Wait a minute...

By Kerry Craig

Big time politics are amazing. Just what do these folks think they are gaining by slinging so much mud about their opponents? What do they think the debates do for them?

In the race for the top job, the campaign coordinators claim victory on both sides. Just what is it they won? Even if there were a victor in these so-called debates, there is no prize—nothing is won.

Now I don't like polls, but some of the pollsters are beginning to make sense. They are saying that even though Fritz may have won the debate, the majority of the voters will still vote for the double-R.

With these confrontations closely controlled by the moderator, with specific questions asked by the members of the media, the candidates seem to pay little attention, if any, to the question. They, instead, launch into a dissertation. From one side comes the claims of how bad the present office-holder has done and is doing in running this country.

The other side simply states what has happened and what will continue to happen if re-elected.

The concept of a debate was first used with considerable success by John F. Kennedy against Richard M. Nixon. Since then, the idea of debates has been used by candidates from the top race on down.

Just try to watch the monster, with one shining eye, in the corner during one of these debates. That is all that is on the tube. Well, even the major networks are starting to complain about the loss of viewers and money because of the debates.

All the big networks say that even though one candidate apparently won the debate, the voters still favor the incumbent.

Politically speaking, one would think that a candidate could gain more votes talking about his own good points rather than his opponent's bad ones. Well, some of the candidates in the bigger races must not have anything good to say about anything.

Like my granddaddy told me once, "If you can't say something good, keep your darn mouth shut."

Wait a minute...before we part company, another word about politics.

Every election year editors get requests from many candidates seeking endorsements. Here is a rundown on my endorsements.

I like old movies and the guy that played in a bunch of them. Based on the past three years and what has happened with our nation Ronald Reagan is the only choice for President of the United States.

That is the only endorsement for election that I have made so far. There will be another one next week.

Now there is another politician, one whose defeat I would endorse. Not only would I not vote for him, I have picked out his successor.

Mark White, in my opinion, has done less for the citizens of the Great State of Texas than any governor I can recall. He has done more, however, in the area of special interest groups and raising taxes.

The guy that gets my vote for Governor of Texas said, earlier this year, that he would not seek the office. Texans would be wise to consider Bob Bullock for the top job in Austin.

Bob is very outspoken, sometimes blunt in what he says. At the same time he is a warm, compassionate being. One who would serve the citizens of this great state well.

Well, I finally got rid of that digital watch. The one that required an instruction book.

More water

The new Winters Lake continues to rise slowly following the recent rains while the old lake, immediately up stream, has risen more rapidly.

Water is being pumped over the old lake dam into the new lake. The old lake, which was completely dry two weeks ago, now has a considerable amount of water impounded.

City officials said the transfer pump has been operating for about two weeks moving the water.

An advantage to having to pump the water is the settling of the mud and dirt before the water reaches the new lake. This helps provide Winters residents with good, clear water.

Time changes this weekend

Daylight Savings Time comes to an end this Sunday morning. Clocks should be turned back one hour for the return to Central Standard Time. Many people prefer to change their clocks at bedtime Saturday night. If you go to bed at 10 p.m., change the clock to 9 p.m. and enjoy the extra hour of sleep which you lost in the spring time change.

Absentee voting now underway

Absentee voting is now in progress in the County Clerk's office, located on the first floor of the Runnels County Courthouse for the General Election to be held November 6, 1984.

Persons who expect to be out of the county on election day may vote absentee in the General Election. Those who are 65 years of age, or older, may vote absentee.

If you would like to vote absentee by mail, please send your request to the County Clerk's Office, Box 189, Ballinger, Texas, 76821.

For more information on absentee voting, in person or by mail, contact the County Clerk's office.

FFA elects Sweetheart

Tammy Greer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Greer, was elected sweetheart of the Winters Future Farmers of America.

Elections were held in the high school auditorium Tuesday night, October 16, 1984.

Queens elected were: Darcy Stone, daughter of Mrs. Bobbie Stone, and Sally Smith, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Jimmy Smith.

Miss Greer will represent the Winters FFA at the district Sweetheart contest later in the year.

Blizzards fall to Cisco

The Winters Blizzards played what was probably their best defensive game of the year last week in Cisco, the Winters coaches stated, performing much better than the score indicated. Cisco won the contest, 42-7, mostly due to their capitalizing on miscues by the locals.

Winters suffered six turnovers during the game, while Cisco only had one. However, the Blizzard defense forced the Lobos to punt six times, and Winters only punted twice.

Winters sustained several long drives, only to be shut out of the end zone by strong goal-line stands by the Lobos.

Cisco kicked off. Shortly thereafter, a Lobo intercepted a Rene Garcia pass and returned it to the Winters 12. Cisco scored on a five yard run with 8:57 left in the first quarter, and added the extra point to take the lead, 7-0.

Alfred Yates took the kickoff and returned it to the Winters 39. Following a first down on running plays, Yates threw a halfback pass to Nick Trevino for long yardage, setting up a first and ten on the Cisco 15.

Kelly Hood carried the ball to the six. Robert Baker took the handoff, but met a solid wall and just regained the line of scrimmage. Then Yates scampered in for the score on a six yard run. Hood booted the extra point to tie the game at 7 all with 6:11 left in the first quarter.

