WHERE IMMIGRANTS SETTLE.
How They are Governed in Choosing Homes in the New World.

It is interesting to observe how the different nationalities that make up the stream of immigrants which lands on our shores have a certain tendency to cluster to colonies. This is partly due to a desire to associate with friends or at least with people of the same language and the same interests, partly, also, to the fact that certain places are better fitted for men of a certain class. Of course, individuals of almost every nationality are scattered almost all over the United States, but still, with the exception of the English, Irish and Germans, who are about equally divided among the different states, the different nationalities prefer some certain localities.

The Welch immigrants, most of whom are miners, go chiefly to Pennsylvania, where their headquarters seem to be around Scranton. At this place during the winter, Welsh performances are given at a theatre.

The Scandinavians generally go to the northwestern states. The Dakotas, perhaps, get the largest share of them, although Missouri, Wisconsin, Michigan, Iowa and Minnesota also get a part. Few of them are skilled laborers or artisans, so most engage in farming. The Danes of late have largely gone to Nebraska, and the Finlanders seem to find in the forests of Michigan and Northern Ohio occupations and a climate which suit them exactly. The Italians may be divided in three classes. Those who are merely common laborers, and who come chiefly from around Naples to work on railroads, as street cleaners, etc., for a larger part stop in New York or its vicinity: from here they are then sent by their bosses or padrones, all over the country, wherever railroads are being built. From Northern Italy comes a large number of miners, who chiefly go to the coal mines of Illinois or Michigan, or to the mines of Arizona, Colorado and Montana. This class of people is of much higher intelligence than the first class. Then a great many farmers and wine-growers from Northern Italy go to California. To that state also go many French farmers from the Departments of Gascoigne and Basses Pyrnees, as well as a few Swiss farmers. Otherwise the Frenchmen, if they do not settle in New York, mostly go to New Orleans or to French Canada, while the Swiss, among whom are many dairymen and silk weavers, chiefly settle in this vicinity. The Hebrews, from Russia, Poland, Austria and Roumania, for the largest part, settle in New York. More than half of them are tailors, about one-third peddlers and the rest are divided among the different trades.

Of genuine Russians only a few emigrate to this country. During the latter years a great many German Russians, whose forefathers about a hundred years ago emigrated from Wurtemberg to Russia, have come to this country. They still keep up their German language, traditions and customs, and are all farmers. Most of them go to Dakota. They are large and powerfully built men, and when they come in their sheepskin overcoats, with a row of children following them, all clad in the same way, they form a picturesque sight.

From the Austro-Hungarian monarchy come the Slavaks, Poles and Hungarians, most of whom go to Pennsylvania, where they work in the coal mines or coal yards; the Bohemians, who go to the vicinity of Buffalo and Pittsburg; the Tyrolese, the Dalmatians, the Kroatians and Moravians, who generally settle in Pennsylvania, around Pittsburg.

The Hollanders go to Patterson, N. J., or to Wisconsin, where their headquarters is Green Bay, or to Iowa or Michigan. The Belgians are either of Flemish or French origin. The former are chiefly farmers and go to the same places where the Hollanders go, while the French speaking Belgians are almost all either glassworkers or miners. The former go to the coal mines of Illinois or Pennsylvania, the latter chiefly to Tarentum or Pittsburg, Pa.

Most of the Icelanders go to Manitoba; there is also a colony of them in Sayrevill, N. J., where they work in the brickyards.

The Armenians, of whom a good many have arrived lately, are like the Arabs, peddlers or tradesmen, in which case they stay in New York, or they are silk weavers, and stay in New York or the neighboring New Jersey towns, or they are common laborers. The last named, almost without exception, go to Worcester, Mass., where a large number of them are employed in wire factories.

The Greeks have during late years begun to crowd the Italians out of the fruit and flower selling trade in New York; some of them also go west and south, where they compete with the Italians in the work on the railroads.

It may safely be asserted that those who maintain that the class of immigrants has deteriorated during the last decade or two have not given the immigrant question a close study. If there has been any change of late years it has been for the better, and not for the worse.—New York Tribune.

What Produces Death.

