CITY SCHOOLS TO OPEN NEXT MONDAY MORNING

Entire Faculty Attending Institute in San Antonio—Large Enrollment
Expected Opening Day.

The Public Schools of Kerrville Independent School District will open next Monday morning with appropriate exercises. The superintendent and entire faculty are in San Antonio this week attending the Teachers' Institute and it is impossible to get the exact outline of the opening exercises, but members of the School Board assure The Sun that a special program has been arranged for the occasion. It is anticipated that the enrollment for the school year of 1924-25 will be far in excess of that of last year. A year ago the registration on the opening day at the City buildings was 526 and the highest registration for the year was 778.

Registered scholastics for 1924-25 are 904, and it is expected that transfers will greatly increase this amount before the term is over. In anticipation of the increased attendance this year two additional teachers have been added to the faculty at Tivy.

A strong faculty has been chosen for the coming term. R. A. Franklin will again be superintendent and Guy C. Moses, principal of the high school.

High school instructors include C. F. Freeman, science and agriculture; Miss Harriet Garrett, history; Miss Blanche Moore, English; Miss Jewel Craven, domestic science; H. R. Cozart, Spanish and algebra.

Grammar school teachers include Miss Lynn Burnett, first grade; Miss Mary Sways and Jewel Craven, second grade; Miss Bessie Biehler, third grade; Miss N. Sways, fourth grade; Miss Willie Holdsworth, fifth; Mrs. R. A. Shelburne, sixth; Mrs. J. D. Rose, Mrs. R. A. Franklin and Miss Mary Holdsworth, seventh grade.

Mrs. Guy C. Moses will be in charge of the Mexican school, while Mrs. A. W. Doyle, with an assistant, will conduct the colored school.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY HONORED BY KERR COUNTY BAR ASSOCIATION

Local Attorneys Sign Resolutions
Retiring of L. J. Brucks
as District Attorney.

At the term of District Court recently closed in this city the following resolutions were adopted by the Kerr County Bar:

The State of Texas, County of Kerr. In The District Court of Kerr County, Texas, August the 20th, 1924. To the Honorable R. H. Burney, Judge of said Court:

We your committee heretofore by your Honor appointed to draft resolutions expressive of the feelings and sentiments of your Honor, the members of this bar and the other officers of this Court with regard to the approaching retirement of Honorable L. J. Brucks from the office of District Attorney of the 38th Judicial District of Texas, beg leave to report, that

Whereas, Judge Brucks has served this district, of which Kerr County is a part, most faithfully and efficiently for a period of nearly fourteen years, and has been elected to the office of District Attorney seven times in succession, without an opponent, and

Whereas, he is voluntarily retiring from the said office at the expiration of the present term and, this being the last session of this Court before his term of office expires, our opportunities to associate with him as a group, in his official capacity, will cease with the adjournment of this term of court; and

Whereas, during his long tenure of the office of District Attorney we have had the pleasure of intimate association with him and ample opportunity to form an accurate opinion of his worth and character as a man as well as an official, therefore be it

Resolved by the members of the Bar of Kerr County, Texas, in conjunction with your Honor and the other officers of this Court that it is with a feeling of regret that we contemplate the retirement of Judge Brucks from the office which he has held so long, and the consequent severance of our relations with him made possible by his official position. That during the whole of his tenure of office his bearing toward the Court, the members of the Bar, the officers of the Court and every one with whom he has been brought in contact in the performance of his duties, has uniformly been characterized by the highest degree of courtesy and consideration. That in the performance of his duties he has shown an unswerving devotion to duty, coupled with a sense of fairness to others, that have won for him the unalloyed confidence and respect of every one with whom he has been brought into relation;

Resolved further that we extend to Judge Brucks upon his retirement from office our most sincere good wishes for his happiness and prosperity in any and every relation of life, and in every field of endeavor that he may enter; and we trust that he will often renew his visits to this Court that we may have the pleasure of continuing an association that we have learned to value most highly.

Resolved that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this Court, another copy handed to

THE MOUNTAIN SUN WITH A REQUEST THAT SOME BE PUBLISHED, AND A THIRD COPY FURNISHED TO HONORABLE L. J. BRUCKS.

Respectfully submitted,
W. G. GARRETT,

COUNTY TRUCK GROWERS TO MEET MONDAY AFTERNOON

Committee Appointed to Draft Constitution and Working Plan of Organization Ready to Report.

All truck and fruit growers of Kerr County are asked to meet at the Court House in Kerrville next Monday, September 8th, at 2:30 p. m., by the committee appointed several weeks ago at a meeting of the growers held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

This committee was appointed to look into the proposition of perfecting a working organization of truck and fruit growers with a view of securing better marketing facilities for produce raised in the Hill Country and also to investigate constitutions and by-laws of similar organizations throughout the country with a view of suggesting to the next meeting of the parent body rules applicable to governing a permanent organization for furthering the industry in this county.

The committee appointed at that time consisted of J. W. Bailey, J. L. Henderson, K. Parks, L. A. Mosty and W. M. Garrett. This committee has met for consultation several times with the County Agent and have their share of the work of organization sufficiently advanced to be able to report back to the main body.

There is a big future ahead of the truck growing industry of this section of the State providing arrangements for proper marketing facilities can be made. At the previous meetings of the growers it was the consensus of opinion that only through organization of the growers themselves could this marketing be handled satisfactorily, hence the selection of the committee to draft suggested working plans.

The business men and citizens of Kerrville are willing to do all in their power to help further the best interests of the truck growers, but the only feasible organization is one of the growers themselves, so the business interests of the city can only act in an advisory capacity and leave the actual work of organization to the growers.

It is hoped that a large number of truck and fruit growers will be present next Monday afternoon at 2:30 and that from this meeting will develop a truck and fruit growers association that will mean many thousands of dollars to the Hill Country annually.

PROSPECTS BRIGHT FOR GOOD YEAR AT SCOFIELD SCHOOL

Excellent Corps of Teachers Selected; Increased Registration Anticipated by Principal.

The Scofield School will open for the 1924-25 term September 24, with prospects of an unusually good year in attendance and accomplishment. Miss Sarah Scofield, principal, announces the selection of an unusually strong faculty and the registration of a large number of young ladies for the coming term, besides scores of inquiries from others.

Mrs. Lulu Howard will be at her post again to begin her eighth year with the school. She has charge of the piano department.

Miss Travis Lipscomb of Lockhart will take the position formerly held by Miss Lulu Lipscomb, in charge of English. Another Lockhart lady, Miss M. Abel, will also assist in the school. She is a graduate of C. I. A. at Denton, where she made a specialty of the arts and crafts and is prepared to teach these subjects as well as the usual literary branches. Her work includes basketry, book binding, modeling and china painting as well as water colors, and she will open classes in any of these if there is sufficient number of pupils.

The primary department will be in charge of Mrs. J. S. Colley, formerly of Denison, who has had seven years' experience in kindergarten and primary work, including motion songs, drills, handwork, etc.

These teachers will be resident in the school and all are entering upon their work with an enthusiasm that should result in a most successful year.

During the summer vacation the school grounds have been greatly improved by clearing out much of the underbrush and low growth that had been left heretofore to protect the hillside from washing. The top now has a pretty good sod and it is thought safe to remove the underbrush, which gives an attractive, park-like appearance under the trees.

Mr. Baker and the well known and time honored "back" will no more be seen on Kerrville streets for the purpose of transporting day pupils to and from school, but he will remain with the school as caretaker. Parents in the city desiring to make arrangements for their children to get to and from school are requested to communicate with the principal, Miss Scofield.

SCHREINER FOOTBALL SQUAD TO ASSEMBLE NEXT MONDAY

About 50 Men Expected at Training
Table—Hard Schedule Ahead of Team Next Term.

Although the opening date of the school will not be until the 15th, next Monday will be a day at Schreiner Institute, for on that day all eligibles for the football squad will report for preliminary practice.

Twelve members of last year's squad will be on hand this season and in addition letters have been sent out to more than 50 men who have had one or more years of high school football experience who have at present signed up for this school year at Schreiner. With the foundation from last year's team and the large amount of material that will be available, Coaches Neely, Campbell and McMillan expect to put out a team that will clean up on everything in their class in the State.

A hard schedule is ahead of the Schreiner gridsters. Definite arrangements have been made to play the Texas Shorthorns, the A. & M. Freshmen and the Southwest State Normal Lobes from San Marcos on the Schreiner field. The University of Texas Freshmen, St. Edwards College at Austin, San Marcos Baptist Academy and Daniel Baker at Brownwood will be played away from home. Two other games remain to be arranged, to complete the schedule and these will likely be arranged with Allen Academy at Bryan and the San Antonio Academy.

Kerrville football fans will have an opportunity to see some good games at home this season. The first regular game of the schedule will be played with Daniel Baker College at Brownwood September 27, but it is planned to arrange a game, if possible, for September 20 with some good strong high school team on the local field to give the Schreiner team a good workout before leaving for Brownwood.

Up to noon Tuesday reservations were on file in the office of the Institute for 131 boarding pupils and, judging from inquiries being received, the school will be taxed to the utmost for accommodations, even with the addition of the new dormitory which has just been completed. Approximately 50 reservations have been made for college work, which is being added to the course of study this year.