The rest of the first quarter was taken up by punts by both teams.

On Winters' first possession of the second quarter, Cisco's

Johnny Ramirez intercepted a pass. Cisco was penalized 15 yards for clipping and had to punt.

Winters fumbled on the kickoff reception, and Cisco recovered, gaining good field position. They scored on a ten yard run; the kick was good. They led, 14-7.

Blizzard Dale Roberts took the kick and returned it 22 yards to the Winters 42. His team could not make a first down and soon had to punt.

Cisco got a first down on their next possession, but the Winters defense tightened up and forced them to punt. Winters began on their own 13. Garcia threw 15

Blizzards go to Jim Ned Friday night

The Winters Varsity football team will play Friday night in Tuscola at 7:30 p.m.

Winters Head Coach Danny Slaughter said that Jim Ned has a good ball club and should have been beaten only by Eastland, having lost several close games. They run options and power plays and do not pass very often, the coach said.

Slaughter praised his defense after last week's game—"The whole bunch played a good game," he said, adding that they performed "a whole lot better than the score indicated."

The Blizzards forced Cisco to punt six times, while only punting twice themselves. Winters also sustained several long drives. In the third quarter, Cisco did not manage a first down until the end of the quarter. Cisco won, 42-7.

yards to Nick Trevino for a first down, and Eric Belk caught a nine yard pass. Cisco got a five yard penalty which gave the Blizzards another first down. Then Winters fumbled again, and Cisco recovered.

The Lobos scored quickly on a 35 yard pass-run play, kicked the extra point, and led 21-7 with 1:35 left in the first half.

Winters was proceeding down the field behind the running of Yates when Cisco picked off another pass and ran it 45 yards for a TD. The kick was good. Cisco led 28-7 with 24 seconds left in the half.

Cisco tried an onside kick, but Winters got the ball and quickly cranked up a scoring effort that moved them 58 yards in a couple of plays, most notably a 49 yard pass from Garcia to Manie Esquivel, ending at the one yard line. Yates took the hand off and plowed into a crowd of Lobos, and the clock ran out as the Blizzards were wildly signaling for time out.

Cisco received in the second half, promptly fumbled, and Winters' Robert Baker recovered at the Cisco 15. Hood and Yates carried the ball, and Gar

Thieves target welding torches

At least five welding torches have been stolen in Winters during the past two weeks, according to police investigators.

Officers said that torches were taken from Winters Welding Works in South Winters, from Larry Meyers on West Dale Street, from Kerry Craig on North Main; from John Grohman and David Carroll Jr., both just west of the city limits.

In all instances, officers said that torches, gauges and regulators, and hoses were taken and that the culprits overlooked other tools and equipment.

Officers said that they are conducting an intense investigation into the thefts and that they are following up on several pieces of information connected with the thefts.

Residence reported burglarized here

Winters police are investigating the burglary of the Joy Donelson residence at 212 East Broadway. Taken in the break-in was a quantity of jewelry, a .22 cal. hand gun, about $40 in quarters and several rings.

Officers said that the burglars entered the home while the owner was out of town. Entry to the home was gained by climbing through an access hole to the attic, located in an open carport. After getting inside the attic of the residence, the burglars then kicked their way through the ceiling and dropped into the house.

Officers are following several leads in the burglary, including the descriptions of vehicles seen near the residence and finger prints that were located inside the house. Officers declined to reveal other details concerning the leads in the case.

Turkeywalk set for November 3

The annual Turkeywalk, sponsored by the Runnels County Division of the American Heart Association, is scheduled for Saturday, November 3 at 2 p.m. The course for the walk, which covers five miles, begins at the Winters State Bank. Walkers will proceed up Main Street to the City Park and out the Novice Highway.

"So many people are affected by heart disease, either personally or within their immediate families," said Fran Polston, chairperson of this year's Turkeywalk. "Events like the Turkeywalk give all of us a chance to get involved and to do something about this Number One Killer in Texas."

Among Winters-area walkers already planning to participate in the walk are Winters City Administrator Scott Epperson, Winters State Bank Vice President Lanny Bahlman, local attorney Ken Slimp, C.P.A. Benny Polston, Carolyn Priddy, and Jodie Meyer.

Everyone is welcome to participate in the Turkeywalk, either as a walker or as a sponsor. Each participant recruits sponsors who make pledges based on the number of miles the participant walks. No time limit will be observed, and participants may walk as much of the course as they wish.

Prizes for the Turkeywalk have also been announced. First prize, for the person turning in the most money, will be a $75 gift certificate to the Cowboy Shack. In addition, the name of the first place winner will be entered in a state wide contest for a four day, three night vacation for two to Puente Vallarte, Mexico.

Second prize will be a $40 gift certificate to Bahlman Jewelers. The third place winner will receive an AM/FM cassette radio with headphones from Western Auto. The fourth place winner will receive a $25 gift certificate from Heidenheimers.

Also, each participant turning in $30 or more in pledges will receive a Turkeywalk t-shirt. Walkers turning in $100 or more will receive a free turkey. The turkeys are being donated by Piggly Wiggly and Super D Food Stores.

All money must be turned in by November 9 to Mrs. Polston at the Professional Building. Prizes will be awarded at 3 p.m. November 10 at the Winters Arts and Crafts Fair at the Community Center.

