CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEETING AT SCHREINER INSTITUTE IS ENTHUSIASTIC

J. H. Kirkpatrick Made Inspiring and Helpful Address to Large Attendance Monday Night—Much Interest Manifested in Improvement Projects.

The membership meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, held Monday night in the Administration Building of Schreiner Institute as the guests of Pres. and Mrs. J. J. Delaney, was attended by more than 50 members of the organization and some 25 or 30 students of the Junior and Senior Classes of the Institute. An excellent address was delivered by J. H. Kirkpatrick of San Antonio. Short talks were also made by C. C. Wolfe and Geo. F. Lupton of the Alamo City. A number of important reports were heard and discussed.

The meeting was called to order by the president, E. H. Prescott, and minutes of the previous session read and adopted. Following this the regular routine of business was taken up, with reports of committees and individuals on matters in which the Chamber of Commerce was directly or indirectly concerned.

In the absence of C. E. Salter, chairman of the Fish Hatchery Committee, who was unable to attend because of pressing business concerning the hatchery, N. B. Smith gave a brief oral report of the work done to date by the committee.

Work Progressing on Hatchery
Mr. Smith reported that the building for the superintendent and the garage had been completed and work is now being rushed on the flumes. He said about 1,000 feet of redwood pipe had been bought in San Antonio for this purpose and at a considerable saving.

He also stated a letter had been received from Mark Riley, Superintendent of the Federal Hatchery at San Marcos, saying he would arrive here the latter part of this week to take charge of the construction of the ponds. This work will require a longer time to complete than the buildings, but it is thought everything will be in readiness to begin operations on or before December 1. This is necessary in order that the work will have results in time to use some of the fish for planting next spring.

Mr. Smith reported that about $2,100 had already been subscribed and the greater part of same has been paid in. He reported, however, that about $500 more will be needed to complete the project. A number of those who have already subscribed have signified their willingness to double their subscription or increase it enough to help raise the necessary amount, he said.

Cecil Robinson gave a short report of the organization of the permanent golf and country club. He stated that arrangements are fast being made and it is practically assured actual work will get under way about November 1. Mr. Robinson reported the subscription total had reached about $28,000 and part of the money paid in. He stated further that it is thought the remaining $2,000 will be raised within a short time.

Mayor A. T. Adkins was called upon for a report on the sewerage proposal and explained the contract entered into between the City Commission and the Municipal Engineering Company. He said the survey has been completed and the engineer is working on the estimates. Nothing has as yet been heard from him, Mr. Adkins stated, but it is thought he will submit his report within a short time.

R. A. Franklin reported that naming of streets and numbering of houses by his Civics class at Tivy High School had been delayed because of a misunderstanding.

Mr. Prescott cleared up the misapprehension and Mr. Franklin stated his class would be glad to go right ahead with the work.

A committee, composed of Walter Saenger, Chas. L. Mason and R. L. Scherbeck, was appointed by President Prescott to take up the proposition of the logging of the Kerrville-Junction highway for the location of the best camp sites. This committee is to work with another from the Junction Chamber of Commerce. Inquiries have already been received relative to the listing of the camp sites, Mr. Prescott reported, through the announcement made in the columns of The Sun last week that this proposition was to be taken up.

In this connection, anyone having sites between Kerrville and Ingram that can be opened up for next season are requested to communicate either with the members of the above committee or with The Sun.

To Close Armistice Day
Howard Butt submitted a motion, which carried, that all business houses in the city be requested to close Monday, November 12, in observance of Armistice Day, which falls on Sunday this year. Mayor Adkins was of the opinion that a proclamation to this effect would be issued by President Coolidge and the Mayor's proclamation would conform with the President's, he stated.

C. C. Wolfe, manager of the trade extension department of the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce was introduced by Cecil Robinson and gave a short talk in which he praised the work of the local organization and paid glowing tributes to Kerrville

Sale of Over Million Pounds Mohair Made at Excellent Prices

The Schreiner Wool & Mohair Commission Company announced early this week that a deal had been consummated whereby approximately one million pounds of the fall clip mohair were sold to J. H. Cauthen, representing the Goodall Worsted Company of Sanford, Me.

Excellent prices were received, the grown bringing 43½ cents per pound and kid, 80 cents.

This is the largest sale ever made at one time by the Schreiner Commission Company and it is believed to be the largest ever made in the United States and probably in the world. Thirty freight cars will be required to ship the mohair.

While nothing definite could be obtained as to the approximate amount of mohair remaining in the warehouses, it is thought this shipment will clear them out. Workmen are rapidly loading the huge tonnage for shipment to the East.

The fall clip of wool has been coming in for the past week or two and during the last several days the volume has been steadily increasing. Large consignments will probably begin to come in from now on.

COUNTY AGENT HELD STOCK JUDGING AT RESERVATION

The County Agent gave the club boys of the Reservation Sheep Club a lesson in stock judging last Friday evening at George Duderstadt's. A Class of Delaine-Merino sheep were judged. Victor Marshall made the highest grade with a score of 80, Henry Esquell second, 75, Herbie Oehler and Erwin Ahrens tied for third place with a score of 65.

A class of fat cattle were taken up next and the boys were shown the points to be considered in judging beef cattle.

The County Agent will hold a meeting at Union Valley School House Tuesday night, October 30th, at 8 p. m. The purpose of the meeting will be to discuss poultry, dairying and any topic that the farmers are interested in. Judge Julius Real will speak on dairying and sheep. O. W. Hinds, Chief Clerk of Legion Hospital, will be present and tell the people what Legion wants in the way of farm products.

Jack Allen and W. D. Nance and daughter, Gypsie, left Monday morning for Carlsbad, the former to visit his wife and Mr. Nance to leave his daughter in a hospital there for treatment. The two men returned Wednesday.

HUGE ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM SIREN INSTALLED LAST WEEK

Will Be Sounded Every Friday at Noon as Test—Is an Alarm When Heard At Any Other Time.

The big electric fire alarm siren was put into operation last Friday after a delay of several weeks due to failure of transformers to arrive on time. The siren is placed on top of the Waltham Building upon a raised platform built for the purpose.

