By Kerry Craig

It took both Houses of Congress to vote to override the President's veto of a piece of legislation that increased the speed limit to 65 mph.

Maybe it was something that didn't need to be done back up east but, we really do have a need for a bit higher limit on the endless stretches of highway in this end of the country.

On a serious note. There are some indications that our economic situation is showing signs of improving. It had almost reached the point where it could only get better—it couldn't get much worse.

Perhaps, with the state of the economy showing some signs of getting better, our community might stand the chance of expanding, again, to the point where housewives can shop for the best buy rather than having to settle for the only ballgame in town—or having to drive a little or a lot.

We were in the same aisle just about a year ago, and suddenly there were two. We could do a bit of shopping around and, when we were just getting used to it we ended up on the same aisle again.

From the consumer's side the adage of competition being healthy is true. It just might be true on the other side, too.

For some reason, our weather is really messed up. We had a warm, soggy winter and, now that spring is here, we find ourselves pulling cover at night and trying to keep the fire warm early in the morning.

It seems that we have had a frost every morning for the past week or so. This weather is playing havoc with the fruit trees, the flowers in the bed, and those little green shoots coming up in the garden.

Here too, there are some signs that things are getting a bit better.

Some of the cotton farmers are finally getting their crop to the gin—just in time to try and get in a late wheat crop.

In one field this week you could see a cotton stripper hard at work, just barely staying ahead of the next tractor turning the stalks under.

This week has been designated, officially, as clean up week in Winters and the big day is Saturday.

It is a prime opportunity for residents to clean up around the house (Spring cleaning, if you will) and show a bit of pride in our community.

The next thing we need to do is to spruce things up downtown. Several merchants have already done so and others need to follow suit.

There are still some unloved, and apparently unwanted buildings downtown that resemble a worn-out tire—you can see air through them. Something needs to be done to ease this type of problem.

Each week, we receive a number of newspapers from other communities. Those newspapers also receive this one in an exchange program so we can see what other folks are doing, and how they are doing it.

Our friends at the Chronicle and Democrat Voice in Coleman had a rather interesting ad in their paper last week. It offered Concho River snake belts for sale. It said the price WAS $3,000, NOW $1,500.

The ad even listed a phone number—625-JOKE.

It is a sure bet that those folks are not talking about who placed the ad.

Members of the Ballinger Masonic Lodge No. 643 took "custody" Saturday of a two-mile stretch of U.S. 83, just north of Ballinger as part of the Adopt-A-Highway program of the Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

The Masons will meet four times a year to clean the litter from their highway. The Highway Department provides trash bags, safety vests and a pick up service for the bagged litter as well as providing road signs proclaiming that the highway is in the custody of the Masonic Lodge No. 643 of Ballinger.

Winters Council to host TML meeting

The Biennial Conference of Region 6 of the Texas Municipal League will be hosted by the City of Winters on April 23.

Plans for the conference were discussed by the Winters Council in their Monday meeting after the formalities of swearing in Mayor Randy Springer and council members Sandra Griffin and John Boyd Bedford were concluded.

The council elected Rick Dry to serve another term as the city's mayor pro-tem.

The Texas Municipal League meeting will be called to order by Mayor Randy Springer and Mayor Pro-tem Rick Dry will give the official welcome to the members of Region 6 of the TML.

Other officials scheduled to address the meeting are Coleman Mayor Hugh Stempel, Sweetwater Mayor Rick Rhodes and Brownwood Mayor Bert Massey.

Winters City Administrator Chuck McIlvaine, regional secretary will preside over the business session of the meeting.

The featured speaker for the meeting will be Ralph McLaughlin, chairman of the West Texas SSC Committee, who will speak on "The Super Collider".

In other business, the council heard a request from the Winters Volunteer Fire Department Firemen's Auxilliary for volunteer security help at a MayFest dance being planned by the organization.

The council said that it would allow off duty police officers to volunteer to police the dance, in accordance with the regulations.

Some discussion was held concerning the City Park, swimming pool, and Community Center.

City Administrator Chuck McIlvaine told the council that the clean up, fix up, paint up, and spruce the complex up as best as the city can do in preparation for the spring and summer seasons.

Also some discussion was held concerning a planned bass tournament at the new Winters Lake on June 6. The discussion was the result of some questions concerning the halting of water skiing on the lake during the tournament.

The council agreed that city ordinances provided for such activities and noted that the skiing would be interrupted for only part of that designated day.

Zoning proposal heard by Ballinger Council

After canvassing the results of Saturday's election and seating a new mayor and council members, the Ballinger City Council spent some time considering proposals for zoning changes in two parts of that city.

An ordinance is being prepared for the council that would change the zoning in a portion of Ballinger along the Paint Rock highway from residential to industrial.