Registrations at Schreiner will begin Monday, September 15, and continue through the 17. Boarding students are expected to begin coming in by the 15.

Dr. Wm. States Jacobs, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Houston, has been invited to deliver an address to the students, patrons and friends of the Institute Wednesday night, September 17. This exercise will be held at the First Presbyterian Church and the public is cordially invited to be present. Dr. Jacobs is one of the foremost platform orators of the State and Schreiner is fortunate in securing him for this occasion.

KERRVILLE TOURIST PARK POPULAR DURING AUGUST

Last Month Banner One of Season;
752 People and 188 Cars Registered at Park.

The Kerrville Tourist Park has been one of the busiest places in the Hill Country the entire summer but more so than at any other time of the present season during the month of August, according to records kept by L. S. ("Smoky") Rouff, caretaker of the camp site.

The busiest day of the present season was August 12, at which time Smoky was host to 25 cars containing in all 88 people. Some of these cars, however, did not remain over night at the park but only stopped for a few hours of rest during the heat of the day.

All told during the month of August 188 cars stopped and were registered at the park. The occupants of these cars numbered 752 people. Some of them remained only a few hours, a majority over night and numerous were the parties that stopped a day or two taking a rest and putting in their time sightseeing in the Hill Country.

So highly pleased were the visitors with The Hill Country and the accommodations at the Tourist Park that a total of 15 cars remained as paying guests. The park is now operated under a rule of 50 cents per day for each car that remains over a period of three days. One of the parties who liked the kind of hospitality Smoky was dispensing remained at the park 12 days, and the 35 paying parties more than paid the expenses of the park for the 30-day period. A majority of the tourists like the restrictions placed on the Tourist Park, for it tends to keep out the undesirable elements usually found around free parks. And besides the accommodations furnished at the local park are really worth a great deal more than

THE PRICE ASKED FOR THOSE WHO DESIRE TO REMAIN OVER THE THREE-DAY PERIOD.

Numerous compliments were paid the keeper and park by tourists, a few of which are as follows: "Enjoyed stay"; "Very pleasant"; "Nice park"; "Enjoyed showers especially"; "Attendant very courteous"; "Best tourist park we've struck yet," etc. Some of the visitors were so well pleased with the treatment accorded them that they wrote back letters to the Chamber of Commerce expressing their sentiments. One such is reproduced herewith:

"Godley, Texas, Aug. 25. Mrs. Amy Wallace, Secretary Chamber of Commerce, Kerrville, Texas. Dear Mrs. Wallace:

"I was through your city not many days ago and spent the night in your Tourist Park, with a bunch from Cleburne and Godley. We were very tired—had been traveling all day, and when we came to the park decided to spend the night. Never spent such a pleasant night while on the trip and I think it was all due to your town. Such a nice place to stay and, believe me, we sure did have a good shower bath.

"It was there I saw your name and decided to write you and thank you for the pleasant time we had.

"It was the cleanest park we stopped at. Respectfully yours,
"MYRTLE WALKER."

MOUNTAIN SUN ADDS MANY NEW SUBSCRIBERS TO LIST

Work of Paper Toward Upbuilding of Kerrville and Hill Country Appreciated by Citizens.

The editors of The Mountain Sun are indeed gratified over the fact that the subscribers of the paper and the citizens generally are signifying their approval of the efforts being put forth for the further advancement and development of the Hill Country.

This paper has taken the stand that its mission was to give its readers local news, happenings in the immediate vicinity, and items tending to tell the outside world of the advantages of this section as a health and pleasure resort.

That this position of the editors is appreciated is attested by the fact that the people generally are supporting the paper, both by advertising and by subscriptions. A glance over the pages of the paper will show that, practically without exception, Kerrville merchants are represented in the advertisements. Subscriptions continue to come in at a rapid rate, attesting that the readers also appreciate the advantages of a newspaper printed by home folks and filled with items about relatives and friends.

LONG DROUGHT BROKEN BY LOCAL SHOWERS TUESDAY

Precipitation of .90 of an Inch Breaks
Dry Spell—Last Rain Fell
June 23.

Showers that were thought to be pretty general over the Hill Country fell Tuesday morning and afternoon, breaking a drought of many weeks standing. A total of .90 of an inch fell in the two hours, one during the forenoon and the other in the afternoon. While this precipitation is not all the country needs by far, it is thought by old-timers that it means the breaking up of the dry spell and that plenty of rains will follow in a short time. A rain of .60 points was recorded last Wednesday evening.

The Hill Country raised excellent crops of grain and feed this summer and now with the assurance of winter pasturage on the range prospects are indeed bright for a prosperous year for farmers and stockmen.

The last rainfall recorded in Kerrville this year was on June 23, when 2.34 inches was recorded by the rain gauge at the Schreiner Bank.

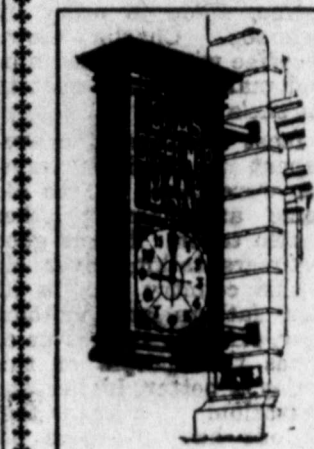

Including Tuesday's precipitation the rainfall for this year is 17.99 inches. Up to the first of September last the gauge at the bank has recorded as follows for the past five years: 1920, 21.13; 1921, 20.44; 1922, 20.09; 1923, 16.13; 1924, 17.09.

A. C. Englehardt, a linotype operator employed on the San Antonio Evening News, was a Kerrville visitor last Thursday and Friday, and favored this office with a pleasant call. Mr. Englehardt says it is too hot for comfort in San Antonio, and he just had to come out and enjoy a good night's sleep in the Hill Country.

"IT SEEMS THAT EVERY BODY wants my money," said a patron of ours the other day.

"Everywhere I go I find somebody ready to sell me things I should not buy. Some of them would cheat me if they got half a chance. Some would steal from me.

"I've been thinking about it and I have decided to keep my money—it must be pretty good stuff when so many others want it."

That man has made a fine decision. He is careful when he makes investments. He buys only what he really wants.

C. H. LEE PROPRIETOR OF KERRVILLE BAKERY

Purchases Business of C. Wolfmueller and Leases Building—Wolfmuellers to Remain Here.

A business deal was completed the past week whereby C. H. Lee assumed charge of the Kerrville Bakery Monday morning, having purchased the business and leased the building from the former owner, C. Wolfmueller.

Mr. Lee and wife have been connected with the bakery for a little over a year and are familiar, not only with the requirements of the custom of the bakery here, but of the business in general, as they have had many years experience in their chosen line. Mr. Lee states that he is going to keep the standard of quality of the products as high as Mr. Wolfmueller maintained them and if possible put out higher grade articles.

It is not the intention of Mr. Wolfmueller to leave Kerrville. He and his family are going to take a well earned rest after the hard work they have put into the bakery the past few years. Mr. Wolfmueller asks The Sun to thank the citizens of the city for their patronage in the past and asks that the new management be accorded the same liberal support that was given him. While he has retired from active business he will still be a citizen of the city and will continue to do his share toward the upbuilding of Kerrville and the Hill Country.

The Sun welcomes the new firm to the business circles of the city and is doubly grateful that the change does not take the retiring owner from the midst of the citizenship.

Over 200 People Partake of Basket Dinner Prepared by Ladies of the Eastern Star.

The ladies of Kerrville Chapter of the Eastern Star were hosts to members of the Masonic fraternity and their families at a basket supper and picnic held in the City Park last Friday evening.

Over 200 people attended the supper, and as the ladies had prepared in a bounteous manner for a much larger crowd, nobody went away hungry. While the principal piece de resistance was fried chicken, which was piled on tables in huge quantities, nobody neglected the barbecued meats provided through the generosity of Mr. and Mrs. R. Holdsworth. Some 30-odd baskets of good things to eat were brought by the ladies, each one containing, in addition to a fried chicken or two, salads, pickles, sandwiches, cakes, pies, etc.

A large delegation expected from Center Point failed to arrive as did also guests from Fredericksburg, Bandera, Junction and other nearby towns. However, the men present strived valiantly to keep any of the good eatables from spoiling, but without avail, and after all had eaten their fill, the tables apparently contained more food than when the feasting began.

The ladies were equal to solving the dilemma, however, and well filled baskets of luncheon were prepared and sent to the shut-ins and sick people of the city.

It was just an old fashioned picnic, like people used to enjoy years ago and the one Friday night was no exception to the old time standards of enjoyment.

OPENING OF RAWSON'S STORE BIG SUCCESS LAST SATURDAY

Estimated 5,000 People Visited Store
During Day—2,650 Services at Fountain in Two Hours.

Last Saturday morning, when the doors of Rawson's Drug Store were thrown open in the formal opening of their remodeled place of business, visitors were greeted by one of the most beautiful and perfectly appointed stores of this character to be found anywhere in the Southwest.

Immense crowds kept thronging the store throughout the day until closing time at night. While it was impossible to keep accurate check on the visitors, Chas. Rawson, manager of the store, places a conservative estimate of the number passing into the store during the day and night at 5,000 people, and also reports that sales for the day amounted to more than the store ever had in its history.

