Value of Dickens County Farms Jumps $3,000,000 in Half Decade

The following figures taken from the preliminary farm census of 1930 show agricultural development in Dickens County of have been exceptional during the last five years and the value of farms to have increased over 2 million dollars in that time. A depressing note in the survey, however, is the trend of farm management to pass from the hands of owners into the hands of tenants.

The total number of farms is now 1,228 with an acreage of 629,309 as compared with 967 in 1925 with an acreage of 513,237; and the value of them, $13,145,659 as compared with $9,713,151 the value five years previous. The figures show an increase of only 70 farms operated by owners compared to an increase of 344 operated by tenants.

The report shows an increase of 500 horses, 1500 mules, 5,500 cattle, and the most notable, an increase of 1750 milk cows and 21,000 chickens. A decrease of 350 hogs is shown.

State survey shows an increase of 30,000 farms; a decrease of those operated by owners of 11,000, and an increase of those operated by tenants of 69,000.

Trench Silos Are Cheap And Very Efficient

In all states where livestock has become a major project in the farm program, silos have proved an economy. It has demonstrated beyond any doubt that the silos is the most efficient means of saving the feed crop; that the feeding of ensilage to dairy or beef cattle makes for cheaper production, whether it be beef or milk.

H. H. Gracey, of Dallas county, Texas, experienced in the feeding of beef calves, advocates the use of the silo on every farm where there is sufficient livestock to consume its contents. His experience has been with the trench silo, proving that when this form of silo is properly constructed, it will serve the same purpose as the more expensive types of tile or concrete structures.

Mr. Gracey, in the construction of his trench silo, selected a well drained location and used teams and slips to do the excavation work. His trench, when finished, was approximately 50 feet long, 12 feet wide and 6 feet deep. The walls slope toward the center, which is an aid in packing the ensilage. It holds about 100 tons. It furnishes silage for sixty calves, a layer of about 6 inches being taken off daily during the feeding period. To make this better understood, Mr. Gracey suggests that one imagine the regular silo laid flat on the ground, taking the silage out from the end. This leaves the remainder of the silage fully protected.

Mr. Gracey filled his trench silo with hegari. He cut it with a row binder and ran it through a mill with the burrs removed. This cut it into lengths of about one-fourth inch. It was put into the trench in layers, well watered and thoroughly tramped. Time was allowed for it to settle, after which it was covered with one foot of straw, thoroughly wet and tramped. Then it was covered with a foot of dirt, teams and slips being used to round it off on top and to improve the drainage.

This trench silo was constructed early last summer. It was filled in August and opened in January. The ensilage was sweet and of high quality, with practically no loss on top or along the sides of the walls.—By M. W. Holland in Farm & Ranch

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Halle, of Afton, were in Spur Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Caudell spent the past weekend in Chillicothe.

AN OLD-TIME PREACHER

One minister in this community whose income from his pastorate being insufficient for a livelihood, has gone into the fields with the laborers and chopped cotton twelve hours for the regulation dollar a day. This man has done this with no thought of praise or a reward beyond being able to continue to serve his charges, and in his sermons is found no trace of resentment—only an abiding faith in humanity and the religion of the fathers.

Such was the undaunted faith of the crusader and the old-time preachers of the gospel, and is deserving of something more substantial than mere praise.

Fire Boys Save Jopling Residence

The immediate response of the Spur Fire Department to a call to the G. E. Jopling house in the east part of the city Saturday night saved the house and with very little damage done to the property.

Til Edwards was living in the house but was in Dickens at the time the blaze was noticed by neighbors, who turned in the alarm. Origin of the fire is unknown.

Acreage Cut Looks Good For Cotton Market This Fall

According to preliminary and private estimates on the cotton acreage this year the market will be better his fall. Rough estimates show the acreage to have been cut approximately 15 percent and with a 54 percent cut in the purchase of fertilizer for cotton lands in the old states it is thought by some that the 1931 crop will not run above 13 million bales.

Regardless of the enormous surplus, if such a short crop is made this year, the price will go up and stay up.

Speaking of Dry Planting---

J. H. Airhart, of Big Spring, an early settler and former citizen of this community is back for a visit with relatives and old time friends, and Thursday dropped in to pay his respects to the Texas Spur force.