Pledge forms are available from Mrs. Polston in the Professional Building in downtown Winters. Walkers should be at the Winters State Bank by 2 p.m., November 3, to register. They only have to walk as much of the course as they want. Refreshments will be served to the walkers at the Winters City Park.

Oral history focus

The 150th birthday celebration of Texas Independence is on the way. In 1936 the Texas Centennial produced a wealth of materials promoting historical preservation in our state—historical markers, monuments, books and museums.

The 1986 Texas Sesquicentennial offers a unique opportunity to celebrate the past in a more modern way, bringing Texas history to life through oral history research. An oral history workshop was held at the Fort Concho Museum in San Angelo Saturday.

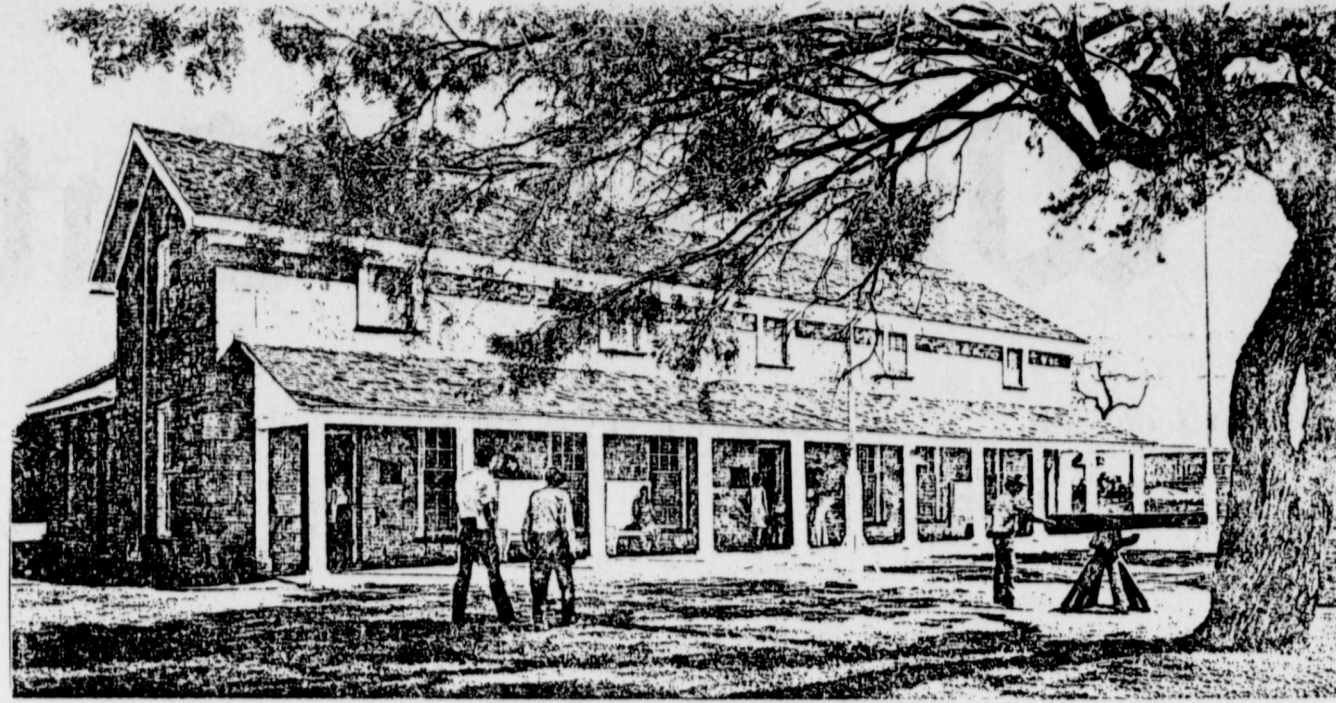

Participants of the daylong workshop enjoyed a continental breakfast during registration. A catered lunch was served at noon. There was no admission charge and each one attending received a free learning packet.

This project is funded by a grant from the Texas Committee for the Humanities, a state program of the National Endowment for the Humanities. Six people from Runnels County took advantage of this opportunity and two of them, Mary Margaret Leathers and Charlsie Poe, were from Winters.

Outstanding leaders in the field of oral history who led the conferences were Dr. Thomas L. Charlton and Rebecca S. Jimenez Herring from Texas Tech University and Dr. Thad Sitton of the Texas Sesquicentennial Commission. Sessions were held for novice oral historians as well as more experienced participants.

All the advanced sessions were held in the Fort Concho schoolhouse/chapel, constructed in 1879, the last major building to be erected at the post.

Education was important at Fort Concho and school classes were conducted there long before the completion of a proper building. In fact school and religious services were held in almost any space found available; a tent, hospital ward, the chaplain's personal quarters, enlisted men's messroom and even the unlikely location of the bar room of the Post Trader.

Illiteracy was high among enlisted army men a century ago, so school was offered to both children of post families and to the soldiers stationed there.

After the military abandoned Fort Concho, area children were enrolled in the San Angelo school system. Formal school classes once more appeared at the Fort in 1908 when the South Ward Public School building was constructed on the old post parade grounds.