It is the latest type electric alarm, having what is called a double head "howler" and is driven by a 3-horse-power motor. When the initial test was made last Friday a high wind was blowing, reducing the efficiency of a distance trial. On calm days the siren can be heard something like five or six miles.

At present there is but one alarm station which is in the telephone office. Other controls are to be installed as soon as the equipment arrives. No definite announcement has as yet been made as to where they will be installed.

The alarm will be tested every Friday at exactly 12 o'clock. This is necessary in order to keep the motor in perfect running condition. When sounded at any other time than at noon Fridays it is an alarm. If anything happens to prevent its being blown at the exact time each Friday the test will not be made. This will be observed in order to prevent confusion between tests and alarms.

The fire department makes the request that in turning in alarms full information as to the whereabouts of fires be given. Approximately 50 per cent of the alarms turned in are so indefinite that prompt response cannot be made by the fire fighting apparatus. Alarms given so hurriedly that they are not complete in their information are as bad as no alarm at all, as enough delay may be caused in locating the whereabouts of the blaze that it would cause apparatus to arrive too late to be effective.

"Requests for the right-of-way," said Eugene Butt, fire chief, "cannot be made too often or strong. Racing with the trucks by other cars and interfering with their right-of-way slows them down and might result in enough delay to cause a great deal of damage. When you hear the warning siren give them the road—not the ditch! The fire department is to fight the blaze—not the fellow who tries to get there ahead of the apparatus. When additional help is needed it will be requested—then be willing to do what is asked of you."

Co-Operation

As defined by Webster: Co-Operation—Concurrent effort or labor; the association of a number of persons for their common benefit.

As defined by Kerrville: City Building.

Do you ever watch a team of horses start a heavy load? If left to their own efforts they will not get very far. First one horse will plunge into the collar, then the other, each striving mightily to move the wagon, but each one being compelled to pull not only the load behind him but the other horse as well. The result: The wagon may move a little way but invariably drops back into the old rut when the individual effort ceases, and the horse becomes discouraged at the seemingly useless effort and is in a fair way to become what is commonly called "balky."

But let a driver mount the wagon, seize the lines, speak to the horses encouragingly, let them lean into the collars together slowly—and the load moves: Co-Operation.

The meaning of this word has sunk deep into the hearts of the citizens of Kerrville this past year, and as a result the city is progressing rapidly and making strides equalled by no other community in the State of Texas.

Many important projects have been started in this city the past summer and several more are contemplated.

A temporary golf course has been constructed and is in use pending the completion of the permanent course and club house, work on which is soon to be started.

Funds for financing of the Kerr County Fish Hatchery have been subscribed sufficient to allow work on this important project to be commenced and while the work of construction is going on the committee is rapidly accumulating sufficient funds to finish financing the proposition.

The City Park has been in use several months and has proved a source of pleasure not only to the citizens of our city but to the large number of tourists throughout the summer.

The principal business streets of the city have been oiled as a temporary proposition pending paving of Water Street, which is to commence before long, and will without doubt spread to other thoroughfares.

The city water system is being improved by the construction of another artesian well, which will practically double the already apparently inexhaustible supply of the purest water to be found anywhere.

Plans are being formulated to finance and install a modern sewer system for the city and it is hoped to push this matter so as to enable same to be completed before the paving on Water Street is put down.

A proposition is pending for the establishing here of the permanent encampment of the Methodist West Texas Conference Assembly, and indications are that Kerrville bids fair to land this encampment, which, together with the Presbyterian Encampment, in operation here for many years, will mean thousands of visitors to Kerrville and The Hill Country each summer.

A contour map of the city, for the establishing of grades for sidewalks and street paving, is now being completed and work will start right away on numbering the business houses and residences preparatory to the establishment of free mail delivery throughout the city.

And several other projects are being considered.

Truly the business men and citizens of Kerrville know the meaning of the word Co-Operation.

One business man was heard to say the past summer: "I don't believe I get a dollar's benefit direct from the Presbyterian Encampment, but my neighbor across the street does, and I sell him the groceries his family consumes." Another said: "I don't know about the value of this golf course to the city, but some of the other fellows think it will be a good thing, so I'll kick in."

The Kerrville Chamber of Commerce is doing wonders for the community. The officials and individual members of the organization are pulling together as one team, submerging thoughts of personal interest and working for the betterment of the community as a whole.

There sure isn't any room in Kerrville for the "knocker" or balky horse.

STOCKHOLDERS MAKE PERMANENT ORGANIZATION OF COUNTRY CLUB

Officers and Constitution Adopted at Meeting Friday—To Begin New Course Soon.

Permanent organization of the Kerrville Country Club was perfected at a meeting of stockholders last Friday night in the offices of the Chamber of Commerce. The Board of Governors held a session immediately afterward and the officers for the first term were elected.

Twenty stockholders were present at the meeting and elected A. B. Williamson chairman pro tem with Cecil Robinson as temporary secretary. Scott Schreiner read the proposed constitution and by-laws and a motion to adopt same carried.

Following a motion to that effect the chairman appointed Dr. E. Galbraith, A. C. Schreiner Jr. and Miller Harwood as a nominating committee to select a Board of Governors. Their nominations, which were accepted by a unanimous vote, were: Scott Schreiner, Hal Peterson, E. H. Prescott, J. D. Jackson, A. B. Williamson, Chas. Rawson, A. C. Schreiner Jr., Ally Beitel, Dr. A. A. Roberts, Dr. E. Galbraith and Cecil Robinson.

A letter was read from John Bredemus, a prominent golf architect, relative to building the course. Negotiations will probably be taken up with Mr. Bredemus at a later date, although no definite action was taken at Friday's session.

A motion carried that stockholders be notified that the first installments of $30, were due and payable not later than Nov. 1 next. Ten per cent of the balance is to be paid each 30 days. Following this motion, the Board of Governors was given authority to proceed with the necessary arrangements for the speedy completion of the permanent golf course and country club.

Immediately after the adjournment of the stockholders meeting the Board of Governors met and elected Scott Schreiner, president; Dr. E. Galbraith, vice president and Cecil Robinson, secretary-treasurer. A drawing was made to determine the terms of members of the board, four drawing three years, four two years and three one year terms.

The president was authorized to engage a collector to look after the matter of the installments. Announcement is to be made later of the name of the person selected.