In commenting on the drought and general depression he told us a story of early day agriculture here. He said that in the year 1882 a cotton crop was planted on the Bill McArthur place to the southwest of Spur and that three years later the cotton came up to a good stand and made a crop.

While Mr. Langford and Jim McCollum were repairing the Big Lake road last week, they witnessed a combat between a big rattlesnake and a cottontail rabbit.

Mr. McCollum said they heard the loud whirring of a rattlesnake in the weeds near where they were working. On investigation they saw a large rattler's head raised above the weeds, while a cottontail was making quick leaps at the creature in an effort to bite it. After watching the strange combat for a few moments, they proceeded to kill the snake and when they did so, they found the snake had swallowed several young members of the rabbit's family, and the mother rabbit was making a heroic fight to save her little ones. They found only one of the young brood left.

Mother love will make even a timid rabbit fight for its young. Sterling City News.

Mr. Logan, of Snyder was a weekend guest in Spur.

Ward Harris, of McAdoo was here Saturday.

Little Dorothy Bowman Suffers Severe Fracture in Fall

Dorothy Bowman, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Bowman of near Spur, severely crushed her arm and shoulder Monday of this week when the horse she was riding fell with her. She was immediately taken to the Nichols Sanitarium where surgical aid was rendered. Doctors report that she will not be released for two weeks or longer.

What is Cotton?

Cotton is the overcoat of a seed that is planted and grown in the southern states to keep the producer broke and the buyer crazy. The fibre varies in color and weight and the man who can guess the nearest the length of a fibre is called a cotton man by the public, a fool by the farmer, and a poor business man by his creditors.

The price of cotton is fixed in New York and goes up when you have sold and down when you have bought. A buyer for a group of mills was sent to New York to watch the cotton market, and after a few days' deliberation wired his firm to this effect: "Some think it will go up. Some think it will go down. I do too. Whatever you do will be wrong. Act at once."

Cotton is planted in the spring and harvested in the summer and left in the field in winter.

"An Old Fashioned Mother" Will Be Presented July 11

"An Old Fashioned Mother," will be presented at the Forman Chapel church, Saturday night, July 11th at 8:45. Admission of 10c and 15c will be charged and the proceeds divided between the Dry Lake and Foreman Chapel churches.

The play is a real good one and fully worth the money. Come out and see it and help the churches.

"Jr. Bridge Club" Organized Friday

On Friday evening of last week at the home of Mrs. Joe Stotts, Miss Julia Mae Albin was a very charming hostess to the newly organized club which was christened "The Jr. Club." The girls chose as their president, Miss Betsy Wilson; secretary, and treasurer, Era Belle Hogan; reporter, Mary Wooten.

After a business meeting the girls enjoyed a few hands of bridge after which a refreshment of ice cream and cake was served to the following: Misses Era Belle Hogan, Pattie Ann King, Iva Shepherd, Velma Snodgrass, Betsy Wilson, and Mary Wooten. The girls mentioned above, Wanda Watson and Roberta Hisey are charter members.—Rep.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank the fire boys for saving my house Saturday night. Due to their quick work only slight damage was done.—G. B. JOPLING.

Dud Jones of Elton was a visitor in the city Saturday.

Haney & Sons Store Burned at Afton Friday

J. H. Haney & Sons general mercantile company of Afton, one of the oldest establishments in the county, was completely destroyed by fire Friday morning of the past week.

The fire was started by the explosion of a small gasoline stove that was being tried out for sale. The stove exploded, throwing gasoline all over the store and the flames were instantly beyond control.

Byron and Bernie Haney were in the store at the time the fire started but were unable to check the flames or save any of the merchandise.

The business will be reestablished as soon as a building can be procured and a stock of goods installed.

35 Cars Wheat Shipped to Date

Up to the middle of this week around thirty-five cars of wheat have been marketed and shipped from Spur. The grain movement has been delayed considerably by wet weather and possibly more than 50 more will be shipped before the end of the season.

The wheat is of excellent quality, very little smut being in evidence, and is testing around 62. The price is a little better than 32 cents.

No oats or other small grain has been shipped due to the extreme low market price and high freight rates, and it is estimated that a great portion of the wheat will be held for feed.