The old post school was used for storage, and even as a temporary residence during the intervening years. The building became the property of the museum in 1948, and restoration was completed by the museum and the building was displayed as part of the museum complex.

Students still attend classes in the schoolhouse/chapel with the unique "1880's School Day Program," a project of the education department of the museum with the foxiest Comanche war chief. He almost singlehandedly cured the Indian maladies that had festered in Texas for decades. There was little left to do but mop up the splintered Indian bands and herd them off to reservations.

The old fort received its final orders on June 20, 1889. The buildings became private homes, warehouses, hotels and apartment complexes. West Texas Museum, founded in 1928 by Ginevra Wood Carson, moved into the Fort Concho headquarters building in 1930 and became Fort Concho Museum.

The fort was declared a National Historical Landmark in 1961. Fort Concho was one of the larger and better built army posts of the Indian Wars period and today is perhaps the best preserved. The city of San Angelo now owns most of the Fort Concho buildings, and restoration of the entire post is well underway. There are 16 of the 59 original buildings standing today and four reconstructions.

Fort Concho Museum is open seven days a week. Admission: $1 adults, 50 cents for children under 12. Guided or independent tours take about 1 1/2 hours and include historical exhibits in the headquarters building, two barracks, and their wings. The museum is between Avenues C and D, just east of South Oaks Street.

Do you have some unclaimed money?

State Treasurer Ann Richards has published a list of some 27,000 individuals and businesses in Texas with dormant accounts in banks, corporations, and insurance firms.

Included on the list are two from Winters: Dales Ford Sales and Mrs. J.W. Dixon.

Those whose names are on the list have $50 or more coming to them.

Tuscola names include Robert W. McDonald and Vernon Powers, TRS for PA.

Ballinger has Carolina Arellano, Barbara Dean, and Louise Harrison.

Anyone whose name appears on the list should call 1-800-321-CASH, weekdays between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. If the line is busy, callers should keep on trying.

The largest account in which the owner was located was $70,000. The average claim is about $5,600.

If the person named in the account is deceased, the money will go to his relatives if they can be found.

assistance from community volunteers. A recreation of school days at the time of the Fort period, complete with McGuffey Readers, slates and the bell-ringing school marm is offered to the area's fourth grade children during the fall and spring.

Viewers of the schoolhouse-chapel today will see a simply furnished typical schoolroom of the frontier. The tables, chest and stand are replicas of army furniture. The U.S. flag has only 38 stars, as standard of the 1880's period.

Fort Concho was established in December 1867 to protect the surrounding area from Indian attacks. It was built at the junction of the Concho Rivers and immediately two communities grew up around it. When the flood wiped out Benficklin, the communities merged and San Angelo became the leading town in the area.

Several famous U.S. Army officers commanded Fort Concho but the Fort's greatest fighting reputation was pegged on the courage and ability of one man: Colonel Ranald S. MacKenzie, young, tough-as-nails, rigidly professional and smart as the

Memo from Kay

By Kay Colburn

The scarecrows are out! The scarecrows are out!

We invite all people everywhere to come and see the scarecrows that are popping out all over Winters this week. Maybe they will scare away some of the bats that inhabit some of the lofts around town.

We thank the many businesses that are taking the time to construct scarecrows. This effort will enhance the fun of Halloween for both little people and big people.

Don't forget to wear Halloween costumes on Wednesday, October 31. This will be the big day to let your hidden personality come to the surface for all to see.

The Winters Area Chamber of Commerce will be sponsoring a sidewalk sale next month. Friday and Saturday, November 16 and 17 will be the days for bargains, bargains and more bargains. All merchants are invited to clean the shelves and set up shop outside on the sidewalk. We hope that Mother Nature will cooperate so that we can have pleasant shopping weather while we look through all the "goodies" that will be on sale.

Congratulations to the Winters Blizzard Marching

Wedding shower plans announced

A wedding shower for Melody Regeon, bride-elect of Royce Boyd, is set for Saturday, November 3 at 7 p.m. in the Shep Community Center. Friends and relatives of the couple are invited.

Miss Regeon is employed by the Ballinger Memorial Hospital. Boyd is employed by the Winters Independent School District.

Band for the "excellent" rating received at contest in Stamford last Saturday. Anyone participating in any event outside our community is representing Winters. You represented Winters very well and we thank you for it.

Directors of the Chamber of Commerce are selling tickets for the Hamburger Supper to be held Friday, November 2 in the school cafeteria. Tickets are $3.50 and serving time will be from 5:00 until 7:00. Dessert will be included for the price of the ticket and take-outs will be available.

Directors Betty John Byrns and Edna Ruth Self are busy lining up workers for the annual Arts and Crafts Show November 9 and 10 in the Community Center. All exhibit space has been rented and a waiting list started in the event that someone must cancel a reservation. Community endeavors of this size would be impossible without the splendid cooperation of all the many volunteers who work so hard to make this annual event the success that it has come to be. A lot of time goes into preparing for the Arts and Crafts Show and then a large number of helpers are needed the two days of the show to keep the whole operation running smoothly. We will be giving public recognition along with our thanks and appreciation to those many volunteers later when a complete list is available.

Plans are being made to have a full day of events on the streets of Winters on Saturday, December 1, the day of our annual Christmas Parade and Snow Queen Contest. Lots of food, prizes, surprises, entertainment, free gifts, etc. Mark this day on the calendar so you won't forget to come to town and join in the fun of "Christmas Through the Eyes of Children."

