City purchases new fire truck

The Winters Fire Department is much better equipped after the purchase Saturday of a large piece of firefighting equipment.

The City of Winters purchased the fire truck from the City of Odessa in an auction to dispose of surplus property. The cost of the truck, according to fire department officials was $23,000. The truck is a 1971 Ford, powered by a 903 cubic inch diesel V-8, and is equipped with a 1,000 gallon water tank, hose, ladders, and other fire fighting gear. The truck is also equipped with an auxiliary power unit to supply electricity for lighting, exhaust fans, and other equipment

City officials say the truck will be certified for 20 years by the state and will greatly improve the fire department's capabilities.

The truck was manufactured by OIL Industries in Odessa for the Odessa Fire Department, and according to fire officials is in very good condition.

The truck arrived in Winters Saturday evening and before many of the firemen even had the chance to see the vehicle it was already responding to a fire alarm in the 600 block of Tinkle street. Firemen said that debris in a floor furnace ignited causing minor damage to the residence.

Others elected at the annual membership meeting to serve as members of the board of directors were: Doyle Condra, Ballinger; J.B. Estes, Winters; Rodney Faubion, Crews; Leon Frerich, Norton; LeRoy Pelzel, Miles; and Larry Schwertner, Ballinger. Hold over directors are: Edward Bredemeyer, Winters; Rodrick Bredemeyer, Winters; Michael Deike, Wingate; Herman Hallmark, Ballinger; Calvin Helm, Drasco; and Roland Lindemann, Ballinger.

Hudon White, Jr. served as the Texas Young Farmer Committee Chairman for the Texas Farm Bureau in 1980 and has served on the National Young Farmer Committee of the American Farm Bureau Federation this year.

Hudon's wife, Betty, is a teacher in the Winters School system.

Re-appraisal work underway in county

Donz Smith, rural appraiser for McMorries and Company of Hereford, Texas began re-appraisal work on the rural property in the Wingate and Winters areas of Runnels County Monday according to Clayton Brazelton, Chief appraiser of the Runnels County Appraisal District. McMorries and Company has been employed by the Runnels County Appraisal District's Board of Directors to a complete re-appraisal of all property located in the Runnels County Appraisal District for 1982.

The Board of Directors of the Runnels County Appraisal District urge each person to cooperate with Mr. Smith so that he may obtain all the facts about each piece of property. This helps to insure a more equitable appraisal. Anyone desiring to give further information to Mr. Smith, or to ask more questions after he has viewed their property may contact the Appraisal office in Ballinger by calling 365-3583. The office will then have Mr. Smith contact the property owner.

The Appraisal District spokesman said that Mr. Smith will only be gathering appraisal data and measuring improvements. He will not enter homes unless requested to do so by the owner.

