

1st National Bank Opens Saturday

Will Open Doors From 9 Until 6

The officers and directors of the First National Bank of Bovina announced this week that the charter for the bank has been issued by the Comptroller of the Currency.

Saturday, October 29, is the date set for the opening of the new bank. Opening time will be 9:00 a. m., and the bank will stay open until 6:00 in the afternoon on its opening day. The bank will be housed in its temporary quarters furnished jointly by the City of Bovina and Wilson-Brock Insurance Agency. Wilson and Brock moved their office next door to the City Hall.

This is the first national bank to be organized in Parmer County. Being a national bank, it will operate under a national charter and as a member of the Federal Reserve System. The bank will also have membership in the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. These agencies of bank supervision join to bring the ultimate in safeguarding the interest of the bank's depositors, Joe Temple, a member of the board of directors said.

"In presenting this new bank to the public, we have fulfilled one of our aims; that is, to bring to the people of Bovina and Parmer County the highest quality of banking efficiency and service." Temple said.

The officers and directors of the First National Bank extend a cordial invitation to each and everyone to come in on the opening day and become acquainted with the bank's officers and personnel. They trust that they may be of service in building a bigger and better community and county.

The bank's permanent building will be erected as soon as possible and will feature the latest in banking conveniences.

Warren Embree will serve the bank as the executive officer. Embree has had broad experience in banking, dating back to the early 1930's and is highly regarded in banking circles throughout the state. He has taken part and been active in civic affairs wherever he has lived.

J. P. Macon of Bovina will serve as chairman of the board of directors. Macon has been in the elevator business in Bovina since (Continued On Last Page)

Ralph Caldwell To Speak to Lions Club

Ralph Caldwell, secretary of Western Fire Indemnity Company at Lubbock, will speak to the local Lions Club Thursday night at the American Legion Hall.

Caldwell's talk will be on "Claim Conscious Age." He is representing the Southwestern Insurance Information Service of Dallas and the talk will be in conjunction with more programs that the Lions are planning of this nature. Lion President Bedford Caldwell said. Ralph and Bedford are brothers.

Tommy Bonds New Gulf Oil Consignee

The local Gulf Oil Corporation business changed consignees the first of the week with Tommy Bonds replacing Alton Hobdy.

Bonds said that his filling station which has formerly sold Phillips gasoline and all major brands of oil, will be changed to Gulf and the headquarters of the Gulf business would be housed in the station instead of the warehouse as it was in the past. Bonds' station will continue to sell all major brands of oil.