With the organization of the permanent country club operations will begin at once to get the new course under construction. Arrangements are being made as fast as possible and it is thought that actual construction on the course can be begun shortly after Nov. 1. With favorable circumstances it is hoped to have the club and links completed in about six months.

GARRETT-BAKER POST TO CONTINUE HOLDING MEETINGS IN KERRVILLE

American Legion Voted on Important Proposition Last Thursday Evening.

Garrett-Baker Post No. 13, American Legion, held a short, snappy session at their regular meeting last Thursday evening. Owing to the inclemency of the weather the meeting, usually held at Lake Side Park, was held at the Mountain Sun office.

Several important matters of a business nature were disposed of, chief among which was the proposition of affiliating with the former service men at the Legion Hospital. Several of the members of the local post had met with the former service men at the hospital and offered them a tentative proposition to transfer the meetings of the Legion. It was thought by some that this proposition would enable the men out there to attend Legion meetings with more ease and the members in Kerrville could go out and join in with them, thereby making one large post instead of two smaller ones, as the men at the hospital were considering the advisability of forming a post there.

After a thorough discussion by the members present, a resolution was offered and carried unanimously that the meetings of Garrett-Baker Post be continued within the corporate limits of the City of Kerrville. This action was taken for several reasons. It was here that the boys who offered their lives during the World War, for whom the Post was named, grew to manhood and it is here, where their memory is cherished by one who knew them from boyhood on and who served with them in the service of our country that the Post should be maintained as a testimonial to the world that Kerrville remembers and is proud of the sacrifice made in the hour of our country's need.

The regular meeting of the Post was changed from twice to once a month, meeting the third Thursday night each month. As the weather during the winter months is too uncertain to permit of a large attendance at Lake Side Park, it was voted to hold the meetings at the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

A proposition was brought before the meeting about a permanent club house and home in Kerrville for the Legion, but after much discussion the matter was tabled for the time being.

During the social hour the hostess served tea and sandwiches to her guests.

Watson-Rogers

Miss Effie Louise Rodgers of Ingram and R. L. Watson of Houston, stole a march on their friends a couple of weeks ago and were united in matrimony. The ceremony took place Oct. 13 in San Antonio.

Mr. Watson met the bride in this city and took the train for San Antonio where they were met at the station by a minister who performed the solemn rites. Immediately afterward they went to the home of the groom's aunt where a sumptuous dinner was served with a number of relatives in attendance.

The young couple left a short time later for Houston where Mr. Watson had a lovely little home in readiness for his bride.

Mrs. Watson is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Rodgers of Ingram and is well known in that community.

DIXIE THEATER TO PRESENT HAWAIIAN PROGRAM TONIGHT

Troup of South Sea Islanders on Bill for Music and Dancing in Addition to Betty Compson Picture.

Manager Brice of the Dixie
Theater announces a special bill in addition to the usual program will be offered to the theater-going public tonight. Raymond's Royal Hawaiians, a troupe of six people of the South Sea Islands, will present native music and dancing, featuring Princess Kalima in her celebrated hula-hula dance.

The regular program will be given in addition to the vaudeville attraction. Betty Compson's new Paramount picture, "The White Flower," will be shown on the screen. This production is said to be a real novelty, filled with mystery, thrills and charm.
The weird rites of the tropics where sorcery still has its devotees—the mysterious ritual of mighty Pele at the brink of the flaming crater of Kilauea—all the fascination of the South Sea Islands are interwoven into a gripping love story which will be long remembered.

The Royal Hawaiians are to give an entertainment this afternoon at Legion for the benefit of the patients in that institution. Their engagement at the Dixie is for tonight only.

The management of the Dixie are to be complimented upon their efforts to give local people the best in pictures and in presenting the Hawaiians as an added attraction, and no doubt the patrons of the theater will appreciate the opportunity to enjoy such entertainments.

GLORY TO THE RAZORBACK

Fort Worth Star-Telegram: Collin County entered the list of grateful tributaries to an important element in agricultural progress when a monument to the razorback hog was unveiled as a feature of the annual county fair at McKinney. A block of carved granite speaks eloquently of the tribute which Texas farms owe to the razorback because of the one great gift he bestowed upon men, the gift of his passing from the realm of humanity.

The razorback and the longhorn, the scrub hog and the scrub steer, may they rest in peace—the longer and the more peaceful the better. Their best recommendation is that they are dead. In their place, the blooded sow produces ton litters, and the pure bred steer tops the market. The long snout that lifted rail fences, the knife-like backbone that shed the rifle bullets of the infuriated farmer who owned the fences, the lean carcass that impoverished the smokehouse though it was full, are no more. In their place is the long and wide machine of the piggan that turns grain into meat with a certainty and dispatch that gladdens the eye and swells the bank account.

The old order passeth. There is still hope that some day every farm will produce everything for its owner's table, and that some day somebody will be able to build a monument to the crop mortgage.

The Million-Dollar Trademark

Farm and Ranch: Rolling dice for a quarter is a dastardly crime, but "shooting for a million" gives the typical American the thrill he likes. The Attorney General's department is "out-smarted" at court by the legal experts of wealthy tax-dodgers, but the little fellow who errs by a few dollars in the making of his income report suffers the penalty of a fine, an added tax and a stiff interest payment. Two little darlings fight in an alley and a cop marches them off to jail but a brace of husky prize fighters furnishes lawful delight to 80,000 cheering people packed in an arena while complacent policemen patrol the aisles and keep the patrons in their $20 seats.

Anything that bears the million-dollar trademark finds an enthusiastic reception by the average American. The trouble is with the folks themselves. Isn't it about time that we peeled off the veneer and worked back to the simple, homely, wholesome, two-bit civilization that is our revered American heritage.

SOME STATE

Fort Worth Star-Telegram: Texas occupies all the continent of North America except a small part set aside for the United States and Canada. Texas owns all north of the Rio Grande, the only dusty river in the world; also the only one, with the possible exception of the Trinity, which is navigable for mud cats and pedestrians.

Texas is bounded on the North by twenty-five or thirty States, on the east by all the oceans in the world except the Pacific, and on the south by the Gulf of Mexico and South America, and on the West by the Pacific Ocean, the milky way and the sidereal universe.

