AUXILIARY DANCE TUESDAY EVENING ENJOYABLE AFFAIR away in the storm. The greatest fury

The dance, given at Lake Side Park Tuesday evening under the auspices of the American Legion Auxiliary, was a most enjoyable affair and largely attended in spite of the inment weather.

Excellent music was furnished by the High School Orchestra, under the able leadership of Mrs. M. E. Bogle. This dance also served as the formal opening of the pavilion at Lake Side Park for the season.

A neat sum was realized and will be used in furnishing entertainment and comfort for the ex-service men who are seeking to regain their health in our city and vicinity.

DEMOCRATS TO USE WURZBACH'S NEGRO SPEECH IN CAMPAIGN

Washington, D. C., April 16.-The National Democratic Executive Committee headquarters Saturday requested from The Fort Worth Star-Telegram's Washington office a report of the speech delivered by Harry Wurzbach, Republican Congressman from the San Antonio district, to a crowd of Washington negroes. In the speech Wurzbach told of his friendship to negroes. He is the only Republican in the Texas delegation.

Democratic headquarters stated that it would be used in campaign speeches over the Nation during the coming congressional campaigns.

ADVERTISING PROVES WORTH IN SELLING OF TREASURY CERTIFICATES

Omaha, Neb., April 12.-Nebraska today is leading the other six States of the Tenth Federal Reserve Bank District in the sale of the Government's 41/2 per cent Treasury saving certificates, and it is all due, in the opinion of L. H. Earhart, cashier of the local Federal Reserve branch bank, to advertising.

As a governmental experiment in the value of printer's ink, Omaha was selected as one of the four cities in which space was purchased in local newspapers, boosting the sale of certificates. Page "ads" appeared in Omaha papers last week, and in addition the city was circularized by carriers on their regular mail routes. ### PROHIBITION IN JAPAN

San Antonio News: Japan has enacted its first prohibition law, which forbids the sale or gift of liquor to minors. It is not likely the Japanese consider this act particularly important. Perhaps the majority does not even know such a prohibition has come to pass. The act is "something, nothing." There are plenty of people in the United States who remember the beginnings of prohibition here. Measures like this Japanese act were put into force, but semed to have no effect on the growing consumption of liquor. These first assaults on the reign of King Alcohol were regarded as impudent, futile attempts to regu-late a business which generally knew no law. The liquor men's error was that they measured such attacks by the effect on their business. What they should have noted was the effect on the American people. More and more, as gains were made the people became aggressive and confident. They curbed here and pinched off there. The outlying and neglected posts were attacked, and through the fact that, having admitted the need of prohibition for the minor, they have opened the way for prohibition for all.

There is no argument for the minor, they have opened the way for prohibition for all. years strength was accumulated for which does not obtain for the adult. The logic of this measure has an inevitable end. It may take years and

It is a compliment to the whole prohibition to the front in the fact that prohibition book. It means the entrance of light. The ray is a small one, to be sure, but it is the true light. It is an answer to the foolish, greedy and petulant denouncers of our Constitution. The Japanese see that if they are to keep step with this Western Giant who is striding to the front, they must be as sober as he is. No debauched people can compete succompliment to the whole prohibition to the whole prohibition to the whole prohibition to the secure of four rooms, bath, large screen-disconting the proches; porcelain tub and invatory; large lot, good location and neighbor-hood. PEPTOMIST LECTURES ON

Andrew S. Beshore of Nebraska Gives "Going Some" and "Things Not For Sale."

A lecturer with a punch that strikes continuous fire from the start to the finish, Beshore, physically handicapped, has a mental agility not attained by many. He tells a story in a way that is almost unequalled, a general mixture of mirth and good cheer, but nevertheless a message with value and sterling worth.

Beshore is a well known short story sketches have already been read by many in the magazines which come monthly to the fireside. He shakes a wicked and sometimes treacherous pen, afraid of nothing, knows just what the public wants, understands what they need, and by combining

HEN PECKED HUSBANDS

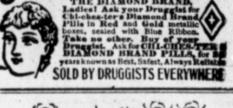

Chautauqua Brings Help.

No longer do the women and children get all the flowers and favore at Chautauqua. This year the downtrodden and abused among husbands are to have some attention and consideration. The Chautauqua management believes in making courageous innovations when necessary. Consequently Rip Van Winkle will appear on the third-night of the big assembly by coming soon to give his recipe for curing domestic difficulties. Men everywhere are especially invited to attend his program and follow his endeavors to evade the wrath of the irate wife shown waiting for him in the picture above.

Kerrville Camp No. 12210, M. W. of A. meets at Pampell's Hall, 8 p. m., 2nd and 4th Thursdays each month. If you are a Modern Wodman, do your duty and attend meetings regularly.

We have a baseball team that is highly creditable to our little city. The battery is above the average and the congratulated on naving Barry and McCarty.

Kerrville is growing solidly and quite rapidly. Those of us who are here all of the time do not take notice of the improvements like the occasional visitor. We don't want any boom, but a solid growth.

Let's see how this new City Administration is going to perform. Get busy, boys, as it is an old saw, that a new broom sweeps clean. At least make people cut the weeds and grass, keep their premises clean and sanitary, as well as provide for auto

Congressman Wurzbach of San Antonio made a speech to the "hightoned" negro population of Washington City recently, and he told them that he is the representative of the negroes in Texas, as he lived in a county where there are more negroes than any other race. He also prom-* ised to aid the negroes in any way he Some of the speakers then asked him to have the "Jim Crow Law" in Texas repealed. PROHIBITION IN JAPAN

San Antonio News: Japan has en-acted its first prohibition law, which consider this act particularly im-portant. Perhaps the majority does not even know such a prohibition has come to pass. The act is "something, nothing." There are plenty of people in the United States who remember the beginnings of prohibition here. Measures like this Japanese act were put into force, but semed to have no effect on the growing consumption of liquor. These first assaults on the reign of King Alcohol were regarded as impudent, futile attempts to regulate a business which generally knew no law. The liquor men's error was that they measured such attacks by the effect on their business. What they should have noted was the effect on the American people. More and more, as gains were made the people became aggressive and confident. They curbed here and pinched off there. The outlying and neglected posts were attacked, and through the years strength was accumulated for the onslaught on the citadel. The Japanese may not have considered the fact that, having admitted the need of prohibition for the minor, they have opened the way for prohibition for all.

It may take years and much contention, but the end is seen from the beginning.

The inevitableness of the process is in the fact that prohibition gains never are lost. In the United States, where there was a local-option gain or a State gain it was nearly 100 per cent permanent. Even where a county going "dry" was menaced by a neighboring "wet" county, and the actual drinking hardly was reduced, the dry county stuck to its decision.