WHS Homecoming set for November 2

All present and past students of Winters High School are invited to homecoming festivities Friday, November 2. Winters will be playing Coleman that night with the kickoff set for 7:30 p.m.

The Homecoming Queen and Coming Home Queen will be crowned during half-time ceremonies at the game.

The president of the Ex-Students Association is Don Rogers, and the vice president is Hudon White, Jr., both of Winters. The group is in the process of choosing the Coming Home Queen from among the women in the Class of 1934.

Following the game, all ex-students are invited to attend a get-together in the school cafeteria. Refreshments will be served, and each class will be recognized. The Class of 1934, which graduated 50 years ago, will be especially honored. A business meeting will be conducted.

4-H horse show goes to Abilene

Blackwell

by Savannah Thompson

Last weekend was the Sweetwater Invitational Tournament. They had ladies from Snyder, Cisco, Ranger, San Angelo, Midland, Odessa, Eastland, Clyde, Sweetwater and Hobbs, New Mexico. The ladies bowled for Josie's grocery, Sweetwater, bowled a nice 3077 team series that put them in first place on Saturday. The team members are; Bernardine Shaffer (team captain), Francis Connel, Marie Romine, Jimmie Hicks and Brenda Williams, who filled in for Pat Pinkerton. These ladies will be travelling to Odessa the 10th and 11th of November for the Odessa tournament, and we wish them alot of luck with their bowling.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hoyle and Darlene just returned from a trip to Arkansas. They visited his mother and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ford in Clinton, Arkansas. They visited his brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Hoyle in Texarkana. They reported a very enjoyable trip, said everything was nice and green and there were plenty of fruits and vegetables.

Marie Airhart of Oak Creek Lake brought her friends, Jo Hoyle and Savannah Thompson some sweet potatoes that weighed five pounds each. Due to the drought, many people missed out on a garden, but Mrs. Airhart reported she had a small one and had real good luck with her garden.

The Omega Coteri of Blackwell will have a bake sale on Tuesday, November 6 across the street from City Hall.

Blackwell residents were awakened at 3:20 a.m. Saturday morning by a thunderstorm and by 4:00 it was raining. By 8:00 a.m., some reported three inches and some reported more and it was reported Oak Creek was running bank full for the first time from all the other showers we have had and of course other creeks were reported to be running some, so at last we are getting some water in the lake, which is badly needed. About noon Saturday as I finished the news, the report came that the lake had risen two feet. Here's hoping we get more rain soon and more water in the lake.

When Grady Patterson went to his trout line Saturday afternoon, he had another big fish, but this time it was a 40 pound Yellow Cat. Better luck next time, we hope.

7th graders breeze past Cisco Lobos

The Winters Seventh Graders continued their winning ways with a 22-6 victory over Cisco here last Thursday night.

Winters led throughout the game. The first quarter ended with Winters 8, Cisco 0; the score at halftime was Winters 14, Cisco 6. At the end of the third period, Winters led 22-6, and the fourth quarter was scoreless.

Don Patton scored first for the Breezes on a 35 yard cut-back run. Quarterback Jimmy Ripley hit Brady Cowen for the two extra points.

Longino Rangel scored next on a three yard run with 30 seconds left in the half. The run by Ripley for extra points was no good.

Eloy Rodriguez scored the third Winters TD on a 25 yard counter play. The pass from Ripley to Eloy Rodriguez was good for the extra points.

Coach Tom Selby stated that Longino Rangel and Don Patton had good nights rushing, with over 100 yards each. Jimmy Ripley threw the ball well, he continued, and the receivers ran their routes and caught the ball well. "During the game we had one touchdown called back, and a pass that should have been completed for a T.D. or the score would have even been higher," he said.

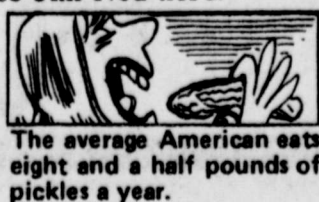

Winters' entire defensive unit had an excellent night, Selby stated, especially praising Brady Cowan who made "some timely tackles and knocked down some crucial passes."

Linebackers Rangel, Gibo Lujano, and Eloy Rodriguez did extremely well, the coach said, and Lujano recovered a fumble which set up the second TD.

"Our offensive and defensive line, led by Mark Jacob, Richard Lett, and Lujano, continues to improve and control the line of scrimmage," he added.

Both Winters and Cisco were undefeated going into the game. Now Winters leads the district with a 4-0-1 record.

"The kids expressed their delight in the number of fans who came out and supported them," Selby said, adding that fan support is also needed this Thursday night as the Breezes face Jim Ned here.

Band returns with excellent rating

The Winters High School Blizzard Band competed Saturday, October 20 in the University Interscholastic League Music District II Marching Contest. Hosted by the Stamford Public Schools, the days activities saw fifteen Class IA bands and twenty-two Class 2A bands compete for honors.

The Winters Blizzard Band received an overall Division II rating. Regarded as an "excellent" rating by UIL standards, the 85 member Blizzard Band received their rating from a Division One-Two-Two decision from the three contest judges. The judges were: James Mallow of Brady, Ed Martinez of Crowley and Dan Gibbs of Monohans.