Tragedy Recalls Spur Visitors to Rio Grande Valley

Another railroad crossing collected its toll of death Sunday morning when a freight train collided with a light truck near Val Verde in the Rio Grande Valley. The dead are Mrs. R. A. Yaws, 50, her daughter, Juanita, 15, and nephew, Adrian Blanet, 12, all of Val Verde. Mr. Yaws, 53, was critically injured but barring complications is expected to recover.

The news was received here by Mrs. Kyle Rogers, a daughter of Mrs. Yaws, who was visiting here at the time; and the Rogers and Mrs. Lewis Rickles, a sister of Mr. Yaws, left immediately for the scene of the tragedy.

Valuable Feed Stack Burned

A valuable feed stack belonging to Seemon Reynolds burned Tuesday of this week, destroying with it three hogs in a nearby pen. The stack was wheat that had been cut in the 'dough' for feeding purposes and was totally destroyed.

Mr. Reynolds who is employed in the city at Musser Lumber company, was not at home at the time of the fire and no one reached it in time to let the hogs out of the pen.

An Economical Farm Disinfectant

Poultrymen and others who find it necessary to be using some kind of disinfectant occasionally will be glad to know of a new formula which can be made at home and at very little expense when compared to buying same:

FOR STOCK SOLUTION
1 can 12 ounces bleaching powder.
2 pounds washing soda.
Mix in a 2 gallon COLORED bottle or jug with about one gallon of water, shake well, then fill the jug nearly full and shake again. Let it stand a few hours and keep in a cool, dark place. Draw off about one pint in a colored bottle for convenience.

About one teaspoonful of the above mixture per one gallon of water is strong enough for ordinary use in disinfecting the premises. And about a teaspoon of the last mentioned mixture per water bucket of water may be used as a drinking disinfectant.

The stock solution should not be kept over ten days or two weeks. A fresh supply should be made at least that often. This stock solution is an approximate 4 per cent solution sodium hypochlorite solution sold under various trade names at high prices. It is very slightly corrosive to metals.

Dickens County Road Bonds Sold To Seed Breeder

County Judge Newberry returned last week from San Marcus where he closed a deal with Ed Kasch who purchased several Dickens County bonds.

Mr. Kasch is the noted breeder and grower of Kasch cottonseed and in connection with his seed farms, operates the most up-to-date dairy in the San Marcus section of the state.

A CALL FOR SILK RAGS

In the Legion Hospitals disabled soldiers are calling for silk rags of every kind to use in rug making. Let us have all your silk rags. Saturday July 11, a special drive will be made by Auxiliary members to collect all the silk rags available. If you have any call or see any of the following: Mesdames Austin BELL, E. M. Hale, E. C. Pre-School Conference To Be Held at Girard

The Pre-School Conference to be held at Girard Monday, July 13, will be turned into a regular holiday picnic. Aside from the official business to be conducted on that day, dinner will be served on the ground and a baseball game will be played in the afternoon.

Miss Kooiker, state health nurse and Mr. Earnest White, state sanitary engineer, will be in charge of the examination of the children and the general conduct of the health program. Children who enter school for the first time next term are to be examined.

A canning demonstration is to be given by the new demonstration agent for Kent county, Miss Johnnie Reed.

Everybody is cordially invited to attend, bring your dinners and stay all day.

Mrs. Ned Hogan Painfully Injured

Mrs. Ned Hogan was painfully injured Wednesday evening when she stepped on a needle which broke off in her foot. She was taken to Nichols Sanitarium where X-rays were made and the needle recovered by probing.

"CAN A CALF" CLUB IS OPENING CONTEST DRIVE

In furtherance of the live at home program being sponsored by the Home Demonstration and County Agent departments of Dickens County, a can a calf club has been organized for the purpose of getting every family in this territory that is possible to can a calf.

The Chamber of Commerce is offering as a prize two free trips to the Short Course at A. & M. next summer to one woman or girl from each of the two Home Demonstration Clubs signing up the most families in the Dickens County Can a Calf Club. To be sure those who fail to can a calf will not count. Every person or family in Dickens County planning in canning a calf or beef of any sort this summer, fall or winter is eligible to membership.

There will be no changes of any sort to any one at any time during or after this campaign ends.

The campaign begins Saturday July 18th and ends Saturday Sept 5th at 6 P. M. for signing up.