If Texas were chopped loose from the rest of the United States and the Panhandle it would float out into the ocean, as it rests upon a vast subterranean sea of fresh water.

Texas is so big that the people of Brownsville call the Dallas people Yankees and the citizens of El Paso sneer at the citizens of Texas. Texas, as being snobs from the effete East.

It is one hundred and fifty miles farther from El Paso, Texas, to Texas, than it is from Chicago to New York. Fort Worth is nearer to St. Paul, Minn., than it is to Brownsville.

The United States with Texas off would look like a three-legged Boston Terrier.

Texas are so proud of Texas that they cannot sleep at night. If a Texan's head should be opened the map of Texas would be found photographed on his brain. This is also true of his heart. Unless your front gate is eighteen miles from your front door you do not belong to society as constituted in Texas. Mrs. King's gate is one hundred and fifty miles from her front door and she is thinking of moving her house back so she will not be annoyed by passing automobiles and peddlers.

Other Texas landlords have whole mountain ranges and rivers on their ranches. One Texan has forty miles of navigable rivers on his farm. If the proportion of cultivated land in Texas were the same as in Illinois the value of Texas crops would equal that of forty-seven other states.

Texas has enough land to supply every man, woman and child in the world with a tract of five feet by twenty feet, and have enough left over for the armies of the world to march around the border five abreast. Texas grows enough alfalfa, which if baled and built into a staircase would reach to the pearly gates.

If all the hogs in Texas were one big hog, he would be able to dig the Panama Canal in three roots. If all Texas steers were one big steer, he would stand with his front feet in the Gulf of Mexico, one hind foot in the Hudson Bay and the other in the Arctic Ocean, and with his tail brush the mists from the Aurora Borealis. Some State!

San Antonio Express: Motor car service has been put on between San Antonio and Kerrville by the management of the San Antonio & Aransas Pass Railway Company. Coming to San Antonio, the car leaves Kerrville daily at 6:50 in the morning, arriving here at 9:40. It leaves on the return trip at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, reaching Kerrville at 6:50. The service is an experiment and, if supported by the public, will be maintained and improved. Any new service must be experimental in a way, but there is little reason to believe this Sap innovation will not receive the encouragement it deserves. Motor car service has been in operation on some Texas lines a number of years. Nowhere, that one recalls at present, has the service been withdrawn, once it is installed. As a matter of fact, it has been found necessary to enlarge it on most of the runs. Not since the war, at least, has passenger service on the Kerrville division of the Sap been all that it should have been. The determination to try out the use of motors ought to win the approval of Sap Antonio and of Kerrville and of all the country between. It has been, and is, a good and profitable period with the railroads. Deserving more business usually gets it. This particular service will give outside shoppers and others on business bent nearly the whole business day in San Antonio. It will permit San Antonians owning country homes to spend the day in town and the night in the hills the year around. It is a sign of moving forward and as such it is commended.

HAMER STILL GOING GOOD IN PENN STATE FOOTBALL

Ernest ("Tex") Hamer of Junction, captain of the Penn State varsity eleven, is still going strong in the grid sport, according to advices from Philadelphia. "Tex" is well known here, playing a big part in the defeat of the All-Stars at Junction last Christmas. The following item from the Philadelphia Ledger appeared in the Junction Eagle last week: "Captained by 'Tex' (Ernest) Hamer, at Franklin Field, Philadelphia, confining themselves strictly to straight, sound football, Pennsylvania's 1923 players knifed through the first obstacle along the high road to a happy Thanksgiving.

"While Flues was the leading luminary to the Penn forces, there were several others who starred. The most brilliant of these was six-foot Hamer, as powerfully built a back as any in Pennsylvania football history. When others failed, Hamer could split open the line for the yardage necessary for first down. The big Texan was as formidable on the defense as he was with the ball. When the time comes for Captain Hamer to give his last ounce of energy, he should rank with the Hollenbacks, the Hares and the Smith of line cracking fame."

CATHOLIC CHURCH NOTES

By Father Kemper

VILLEMARETTE-BONNETTE

A bit of France seemed to have been transplanted in St. Mary's Church last Sunday when a young French couple, both under age, were united in holy matrimony during High Mass.

Miss Wilhelmina Mosel played the processional wedding march, and presided at the organ while the St. Cecilia Choir sang their first High Mass since last May.

Miss Myrtle Reno, who attended Notre Dame Institute several years ago, was recently united in marriage to Joseph Hernandez by Father Jacobi of the Sacred Heart Church.

On Wednesday of this week the semi-monthly engagement was filled at Comfort.

Nan's Father Dies Sister Constance has been with us for eight years and has endeared to herself an army of true friends and admirers.

In the early part of last week Marcelino Arreola died of tuberculosis in the Woodmen Sanatorium in San Antonio.

Sisters Rose Terese and Gerard Majella omitted the commemoration of their patronal feasts due to the sorrow occasioned by Sr. Constance's loss.

One of the boarders, Lottie Mae Bullard, enjoyed a visit from her aunt, Miss Carolyn Bomba of Havana, Cuba, and her grandfather, T. E. Bomba of Nordheim.

Mrs. A. G. Herbsleb, better remembered as Marguerite Staudt, called on her old classmates last Sunday.

A dozen or more of Notre Dame students marched to Schreiner Institute Saturday to see what Freddie Nye could do on the gridiron.

Dondlinger Donates Overland Peter Dondlinger was lucky enough to secure the first prize at the recent K. of C. Carnival, viz. a Red Bird Overland Touring Car.

Many booths will supplement the "Country Store" which will be more like a bargain sale at a large city department store.

The carnival preparations slowed up a bit last week due to the illness of Miss Angelina Kemper who is suffering from the prevalent gripe.

Newcomers A California veteran, Manuel Simas, was admitted into the Legion Hospital.

Mark Laborde of Marksville, La. entered clerical service there, Mike Brown of Austin received employment in the cooking department.

Jas. Chastun has practically regained his health and left for Bryan to close his business affairs so that he can make his home in Kerrville.

Among the masons employed at Legion are Ignatius Sebera and Jas. Kearney of San Antonio.