Winters Band Director Bailey McAnulty stated, "The performance by our band was an excellent performance. All three judges complimented the band for general appearance and enthusiasm, but they also warned us to be more critical of our music needs such as general balance of sound, blend and intonation within the band." McAnulty also said, "Mr. Mallow commented that this was really an improved Winters Band, while Mr. Gibbs and Martinez both said there are many fine things happening. Work on the quality of playing and things will really begin to happen for the better."

Some Early American settlers lived on a diet of mostly lobster and fish. Many lobsters weighed 25 pounds and were so abundant the smallest child could catch them.

The Entire Winters Blizzard Defense

JV ties Cisco

The Winters Junior Varsity came from behind here last week to tie Cisco, 14-14.

Coach Jimmy Randolph said his team played their best defense of the year in the second half of the ball game. "Again the kids played with a super amount of heart. They were forced to come from behind for the second time in two weeks and they did it," the coach said.

In the first quarter, Winters' Wayne Poehls caught a 29 yard pass from quarterback Doug Wheat for a touchdown. The PAT attempt failed. Cisco scored eight points in the first quarter to take the lead, 8-6.

In the second quarter, Cisco scored another TD to increase their lead to 14-6. However, Wheat hit Chuck Patterson for a 23 yard TD pass, and Wheat threw to Willie Moreno for the extra points, tying the game. The fourth quarter was scoreless.

A key defensive play for Winters was Scott Shifflett's fumble "take-away" to stop Cisco from retaking the lead, Randolph stated.

The coach commented that Randy Watson played extremely well at safety, Robert Baker did well at linebacker, Andy Luna at defensive end, and John Merrill at his new position of offensive guard.

Deadline near for Student Art Festival

Work may be done at school or at home. The work must be done by the child himself, without help from anyone else. Entries may be any type of art or craft such as watercolor, pen and ink, oil, pastels, wood, pottery, sculpture, cross-stitch, etc. Creativity is encouraged.

Work should be turned in to the child's teacher by November

1. Artwork will be displayed at the Winters State Bank November 5-9, and the winning entries will be displayed at the Arts and Crafts Fair, November 9-10.

By Margie Clough
Activity Director

The month of October has been filled with fun. Everyone has been busy working on arts and crafts. The arts and crafts fair is scheduled to be held on November 9th and 10th. We are all looking forward to the fair. Several of the residents are eager to participate in the running of the booths.

Joe and Melba Emmert will be here to entertain us with song and organ music on October 26th at 7:00 p.m. We always look forward to their being here every month.

We would like to congratulate Roxie Miller on winning the bingo banner this week.

We would like to remind everyone to bring the children by at 8:00 p.m. on the 31st. for the Halloween party. Drop by for a minute or two after they have trick-or-treated. The residents would really enjoy seeing the children dressed up for Halloween. We are hoping to have a good turnout for this party. We extend a special invitation to everyone interested in attending our Halloween party.

Senior Citizens Nursing home is in need of volunteers for several different things. Anyone interested in volunteering a little of their time will be greatly appreciated. Anyone who is interested should call Margie Clough, Activity Director at 754-4566 or stop by and see me at 405 Van Ness Street.

Sally Spill receives new appointment

On October 1, Sally Spill joined the administrative staff of the Virginia State Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation as a consultant on mental retardation. Her headquarters office is located in Richmond and her assigned territory covers the western part of the state.

Her parents, Walter and Genevieve Spill, have recently returned from a visit with her in Richmond. They were joined by Mrs. Spill's sister, Helen Cavalier of Biloxi, Mississippi. Several tours of the many historic areas, as well as the fall foliage in the Shenandoah Valley, were enjoyed.

Talpa

By Maggie Ruth Stokes

We're having a wet day on Monday as I write the news.

Mr. and Mrs. Britt Webb and Mr. and Mrs. Travis Masters took the high school and junior high students to the Dallas Fair on Saturday. There were 31 that went. They had a wet day but had fun.

The Talpa Centennial School Halloween Party will be held Saturday night, October 27th at the Talpa Centennial School. They will start serving meals at 6 o'clock. All of the usual activities will take place.

Mrs. Amy Faircloth of Clyde and Mrs. Marty Battley of Abilene visited their brother, Brit and Laurel Webb, Krista, and Robert Sunday afternoon.

Jo and Denise Walker, Mark and Cody have moved to our community from San Angelo. They live in the former Partridge home and are opening a cafe, Ranch House Cafe. It will be open each day and they want to invite the people of Talpa and nearby to come and see them. A good cafe will be an asset to Talpa and we welcome them.

Mrs. Sidney Sides of De Leon is visiting a few days with her daughter, Dale and Arletta Herring and Angelita.

Allen Harris of Tyler came home with Andy Dale Herring from college in Stephenville for the weekend in the Dale Herring home.

Grady and Nona Fletcher went to Dallas on Wednesday and Thursday to visit their son, Ralph Fletcher and family.

Katie Harding, Shenna and Kris of Coahoma visited over the weekend with her grandparents, Orby and Thelma Sikes.