Rawson had advertised everything free at the new fountain between the hours of 4 and 6 p. m. and during this time a total of 2,650 services were made from this source. This does not mean that 2,650 people were served individually, as numbers of people were served more than once, especially the kiddies, many of whom received five and six ice cream cones each. The 2,650 services from the fountain served probably something like 1,500 or 1,800 people, however, which in itself bespeaks much for the

With the closing of the regular conference programs, incoming visitors at the camp have fallen off, although a few visitors continue to arrive for a few days' vacation and

THE WEEK IN SOCIETY

Club Girls Meet

Tuesday afternoon of this week a nice program was rendered at the Reservation school house by the club girls. The program was short as there were only four girls present.

A community social and canning demonstration was discussed. Plans are to have the social and demonstration at the Reservation school house, the last of this month or the first of next.

Surprise for Mrs. L. L. Rawson

Monday afternoon a number of the members of the Eastern Star and a few close friends of Mrs. Leonard Rawson gave a surprise party for her in her new home on Clay Street.

After a unique contest in which the prize was awarded to the hostess, she was presented with a number of dainty gifts for her new home.

Dainty refreshments, which had been brought in by the guests, were served. About 30 guests were present.

Wootten-Sweatt

Of interest during the past week was the simple but attractive home wedding of Virgil E. Wootten and Miss Minnie Lou Sweatt, both of Hunt. The ceremony was performed Sunday night at the home of Dr. and Mrs. F. C. Walsh.

The service was read by the Rev. E. J. Brown, before the flower-banked fireplace in the long living room. The bride wore a pretty blue canton crepe frock; the groom a conventional business suit. During the course of the evening Mrs. J. E. McCamish rendered several selections on the piano, among which were "Humoresque," "Traumerei" and Bartlett's "A Dream." Refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake were served.

The happy couple will make their home at Hunt.

The Sun joins with their many friends in extending congratulations.

Callahan-Henderson Reunion

The Callahan and Henderson families met with their old neighbors and friends at the old Callahan home on Henderson Branch, Monday of last week, August 25th, in commemoration of the pleasant hours and sweet associations with loved ones and friends in the long, long ago.

It was a joy to this visitor and writer to see loved ones, friends and old neighbors come together with love and appreciation as these good people did on this occasion. It tells me that memory still lingers and lives and warm hearts continue to beat true and faithful for those they love best; though the years have come and gone many changes have been brought to pass, but in every smile there was a picture of appreciation and a small voice unheard seemed to say: "I have not forgotten you."

Dinner was called at the opportune time and a more excellent feast was never set before King or Queen, Pope or Priest, President or Governor, Constable or Dog Catcher. The good ladies of the gathering contributed eatables that were unexcelled by woman-kind. These good eats were accompanied by barbecued goat cooked by Homer James to perfection. Then came the coffee, made to order by Charlie Henderson. Charlie knows how to make coffee with the kick in it, and tar would make a white spot in the pot when she's made.

After the feast was over the evening was spent in various ways. First pictures were taken of the old Callahan home and family; other groups were also taken. It was good to hear old timers talking over old times when this country was in its infancy—when fathers and mothers were in danger, offering their lives as stepping stones that people of this day might enjoy a better, higher and a nobler civilization. God grant that we take off our hats to these old timers and pay a tribute of respect to them who made it so for you and me.

After the enjoyment and pleasant associations of the day came the sad hour, the time for separation. The spirit of sadness that prevailed seemed to say "I can't see the good in goodbye" as each one said farewell. The guiding hand of God will never picture this scene to the world again. Some one may be called, some few may be called into eternity; then some one will look up and thank God for the memory of this day more than mortal tongue can tell.

Those present for the happy occasion were as follows: John Callahan, Soldier's Home, Kansas; Mrs. John Walker, Ingram; J. L. Lovelady, Evant; Charlie Callahan, Dryden; Fred Callahan, Lone Wolf, Okla.; Porter Callahan, Stoneington, Colo.; Mrs. L. H. Housewarming for Mrs. W. G. Garrett

Last Friday afternoon a number of the friends of Mrs. W. G. Garrett and daughters, Misses Harriet and Ruth, went to the Garrett home with gifts of remembrance for them. Some of the guests brought beautiful flowers and decorated the house; others brought dainty refreshments which were served.

When all the guests had arrived little Earl Garrett brought a telegram to his grandmother. His message told her that a package was awaiting her at the Express office. Two men came in carrying a beautiful day-bed. One of this was an enormous box, filled with lovely gifts for the new home.

After an informal musical program the guests were shown through the house and then were served ice cream and cake. About 50 friends of the family were present.

LYNCH DAVIDSON'S HAT IN 1926 RING

New York, Sept. 3.—Lynch Davidson, former Lieutenant Governor of Texas, announced on the liner Benegaria just before he sailed for Europe today, that he would be a candidate for Governor of Texas in 1926.

Commenting on the recent primaries in the Lone Star State, Mr. Davidson said: "I do not regard the result as a 'Ma' Ferguson victory, but is an anti-Klan victory."

Mr. Davidson was accompanied by his daughter, Kathryn.

SKUNK RESPONSIBLE FOR ODOR OF "GAS"

San Antonio Light, September 3: Residents at 126 Caldwell Street thought they were being attacked with gas bombs, the weapon most recently adopted by robbers, when they awakened almost suffocated at 3 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Police were notified but before they arrived people living in the house investigated and found that a skunk under the house was the source of the "gas" and their fright.

Ruth's Grandad Dies in Oklahoma

Fort Smith, Ark., Sept. 3.—The Rev. W. G. Ruth, 73, of Sallisaw, Okla., grandfather of Babe Ruth, baseball's home-run monarch, died at his family home early today, according to work received here.

Babe Ruth visited his grandfather three years ago while the Yankees were on their spring training trip in the Southwest.

Good Roads Are Worth Their Cost

North Carolina Highway Bulletin: The highway is not simply a road. It is not simply a surface. It is the assurance of the civilizing influence of better communication between sections.

It is the silent, but persistent, factor for the reduction of living costs. It is an humble, but powerful foe of ignorance for the reason that it makes easily accessible our splendid system of public schools to the people in the rural districts.

It is the safeguard of our food supply. It is a guarantee to the public against the prostrating influence of industrial upheaval and interruption to distribution therefrom.

It is the popular open-air theater of enjoyment of the family.

It is the text book of nature to our people.

It is the connecting link between the home and the factory.

It is the call to open air; the great physician who makes no charges for his services.

The people who are opposed to good roads oppose them for the same reason that some people oppose our great public school system; they are not informed.

ANNOUNCEMENT!

I wish to announce to the public that I have purchased the Kerrville Bakery from C. Wolfmueller and will conduct the business at the same location, having also leased the buildings. I am not a stranger to the bakery custom in this city, as I have been associated with Mr. Wolfmueller for over a year. Consequently your wants will be taken care of the same as in the past, the only change being a higher grade of bread and pastry if such a thing is possible.

I will personally superintend the baking end of the business, while Mrs. Lee will have charge of the sales room. Any complaint you may have to make or any suggestion whereby we may increase our usefulness to the community will be gratefully received by either of us.

To the Housewives of Kerrville: If you have any suggestions of ways in which we can increase the quality of our bread and pastry or can suggest any line which we are not now carrying, we will appreciate your sending in recipes.

Yours for service,

KERRVILLE BAKERY

Better Grain Yields from the Same Fields

No seed is wasted; no ground left unseeded; seed furrows are made, seed dropped and covered all in one operation—you can increase your yield per acre and save labor by using a

JOHN DEERE VAN BRUNT GRAIN DRILL

(Does especially good work in spring-wheat seeding)

This drill has a patented adjustable gate, force-feed that successfully handles any size seed from alfalfa to bearded oats without choking.

The force-feed compels the seed to leave the grain box in even, continuous streams, and the metal seed tubes and closed delivery protect seed until it reaches the bottom of the furrows. Adjustable pressure springs enable you to force all discs to cut furrows of equal depth.

These are reasons why a field planted with a Van Brunt Drill makes such a pleasing appearance to the eye—and why it adds extra money to your bank account. All of the grain is ready for harvest at one time. There are no bare spots in the field, and you can feel absolutely sure that no seed is wasted in planting.

Come in and let us show you how easy it is to regulate the flow of seed—simply moving a lever regulates the quantity sown, and an equal amount is placed in each furrow.

KLAN TRAITOROUS BODY PLATFORM DRAFT ASSERTS
Austin, Tex., Sept. 2.—The State Democratic platform denounces the Klan as follows:
"The Democratic party of Texas in convention assembled, boldly, emphatically and without reservation, condemns and denounces what is known as the Invisible Empire and the Ku Klux Klan as an un-Democratic and un-Christian and un-American organization. We brand its activities in politics and elsewhere as treason against the State and Nation and treason against the fundamental principles upon which the Government was founded. We call upon those who have joined this dangerous order, through mistake as to its real purposes, to withdraw from it and lend their aid to free this country from the strife and trouble which this secret and insidious clique has aroused."