Some one says that few men die of age. Almost all persons die of disappointment, personal, mental, or bodily toil, or accident. The passions kill men sometimes even suddenly. The common expression, "choked with passion," has little exaggeration in it, for even though not suddenly fatal, strong passion shortens life. Strong-bodied men often die young, weak men live longer than the strong, for the strong use their strength, and the weak have none to use. The latter take care of themselves, the former do not. As it is with the body, so it is with the mind and temper. The strong are apt to break, or like the candle, run; the weak burn out. The inferior animal, which lives temperate lives, have, generally their prescribed term of years. The horse lives 25 years, the ox 15 or 20 the lion about 20, the hog 10 or 12, the rabbit 8, the Guinea pig 6 or 7. The numbers all bear proportion to the time the animal takes to grow its full size. But man, of all the animals, is one that seldom comes up to the average. He ought to live a hundred years, according to the physiological law, for five times twenty are one hundred; but instead of that, he scarcely reaches an average of four times the growing period. The reason is obvious—man is not only the most irregular and most intemperate, but the most laborious and hard-working of all animals. He is always the most irritable of all animals, and there is reason to believe, though we cannot tell what an animal secretly feels, that, more than any other animal, man cherishes wrath to keep it warm, and consumes himself with the fire of his own reflections.—Scientific American.

Copper Market.

It is evident that highwater mark has been reached in copper for the moment. The European bankers continue to let out their stock both in Europe and at New York whenever the chance presents itself. They are selling large lots for future when they can and small lots for spots and to the shorts all along. The mining companies have turned about face completely, during the summer when the bankers sold a small jag at New York the companies promptly met the cut, but now they deliberately hold the price of lake at New York at 15 cents, and leave the bankers to sell as they can at $14.50. In this way fully 500,000 pounds have been sold, and while more was wanted of particular sizes in cakes and bars, the lake companies could not agree to furnish them before the middle of March. The advance in the value of copper stocks has been immense and ten of them now show a value of $50,000 against $33,000 about six months ago.

Eddy Items.

From the Argus.

Some Idea of the tremendous capacity of the great canal may be gained when we state that it will take two months to fill it and its reservoirs after it is completed.—The water will have to be turned in slowly so as to settle the banks. But were the headgate thrown wide open, allowing the water to rush in at a furious rate, a month would elapse before the lower end of the ditch would be saturated. Some of the reservoirs on the canal will cover five sections of land. All these reservoirs must be full before the water can reach the end of the ditch.

Work on the great dam is progressing at a rapid rate. Last Saturday, when the Argus man visited the mammoth structure, a large force of men were at work on both ends. It is safe to predict that the gigantic thing will, if the weather is favorable, be completed inside of two months and a half.

The man who, four years ago, declared that corn was not a success in the Pecos Valley (alleging that it was too hard) has relented to such an extent that he proposes to write a book demonstrating that nowhere in the union can better corn be raised than in this section.

Portugal and England Fracas.

Lisbon, Jan. 24.—A large meeting was held in Trinity theatre last night to start a fund for national defense. The duke of Pomares presided. A committee of 120, consisting of leading citizens and naval and military officers, was appointed to solicit subscriptions to the fund. A number of speeches were made, in which England was bitterly assailed for the course she has pursued in the dispute with Portugal, and the French and Spanish lauded for their sympathy with the Portugese. A number of subscriptions were made to the fund by persons present at the meeting.

Up to the present date, according to the Boston Herald, the owners of bonds of the Atchison Railroad system to the face value of $141,000,000 out of a possible $148,000,000 have assented to the Atchison reorganization plan. This is 96 per cent, and, considering that the company was not in the hands of receivers, and that scarcely three months have elapsed since the promulgation of the plan, the Atchison management may justly claim this to be the most successful railroad scheme ever put forth.—F. & M. PUBLIC ROADS.

U. Ozanne has been appointed road supervisor for this precinct and we hope that his own interests will urge him to do the work in such a manner that all will say, "well done &c." There is no use of haphazard efforts which can bring but temporary relief. What may be done should be well done. The labor and money which will be available for road work will accomplish a great deal if properly applied.

As good roads are indications of advanced civilization, we shall try to give the subject the attention which it deserves.

OUR SCHOOLS

There is plenty of room for more work, more interest in building up our schools. We have a very deficient school law, hence the more reason to do the best that can be done with the disadvantages.

White Oaks has two good schools and there is a law requiring children to attend. Yet, the fact is, that the average attendance at the public school, represents only about one half of the whole number of children of school age. This is a better showing than the average. What is the difficulty? Who is to blame? Too many wise men and women who desire their children to be equal to their parents.

It is the duty not only of school directors, but of every intelligent man and woman, to take an interest in their schools everywhere. There should be fewer croakers and more workers.

New Mexico has too great expectations and too little honest hard work. More people should read Dickens. The sooner every one learns to do the best that circumstances will permit, the better it will be for all.

We need more people who build homes, and fewer who build castles on wind. More who will aid in building up schools and churches and not so many who deposit their surplus (often before they get it,) where it brings the worst kind of return for themselves in the future.

Girls, if you are wise, if you hope that the future holds much for you, you will learn to be particular as to your partner in dancing. Dance with no man with whom you have only a ball room acquaintance, and if you really are anxious to gain the respect of the people, in your own set, you will number among partners only your own brothers or some very intimate friends.