The names of all those joining the Dickens County Can a Calf Club will be published in both Spur papers each week as they join. Our slogan is "Let's quit tying the can on the calf and begin sealing the calf in the can." Why sell your milk pen calves for almost nothing and without meat for your family during this period of meat hog scarcity? Watch the papers for further developments and more information relative to this program of live at home gospel.

If you know of some fellow who is planning on canning a calf give his name to some Club woman of your acquaintance so she can get him lined up.

Anyone in this trade territory who anticipates canning a calf or beef of any kind this summer, fall or winter see some Club woman or girl in your community and have them sign you up as a member of the Dickens County

Can a Calf Club. In case you are not acquainted with a club woman or girl you would like to help win a trip to the Short Course at A. & M. next summer, see Miss Pratt, the Home Demonstration Agent or Granberry at the Chamber of Commerce office in Spur and they will sign you up.

In case you would like to can a calf but do not have a canner or sealer nor know how to can one see one of these club women and tell her you will sign if she will help you get the equipment and show you how to do the canning. They know their stuff when it comes to this kind of work. Try the Home Demonstration Agent for help.

Dickens county has on her Sunday clothes this week following the general rain Wednesday night. The rain covered partially the entire county and surrounding counties, fell slowly, with little wind and no hail. The lightest precipitation is reported in the vicinity of Spur which was 55 hundredths. Although crops were not suffering, the rain will be of inestimable benefit to the young stuff which was panted following the rain of two weeks ago, and is just coming up. It will also be of material benefit to the older crops.

Good rains are reported at Jayton, Girard, Crosbyton, Lubbock, Paducah and other surrounding towns.

Central Texas did not fare so well in the unsettled weather, however, reports stating that at Dallas, Denison, Corsicana and intervening points, high winds not only damaged crops but caused considerable damage to houses trees and property.

The Long, Long Trail

Man is of few days and full of trouble. He laboreth all the days of his youth to pay for a gasoline chariot, and when at last the task is finished Lo! the thing is junk and he needeth another.

He planteth cotton in the earth and tilleth it intelligently, he and his servants and his asses, and when the harvest is gathered into the barns, he oweth the landlord $8.40 more than the crop is worth.

He borroweth money of the lenders to buy pork and molasses and gasoline, and the interest eateth up all that he hath.

He begets sons and daughters and educateth them to smoke cigarettes and wear a white collar, and Lo! they have soft hands and neither labor in the fields nor anywhere, under the sun.

The children of his lions are onery and one of them becometh a lawyer and another sticketh up a filling station and maketh whoopee with the substance of.

The wife of his bosom necketh with a stranger and when he rebukes her, Lo! she shooteth him in the finale.

He goes forth in the morning on the road that leadeth to the city and a jitney smiteth him so that his ribs project through his epidermis.

He drinketh of a drink of whoopee juice to forget his sorrows and it burneth out the lining from his liver.

All the days of his life he findeth no parking place, and is tormented by traffic cops from his going forth until his coming back.

An enemy stealth his car; physicians remove his inner parts and his teeth and his bank roll; his daughters showeth their legs to strangers; his arteries hardeneth in the evening of his life and when he is gathered to his father's house the neighbors sayeth: "How much did he leave?"

Lo, he hath left it all. His widow rejoiceth in a new coupe and maketh eyes at a young shiek that slicketh his hair and playeth a nifty game of poker.

Who is man! From the day of his birth to the time when earth knoweth him no more, he laboreth for bread and catcheth the devil. Dust he was in the begining and now his name is mud.—Journal American Medical Association.

THE STATE OF TEXAS

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Dickens County—Greeting: You Are Hereby Commanded, That you summon by making publication of this Citation in some newspaper published in the County of Dickens if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest County where a newspaper is published, one in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof. Wiley Felder and Dimple Hill whose residence is unknown, to be and appear before the Hon. District Court, at the regular term thereof, to be holden in the County of Dickens on the fourth Monday in August, A. D. 1931 at the Court House thereof in Dickens, Texas, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court, on the 26th day of December A. D. 1930, in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court No. 1156, wherein The Stamford & Northwestern Townsite Company, a private corporation, is plaintiff and Wiley Felder, Dimple Hill and Brazelton Lumber company are defendants.