Also included in the ordinance is an area around the "Y" in North Ballinger on Broadway where the old Winters Highway and the Bronte Highway separate.

In this area there are a number of businesses scattered in a residential area. The zoning change would allow for the operation of those businesses.

In the re-organization of the council, Bill Goetz was sworn in as the new mayor of Ballinger and council members Joe Don Murman, Grant Lee, and Weldon Brevard were administered the oath of office.

The council elected Woodrow Hoffman to continue to serve as the city's mayor pro-tem.

The council took no action pending further information on a request for a street light at the intersection of 15th Street and East Avenue. The council asked Police Chief Paul Boggess to check the intersection for the amount of foot traffic and report back to the council with his recommendation on the proposed light.

The problem of bad debts and how to handle them was taken up by the Ballinger Council Monday. After some discussion, it was agreed to seek further means of collecting the bad debts before just writing them off the books.

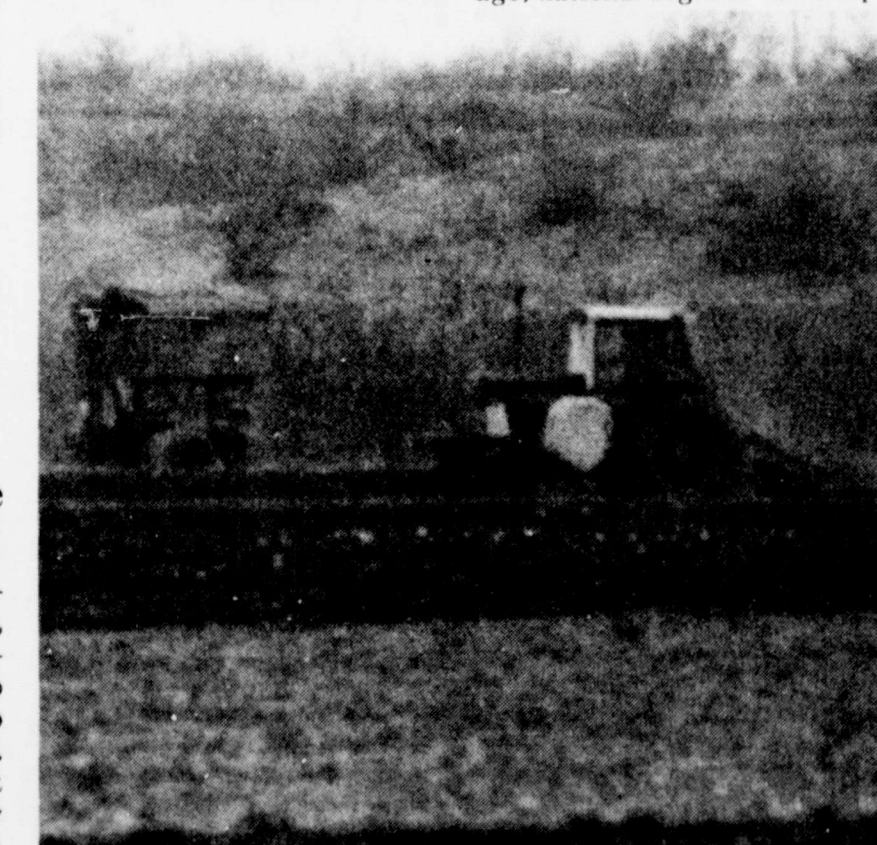

The council indicated a desire to take steps to collect the debts by filing suit in Small Claims Court.

A number of routine items were also handled by the council in the Monday meeting.

Commodities to be distributed April 9

Commodities will be distributed on Thursday, April 9, from 3 p.m. until 5 p.m. at 601 West Pierce Street, Winters, Texas, by Central Texas Opportunities, Inc.

Finally...

Farmers in Runnels County are finally getting back into their fields after a very wet winter season.

In some instances, such as the one pictured, farmers were still trying to get last year's cotton crop out of the field. The delay caused by the weather, in this case, had both the stripper and the plow at work at the same time.

1987 Air demonstration marks 35th year for Thunderbirds

The 1987 air demonstration schedule marks the 35th years for the Thunderbirds. During those years, the squadron has displayed the graceful, intricate maneuvers of precision aerobatics.

From the first salute to the post-performance handshakes, the men and women who are the Thunderbirds radiate the inner pride that can be achieved only through self-discipline and the willingness to strive for perfection. They are the epitome of the Air Force community, and as such represent what can be done through schooling, determination, and lots of hard work.

Assigned to the Tactical Air Command, the Thunderbirds are officially the U.S. Air Force Demonstration Squadron. Commanded by Lt. Col Roger Riggs of Louisville, Kentucky, the squadron flies the supersonic General Dynamics F-16 Fighting Falcon, a multi-role combat fighter.