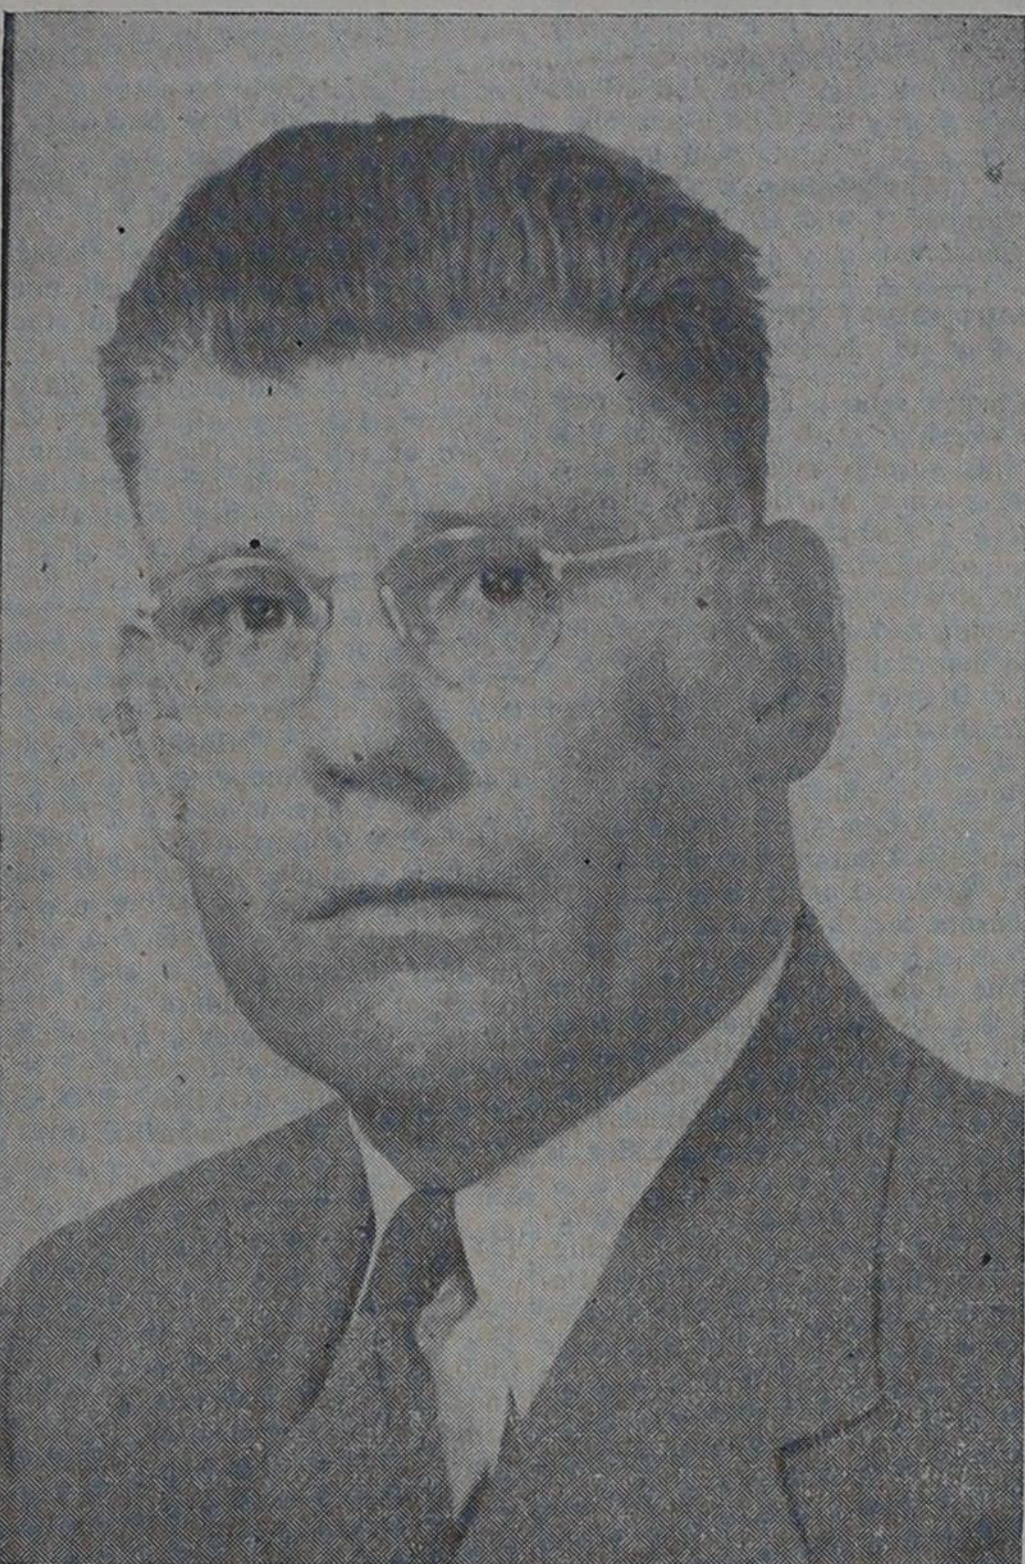

Bonds stressed that the telephone at the warehouse will be moved to the station and that the number would be the same as was used by the Gulf Oil Corporation at the warehouse. A wholesale pump will be installed at the station to fill barrels etc., Bonds said.

The station is located at the corner of North and Second Streets. Tommy was raised in Bovina and was a 1947 graduate of Bovina High School. He studied one year at West Texas State College at Canyon and was in the U. S. Army in 1952-53.

He was a partner with his father, N. E. Bonds, until the first of this year when he took over the station completely.

Tommy, his wife, Reba, and their two-year-old son, Tommy Keith, reside on Eighth Street in Bovina.

Hobdy said that his plans for the future were not complete but he did not plan to leave Bovina.