Bill Tarrillon is plastering the new Boerne church. Meanwhile his wife is staying with her mother, Mrs. Chas. Mosel.

Al Oldham, district supervisor of the K. of C. Hospitalization work, made a business trip here last Friday to arrange for Leo King's promotion to Fort Stanton.

Clifford Gaudin, whose father is head of the Catholic Knights of America, was with us last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Nye spent the early part of the week in the Alamo City. Mrs. Farris was there for the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Christian.

BAPTIST YOUNG MEN'S CLASS OPENS WITH GOOD PROSPECTS

The Berean Class of the Baptist Sunday School, for young men 17 years of age and older, got under way last Sunday morning with an opening attendance of eight young fellows.

Prospects for the new class are unusually bright, Eugene Butt, teacher, says. The first session was devoted largely to talking over the work in a general way and a list of prospects was made.

A meeting at which the class will be formally organized is to be held within the next week or ten days, it is thought. Announcement of the exact date is to be made later.

A cordial invitation is extended by the teacher and members of the class to all young men who are interested to attend the session at the Baptist Church next Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.

ROBS CALOMEL OF NAUSEA AND DANGER

Medicinal Virtues Retained and Improved—Dangerous and Sickening Qualities Removed. Perfected Tablet Called "Calotabs."

The latest triumph of modern science is a "de-nauseated" calomel tablet known to the drug trade as "Calotabs."

In biliousness, constipation, headaches and indigestion, and in a great variety of liver, stomach and kidney troubles calomel was the most successful remedy, but its use was often neglected on account of its sickening qualities.

Calotabs are sold only in original, sealed packages, price thirty-five cents for the large family package; ten cents for the small, trial size.

Baptist W. M. U.

The Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church met Tuesday afternoon for their regular missionary meeting.

Mrs. W. T. C. Briggs was invited by the Circle to act as leader for the afternoon. The subject of medical missions was introduced by Mrs. Briggs in a charming manner.

Mrs. Briggs in her preamble gave some splendid points on missionary service and hospital work.

Mrs. Clapp made an inspiring talk on the "Women at the Baptist World Alliance," which met in Stockholm, Sweden, in July.

Mrs. Osborne, Mrs. Gammon, Miss Hunt and Miss Deeweis.

In the paper on the hospitals of the Baptists in Southern States it was brought out the first Baptist Hospital was opened by Missouri Baptists.

The Good Samaritan Hospital at Selma, Alabama, is conducted by white Baptist for Negro patients. The Baptist Hospital at Columbia, S. C., is also used for colored people.

Other states are planning for the erection of large new modern hospitals, while six of those we have are enlarging their quarters, four new ones are under course of construction.

When all these are completed we will have a system of thirty-two denominational hospitals. Five are carrying on special research work and several of them have nurses' training schools in which 573 nurses are in training.

A free will offering was taken and a neat sum realized for medical missions. Dainty refreshments of white and gold cake, coffee, tea and mints were served to seventeen members of the W. M. U.

The Baptist Women will meet Tuesday, Oct. 30th, at the home of their president, Mrs. J. T. Moore, in their regular "Dollar Day" meeting.

At the close of the program a Round Table was conducted by the leader and proved very helpful to all.

MEXICAN BAPTIST CHURCH

E. V. Rodriguez, Pastor

Our prayer meeting was well attended last Wednesday. We had for our study the first chapter of Acts. Friday we met for a special prayer service for our dear sister, Mrs. Nation-Smith, who has been sick and was going to be operated on Saturday morning at the Secor Hospital for a tumor.

Our Sunday School was well attended last Sunday. Our superintendent, L. A. Rodriguez, made a fine talk on missions.

In the evening the pastor preached to a large congregation on Hebrews 2:3.

Tuesday morning the body of Edward Rubio was brought to our church, where funeral services were held. The pastor preached a very inspiring and encouraging sermon from John 14 to a large congregation, and spoke of the great need we have to prepare to meet God and death, and not to wait to go to church in a hearse.

Let's make next Sunday a Go to Church Sunday. We extend a cordial invitation to all our services.

In case of a bite from a venomous snake far from hospitals and doctors: grasp the limb above the bite. Tie tightly and knot strings. This will localize the poison. Make ten deep incisions with sharp knife or razor criss-cross over the snake punctures, five each way at right angles which will result in a checkerboard effect directly over the fang marks. Suck out poison that does not come out with flowing blood. In thirty minutes loosen string but if poison effects follow tighten string again. This must all be done quickly.

Weak Back

Mrs. Mildred Pipkin, of R. F. D. 8, Columbia, Tenn., says: "My experience with Cardui has covered a number of years. Nineteen years ago... I got down with weak back. I was run-down and so weak and nervous I had to stay in bed. I read of and sent for it. I took only one bottle at that time, and it helped me; seemed to strengthen and build me right up. So that is how I first knew of Cardui. After that, . . . when I began to get weak and 'no account', I sent right for Cardui, and it never failed to help me."

If you are weak and suffering from womanly ailments, Cardui may be just what you need. Take Cardui. It has helped thousands, and ought to help you.

SOUTHLAND LEADS CORN BELT IN HOG GROWING

Texas farmers have captured all honors in hog growing as projected by the Ton Litter Clubs of the several states for 1923. A Poland China litter of twelve pigs bred and fed by M. L. Marcom, of Leonard, Texas, weighed officially 3,542 pounds on the 180th day after farrowing, which is 502 pounds above the record weight held by an Indiana litter in 1922. It is the heaviest litter of this breed for 1923.

Another litter of ten, same breed, fed by J. M. Martin of Denton, County, Texas, was weighed the last of September, and averaged 333 pounds each, which is the heaviest average of any litter in the United States, all breeds included.

The suspicion immediately arises in the reader's mind that these litters could not have been practically fed, but the fact is that the litter of twelve were fed on ground corn and wheat shorts, with tankage. Only 270 gallons of skimmed milk were fed during the entire six months. The pasture consisted only of two-thirds of an acre of alfalfa, burmuda and sudan mixed.

