville, in behalf of the Sanatorium:

Luling, Tex., Aug. 18.—George Macdougall of Kerrville spoke at the City Park this afternoon and at a moving picture show tonight in the interest of the ex-Soldiers' Tubercular Sanatorium now being built at Kerrville. Dr. Macdougall was formerly a sergeant in the Canadian army, and his addresses are deeply interesting.

Capt. Wayne Davis of Goliad and Will T. Bagby of Hallettsville made strong pleas in this interest at the Park tonight, urging the citizens of this county to put on a drive for funds to assist in building this Sanatorium.

There are several ex-soldiers in this county with consumption on account of being passed in France.

Prominent men from all parts of the county are interested, and a substantial sum will be raised in this county. Tomorrow night the American Legion at Lockhart are to hold a county-wide meeting in Lockhart for the purpose of hearing this committee speak on the need for this Sanatorium.

TWO EXCELLENT SPEECHES MADE HERE FRIDAY NIGHT

Capt. P. C. Petsch of Fredericksburg filled his appointment to speak at Kerrville Friday night of last week, in behalf of the candidacy of Jos. W. Bailey for Governor.

Captain Petsch was greeted by quite a crowd in the court room, and after an introduction by Dr. Thompson, who took occasion to give some most cogent reasons why he could not support Pat M. Neff, the former proceeded to make a telling and interesting speech.

Captain Petsch saw service in the late war and he is in position to speak advisedly for those who served with him in that great struggle. He considers that Mr. Bailey did his full duty to his country on that occasion when he gave his only two sons as volunteers and also subscribed for Liberty Bonds liberally.

The most excellent speech of Captain Petsch was listened to with deep interest by the audience and at its conclusion he was vociferously applauded.

There was a most pleasing incident of the evening when Ex-Congressman Martin Dies of Beaumont was prevailed upon to make a few remarks. He had been near Junction camping and fishing for some time, and was on his way home. He stopped a few days in Kerrville at the St. Charles Hotel, and E. F. Ferguson, who formerly lived at Beaumont, prevailed upon Mr. Dies to attend the meeting and speak to the crowd.

Mr. Dies was in Congress for ten years and during a considerable part of that time was closely associated with Mr. Bailey. When he first went to Congress, Mr. Dies was opposed to Mr. Bailey, but seeing the high esteem in which he was held there, the great work he did as a National legislator, the commendable life he led, as well as the unselfishness of his labors, Mr. Dies became a strong adherent of Mr. Bailey.

Simple words cannot fully portray the eloquent, earnest plea made by Mr. Dies. He is one of the most eloquent men of this country and would still be in Congress today had not his health given away. After he had finished his short talk, which was given frequent and hearty applause, many went forward and grasped his hand and expressed their appreciation of his words of praise of Mr. Bailey.

The people were so well pleased with the talk of Mr. Dies that they prevailed upon him going to Center Point and speaking Saturday evening where a large crowd greeted him, many going from Kerrville. He made even a better speech there, which was highly pleasing and did much good for the candidacy of Mr. Bailey.

There was a delegation present from Comfort to ask Mr. Dies to speak at that place, and he very kindly went there and addressed the people, making three speeches in this section that will prove of great benefit to the candidacy of Mr. Bailey.

Mr. Dies would have been in the campaign all along and regularly had his health permitted.

BAILEY CLUB ORGANIZED AND GOOD WORK DONE

More than a week ago a Bailey-for-Governor Club was organized at Kerrville by the election of Dr. S. E. Thompson as president and E. F. Ferguson, secretary.

There have been several meetings and quite a large number of citizens in different parts of the county have enrolled as members.

In addition to looking after distributing literature in behalf of the candidacy of Hon. Jos. W. Bailey, speakers have been sent to different sections of the county to tell the people the facts involved in this campaign.

Much good has been done by the Bailey Club in behalf of the gentleman for whom it is named, and it is believed that after the primary their efforts will show to have been well spent.

SERVED WITH YOUNG BAILEY IN THE TRENCHES OF FRANCE

Tuesday at the speaking of Jos. W. Bailey at Navasota the following impressive incident occurred:

Lieut. E. J. Farquhar was introduced as the pride and war hero of Navasota. He said that he served in the same organization with young Bailey, saw the youngest son of the former Senator fighting in the trenches, and that he never saw more splendid courage than exhibited by Bailey. "I met Joe Bailey in the trenches of France," said Farquhar, "and it was during the fighting. I asked him, when opportunity afforded, 'how do you like the job? I thought maybe you would find a soft one in Washington.'"

"Bailey replied to me, laughingly, 'I did not want a soft one in Washington, though this is pretty tough, I guess the old man had me put out here.' The crowd cheered. 'All the Baileys are that kind,' they cried.

There were murmurs of anger at the reports that have been sent broadcast about Senator Bailey's war record.

Soldiers' Sanatorium

Work on the Soldier Boys' Sanatorium is moving along as fast as could be expected and three buildings will soon be completed.

Sufficient funds have not come in to erect as many buildings as are necessary, therefore any one who has not contributed to this worthy cause may do so now, by leaving the money with the secretary of the Business Men's Club, or, if more convenient, at the Post Office.

Every one should be able to say, "I gave something for the relief of our sick ex-service men." It matters not how small the amount may be, get on the honor roll.

THE COMMITTEE.

TODAY AND TOMORROW

To a great extent, the usefulness of the Chas. Schreiner Bank is due to the fact that it is a permanent institution—an established business managed to serve patrons day after day, year in and year out.

Thus, as a customer of the Chas. Schreiner Bank you are served today with a full measure of bank service, which is important to your larger success. Then, as you advance from one success to another, you have this institution with you, step by step, this year and during the years that follow, taking an interest in your advancement and lending encouragement at every turn. Become associated with an institution that will serve you tomorrow as well as today.

KERRVILLE SCHOOLS TO OPEN ON MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 13

The Kerrville School Board met Monday night and ordered the opening of the schools on Monday, September 13th.

An important order was also made as to vaccination. Those children that have not been vaccinated are required to have this done before they enter school, as their admission will be denied unless this is done.

There has been considerable chicken pox and several cases of small pox in Kerrville during the summer, and it is right for the School Board to take precaution to prevent the spread of either in the schools.

The School Board will also receive bids for the depository of school funds to be submitted not later than August 31st.

The list of teachers in the public schools will be printed as soon as all of them have been selected.

To Beat World's Canoe Record

Graham Hamilton and Tommie Graves, two young men from Cuero, came to Kerrville the latter part of last week and arranged a trip down the Guadalupe River to the Gulf Coast. They left Tuesday morning in a canoe and expect to make it through in that for a distance of over 1,000 miles, which will beat the world's record in a canoe. The distance straight through to the coast is only several hundred miles, but it is estimated that to follow the river the young men will have to travel over a thousand miles.

Kerrville and the Guadalupe will be further brought into prominence by this canoe trip.

Quiet Wedding

Wednesday evening of last week, Miss Dorris D. Barton and W. H. Flemings were married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Barton, Kerrville, Judge Lee Wallace officiating.

The young couple wishing a quiet wedding only the family and one school girl friend were present. After refreshments of ice cream and cake were served, the newly wedded pair left in their auto for the pretty ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Barton on Turtle Creek, where they will reside and be at home after September 1st.

The Sun joins with their many friends in wishing them much prosperity and happiness.

Subscription Honor Roll

The following have either subscribed or renewed the past week to The Kerrville Mountain Sun: Mrs. J. H. Davis, F. E. Hopkins and H. T. Durant of Kerrville; J. V. Baldwin, Ingram; Mrs. A. E. Materne, Gillis, La.; W. D. Buray, Center Point; Oliver Rose, Hunt, Texas.