WARREN EMBREE will be the executive vice-president and cashier of the First National Bank of Bovina. Embree moved to Bovina from Carrollton and was in the banking business there. He is married and has two children.

JOE TEMPLE, one of the out-of-town directors of the First National Bank of Bovina, has spent much time and effort in the organization of the bank. Temple is a director and cashier in the Hale Center National Bank in Hale Center.

Merchants Offer Many Free Prizes

Interested Bovina merchants decided Thursday to have "something extra" for Saturday, October 29, due to the opening of the First National Bank of Bovina.

The idea of the Special Day—called that for lack of a better name—is to attract people to town for the bank's opening and to try to encourage them to do more of their business in Bovina.

The meeting was held in the local Fire Hall with some 20 individuals attending. The group voted unanimously to have "something special" for the day, and elected to leave the details up to the program committee that was appointed by Mayor O. W. Rhinehart. Rhinehart presided at the meeting.

Dolph Moten was appointed chairman of the program committee. Other committee members are Edna Estes, secretary; Frank Truitt, treasurer; Marie Venable and Troy Fuller.

Rhinehart said, before the decision was officially made to have the "day," "Many people are never in a town that has a bank opening and it will probably be a long time before we have another one in Bovina." He went on to say that if a merchant fails to benefit by such a day that it will probably be the fault of the merchant himself.

Donations of $2.50 were accepted by the committee to pay for the bonds that will be given away at the drawing that will be held Saturday afternoon. The $2.50 will also cover the cost of having handbills printed and the postage for mailing the handbills.

To be eligible for the drawing, an individual has to register at the bank sometime during the day. The bank opens at 9:00 a. m.

There will be music by the Bovina High School band and the All Star Texans in the afternoon. Arlin Hartzog will be the master of ceremonies for the show.

Free coffee will be served to the public in the Fire Hall all day. The Pepsi-Cola Company will furnish some 2,000 soft drinks for the public.

The list of prizes to be given away at the drawing—you have to be present to win—includes one $50 savings bond, and two $25 savings bonds. The bonds will be paid for by local businessmen and individuals. Also to be given away; a $15 Parker pen by A. J. Ellison Insurance Agency, the pen may be picked up by the winner at Bovina Drug; a floor mat for any automobile by Hammonds Service Station; a fire grenade by Berggren Extinguisher Service; $5 in service by Ward's Welding; one gallon of Prestone by Rhodes Gulf Service Station; a three year subscription to The Bovina Blade; a box of delicious apples by Elkins Food Company; and 100 gallons of butane by Bovina Butane Service.

Also, $5 in merchandise from Williams Mercantile Company; $5 in merchandise from Bovina Drug; $5 worth of lunches at City Cafe; $5 in merchandise or service from Y&R Electric; $5 in groceries from Combs Grocery; $5 worth of service from Hammonds Electric; $5 in cash from O. W. Rhinehart; one gallon of Zerex from Bonds Service Station; and $5 in service from Edd's (Continued On Last Page)

Bovina Teachers Teach Teachers

A group of Bovina elementary school teachers are holding classes to instruct new Bovina elementary teachers and a group of five Friona elementary teachers on "Steps to Mastery of Words."

The classes have been held on Monday afternoon, immediately following school, at the school building for the past five weeks. Now the meetings will be held every other week to continue as long as thought necessary.

Miss Grace Paul, Miss Lillian Fisher, Mrs. J. T. Hammonds, Mrs. Aubrey Rhodes, Mrs. Hodge Rigdon, Mrs. R. E. Everett, and Mrs. A. B. Wilkinson, substitute teacher, comprise the group of instructors.

All but Mrs. Everett, who attended school on the subject matter before last, took a course on mastery of words at Eastern New Mexico University last summer.

Among the new Bovina teachers attending the classes are Mrs. Pat Terry, Mrs. Ruth Thornton, Mrs. W. E. Williams, and Mrs. W. R. Beaird.

The principal of the Friona elementary school and his wife attended the first meeting of the group, and gave his approval of the methods studied. The course is designed to enable the teachers to aid their students in reading and spelling.

Phonics is a part of the course. Phonics consists of learning to spell and pronounce basic sounds of which 85 percent of the words in the English language are composed. When mastered, phonics gives a person the skill to attach new words.