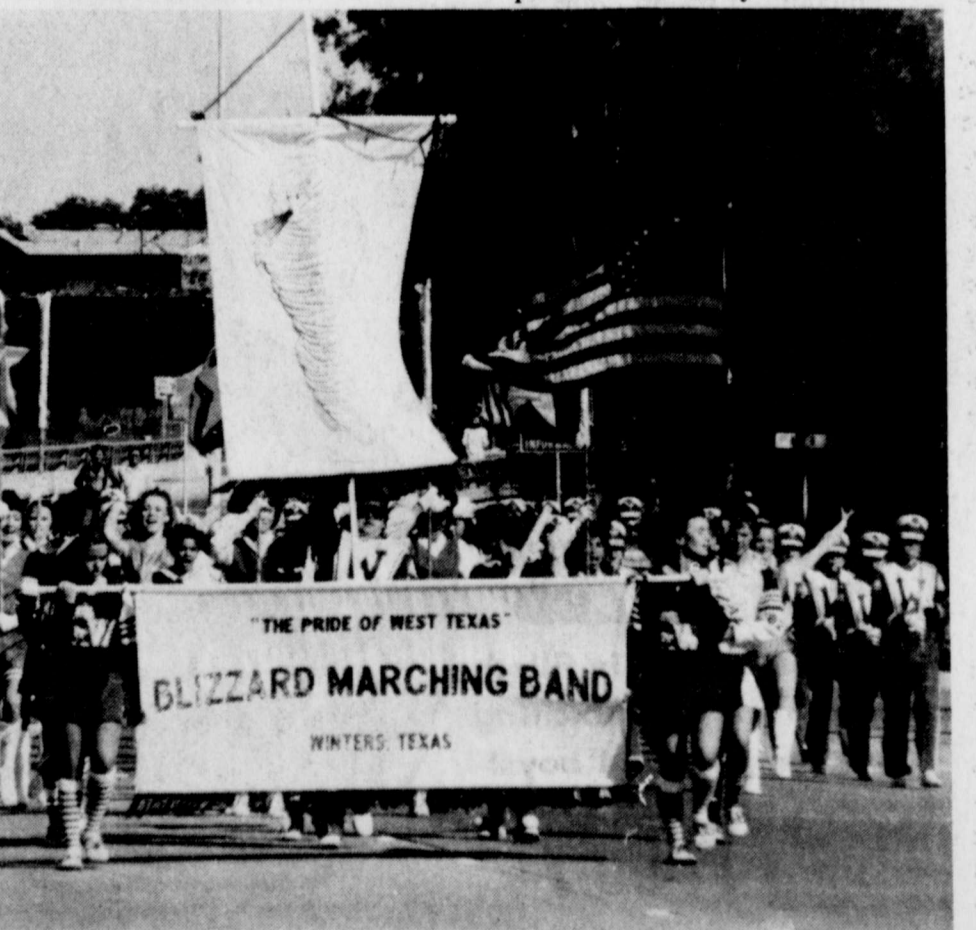

P & Z panel okays zoning request

The Planning and Zoning Commission for the City of Winters last week gave its approval to a requested zoning change in the 400 block of North Main. The change had been requested to allow the construction of a new convenience store across the street from the Baptist Church parsonage.

The City Council had referred the request to the Planning and Zoning board and will set a public hearing on the final approval of the change next month.

City officials say that Allsup's Convenience Stores is planning to construct a store at that location.

The Planning and Zoning Commission recommended the City Council draw up and enact an ordinance that would designate limits restricting the sale of alcoholic beverage near churches and schools. The recommended ordinance would become effective if the legal sale of alcoholic beverages ever became a reality in the City of Winters.

Blizzards blast Baird 49-20

The Winters Blizzards started last Friday night and didn't slow down until the last tick of the clock. The Blizzard offense had it's best night of the season rolling up 26 first downs and a total of 503 yards rushing.

Winters received the opening kick-off and returned it 57 yards on a 10 play drive that was capped off with a one yard drive by Ronnie Lujano into the end-zone. Donnie Daily kicked the extra point to make the score 7-0. The game saw-sawed back and forth the first half with the defensive teams on both sides apparently unable to contain the opposing offense.

City offices relocated

Two offices at the Winters City Hall have been moved according to City Administrator Glenn Brown. The office occupied by the Police Department has been moved to the office space recently completed in the old electric generator building next to the city hall and the city administrator's office moved from the new offices to the one formerly occupied by the police department.

Brown said the move would give the police department more space and convenience and would give his office closer contact with the other city offices.

The back door to the City Hall, formerly used by the police has been closed to the public. Persons entering City Hall need to use the front door. Those persons needing to go to the Police Department should use the front door of the annex building, next door to the City Hall.

Police Chief L.C. Foster said the move would give his department a more private type office by eliminating persons walking through at a time when officers might need to talk with persons seeking information, filing a complaint, or to question a suspect in a crime. Foster also said that having his office immediately next door to that of the Municipal Judge and the Justice of the Peace would be helpful.

The offices in the old electric plant were recently constructed to house the city administrator and the judge and the most recent move has created for the city a law enforcement complex adjacent to, but separated from the City Hall.

The city administrator also said that work is almost completed in the city offices. New carpet has been installed, new wall covering is being added along with new drapes in the windows.

Baird then drove the ball down to score and with the PAT tied the game at 7-7.

The Blizzards scored again on an eight play drive with Dwight Hubbard taking a pitch from Jeff Butts on the option to cross the goal-line. Donnie Daily provided the point after to up the score to 14-7. Baird evened the score before Dwight Hubbard and Donnie Daily added another seven points to give the Blizzards a 21-14 half-time lead.

The Blizzard defense decided to play ball the second half holding Baird to only 3 first downs and a total of 76 yards offense in the final 24 minutes of play.

Baird ran the opening kickoff back 68 yards to score, but missed the PAT and the Blizzards held the lead 21-20.