Performing with Colonel Riggs, who flies the lead aircraft are Capt. Dave Robinson, left wing, Fairfield, Conn.; Capt. Joe Bulmer, right wing, Clifton Park, NY; Capt. Lance Undhjem, slot, Twin Falls, Idaho; Capt. Tom Weiler, lead solo, Corvallis, Ore.; and Capt. K. C. Schow, opposing solo, Wilmar, Minn.

Maj. Bucee Java, Frederick Wis., flies number seven as the logistics officer. He is also the senior maintenance manager, serves as the maintenance liaison and advisor to operations, as well as safety observer and evaluator for each demonstration. Flying the number eight jet as narrator and advance coordinator for the squadron is Capt. Bert Nelson, West Hartford, Conn.

The Thunderbirds consist of more than pilots. Other Thunderbirds officers have supervisory responsibilities in squadron activities, such as maintenance, supply, executive support, publicity, air demonstration coordination, and personnel and administration.

The Thunderbirds squadron is composed of highly skilled men and women working in more than 35 different career fields. The enlisted members are technicians in aircraft maintenance, public affairs, operations, supply, life support, communications, administration, photography and graphics. It is their job to make sure the planes are ready for each demonstration and that the myriad small details inherent to every performance have been completed. In 34 years and 2,752 aerial demonstrations, the squadron has flown throughout the United States and 47 foreign countries, and has never had to cancel a performance for maintenance reasons.

The F-16 Fighting Falcon is the U.S. Air Force's newest fighter aircraft. Since its introduction in 1979, the F-16 has made its mark as a true multi-role fighter — proving itself as a highly maneuverable aircraft in air-to-air combat, and earning its place as one of the world's best precision tactical bombers.

Now serving at U.S. Air Force bases in the United States, West Germany, Japan, the Republic of Korea, and Spain, the Fighting Falcon is also being used by the Air National Guard and Air Force Reserve. In addition, the F-16 is on duty with the air forces of Belgium, Denmark, the Netherlands, Norway, Israel, Egypt, Pakistan, Venezuela, and is being introduced in Korea. The worldwide use of the F-16 has made it mainstay of international tactical air forces, and over the next two years, the F-16 will be in operation by the air forces of Turkey, Greece, Thailand, Singapore and Indonesia.

More than 1,300 Fighting Falcons have been produced at the General Dynamics' Fort Worth, Texas, facility. Under international co-production agreements, more than 400 F-16s have been produced in Belgium and the Netherlands.

For squadron members, part of being a Thunderbird include routine daily activities of toting suitcases, pressing uniforms, inspecting aircraft, and the hundreds of other behind-the-scenes tasks which must be done — week after week, year after year, in dozens of different cities. However, while many of the tasks they perform become routine, the Thunderbirds guarantee there will never be a routine Thunderbirds air demonstration.

RONdom thoughts

By RON BIRK

Did You Ever See A Funny Lutheran?

In Danny Thomas' night club act he tells several stories about various religious groups. One day his pianist, a Lutheran, asked the comedian why he never told any humorous stories about Lutherans?

Thomas answered quickly, "Simple. Did you ever see a funny Lutheran?"

As a Lutheran, and as an aspiring teller of funny stories, I must sadly agree with Danny Thomas. There is not much humorous material when it comes to Lutherans.

I have a rather extensive humor file, especially in the area of religious humor. On a recent tour through that file I discovered only three (3) entries that mentioned Lutherans.

One was a piece of doggerel verse from the "Letters" portion of The Wittenburg Door, religion's feeble imitation of Mad Magazine.

Concrete's hard, Rubber's elastic. If it wasn't for Luther, We'd all be Catholic

(Bob Gorman)

The second was from a humorous illustration collection: "When 3 Baptists meet they talk about the evil's of strong drink. When 3 Catholic's meet they ask where the next Bingo game will be held. When 3 Lutheran's meet they start a new Synod."

Reader's Digest provides the third story. It is credited to one Robert H. Bargue.

"The town of Hell, Norway, draws many tourists because of its unusual name. When our Lutheran friends Gene and Ardis visited this town, they were quick to send a postcard to their pastor back home. He read it at a meeting of the ministerial association, and it broke up the group. 'Dear Pastor,' it said, 'We passed through Hell today, and we're concerned. Almost everyone here seems to be Lutheran.'"

To really understand that last "joke" one needs to know that the Lutheran Church is the State Church of Norway, and all of the Scandinavian countries. Therefore almost everyone in Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Finland and Iceland "seems to be Lutheran."

