Was it a Big Sea Turtle?

Captain Edward Reeve has the contract to light the beacon on the breakwater near Greenport, Me., every night. On Monday, while pulling leisurely toward the breakwater, he was attracted by a commotion in the water near him. He rested on his oars and looked to see what it was. He saw what looked like the hard shell back of a monster sea turtle. A moment later he saw the head and eyes of the strange object. As the head protruded above the surface the water was churned into foam by the flapping of what appeared to be long flippers. The head of the marine animal was covered with protruding horns.

The monster came toward the boat and apparently meditated an attack when the captain hit at it with an oar. It paid no attention to this assault, but ran its head against the boat with a force that caused the skiff to keel over. The captain weighs over 200 pounds, and managed to keep the boat right side up. Then the fight became fierce. The tide was carrying the contestants toward the breakwater. One after the other the oars were broken by the captain by striking on the hard back of the monster. Finally, without anything to defend himself, the captain managed to throw a noose over a projecting rock on the breakwater and so pulled himself ashore.

The monster continued his attacks on the boat, and remained in the vicinity for some time after the boat had been drawn up out of the way. When last seen the ferocious marine monster was churning the water into foam as it sped off toward Gardner's Island. The captain puts the monster down as a sea turtle, but of enormous size.—Boston Herald.

One of the late matrimonial engagements is said to be the outcome of a daring little piece of repartee on the part of the young woman, who has enjoyed the reputation of being not only a wit, but a beauty and a belle as well. Although quite young, she was known to have declined the honor of several of the best so-called "catches" of the season, and it began at last to be rumored that her mind and heart were set on one of her admirers who had not, as yet, the temerity to come to the point. However that may be, the young man in question was her partner in one of the Harvard assemblies during last winter, and during the intermission for supper was seated with her in a sequestered nook, "far from the madding crowd."

Apropos of something that had been said, he asked her laughingly if the report were true that she had refused all the eligible men in her set. She blushed vividly for a moment, then suddenly raised her head, looked him full in the face and said pointedly, "Yes, it is true—present company excepted!" It is, perhaps, needless to state that they remained in the "sequestered nook" during the rest of the german, and that the young lady wore a sparkling solitaire on her left hand within a few days. Rumor also has it that the above conversation was overheard by one of the discarded suitors, who forthwith "gave it away."—Boston Saturday Gazette.

Dr. Samuel Buell, of the last half of the last century, who used to preach two or three hours, like Isaac Barrows, was ingenious in detaining his congregation. On one occasion, after preaching nearly two hours—as long as he could feel secure in the presence of all his hearers—he remarked that he was no preaching to sinners, and that they were at liberty to go. The rest of his discourse would be addressed to good people.

A gentleman who once went to hear him stated that when the hourglass was nearly ready to be turned a second time from the commencement of his sermon he said, much to the relief of the person who related it "Once more." After going on some eight or ten minutes longer he said, "To conclude, and after another about equal interval he said, "Lastly." The gentleman added that he expected every moment to hear him say, Everlastingly."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The World's Judgment.

The sweet, motherly face of Mrs. B., who always wore decorous black appeared on the promenade lately in a Rubens hat—black to be sure—but, oh—

"Twenty years too young for her," ejaculated one friend behind her back. To her face she said:

"You dear thing! How becoming that hat is to you. Never wear a bonnet again?"

"Did you see Mrs. B., at church today?" asked another lady of her husband.

"Yes, she never misses morning service," he replied.

"And did you notice her hat?"

"Why, no. I suppose it was the same one she always wears."

"It was a round hat," announced the lady, in much the same tone she might have used if the head-gear in question had been a wash-tub.

"That woman will wear a crown some day," answered her husband.

"I do not know her equal in good works."

"I am talking earthly millinery now," answered his wife, as she picked up the discussion again.

Meanwhile Mrs. B had returned home and taken off the offending hat, which she handed to her daughter.

"Thank you, Ruby," she said "I suppose my bonnet has come back."

"Yes, dear," answered her daughter, "and Mrs. — was so grateful because you lent it to her. She said she could not afford to buy mourning for her boy."