The remainder of the game was completely dominated by the Blizzards who score 21 points in the third quarter and seven points in the fourth. Jeff Butts scored on a 29 yard quarterback counter and on a 10 yard keeper on the option. Dwight Hubbard scored on a beautiful determined run of 76 yard, and Brent Lancaster scored on a three yard run to round out the scoring. Donnie Daily kicked seven extra points without a miss. Head Coach Dan Slaughter said, "This was the first time this year that all three backs rushed for over 100 yards, Dwight Hubbard rushed for 172 yards, Jeff Butts for 120 yards, and Ronnie Lujano for 102 yards." Slaughter also said that excellent blocking by Kent Billups, Jeff McDorman, Jerry Vinson, Don Kvapil, Joe Escolona, Ralph Austin, and Gabriel Ibarra kept the offense moving all night.

Lions Club Magic Show entertains 700 Monday

Some 700 youngsters and adults attended the Fred Story Revue, a magic show sponsored by the Winters Lions Club.

The magic show featuring illusions and slight of hand was primarily geared for the younger crowd, but held even the adults spellbound. Fred Story, of Anton, Texas, has been performing his art for over 37 years.

The show was highlighted by such things as a working French guillotine that severed a head of lettuce but, left a youngster from the audience with his head intact and a duck that had a habit of vanishing and then showing up again unexpectedly.

The magic show was a fund raising project of the local Lions Club with the proceeds going to several projects including sight conservation and the fight against blindness.

Local Lions Club officials expressed their appreciation to the citizens of Winters for their support of the Fred Story Revue.

Tribute to a Pioneer

Many experiences and memories are wrapped up in any life and especially when one has lived to be 105 years old, as did Mrs. William (Minnie) Minzenmayer who died on Oct. 13.

Wilhelmina Carolina Minzenmayer was born to Carl and Carolina (Geschaia) Ernst on October 2, 1876 in Grunau, Germany. She came to the United States with her parents and four brothers, Carl, Willie, Fritz, and Louis, when she was seven years old. The ship they came to America on, docked at Galveston after a three-week voyage, some of it in a storm which nearly sank the ship. Although the ship didn't dock in New York, passengers got a glimpse of the Statue of Liberty as they passed at a distance.

Minnie recalled that most of the passengers were sea sick, but she didn't get sick and really enjoyed the voyage. She stayed out on the deck much of the time with an elderly lady who had become her friend.

The family first settled in Fayette County, Texas. It was while living there that a fever epidemic hit the community, and all members of the family were ill. Mrs. Minzenmayer had the fever, and remembered her mother giving her the capsules, but she hid them under her pillow.

After the family moved to Pflugerville, a sister, Mary, and a brother, Adolph, were born. Minnie, her sister and five brothers grew up there, where she rode sidesaddle to school, to church and to parties.

While at Pflugerville, Minnie's father sold eggs at ten cents a dozen and she always went with him. On one occasion when they took a bucket of eggs to sell, her father learned that the price had gone down and he dumped the bucket of eggs in the street, saying it wasn't good for them to sell eggs so cheap.

Minnie met her future husband at Pflugerville, and when the Ernst family moved to Runnels County in 1896, her fiancé followed. She and William Minzenmayer were married on December 14, 1899 at her parents' farm near Winters. They moved to a farm West of Winters, where her son, Bill, and his wife now live. This farm was a rest station for farmers and their families on the way to and from town. There was always a bucket of water on the front porch and on hot days the children liked to come to the house for a cool drink. When it rained, the front porch provided a shelter for passersby.

In the early days, Minnie drove a horse and buggy to town to take butter and eggs for sale. She used the money to buy necessities or maybe something interesting for the children. She did a lot of canning and never missed making German coffee cake on Saturdays.

Mr. and Mrs. Minzenmayer moved to town in 1928 so their son could attend school. In town, Minnie still had her garden and her hobbies of knitting pot holders and piecing quilts. When her husband died in 1938, she con-

Cindy Cargal, Steven Hall to marry in December

Miss Cindy Marie Cargal and Mr. Steven Wayne Hall will be married December 4 at 7 p.m. at Immanuel Baptist Church in Abilene.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. Bonnie Elkins of Abilene. The prospective bridegroom is the son of James D. Hall of Winters and Mrs. Jeanette Arnold of Bay, Arkansas. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Spears of Malvern, and the late Mr. and Mrs. Troy Holt of Bay, Ark.

Miss Cargal is a graduate of Clyde High School and is employed by Piggly Wiggly in Abilene.