Intimation of the above action at the hands of the State Convention is contained in the following editorials clipped from exchanges dated last week. Some of these articles were written by men who opposed Mrs. Ferguson before the run-off primary, but who are above all else Democrats and working for the best interests of the State. Special attention is called to the editorial by A. G. Hardin, editor of the Fort Towson, (Oklahoma) News, who is a native Texan and a brother of H. I. Hardin of the Sherman's Mill community and the Hardin Bros. of Hunt. While The News is only a small weekly, Mr. Hardin is recognized as one of the leading newspaper men and editorial writers of Southern Oklahoma, and his views on public questions are given careful consideration. The Sun presents these editorials to its readers with the belief that the thoughts contained therein expresses the general public sentiment of the people:

THE ELECTION

San Marcos Record: The election is over. We made the best fight we could for what we believed to be the best interest of our State. We lost. Had we won we would have been responsible, as far as our influence and vote was concerned, for the success or failure of the administration of the man whom we helped to elect Governor. As it is, those who supported Mrs. Ferguson are responsible. We indeed hope that she will be able to steer the Ship of State through the turbulent waters safely with sails and rudder unbroken. If her election is for the best interest of our State Government and the welfare of the people at large, then we are glad she is elected. The people have spoken and in this great Democratic State of Texas we have a way of submitting to the will of the majority, or some of us do, and it is our intention to follow this rule in the present campaign. Regardless of the fact that Mr. Ferguson has not supported the Democratic ticket in the past ten years unless he was himself the nominee, we shall not follow his example. Our advice is to vote the ticket so long as we shall have the present form of elections. It is the Democratic policy and principle and let us not bolt the ticket because somebody else has set the example, because if it was wrong for the other fellow to bolt, it would be just as wrong for us to do so. Let us be good losers. We have seen enough of the other kind lately.

Uvalde Ledger-News: One of our good friends told us the other day that we were wrong in fighting Robertson, but as he had known us for seventeen years and we had always been as he thought on the right side of public issues, he could overlook our mistake this time. This was before the election. It may be that seeing the majority that look at this matter just as we do we hope that our friend will not think we were so far from wrong after all. However, we like his attitude. Such men as this would never cause trouble. The right of political freedom is one of the cardinal points in our democracy and to seek to boycott or to slander the voter because he or she votes or differs with you on questions of politics is to brand yourself as against the very principles upon which America was founded. Free speech and political freedom should be safeguarded and those who are too narrow or prejudiced to grant these liberties should seek some climate, if any there be, where kings and emperors hold full sway over their willing serfs.

PASSING OF THE KU KLUX KLAN

Fort Towson (Oklahoma) News: Recent verdicts rendered by the people of at least five different States, in their elections, together with the expressions from many of our leading statesmen, tell plainer than can be expressed in words, what people think of Ku Klux Klan and its workings after two or three years' observation of the Invisible Empire and its modus operandi.
Within the past three or four weeks, the States of Ohio, Tennessee, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas, through their sovereign yeomanry have gone to the mat in a ballot battle with the Grand Dragons of the Invisible Empire, and in each case said Dragon came out of the battle minus his tail feathers, his pomp, his power and ego gone, with victory perched on the banners of the sturdy citizenship.

But it is with the recent fights in Texas and Oklahoma that we intend to deal. The defeat of the Klan in these States is all the more significant because of the fact of the tremendous odds which had to be gone up against with Jack Walton of Oklahoma and the Fergusons of Texas. Their almost universal unpopularity in the Democratic ranks, made the task double heavy and drove many thousands of voters into the camps of the Ku Klux Klan who otherwise would not have voted with the Klan and for the Klan candidates. We believe that no one will dispute this statement.

We believe that it is perfectly safe to say that without the Klan issue, Jack Walton could not have polled over 25,000 votes in Oklahoma and that the Fergusons could not have gotten more than 125,000 in Texas. It is sheer nonsense for any one to argue that Jack Walton was nominated by the Bolshevistic element; it is worse than tommy-rot to say that Ferguson was nominated by the whiskey element of the great Lone Star State. The facts are, as a study of the races will show, that the cleanest part of both States were carried by Walton and Ferguson. This was particularly true in the "run-off" in Texas. If you are acquainted with Texas history, and will take the trouble to study the returns by counties you will see that Ferguson carried overwhelmingly, the larger portion of the driest counties in the State. Numbers of counties went for Ferguson that have been 90 per cent dry for the past 25 years.

The real reason—the only reason for the come-back of both Walton and Ferguson can only be traced to the Ku Klux Klan issue. People are tired of the attempted domination of Southern Democracy by a secret empire, controlled by grand dragons, wizards, hydras and goblins, and we take it that even Mr. Evans of Atlanta will not fail to understand just what the overwhelming majority of Texas people think of him and his fast decaying secret empire.

The people of Texas have won a victory greater than any since the Battle of San Jacinto, and can now again hold up their heads, look the world squarely in the face and say that they stand for the things vouchsafed to them in the Constitution of the United States and of the State of Texas—the Bill of Rights, the right of trial by jury and the privilege to worship God according to the dictates of one's own conscience.

VISIBLE GOVERNMENT TRIUMPHANT

Coleman Democrat-Voice: The Democratic voters of Texas, by their spoken voice and visible presence at the ballot box, have overwhelmingly repudiated the Ku Klux Klan to secretly dominate the party and dictate its nominees. "The election was Texas' second Declaration of Independence," declares one who is prominent in the councils of the Democratic party of this State.

The result of the election should serve to hasten the dissolution of a secret oath-bound political party seeking to gain control of the government—a secret party composed of doubtful elements, whose tenets are based on religious bigotry, intolerance and hate—and whose secret weapon is boycott and terrorism in the form of fantastic hooded dragons, cyclops, titans, furies, and the like.

The Ku Klux Klan, operating in Texas and in our own community has, by its secret campaign of hate and boycott, divided churches and lodges and estranged families and neighbors. The decent men who have lent their misguided influence to the propagation of the Klan oligarchy in Texas should get out of it—if they are not already out—and reinstate themselves with the democratic forces of society and government who uphold the guaranties of the Constitution and who believe with the lamented Woodrow Wilson in "open covenants openly arrived at" instead of the edicts of grand dragons issued to their political vassals from the dark of river bottoms or butcher pasture courts.

A citizen of Texas, prominent in the councils of the Democratic party, comments on the result of the recent Texas election as follows:

"It was the most important election in the history of this great State, because it was a contest between organized Government and an invisible empire, seeking to control our lives with a hidden hand dominated by star chamber proceedings.
"Everything in the Bill of Rights was at stake, and Texas gloriously vindicated her name. She knew that the eyes of the rest of the Nation and of the world were upon her and she gave a lesson to encourage all men and women who stand for constitutional government.
"I now look for the Democratic party to reorganize at Austin and write a Constitution that will revitalize the great principles of our history."

TEXAS HAS MATERIAL FOR AN ADVANCED EXPERIMENT

The San Antonio Light: Conceding that the general election in November will be but a confirmation of the Democratic party's choice for Governor of Texas, the Lone Star Commonwealth will acknowledge a woman as its highest administrative officer for the next two years. The electorate of Texas is the first to allow a hand that has reeked the cradle to steer the Ship of State.

For the first advanced experiment in the full participation of woman in the affairs of government, the electorate of Texas has chosen a mother and a housewife whose prior jurisdiction and activities in an immediate sense were confined to the boundaries of her home.

She is not a club woman. She has not been formally allied with those who have been practicing at government and statecraft. She is apparently not adept at forensic display and parliamentary procedure. Hence she is not likely to be bound by the traditions that would tug at those who could walk with more practiced tread in the political arena.

Having in her veins the blood of ancestors and precedents who have the highborn spirit if not the titles of nobility, the weight of the crown of wifehood and motherhood has never bowed her head. Within her own domain she ruled supreme.

That might be deduced from an incident when her husband, "Jim," was Governor of Texas. Breaking a precedent long established she refused to allow wine to be served at the Governor's mansion. "Jim" was Governor of Texas but she was governor of the Governor's mansion.

counsel. She exercised the prerogative of a wife to advise and it is to be presumed that her husband will likewise exercise his prerogative.

By the irony of fate a woman of the type that was held up as the ideal by the opponents of equal suffrage, a home-loving, faithful wife with the maternal instinct dominant, is the one selected as the culmination of equal suffrage.

Because of these things, because Texas is about to enter into an experiment with material not heretofore recognized as being for statecraft, the eyes of the world are on the Lone Star State and will be on it for the next two years.

Without any thought of disparagement, one might believe that if a woman who had been active in politics and public movements, who knows more of parliamentary procedure than housekeeping, who is more at home before an audience than before a hearth, had been named to guide the destinies of this State, the experiment would have lost much of its value.

Women of the latter type have wielded the sceptre before. But there has been no commonwealth that has had as the leader, a woman, primarily of the home, and one who excels in domestic arts.

Miriam A. Ferguson, who is known to the people by that familiar yet respectful appellation, "Ma," is identified as a woman not of the type which fans the flames of antagonism in men and other women. From the masculine point of view she has not failed in woman's "sphere"; from the feminine point of view she is not a busybody—frequently a characteristic of a matron who enters public life.

There is no gainsaying the fact that her nomination by the Democrats of Texas was not the result of an overwhelming desire to place on a woman's shoulders a mantle that from time immemorial, has been considered as belonging almost exclusively in the wardrobe of man. There were many factors that entered in the primary election and the subsequent run-off.