KERR COUNTY BOY VISITS SCENES OF THE GREAT WAR

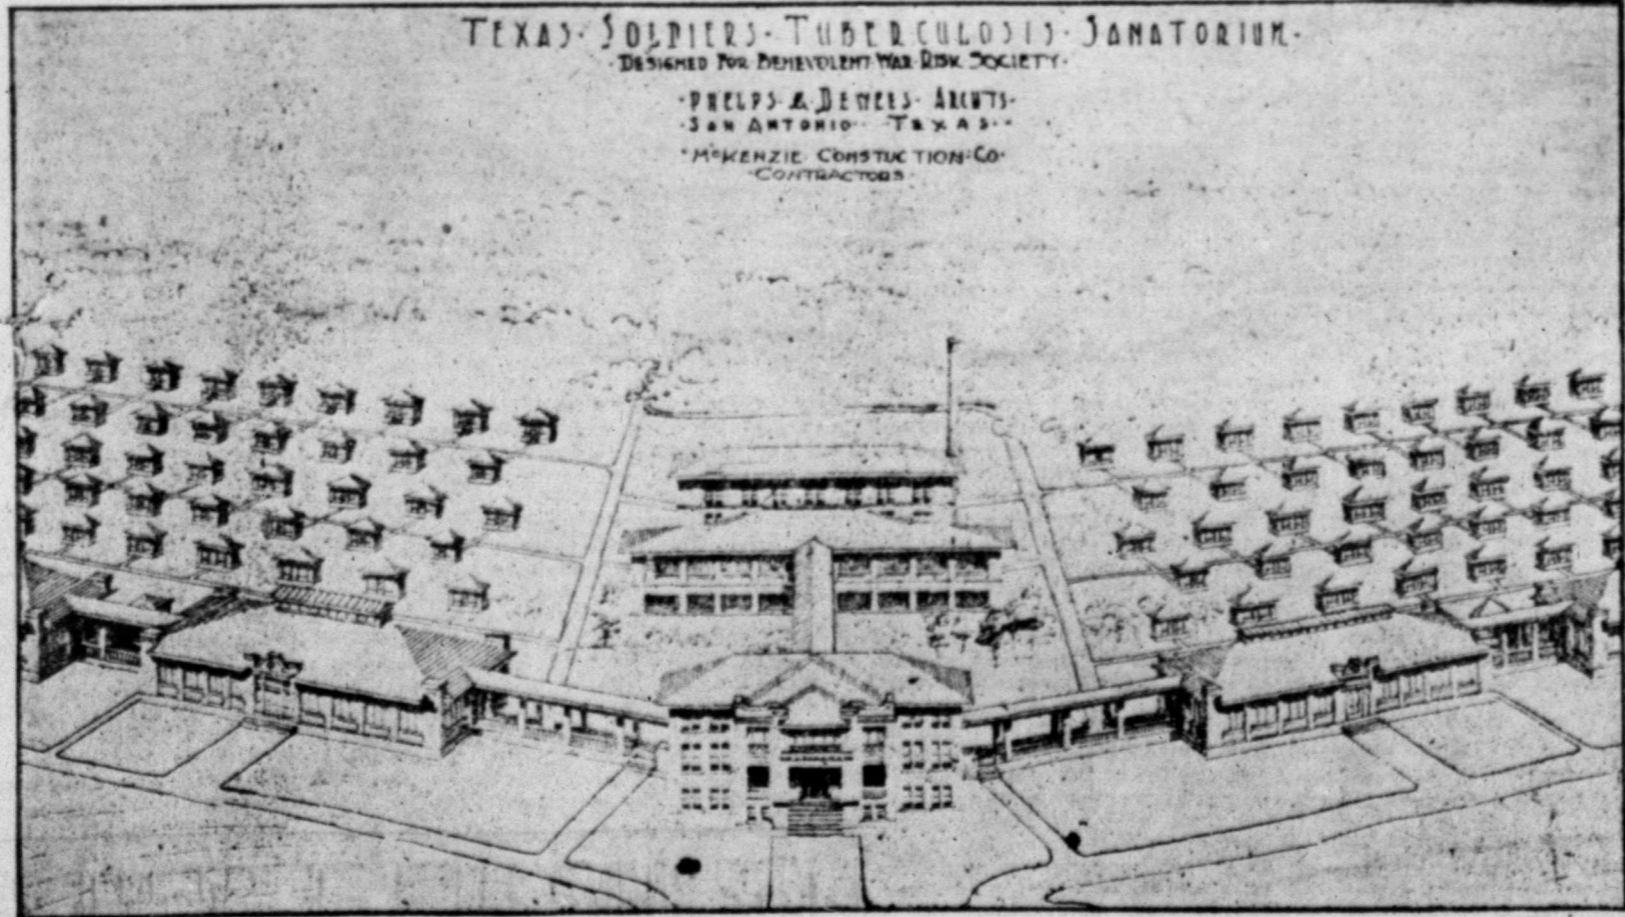

The following article contains extracts from letters written by Joel R. Burney, son of W. D. Burney of Center Point, who is with the U. S. occupation forces in Germany. His description of conditions and places visited in Europe are very interesting.

"I left Neidermendig on July 6th for Brussels in company with three other officers, all good friends of mine. We passed through Liege, Louvain and other places made famous by the recent war. You could hardly tell now that Belgium was ever in a war. Wednesday and Wednesday night we stayed in Brussels. We did not care to stay here longer as we had been here several times before.

"On Thursday we left for Ostend by way of Brugge. Ostend is a great seaside resort so we spent the rest of the day here enjoying a good swim. Friday we got up early and went out to Zebbrugge and looked over the German fortifications there. At 10:30 a. m. we left for Dover on the good boat John Bayler. The channel was very rough and I was glad when we landed at Dover at 3 p. m. We caught a train for London and I caught my first view of the beautiful English landscape and pretty little towns. The thing that impressed me most was the hedges, the chimneys and the park-like look of everything. I could not help thinking of what Cobb said about 'That right little, tight little island, England.' Everything seemed to be exactly in its place. Our train did not stop from Dover until it pulled into Victoria Station two hours later. They did not even stop for water. They have long tanks between the rails and they pick it up somehow without stopping. They even drop cars off at the various stations without so much as slowing down. Pretty soon we were riding up through the streets of London in a taxicab, the town I had always longed to see and often wondered if my ambition should ever be gratified. I found London in reality very much like many other places I have seen. I noticed thousands of taxicabs running without any apparent attention to traffic rules. They drive to the left in London and it seemed so awkward to me. Well, we landed at the Washington Inn, a hotel run by the Y. M. C. A. for Americans. A place very reasonable in price and yet quite a nice place. After putting up our bags and washing up a bit we jumped in another cab and told the driver to drive for two hours through the most important streets. You know, Dad, I am more interested in people, their manners, customs, habits, etc., than in any other thing.

"Well, soon we were on Piccadilly, Regent, Oxford and other streets. Then we drove down by the Parliament buildings, then by Westminster, then up through Hyde Park and back into the center of town. Everywhere I looked I saw some name or some building famous in history—Buckingham Palace, Haymarket, Trafalgar Square, etc. I never before realized how seeing such things would refresh your memory and make you recall history you had read years before. Our two hours being up we went back to our hotel and in to dinner. Then came a lesson in English money

True and Fair Women, Brave and Talented Men Give Their Endorsement of Mr. Bailey's Candidacy

QUESTION OF PAT M. NEFF'S AGE RESTS ENTIRELY WITH NEFF FAMILY

When Mr. Neff made an attack on the patriotism of Joseph W. Bailey and also misrepresented the service of the sons of the latter in behalf of their country, Mr. Bailey called attention to the official record of the birth of Mr. Neff, which showed that according to that information, presumed to be furnished by Mr. Neff and that he was the age as represented, made him subject to the draft.

The records speak for themselves, and although the mother of Mr. Neff has made affidavit to the effect that Pat M. Neff was born in 1871 instead of 1872, showing the family Bible to substantiate the claim, the whole issue as to the age of Mr. Neff is within the Neff family.