That right there may be the explanation for the negative answer to the question, "did you ever see a funny Lutheran?" Did you ever see a funny Scandanavian? The stereotype of Northern Europeans does not picture them as smiling, laughing, humorous, warm, fun-loving people.

All this is leading up to the mention of a new book that delves into this whole subject. It is Scandinavian Humor and Other Myths by John Louis Anderson, published by Nordbooks, P.O. Box 6456, Minneapolis, MN 55406.

Anderson finds it impossible to separate Scandanavian lifestyle and attitudes from Scandanavian religious influence. Since Scandanavian religion is, and has been since the 1500's, predominately Lutheran it is mentioned frequently throughout the book. Some of the topics covered are:

"Is Lutheranism Genetically Transmitted?" (The answer is "Yes and No", a good Lutheran answer.)

"60 Things to Worry About Before Communion". (e.g. "What if I have a hole in my shoe and it shows?" "How should I walk when I go up to the rail?" "What if the wafer sticks to my mouth?")

"Skills Learned At Church Suppers". (e.g. "Coffee drinking is the only positively reinforced behaviour at Lutheran church suppers. Someone will always come around to refill your coffee cup, but you will have to get up and fetch your own milk or Kool-Aid.")

"25 Reasons To Go To A Good Lutheran College". (e.g. "Your parents think it is a good idea and will pay for it." "You believe that a degree in religious anthropology will help you better serve humanity.")

And a couple of random observations by the author: "Scandinavian/American's are plagued with contradictory stereotypes. On the one hand, Nordics are supposed to be as sexy as all-get-out. On the other, we're known to be Lutherans."

"Just as a tree can be dated by reading its rings, you can tell a Scandanavian/American's age by counting the number of Lutheran Hymnal revisions in their bookshelves."

O.K., so it's not the funniest book currently on the market. However, it just may be the funniest book ever about Lutherans. In fact, as far as I know, it is the ONLY humorous book about Lutherans!

Low-fat cheeses

Low-fat natural cheeses may be of limited help to dieters since they are low in fat only by comparison, says Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service nutritionist Dr. Alice Hunt.

For example, part-skim mozzarella contains only one-fourth less fat than its regular counterpart, so 55 percent of its calories still come from fat. Low-fat natural cheese is hard to make, she notes, since fat is what gives cheese its consistency. But processed cheeses, in which water is added to a cheese blend, are lower in fat. Many of the "lite" processed cheeses contain only 3 to 4 grams of fat per 1 1/2 ounce serving, she reports.

"The drawback with processed cheeses is their sodium content," says the nutritionist. "A serving of lite processed cheese will contain 340-700 milligrams of sodium, a significant amount if you're concerned with keeping your sodium intake to the recommended 3300 milligrams per day."

Blizzard Track weekly results

8th Boys and Girls run at Bearcub Relays
The 8th Grade boys and girls track teams had their final preparation meet this past weekend in Ballinger, tuning up for the district meet on April 11. There were four 3A teams and three 2A teams at the meet and the competition was very stiff.

We had ten individuals make the finals along with our five relay teams. The kids ran extremely well and their times were excellent considering the cold, windy weather.

Katherine Kozelsky was the only athlete able to capture a blue, 1st place ribbon, as she won the high jump competition by jumping 4'6". Katherine is going to be an excellent jumper as she progresses on up through high school.

If you think 4'6" sounds low, put a string across your garage and see if you think you can jump over it without even touching it. Willie Belk had a personal best of 19'2" in the long jump, but was only able to capture 2nd place. I was pleased with the effort of our kids and I know they are ready for our district meet in Brownwood.

8th Grade boys-5th place in meet.

Diana Farias placed 7th in the discus throw, even though she didn't have one of her better throws. Tracey Grantham improved 9 inches in the long jump.

Scoring points for Winters include the following:

Extension at Home

By Pat Hohensee
County Extension Agent

Due to the enthusiasm over the Sewing With Nancy videos, three additional new topics will be offered for the public. The videos are being sponsored by the Runnels County Extension Homemakers Council and are free of charge.

The next video entitled "Sergee/Overlock Sewing" will show the basics of working with thread and four thread sergers. Through the tape, you will see, step-by-step instructions on using decorative thread and yarns for creative special effects. The use of serger notions and accessories will also be highlighted. This video will be shown Thursday, April 9 at 2 p.m. in the Courthouse Conference Room on 3rd floor.

On April 15 (Wednesday), the "Machine Monogramming" video will be shown at both 2 p.m. and 6 p.m. in the Conference Room at the Courthouse.

Crop insurance deadline at hand

Farmers in central and northern parts of Texas still have time to insure their upcoming crops from yield and quality losses.