Wayne and Felicia La Cosse, and Zachary are visiting Benton and Pat Cassaday and Zane a few days. They will leave on Tuesday for Carthage, New York, where he's stationed at Ft. Drum, Watertown, New York. Other visitors in the Cassaday home were Jewel Cassaday of Llano, Laura Dees of Glen Cove and several neighbors came by to see the new grandson.

Gordon and Louise Brookshier went to Wall on Thursday night to see their grandson, Shon Jones from Sonora, play school football. He's in Jr. Varsity. Sonora defeated Wall 38-0.

Coming Clean About Laundry

Here are some tips to help you get the laundry done quickly and efficiently:

- Before you start, sort in loads... white, light colors, darks and gentle cycle items. Close zippers, inspect and empty pockets and turn dark colored items inside out to eliminate lint problems.

- Although it may seem to take time, safety pin socks together... saves lots of sorting later.

- Read the care labels on clothes and use bleach according to their instructions.

- Treat spots and stains with a laundry stain remover such as Shout from Johnson Wax before washing. This eliminates pre-soaking and helps remove tough stains and soil.

- Spots and stains should be treated with laundry stain remover while they are still fresh. Wash items with the hottest water possible for the fabric type and don't forget to use enough detergent—consult label directions.

- Don't overload the machine. You may think you're saving time by cramming two loads into one, but you're really setting yourself up for extra work coping with wrinkles and added lint.

- Use a wash cycle fabric softener, like Rain Barrel from Johnson Wax. It gives fresh fragrance to your clothes, cuts down static electricity and leaves clothes wearable soft and with even fewer wrinkles to iron out later.

County GOP Chairman addresses ladies' club

By Patsy Roach

In the spirit of the debates sponsored by the League of Women Voters, the Literary and Service Club of Winters recently invited the chairmen of the Runnels County Republican and Democratic Parties to speak, presenting their parties' platforms. Democratic Chairman Donna Glass was unable to attend due to illness in her family, but Republican Chairman Bill Cervenka came and presented the Republican side of the election in a humorous manner while emphasizing the facts of both parties' platforms.

Cervenka said that one important fact in this election is the "misery index" invented by Carter, which is composed of the inflation rate and unemployment rate, both of which have improved dramatically in the last three years.

The inflation rate was 12% when Reagan took office, Cervenka pointed out, and now it stands at 3 1/2%.

The Republicans support voluntary prayer in school and a balanced budget amendment, he said, neither of which are favored by the Democrats.

The Demos do support centralization of education. President Carter created the Department of Education which was staffed originally by National Education Agency personnel. Reagan got rid of them, Cervenka pointed out, because they also favored centralization of education, a policy which would lead to federal control over local schools and the abolition of school boards.

Under such control, the federal government would exercise complete control over all schools, choose teachers and books, and dictate policies. The Republicans favor local control of schools.

The Democrats favor gun control; the Republicans advocate

Republican speaks

Bill Cervenka, Runnels County Republican Party Chairman, speaks to the Literary and Service Club of Winters during last Thursday afternoon's meeting.

Cervenka discussed both the GOP and Democratic platforms, very timely topics.

He pointed out that a nuclear freeze is not endorsed by the Republicans because it would lock us into an inferior position. A roll-back of conventional weapons would also be needed since Russian tanks and other equipment also outnumber ours.

He added that the Russians obviously could not be trusted to keep another treaty since they are currently in violation of existing treaties. Also, mobile weapons make it hard to verify treaties.

Speaking of the Soviet takeover of Afghanistan, Cervenka said that the United States did not help them because we could not — we were militarily unprepared to defend a country right on the border of Russia. Also, we did not have a defense treaty with Afghanistan.

"Maybe if we had, they would not have attacked," he continued.

On the farm situation, Cervenka said that in the last 50 years, everything that could be tried has been tried. President Reagan would not embargo grain, he said, because embargoes against the Russians are ineffective. They will just buy grain elsewhere.

The GOP Chairman pointed out two areas that he felt Reagan had not improved: the national debt and the balance of payments.

Cervenka observed that voters this year have a very clear choice: "On many of these things, I've never seen the polarity...we have today."

Applications for emergency farm loans for losses caused by this summer's drought and extremely high temperatures are being accepted at the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) office located in Abilene and Ballinger, FmHA counties supervisor Don M. Newhouse said today.

Taylor and Runnels counties are two of 21 in Texas recently named by Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block as eligible for loans to cover part of actual production losses resulting from the drought.

Mr. Newhouse said farmers

Preschoolers check out fire truck

Children and teachers at Saint John's Lutheran Pre-School took a delightful ride with Bobby Staggs on his fire truck last Wednesday. The youngsters also heard a brief talk by Staggs on fire prevention and then got to spray the water, a treat accompanied by squeals of delight.

Applications for loans under this emergency designation will be accepted until June 3, 1985, but farmers should apply as soon as possible to carry over into the new farming season, Mr. Newhouse said.

FmHA is a credit agency of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. It is authorized to provide disaster emergency loans to recognized farmers who work at and rely on farming for a substantial part of their living. Eligibility is extended to individual farmers who are U.S. citizens, and the farming partnerships, corporations or cooperative in which U.S. citizens hold a majority interest.

The FmHA office in Abilene is open from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday, and Ballinger from 9:30 a.m. to noon on Tuesday.