Unquestionably, Texas is an ideal State in which to conduct the greatest experiment in the evolution of equal suffrage, and Texas has, undoubtedly the nearest ideal material with which to work. Men of Texas, by heritage and environment, represent the essence of those qualities we associate invariably with masculinity. There is an instinctive antipathy for the effeminate man and the masculine woman.

Thus for the first time in history of any commonwealth, a woman who is essentially feminine, whose qualities are those of a mother and a wife, has been selected to lead a citizenship of manly men and womanly women—for womanly women thrive where men are men.

No fairer test of woman's ability to govern can be offered than the one that is to be conducted in Texas during the next two years.

THE KLAN AS A BLIGHT

New York Sun: Everywhere the Klan purports to stand for decency, law-enforcement and Americanism. Yet everywhere that it has injected itself into politics it has either been roughly thrown out by the electorate or has put decent government in peril. In Ohio the Klan-indorsed candidate, Sieber, ran a bad second in a field of eight men dividing the anti-Klan vote. In Arkansas the anti-Klan candidate, T. J. Terral, won by a majority over the Klan candidate, Cazort, which scathingly rebuked the Klan's interference. The Klan in the rock-bound Republican State of Maine has put the Republican candidate for Governor, Ralph O. Brewster, in grave peril of defeat by indorsing him. Walton's victory in Oklahoma and Mrs. Ferguson's impressive campaign in Texas are evidence of the vigor with which thinking American citizens rise against a secret organization exploiting race prejudice. Nowhere can the eight men dividing the anti-Klan vote. In Arkansas the anti-Klan candidate, T. J. Terral, won by a majority over the Klan candidate, Cazort, which has brought humiliation on those who stand for reputable politics.

"Whenever any organization, no matter what it chooses to be called, whether Ku Klux Klan or any other name, raises the standard of racial and religious beliefs as a test of fitness for public office, it does violence to the spirit of American institutions and must be condemned by all those who believe as I do in American ideals."—John W. Davis, Democratic candidate for President in speech at Seagirt, N. J.

CATHOLIC CHURCH NOTES

By Father Kemper

NOTRE DAME REOPENED

On Tuesday of this week classes were resumed at Notre Dame Institute as if there had been no summer recess. Everything was in full blast, according to the slogan: Well begun is half done. The formal commencement took place in the chapel under the invocation of the Spirit of Truth and Seat of Wisdom. Divine Providence has thus far blessed our work most bountifully despite many disheartening and unnecessary obstacles from within and without that tested our worth, as gold is tried in the fire. Thanks to the splendid encouragement given by the vast majority of citizens, our self-sacrificing Sisters are always glad to come back to Kerrville and serve this community in their heroic vocation.

The reopening of school necessitates an alteration in the daily program. The Angelus bell will ring at 6:30 a. m. instead of 7 o'clock; and the chapel exercises will take place at 7:35 a. m. Class work begins at 9 a. m. irrespective of religious affiliations. We feel rejoiced over so many non-Catholic applications, and we will try to serve as many of our fellow-citizens as our accommodations will allow, but we must adhere to our principle of not over-crowding any of the rooms, and to our open policy of mutual co-operation with all the other schools.

The music conservatory is starting off under better auspices than ever before. This is largely due to the indefatigable energy displayed by the last instructor, who also enriched her department with a premier grand piano. Another advertisement was the rare ability manifested by Miss Wilhelmina Mosel in her graduation recital.

Golden Jubilee Sunday
Next Sunday will be the fiftieth anniversary of the canonical erection of the San Antonio diocese. The jubilee will be commemorated in St. Mary's Church at the services scheduled for 9:30 a. m. The principal celebration will take place in the formal opening of the quarter million St. Mary's Church building, for which occasion Prof. Steinfeld has composed the "Missa Maria Immaculata." Miss Wilhelmina Mosel, our former organist, and her two sisters belong to this choir. Part of our present altar is a memorial of the original St. Mary's Church in San Antonio.

Tomorrow the First Friday devotions for the month of September will be held in the Convent Chapel at 7:35 a. m.

Tuesday of last week Mrs. Sista Perez Ramo was buried from the Guadalupe Church. A large procession of sorrowful friends accompanied the corpse to the cemetery. A very touching farewell chant was sung in Spanish by the Guadalupe choir. The deceased had reached the age of 41 and left behind a sister and two daughters.

Last Sunday Ezechiele Cabazos was baptized in the Mexican chapel. A few days previously, Gloria Lopez received the sacrament of regeneration in St. Mary's Church. At Comfort, on Thursday of last week, Mary Aguilar was christened.

CONTRACT IS LET ON REAL COUNTY ROAD

Edwards County Leader, Aug. 29: As advertised the bids were opened at Leakey Tuesday on building 18 miles of the Rock Springs-Kerrville Highway across the north part of Real County. Mason Johnson, local engineer, informs The Leader that the Bart Moore Construction Company of Waco was awarded the contract, their bid being $84,500. This is for grading the road and for building drainage structures.

It develops that there is still insufficient funds available to complete this piece of the work. The top surfacing is to be put on when the Highway Department has a new supply of road funds, possibly by the time the grading and drainage structures are completed.

Douglas Pope, the Kimble County resident engineer, under W. E. Simpson, will have charge of the engineering work on the Real Highway.

Sick Headache

"I have used Black-Draught when needed for the past 25 years," says Mrs. Emma Grimes, of Forbes, Mo. "I began taking it for a bad case of constipation. I would get constipated and feel just miserable—sluggish, tired, a bad taste in my mouth, . . . and soon my head would begin hurting and I would have a severe sick headache. I don't know just who started me to taking but it did the work. It just seemed to cleanse the liver. Very soon I felt like new. When I found Black-Draught so easy to take and easy-acting, I began to use it in time and would not have sick headaches." Constipation causes the system to re-absorb poisons that may cause great pain and much danger to your health. Take Theford's Black-Draught. It will stimulate the liver and help to drive out the poisons. Sold by all dealers. Costs only one cent a dose. E-104

CHRISTIAN CHURCH NOTES

By Member

Last Sunday was a red letter day at the Christian Church, as we had the great pleasure of hearing two splendid sermons preached by the Rev. P. E. Hawkins, of Holland. Brother Hawkins, we may say, is one of the preachers we have in mind as a permanent pastor. However, we are not sure we are going to be able to secure his services. We believe every one who heard him was impressed by the wonderful way in which he delivered those messages to us.

His morning sermon was a lesson in church work or on Christian duty, being put to us in a new and unique way. He compared the church to the honey bee colony. First, each colony of bees must have a queen that he compared to the Bible, as we all know the Bible is our guide and leader; second, the two classes of the bees known to us as the workers and the drones, he made its very plain that we have that same condition in the members of the church, some of us being willing "workers" and some are "drones," and third, he explained to us that while the working bees separate the drones, or eject them from the homes, so will we, in the judgment day, be separated—the drones cast out by the Almighty Judge, Who knows our every deed. Let us thank God that He gave us the right to choose, not like the bee for he cannot change from a "drone" to a "worker," but we have the right to make of ourselves what we choose; so let us not be drones, let us each and every one, do our little bit for we have each one a mission like the little bee.

The evening services were well attended and Brother Hawkins gave us another lesson on prayer and Christian duty. We are glad to say we had one new addition to the church, and we are quite sure there are others who will join us soon.

Sunday School was well attended. An interesting lesson on the "Teachings of Jesus" was the wonderful lesson for the service. The Bible Class was taught by Major S. E. Bomar, and Brother Hawkins was a great help in this service, also.

The young people are doing some splendid work now and we are glad to announce that they will be the honor guest to another social, to be given by the defeated classes, as they win again in attendance for the month of August. Good for you, boys and girls, do it again, will you? We also had a treat in our Sunday School as the little Miss Adele Smith and Master George Elder sang a sweet little song, which was delivered in the sweetest kind of a way. We wish to urge every member, also everyone who isn't a member, to come out to Sunday School next Sunday. You don't know what you are missing if you don't come. We will announce the social later, as it has not been fully arranged as yet.

Prayer meeting was rained out for last Wednesday, but we are still having our meetings as usual when it does not rain, and much good is being done at these meetings. We urge everyone to come out whether you are a member of this church or not. Come along and join us in this work. We are expecting Brother Hawkins to visit us again soon, but cannot as yet announce the date. Remember Sunday School at 9:45 each Sunday morning, prayer meeting 8 p. m. each Wednesday. Every one invited.

San Antonio Express, Sept. 2.—San Antonio delegates to the National convention of the American Legion, which convenes in St. Paul, Minn., September 16, will urge passage of a resolution which will urge the Government to purchase the Veterans' Hospital at Kerrville. The Texas delegation will take along the "Old Gray Mare," official mascot of Lone Star Legionnaires on many convention trips. A file and drum corps of cowboys will be along, also.