April 15 is the deadline for farmers in these areas to obtain multiple peril crop insurance (mpci), points out Dr. Ashley Lovell of Stephenville, economist with the Texas Agriculture Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Farmers who have signed up for mpci the past year will have their policies automatically renewed, but must make any changes by the April 15 deadline. Others desiring insurance will need to contact their crop insurance representative immediately. County Extension offices and Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service offices can provide further information on crop insurance.

With the current economic uncertainty, early indications are that a record number of farmers will purchase crop insurance in 1987, Lovell points out. Growers should evaluate the prevented planting endorsement in conjunction with insuring with mpci, or crop hail and fire coverage.

An additional reason why record numbers of farmers will purchase crop insurance in 1987

Class B brucellosis classification for Texas has been approved

A Class B brucellosis classification for Texas has been approved by the U.S. Department of Agriculture as of April 1, 1987.

"This is a tremendous achievement for the livestock industry. It is the cooperation of cattle producers that makes this possible," John S. Cargile, Chairman, Texas Animal Health Commission, said.

Texas had been classified as a Class C and Class B state since 1980. With the Class B status, the B-C line will be eliminated, and the B designation will mean less restriction on movement interstate of cattle for producers in Texas, Cargile said.

Nationwide, there are now six ference Room at the Courthouse. This video tape will give the novice a great start at monogramming like a professional. It will show how a zigzag sewing machine can make block and rounded monogrammed alphabet to supply to garments or towels.

Finally, on April 23 (Thursday) the "Fitting Slacks" video will address many of the common fitting problems and show how to solve them with logical alteration or re-cutting steps. Special emphasis is given to identifying and determining how to eliminate wrinkles in slacks. This final video will be shown at 2 p.m. and 6 p.m. in the Conference Room of the Courthouse.

If there are any questions concerning the Sewing With Nancy videos, call Patricia Hohensee in the County Extension Office 365-5042.

is that those seeking disaster emergency loans from the Farmers Home Administration for crop losses will need to have crop insurance if it is available.

Farmers through the U.S. received more than a half billion dollars in 1986 from mpci as a result of yield and crop quality losses caused mostly by drought and excessive moisture, notes Lovell. Total premiums are estimated at $381.6 million compared with about $559 million in expected loss payments. This results in a national ration of 1.47 of loss payments to total premium.

Texas and Montana were the leading states in total estimated 1986 crop losses payments with $64 million each. California was second with $40 million, and payments in North Carolina totaled $38 million.

Much of the 1986 losses occurred in the Southeast, where farmers went most of the growing season without rain, the economist points out. Other areas with heavy losses included the Midwest and Upper Great Plains. Heavy winterkill damage on winter wheat occurred in the Midwest while Montana growers again experienced drought for the third consecutive year. Heavy cotton losses also occurred in Texas.

Last year Texas farmers bought $309 million of protection on about 4.38 million acres of crops. Farmers' cost of the protection amounted to $22.3

FFA members travel to Texas A&M to compete in Judging Contest

Winters FFA members participated in the Area Judging Contest Saturday, April 4, at Tarleton State University. The Dairy Judging Team placed 1st.

Team members were Wayne Boyd, Marie Pritchard, Frank Davis and LaTricia Palmer.

Wayne Boyd placed First High Point Individual and Marie Pritchard placed Second High Point Individual.

The Livestock Judging Team placed 4th. Team members were Monty Smith, John Andrae, Clint Deike, and Stephanie Powers. John Andrae placed as Fourth High Point Individual.

The teams will be traveling to Texas A&M on Saturday April 25 to compete in the State Judging Contest.

Horticulture tour scheduled for April

Would you like to know more about growing fruits and other Horticultural crops? If so, why not plan on attending a tour, sponsored by the Extension Service, of the Bluebonnet Hill Vineyard and the Burns Nursery on Tuesday, April 14. The tour group will assemble at 9 a.m. behind the Runnels County Courthouse and travel to the Bluebonnet Hill Vineyards, where they will have an opportunity to hear Dr. Antoine Albert discuss the operations of the Bluebonnet Hill Vineyard.

The Burns Nursery will be the second stop of the tour, where tour participants will see pecan and fruit trees being grown and also a young pecan million, which reflects a premium reduction of about 25 percent because of Federal participation.

In the five previous years (1980-1985) that the mpci program has been operating, total protection in force nationally reached $30.4 billion while loss payments made to farmers totaled $1.5 billion, Lovell points out.

orchard coming into production, states Allen Turner, County Extension Agent.

John Begnaud, Tom Green County Extension Horticulturist, will be on the tour to answer questions and talk with prospective growers.

Anthony Lange, Chairman of the Extension Horticulture Committee, states "This is an excellent opportunity for anyone interested in producing horticultural crops to view ongoing horticultural operations and to talk with experienced producers."