Hall is a graduate of Winters High School and is employed also by Piggly Wiggly of Abilene.

The couple plan to make their home in Abilene.

continued living in her home until 1964, when she moved in with her children. A daughter, Helen Gerhart, died in 1979.

Mrs. Minzenmayer leaves a long line of descendants: her three sons, William, Jr., Fritz and Adolph; and three daughters, Mrs. Hans (Louise) Gottschalk, Mrs. Herman (Minnie) Bredemeyer, and Mrs. Marvin (Mary) Kurtz. All live in Winters. She has 22 grandchildren, 38 great-grandchildren and 16 great-great-grandchildren.

Other relatives living are a brother, Adolph Ernst, who will be 94 on October 31, and a sister-in-law, Mrs. Louis Ernst. The Carl Ernsts passed on the rare gift of longevity to their children, for Louis lived to be 90 and he and Lena celebrated their 62nd wedding anniversary.

Minnie Minzenmayer was a charter member of St. John's Lutheran Church and also a charter member of the Lutheran Ladies Aid. Louise said that when it was bad weather she would sometimes suggest because of her mother's age, that perhaps they should stay at home. Her mother would go to the door, look out and say, "It's not too cold to go to church."

As long as she was able to keep house, Minnie Minzenmayer always had a lot of company and would tell her children to eat dinner with her on Sunday, she already had it prepared. All those who came to visit would sit and talk with her.

After she left her home, Minnie Minzenmayer lived first with her daughter, Minnie Bredemeyer and continued working outside with the garden and flowers, a work which she loved. She also knitted socks and caps for the grandchildren.

She loved to travel and when her husband was alive they took many trips. When Minnie and Herman took a trip they always carried her with them. Minnie recalled that once when they were returning from California, her mother sat in the back seat with a bonnet on and when they went through the mountains she wouldn't look out.

When Mrs. Minzenmayer became so ill that she had to enter the Nursing Home she sometimes slipped back to her childhood and prayed in German. She would say to her pastor, "I want to go home."

Minnie Minzenmayer's wish has been granted.

"In language clarity is every-thing."

DO IT YOURSELF AND SAVE

ADD A DIVIDER
To drill either a straight or angled hole, place a piece of scrap wood under the piece you're drilling.

* Use a little white glue even when using nails and screws.

* Before finishing any piece of wood, fill all holes or surface irregularities, then sand.

Here are the materials you'll need for your room divider:

Twenty-four 1"x3"x8" lumber; nine 1"x10"x4" lumber; six 4" chrome mortise (door-type) hinges and screws; glue, finishing nails or screws, wood filler, sandpaper, oil, paint or stain.

Cut all pieces as per plans. Next, sand and finish prior to assembly. Build each section, gluing and nailing as you go. Finally, attach units with hinges.

A good room divider is more than a wall. A little effort and imagination can make it a thing of beauty and versatility. Easily built, a room divider doubles for use as a storage system for everything from books to knickknacks.

Now, building a room divider, or many other home projects, can be easier than ever before. Redi-Cuts™ are the reason why.

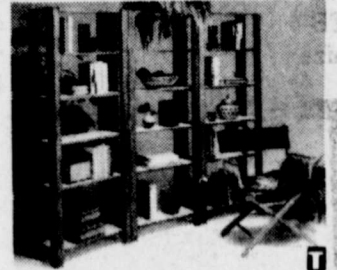

The lumber you need is available at Georgia-Pacific Registered Dealers' Redi-Cuts display racks... pre-cut to workable sizes, eliminating the need for expensive tools. One visit to the Redi-Cuts rack can help you on your way to building this useful, attractive room divider that will give you years of service and pleasure.

Here are a few tips from Georgia-Pacific to assure professional results:

* Carefully measure and mark before cutting wood. Double-check your measurements. Use a sharp pencil for marking and, whenever possible, lay-up an identical piece of material to duplicate measurements from one board to another.