Mr. Bailey quoted from public records, and the following information has been gathered by Luther Nichols as to the age of Mr. Neff, which in each instance states that he was born in 1872. It is the custom for such information to be secured from the man interested, and certainly one who takes out an insurance policy, upon which he pays a premium, ought to be careful about his age:

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 23.—In connection with the dispute over the age of Pat M. Neff, Luther Nichols, campaign manager for former Senator J. W. Bailey, today issues the following statement:

"I make no charge as to the birth date of Mr. Neff. I desire, however, to submit some of the evidence upon the subject. Before submitting the evidence, I call attention to the following provision of Section 3 of the draft act, approved August 31, 1918: 'Persons shall be subject to registration as herein provided, who shall have attained their eighteenth birthday and who shall have not attained their forty-sixth birthday on or before the day set for the registration.'

"The day set for registration was September 12, 1918. I have before me a campaign card issued by Mr. Neff and distributed at his instance in Hillsboro and other places in February, 1920, of which the following is the first sentence: 'Pat M. Neff is a native Texan, 47 years of age.' In the year book for Texas published in 1902 by the Librarian of Texas, Honorable C. W. Rains, appears the following statement: 'Pat M. Neff was born near McGregor on November 26, 1872.' On page 2081, Volume II of 'Who's Who in America,' 1920-1921 edition, appears a character sketch of Mr. Neff.

"The publishers of this book declare that sketches of 'Who's Who in America' are prepared from first hand material only. As a matter of fact the material is furnished by the subjects of the sketches themselves.

"In said sketch it is said: 'Neff, Pat Morris, lawyer, born McGregor, Texas, November 26, 1872, etc.'

"W. A. Fraser, a high officer of the Sovereign Camp of Woodmen of the World of America, Omaha, Nebraska, today wired a member of a Woodman lodge in Texas: 'Neff born 72, policy issued 1905. How he will be your next Governor.' This means that Mr. Neff's application for a Woodman policy and for membership in the lodge states his birth date as being November 26, 1872. The telegram was in response to telegraphic inquiry as to what the Woodmen records show about Neff's age.

"Martindale's American Lawyers' Directory is an annual publication in general use by lawyers of the United States and contains a brief history of practically all the lawyers of the United States. On page 821 of this publication for 1918 the year of Mr. Neff's birth, is given as 1872.

"The legislative record for the sessions of 1901, during which Mr. Neff was a member of the House of Representatives, shows his age then as 25 years and the same record for 1903 shows his age at 28 years.

"In The Dallas News of issue of Wednesday, January 14, 1903, in connection with the report of Mr. Neff's election as Speaker of the House, it is said 'Pat M. Neff was born at McGregor, Texas, November 26, 1872.'

"Poll tax receipt issued to Neff December 31, 1918, recites 'said taxpayer being duly sworn by me says he is 46 years old.' Poll tax receipt issued to Neff January 10, 1920, recites 'taxpayer being duly sworn by me says he is 47 years old.' Much other evidence upon this issue exists and will be published from time to time with developments."

FORT WORTH WOMAN'S CLUB

Recently the Woman's Club of Fort Worth held a meeting and it was addressed by several citizens there, from which extracts are made:

Declaring Joseph Weldon Bailey the greatest living apostle of Democracy, Corporation Counsel T. J. Powell addressed the Woman's Bailey Club Thursday afternoon in the Forty-Seventh District Courtroom. Dayton Moses and Albert Baskin were speakers and Mrs. Marshall Spoons presided.

"Bailey is a clean man," Powell continued, "Worthy of the support of the purest, most sainted woman who stands on Texas soil today. He is a dignified statesman who has not deviated from his principles from the beginning. On the other hand is the slander, the abuse, the vituperation of his opponent.

"Bailey is the greatest Texan who ever stood upon Texas soil. He has fought the greatest battle for State's rights that was ever fought in the Congress of the United States." Powell went into detailed explanation of the South Carolina incident, acclaiming Bailey's victory "the greatest victory ever attained on either floor of Congress."

"Bailey is for the open shop. And any man who is not for the open shop gives the lie to the first sentence of the Declaration of Independence." Powell read parts of the Constitution of Texas and pointed out that Joseph Weldon Bailey had defended the principles laid down therein.

"Bailey will be elected because truth is right and right will prevail. No greater calamity could befall this State than the defeat of Joseph Weldon Bailey."

Moses went into details of the Patterson case in which Pat M. Neff was counsel for the defendant. Watson. He went into details of the Beal-Sneed case, declaring as a contrast to the situation arising in the Patterson case that Bailey was offered $10,000 by the Boyce family to plead for the conviction of Sneed. Moses said Bailey replied: 'Beal Sneed's father has been my friend ever since I've known him, and there is not enough money in Texas to cause me to prosecute my friends.'

"And Pat Neff was a palisade at Patterson's funeral and then defended his slayer," Moses continued. "Read the record of the case for yourself."

"They say Bailey is not a lawyer. I want to tell you that Bailey had the largest practice before the Supreme Court of the United States of any lawyer in the South.

"Bailey has the same kind of Democracy he had in 1908; he has the same doctrine he held when he ran for the Senate in 1908. He was right then, and he's right now."

Albert Baskin declared that before the election is held there will be more women for Bailey than for Neff. "The home women, the housewives and the mothers will be for Bailey," Baskin declared. He declared that J. W. Bailey's two sons volunteered for army service before the draft act was even passed by Congress.

Mrs. Ben F. Allen, who was in Washington at the time, said that she knew this to be true.

WOMAN CORRECTS ERROR

The following is a communication sent The Dallas News by Mrs. Fred J. Shipley of Shreveport, La., to correct a wrong quotation of a speech made by Ex-Senator Bailey:

To The Dallas News: Addressing herself to the good women who are supporting Senator Bailey, with other questions, equally misleading, Mrs. Wendel Spence, in Thursday's News, asked:

"Can they tell the Southern men and women that Mr. Bailey has repeatedly made the assertion that if women voted the Southern women would marry negro men?"

As a Southern woman, born and reared in Texas, and as a loyal supporter of Senator Bailey, I answer a thousand times, No, simply because Senator Bailey has never said such a thing. Here is what he said: 'I am opposed to woman's suffrage, but if we are to have it, let it be by State and not by National authority. If we surrender our election laws and police powers to the National Government, the next step will be to control our marriage and divorce laws, under which no State in the South can pass laws prohibiting the intermarriage of negroes and whites.' But this is not in any degree surprising as it is only typical of the tactics now being used in an effort to encompass Senator Bailey's defeat. As for me, I prefer to support an open, honest, high-minded statesman who has a genuine reverence for womanhood, to a 'goody-goody' angel of light" whose entire campaign is nothing but slander and abuse of character of his opponent.

MRS. FRED J. SHIPLEY, Shreveport, La., Aug. 14.

ROBERT L. HENRY

Hon. Robert L. Henry, Ex-Congressman, lives at Waco, the home of Hon. Pat M. Neff, so ought to know something about his neighbor. Recently, in a speech at Fort Worth, Mr. Henry made an eloquent and forceful speech to a very large crowd, and the following are a few extracts from it:

Declaring that upon the record he had established as County Attorney of McLennan County, no woman or church member could consistently support Pat M. Neff for Governor, former Congressman Robert L. Henry of Waco spoke for two hours at the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium Tuesday night in behalf of the candidacy of Senator Bailey. Henry declared that the people of McLennan County are becoming aroused as to the issues in the campaign and the people of Texas "may expect some good news from that county on the night of the election."

"For every woman's organization you form here in favor of Neff we will match it at Waco with an equally large woman's organization in favor of Bailey," he said.

Henry said the people of Waco "deplore the efforts of Pat M. Neff and Dr. S. P. Brooks to drag that great institution—Baylor University—into partisan politics. But Baylor has withstood some heated warfare in the past and has answered that it will pass through the present strife and continue to be a great institution of which all Texas may be proud."

"We had hoped to escape a campaign of personalities and decide this campaign upon the great issues involved. But when we are attacked we intend to fight back."

He read from Jefferson's creed of Democracy and showed that judged by that standard, Bailey has never deviated from the Democratic faith. He charged that Neff "is more Socialistic than Democratic."

He referred to Neff's Hindenburg line and said those fathers and mothers of Texas who supported Bailey resented such unfair campaign tactics.