It's all very well to say there is no harm in dancing. There isn't. But there is harm in having about you, a sweet pure girl, kept as much as possible from the wickedness of the world, the arm of a man who may be a profligate, and not possess the first instinct of a gentleman. He may, as you say, dance divinely, but even for a partner in a round dance, more than that is necessary. My little girl, dancing indiscriminately will teach you to forget how to blush, and with that knowledge departs one of your greatest charms. Dance, sing and be merry, but remember not only does the world judge us by the company we keep, but just as you and I are made better and nobler by being with those who are true and good, so we are insensibly made meaner and poorer in heart and brain when we consort with those of less degree in morals.

The above is from the Ladies' Magazine of Philadelphia, the best of the ladies magazines, and is worthy of consideration. It is not too much to say that promiscuous dancing is certainly not the highest form of amusement.

THE WINDOW BILL.

Denver, Jan. 25.—The following has been issued:

There will be a meeting of the vice presidents of the Colorado Silver association in Denver at 12 o'clock, January 30, to be held at the Tabor opera house. The object of the meeting is to remonstrate in the most vigorous terms against the passage of the Window silver bill. By looking at sections 5 and 6 you will see its viciousness. Proxies will be admitted. Therefore if you are unable to be present please send your proxy to some one who is in accord with your views on the subject. I should be glad to have all the friends of the silver party participate.

H. A. W. TABOR, President.

Iowa Democrat's Thanksgiving.

By an Iowa Boy.

Why do I shout like a Modoc? why do I roar like a beast? why do I paw up the gravel and continually rip and tear? Boies and Bestow have got there—thirty-six years we were out; a derrick will do for a lifter while I raise an old time shout. Throw me an acre of flapjacks soaked in wild goat's cream; hold a minute, waiter, while I shriek out one lusty scream; for I've been waiting, yes waiting, thirty-six years on a fast, but now we've got 'em, yes got 'em—the Democrats there at last. Oh! for a bite of a pumpkin as big as the mountain top; oh! for a forty-horse biscuit dipped in some elephant's sop. Strangle me an alligator; bring me a terrapin—alive—turn me loose in the honey and let me rout out the hive. Once we were down at the bottom, but now we dance on top—a hawk-eye man for ninety-two will see old Iowa flop. Let me give thanks for a million; let me revel in song and wine; let me feed till my mouth runs over, giving thanks for eighty-nine. Rope me a bear and a bison from the track of the western plain; bring me a buffalo bleeding, for the g. o. p. is slain. Set out a coon and a 'possum; over them clam juice pour, for my fast has been so lasting I could eat for ever more. But eating is what I am here for, and rich indeed is my fare; I'm a goat, I'm an old hyena, I'm a wolf, I'm a grizzly bear. Throw me a Jefferson doughnut, smothered in Jackson juice; give me a saw and a hatchet, while I carve a Republican goose.

Prof. Ladd, the enterprising and accomplished traveling correspondent to the Santa Fe New Mexican has received the appointment of commissioner of the census for New Mexico. No one is better qualified to faithfully discharge the duties of the position.—Citizen.

Two Postoffice Robberies.

The robbers of the Albuquerque postoffice got away with $1,800 in postage stamps, about $500 in currency, and a gold watch and some small pieces of jewelry belonging to Postmaster Walker's wife. They also rifled six pouches of registered mail matter, among them the pouch that left Santa Fe on Tuesday night.

Among the registers in the Santa Fe pouch was a package containing money sent out by Dr. Longwill, also $4,000 in Lincoln county current expense bonds. These latter had been sent to the First National bank here, but were slightly defective and were sent back to the Lincoln county treasurer for correction. The coupons were attached, and to all general appearances on their face they are valid, and the robbers may be able to raise money on them.

The loss of these valuables will fall heavily upon Postmaster Walker and general sympathy is expressed for him.

A private letter from Mora brings word that the postoffice in their village was broken into on Tuesday night and $30 in currency and stamps carried off.—New Mexican.

SNOW AND HIGH WINDS.

Beowane, Nev., Jan. 23.—The weather is still blustering and the storm, with high wind, is causing the snow to drift badly, filling up the roads and cuts as soon as opened for travel.

The mercury was 30 below zero last night.

St. Paul.—From 25 to 30 degrees below zero yesterday. The mercury jumped to zero at 2 o'clock and after passing that point heavy snow fell. Reports from points in Minnesota and the Dakotas indicate a pretty general storm, warmer weather being accompanied by snow, heavy winds, drift and delayed trains.