The text book used by the teachers while taking their course at ENMU was "Why Johnny Can't Read."

Leading Students At Bovina Schools Are Announced

Students making both the "A" and "B" honor rolls in Bovina schools were announced Tuesday, October 25, by W. H. Willoughby, superintendent.

The grades were made during the first six weeks of school. To qualify for the "A" honor roll, a student must make A's in each course. The "B" Honor Roll requires aspirants to make an A or a B in each course.

Any student who made a C was automatically disqualified even though he might have made A's in his other courses.

The following students are those qualifying for a place on the honor rolls of the first six weeks:

Mrs. W. E. Williams' first grade: "A" Honor Roll: Karen Beauchamp, Wayne Davies, Danny Martin, Lane Gober, Kregg Wilson, and Randy Jones. "B" Honor Roll: Betty Kembrough, Ronnie Ellison, Lloyd Summers, Roxanna Hutto, Lee Terry, Billy Dan Booher, Eddi Corn, and Jan Booher.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF BOVINA will be temporarily located in this office space formerly occupied by Wilson-Brock Insurance Agency. The office of O. W. Rhinehart is on the left (in the picture), and the City Hall is to the right. Wilson and Brock moved into the City Hall. The bank's permanent building is to be built on the southeast corner of the intersection of Third and North Streets. Construction is scheduled to start sometime within the next 30 days.

Whittlin'

By Dolph Moten

What's going to happen come Saturday? The first national bank ever organized in Parmer County is going to open in Bovina for the first and main thing, and to go along with that is a lot of fun and entertainment for everyone that is sponsored by the businessmen and women of the town. And not only business people but several interested individuals have chipped in and helped by monetary means.

Saturday, October 29 is, I sincerely hope, going to be a great day in Bovina.

If this affair, that was planned and figured out in such a short time goes over in even a moderately big way, no telling what we might put on in the future.

This column was complimented the other day I think. A fellow told me that people were absolutely afraid not to read "Whittlin'" because it just stands to reason, law of averages and all that stuff, that sooner or later there will be something in it worth reading and nobody wants to miss it.

I hope he is right about the readership and I had never really thought about the why of the readership, if any.

This fellow went on to say, with tongue in cheek, that it just wasn't possible for one man to write so much about nothing week after week without saying something sooner or later that's important.

I'm a firm believer in the fact that if the people are talking about what you are doing, whether they're cussing, discussing, or complimenting, that it must be worth just a little or they wouldn't be paying any attention.

It's just this plain old silence that makes me worry.

Will be forced to admit that if I look the expression about "if what you are saying isn't more important than silence; then be silent" seriously, The Blade might have a column of white space down the left hand side of page one some weeks. But nonetheless, if you like it, say something about it, not necessarily to me but to someone, and if you don't like it, let human nature prevail and say something about it about twice as loud to the same people.

So much for that. Did you ever seriously consider what a great guy your wife would consider you now, had you called off the wedding a couple of weeks before it was scheduled to be held.

Understand that the local school officials are planning a basketball tournament to be held in mid-December. Invitations have been sent to several schools in this area asking both boys' and girls' teams to participate.

To date, not enough teams have decided to enter but there is still a very good chance that enough will enter to have the tournament.

Basketball tournaments, in my opinion, are a lot of fun not only for the players but for the spectators as well. Am anxious for this one to be put on and for it to have good attendance. Feel sure that the attendance will take care of itself. Bovina seems to be, as a rule, a very sports-minded town.

Speaking of attendance, what happened to the crowd at last Friday night's football game?

Was talking to a Texas Tech grad prior to last Saturday's college football games. After trying, to no avail, to convince him that A&M could beat Baylor, he decided that Tech would surely defeat The University of Houston.

There will be another year. Maybe things will be different.

Incidentally, if I'm not mistaken, A&M and Tech renew their rivalry next year. Should be a very, very interesting sporting contest.

And now I know. The anti-freeze business was a money-maker over the weekend.

The people, Edna Estes, Marie Venable, and Frank Truitt, who collected the money for the bonds, advertising, and other expenses for the special day need to be given a pat on the back.

The duty they were performing wasn't a pleasant task for anyone and the cause they were working for won't help them anymore than it will the next fellow. But they did a wonderful job. We're fortunate (Continued on page 5.)