"It was a small favor to do for one in trouble," answered the mother, gently.

And the wagging tongues never reached her.—Detroit Free Press.

Chas. Lamb Kenney was dining at the house of a friend, and, by chance swallowed a bit of cork with his wine, which gave him severe coughing fit. "Take care, my friend," said the next neighbor, with a very brilliant attempt at a witticism, "that's not the way for cork." "No," gasped the sufferer, "it's the way to kill Kenney."

An Ohio woman picked up an armful of sticks and carried them in to throw on the fire. One of the sticks twined itself around her waist. Did she shriek and alarm the neighbors? Not a bit of it. She put the snake in a bottle, corked it up and when she went to town sold it to the local druggist for two dollars as a curiosity. A woman as enterprising as that does not get scared easily.—Detroit Free Press.

An ancient lyre dated 2,000 years B. C. has just come to light. It took a modern liar to find it, however.

The engagement spoon is now announced, but this will not cause a ripple of curiosity, as that kind of a spoon has always existed. An engagement without a spoon would be a theme of wonder.

Deacon Jones—"But my dear man, why cannot you and your wife agree to live in harmony?"

Dear man—"That's just it. I'm agreed, but she isn't. I, of course, want her to harmonize with me, but she insists that I shall harmonize with her. Just like a woman you know. Bound to have her own way every time."

Cook—"What will yez have fur dinner the day, mum?"

Young Mistress—"Is there any nice fresh pork in the house, Norah?"

"Yes, mum."

"Then take some of it and cook a mess of nice smoked ham. Close the door as you go out, Norah."

Norah closed it with a bang.

SOUTHWEST SILVER CONVENTION.

THE CALL.

To the prospectors, miners, mine claim owners of New Mexico, Arizona and Western Texas:

The depression that exist through out the southwest is due to the unnatural depreciation of silver and to the evil effects caused by that portion of the alien act that prohibits the investment of foreign capital in mining property in the territories. The object of the southwest silver convention that is to convene on the 15th day of December, 1891, in El Paso, Texas, is to discuss and take steps to remedy these evils. No other subject but the silver question and the modification of the alien act will be entertained by the convention, and all attempts to pervert the object of this mass meeting of miners by the introduction of questions foreign to the principles for which it was called will be suppressed. The restoration of silver to its normal value or parity with gold, 129 29, and the obliteration of an unjust discrimination against the miners operating in the territories, will engage the entire energy and time of the assembled miners of the southwest.

CHAS. LONGUEMARE,

President Executive Committee.

F. W. EDLESTEN,

Secretary Executive Committee.

The convention will be called to order at 9 a. m. on the 15th of December, 1891, at the opera house in the city of El Paso, Texas, a temporary organization effected and the usual committees appointed. Afterwards a permanent organization will follow.

The convention of miners in El Paso will be a mass convention, each camp sending as many delegates as they wish. All prospectors, miners, mine and claim owners in New Mexico, Arizona and Western Texas will be qualified for membership in the convention.

Miners should meet in each camp, district, town and city of New Mexico and Arizona at some suitable date hold a meeting for the purpose of securing as full a representation as possible to Southwest Silver convention, that will convene in El Paso on the 15th day of December next.

All newspapers in Arizona, New Mexico and Western Texas are requested to keep the call of the convention standing in their columns and to give the coming convention their support and influence.—El Paso Times.

The Trinidad Advertiser says:

The members of the board of trade are alive and realize the great advantage Trinidad will derive from the building of the El Paso, White Oaks, Las Vegas and Trinidad road. What the Denver & Rio Grande has been to Denver, the new road will be to Trinidad. Our smelters, rolling mills, foundries and machine shops will attract more attention than ever before. The country this new road traverses and will open to Trinidad is immense and unsurpassed. The coal fields, the rich gold, silver, copper, lead and iron mines of White Oaks, the lumber region, stock and agricultural country tributary to the road will make it at once a paying road. Trinidad wants this road and will do her part toward raising the necessary amount for the preliminary survey. At the meeting held at Chamber of Commerce yesterday evening, P. C. Ford and D. A. Chappell were appointed an executive committee with R. L. Wootton and Sol H. Jaffa as alternates, to attend the meeting at Las Vegas, the 15th inst. Much enthusiasm prevailed. The following telegram was received from the chairman of the board of trade of Las Vegas and read at the meeting:

TELEGRAM.