The nature of the plaintiff's demand being as follows, to-wit: On or about the 27th day of December 1924, the defendants Wiley Felder and Dimple Hill, made, executed and delivered unto the plaintiff herein their two certain promissory notes in writing for the principal sum of $36.66 each, payable to the order of the plaintiff. Note No. 1 of said series has been paid; that plaintiff is the legal owner and holder of Note No. 2 of said series, which being in words and figures substantially as follows, to-wit: $36.66. Spur, Texas, December 27th, 1924. On or before the 27th day of December, A. D. 1926, after date for value received, we promise to pay to the order of The Stamford and Northwestern Townsite Co., at the Spur National Bank, Spur, Dickens County, Texas, Thirty-Six and 66-100 Dollars, with interest thereon from the 27th day of December, A. D. 1924, at the rate of eight per cent per annum, payable annually, and if interest be not paid when due to become as principal and bear the same rate of interest; and if this note is placed in the hands of an attorney for collection after maturity, an additional 10% on the amount to be collected shall be added for attorneys fees.

This note is given for a part of the purchase money for Lots Nos. 7 and 8 in Block No. 2 Freeman addition of the town of Spur, Texas, and is secured by a vendor lien retained in deed of conveyance, of even date herewith, made, executed and delivered by the Stamford & Northwestern Townsite Co., to us conveying said property.

This is one of a series of two promissory notes given for a part of the purchase money for said property, and it is hereby and in the said deed of conveyance, understood and agreed, that if any one of the said promissory notes or any installment of interest on all, or any of them, be not paid when due, then all of the said promissory notes, shall immediately become due and payable, at the option of the holder thereof, and suit may be immediately commenced, at the option of the holder of the said promissory notes to collect the same and to foreclose the said vendor's lien. (Signed) Wiley Felder - Dimple Hill. Endorsed:

The defendants though often requested, have failed and refused and still refuse to pay the balance principal due on said note or any interest thereon since the 27th day of Dec. 1927, to plaintiff's damage in the sum of balance, principal, interest and attorney's fees due on said note.

Plaintiff prays that the defendants be cited in terms of the law to appear and answer this

Try These Menus Sunday And Enjoy a Day of Rest

By JOSEPHINE B. GIBSON Director, Home Economics Dept., H. J. Heinz Company

SUNDAY meals should be planned very carefully, so that they may include attractive and nourishing foods, and yet will not force you to spend too much time in the kitchen.

Breakfast, of course, should be a rather substantial meal—to tide the family over until dinner, which is served rather late in most households. For the main feast, I am suggesting roast leg of lamb, since most women find a roast more practical on Sunday, and the left-over lamb can be sliced and served cold for supper the same night, or made into a savory meat pie or hash for Monday's dinner.

You will be pleased to find how easily and quickly all the meals shown here can be prepared—and your family will be sure to like them, too!

Canapes: Toast rounds of bread on one side and spread untoasted side with Mayonnaise Salad Dressing. Cover with a slice of tomato, then a slice of hard cooked egg. Top with a slice of Stuffed Spanish Olive and place strips of olive around the edge.

French Dressing: 1 teaspoon salt; 1 teaspoon paprika; 5 tablespoons Pure Vinegar; 3/4 cup Pure Olive Oil.

Mix the salt, sugar and paprika together, add vinegar and oil, and beat thoroughly. Or, put all the ingredients into a glass jar, screw lid on tightly and shake thoroughly.

Caramel Frosting: 2 cups light brown sugar; 1/2 cup milk; 2 tablespoons butter; 1 teaspoon Distilled White Vinegar; 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Mix ingredients together and bring slowly to a boil, keeping the lid on the pan. Cook to the soft ball stage (when a few drops form a soft ball in cold water.—236 degrees F.) Cool, add vanilla and beat until creamy. If the frosting becomes stiff while spreading, add a few drops of hot water.

Potato and Egg Salad: 4 cups cold potatoes, cut in cubes; 1 onion, chopped fine; 1 1/2 teaspoons salt; 1/2 teaspoon paprika; 3 hard cooked eggs, chopped; 2 tablespoons chopped parsley.

Mix potatoes, onion, salt and paprika, and marinate in French Dressing. Chill. Just before serving, add eggs, parsley and enough Mayonnaise Salad Dressing to moisten well. Pile in crisp lettuce cups and garnish with strips of red or green pepper, or thin slices of Sweet Gherkins. Serve with additional dressing, if desired.