"There are thousands of good men and women who supported Bailey in the first race and thousands of others will support him in the second race. There are as good as any man or woman who has or will support my fellow-townsmen."

He charged that Neff has moved from the center to the left of all public questions. He declared that as chairman of the anti-suffrage forces in McLennan County in the last campaign, he thought Neff was on his side, and that the leaders of the other side also thought he was supporting their cause. He referred to his prohibition record and charged that Neff had never said anything for that issue until 1917, when he was elected a candidate for Governor of Texas. He cited court records in McLennan County for various dates in 1907, 1908, 1909, 1910 and 1912, during which time Neff was County Attorney, showing that quarterly fines were assessed against the inmates of the restricted district.

"During all that time there was a statute on the penal code of Texas which Neff could have invoked to have closed those places. He had resorted also, to the injunction. This is one of the ways in which he turned so many excess fees into the treasury. And in every election he received this ward in Waco by means of running as high as 4 and 5 to 1."

CONGRESSMAN JOE EAGLE

The other night Congressman Eagle made a speech in Dallas, advocating the nomination of Mr. Bailey for Governor, and we reproduce a few short extracts from it:

"Secure every opportunity to uphold the doctrine of States' rights and contending that the labor question is an issue in the present Governor's campaign, United States Congressman Joe Eagle of Houston spoke in behalf of the candidacy of Joseph W. Bailey.

In expressing the real motive which prompted him to come to Dallas to speak in behalf of Joe Bailey, Mr. Eagle said:

"It is because I have a peculiarly personal feeling for Dallas and its people, because I have watched for years its strides in industry and commerce; because Mr. Neff has come here and endeavored to lead you to believe that all the people were willing to align themselves with himself—were the sheep and those who stood on the other side with Mr. Bailey were the goats. My friends, that is not so. And again because I believe firmly that liberty and freedom are not to be preserved by its Government but that the people must preserve their own liberty and freedom."

"Often I think it would be well to explain just what the fundamental principles of Democracy really are. Why, if I were to endeavor to explain to the people in New Hampshire, Maine and Ohio what you are being urged to accept as Democracy, they would exclaim: 'I do not understand that Socialistic bunk.' "Mr. Bailey reminds me of a rock in the midst of a rushing torrent standing up bold and erect, defying the winds of heaven."

JUDGE WILLIAM POINDEXTER

Judge William Poindexter of Cleburne, who is an Ex-Congressman and ex-judge, made a speech recently at Dallas, and the following are extracts from The Dallas News, an anti-Bailey paper, in reference to the address:

Before an audience of about 1,000 people in the City Hall Auditorium, Judge William Poindexter of Cleburne spoke in behalf of the candidacy of Joseph W. Bailey for Governor of Texas.

"This reminds me of the scene last evening, except last evening the rain was falling in torrents," Mr. Poindexter said. "I had never before seen 3,000 men and women stand in the rain for three hours and listen to a Democrat explain to them the questions of the day. A prominent editor who was there told me that that scene left him in no doubt that Bailey would be the next Governor of Texas."

"This is a critical time, not only in the history of this great State, but the entire Republic. We have never witnessed the unrest before that we have now. There have been some 6,000 strikes among laboring men since the war started.

"Our sons joined the army for $30 per month and their board. Other armies had to be enlisted—that for running the transportation lines, another great army was called and put in the shipyards, another in the munition plants, another to raise the foodstuffs. If one of our boys in the army mutilated he was shot."

"In the shipyards and munition plants there was strike after strike, and instead of firing the strikers they were given a raise in pay. The railroad men were raised under Mr. Albee and under Hines. They were given another raise the other day and still they are not satisfied."

"I am the friend of the laboring man, whether he belongs to a union or whether he does not. But he is letting the walking delegate lead him too far."

"When Senator Bailey consented to become a candidate for Governor he was presented with a questionnaire by the laboring man. One of the questions was: 'Will you support the general legislative program of the American Federation of Labor and that of the Texas Federation?' Another was: 'Do you understand that you can not favor the open shop if you are for organized labor because it is the antithesis of the closed shop?'

"What do you think of a man who will sign that? I think God will in Texas a Democrat broad enough and big enough to say 'No' to that. But Mr. Neff has signed whether he signed or whether he didn't. The labor unions have had to endorse Mr. Neff three times before they trust him."

"When our candidate refused to sign, what was the result? Every union man in Texas turned against him, and yet they say that isn't an issue. He doesn't want it to be an issue, but I tell you it is one of the biggest issues that have ever been."

After a question by someone in the audience the Judge said: "It has reached the point where the opposition candidate is only an interrogation point."

"In this State four or five men control affairs and they say a man must approve everything they do or he is not a Democrat. What's the matter with the opposition? They talk Wilson and the National Administration so they can not themselves get into office. They have induced the preachers to talk politics so they can get into office. Christ taught that His Kingdom was not on this earth. That has always been so and always will be. I'll never be a member of any church which puts itself down into politics. (Applause.)"

"What can I tell you about the opposition candidate on the prohibition question? He wasn't even an interrogation point there. I have been in this question for forty years and I never heard any man accuse Pat Neff of being a prohibitionist. (Cheers.)"

"Dr. Brooks started campaigning for Neff and I thought he was all right or Dr. Brooks wouldn't have said so. Mr. Thompson charged him with riding over a railroad pass while campaigning for Governor, in violation of the penal statutes of our State. He stated he had it because he was attorney for the railroads. He is standing with Ferguson today on the closed shop because he got $500 from Ferguson in the chicken salad case."

"Mr. Neff says in his platform he is going to reduce taxes 50 per cent. He proposes to levy a graduated tax on large tracts of uncultivated land in this State, to force the owners to sell it to men who will cultivate it. He says there is a man in Texas who owns 3,000,000 acres of land. He never has told who this man is, and there isn't a man in Texas who owns a million acres of land. When you levy a tax, not for revenue, but to compel the sale of land, you are on the road to Socialism. The hope of this land is that when a man earns a dollar he knows it is his, and no power, not even taxation, can take it from him."

"In reply to this statement he said he meant for that to apply to a man living out side this State and owning land inside the State, but he didn't know that the same law applied to all land owners whether they lived inside the State or outside."

"And then he says he is going to dam up all the rivers and creeks so not one drop of water can get to the sea. He is in favor, too, of the Highway Commission planting trees all along both sides of every highway in the State. Well, he'd need every creek and river in the State to water those trees in West Texas during the drought. That's his platform and that's all of it."

"He couldn't carry a Populist county on this because no Populist ever had such wild ideas as this."

"Senator Bailey is in favor of uniform taxation. He's in favor of doing away with all these useless offices. There are too many judicial districts in the State and each district should take in about five times as much territory as it does."

"And Mr. Bailey is for the open shop. Mr. Neff says nobody is asking for an eight-hour day, but I have the American Federation of Labor's demand for an eight-hour day for all labor. Bailey stands for the open shop, for equal rights."

"Take the Galveston situation. The Mayor put it up to the Council, and it showed that they were members of the union. It was put up to the Governor and he, rightfully, in my opinion, sent the troops there to see that the ships were loaded and unloaded. (Cheers.) If I were the Governor I'd have a law passed making it a penitentiary offense for any man to interfere with another in his work. (Applause.) Labor has no right to violate the law."

"A man who won't come out on a question of that kind while he's running for office will be on the wrong side if he gets in office."

CONGRESSMAN HUDSPETH

Monday night, Congressman Claude Hudspeth and Ex-Congressman Martin Dies spoke to an immense crowd at San Antonio, and created intense enthusiasm by their eloquence, wit and argument.

Congressman Hudspeth spoke first. "I am supporting Joe Bailey because I love the man. I ascribe to his principles because I believe he is a real Democrat, he will free the State from men who would destroy Democracy and install Socialism."

"Champ Clark once said to me," declared Hudspeth, "Joe Bailey is the biggest man and the purest Democrat who ever served with me. Uncle Joe Cannon said 'he is the greatest man who has served in Congress since the days of John C. Calhoun.' Senator Warren G. Harding, the Republican nominee said to me, 'It has been a real pleasure to associate with such a man as Joseph W. Bailey.'"