Mustangs Trample Underdog Hart, 32-12, Friday Night

The Bovina Mustangs romped over the underdog Hart Longhorns Friday night before a smaller-than-usual crowd at Mustang Field, 33-12.

Playing without the services of star back, Neil Smith, the Mustangs racked up a 21-0 lead in the half and added two more touchdowns to that score in the second half before a substitute-filled lineup allowed the Longhorns to count for their two touchdowns.

Larry Ezell kicked off to Hart to begin the game and the Mustangs forced the Longhorns to punt from the 11 yard line. Darrell

Read gathered in the punt on the 34 and returned it to the 26. Five plays later, the locals scored their first TD, Ezell carrying thru the middle standing up from the one.

Read's placement—his fifth in a row—was good. (He kicked four consecutive points after touchdowns in the Plains game the week before.)

Hart took the ensuing kickoff and marched to the Bovina 49 before they again lost the ball on downs.

Read made one yard and then Larry Ezell, playing his most spectacular game of the season, got loose down the left side line for his second touchdown in the first quarter. Read's sixth consecutive kick was good and the locals were ahead by a 14-0 count.

The Longhorns were again forced to punt on the second play of the second quarter. Read returned the kick from his own 38 to the 40.

But in three plays they had not managed for a first down so Read punted to the Hart eight and it was returned back to the 11. Forced to punt from that point, the attempted kick was partially blocked and it went out of bounds on the (Continued On Last Page)

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Cooperation

Cooperation is what the committee that was collecting the money for Bovina's Special Day reported after making their rounds. Not in any case did they get an absolute refusal.

This is a good sign. It wouldn't be unusual for a town the size of Bovina to have at least five percent contrary diehards who wouldn't support anything that might make a little fun for someone or even themselves, or make their town a better place in which to live.

The committee was surprised at the large percentage of willing-to-take-part business people whom they encountered.

It is, to say the least, a feather in the cap of Bovina to have this type of people and such a large percentage of them for its merchants.

There were, of course, some very few who wouldn't participate, but they didn't refuse right off the bat or say it wasn't a good thing or anything like that. Those who didn't participate just decided to think the situation over and then just "never did get around to doing anything about it."

Also, there was a very minimum of disagreement about what kind of activities would be had on the Special Day. Here again, there was some discussion that could have been called argument by a pessimist, but as a whole, the people realized that the individuals tending to the details also were human and they allowed for differences of opinion.

This editorial may be being published prematurely, but the worst of the planning is over and from here on in, the main thing to do will be to carry out the plans that have already been made.

But if this day comes off like it has the potential of doing, the people of Bovina should well be proud of one another!

There is nothing more discouraging than to have your hair dressed in a very becoming style and then those few neck line locks come slipping down in a stragly mess. Maybe the rest of your hair has a good permanent. But that is sometimes the way neck line locks do after your permanent is trimmed a time or two and those neck line strands are just about as straight and contrary as anything you have ever seen.

The best thing to do for them is get some permanent pickup curls in them. Maybe you need only two to six curls. Or if the front hair line is not holding your set well either—then get a whole hair-line permanent. It doesn't cost much and you get almost twice as much good as from your original permanent.

Another thing we are featuring at June's Beauty Salon is—Pin Curl Permanents—these curls are inexpensive and if you like a looser curl in your hair, they are just what you need and especially between your regular permanents. If your permanent has grown out enough all over so as not to hold your set well then try one of these inexpensive and time saving curls. It takes only a very short time more to get one of these. They do not take the place of your regular permanent but will certainly help to tide you over a longer period before your next regular permanent and keep your hair well groomed.

These curls are not especially new but are being given again more recently. I gave my first one 10 years ago at a hair dressing show at the Herring Hotel in Amarillo. At that time permanent waves were given as tight as you could make them and these curls being looser, didn't prove to be very successful in longer hair, but today with short hair and natural looking hairdos they are very nice and inexpensive.

We have both the hair-line permanent and the pin curl permanent at June's Beauty Salon—call 4291 for appointment. June Norton and Tom Paul McCuan, beauticians.