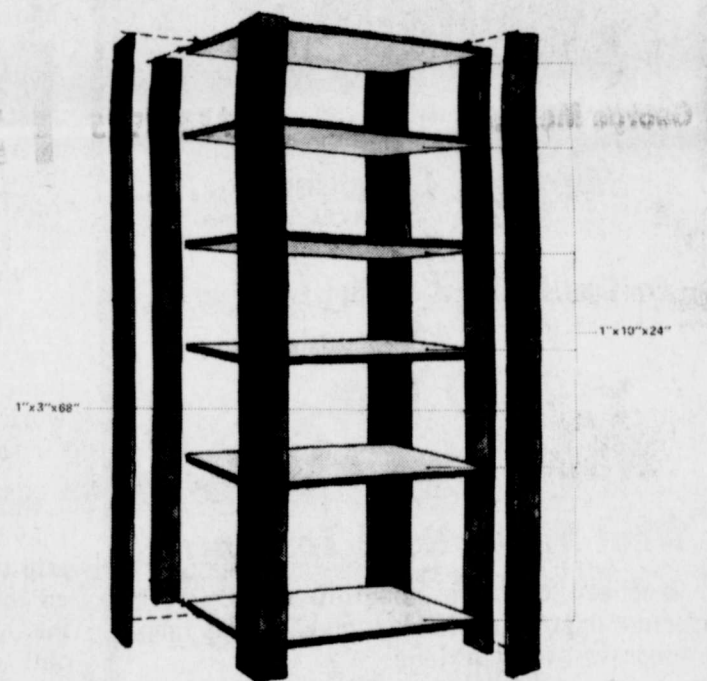

* Use a saw with ten or twelve teeth per inch. If you use a circular saw, a plywood or all-purpose blade is best. Always cut with the wood's good (finished) side up when using a hand, table or radial arm saw; good side down when using a saber or circular saw.

* You'll drill straighter, cleaner holes if you first punch a small hole on the spot where you want to drill.

Once you've stained or painted your room divider, and set it in place, you'll be amazed at the extra room you have—without having to add an extra room.

For a free copy of the booklet, Redi-Cuts, Ten Easy to Build Projects, write: Georgia-Pacific, Dept. NAPS, 900 S.W. Fifth Ave., Portland, Ore. 97204.

You can use this diagram as a pattern for building a room divider.

Halloween — don't let it haunt your children

If you don't want Halloween to haunt your children this year, use some health and safety precautions to prevent their trick or treating from turning into tragedy.

When you put a lot of youngsters on the streets at night in dark neighborhoods, accidents can happen, says Harold R. Ray, Director of the Product Safety Division of the Texas Department of Health (TDH).

"Planning the Halloween excursion can resolve some of the pitfalls which may befall children," said Ray. "The best idea is for parents to go with their children."

He said parents or the children should carry flashlights so they can be spotted in the darkness. The flashlights will provide better vision and perhaps save falls which could happen on uneven ground or while going up or down curbs. Lights also may help keep unfriendly dogs at bay, said Ray.

Many children dress in costumes and masks, which can cause problems, said Ray. A mask, he said, may limit vision unless the eye holes are large. Many of the costumes are dark, which may hamper motorists or other revelers from seeing the wearers. Costumes should be fireproof.

"It's not too impractical to sew reflector strips on to arms and legs of costumes," Ray says. "This adds to the probability of a child being seen by a motorist or others on the street."

Extra precautions in crossing streets should be taken. Children should be instructed to cross only at crosswalks, to be alert at intersections for turning vehicles, walk facing traffic where sidewalks aren't available, and refrain from crossing a street between parked cars.

Candy and other goodies are the objects for most children who knock on doors on Halloween, said Ray. "It's better to eat the traditional treats that are individually wrapped by the manufacturer. Unwrapped items, or those in torn wrappings, should be inspected very carefully. Fruits, he said, should be washed and then cut into small portions before eating, said Ray.

Ray said a good plan may be to have a neighborhood party for children in the same age, or to have parties at church or at school. This way the children will be able to dress appropriately in costume while having a chaperoned event in safe surroundings, said Ray.

the eve of All Saints Day, which is celebrated on November 1, and was known as Hallow even (evening). Robert Burns in "Hallowe'en", presented an imaginative and humorous version of the ceremonies as practiced in the rural Scottish districts of his day.

Halloween has been associated in the popular imagination with the prevalence of supernatural influences; hence, the carryover of witches, skeletons and other frightening things in costumes and decorations.

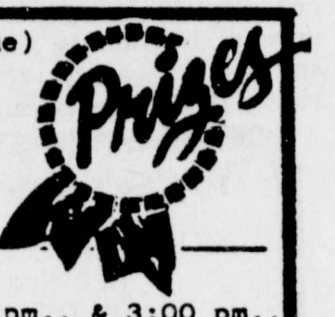

This costume contest is limited to "ORIGINAL" costumes only. Store-bought costume parts can be used but the costume must be original. Ages involved are divided into two sections. 0-6 years old, and 7-12 years old. Prizes for 1st. and 2nd. in each category are as follows:

LET'S KEEP THE WATER RUNNING IN TEXAS!

