

Leaf Worm Infestation Is Heavy In Some Sections

Infestation by leaf worm has become very severe in some localities in the county, and control methods should be employed.

This pest is easily controlled, the best method being to use calcium arsenate, otherwise known as arsenate of lime. Under ordinary conditions, and where dusting machinery is available, it is applied in dry form. It should be applied in an even dust cloud. 5 lbs. per acre will ordinarily be sufficient, although in cotton of large growth it may be necessary to apply 10 lbs. per acre. It should be applied, preferably, in the early morning while there is dew on the plant, although it is quite effective when applied in mid-day, provided there is no wind.

Those who are equipped with some kind of spraying machinery insist that it is more conveniently applied with water as a spray. If this method is preferred, the poison should be mixed with water in proportion of 3 lbs. to 50 gal. water. The poison will quickly settle out of this mixture, and while application is being made, the mixture should be kept agitated so as to keep the poison suspended in the water. It should be applied in sufficient quantity merely to get a reasonable even coating of the mixture on the foliage.

There has been complaint of a shortage of calcium arsenate. If this cannot be obtained, Paris green may be used. For dusting, this should be thoroughly mixed with some 3 to 5 parts of hydrated lime or cheap flour to 1 part of the poison, and applied in the same quantity as the calcium arsenate or possibly a little more heavily. If it is to be sprayed use 3 parts of lime, 1 part of Paris green and mix so that there will be 1 1/2 lbs of Paris green in 50 gals. water.

Mixtures of white arsenic and sal soda or lye are very apt to injure the foliage, and this office does not recommend their use.

Spur and Surrounding Territory Receives 1.57 Inch Rain

You have no doubt heard of the proverbial Million Dollar rains. Spur and vicinity have had just that during this week. Falling in showers at intervals since early Sunday morning the total fall as registered at the Spur Experimental Station is 1.57.

Cotton crops are assured barring such calamities as hail storms and they are an exception instead of the rule however we have experienced one or two such occurrences on or near the September equinox.

Most of the farmers in the county have made enough feed stuff to run their farms one year and a goodly number have made a surplus and we are yet of the opinion that the Spur country is in the finest condition for several years.

Wichita and Croton report no rain in this time, but that crops are fine. Feed already made and on farms with a quota of fifteen to twenty bales of cotton as estimated now, will make thirty to thirty-five bales.

Daughter of J. D. McWaters Still Unheard From

Pecos—A half starved dog and a deserted automobile in which only scant pieces of women's wearing apparel were found tonight remained the only clues to the disappearance of a woman officers believed was Miss Ruby McDermott of El Paso. The car, guarded by the dog, was found on a farm on the Pecos river near Grand Falls, Texas, last Saturday. Since then searching parties have dragged the river and hunted through the brakes nearby in an effort to find some trace but late today nothing had been located.

Mrs. Ruby McDermott is a daughter of J. D. McWaters of Spur and up to going to press Wednesday 10 o'clock P. M. he has received no later news concerning his daughter, who left her home in El Paso Saturday in company with two women whom she took to Fort Stockton and then continued alone on her trip to Spur to visit her father.

Ben McWaters left Spur Tuesday morning for El Paso to assist in the search of his sister.

Mrs. McDermott has visited in Spur several times and has numerous friends and acquaintances here as well as relatives who are greatly concerned about her disappearance.

Spur Schools Add Band Department

BURGESS BROWN, Instructor

The band department, added this year to the High School's program, is striving to fill a demand for a band and orchestra in the school system and community.

Any boy or girl in the system is eligible to participate in the band or orchestra. For those students in the system who are in need of private instruction, Burgess Brown, the band instructor will offer private lessons. These lessons and this instruction is available also to children not yet enrolled in the schools. The child's band work should be started now in those cases where it is at all possible, so the student will have equal chance with all of the other band students. This is obvious because the entire group are beginners, and one band student will not have a knowledge superior to any other band student at the out set. The students will progress together. Mr. Brown welcomes all conference with parent who are interested in having their child do band work, either at present or throughout the year.

The benefits of band work are limited only to the effort expended by the individual student. Some of the outstanding benefits of band and orchestra work are: those benefits produced by the formation of correct breathing habits; a developed sense of correct posture; a development of finer muscular coordination; and a broader sense of appreciation of not only music, but of all artistic efforts and productions.

The band then is a line of broader education and greater personal enjoyment. Its functions too are limited only to the needs of the school and community for a responsive musical organization.

The public speaking class under Miss Quannah Lewis' instruction has been organized in the high school with an enrollment of 50 students. This course will be probably affiliated this year for one-credit. Public Speaking is divided into two independent units. The first half year consists of the fundamentals of speech, and the last half is in dramatics.

It is expected that a dramatic club open to all students will organize later.

C. A. Hulsey Home Destroyed by Fire

The residence occupied by C. A. Hulsey and family, near Dickens was destroyed by fire Wednesday night of last week, about 9 o'clock. As reported, shortly after finishing the evening meal the family repaired to the front porch where it was cooler and more pleasant and in a short time, they discovered the entire house was in flames and burned so quickly that very few articles of clothing and household goods were saved.

The land and building belonged to The Amicable Life Insurance and in all probability was insured, but Mr. Hulsey and family suffered a total loss of all personal effects.

Farmer Builds Wind Driven Light Plant

Parts from five old cars contributed to the successful operation of a wind driven electric light plant built by A. J. Allen, McAdoo farmer, this spring to light his home.

"I used a four-year old car battery and a seven year old generator from an Essex," says Mr. Allen. "I made an eight foot propeller of lumber mounted on 24 inches of a model T axle and hub. I used a 14 inch brake drum, from a Jordan, for belt pulley with a V-8 car belt to pull the generator which was driven by a Chevrolet generator pulley."

"I took my time about building it for several had been built in the community and they did not work. I got mine to operating about the middle of March and there have been only four or five nights that we have not had all the light we needed. After I got it to working I had trouble getting light bulbs to use. I used car light bulbs wiring them so that both units burned simultaneously but they did not last long. I finally located a firm in Fort Worth that sold bulbs suitable for my plant.

"Mine is a six volt plant and will carry 25 and 50 watt bulbs. The plant is strong enough to light our house and carry a car radio. My only expense was about $4.50 for bulbs, wire and some blacksmith work I could not do. I found that the heaviest wire you can get is best; regular light wire is not heavy enough. The tower should be as near the appliances as possible too," says Mr. Allen.

"I mean to build a 32 volt plant so that we will have power enough for lights, radio, washing machine, iron, and refrigerator. I'll want a good new battery for that plant."

"I have built three other plants since finishing mine and all are proving successful," says Mr. Allen.

DEMONSTRATORS MAKE RECIPE FILES

"To have my recipes on cards and filed so I can find them will be a big advantage over looking through a book or several books for a certain cake recipe, for example" said Mrs. R. C. Alexander, Prairie Chapel farm food supply demonstrator, in an all-day meeting of the food demonstrators Saturday when they met to make recipe files.

The farm food supply demonstrators will have charge of the meeting without the agent in the clubs this month when they will assist the cooperators in making recipe files. The recipe files will be completed and exhibited at the home of the farm food supply demonstrators when they hold their achievement programs in November.