Good Neighbor Club Has New Officers

The Bovina Good Neighbor Club met October 21, with Mrs. Henry Wilkerson. Mrs. Howard Looney, vice-president, took charge of the meeting and the election committee reported the names of the officers for the coming year.

In the business meeting, plans for the Christmas party were completed. It will be December 9th in the home of Mrs. Arthur Kent. Miss Stinson, county home demonstration agent, then took over the meeting and demonstrated samples of floor coverings and how to clean them.

Refreshments of punch and cookies were served to Mesdames Bandy, Dunavent, Englant, Johnson, Kent, Looney, Morris, Murray, Newberry, Owens, Stevens, Turner, Jones and Wilkerson.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. J. T. Jones who lives five miles south of Bovina.

One visitor attended the meeting—Mrs. D. S. Harrell.

Wesleyan Guild Holds Study

The Wesleyan Guild met Monday night at the Methodist Church to hold their second in a series of studies on the Indians American.

After the group had sung a hymn, Mrs. Bedford Caldwell opened the study. Mrs. Wayne Young gave a report on Indian life on the reservation.

Mrs. Bedford Caldwell then gave a discussion on health and sanitary conditions of typical reservations. Mrs. Margaret Caldwell gave the group a talk on Indian life off the reservation.

Mrs. W. R. Beard gave a synopsis on an article which recently appeared in the Readers' Digest, "The Indians Are Going to Town."

The study was closed with a devotional with Mrs. Dolph Moten reading the scripture and Mrs. Beard leading a directed prayer.

A short business meeting was then held, lead by Grace Paul, vice president. It was decided that the Guild and Marzie Lynn Circle would join together Tuesday, November 1, to have an Indian supper and view slides pertaining to Indian life.

Mrs. Bedford Caldwell and June Norton volunteered to serve on a committee to plan for the coming joint meeting.

Those attending the study were Mrs. Bedford Caldwell, Mrs. June Norton, Mrs. Wilbur Charles, Mrs. Margaret Caldwell, Mrs. Wayne Young, Mrs. W. R. Beard, Mrs. Dolph Moten, Mrs. Wayne Stevens, Miss Grace Paul and Rita Caldwell.

If starting a bank is anything like starting a newspaper, I know how Warren Embree feels about now.

To the people that feel like Bovina's progress is too slow, I'd like to ask them to consider some of the improvements that have been made since June:

New school completed, sewer system coming, street lighting coming, the bank's opening, and several other new businesses started.

It's true that there are still a lot of improvements that need to be done and can be done but progress is being made and many

Farm Bureau Has Annual Convention

By W. H. Graham Jr.

Gilbert Kaltwasser, farmer from the Oklahoma Lane community, was re-elected president of the Parmer County Farm Bureau at its annual convention in Bovina Thursday night.

New directors elected at the meeting included Sterling Donaldson, Henry Hamilton, and J. T. Jones. Les Bruns was re-elected a director.

Named as delegates to the state FB convention are Roy Miller, E. T. Ford, Bruce Parr, Raymond Schueler, Truman Kent, Harry Hamilton, Sterling Donaldson, and J. T. Jones. Of this group, seven will be voting delegates.

The convention, which opened with a concert by the Bovina High School band, was presided over by Kaltwasser, who this past year finished the unexpired term of Lubra Ellison.

Roy Miller gave the financial report of the county Bureau, and E. T. Ford followed up with a membership report. Raymond Euler, service representative, reported on the organization's insurance programs.

The biggest part of the evening was taken up in the discussion and adoption of resolutions which will govern Farm Bureau policy in the coming year.

Of 18 proposals offered the delegation, by the resolutions committee, 17 were adopted.

Here is the stand of the county Farm Bureau's membership on vital issues:

They oppose compulsory Social Security for farmers.

They favor retention of the tractor gas refund program.

They would keep for the state the privilege of taxing motor fuels—in preference to this power passing to the federal government.

They request a refund of two cents per gallon for the federal tax paid on farm gasoline which is not consumed on state-and federally-built highways.

In cases where downstream dams are built, they favor a tax on the users to pay for these structures.

They believe the people should elect representatives to a state water board.

They support the Texas "right to work" law.

They ask for a law that will require certification of the contents of manufactured feed.

They want to be able to use their pickups as passenger cars, not requiring additional licensing.