As a general rule, the farmer must have suffered at least a 30 percent loss of production to be eligible for an FmHA loan, Mr. Newhouse said. Farmers participating in the PIK or federal crop insurance programs will have to figure in proceeds from those programs in determining their loss.

Fall brings colored leaves

A quiet revolution takes place every fall. Slowly but surely, the leaves of shrubs and trees become a riot of red, purple, orange and yellow for spectacular fall displays. It's all tied to chemical processes in leaves as the summer season gives way to fall and the approaching winter, notes a forestry specialist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. Changes in temperatures and daylight hours cause the chlorophyll—the green pigment in leaves—to break down, allowing other pigments, mainly yellows and oranges, to become more visible. Leaf colors can vary due to weather conditions and the amount of pigments in leaves.

Blizzards —

Blizzards slipped out of the grasp of several Loboes. On fourth and three, the Blizzards decided to go for it, and Yates got the first down. Hood proceeded to the two, but on the next plays, the Blizzards were knocked back for losses. Winters tried another fourth down conversion and could not make it. The ball went over on downs at the Cisco 5.

Cisco could not manage a first down; they punted. Winters took over on their own 46. Yates got a first down. Then the Blizzards were penalized for illegal procedure, bringing up a first and 15 situation. Cisco intercepted a pass and ran with it for 45 yards, but they got a roughing the passer penalty which returned the ball to Winters with a first down to their credit.

Yates broke through the line for five, and Baker added another enough for the first down. Yates and Garcia carried the ball, but on fourth down and three on the Cisco eight, Cisco again held the Blizzards out, and the ball went over on downs.

The third quarter ended with Cisco having just attained their only first down of the quarter.

Cisco punted, and Manie Esquivel returned the ball to the Cisco 41. Garcia was hit hard, causing him to lose the ball. The Loboes recovered.

In a valiant defensive effort, Winters' Steve DeLaCruz, playing for the first time since his injury at Baird, pursued a Lobo who was dashing up the side line with no one between him and the goal line; DeLaCruz almost had his hands on him, lost his grip, kept on running, caught him and brought him down.

Cisco completed a pass at the five, then scored a TD with 7:48 left in the game. The kick was good. Cisco led 35-7.

Belk took the kick and returned it to the Winters 35. One first down was gained before the ball went over on downs after Winters tried to get four yards on fourth down.

Cisco got three first downs. Then on a somewhat controversial play, the ball seemed to hit the ground before being caught by a Lobo who ran with it for a TD, which the referees allowed. The kick was good. Cisco had increased their lead to 42-7.

Steve DeLaCruz made a fine run for a first down before time ran out in the game.

Differences in dual income lifestyles

Having children, as well as having two paychecks, creates some major lifestyle differences among dual-income families, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension home economist.

Researchers have developed profiles of dual-income families with no children, those with young children and those with older children, explains Diane T. Welch. According to the profiles, families with no children have work and spousal relationships as top priorities, while children dominate the lifestyles of couples with young children. For many families, the years with young children are the greatest financial strain. A more manageable lifestyle characterizes dual-income families with older children, observes the home economist. While family relationships are important at this stage, the research shows that many men and women also make personal time a high priority.

Have a very happy Halloween

The malicious acts of a few people do not have to spoil the excitement of innocent Halloween fun for children this year. With adult awareness and planning, the night of ghosts and goblins can be a happy time unmarred by accidents or willful destructiveness, according to George R. Gustafson, Executive Vice President of Texas Safety Association.

Because tampering with Halloween treats has persisted in recent years, many parents may want to consider a group activity instead of trick or treating. This may be a particularly attractive alternative in metropolitan areas.

Halloween parties with prizes, treats and surprises in a safe setting can be just as much fun as traditional neighborhood treks, particularly for younger children who are not accustomed to door-to-door activity and might not particularly miss it.

Having a haunted house tunnel at a party can be fun for slightly older children. In fact, a creative adult can make most 7 year olds squeal from crawling through brains (spaghetti) and dealing with other surprises in a darkened, sheet-draped tunnel of card tables. The imagination is limited only by safety factors such as using a cookie sheet to hold the "brains", instead of a high-walled container which could cause bumps and bruises. Having an adult or teen helper to stand by the tunnel to ensure safe passage is also recommended.

If children do go trick or treating, adults need to remember these safety tips:

**Make sure they go in groups, rather than alone.

**Make sure that groups of young children have some adult supervision for trick or treating in the neighborhood.

**Remind children of basic pedestrian safety including the need to use sidewalks instead of streets.

**Make sure that costumes allow safe movement and masks do not obstruct the child's vision or breathing.

**Provide a flashlight for children to use in trick or treating.

**Ask children to refrain from eating any of their treats until after you have examined them. You should discard any unwrapped or loosely wrapped items and anything suspicious, as well as wash and cut fruit before allowing children to eat these treats.

Adults also need to make their property safer for Halloween visitors by:

**Using a flashlight instead of a candle in the jack-o'-lantern.

**Sweeping and clearing away any obstructions from sidewalks, driveways and porches.

**Turning on the porch light.

"All adults can do one more thing to protect Halloween for the children in their communities—drive with extraordinary care on Halloween night, watching for ghosts and goblins which could pop out of the dark," said Gustafson.