Horse Short Course Training Clinic set

Special clinics dealing with horse psychology and performance horse training as well as a state forging and shoeing contest will be highlights of the 1987 Horse Short Course at Texas A&M University, May 1-3.

The annual short course is an educational program of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and Texas A&M University's Department of Animal Science and College of Veterinary Medicine.

The short course begins with a horse psychology clinic at 7 p.m. on May 1 by B. F. Yeates, Extension horse specialist, and John Lyons, a professional horse trainer from Silt, Colorado.

An educational program the next day will feature concurrent sessions dealing with a variety of topics relating to horse production and management, says Dr. Doug Householder, Extension horse specialist. Among discussion topics will be feeding of fat to high performance horses, caring for the lower leg of horses, hay analysis, reproductive physiology research at Texas A&M, early embryonic loss in the mare, new developments in equine immunology and genetic biotechnology, predicting parturition in the mare, and new technology in shoeing and correcting lower leg lameness in horses.

Buddy Roulston, a professional horse trainer from Brenham and president of the Texas Reining Horse Association, will conduct a horse training clinic at 1:15 p.m. on May 2. That evening the Brazos County Extension Committee will hold a Brozos Valley Quarter Horse Sale featuring some 60 head of halter and performance horses of various ages.

Beginning at 10 a.m. Sunday, May 3, the Texas Reining Horse Association will conduct a reining horse show.

The Texas Professional Farriers' Association will hold a state forging and shoeing contest on May 1 and 2. More than 50 farriers are expected, making this one of the largest shoeing contests in the nation, Householder points out.

The reason women's fashions are always changing is that designers don't like to make the same mistake twice.

This time change is for the birds, come to think of it — they don't care for it either.

A nice sized crowd attended Saturday night supper and afterwards Randy Nolte, Winters, had the C.P.R. Training Course. Sally Mae and Wilmer Gerhart, Paul and Ken Baker hosted the supper and the tables were pretty dressed for Easter. Hostesses for the next meeting are Eileene, Bernie and Harvey Mae Faubion.

Congratulations to Sheila and Keith Paschal on their new twin babies, a girl and boy, born Friday. I'll try to have their names next week.

A nephew, Charlie Foreman, Dallas, spent the weekend with Lawan and Coleman Foreman.

Hopewell church had a student pastor from Hardin-Simmons Sunday, Allen Keith, of Abilene. After lunch at the church service were held, that took care for the night services.

Ruth and Bradley Pape were in Houston last week to visit her two sons, Lee and David Craig, while there they heard David play jazz in the Blue Moon Cafe, David plays bass.

Sybil Tounget, Lubbock, spent Friday with Chester McBeth, also they were in Abilene for his Doctor's checkup.

Hazel Mae Bragg attended a birthday party in the home of her son, Harold and Helen Bragg, in Glen Cove, honoring Helen's dad, Truman Carruthers, from Coleman, on his 80th birthday. All of his children were present.

Hazel Mae Bragg had supper with the D. H. Grounds, San Angelo, at Lowake Saturday night.

While Mrs. Effie Dietz car was in the garage for some work she visited with Bessie Baldwin and had lunch in Winters on Friday, later she went to Ballinger to Rains-Seale Funeral Home to see Mrs. Owens, who was buried on Saturday. Clarence Hambright came out and cut Effie's grass and did odd jobs. Mrs. Dietz had the pleasure to see and talk to Porter Baker, Jr. in church Sunday, son of Mrs. Ethel Bridwell.

Mrs. Enoch Johnson was back in Ballinger Memorial Hospital since Saturday, later I got word she is back at the home since Sunday.

Corra Petrie was in San Angelo Wednesday for an eye checkup, accompanied by Cecil Hambright, Winters.

Eileene Prater attended a Mary Kay party in the home of Rose Mary Englert.

Granddaughter, Amanda Cooper, Abilene, is spending several days with Pat and Earl Cooper.

Jerry and Casey Alexander, Tucson, Arizona, spent the weekend with Helen and Norval Alexander.

Nila and Therin Osborne were in Coleman Sunday evening and visited Alta Hale and S. J. and Helen Brevard.

Those attending the Brownwood W.M.U. Heart of Texas Retreat Friday and Saturday were: Selma Dietz, Jannie Fanning, Melvina Gerhart, Paula Baker and Bernie Faubion.

Crews Community folks wishes to thank Randy Nolte for coming out and for the C.P.R. Training Course.

I heard from Walter Jacob, he is doing O.K. but awful weak, no appetite, he would like to thank all the neighbors for the food, cards, phone calls and prayers and for all the visitors, some during the week were: Mr. Ash, the Herbert Jacobs, Noble Faubion, Hazel Dietz, Betty and Marvin Gray, Louis Fuller and all his family. He enjoys company.