LAS VEGAS, N. M., Oct. 8, 1891
To the Chairman Chamber of Commerce, Trinidad, Colorado.

Las Vegas has raised her proportion for preliminary survey and five hundred dollars over. All right here. Tremendous meeting tonight. Congratulations sent.

GEO. T. GOULD, Optic.

It was further reported that Las Vegas had raised one hundred thousand dollars towards building the road. It was decided to have a grand mass meeting next Wednesday evening at the Jaffa opera house, and to invite Hon. Thomas Patterson, of Denver, to deliver an address.

LAND OFFICE DECISION.

United States v. William Watson.

Hearing ordered by commissioner's letter "N," March 9, 1891, to determine character of land embraced in Coal Entry, No. 15, Mining Survey 256, being part of N. E. 1/4 section 36, T. 6 S. R. 12 E.

OPINION OF REGISTER AND RECEIVER.

This case comes before this office, on the supplemental evidence taken before a special commissioner, appointed by the Register and Receiver, which hearing was held pursuant to an order contained in Commissioner's letter "N," March 9, 1891, to determine whether the land contained LARGE deposits of coal, and is CHIEFLY valuable therefor. The hearing then, is ordered, not to determine if the land in question contains coal, or is adjacent to lands valuable for coal, but to determine if the land itself, contains large deposits of coal, and is chiefly valuable therefor.

Numerous witnesses appear in behalf of the claimant Watson, chief among whom is the witness Comery, whose testimony as far as it goes is direct and conclusive, and clearly demonstrates the fact, that coal actually exists upon the tract in question, in at least three separate and distinct bodies, varying from 80 to 140 feet in depth. The fact that coal upon said entry actually exists, in regular deposits, is not controverted nor denied, and the question therefore resolves itself into the simple one of quantity, and as to whether or not such quantity is sufficient to make the land chiefly valuable for coal. The witness Comery, testifies to three veins of coal, the first 4 in. thick, at a depth of 84 feet, the second 10 in. thick, at a depth of 124 feet, both composed of "rotten coal," and the third, from 16 to 22 inches of coal, with a streak of slate 1 to 2 inches thick in its center was found at a depth of 134 feet. This seems to have been the only coal discovery upon the tract in question, or at least the only one upon which the claimant relies for the establishment of his claim. Comery also testifies, that the fire tests made of the coal discovered, were made of "the hard lumps about the size of a hazel nut" brought up by the drill from the 8 or 10 inch vein, lying below the stratum of slate in the 16 to 22 deposit last encountered. The natural supposition then is, that the upper half of the lower vein, and the two strata lying above it, are composed of "rotten coal" unfit for consumption. If such be the case, claimant relies upon the discovery of a 10 inch vein of coal lying 134 feet below the surface of the ground, to render the land "chiefly valuable for coal."

Attorney for claimant, in his brief, places great stress upon the fact that the land in question, is contiguous to and geologically resembles, land chiefly valuable for coal, notably the "Gallagher" mine, and reasons by induction, that if adjacent land geologically similar in character, contains large and valuable deposits of coal this land in question is entitled to the same classification.

Such reasoning, however, is not admissible, in Hooper vs. Ferguson, 2-L. D. 712, and in Dughi vs. Harkins ibid. 721, it is clearly held "the burden of proof lies upon the mineral claimant, and he must show not that neighboring lands are mineral in character, or that, that in question may be, by possibility valuable for mineral, but that as present fact it is mineral in character, and that must appear from the actual production of mineral, and not from any theory that it may produce it." in other words, it is fact and not theory that must govern in this office, in deciding upon the case at issue. The question then narrows itself to the determination as to whether or not 10 inches of coal at a depth of 134 feet below the surface of the ground is such a deposit as to render the land containing it chiefly valuable therefor.