The cost of the litter was as follows:
Feed for sow from breeding to farrowing time $11.50
Feed for sow from farrowing to weaning time 14.90
Feed for litter from weaning time to 100 days old 31.60
Feed for litter from 100 days to end of period 161.69

Total feed cost $219.69

The litter was sold to a local butcher for $2.50 per hundredweight above the market price at Fort Worth that day, or $11.50 per hundred pounds, returning to Mr. Marcom a check for $407.33 and leaving him a direct profit of $187.64.

The pigs averaged 2.5 pounds per head per day growth from weaning time until they were 180 days old.

The sire of this litter was sired by Liberator, a boar which sired the world's champion sow of 1921, the world's champion sow and boar of 1922 and the world's champion sow of 1923. The dam is by the grand champion boar of Nebraska State Fair a few years ago.

TURKEYS!

Our dressing plants and buyers are now ready to receive your turkeys. We advise early selling---go through your flocks and sell your matured birds now; push the immature birds, feed them heavy, have them ready for early selling.

MARKET CERTAINLY LOOKS LOWER after about the 15th of November and it would not surprise us to see turkeys selling 10 to 12 cents before the season is over.

Warning

At the start of last year's dressing season we warned you through the papers and by circulars of the dangers in improper marketing. Hundreds followed our advice; many did not, but you all saw before the season ended that we were right, and that those that followed our advice made money.

Now Listen To Reason

Don't pay any attention to these "ONE GALLUS", "COB PIPE" "WIND JAMMERS" ranting around over the country pouring forth their soothing offers of aid in marketing; remember it was these birds that ribbed hundreds of raisers last year to hold for 35 cents only to take 20 to 25. These BIRDS fly from one county to another, looking for green fields, the only thing that concerns them is the money; BE WISE, ADVISE WITH YOUR

County Agent

We find 95 per cent of them men who study conditions, men who keep enlightened, men who have at heart the interest of their people; these agents can obtain (and many of them do) from the farm bureau at Austin, the various markets, movement, crop and stocks, and render you a service second to none; these agents may not be the SLICK-TALKING, DIAMOND-STUDDED individuals that these FLY UP THE CREEKS ARE, but they are sound to the core. If you need advice or information consult them.

Our Reason for Early Selling

The Government report issued in September showed turkeys on hand in cold storage:

On September 1st, 1923	7,377,000 lbs.
On September 1st, 1922	3,204,000 lbs.
Five Year Average	2,523,000 lbs.

These figures may not alarm you at a glance, but when taken into consideration the fact that consumption since January 1st. has been about 700,00 lbs. per month, it can be readily seen that this year's surplus cannot be consumed by Thanksgiving and that you will have last year's frozen turkeys on the market in competition to this year's fresh crop. Again many of these frozen turkeys, on account of the tremendous loss if sold now—are being held with confidence in anticipation of a LATE CROP and a SHORT ONE; just the moment these holders find the crop is FULLY 100 PER CENT LARGER THAN LAST YEAR AND THE BIRDS FURTHER ADVANCED THAN EVER, there will be a scramble to sell the frozen turkeys, which in our opinion will completely demoralize the market.

We have been long-winded and very explicit in this article only to show you true conditions, study it over—make no mistake WHEN READY TO SELL BE SURE YOU GET IN TOUCH WITH OUR LOCAL MANAGER, MR. A. D. BROWN, AT OUR KERRVILLE BRANCH.

The Hill Country

Jas. E. Ferguson, in The Ferguson Forum, Oct. 18: Last week I paid a visit to the mountain district of Southwest Texas. It was my first trip to what is known as the Hill Country. Though I have traveled over Texas perhaps more than any other citizen yet I have not been in all the 250 counties of the state. I have visited something over two hundred counties and county seats and I now find myself impelled by a well fixed intention and desire to visit every county in my native state. If the Lord spares me I am going to complete the trip before I am a year older.

It is an education within itself to know Texas and Texas people. We have a varied climate and a varied citizenship. While Texas people have many sentiments and ideas in common, yet on account of our very extended area it is but natural that our people have different views on a great many important questions.

To learn and become acquainted with these different conditions and varied ideas is a source of great gratification to me and every time I travel any distance from home I am deeply impressed with the greatness of my native state. The first duty of the people of Texas is to know their state and so far as they can they ought to visit every part of it. This would not only be a matter of education to each, but it would bring about a social relationship and understanding between our people that will make us one great people with one great purpose and that the glory and honor of Texas.

It seems to me that our state and our people need right now, more than ever before, a renewal of the spirit of companionship and friendly feeling. There is altogether too much sectionalism in Texas. In our legislative halls and in public discussions there is too much intemperate expression about this part of Texas getting too much and that part getting too little. Too often we hear loud talk about boosting West Texas, and pulling for South Texas, and fighting East Texas and watching North Texas. Let us all get a little better acquainted and learn a little about each other's part of the state and maybe we can get together on a common ground and help each other more than we have been doing.

But I am digressing from my trip that I want to tell The Forum readers about. I specially visited five counties. I visited the old historic town of Fredericksburg, settled by the German colonists who landed at Indianola on the Gulf and moved by ox wagon to New Braunfels and Fredericksburg and settled in the year 1845. It is a matter of history now that Colonel Reineger of New Braunfels, the last survivor of this colony, died just a few days ago.

The posterity of these sturdy pioneers are therefore native-born Americans. I was told that 85 sons of Gillespie county made the supreme sacrifice for Old Glory in the late war and they now sleep in the soil of their daddies in the Fredericksburg grave yard. The first Texas officer killed in the war was Louis Jordan from Fredericksburg.

While in Fredericksburg I visited the famous old Nimitz hotel, built in the early days of the town out of lumber freighted from the Gulf, over 300 miles, by ox wagon. This old place is famous by the fact that General Robert E. Lee was a frequent visitor there and it was while he was in this section that he resigned his commission in the Federal Army and hastened to Virginia to assume control of the Confederate forces. The old bedstead upon which General Lee slept is yet in the old Nimitz hotel. The old bed was shown to me by Charles Nimitz, the son of Colonel Nimitz, who bought it from General Lee.

It is an inspiration to see the friendliness and fellowship everywhere apparent in the Fredericksburg section, among the descendants of the liberty-loving pioneers who laid the foundation for the sturdy and manly citizenship in old Gillespie County. There is no strife, no hard-feeling, everybody enjoying the fullest freedom of religion and politics.