DANGERS OF A COLD

Kerrville People Will Do Well to Heed Them
Many bad cases of kidney trouble result from a cold or chill. Congested kidneys fall behind in filtering the poison-laden blood and backache, headache, dizziness and disordered kidney action follow. Don't neglect a cold. Use Doan's Pills at the first sign of kidney trouble. Follow this Kerrville resident's example:

Frank Michon, City Marshall, Broadway, says: "My kidneys were out of order and every time I got wet or took cold it settled on my kidneys. I had a soreness and a dull ache in the small of my back that worried me, and my kidneys didn't act right. I used Doan's Pills bought at the Rock Pharmacy and they soon fixed me up in good shape, the backaches left and my kidneys were regulated."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mr. Michon had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. (Advertisement)

EPISCOPAL CHURCH NOTES

We were all extremely sorry to say farewell to the Rev. A. Houston and his charming family last Sunday. Their stay here has been most pleasant, as well as beneficial to our parish. Although it was vacation time for Dr. Houston, he did not show any sign of it in his scholarly sermons, which always gave evidence of the work expended on them.

Last Sunday he took for his text the following words from the book of Ezra: "The old people wept and the young people shouted for joy," when they laid the foundations of the Temple. He said the old people wept thinking of the glories of the old Temple, the tendency of some of the older generation being to think that everything was better in their young days, the young rejoice in the present; both are needed, the eager joyfulness of youth—for progress; the cautiousness of age—for steadiness. Where would we be if our cars had nothing but accelerators, or if they were all brakes? So, with the present religious problems, which by different names have always been and will continue to be with us.

The conservatism and steadiness of the Fundamentalists and the radicalism of the Modernists, both parties seeking after fuller light and truth, are to quote Dr. Faunce, "like wings"; both are needed for the maintenance of balance and progress. Let us remember there is room for and need of thought in the Church, the only requisite being live loyalty and sincerity.

The Rev. Chas. Cook will be with us next Sunday and will have a celebration of Holy Communion and preach at the 11 o'clock service.

DOES NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING PAY?

Thomas K. Kelly, Owner of The J. K. Kelly Sales System, Boosts Publicly in Talk Before the Cotton States Merchants' Association at Memphis, Tenn., August 28.

A few weeks before my fortieth birthday, which was several years ago, my wife handed me a good-sized bunch of letters one morning, the letters being addressed and stamped, suggesting that I drop them on my way to my railroad that morning, as it happened to be raining, so I slipped the letters in the pocket of the coat, and, upon arriving at the office, I placed the coat in my locker, and forgot all about the letters. I did not wear that same coat again for several weeks, and that's where my trouble started.

Those letters happened to be invitations to my fortieth birthday party. The evening of the party came, the stage was all set. The dinner was supposed to be at 8 P. M., and nobody but my friends failed to arrive, then, lo and behold, my wife said to me, "Do you recall a morning some few weeks ago when I gave you those letters to mail? They were the invitations to your party." Immediately the thought struck me, "By golly, those letters are in the pocket of my raincoat at the office."

That incident reminds me of an old friend of mine who was in to see me the other day. He told me about a motor trip he had taken, driving from Memphis to both not to be on a Saturday. He visited several towns, and he remarked to me, "Do you know there were about two chain stores in each one of the towns I went through, and they were the only stores that were busy—the other stores did not appear to be doing much of anything." That caused him to investigate, just as a matter of curiosity, so he asked him the names of the towns he passed through. To his surprise, the names in each of the towns, inquired that they send me their papers of Thursday and Friday, two days before the Saturday when my friend called at these stores. Upon receipt of these newspapers, I found that in four out of five papers, all the store advertising that had been done was by the chain stores. That solved the problem.

The retail merchants in the towns where my friend visited had failed to advertise in the newspapers, inviting the public to their store that Saturday afternoon, did not seem to be receiving an invitation, did not seem to be receiving effective ads, attractive in style and cheap full of common sense, and, naturally, that is where they went.

So the stores that failed to receive their friends were like my birthday party—the crowd didn't come. I venture to say in all the failures of retail merchants the last three years not 20 per cent of these same merchants advertised religiously in newspapers, whereas, if they had, their investment in newspaper advertising would have brought sufficient trade to prevent a great amount of their losses.

The total newspaper advertising of 122 daily newspapers in 28 principal cities of the United States in the year 1923 of the Grand Total was a gain of $2,651,600 lines over the previous year.

We are not handicapped today in unfolding our business the same as our forefathers were, who were compelled to depend chiefly upon personal exploitation of the individual, for the circulation in those days was very small.

First of all the newspaper has circulation. A single newspaper will often cover from 60 to 80 per cent of the homes in its territory. Advertising space in that paper will give a much greater return per dollar spent than will any other form of advertising on which postage is spent.

Second, people are accustomed to reading the newspaper. It is not difficult to get their attention, as in the case of the circular letter, the booklet and other forms of direct by mail advertising.

Third, and best of all, it is timely. The advertiser is able to appeal to his audience by frequent advertisements. So we are led to believe that even criticisms about us in the columns of newspapers is good advertising, and that the fall merchant, the miner, the stock raiser, the farmer, the housewife, has got to start figuring on the advertising that is going to do it.

Advertising certainly has many sides. It can scream, talk, or whisper. It can attract the eye or bedazzle it. It can be an interesting story, or uninteresting puff. There are just as many kinds of advertising as there are things to advertise. There is the sincere kind that breathes honesty and truthfulness, and which carries the reader right through to the end of the advertisement. It is "the kind of advertising that counts."

I am just trying to attract attention; I don't mean what I say, and I don't intend to make good on the extravagant claims I am talking about.

Newspapers, however, are not in the habit of publishing misleading advertising, and for that reason the public has unlimited confidence in newspaper advertising.

The retail merchants who will figure on spending two per cent of his gross receipts for advertising and one-half of one per cent for direct mail advertising, such as letters, post cards, etc., are as if he were talking to his customers when they come in his store, there would be no need to complain about quiet trade. You may say, "How can I educate myself to write advertising?" I know many successful merchants who have gained their advertising education through reading and studying the good trade publications which publish splendid articles in every issue. No one can prepare advertising for the goods you own and offer for sale as good as yourself. The merchant is no longer a man in a hole, and he can, by putting his feet on the ground, experience dull trade.

Like the bathing suit manufacturer a short time ago who originated a picture of a beautiful young lady wearing a bathing suit. He had an actual photograph done in colors and it was so unique and attractive that I have noticed thousands of these ads pasted on outdoor washstands.

On the other hand, the advertiser who has been in business for forty years has the happy faculty of getting a lot of free advertising in his local papers. Upon his visit to the New York markets twice yearly he writes letters to the two newspapers of his town, telling about New York. He explains that the various improvements there that he has taken place since his last visit—he tells about the merchandise market, he even goes so far as to give a brief history of the extravagant, as well as the conservative, in his New York life. Hundreds of families in his territory look forward to reading his letters. You must capitalize upon everything pertaining to your business in order to get the public excited about your store.

Department stores in the large cities today never neglect to have their buyers, who go to foreign countries, send thousands of letters to their customers and prospective customers, telling them of the active purchases, filling and the active purchases they have made of foreign goods. I have received many letters of large Minneapolis stores mailed from Paris, London, and other European points. They tell what time their goods will arrive in this country, they explain about the new unique styles, fabrics and values. I am a great believer in taking my newspaper as a partner in my business. Every newspaper has hundreds of ideas that are workable and profitable that are only too glad to pass on to retail merchants—a newspaper is a clearing house of ideas especially pertaining to retail business and I sometime wonder if we try to get as close to our newspaper as we ought to, as they would like to be with us. If you are interested in your newspaper they will be interested in you, and if you follow up your advertising with attractive window displays, combining that with training your clerks in keeping up your direct by mail advertising, such as sending out a letter or post card monthly, you will find that your newspaper ads have greater pulling power than if you depended on it alone to sell your merchandise. Take, for instance, the manufacturer, wholesaler or jobber who backs up his salesmen with newspaper advertising and direct mail advertising. Practically 75 per cent of the salesman's work is already done, when he goes to call upon a prospective customer, through the advertising that has already preceded him, the prospective customer already having a very good idea of the merchandise through the advertising. The crying need of today is more advertising. No better illustration can I cite of the effectiveness of advertising than the case of Barker Bros., retail furniture dealers in Los Angeles. A few years ago they sold $700,000 worth of furniture in their store, and through expanding their advertising investment, Barker Bros. last year sold 16 million dollars worth of furniture. I should think we would all take inventory of ourselves when confronted with actual instances like the above and note what Henry Ford has done the past year through advertising. Up to this year Henry Ford has done very little advertising, but, being far-sighted, he sold himself the idea that in 1924, and perhaps he had in mind not only 1924, but every year afterwards, he was going to invest a substantial amount of his gross receipts for advertising, and his appropriation for 1924 was seven million dollars. Within the past six months I have visited the Ford factories half a dozen times through some business dealings I had with this big firm, and I can assure you, ladies and gentlemen, that there has been no unemployment in the two Ford factories in Detroit—they have been running full capacity, three eight-hour shifts, steadily employing over 160,000 people besides the thousands they are employing in their other large plants all over the country. Henry Ford has experienced a situation which makes it highly desirable to advertise. Perhaps he foresaw the present slump, which has appeared to hit the motor concerns with special velocity. Perhaps he judged the time ripe solely because of the present restless attitude of the people and the fact that our Federal Government has declared an open season for swatting big business. At any rate, for some six months now the Ford Motor Company has been displaying itself in the publications of the country, in newspapers large and small, in class periodicals, in farm papers, in general magazines, in street cars, in outdoor positions, and in many other forms of advertising. With my brokerage business, we appointed a million dollars for advertising this year, and we are like the National Cash Register Company, who claim that they had the biggest business in all their business career during May of this year, and you know how difficult it is to sell cash registers. In an article I read the other day I noticed also that 400,000 Ford cars were sold during the months of May and June of this year and only a short time ago he started on his second ten million cars. What is the Standard Oil Company doing? Their advertising appears religiously in about every newspaper in the United States. They bring home right to our very doors the fact that it does not necessarily take money to do business—using your brains and thinking is what counts.