"Will you take statements from men like these or will you accept references from such men as Tom Love and Cullen Thomas?"

EX-CONGRESSMAN DIES

"I have not always been a Bailey man," said Martin Dies, "but I did before the man twelve years ago when I spoke against him. I had been told that he was a demagogue and I hope that every patriotic drop of blood in my body will help elect Joe Bailey now. I love Bailey because he is a faithful, devoted friend of patriotism. I take off my hat to him."

"I am a laboring man and the laboring man's friend and I believe that Joe Bailey is the greatest friend of organized labor today. Bailey will not allow them to make a Soviet Russia out of Texas, which would be more harmful to the laboring man, but he will make it a land for everybody to live in. What is the matter with this big, old State of Texas that she cannot have a big Governor again in Washington City, except that granted by Congress Mr. Craig says."

"Mr. Bailey's legal residence was established in Texas thirty years ago when he moved to this State from Mississippi. That status has never by him been voluntarily changed. There is no such thing in the laws of this country as a forced expatriation; and he can not at this time be expatriated for political purposes only. His legal domicile being fixed here, remains so fixed and determined until he has himself voluntarily abandoned it. If within the purview of this constitutional provision, his residence has not been in Texas, where has it been? And when was the status changed and his citizenship surrendered? As stated by the court, it must be somewhere. True, he may have been out of the State; but also have been there, and unless it can be shown that his absence from the State was permanent and with the intent of establishing his legal residence in another State no man can successfully contend that he has surrendered his citizenship here or forfeited any of his political rights in this State. In other words, the court says it's the

AS TO CITIZENSHIP

The following extracts are from a communication of John W. Craig in reference to the legality of Texas citizenship of Mr. Bailey.

In addition to the excellent reasons shown by Mr. Craig to substantiate the citizenship of Mr. Bailey in Texas, it must be remembered that no one can establish a legal citizenship in the District of Columbia, where Washington City is situated, because that territory is governed by officers and laws regulated by Congress. There is no local form of government in Washington City, except that granted by Congress. Mr. Craig says:

"Mr. Bailey's legal residence was established in Texas thirty years ago when he moved to this State from Mississippi. That status has never by him been voluntarily changed. There is no such thing in the laws of this country as a forced expatriation; and he can not at this time be expatriated for political purposes only. His legal domicile being fixed here, remains so fixed and determined until he has himself voluntarily abandoned it. #### LATEST MISREPRESENTATION

Fort Worth Star-Telegram: Neff's idiotic charge that the Chamber of Commerce of the United States has embarked upon the enterprise of putting the price of cotton down to five and six cents a pound, and that Mr. Bailey is the agent of the Chamber and its chosen instrument through which to bring about this end in Texas ought alone to be sufficient to prevent his election as Governor.

If Mr. Neff believes what he said at Decatur and Sherman on this subject, he demonstrates that he has not the mental equipment to be safely entrusted with the reins of the State government. If he does not believe it, but is merely seeking to deceive the voters, he is unworthy to be Governor and would be a dangerous man to put in office."

CATHOLIC CHURCH NOTES
By Father Kemper
Mexican Supper

Owing to the fact that the West Texas Fair has been cancelled for this year and that the Mexicans will therefore make their exodus into the cotton fields a few weeks earlier, it was hurriedly decided last week to hold a parish supper on the eve of this annual fiesta. Accordingly a typical national menu was prepared on the campus of the Guadalupe School on Saturday night, and the promoters of this parochial social expressed themselves well satisfied with the financial outcome, which will help along their goal, recently chartered by the State of Texas.

Notwithstanding the diminished Mexican population for the next four months, the customary Sunday service will be conducted at 8 a. m. for the many permanent residents and property owners of that settlement.

Mass will be read in St. Mary's at 10 o'clock on Sunday, but the biblical sermon will be omitted for the remainder of the summer.

On the feast of St. Jane de Chantal, August 21st, the Knights of Columbus presented a beautiful statue of Lafayette to France, which Marshal Foch, a member of the order, accepted for his Republic. Mr. Larkin, in his presentation speech, declared that this moment will testify that "America never forgets." Referring to the many kindnesses we have received from France he specified the donation of six million dollars from French priests to aid the American colonists in their struggle to found our glorious, free democracy.

Notre Dame

Several changes in the shifting summer personnel were made at the convent. The Sisters to be assigned to Notre Dame Institute and Our Lady of Guadalupe School will arrive at the end of this month. Sr. Constance, the universally beloved cook who has been with us for five years, went to the mother-house at Brackenridge to make her ten days' spiritual retreat. Sisters Julius and Mary Wilfred were also recalled.

In place of the afore-mentioned, we received Sisters Protasia, Michael Edward, Stanislaus Kostka and Kieran.

The last-named was our efficient music teacher, and it will delight the many applicants for this department to learn that this instructress is again with us.

Miss Blanche Murphy joined the boarders at the convent on Tuesday. Her cousin, Kathleen Burns, has been here all summer.

Last Friday Father Kemper visited the old Kerrville nuns at their Normal School at Alamo Heights, and extended the parish greetings to some who have recently taken their solemn life vows.

Vacation Notes

Thomas Scoggins last Friday accompanied Father Kemper to San Antonio in order to place one of his daughters in the Lady of the Lake Academy. His son, Conroy, who was here recently, will enter Notre Dame University. Having made a good athletic record for the Houston High School, he might be one of the next Olympic representatives for Notre Dame.

Mrs. Henry Drought motored to Denver and then followed the Lincoln Highway to Philadelphia, where she will put her son, Gerald, in the University of Pennsylvania. Thereafter she will visit her son, Humphreys, in New York City.

Jack Flye, of our own Notre Dame, has spent the past week at Arthur Mosel's farm. Clarence Mosel recently accepted a good position with the San Antonio Machine and Supply Co.

Miss Meta Michon returned from a week's vacation spent at the ranch of her aunt, Mrs. Ochler, near Mountain Home. Her place there was then taken by her sister, Frances Michon.

We regret to lose the family of D. E. O'Brien, oil driller for the Transcontinental Co. Gene is now working in New Mexico, and Mrs. O'Brien is keeping house for her children in San Antonio.

Our loss is partly compensated by the addition of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Brice of Denison, who have lately purchased the Dixie Airframe. Mrs. Brice, like Mrs. L. F. Eby, is an invalid at the Hillcrest Sanatorium.

Ramon Castillo, the most popular Mexican in the county, is entertaining his sister, Barbara, from Lacoste, Texas.

The pastor returned from his meeting at Harper Monday morning. Concerning the meeting, will say that the attendance was fine, the fellowship was good, and the spirit was excellent, and there were four additions to the church during the week I was there. Brother Brown, the pastor is a consecrated preacher of the Gospel and his wife is a helper indeed. The people of the community are sociable and kind and big-hearted in every way and I enjoyed being with them.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
W. P. DICKEY, Pastor

On Wednesday of this week the most successful program in the history of the Encampment came to an end.

The Sunday School and Young People's Society of the Presbyterian Church have kept up the regular work and enjoyed a fine attendance of the members and valuable assistance from the visitors at the Encampment.

Next Sunday, the 29th, the regular preaching services will be renewed and Rev. Arthur G. Jones, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of San Antonio, will preach at the 11 o'clock service, his theme being "Life Conservation."

All visitors are invited to attend.

Edwards County Echoes

Leader, Aug. 21: The charbon situation has improved to such an extent that stock are now allowed to be moved about town, and the dipping of cattle is to be resumed this week.

It is reported that the oil companies are not renewing their leases in Eastern Edwards on account of the Peterson well being abandoned. They are renewed, however, in other parts of the county.

More than seven inches of rain has fallen here at Rocksprings within the past week or ten days. All the country is thoroughly soaked. The rains caught nearly all the local trucks at Barksdale, loaded with goods for Rocksprings. The later report is that the fall did not amount to as much as seven inches.