In this connection, the general intention of the law seems to be to segregate as coal lands, only those containing large deposits of coal, or those containing coal in such quantities as to make their workings reasonably remunerative, and not the segregate from the public, lands containing such small deposits as to be practically worthless to their possessors. That among the latter class of deposits, should be classed the entry in question, seems to be evidenced by the fact, that from the date of entry till the date of the order for the hearing in the above case, claimant has wholly failed to avail himself in any way of the valuable deposits he claims as existing on the land in question.

In view of the foregoing facts, it is the opinion of this office that Coal Entry No. 15, Mining Survey 256, above quoted, has not been proven to contain such valuable deposits of coal as is contemplated by the letter "N" of the honorable commissioner under which this hearing was had.

Thirty days is hereby allowed in which which to appeal from this decision to the Honorable Commissioner of the General Land Office.

Dated at the United States Land Office, at Roswell, New Mexico, this 9th of October, A. D., 1891.

FRANK LESNET,

Rainfalls, formerly exceedingly rare have been frequent occurrence in the mountains of Southern California since the formation of Salton Lake. A couple of weeks ago the rain extended to the coast and astounded the people of San Diego with an hour's downpour. It was unwelcome to the people in the raisin districts, but the city people enjoyed the novelty. The Colorado river is still flowing into the lake and it is expected that when the winter rains begin the lake will increase in extent to three times its present size.

There is one form of government expenditures against which the people do not complain—appropriations for building up the navy. The bigger the navy and the more numerous American men of war are in foreign ports, the greater the respect of foreigners for the republican institutions which the American flag represents. The South American coasts should be regularly patrolled by the U. S. navy.—Memphis Avalanche.

American children might well take a hint from this, and make themselves familiar with Spanish.

RAILROAD MEETING.

The railroad meeting, held at Young & Taliaferro's Hall, last Monday night, was called to order at half past seven o'clock, by the president, T. W. Heman.

Mr. Watson, chairman of committee on survey, reported that White Oaks had subscribed and paid in $1022, an amount somewhat in excess of the sum guaranteed.

The report of committee on survey was made by E. W. Parker. The plan proposed gives the road free right of way through White Oaks, but provides that no loss shall be sustained by small property owners.

J. Y. Hewitt, chairman of committee on subscription to stock, reported that $12,175 had been secured, and that that amount would be doubled in a little time. He had, also, been notified that stock in the road would be taken by wealthy non-resident holders of property in the town and vicinity.

After addresses from Messrs Hewitt, Watson, Whiteman and others, the meeting adjourned for two weeks.

Rev. A. A. Hurd, the lately appointed minister of the Congregational church, arrived last week, and preached Sunday to full houses. He has been well known to some of our citizens for many years, and is said to be a man of high character and ability. We hope he may find a less thorny path to travel in than his predecessors have done.

The new fall stock of goods at Goodman, Zeigler & Co.'s is the largest and most varied that has ever been received in White Oaks. They furnish everything in their line of trade, from a baby's bib or a paper of pins to a lady's cloak or a carpet, at prices to suit the most economical. Go and see for yourselves.

The type and presses for the "Old Abe Eagle," to be published in White Oaks by H. L. Ross & Co., will be shipped from Denver about the 20th, inst. The new paper will be issued as soon as possible after the arrival of the material. The printing office will be in the hall above Goodman, Zeigler & Co.'s store.

H. L. Ross is in Trinidad, making arrangements for the removal of his "household gods" to White Oaks.

The railroad convention at Las Vegas, has been postponed from the 15th to the 20th, to allow time for all of the delegates to arrive.

NOTICE.

Rev. A. A. Hurd will preach in the Congregational Church in White Oaks, next Sunday, at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. All are cordially invited. Sunday School at 10 a. m. as usual.

J. Y. Hewitt left home Tuesday for Las Vegas and Denver, to attend the railroad meeting. Mrs. Hewitt accompanied him and will probably visit California before her return.

Dr. William Paden, from California, is daily expected to arrive in White Oaks with his family. He will enter into partnership with his brother, Dr. M. G. Paden in the business of selling drugs and healing the sick. The community is to be congratulated on the advent of another Dr. Paden.