Social Security for young workers

Young people first entering the work force may look upon Social Security as something for the "other guy." But, Social Security provides more than retirement benefits—benefits that all workers, regardless of age, can take advantage of.

For example, a young worker who becomes severely disabled so as to be unable to do any work for at least a year may be eligible for monthly Social Security payments. These benefits are payable at any time before age 65 provided the person has worked long enough and recently enough in Social Security-covered employment. The law provides for a 5-month waiting period, so checks start with sixth full month of disability and continue as long as the worker remains disabled. His or her family may be entitled to benefits as well.

In addition, an individual who receives disability benefits for 2 years is eligible for Medicare, which includes both hospital and medical insurance. Medicare helps pay for major health care costs, such as hospital and doctor bills.

Occasionally, too, young workers die. If this should happen, monthly payments can be made to the worker's family provided he or she had worked long enough under Social Security.

These payments may be made to the worker's children until their 18th birthday or, if they are attending an elementary or secondary school full-time, until their 19th birthday. Payments may also be made to the surviving spouse until the youngest child is 16.

These are only some of the features of Social Security that make it more than simply a retirement program. Additional information can be obtained from the San Angelo Social Security Office located at 2214 Sherwood Way. The telephone number is 949-4608.

B.A.S.A. SOCCER
By J. F. PSUTKA, M.D.

We are now entering the last week of Spring Soccer with regular games Saturday, April 11 and make up games Sunday, April 12, 1987. There will not be any regularly scheduled games after that except for the Under 14, who will play exhibition games in preparation for Spring tournaments.

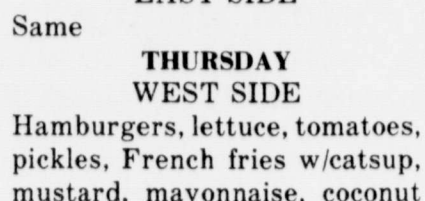

We did not have a particularly good turnout Sunday. Three games were lost by forfeiture. The Ballinger teams, Rovers, Sidekicks and Apollos could not field the required number of players. However, the Winters teams are to be commended as they all appeared and played their games.

The league standing indicate that there is really only one close race for the individual age championship this year. The Warriors and the Winters Scorpions have pretty well locked up their championship. However, there will be quite a battle for the Under 10 championship with the Gremlins and the Rangers deadlocked at present. Next Sunday, they play each other in a match that could decide the championship.

ORO-G

When you need a medium maturing hybrid grain sorghum with excellent yield potential, you need ORO-G. Its stout stalks support large medium-loose heads of bronze-colored grain. Standability and threshability of the 39 to 44 inch tall plants are excellent. Widely adapted for irrigation or dryland, ORO-G is resistant to moisture stress and the bio-type C greenbug. Its consistent performance makes ORO-G the "Old Reliable" of hybrid sorghum.

Old stuff to reporters, business executives and Federal Express, deadline pose a new and critical challenge to Big Bird and his Sesame Street cohorts in the all-new stage musical, "Big Bird Goes Hollywood," which opens a two-day, three-performance engagement at the Taylor County Coliseum in Abilene Saturday, April 18.

Just 60 minutes and a band of helpful Muppet stars stand between Guy Smiley's dream of success as a movie tycoon and mere employment as a game show host. Having won a movie studio from the sleazy partnership of Izzie Great and Wuzzy Wonderful, Smiley stands to lose it all unless an hour deadline for the filming of a movie is met.

The countdown to a happy ending takes Big Bird, Cookie Monster, Bert and Ernie, Grover, Prairie Dawn, Oscar the Grouch, Barkley the Dog, The Count, and the audience on a trip down memory lane, Hollywood style. The sampling of movie styles and situations embraces a jungle adventure, space voyage, Latin American dance extravaganza, a monster sequence and an Abbott and Costello reminiscence, punctuated by a dash of doo wop and a lot of lively songs and dances and audience involvement.

"For many youngsters, 'Sesame Street Live!' provides a pleasurable and painless introduction to live theater," according to Vincent E. Egan, whose Minneapolis-based VEE Corporation presents "Sesame Street Live!" in cooperation with the Children's Television Workshop.

"While parents will recognize that the show has all the elements of a quality theatrical production, the charm for children lies in the familiar characters with well-established personalities, a simple plot enhanced with songs and dancing and plenty of participation and actor-audience interaction," Egan added.