O. F. Osborne and E. S. Young bought an improved ranch, about seven sections out of the old Gilmer ranch, some twelve miles southeast of Rocksprings, from H. C. Young. The consideration is private. Mr. Osborne has moved from town to this ranch and will make his home there.

Mary Elizabeth, daughter of William and Elizabeth Wallace, was born in Georgia, January 13, 1864. When she was about 13 years of age, her parents came to Texas, settling on the Dalton place at the edge of the town of Burnet, Texas. Here she grew to womanhood, and on August 5, 1890, was married to E. B. Draper of Menard. From Menard Mr. and Mrs. Draper moved to Edwards County in January, 1893, and became prominent among the ranch people. Here the remainder of their lives was spent, Mrs. Draper surviving her husband's death four years. The last twelve months of the time she suffered from tuberculosis, a result from an attack of influenza.

Will A. Morris and Camp Tinnin, of San Antonio and some of the other Morris boys were in Rocksprings Wednesday. They reported remarkable progress being made on the new Uvalde & Northern Railroad, despite the fact that the charbon quarantine is interfering with the work to some extent. The main grading force has now been moved to Miller's Store, which is fourteen miles this side of Uvalde. They have now connected up with the old grade made some five years ago, and this old grade reaches to about two miles of Miller's Store, so they now have about twelve miles of the road ready for the rails—or it will be ready as soon as a little repair work can be done on the old grade. This is truly remarkable progress, everything considered. It is reported that the Uvalde & Northern people plan to have their trains running into Rocksprings by the time Colonel Featherstone gets his trains running into Rocksprings.

For Women Voters

Headquarters for women voters on next Saturday, the second primary, will be in the Cochran Building, ground floor, opposite the Court House.

This is a pleasant rest room, and the majority of women voters believe it is a good idea to examine a sample ballot before going to the polls. All ladies who vote are invited to visit the headquarters.

PILING UP HAPPINESS

DOES each year find you wishing and hoping for better things in the future—and regretting lack of accomplishment in the past?

There is one sure way to fill your horn of plenty to the brim with all the good things of life. It entails no sacrifice now. It merely means the forming of a good habit.

Save! That good old formula for success is as true now as when it helped build the fortunes of our pioneer railroad builders, manufacturers and promoters.

Applying it on a small scale in your own way will bring you results in proportion.

For President:
JAMES M. COX of Ohio.
For Vice President:
F. D. ROOSEVELT of New York.

The political conflict in Texas will end for a short while on next Saturday. The general election contest is so one-sided that it creates little interest.

San Antonio Light: Whatever may be the actual age of Pat M. Neff, the conclusion that he used 1872 as the year of his birth for about everything except registering under the selective draft law, is inescapable.

The price of bread has declined to 10 cents in San Antonio and other places where the price had been raised. Flour and other ingredients for making bread have decreased in price, so bread ought not go higher.

It seems that Tennessee is following its old habit of breaking a legislative quorum. The passage of the suffrage measure is still in doubt and has landed in the courts. It may stay there until after the general election in November.

Governor Cox has been making a strenuous campaign in the Middle States and will soon start west. He hits the Republicans straight from the shoulder and does not mince words in referring to their policies and practices.

The Westminster Presbyterian Encampment is of great benefit to Kerrville. It has advertised the city extensively and will do so to even a greater extent in the future. The Encampment has not any more reached its full growth than has Kerrville.

For County Assessor

The announcement of John A. Leinweber of Ingram for County Assessor is made in this issue of The Mountain Sun. Mr. Leinweber's candidacy is independent and he solicits votes from all parties, especially from the women who are entitled to vote at the general election.

Mr. Leinweber was born in this county thirty-five years ago and is married and has two children. He has had a business course at the Draughon's Business College at San Antonio, and he served some time as a telegraph operator for the S. A. & A. P. Railway.

It used to be "How old is Ann," but now it is "How old is Neff?"

The Government has just discovered that there is a surplus of sugar instead of a shortage. Everybody else has known that for several months. If there had been any disposition to do it, the sugar and other profiteers could have been made to cease their practices by the Government.

Kerrville has handsomely entertained visitors here this season. There have been more to come here for their health and recreation than ever in the history of the city. There will be even more in 1921, so we trust that preparations will be made before then to take better care of the visitors.

The Poles have pushed back the Soviet forces of Russia to the frontier of Polish territory. They have also captured about 65,000 of the Russians and much ammunition and many cannon and rifles. It has been a surprising victory, and it is to be trusted that the Poles will have sense to let well enough alone, which they didn't have when they attacked the Soviets in the first instance.

The McKenzie Construction Company of San Antonio, and the capable men here representing that company in the building of the Sanatorium near Kerrville for the ex-service men are due the thanks of the people of this community, as well as those who have contributed to this grand institution, for doing such an excellent job. The buildings are put up solidly and are pleasing to the eye. The site is a very pretty one and the buildings will fit the location.

—pounds, shillings, farthings, quids, etc. You see we had to learn what an Englishman meant when he said 2-6 or what was meant by the sign 2- or 2-6. It takes a few hours at least to learn the value of the different coins. After dinner, we all being quite tired, a show seemed the thing and hence we purchased tickets to a musical comedy and went over for a rest. The show was almost American, it being built around the 'Dolly Sisters' from New York. The show was good and we enjoyed ourselves very much. Everyone was in evening dress and top hats were no novelty at all. After the show we saw those same top hats on the omnibuses and street cars, a thing an American would never think of doing. After the show we went down to the Savoy for a lunch before going to bed. A few minutes later I found myself in bed trying to make myself believe that I was really in London. I found myself thinking and saying how much more civilized the English-speaking people were than the other Europeans I had seen and how I enjoyed being in a place where I could hear and understand what people were saying without having to scratch my head. Why, it was almost like being back in America even though the language was spoken a little differently. Next morning after a cold shower bath and a good breakfast we went to Westminster and after spending a few hours there we crossed the street to the Parliament House, where to our surprise we found we couldn't get in, but just as we were leaving a member of the House of Commons, Mr. H. Norman Rea, came along and invited us to come in and see through the building with him. I want to say right here that the uniform of the American officer commands the very highest respect in all parts of Europe, and to be sure we had the right of way everywhere we went. Mr. Rea spent three hours showing us over the House and believe me we saw nearly everything. He was one of the most interesting men I have ever met. We even saw the House of Lords in session, a thing I'll bet not many Americans have had the opportunity of seeing. Later we went to St. Paul's, then to the Museum, then to the Tower of London and the Bridge and many more places of interest. It now being 6 o'clock we went to the American Club for dinner. There I met two of my old Texas schoolmates by name of Wythe and Gillespie. They were en route to Constantinople in the Consular Service. Later they were with us in Paris, Rome and Venice. We had a great time talking over old times and old school friends. That night we all went to see 'Madam Butterfly' and back to the Washington Inn, where I met two more schoolmates who had just returned from Poland and we spent another hour talking of things over there. The next morning we slept pretty late, but managed to catch a train for Edinburgh, Scotland, four hundred miles to the north.

Ford and Fordson Items

The end of the week will see our new addition practically finished and we wish to call our patrons attention to our adoption of the following methods to give the best SERVICE in our different departments:

One man will be in front constantly to give gasoline, oils and air.

To obtain parts or accessories, go to Parts Window, which will be directly back of new Display Room and facing street. A parts man will be here at all times and can deliver parts through window only.

The Offices will adjoin the Parts Room on the left and all settlement of accounts will be made here. Any further information you may desire will be given you here also.

For storage, drive into main addition, which will be used for this Service Floor only and call for any man on duty there.

For mechanical work, drive to far end of Service Floor and call for Mr. Bailey, the foreman. Write your instructions on a job card, sign it, and your work will be begun with the least possible delay.

All tire changes will be taken care of in Service Floor. One man will be on duty all night for emergency calls only. A rest room for ladies has been built in left corner of Display Room. The Lobby and Display Room will be comfortably arranged, and we want you to make yourselves at home in it while waiting for your car.