W. M. Hoyle, who bought the Whiteman property last week, has sold it to Wm. Watson, who will put in an iron front and divide the building into two stores. The corner has been rented by E. McB. Timoney, for Post Office and Bookstore, and by J. L. Zimmerman, from Roswell, for a Drugstore.

Fort Stanton, N. M. Oct. 14.

Col. Robert H. Offley, 10th U. S. Infantry, died at this post, at 7:25 p. m., today, of acute dysentery. A more noble or generous hearted man never lived in or out of the army. His loss will be mourned by all who ever knew him, and a vacancy in the army is made which will be hard to fill, by one endowed with the noble spirit of the man whom we will soon lay at rest. His memory will live in the hearts of who ever knew him.

OGDEN H. VAIL.

The Germ Theory. Shows that all epidemic, endemic, and contagious diseases are produced by minute infecting germs or microbes, peculiar to each disease, which enter the system. It being a well settled fact that any remedy which would kill the germ or microbe would destroy the life of the patient, it has been found that to force out these germs is the only safe relief from their ravages. In this way Swift's Specific has for 60 years been curing blood and skin diseases. It forces out the microbes through the pores of the skin, and soon sends out the poison which they may have left. In this way the disease is cured, and the general health of the patient is built up.

NOTICE OF SALE.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned, Gilbert E. Overton, as Trustee, under and by virtue of the provisions of a certain Indenture of Mortgage, with power of sale, executed and dated on December 29th, A. D., 1888, by Joshua Hale and Susan L. Hale, his wife, to secure the payment of a certain promissory note therein mentioned, and bearing date April 28, 1888, for the sum of $1,000.00, payable thirty days after the date thereof to Gilbert E. Overton or order, at Ft. Stanton, N. M., with interest from date until paid at the rate of 12 per cent. per annum, made and executed by Joshua Hale, C. S. Thurber and DeLaney & Terrell, default having been made in the payment of the said note in accordance with the terms thereof and of said mortgage deed, will on Monday, the 7th day of September, A. D., 1891, at the hour of ten o'clock in the forenoon of said day, at the principal door of the Court House in the Town of Lincoln and County of Lincoln and Territory of New Mexico, offer for sale at public auction to the highest and best bidder for cash in hand, the real estate and premises situated in the County of Lincoln and Territory of New Mexico, in said mortgage deed mentioned, and described, to-wit: The southwest Quarter of Section number twelve (12), in Township number Eleven (11) South of Range number fourteen (14) East of the New Mexico Principal Meridian, and containing One Hundred and Sixty (160) acres, more or less: of which land the said Joshua Hale, in and by said mortgage deed, guarantees and warrants that about seventy (70) acres are at the date of said mortgage deed in cultivation, and that some ten (10) or twelve (12) acres in addition could be put in cultivation with irrigation; which said sale is made at the request of the legal holder and owner of said promissory note, for the purpose of paying out of the proceeds of said sale, the costs and expenses of said sale and the proceedings relative thereto, including reasonable attorneys' fees, and the balance of principal and interest due and unpaid upon said note; and upon said sale being made, the undersigned, as Trustee, will execute and deliver to the purchaser or purchasers of said land and premises, a deed and sufficient deed therefor.

Dated this 15th day of August, A. D. 1891.

TO THE SPORTSMAN.

Camp life has a peculiar charm; but, to truly enjoy it, you must be prepared for all kinds of weather. Did you ever catch your rubber coat on a sharp twig or rough rock, and spoil it the first day? Ask any hunter or sportsman who uses a "Fish Brand Slicker," how he likes them. He will tell you it is tent, blanket, and coat, all in one. Light, dry, and warm, and will stand any amount of hard usage. No need of being concerned about the weather. Why do you wait till it rains, when you can be provided for all weather if you buy a "Fish Brand Slicker" now? Don't wait. A day's delay may be the cause of a month's sickness: can you afford to take the risk? Beware of worthless imitations, every garment stamped with the "Fish Brand" Trade Mark. Don't accept any inferior coat when you can have the "Fish Brand Slicker" delivered without extra cost. Particulars and illustrated catalogue free.

CAMP LIFE.