They would like to see the quality of feed grain influence the support prices on these commodities. This is especially true in the case of content of noxious weed seeds.

They unanimously support the adoption of the Farm Bureau "Land Fertility Bank."

(But if this program cannot be adopted, they favor:)

90 percent supports on non-basic commodities.

A revision of the parity formula on grain sorghums.

Flexible supports, provided acreages can be increased. (This resolution carried by a majority of 12-10.)

A resolution to make grain sorghums a basic commodity was defeated 11-19.

They favor encouraging foreign trade by accepting foreign currency.

They want more patrolmen on the highways to enforce traffic laws.

They want to keep the "trend" factor in cotton allotments.

A resolution was offered from the floor to make underground water resources tax deductible in a manner similar to the oil depletion allowance.

Three resolutions were adopted that pertain only to county matters:

1. They favor continuation of the weed committee's work.

2. They commended the county, the railroad, and the state highway department on cooperation in the weed control program.

3. They favor the circulation of a petition to determine if a weed control district should not be formed.

Alan Abel Entertains In School Assembly

Alan Abel, National Champion Drummer, Author and Comedian, entertained in an assembly in the Bovina High School Auditorium Friday, October 21, at 10:30 a. m.

Abel has built his career around drums. His presentation of "The History of the Drum and Its Effect on Civilization Today" was the product of years of study, research, and practical experience.

Through study and research Abel has become an authority on rudimentary drums. He has lectured seriously on the subject at the New York Metropolitan Museum of Natural History, and has made an educational movie about it for students.

His greatest success, however, has come through his personal appearances as a drummer-entertainer. His program on Friday featured original drum solos, marching rhythms, Latin-American rhythms, early messages sent by cave-men, how anyone can play the drums, and what drummers think about when they play.

The noted columnist, Earl Wilson, wrote, "Abel's reputation will probably rest on his 'History of the Snare Drum' which starts like this: 'I have an archaeologist, who, after a diligent search among the 2000-year-old ruins and pyramids of Egypt, tells me that the snare drum originally came from a music store in New York.'"

Calling generously on satire, wit and humor, Abel romped through the six thousand year history of drums with rare enthusiasm. He emphasized the fascinating story of drums, accenting their niche in the musical world of today—doing so with deftness, drollery, and hilarious double-talk.

"With four children, you want to heat water the SAFE WAY ... of course, it's Electric!"

says Mrs. Roy N. Byrd, Jr.
1209 20th STREET,
CANYON, TEXAS

"When Roy and I picked a water heater for our new Canyon home, the safety of our four children was the first consideration. We had two electric water heaters at our farm, so we knew that we could be safely sure with an electric water heater in our new city home."

"I was really surprised when one new 40 gallon electric water heater proved to be enough in our new home—especially after having two. But, we've never run out."

"My clothes washer works every day — at least once — and yet the water heater keeps up with it and the dishwasher, too, which I use at least two times every day."

"Then, at the sink, I'm always using hot water for cooking, to prepare food for the freezer, or to wash out things for the children. There's always enough."

"Four children can produce a lot of dirty hands — and keep the baths busy. We have a shower and a tub so that we can clean them up in shifts—and that takes lots of hot water."

"My electric water heater gives me plenty of hot water, an extra counter space, and a feeling of complete safety about my children. It goes perfectly with the other work-saving electric appliances in my home."

THE PARING KNIFE

Report cards are out. As usual, some parents are pleased and others highly displeased, with their children and sometimes even the teachers.

Just goes to show you that no matter what type of occupation one has, he's always subjected to criticism from the public. Can't think of one exception.

Little Jay Turner walked in with his report card Friday to show it to his mother. He had a very long face when he said, "I got two zeros."

His mother's face fell as she solemnly took his report card. 'Twas quite a relief to find Jay had two zeros for not being absent or tardy.

Saw Mike Thornton the other night at this uncle's house. I said, "Mike, come talk to me." Before the child had a chance to open his mouth, Ruth Thornton said, "Don't say a word Mike, or she'll put it in the paper."

They're planning quite a celebration for the opening of the bank. Should be alot of fun.

Don't forget to turnout for it. All kinds of prizes will be given away.