Leadville.—John Geaney, a South Park ranchman arrived here yesterday morning and reports the most terrific snow storm the South Park has known for years.

For a week the ranchmen have been unable to attend to their stock, and the consequent loss of cattle will be very heavy.

Silver City Bullion.—Shipped through Wells, Fargo's express office, during the week ending Jan. 6, 1890.—Gold from Mountain Key. $2,950,00. Various sources $200, total $3,150,00. Total amount of bullion shipped in 1889 $286,688,00.—Southwest Sentinel.

The Presbyterian mission school will reopen this coming Monday, Mrs. A. M. Granger having almost entirely recovered from her recent illness.—Las Cruces paper.

The New Mexican's advices from San Pedro, bring news of a decided Republican victory. H. C. Reel was elected justice. S. S. Platt, constable, and a full Republican school board was elected. The total vote was 288. Good enough for San Pedro. Mr. Reel is a White Oaks man, they always get there.

The County commissioners held another session Monday, the 20th, inst, to canvass the election returns and attend to some unfinished business left over from the last meeting. The matter of repairs on the county buildings was attended to, and the order given for the repairs to be made.—Independent.

Whereas, Charles T. Clark and Lillys M. Clark, his wife, then of Lincoln County, Territory of New Mexico, by their certain mortgage deed, dated the 27th day of May, in the year 1889, and recorded in the Probate Clerk's office, of Lincoln County, in book B of the record of mortgages, pages 193-195, did convey to the undersigned, Peter Strumquest, his heirs and assigns as mortgagee, the following described real estate, situated in the County of Lincoln, and Territory of New Mexico, as follows, to wit:

Lot No. two (2) in Block No. sixty-two (62), in the town of White Oaks, according to the official plat of said Town. To secure the promissory note of said Charles T. Clark and Lillys M. Clark, of even date with said mortgage deed, for two hundred dollars, payable to the order of the said Peter Strumquest, six months after date, with interest at the rate of twelve per cent per annum, from date until paid: And whereas, it was provided in and by said mortgage, that if default should be made in the payment of said note, together with all interest that may have accrued therein, when the same should become due and payable, then in such case the said mortgagee, his agent, or legal representative, might sell at public auction, said mortgaged premises, to the highest bidder for cash, first giving notice of the time and place of said sale, by publishing a notice in some newspaper published in the County of Lincoln, for at least twenty days before the date of such sale, and in their name or names, or as the agent of said mortgagors, might make and deliver to the purchasers at such sale, a good and sufficient deed or deeds of said premises.

And whereas, also, default has been made in the payment of principal and interest due upon said note, which default still continues:

A HORSE WHO CAN TALK!

Everybody has heard of a "horse laugh," but who has ever seen an equine gifted with the power of speech? Such an animal would be pronounced a miracle; but so would the telegraph and the telephone a hundred years ago. Why, even very recently a cure for consumption, which is universally acknowledged to be scrofula affecting the lungs, would have been looked upon as miraculous, but now people are beginning to realize that the disease is not incurable. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure it, if taken in time and given a fair trial. This world-renowned remedy will not make new lungs, but it will restore diseased ones to a healthy state when other means have failed. Thousands gratefully testify to this. It is the most potent tonic, or strength restorer, alterative, or blood-cleanser and nutritive, or flesh-builder, known to medical science. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh in the Head, and all Lingering Coughs, it is an unequalled remedy. In derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels, as Indigestion, or Dyspepsia, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Chronic Diarrhea, and kindred ailments, it is a sovereign remedy.

GUARANTEED. "Golden Medical Discovery" is the only medicine of its class, sold by druggists, under a printed guarantee, from the manufacturer, that it will benefit or cure in every case of disease for which it is recommended, or money paid for it will be promptly refunded.

Washington, Jan. 25.—There is a vast amount of buncombe in the dispatches being sent out from here just now about the world's fair contest. Effort is made to conceal the real purpose of the leading rivals. The situation in a nutshell is this:

The New Yorkers are trying to delay action in the house committee until the New York state legislature passes the bill appropriating $10,000,000 for the world's fair in New York city. The Chicago people are working hard to force the matter to an early vote. The chairman of the committee, Mr. Candier, has so far worked with the New Yorkers.

Mercurial Rheumatism.

Mr. J. C. Jones, city marshal of Fulton, Arkansas, writes: "About ten years ago I contracted a severe case of blood poison. The leading physicians of the city were called in, and they prescribed medicine after medicine, which I took without affording me any relief. I also tried mercurial and potash remedies, with the same unsuccessful result, but which brought on an attack of mercurial rheumatism that made my life one of untold agony. After suffering for four years, I gave up all former remedies and commenced taking Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) After taking several bottles I was entirely cured and able to