New equipment has been added to our Shop, and we are trying in every possible way to give you SERVICE in the most modern fashion we know of. This Garage must be a real "automobile home," and we want everyone who has an automobile to feel just that way about it.

GOT SOMETHING YOU WANT TO SELL?

Most people have a piece of furniture, a farm implement, or something else which they have discarded and which they no longer want. These things are put in the attic, or stored away in the barn, or left lying about, getting of less and less value each year. Why Not Sell Them? Somebody wants those very things which have become of no use to you. Why not try to find that somebody by putting a want advertisement in The Mountain Sun?

WOMEN'S BAILEY CLUB IS ACTIVE IN CAMPAIGN

Dallas News, Aug. 25: At a meeting of the Women's Bailey-for-Governor Club yesterday the following declaration of principles was unanimously adopted:

"We, more than 1,000 women of Dallas County, recognizing this as a critical hour in the history of our State and the urgent need of a man of high and unalterable purpose at the helm, do unqualifiedly endorse the candidacy of Senator Joseph W. Bailey for Governor of Texas. We have, therefore, organized ourselves into the Women's Bailey-for-Governor Club of Dallas County.

"We feel the imperative need of a man who will unswervingly serve the interests of Texas in a statesmanlike manner. We can not stand for one who on the eve of a campaign, suddenly embraces doctrines that he was never before known to stand for, to catch the new and unwary woman voter. Not one whose platform and principles are subject to change and apology overnight.

"We of the Women's Bailey-for-Governor Club do not propose to trail through the political mire after petty professional politicians, who seek only their own advancement and endeavor to gain favor by bow-towing to the new woman voter.

"Senator Bailey stands for the sanctity of the home and State, for which the heart of the true woman beats first.

"We endorse Senator Bailey's entire record in Congress, always fighting fearlessly, as did our fathers of '91 to '95, to preserve the right of each sovereign State against Federal encroachment and the attendant dangers to our best interests.

"We can not stand for a man who when a member of the Legislature opposed and ridiculed the establishment of the greatest educational and training institution in Texas today—the College of Industrial Arts at Denton.

"We stand for a man with whom prohibition, under constitution limitations, has been a lifelong religion, and who was fearlessly fighting for its principles when some of its present noisy and insincere defenders were wearing the blue ribbon and whisky label.

"Senator Bailey is a man of strong convictions, and fearless in declaring them; chivalrous and loyal to women, with a profound reverence for true religion and its worthy apostles; scornful of hypocrisy and cant with all of the indignation of an upright and righteous man.

"Senator Bailey is unalterably opposed to Socialism, paternalism and to slavery in any form. He has always stood, as the record show, 'four-square to every wind that blows,' and we, therefore, unqualifiedly indorse him for Governor of our great State, and shall use our best influence to elect him."

Signed by Mrs. Jack Beall, chairman, and Mrs. Harriet Poindexter Denton, secretary. The statement also bears the names of 154 members of the club's committees.

WHO FURNISHED RECORD, GIVING AGE OF MR. NEFF?

The following undignified and vulgar language was used by Pat M. Neff at Gainesville in his speech while referring to the question of his age:

Speaking in Cooke County, Bailey's home, Pat M. Neff of Waco Saturday night on the court house square denounced Bailey for stating in his Temple speech Friday that although he (Neff) was within the draft age he did not register under the selective draft law. The speaker referred to Bailey as an "insolent and infamous liar" because he made the statement in reference to Neff's failure to register.

"It is after cool, calm and deliberate thought that I thus refer to Mr. Bailey," Neff said. "Friday afternoon at Temple he stated that I was within the draft age and that I failed to register. I desire now to brand that statement as an unmitigated lie and I desire to brand Mr. Bailey as an insolent and infamous liar. This statement by him shows the low depths a puny political muckracker can descend in an effort to boost his own failing political fortune."

Now, it is pertinent to know as to who furnished the information for birth date of Mr. Neff in the different instances when it was important that it should be correct?

Surely Mr. Bailey did not supply the information. Then, if he did not, how could he have lied when quoting information gathered by some one else?

Pat M. Neff is represented as having made affidavit to his poll tax receipts and doubtless in other instances, to the effect that he was born in 1872.

Then, if Mr. Bailey is not responsible for the date as reported to be the birth of Mr. Neff, such language as used by Mr. Neff is uncalled for, unjust and vulgar. He shows himself more familiar with hoodlum billingsgate than with Biblical quotations with which he would be supposed to be familiar, considering his religious professions and his prominent connections with a Baptist University.

Who, except Mr. Neff would likely have furnished the information as to his birth in the records that have been produced? When he was a legislator, it is supposed he would have been asked for the information, and that he gave it when listed as a lawyer; he is supposed to have given also to the "Who's Who" book. Especially would it be supposed that Mr. Neff could be the only one to give his age when getting his poll tax receipt. And most assuredly an insurance policy would not be written and furnished him unless the date of his birth was given by some one supposed to know.

The following telegram, which was received by a prominent citizen of Kerrville, also gives strong evidence against Mr. Neff, which was furnished by himself:

"Neff's sworn application to have name placed on ticket, dated May 4th, 1920, states his age at 47. Wolfe (Chairman of Democratic State Committee) was forced to give up the application. Evidence considered uncontrovertible."

Tivy House Sells

H. Wayne has sold the Tivy House to T. A. Smith for $12,000.00 and the latter has taken charge. Mr. Wayne will go to Leon County to look after a ranch he has there.

This sale shows that Kerrville real estate has a good valuation, and it is not likely to decrease any in value.

PRESBYTERIAN ENCAMPMENT GRAND MEETING THIS YEAR

The program of the Westminster Presbyterian Encampment at Kerrville has closed for this year. It has been the largest attended, the most interesting program and the grandest meeting ever held in this section.

There were more than 1,100 to register at the Encampment this season and prominent men and women connected with the Presbyterian Church work throughout the world were present and contributed to the interest of the meeting.

Among the different parts of the program carried out the past week were the following:

The Rev. J. O. Reavis, D. D., of Columbia, S. C., began on Wednesday morning of last week his series of Bible studies, following the studies under the direction of the Rev. W. W. Moore, D. D.

Thursday morning began the conference on Woman's Work under the direction of Mrs. Chris Dulnig of San Antonio and Mrs. J. L. Brock. This conference included the study of methods in women's work in the Southern Presbyterian Church and classes in efficiency in the application of these methods. Mrs. Dulnig and Mrs. Brock were assisted in the leadership of this work by Mrs. A. B. Willigus of San Antonio.

Last Sunday was the opening day for the conference on Foreign Missions at the Westminster Presbyterian Encampment. This was the last of the conferences of the Encampment program and continued through Wednesday of this week.

The Rev. A. G. Jones, D. D., of San Antonio was one of the principal speakers for this conference. He delivered an address on Wednesday on the subject "Stewardship of Possessions." Among the returned foreign missionaries who took part are Miss Mary Dodson of Korea and the Rev. Charles Vinson from the Congo region in Africa. During the four days there was a consideration of all the phases of the Foreign Mission Work of the Southern Presbyterian Church.

Formal dedication of the recently constructed Woman's Building took place on last Friday afternoon, after which there followed an informal reception honoring the ladies of the Encampment and the ladies of the City of Kerrville.

The young people of the Camp were hosts at a marshmallow roast on Friday evening. Some fifty people biked the distance of one mile for the entertainment.

Presenting a lecture and sermon upon his travels through the mission fields of Japan, the Rev. J. O. Reavis, D. D., of Columbia, S. C., opened the conference on Foreign Missions Sunday night.

Besides the regular Bible hour, the program on Monday included a presentation of the mission work of the Southern Presbyterian Church in Mexico by Miss E. V. Lee, for more than 20 years a missionary to that country. Miss Lee discussed the marked progress that is being made in Mexico and the eagerness with which the people responded to the work. Rev. Carlton Stofy of Corsicana, formerly of Bryan, and platform manager of the Encampment, delivered the first of a series of addresses on "Stewardship," using as his subject, "Money the Acid Test of Character." Two other addresses of this series were delivered by Dr. Reavis and the Rev. Arthur G. Jones, D. D., of San Antonio. Aside from these discourses, the program for the remainder of the Encampment was largely in the hands of the returned foreign missionaries who were on the grounds. Among these were representatives from Mexico, Africa and Korea.