Sent Dolph to the store the other day to buy a ham. I had in mind a nice small one just big enough for two.

But not Dolph. He came home with a whole ham. It tastes wonderful, but two people are sure going to have a hard time eating it.

If anyone would care for a ham sandwich at any time, just come on over.

Heard some Bovina women discussing how much better it is to go see a doctor when you're afraid something might be wrong with you instead of waiting and worrying.

The peace of mind you gain by doing so is worth the time you spend visiting your physician.

Couldn't help but think how much better for everyone concerned it would be if a person didn't have to go to Friona, Farwell or Clovis to see a doctor.

In other words, why doesn't Bovina have a doctor?

Read in a newspaper the other day that the Queen Mother was the one really suffering over Princess Margaret's major problem of "whether to follow her heart or her mind."

This article seemed to think that the good mother must feel as if she had done differently somewhere along the line, the young princess wouldn't be in such a dilemma today.

The article was quite a tear jerker. It said the mother had probably been extra nice to her younger daughter since the crown must go to the older sister.

Think the whole situation is pretty silly and overblown myself. This incident is getting almost as much publicity as the queen's coronation.

But then maybe I just don't attach the correct proportion of importance to a princess' desire to marry someone not quite up to her standards.

A swing band is being organized by Wayne Stevens, the new high school band director. This band will consist of the better members of the high school band, chosen after tryouts, and will call themselves Pops Band.

When first I heard of this proposed organization, heard that they were going to play for dances, something of course naturally opposed to by most parents.

Checked into this rumor and found it to be just exactly that, a rumor. Stevens tells me that the band will just play in the band room for their own enjoyment. Then later, when they get good, they will be glad to play for entertainment of various groups.

Sounds like a wonderful idea to me. We're always looking for some form of new and different entertainment for our various gatherings, and here it is.

Again, I'd like to call your attention to the very good job Wayne Stevens is doing with the kids in the band. His students' progress is remarkable.

Weekend Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Morton from O'Donnell visited Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Charles and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith during the weekend. Morton is Mrs. Smith's and Mrs. Charles' brother.

PTA Sponsors Youth Canteen

The Parent-Teachers Association aided by other parents sponsored a youth canteen after the Hart-Bovina ball game Friday night. The members of the Hart football team and pep squad were invited as well as the local team, pep squad, and all junior high and high school students.

Mrs. Earl Stevenson, who is the Chairman of the youth canteen committee, reported that they will probably sponsor another canteen next Friday night and they invite all the teen-agers to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Purvis of Altus, Okla., spent the weekend visiting in the home of their daughter and family, the Lloyd Kiloughs.

Mustangs Romp Over Underdog Hart, 35-12

Hart 30.

Billy Burnam made two to the 28, Ezell went to the 23, and from that point, Read passed to Ezell in the end zone for the third touchdown of the game. Read's kick—good. 21-0.

The locals scored one more touchdown in the first half on a Read to Ezell pass but it was called back due to a 15 yard penalty for illegal use of the hands.

The half ended with the score 21-0.

The Mustangs took a short kickoff to begin the second half on their own 49. Julius Bradshaw picked up 11 yards in two carries to put the ball on the Hart 40. Ezell went to the 31 and then to the 29. Read faked a handoff, hid the ball behind his left leg and scampered around his left end for the fourth touchdown.

Read's attempted placement for the extra point was halted due to a bad pass from center. He was stopped trying to run the point over.

Hart was again held on downs after taking the kickoff and again their punt was partially blocked and the locals took the offensive on their own 40. Read carried to the 49 and then Burnam went off left tackle on a reverse for the score and the fifth touchdown. The running attempt for the extra point was no good. 33-0.

The Longhorns had moved the ball down to the Bovina three at the end of the third quarter. On the first play of the fourth quarter, they went over and had their first score of the game. Their pass attempt for the extra point was complete but not good for the needed yardage and the score remained 33-6.

The Longhorns, quarterback sneaked their second touchdown over from three yards out. Their extra point attempt was worthless and the scoring was ended for the night at 33-12.

The locals meet the heralded Kress Kangaroos at Bovina Friday night. Smith is due to see limited action.

Kress has a 7-0 season record and has a 25-20 win over the Happy Cowboys, a team that defeated Bovina by a 28-0 count.