In cities and towns all across Texas, local water problems are threatening to erupt into one enormous statewide crisis. Countless communities are facing growing water supply, water treatment, sewage treatment and flood control problems estimated to cost a staggering $50 billion over the next 25 years. To make matters worse, federal funds for water projects have recently been slashed.

But on November 3, Texans have the opportunity to adopt a plan, already passed by two-thirds of the Legislature, which would harness a portion of our state's budget surplus to help shoulder that heavy local burden.

The plan is proposed Constitutional Amendment No. 4.

Passage of Amendment No. 4 would:

- Make possible the sale of more than $200 million in authorized and urgently needed state bonds to address a backlog of needed projects.
- Create a loan guaranty program to enable local communities to save millions of dollars in issuing future bonds.
- Begin to build a "nest egg" for the future from a part of the state's budget surplus to assist local governments in financing future water and sewage projects.

Texas' water needs must be met, either now or in the future. We can act now, and save money... or pay the higher price later for our neglect, with possible increased taxes. Sensible action now makes much more sense for Texas.

'81 Runnels Pecan Show scheduled Nov. 20-21

The 1981 Runnels County Pecan Show will be November 20 and 21 at the Runnels County Courthouse in Ballinger, according to Jerry Holden, Chairman of the Runnels County Horticultural Committee, and County Extension Agents Allen Turner and Eddie Beene.

Pecans are an important crop in Runnels County, both commercially and for home owners. Last year's show drew 125 entries and show sponsors are hopeful that with the good crop this year, we will have a larger show. "There is no better way to learn about pecans, than to participate in a Pecan Show," Extension Agent Turner said.

The rules and regulations of the 1981 Runnels County Pecan Show are:

1. Date: November 20 and 21
2. Location: Runnels County Courthouse
3. Entries will be accepted from pecan growers in Runnels and any adjoining county, providing there is no pecan show in their county. No person can enter more than one county show.

4. Pecans exhibited must be from the 1981 crop.

5. Pecans must have been grown by persons exhibiting them.

6. Pecans may be entered at the County Extension Office, County Courthouse, Ballinger, or at the Alderman-Cave Milling & Grain Company office in Winters. No entry will be accepted later than Thursday, November 19.

7. Each single entry will consist of not less than 50 pecans.

8. Pecans should be packaged in paper bags with exhibitor's name, address, and variety of pecan, if known.

9. No exhibitor may have more than one entry in each variety class. (Example-John Doe may enter one Burkett, one Mahon, one Western, etc.) If there is only one entry in a class, the entry will be judged according to the quality of the entry.

10. There is no limit on the number of entries of seedlings or natives. (Example-John Doe has five different seedlings or native pecan trees. He can enter all of them.)

11. All classes will be judged on size, color, conformation, shelling percentage, cracking qualities, and other factors.

12. Winning entries in each class may be considered for entering in the Regional Pecan Show, with the consent of the owner.

13. All pecans become the property of the show and will be sold to help defray expenses.

14. Divisions will be: In-shell, Shelling, and Native.

15. Champion and Reserve Champion will be selected from each division: In-shell, Shelling, and Native. A plaque will be presented to these winners.

16. Classification committee or official judges will place entries in correct classes for judging. The judges decision will be final.