After I left Fredericksburg I visited Kendall, Kerr and Kimble Counties.

Kerr is still the mecca for tourists and Kerrville is perhaps the greatest wool and mohair market in Texas.

Kerrville is the home of Captain Schreiner, one of the early pioneers of that section. Though Captain Schreiner is worth many millions, yet he is everywhere in these counties known as the poor man's friend and the memory of his good deeds will live forever in the hearts of his neighbors. Some of these days The Forum is going to start a hall of fame in which will be portrayed the lives and character of the uncrowned and unnamed heroes of Texas, whose endeavor in private life has made Texas great and prosperous.

From Kerrville I traveled to Junction, in Kimble County, by the now famous scenic state highway. For miles this road follows the meanders of the Guadalupe River. The stream was discovered by Alonzo de Leon on his first expedition to Texas in 1689, and he named it "Our Lady of Guadalupe," which was painted on the Spanish flag carried in the expedition. For more than 40 miles the state highway winds around with the river, up and down the mountain heights and the scenery is beautiful and sublime, unexcelled in any part of the nation.

I have traveled up the Hudson River in New York on the famous River Side Drive. I have traveled the many loops and drives in the mountains of Colorado. I have seen the beautiful winding roads leading to the famous Yosemite Falls in California, but I declare none of them no more picturesque, no more attractive, no more inspiring than the wonderful road from Kerrville up the Guadalupe River.

Leaving the river you go up on to a rolling divide between the Guadalupe and the Llano. The distance is 25 miles and you cross many small streams affording clear running water.

I never saw as many goats, sheep and cattle in my life. They run them all together—about 250 sheep, 40 cattle and 50 goats to the 640-acre section.

Coming in sight of the Llano you behold one of the most beautiful sights. Looking down from the heights of the big divide you see the coming together of the north and south prongs of the Llano River, where is situated the beautiful little city of Junction—claimed to be the best inland town in the world. I saw so much thrift and so many fine stock and so many good, friendly people that I am not going to dispute the proposition.

Let me suggest that all my friends who can to just take an auto trip out to Junction. The climate and the people are fine and bully good, you bet. I saw my first wild turkeys and saw cotton that had never been plowed making a bale to the acre.

From Junction I traveled up the Llano River for 40 miles and crossed the stream about 15 times. It was interesting all the way. Pecan groves, perhaps the finest in Texas. More sheep and goats.

On the way I saw the old fort that was once maintained in frontier days by the Federal Government. It was here that Lieutenant Robert E. Lee used to fight the Indians when he was a young man.

Leaving the Llano you go up a big level divide for many miles on the way to Sonora, the county seat of Sutton County. To my great surprise I found thousands of acres of good black sandy loam land. My prediction is that this will some day be one of the good cotton growing sections of the state. There is no railroad in Sutton County yet and land suitable for farming can be had at from $15 to $25 an acre. Here is my opinion one of the best places for the man who wants a small home in Texas. In less than seven years there will be railroad connection and then these lands will go high. It looked to me like the cattle and sheep in Sutton and Schleicher Counties are just a little larger than any other stock I have seen in Texas. And the people—they are just the salt of the earth and no mistake.

Artificial wood possessing all the qualities of genuine timber and as hard as oak has been made by a scientist of Norway. He uses a mixture of 50 per cent sawdust with chalk and chemicals and subjects the ingredients to a very heavy pressure. The product is impervious to decay and only burns at a temperature much higher than that at which real timber ignites.

THE THINGS THAT COUNT

Frederick Palmer, in American Legion Weekly: "Yes—but," I said when I was asked to write a series of short articles for this page. My "yes" was eager. The readers would be of my kind. As I had been in uniform in the Great War, and seen other wars before that, I should feel at home in their company. But—! "Must I pussyfoot along trying to agree with everybody? Or may I speak right out in meeting?" The answer was that I might speak out when it was my turn. If I became too obstreperous I would be called to order and sent on indefinite leave. I am calling the articles "The Things That Count." Sometimes the little things count more than the big things. "I'm not worrying about the shells so much as the blister on my foot," said a man who was coming under fire after a twelve-hour match. I mean the things that count to me. I hope that some of the things that count to me count to you. If you disagree with my views then, at least, I have stirred up thought. That starts discussion; and freedom of discussion is the first essential in a free country. It provides that not only the wise shall be heard but also the unwise as long as anybody will listen to them. George Washington and his men fought for this principle for eight years; the French fought for it in their Revolution; we had to fight for it again in 1917-18. It would be a dull Legion post in which nobody disagreed with anybody else. We must talk things over; thresh them out. The time when all real men must agree is when our country is at war, and again, when some section of our people go off their heads and have to be brought to reason.

By the things that count I do not mean just the things about the war but the things of everyday peace. Some of the "forgetters" think that a man who was in the war should be heard on no subject except the war. The trouble is that he is not heard often enough on other subjects. He is the most valuable of citizens because he has stood the blood test of citizenship. As his investment in the nation, he risked the most valuable capital there is, his life and his health, and endured hardship. He has a certificate of proved patriotic responsibility in his honorable discharge.

So the first thing that counts for every man in America, if he were young enough, is having been in uniform. The next thing is not to forget that he was. Some who were in uniform have joined the "Forget" battalions. They are strange company.

Profiteers who fattened at home want to forget the war out of which they made their illicit fortunes. All others who have a feeling that they ought to have been in uniform like to forget the source of the prod to their consciences at the sight of a service button. Women, who did not like to have that "irritating war" interfere with their social diversions, want our brave overworked army nurses to join them in the "Forget" movement.

Most unfair and most belligerent of all the promoters of the "Forget" propaganda are certain types of pacifists whose muddling ignorance masquerades as idealism. They like to have their names in the papers and buzz about making speeches. To them all the conscientious objectors—including the tramps who had no address except a haymow when the draft came—are heroes.

Their argument is that the Legion fellowship, or anything that mentions the war, builds up sentiment to bring on another war. Many former soldiers are caught by this argument. It is given the lie by every fine human attribute which has brought humanity up from cave-man brutality to civilized tenderness.