Monday morning was featured by a rally of the students and ex-students of the University of Texas at the Encampment, at which time a photograph of the group was made.

Speaking at Bandera

Mayor Wheless and Judge Geddis went to Bandera Friday of last week and made speeches in behalf of the candidacy of Pat M. Neff.

We have not had any report on the trip; but presume that there was quite a crowd and that it was highly entertained by these capable speakers.

Card of Thanks

Medina, Tex., Aug. 21.—We wish to express our sincere thanks to our many friends for their kindness shown us during the long illness and at the death of our beloved husband and uncle, who departed from us to the home over there, August 19th, 1920.—Mrs. Capt. C. M. Richards and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Harmon.

Center Point Comments

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Reynolds, who have spent the summer here, returned to their home in San Antonio this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Vann and daughter, Grace, who have been sojourning at the Pope House, left for their home at Brenham, Texas, Wednesday.

Miss Mary Rankin, who has been the guest of Mrs. B. A. Myers, returned to Corpus Christi on Wednesday. Miss Rankin spent last summer here and says she is coming again.

The Blue Star Elevator Co. at this place changed hands this week, the Guadalupe Valley Grain Co. buying it. The former manager, M. K. Hood, has not as yet decided upon his future plans, but it is hoped that we shall not lose him from our community.

Center Point is getting to be quite a summer resort. A great many people have visited here this summer, some of whom are still with us. Among those at the Pope House are Mrs. L. A. Wall, Mrs. Julia Gilbert and son, John, and Miss Mary Andrews, all of San Antonio, and Mrs. C. Stuckert of Brenham, Texas.

Among those at the Bruff House are Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Jolly and two children, Beverly Spillman and family, Mrs. Duncan, Mrs. J. E. Yoe, Mrs. Julia Carew, Miss Floren Carew, Mrs. Wicks and children, Mrs. Oge, F. A. Hale and family, Mr. and Mrs. Mellor and Miss Brogibent, all of San Antonio; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wright and son and Miss Henderson from Dallas, Mrs. W. H. Reese of Beaumont, Mrs. E. L. Mertz of Pottet, Mrs. Otis McGaffey of Houston, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Niggl and children of Eagle Pass, Fred Michael of Kenedy, Miss Gen Lynagh of Chicago and Mr. and Mrs. Richter of San Antonio.

Center Point has had plenty of political speaking of late. On Saturday, 21st inst., Ex-Congressman Martin Dies of Beaumont presented the claims of Joseph W. Bailey for Governor, in a very eloquent speech. On Monday evening following Judge H. C. Geddis and Judge Wheless of Kerrville told the people why, in their opinion, Mr. Bailey should not be elected Governor, and gave reasons for supporting Pat M. Neff.

The ladies of the Baptist Auxiliary to the Baptist Church of Center Point have begun the missionary study of "In Royal Service." Mrs. W. L. Skinner, president, is teaching the class. There is an enthusiastic class of ten members, who intend to get their seals at close of study period. The Auxiliary has thirty members with an average attendance of about one-half the number. They have reached Class B in Standard of Excellence and hope to reach Class A this year.

QUALITY

has been a much misused word in advertising these last few years. Not a cheap-jerk firm in the country but claims it. Once in a great, great while the claim is justified.

Not to change the subject at all, here is a little bit of what we hear every day or so in our store, from people who have visited Kerrville in years past. Almost invariably they want to buy some of our special makes of candy. And invariably they say, before they are served:

"But it can't be what it used to be. Not with butter and eggs and cream the price they are now. No candy maker in the world uses things like that in these degenerate days."

What they say after they have tried it—but we do not want this to sound like boasting. What they say is merely rendered possible by the fact that we DO USE those very materials still and now—in spite of the cost.

And we believe that we have the right to use that word—QUALITY.

GOOD PROGRESS BEING MADE ON SOLDIERS' SANATORIUM

today in starting the drive in Caldwell County for funds to assist the Benevolent War Risk Society of Texas in the erection of a great Sanatorium at Kerrville for Texas soldiers of the great war who are now suffering with tuberculosis. Every county in Texas practically has ex-soldiers within its borders with this dread disease.

Rev. George Macdougall of Kerrville spoke at 4 o'clock at the court house and two mothers were in the audience who have sons, both former soldiers, who are now victims of the disease. Lockhart had a company who went to France with the 36th Division and won honors in all battles participated in by that famous Texas division. All former soldiers here, together with many patriotic men and women, have pledged their best efforts to carry Caldwell County over the top in the drive here for funds. Strong addresses were made by W. T. Bagby of Hallettsville and Capt. Wayne Davis of Goliad at a mass meeting at the court house tonight, which was attended by people from all parts of the county.

Rev. G. M. Macdougall has returned to Kerrville after a three weeks' campaign in the interests of the Soldiers' Sanatorium. Fourteen towns were visited and informed of the situation regarding the tubercular soldiers in this State. Over eleven hundred certified cases are on record and many are being added to that number every month. Many soldiers were met during the campaign whose names were not on the list, but which should have been, and new cases are developing all the time and will continue to do so for several years to come, we are credibly informed.

Capt. Wayne Davis wired to Rev. Macdougall, asking him if he could leave on Wednesday of this week and address meetings at El Campo and Edna, but the latter was unable to leave Kerrville on account of the approaching visit of Bishop Johnston to this parish.

All the places visited in this first leg of the campaign responded generously without exception.

PLAN OF MANAGEMENT

It seems that the Government has changed its plan of taking care of the tubercular patients among ex-soldiers and ex-sailors, so it was necessary to make different arrangements for the use of the Sanatorium at Kerrville. The following article gives the gratifying information that there has been an agreement reached between the Government and those handling the affairs of the Sanatorium;

Austin, Tex., Aug. 21.—Its policy of per diem contract having been discontinued and the plan of leasing substituted by the United States Public Health Service, for care of tubercular ex-service men, it was necessary for Dr. C. W. Goddard, State Health Officer, and Col. Claude V. Birkhead of San Antonio, representing the Benevolent War Risk Society of Texas, to go to Washington to remake the agreement relative to the Memorial Hospital now in course of construction at Kerrville.

They returned today from Washington saying that they had completed satisfactory arrangements with the War Risk Insurance Board and the United States Public Health Service for opening the Sanatorium at Kerrville as early as buildings can be completed. They stated that the institution will be opened under the supervision and control of the Public Health Service, which will furnish equipment for the buildings and supply personnel of the medical staff. Surgeon General Cummin's opinion being that employees would include one doctor in the capacity of executive superintendent, one X-ray expert, one laboratory expert, two or three ward physicians, one dentist, 15 or 20 nurses, 30 or 40 attendants and such other help as needed.

The committee from Texas was advised by the chairman of the War Risk Board and the Surgeon General that the Government has no funds with which to build a hospital in the Texas district, so a tentative lease agreement was entered into between the Benevolent War Risk Society, the War Risk Board and the United States Public Health Service.

Dr. Goddard and Colonel Birkhead returned to Texas highly pleased with results of the conference with Washington officials, and stated that even more assistance had been offered than was anticipated.

Our Policy for Half a Century

When Thrift perches on the window sill, Extravagance walks out through the door. For it is a well known fact that Thrift and Extravagance cannot breathe the same air; it is impossible for both to exist under one roof at the same time; one must choose 'twixt the two. Which is preferable? Extravagance, that sees no further than the sundown of today—or Thrift, that offers the supreme satisfaction of seeing "rainy-day insurance" accumulate, and the future well provided for? This store has chosen Thrift. Hence its policy of "selling what is best, with price the second consideration." It is this policy of economy that has created the powerful incentives of "greater values" for the money—incentives that are saving many dollars.