DOES NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING PAY?

rattler about 8 inches long appeared out of the hole. He killed it. Another followed and was killed by Mr. Brown. Twenty more came and all were killed. He dug deeper and uncovered the mother snake. He took no chances with her and used a shot gun to kill her. She had 12 rattles.

Mr. Brown says a litter of snakes, he understands, is 44, but he is hopeful Bill got them all. The rattle call of the mother snake is what brought them from their hiding place. She may have sounded a retreat alarm after 22 of her babies met death. He says that had the young snakes been above ground when the mother snake felt they were in danger she would have opened her mouth and they would all run down her throat and remained there until the danger had passed.

Rattlesnake Bites

California Cultivator: Every camper and hiker should know what to do in case he should be bitten by a poisonous snake. Every camper should carry with him a very sharp knife, razor or safety-razor blade, a small bottle of permanganate of potash crystals and a few heavy rubber bands. These articles constitute the best standard snake-bite equipment. Whiskey, in large quantities particularly, is of no use as a remedy and may be very harmful, popular opinion to the contrary notwithstanding. When a person is bitten by a poisonous snake, he should first of all place one or more of the heavy rubber bands very tightly around the injured member and above the wound. In no case, however, should the band be left longer than twenty minutes. After the band is in place, two incisions at least an inch long should be made at right angles, directly across the bite. These incisions should be deeper than the penetration of the snake fangs. The wound should be bled thoroughly, suction by mouth being applied if it will aid bleeding. The wound should then be washed thoroughly in a solution of permanganate of potash, using a sufficient amount of the crystals in water to make a dark wine color solution. If no water is available, the crystals may be rubbed directly into the wound, but it is better to use a solution. This chemical destroys all snake venom with which it comes in contact. Removal of the rubber band should not be forgotten, the victim should be taken to a physician, if possible, in order that necessary stimulants may be administered and proper antiseptic dressings applied to the wound. A rattlesnake coiled to spring upon his victim, is able to throw his body forward many feet. For this reason, distance lends great enchantment when a rattlesnake occupies the immediate foreground.

Edham KOLORED SHINGLES.

WHEN YOU BUILD your home, you want it to be substantial, useful and beautiful. You want it to possess character—express picturesqueness, dignity, elegance, and, most important of all, simplicity or homeliness.

FREE BOOK

Send your name and address direct to the Edgcombe - Newham Co. Limited, Vancouver, B. C. They will gladly send you an interesting and instructive booklet, "The 50-Year Roof," FREE. It is illustrated with photographs of beautiful homes.

As a result the pleasing lines of the British Columbia Red Cedar Shingle roof and side-walls have become a characteristic of modern architecture. No other material affords the home-builder the same permanency—the same pleasing exterior—at an equally moderate price. Certainly no other building material is so readily adaptable to any and all styles of architecture.

To enable the home-builder to retain the harmonious lines of the "wooden shingle, yet secure lasting colors that blend with lawn, shrubs and flowers, the Edgcombe-Newham Co. Limited have produced the EDHAM KOLORED SHINGLE. The natural shingles are taken direct from the dry-kilns, which are operated in connection with their mill, to the staining vats. The shingles are still warm and thoroughly dry—the pores of the wood open and receptive to color pigments. Stain prepared from the strongest color pigments, pure linseed oil and "binder," suspended in creosote preservatives, is forced into the fibre of the wood, in the same manner that dye colors cloth. The EDHAM method of treating each shingle SEPARATELY and INDIVIDUALLY with color ensure that each and every shingle is thoroughly saturated from tip to butt, coloring the wood in a manner that seems to emboss the grain, causing it to stand out, and ensuring colors that are rich and soft in tone. Compare the difference between the shingle that is "brushed," sprayed or dipped in the ordinary manner, with the EDHAM method of forcing the stain into the open pores of the wood. It is at once evident why the color shades of EDHAM KOLORED SHINGLES will not wash out, rub off, or check and peel like ordinary stains and paints. It explains why they retain their beautiful coloring for 8 to 10 years, while the ordinary stained shingle requires rebrushing every year or two. It also explains why the "brushed" shingle decays first between the laps, where the brush fails to function; why the EDHAM KOLORED SHINGLE is permeated from tip to butt—both top and bottom—with a stain containing a creosote that is poisonous to destructive insects, repellant to decay-promoting fungi and impervious to water, heat or cold. EDHAM KOLORED SHINGLES offer the home-builder a "50-Year Roof" and a side-wall that will last as long as the house. The first cost is moderate—the cost of upkeep practically nothing—the final cost, when measured over the years of service, less than the cost of any other building material. Regardless of the amount you are contemplating investing in your home, you can, by using EDHAM KOLORED SHINGLES for roof and side walls, have a larger, more substantial and beautiful home.

ALL EDHAM KOLORED SHINGLES are manufactured from the famous stand of British Columbia Red Cedar, which, owing to soil, climatic and drainage conditions, is admittedly the finest in the world. EDHAM KOLORED SHINGLES are permitted to use the registered trade-mark "EDG-GRAIN." The use of this trade-mark is only permitted after a rigid independent association inspection, which orders a 100 per cent. Edg-grain Shingle that can't warp, cup or curl and is strictly clear.

THE PASSING DAY

Will H. Mayes, Department of Journalism, Texas University

Texans are glad that the primaries are over. Politics and August days make a combination that is a bit too hot for the average Texas temper.

The worst feature, perhaps, of any heated campaign is that the people are so divided that they do not afterward work together harmoniously, at least for a time. Co-operative effort in community affairs suffers from political division, and every Texas community just now needs complete unity.

Anything that causes people to dislike each other is bad for the whole people. Even a religion of intolerance weakens not only religious effort, but neighborliness. We must be neighbors in the fullest sense of the word, each with every other's interests at heart; if we would build up our neighborhood to its best. Political and religious and racial rancor, if allowed to run riot, can ruin the best place.

This writer has often wished that all the wasted energy of political campaigns could be stored somewhere, pretty much as Texas is proposing to store its flood waters, and then could be turned loose as it is needed in the various towns and communities for the upbuilding of those places. If the money spent in an ordinary political campaign could only be used to promote factory building Texas would soon be a great manufacturing center.

If the oratory could be used to sway the people into a spirit of enthusiasm for community development, Texas would blossom like a florist's window. If the time spent in attending political gatherings could be devoted to road building, there would be no need for an automobile tax for road purposes.

Of course a reasonable time given to a study of politics is to be commended, but the average political speech is not given to an intelligent discussion of public questions, but to berating somebody and to making wild promises that are seldom fulfilled. Candidates appear to think that the people no longer want conservatism in public office, and it must be confessed that they are a bit justified in that conclusion. We are fast becoming to occupy a middle ground on any question. If we are going at all, we want to go fast; if we do anything we do it furiously. We need to study politics, but to be sure that it is politics and that we are applying ourselves to its study in moderation.

There is no need to waste time in regrets of the wasted past. Try to forget it. The best way to do that is to take up some constructive work. There is in every town and community in Texas something that needs to be done for that place through a united effort of its people. In most places there are many such things. Decide which is the most important, which should be undertaken first, and get right behind that movement as vigorously as the candidates and their supporters have been at work for the last few months. You might learn a valuable lesson from these and possibly might induce them to take the leadership in whatever your community does.

Instead of holding jollifications over the success of some favorites or sulking over defeats, why not call the victors and the defeated and the supporters of all into a meeting to discuss the next thing to be done for the good of your particular part of this great State and get all to pledge that they will work toward the accomplishment of that just as earnestly as they ever did in any political movement? If all Texas would follow this suggestion wonders could be accomplished.

GALVESTON PEOPLE LIKE HILL COUNTRY SECTION

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Mourer, of Galveston, accompanied by their daughter, Leila, and son, Joseph, were Kerrville visitors Wednesday. They have been visiting relatives at Boerne for the past two months and are taking side trips all over the Hill Country. The present trip will include a journey up the highway as far as Junction.

Mr. Mourer is staff photographer for the Galveston News. For the past several years the family have taken vacation trips during the summer months. Last year they motored up through Canada; the year previous they took in California and before that they spent a summer in Colorado.

This year Mr. Mourer and family decided they would see Texas first, and they state the scenery in the Hill Country, especially around Kerrville, is as fine as any they have ever seen anywhere, and they say they are entirely cured of chasing the will o' the wisp in the way of vacations hereafter.

FIRESTONE BALLOON CORD TIRES ON FORD CARS

Have Proven Absolutely Satisfactory, From Every Standpoint, After the Hardest Possible Test That Could Be Given Them

C. L. Mason, of Lee Mason & Son, just completed a trip to California and return, covering exactly 4,600 miles in his Ford Coupe, equipped with Firestone Balloon Cord Casings.