These pacifists seem to think that a veteran says to his son: "It's great sport. You'll enjoy it. We must start another war soon, so you'll have your chance at a good time." What the veteran does say to his son is something like this: "Boy, I know. We don't want another war. Help in keeping your country out of any unnecessary quarrel! But if we have war, go in or you will have something in your heart which you will always want to forget and never can forget."

To forget the late war facilitates entering another one thoughtlessly. The boy has the truth from one who knows. In the Legion we bring together the men who know. It is the greatest influence we have for keeping the United States steady and at peace.

In a time of stress in any community to whom would you turn when you wanted men who would strain together at the wheel in the disciplined training and instinct of team play? To the former soldiers who gave the blood test of common unselfish service.

But the "Forget" thought strikes deeper than that. Among other things the "Forgetters" would have us forget is that we fought to make "the world safe for democracy."

In the war, elbow to elbow, men counted as men whether rich or poor. Today Private Smith has a big automobile and talks about the heavy income tax; Sergeant Jones looks up from his desk at the bank and says he will have to call that loan; Lieutenant Robinson, with a growing family, is taking any job he can get to meet his rent and grocer's bill.

Though they were in the same company they do not see much of each other. Where should they go to feel again that elbow to elbow spirit? Where is the meeting place of democracy which safeguards the principle we fought for? The Legion Post. The Legion is the spirit of service organized to prevent war through first-hand knowledge of what war means and to keep democracy so alive in the land that we shall not have to fight for it again.

Away with the "Forgetters!" Be proud you were in uniform! Remember you still serve!

A fourteen-story hotel for negroes will be built this autumn at Atlantic City. The building is to be owned, operated and patronized exclusively by negroes. It will be of steel and reinforced concrete, and will require an estimated expenditure of $750,000.

SCHREINER ROLLER FLATTENS ST. MARY'S MUCH LIGHTER TEAM, 40-0

Visitors Put Up Game Fight to Finish But Were Outclassed by Superior Drive of Maroon and White.

The Schreiner grid roller flattened the rather light St. Mary's College eleven from San Antonio under an avalanche of points in a game at Schreiner Field last Saturday afternoon. A crowd of about 200 witnessed the Maroon and White warriors pile up their heaviest score of the season.

Ideal football weather prevailed—crisp with little wind and the skies beautifully clear. Everyone seemed to be in high spirits and the players themselves gave their best from whistle to whistle.

Schreiner worked over her initial touchdown in the first few minutes of play. After kicking to the Collegians, the Maroon and White got the pigskin on a punt. Gain after gain was made on line plays and end runs until the ball was advanced to the 25-yard line. Owens then swept around right end for the first marker and Stevens added the extra point on a drop kick.

Stevens put over the second score from the 2-yard stripe after end runs and forward passes had netted big gains. A pass for the extra point failed. Flory packed the leather over in the second period for another score, going around right end from the 11-yard line. A pass, Flory to Carmachel, from a place kick formation, completely fooled the visitors and the extra point was chalked up.

Ford got away with a long pass from the 24-yard mark and added another counter in the third. A place kick for point missed. Carmachel ran away from the whole bunch in the last quarter and scored from the 12-yard mark. Owens kicked goal from placement. Flory made the last touchdown with a line buck from the 3-yard stripe and added the point on a pretty drop kick.

Flory, as usual, was in the limelight with his good work. Jack Stevens, was in the game part of the time, but was carried off the field in the third when his ankle was injured again. Stevens plowed through the line for big gains every time he carried the ball.

Carmachel, although a little fellow and trained as a second string boss, showed good stuff at his position and added his share when gains were needed. Charlie Moore, who has been prevented from playing because of sickness, demonstrated that he is in the running for an end position by his work Saturday, and Coach Oehler intends to keep an eye on the youngster. The remainder of the team played their usual steady game and the entire squad is showing steady improvement.

McPeak was the star of the visitors. Their line, ripped to pieces by the powerful drives of the Institute backs, fought gamely to the end and seemed to get stronger during the final period.

The lineup: SCHREINER (40) ST. MARY'S (0) Dibrell Bomba Tenney Crawley Carmack Trebucco Henderson Haby Center

ALL-STARS PILE UP HEAVY SCORE ON NEW FREDERICKSBURG ELEVEN

Giants Fought Hard in Clean Game on Their Own Field Sunday Afternoon; Score Was 45 to 0.

The All-Stars journeyed over to Fredericksburg last Sunday afternoon and scalped the newly organized Fredericksburg Giants in the opening game of the season for the Giants. The score stood 45 to 0 when the last whistle tooted.

A large crowd manifested enthusiasm customary when Fredericksburg engages in sport. Kerrville was well represented on the sidelines and the best of congeniality prevailed. It was one of the cleanest games the local team has ever played.

The All-Stars kicked off and soon gained possession of the ball. Smith carried the leather over in the first three minutes of play after steady and substantial gains had worked it down field. Moore added the second marker in the same period and another in the second quarter after a sensational 30-yard run. Before this period ended Smith passed twenty yards to Flach who covered the remaining 30 yards easily with fine interference. Moore added two more touchdowns on end runs and carried over the last one on a pass from Real.

The new Fredericksburg team never showed any signs of discouragement, but fought hard and cleanly until the last whistle. Their lack of experience in the game was evident, but they have some mighty good material that ought to develop into a dangerous eleven. Combining speed with weight, some good doses of experience will tend to build them up and a closer game is to be expected when they play here Armistice Day.

It would be a difficult matter to pick out individual stars of the game, but Moore with his five touchdowns and Smith with his good playing were given a close race for top honors by their team mates. It is enough to state that every man on the team was a star and played the game with everything he had.

An interesting feature of the game was Dick Smith's touchdown. The big fullback says it's the first one he remembers making in an official contest during the ten years of more that he has been engaged in the sport. Always something has happened that kept him from carrying the leather over for a marker; another man was called to turn the trick or the ball was lost and he failed to get his chance. And Dick Flach says he made his first one Sunday, too, on the long pass. The tall fellow has been in football limelight for about four years. Both stars are products of Tivy High School.

Substitutes: All-Stars — Lochte, Henderson, Redwine, A. Saenger, Welker and Vielock. Referee, Kuesel (St. Edwards); umpire, Franklin, (Baylor); head linesman, Woods.