THE INDIVIDUAL YET NEEDED BY BUSINESS

By JOHN G. LONSDALE
President American Bankers Association

SOME seem to think that the day of the individual in business has passed. But they are wrong.

John G. Lonsdale

While the individual may not attract such outstanding attention as he did in the days of old when institutions were conducted on a smaller scale, he nevertheless is to be found in a large corporation, dominating the situation, giving orders here, co-operating there and shouldering the responsibility of keeping a large group of lieutenants, captains and privates working in unison and moving forward under the banner of progress. And all of these are held accountable to the public because the public has entered into a partnership agreement with the corporation through purchase of stock.

Welfare of Workers

Even in the gigantic mergers that have taken place within the last two years there remains more than ever the necessity for a leader, an aggressive personality, whose duty it is to see that basic principles are not forgotten, that the rights and privileges of the individual workers and the customers they serve are as well provided for as in the smaller business units.

It is gratifying to note that our corporations are giving more and more concern to the welfare of their workers. Numerous benefit organizations have been formed, opportunities offered for advancement of education and position, hospital service established and insurance and retirement pensions provided. This general humanitarian movement in reality is the outgrowth of analysis, which has disclosed the need of improving the well-being of our individual workers, realizing at the same time that our institutions will benefit.

DR. MILES' ANTI-PAIN PILLS

PREPAREDNESS IN BUSINESS

By R. S. HECHT,

American Bankers Association. My observations for many years, both as an employee and as an executive, have convinced me that the reason some men and women go ahead and others do not is that some keep themselves constantly prepared to accept and fulfill larger duties and responsibilities as they offer, and some do not.

Grant, as we must, that there is a certain element of luck in the conditions under which opportunity for promotion comes to different men and women, we nevertheless must also see that it is each individual's own state of preparedness which determines his ability to seize opportunity if and when it comes, and having seized it, to succeed in meeting the greater demands which it inevitably places upon him.

Real advancement never means going ahead to easier tasks, but always to harder ones. Opportunity for advancement is worthless unless in accepting it you are able to carry with you the abilities and qualifications that prepare you to meet the heavier exactions that are an inherent part of opportunity. It is far better to go into action in the field of enlarged responsibility prepared and qualified, rather than that you and the institution you work for shall be exposed to the hazard of your having to build up to new responsibilities after having assumed them.

The new spirit of all business weeks to prepare its people in advance through education for the higher duties it holds in store for them.

TEXAS CROPS ABOVE NORMAL

Dallas, July 10.—By far the most striking feature of this month's crop report, gathered by the Department of Public Relations of the Southland Life Insurance Company, is the fact that yields of all crops now harvested are far above those produced in other years, both in quantity and quality. In addition, indications are that they have been produced at the lowest cost on record. This, of course, is especially true of oats, this crop having exceeded all expectations and being without any question the greatest crop ever produced in Texas. The valuation of this single grain crop is estimated variously at from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000.

The production of wheat also is above normal, and production of all vegetables—including tomatoes, onions, potatoes, melons and blackberries—normal or above.

The Southwestern report of "Farm and Ranch" for June—all ways considered one of the most accurate of its kind—is headed: "Bumper Crops at Low Production Cost," and, in addition to confirming statements above, also indicates that the prospects for livestock (including wool, cattle, sheep, mohair, mules, horses and goats) are far above the average. In addition to this confirmation, the Southwestern branch of a nationally known implement company reports the best season in this section since 1926, with collections and cash payments exceeding any year on record. Railroads are reporting unusually heavy movements, especially from the grain producing section and the oil section of East Texas.

Further indication of better conditions was shown by the Southland Life production for June in honor of Col. W. E. Talbot. This production was $1,163,846 in excess of June, 1930—the best month for the company since October, 1929.

Cotton appears to be in fair condition, although somewhat spotted, the most promising aspect being the absence of any great number of reports of expected insect infestation. Reduction of acreage of this staple is between 12% and 15%—probably somewhat greater than earlier expectations.

The three especially bright spots of the State are Northwest sections, because of the heavy oat crop; certain Counties in East Texas, because of oil, and, as usual, the Rio Grande Valley. Business conditions are still being reported as very slow but encouraging in prospect.