By an absolutely accurate check of gas consumption, an average of 24.72 miles per gallon on gasoline was made on a check of over 4,000 miles, proving conclusively THEIR ECONOMY. Standard Ford carburetor only was used.

One puncture was had in this drive, over all sorts of roads, showing that they DO NOT PUNCTURE ANY EASIER THAN HIGH PRES-SURE TIRES. Only 24 pounds of air was carried in these.

To settle the argument that they reduce driving speed, the 1,597 mile drive to Montevia, California, 18 miles from Los Angeles, was made from Saturday afternoon to Wednesday afternoon, just 400 miles a day. On the return trip, the 956-mile stretch from Tucson, Arizona, to Kerrville was made in two days. This meant maintaining a speed of 33 miles per hour and better on all good roads. BALLOON TIRES, THEREFORE, DO NOT DECREASE SPEED!

Balloon Tires are a pleasure to drive in sand and on bad roads. This particular set has now been driven over 5,200 miles and we will be glad to show them to you as the best possible reason why you should have them on your car.

Bandera County Starts Work on Road to Kerr

San Antonio Express: Bandera County has started preliminary work on a stretch of road 24 miles in length, extending from Medina City to the Kerr County line, according to A. Stocker, superintendent of maintenance for this division of the State Highway Department.

The stretch of road that will be built is not a State project, although Bandera County officials are hopeful of having it so designated after they complete their improvement program. Work will begin at the end of State Highway No. 81, extending from San Antonio to Bandera and will connect at the Kerr County line with a highway to Kerrville.

When the 24-mile link is completed San Antonio motorists will have another scenic loop, this one 155 miles in length. It will extend up through Bandera County along the beautiful Medina River over and around mountains to Kerrville and back to San Antonio through Comfort and Boerne.

JOHN H. WARD LOSES IN ELECTION BET; WON'T PAY

There is one man in Kerrville who has absolutely refused to pay an election bet, admitting as he does, that he lost fair and square. That man is John H. Ward. However, Mr. Ward says that he is going to pay the bet and square himself with the other party to the contract as well as with his own conscience.

Mr. Ward, who admits a fondness for the principles as laid down by Lincoln, Roosevelt and Taft, entered into an agreement with Ben Surber, who is a disciple of Wilson and an admirer of Mrs. Ferguson, that if Robertson won in the run-off primary Ben was to give Mr. Ward a free shave, and if Mrs. Ferguson was the victor he was also to get a free shave and along with it was to forfeit the mustache that has adorned his upper lip for the past 30 years. History recounts that Ben won—but he hasn't collected yet. John says that he has worn the coffee strainers too long to part with them on such short notice and must have time to reconcile himself to the loss. Also he states in an emphatic manner that he is not going to turn his upper lip out without its customary protection until the weather gets cooler and there is no danger of sunburn.

PROFESSIONAL GOLFERS HANG UP LOW SCORES

Kerrville golf fans had opportunity to witness some real playing last Sunday, when John Bredemus and Edwin ("Beetle") Juelg, professional golfers from Houston played a couple of rounds over the nine holes of the local course that are now open for playing.

Mr. Bredemus is a golfer of many years' experience, both as an amateur and professional. Previous to taking up golf he was an athlete of renown and at one time carried the title of the world's best all round athlete, winning same at the Olympic Games.

Mr. Juelg, while only 19 years of age, is recognized as one of the coming golfers of the Nation. Two years ago he was a caddy; last year he turned in the lowest score in the Texas Open Tournament.

In the playing Sunday "Beetle" made the 9-hole course on the second round in 35, one below par. Both of the professionals were high in praise of the course and predicted that it would be the means of bringing many visitors to this city annually.

Teet Dobkins, who superintended construction of the course, has been retained by the Country Club as the club professional.

JOHN H. WARD WINS PRIZES AT BOERNE FAIR WITH CATTLE

John H. Ward returned Monday from Boerne where he exhibited his Red Foll cattle at the Kendall County Fair last week.

The exhibit taken to Boerne by Mr. Ward included eight animals and with these he won seven blue ribbons, besides four champions, three junior and one senior.

This is the only fair at which Mr. Ward has exhibited so far this year, although he has been urged by various associations to participate. However, he may possibly take in the fairs at San Marcos and nearby places a little later in the season.

TWO KILLED IN GIN BOILER EXPLOSION AT WILLOW CITY

Fredericksburg, Tex., Sept. 2.—Walter Icke, 25, of Willow City, and Edgar Smith, 65, of Round Mountain, were instantly killed by the explosion of a boiler in the Willow City gin at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Icke was an employe of the gin and Smith had just driven up with a load of seed cotton, which he was preparing to have ginned, when the boiler exploded.

Icke's body was found mangled underneath the wreckage near where the boiler stood before the explosion. Smith's body was found about 80 yards from the gin building. The body had been blown across Willow Creek and was found, naked, half buried in the bank of the other side of the creek. Both of the man's legs had been cut off, the right leg near the hip and the left leg at the knee.

Smith is thought to have jumped from his wagon and to have gone to the water cooler to get a drink when the explosion occurred. Two mules which were hitched to the wagon which Smith had just driven up were blown to pieces by the blast. Smith lived on what is known as the Pete Hensen place in Blanco County.

Icke is thought to have been standing near the boiler when it exploded.

One end of the boiler was found about 150 yards from the gin and the other end 150 yards across Willow Creek. One end of the building was blown out.

Smith leaves a widow and several children. Icke leaves a widow and a small child.

The cause of the explosion is undetermined. The gin belongs to Alfred Pfeil of Willow City.

Ice cream was introduced into this country by a Philadelphia caterer named Bosis in 1880, but it did not become popular until Mrs. Dolly Madison, as mistress of the White House, had it served at state dinners over which she presided in 1817. Since that time consumption of this delicacy has risen until now an average of 2.66 gallons of ice cream are made annually for each inhabitant of the country.

PRESIDENT IS HOST TO "BIG THREE"

President Coolidge relating the history of a sap bucket which was the property to his great grandfather. This bucket was presented to Mr. Ford by the President. The picture, taken at the home of the President's father in Vermont, shows left to right: Mr. Firestone, the President, Mr. Ford and Mr. Edison.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 28.—One of the outstanding features of the vacation trip of President Coolidge, who has just returned from a two weeks' stay at his father's farm in Vermont, was the visit of Henry Ford, Thomas A. Edison and Harvey S. Firestone.

On their annual camping trip, these three geniuses of industry and invention called upon the President on an automobile tour through New England, and for several hours discussed with him various problems and conditions. All three of them assured him of their hearty support of his candidacy for election.

The chief topic of conversation was the prosperity of the country. The three camping companions assured the President that in their opinion the continued improving prosperity of the country depended upon the condition of the farmers. Agriculture must prove profitable for America to continue prosperous, they said.

"I think times are getting better, and for sound agricultural reasons," said Mr. Ford.

Interviewed during his call upon President Coolidge, Mr. Edison said: "We'll have great prosperity if the corn does not get nipped and crops in general are good."

Mr. Firestone declared that the farmer was the keystone of American prosperity.

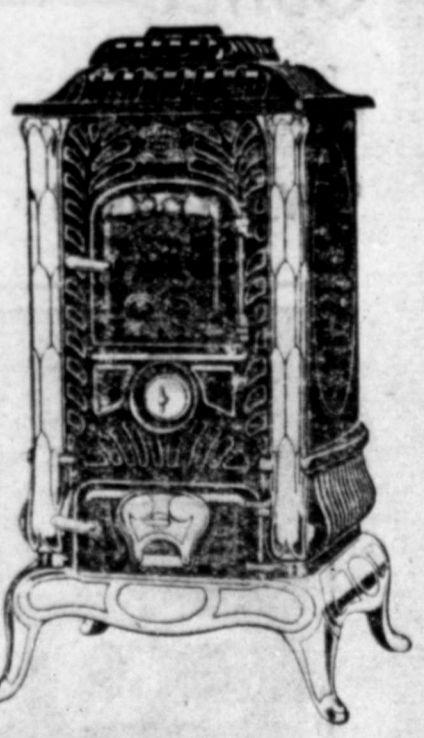

"Conditions in this country will continue to grow better so long as the farmer is prosperous," he said. "He is the barometer by which to judge conditions. His is the basic industry of the country, and the one upon which our prosperity depends."

After leaving the President's farm Mr. Ford, Mr. Edison and Mr. Firestone continued their tour through the Green Mountains, stopping now and then to talk with the people of rural New England and view the countryside. They spent the early part of their vacation at Mr. Ford's Wayside Inn, at South Sudbury.

Before visiting the President, Mr. Ford played host to 5,000 New England farmers at his Wayside Inn estate at South Sudbury, Mass. With Mr. Edison and Mr. Firestone he supervised a plowing and agricultural demonstration, and invited the Farm Bureau Federation to use his grounds for its annual gatherings. On the same day the Holstein-Friesian Association gathered at Mr. Firestone's old homestead in Columbiana County, Ohio, for its annual picnic, as the guests of Mr. Firestone, who sent his son, Harvey, Jr., to welcome them in his absence.