"Big Bird Goes Hollywood," which will have 2 and 7 p.m. performances Saturday, April 18 and 2:30 p.m. performance Sunday, April 19, was produced by Bob Shipstad, who, for 14 years, produced Shipstads and Johnson Ice Follies. The script was written by Jim Thurman and David Connell, executive producer of the "Sesame Street" series on Public Television. The show was directed and choreographed by Diane Arnold, assistant choreographer for TV's "Solid Gold."

Original arrangements of such Sesame Street standards as "Somebody Come and Play With Me," "We Are All Monsters," and "So Nice To Be Here With You," were supplied by Paul Walberg, whose credits include similar work for Ice Follies and Disneyland. Walberg also wrote special music for the production.

Showcasing the talents of 18 young actors, actresses and dancers who make up the company are stage settings, props and special effects created by art director, Jim Waters.

Tickets for "Big Bird Goes Hollywood" are $8.50, with a $1.50 discount for boys and girls 12 and under, courtesy of Coca-Cola. They are on sale now at the Expo Center Ticket Office, Farm and Ranch Wear and Curtis Mathes in Abilene.

The Sunday, April 19 matinee performance is KTAB-TV32 Easter Family Matinee, and all seats are reduced to $6 for the family holiday occasion.

State Debate on Health Care set

The Texas Foundation for Human Services is sponsoring the 1987 "State Debate on Health Care—Who Lives? Who Dies? Who Pays?" to be held April 26-28 in Austin.

Lan Bentsen, chairman of the Foundation's Executive Committee on Health Care, explained that community and professional leaders from throughout the state have been invited to debate health issues of critical importance to the people of Texas.

Debaters will offer medical, legal, financial, and ethical viewpoints on propositions related to the three major questions.

Specific issues to be debated under the question of "Who Lives?" include:

- Should society pay for an individual's choices?
- Providers, not payers, should provide the primary guidance to consumers with regard to appropriate health care.
- Health care policy emphasizes acute care in traditional programs at the expense of both prevention and alternate care programs.

"Who Dies?" will examine the following issues:

- Government alone should be the final arbiter of when a life should be prolonged or ended.
- Government should set guidelines for determining how access to care is rationed.

The "Who Pays?" debate will focus on the following issues:

- All employers should be required to provide basic health coverage for their employees and dependents.
- High cost health care should be provided by state and federal governments without regard for the individual's ability to pay.

—Government should not be responsible for long term care.

The State Debate is intended to involve grass roots leaders in efforts to shape health policy and to heighten public awareness and participation in policymaking, Bentsen said.

Following each debate, reaction panels are to lend local and personal perspectives to the issues.

Selected delegates including health care providers, insurers, consumers, attorneys, corporate and government executives, and elected officials have been invited to attend. These delegates will be charged with the responsibility of returning to their communities to develop a network to focus on regional and state health care issues, Bentsen said.

For more information, contact Diane Black, Coordinator, State Debate on Health Care, at 512/450-3008.

Flugel Fitness Water Exercise

Join us in what is becoming one of the most popular ways to aerobically exercise in America today—Flugeling! The Water Exercise Class utilizes hand and lower leg flotation devices which provide the necessary resistance and flotation during the exercises to slim and trim target areas such as hips, thighs and abdominals. But, the best part of the class is that it's so much fun you won't even know you're exercising! This class is also recommended for those with arthritis, lower back problems or pre and post natal women, because of its therapeutically sound and supportive water environment. For information and registration contact Debbie Forehand at 944-YMCA.

Six week sessions begin April 7-May 14 at Central High School pool, San Angelo, from 7-8 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

Scholarship Fund presented to Board of Education: Award to be granted in May

The Winters High School Class of 1940 presented the Pearl Jackson Scholarship Fund to the Board of Education at its meeting on Tuesday, April 7. The contribution included $6670.10 for the endowment fund and $700 for the grant which will be presented to a graduating senior in May. In the future the grant each year will be the earnings of the endowment fund for that year.

The $7370.10 which was presented to the Board was the total amount collected by the class in its efforts to establish a scholarship fund in honor of Mrs. Pearl Jackson, long-time teacher at Winters High School and resident of Winters. The members of the Class of 1940 contributed a total of $5,856, and members of other classes contributed $905.10. Friends of Mrs. Jackson and Winters High School contributed $600.

While the goal of $10,000 was not reached, the Class of 1940 sincerely appreciates the support that was given to this effort. It is hoped that civic groups, individuals and organizations which are interested in education will continue to contribute to the fund and that the goal will be reached in the near future. The Class of 1940 recommends that consideration be given to Memorial Gifts to the fund. The class considers it very important that a significant scholarship be provided for a Winters High School graduate each year.

The Pearl Jackson Scholarship Fund at the Winters State Bank has been closed. In the future contributions should be made to the Pearl Jackson Scholarship Fund, Winters Independent School District, Winters, Texas 79567.