Wireworm damage to small grain seed

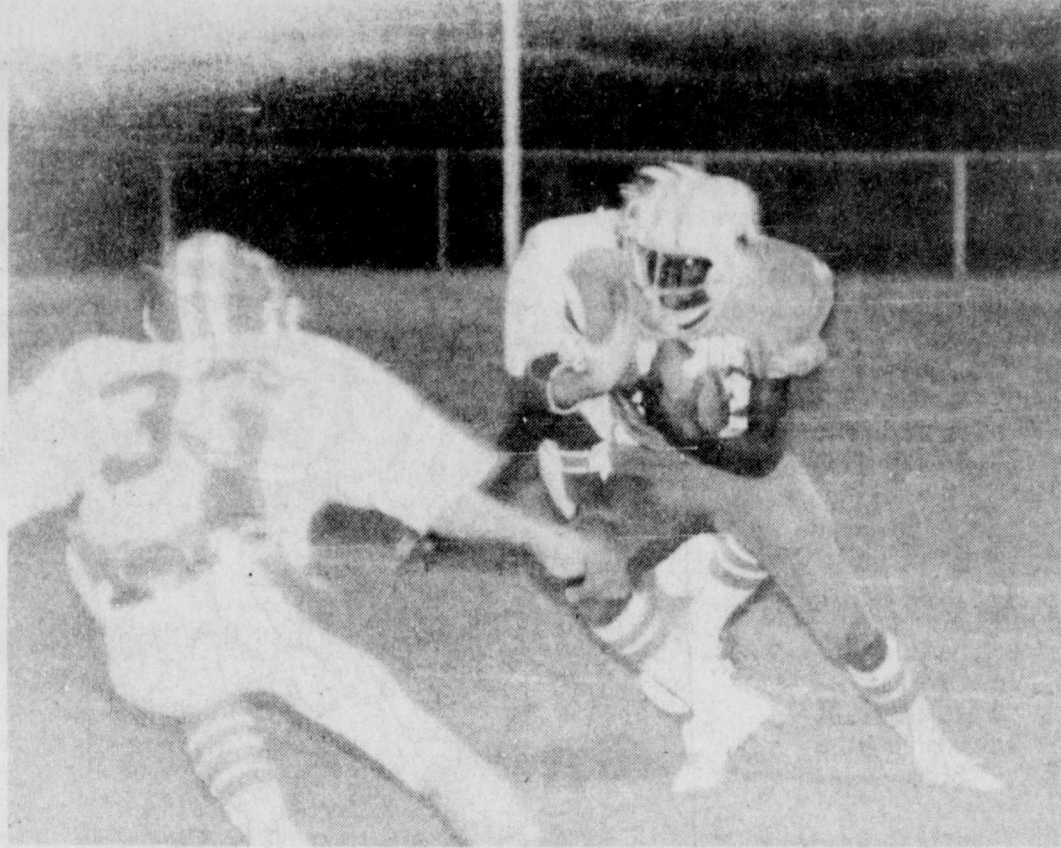

Although some 60,000 acres of small grain will be planted in Runnels County this fall for both grazing and grain production, getting good stands can be a problem due to wireworm damage.

Wireworm damage has increased stand losses the past few years because many producers are no longer planting chemically treated seed, points out Allen Turner, county agent with the Texas Agriculture Extension Service in Runnels County.

Wireworms have been controlled in the past years by chlorinated hydrocarbon insecticides (heptachlor and dieldrin), but these materials have been cancelled for use the county agent noted. The common practice to plant more farm stored seed has decreased the percentage of treated seed being planted.

To reduce stand losses from wireworms, producers can follow several management strategies, Turner suggested. Increasing seeding rates may help, but this pushes up costs and may not satisfactorily solve stand problems when pest numbers are high. Rotating small grain crops with other crops generally will reduce pest numbers. Also, using insecticide-treated planting seed is always a good practice.

17. Pecans will be arranged in variety classes and each variety will be judged. In addition to named varieties, there will be one class of seedling (trees produced from a pecan from a known variety, such as a Burkett pecan planted, produces a seedling tree.)

18. There will be a special class for the smallest pecan and the largest pecan.

19. Statistical winners will be determined from records. Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agriculture Extension Service serves people of all ages regardless of socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion, or national origin.

Antlerless deer permits to be issued Nov. 6

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department will be issuing antlerless deer permits for Runnels County Friday, November 6, at the courthouse in Ballinger.

The local game warden said that property owners desiring the permits must get them on the specified day, once the season begins the permits would have to come from Austin. The antlerless permits or doe permits as they are sometimes called will be issued in Coleman on November 5 and in Taylor County on November 9 and 10. In Coleman, the permits will be issued at the county courthouse and in Abilene at the Parks and Wildlife Department office at 279 N. Willis. The permits will be issued during the hours of 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The local game warden indicated the deer population was good and that the deer in this area appear to be of good size.

ume with lindane or a lindane-diazinon mixture in the drill box. Read and follow label directions for application procedures. Seed treatments cost only a few cents per acre and are a real bargain when wireworm problems develop," Turner said.

"Larvae from false wireworms and true wireworms eat small holes in the seed coat," Turner explained. "The false wireworm is the immature stage of a darkling beetle while the true wireworm is the click beetle. Both larvae are similar in appearance but the true wireworm has shorter legs and a less pronounced segmentation.