HERE'S THE SLICKER.
 The one thing you'll always find in every cowboy's outfit when he goes on the spring round-up is a "Fish Brand" Slicker. They make the only perfect saddle coat, and come either black or yellow. They protect the whole front of the rider's body, and are made to fit round the outside of the saddle. When used as a walking coat, they are made to fit over each other, and when used as a riding coat, they are made to fit over a double storm-proof coat. When riding, the saddle is dry as a bone, and the rider is entirely protected every part of his body. These "Slickers" are made of extra width, make fine blankets for camp. Beware of worthless imitations, every garment stamped with "Fish Brand" Trade Mark. Don't accept any inferior coat when you can have the "Fish Brand Slicker" delivered without extra cost. $300 REWARD

FOR ORE THIEVES!

The common experience of this camp shows that much is lost by the mine operators by the stealing of gold in specimens, if not in amalgam and bullion. Therefore the "Old Abe" Co. offers a standing reward of Three Hundred Dollars for the arrest and conviction, or for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person guilty of stealing any of the property of the Old Abe Co., even the smallest specimen of ore. The rule of this company is to mill all specimens. Therefore none of the ore from this mine can be honestly held as specimens. And as the receiver, with guilty knowledge, is as guilty in law as the thief, this offer applies to the holders of Old Abe specimens.

Mr. LEE. "Why, Addie, you needn't cry about it! I only said Mrs. Allen was a very well-informed woman, and I wished you would follow her example."

Mrs. LEE. "Yes, and last week you said you wished I could manage to look as stylish as Mrs. Allen,--and she makes all her own clothes. But she has what I haven't."

Mr. LEE. "What is that?"

Mrs. LEE. "Well, she gets all of her information from the Magazine they take. I admit that she knows all that is going on, and is bright and entertaining in conversation; but I could do as well as she does if I had the same source of information. She lent me the last number of her Magazine lately, and I learned more in one hour's reading, about various social matters and the topics of the day, than I would pick up in a month by my occasional chats with friends. It certainly covers every topic of interest, from the news of the day down to the details of housekeeping; and everything is so beautifully illustrated, too. Every time Mamma goes over to the Allen's she comes back and teases me to get you to take Demorest's Family Magazine, as the stories are so good. Even the boys watch for it every month, as a place is found for them also in its pages; and Mr. Allen swears by it. It is really wonderful how it suits every member of the family!"

Mr. LEE. "Well, perhaps I had better send for a Specimen Copy; for, if it is anything like what you say it is, it will amuse and instruct the whole of us."

Mrs. LEE. "I see that W. Jennings Demorest, the publisher, 15 East 14th Street, New York, is offering to send a Specimen Copy for 10 cents, so we can't lose anything, as each number contains a 'Pattern Order' entitling the holder to any Pattern she may choose, and in any size--which alone makes each copy worth 30 cents; and I just want a jacket pattern like Mrs. Allen's. The subscription price is only $2.00 a year; and I must say I can't see how they can publish so elegant a Magazine for so little money."

20 Good Books Free

By special arrangement with the publisher, we are enabled to offer the entire list of Twenty Valuable Books enumerated and described below, absolutely free to every subscriber to this paper for the ensuing year, at the regular subscription price. These books, each one of which contains a complete first-class novel or other work by a well-known and popular author, are published in neat pamphlet form, printed from good readable type on good paper, and many of them handsomely illustrated. They comprise some of the finest works ever written by some of the greatest and most popular writers, both of America and Europe. Each one is complete in itself!

WHAT IS GOING ON FOR MANY MILES... ONE OF THE FREE... THE BEST TELESCOPES IN THE WORLD. Our facilities are unequalled and to introduce our superior goods we will send FREE TO ONE PERSON in each locality, as above. Only those who write to us at once can make sure of the chance. As you have to do in return to show our goods to those who call--your neighbors and those around you. The beginning of this advertisement shows the small end of the telescope. The following cut gives the appearance of it reduced to about the fifth part of its bulk. It is a grand, double vision telescope, as large as is easy to carry. We will also show you how you can make from $3 to $1 a day at least, from the start, without experience. Better write at once. We pay all express charges. Address: H. H. LEBET & CO., Box 598, FORT LANE, MASS.