Christ Will Come To Reign Forever

I want to write some on the second coming of our Lord if I can squeeze it through your volume of news, the best county paper in the state.

Dwight L. Moody, says this is one grand theme in our Bible. Not in those words but a grander way and emphasis.

The purpose of His coming the second time is sixfold: Namely, to raise the dead; to judge the world; to save His people; to destroy the wicked; to restore all things; and to reign forever and ever.

First, I go to prepare a place for you. If I go to prepare a place for you, I will come again and receive you—John 14:2-3.

Notice Christ says I will come again and receive you that where I (Christ) am there you may be also. It has been the purpose of God from the very beginning that His people should be with him from the beginning throughout eternity.

Christ returned to Heaven from this earth in order to make preparations for this plan to be carried out. He is even now preparing that place for His people, and He will come again to take them to himself, that where He is they may be also. Notice, His people will be gathered together by His Angels when He comes, for we read:

And He shall send His Angels with a great sound of a trumpet and they shall gather together His elect from the four winds, from one end of Heaven to the other. Mat. 24:31. This much forever settles the fact that He has been here, that He went away, and is coming again.

He will come to raise the dead at the time when judgement comes. However, most of His people will be sleeping in death, and therefore one of the primary purposes of the coming of Christ is to awaken the sleeping saints and give them an immortal existence. This is plainly stated thus: For the Lord Himself shall descend from Heaven with a shout and with the trumpet of God, and the dead in Christ shall rise first. Thes. 4:16.

In the 15 chapter of 1st Cor.: This mortal must put on immortality and this corruptible must put on incorruption. Then death will be swallowed up in victory. Paul was teaching to convince those people that there is a coming resurrection of the dead, for Paul said if Christ be not risen then our faith is vain. But Paul affirms that he did arise and become the first spirit of them that slept. Notice, Paul says they slept. H. Mings, Lamesa, Texas.

Oak Trees Dangerous Storm Shelter

Kent, Ohio, July 9 1931.—To seek shelter under an oak tree during a thunder storm is almost as dangerous as to search for gasoline with a lighted match. Of all trees, the oak is most susceptible to lightning.

So says a bulletin issued by the Davey Institute of Tree Surgery, which has been studying the phenomena of lightning in relation to trees.

If you must get under a tree says the Davey Institute, find a beech, for it is rarely ever the victim of lightning. The ratio of the oak to the beech in being struck by an electrical bolt is 60 to 1, according to observations made over a period of years.

The roots of a tree tap the electrical field of the ground. When a storm cloud is overhead the positive electricity in it is attracted by the negative electricity in the earth, and lightning follows.

Trees, such as the oak, which have a large root area naturally have larger electrical fields than others. Oaks also have 'tap' orrts which go far into the ground and bring up large quantities of water to the tree, which serves as another attraction for electrical bolts.

The best advice of the Davey Institute is to avoid trees altogether when lightning is at work, as it would be somewhat difficult for the layman to make a scientific selection in time of emergency. Better to keep in the open spaces, if no house is near, and get thoroughly wet than to offer yourself as a target for lightning.

HOG PRICES MAY GO UP

The government survey concerning hog production indicates that fewer hogs will be placed on the market this winter than last and a shortage of feed will force farmers to cut down their hog breeding operations. These two conditions should combine to reduce the supply of hogs and have a tendency to raise the average price, according to a member of the Department of Agriculture of West Texas State Teachers College.

"The export outlook is favorable at this time, since the high cost of grains in foreign countries has reduced hog production abroad. It is estimated that the American corn crop is lower than any time since 1921. Hog production following that year may be repeated. Then hog prices rose for two years to balance with corn. The conditions this year are different than those in 1924 in that hog prices now are higher to start with than at that time," said Professor Phillips.

It is further pointed out that no indications for increased hog breeding are evident in the corn belt. If such conditions continue, there will be fewer available hogs in 1930-31, which will mean an opportunity for Texas breeders to sell their surplus at good prices. Farmers who make money by watching the future marketing possibilities of their produce will give more attention to hogs.

A. J. Swenson of Stamford was here Friday of the past week looking after business interests here.

J. O. Harkey of the Elton community was in Spur Wed. of this week and states that crops are looking fine in his section of the county.
