METHODIST MEETING STARTS SUNDAY

All arrangements are perfected for the community-wide meeting which is scheduled to begin at local Methodist church Sunday morning.

This meeting has been arranged for since Christmas. With the beginning of the new year, one of the first things Pastor W. E. Anderson did was to make announcements relative to the meeting that he had arranged for. And from then till now all his endeavors and of his congregation as well have been to get all the details for the meeting arranged.

Rev. A. D. Porter, D. D., Brownwood, Texas, presiding elder of this district, who will lead in the evangelistic meeting, which begins at the local Methodist church Sunday morning.

Dr. A. D. Porter, presiding elder of this district, is to lead in the meeting. Dr. Porter has but few equals as pulpit speaker. He is a devout man, as well as a great man intellectually, and therefore his sermons are always full of helpful thought, delivered as only an oral message can be delivered by one with a great depth of conviction. Due to his popularity, as a pulpiteer, Dr. Porter has a great hold on the masses with which to enter into the meeting.

A letter from Dr. Porter to Pastor Anderson states that he will reach here Saturday and will be ready for the first hour of the meeting Sunday morning.

The meeting will run two weeks. It is desired both by the pastor, Dr. Porter and the members of the congregation to make the meeting community wide in its gracious effects upon the community. And to that end everybody is cordially invited to attend and all Christians are invited to give all cooperation possible.

E. W. Hagman submitted to an operation at a San Angelo sanitarium Tuesday of last week, from which he is recovering as rapidly as could be expected.

Mrs. Charley Eubanks was taken to a Ballinger sanitarium Thursday of last week and submitted to an operation Saturday morning. The last report she was doing well.

INVENTOR MAKES BRONTE HIS HOME

Prof. Roy Derrick who formerly resided in Coke County, but for the past several years has made his home at Hico, Texas, has returned to abide here permanently. Prof. Derrick taught school at Lometa and Sand Spring some years ago when he was here.

For several years Prof. Derrick has been giving much of his attention to invention. He has perfected a cotton chopper that seems to one not initiated in the merits of inventions, to be destined to be a great success as it will do the back-breaking, muscle destroying task of chopping cotton in one or other power. Prof. Derrick is expecting to have his machine this week in San Angelo Foundry & Machine Company is manufacturing the first machine for Prof. Derrick and possibly before this is in print it will have been received by him.

Prof. Derrick said he got the inspiration and suggestion for inventing the cotton chopper some years ago when working for his uncle, E. A. Norrad. He was operating a go-devil and studying it and its work, there came the suggestion of the cotton chopper.

The Enterprise wishes Prof. Derrick all the success that the merits of his cotton chopper should bring. It is too often true that the real genius who does the inventing never realizes any thing from his inventive genius as money sharks swoop down on his helplessness and reap the rich benefits of the poor inventor's genius and labor.

GOOD & BAKER IS FIRM'S NAME

As announced in The Enterprise two weeks ago Walker Good and Charley Baker have bought the grocery and filling station of S. J. Townsend at Tennyson and have taken charge of same. Walker Good is manager and he and Mrs. Good have moved back to Tennyson, where they lived last year.

They have taken the name of Good & Baker as their business name. They are replenishing and enlarging the stock and will carry somewhat a general line of merchandise. They will buy and sell country produce and handle cream. Mr. Good, speaking of their plans, said: "Our main aim is to give the best service." They also have a filling station and will be ready at all times to give the public quick, courteous and first class service both in their store and at their filling station.

They have an announcement in today's Enterprise. Read it.

O. M. Smith and F. J. Strohm of the Home Motor Co. transacted business in San Angelo Monday.

BRONTE SCHOOL GETS STATE AID

It came a little late, yet not too late, to make the members of the board of trustees of the Bronte High school, feel jubilant.

We speak of the one thousand dollars the school received this week in the way of aid from the state special school fund.

Through oversight application was not made at the right time for the aid and hence it seemed Bronte was going to get no aid this year.

But a state inspector was here recently and inspected the school as to its equipment and saw that the board of trustees had been faithful in adding every equipment possible, under the circumstances that would facilitate the school in its work. Hence, he recommended that though the amount for making application for aid was passed unheeded by the school, the school be given the above amount.

This is good news to all the patrons as well as the board of trustees, for it began to look like that a seven month's term was the length of school this year.

Sanitary Bakery Situation.

Things are coming along fast with reference to establishing the Sanitary Bakery. Of course, a thing cannot be done in a few days involving as much as the establishment of a bakery. We are moving slowly but surely. We appreciate more than we can express, the words of encouragement that have come to us. Bread consumers have told us by word and some have phoned us that we could count on them for their patronage when the bakery is ready to deliver bread. All this we very much appreciate.

Unless we can get arrangements that suit us better than we have been able so far to arrange for, we will not handle bread until we are cooking it in the oven of the Sanitary Bakery. We have been given good rates by different bakeries, but because of transportation facilities we can't get it here while it is hot.

Let our friends be patient and due announcement will be made when we are ready to deliver bread.

A "HIGH BORN CULLUD GEN'LEMAN" WHIPS WIFE.

Sunday being "de Lord's day," a husband of the Senegambian species, who was living on the Robert Herron farm near town, took occasion of the day to show his authority over the spouse of his bosom, and proceeded, after a quarrel only as "niggers" can quarrel, to give his "inferior half" a genuine good thrashing.

The "domestic infelicity" had its beginning down on the meandering banks of the South Kickapoo, near the home. The quarrel lasted until all parties reached the cabin in which they lived.

MISS SMITH GOES TO ROBERT LEE

Miss Verna Smith, who is a student in Simmons College, at Abilene, will deliver a "chalk talk" in the Methodist church at Robert Lee Sunday evening, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

Miss Smith needs no further words of introduction or approval upon her work, as she has delivered her lectures to large audiences both in the Methodist church at Blackwell and at Bronte. And every one who heard her at either place is loud in the words of appreciation for her mastery of throwing beautiful and tender thought on canvas. The evening of Miss Smith's lecture in Bronte, it is believed by many that she had the largest congregation that ever assembled for worship.

Hence The Enterprise assures its readers in and around Robert Lee that they will never regret hearing this fine young lady's lecture.

There and then, "with purpose of thought," the "man of the house" proceeded in "sheik" fashion to "regulate" his wife. But, she was about to prove to be the real regulator herself, when Mr. Herron arrived and interfered. If the party of the feminine sex could have gotten hold of a razor, it is likely there would have been a funeral and the person aforesaid to be buried would not have been the wife of the obstreperous husband.

Deputy Sheriff O. C. Ivey was called in finally to quell the riot and to restore order along the battle front. Upon his arrival peace was declared between the belligerent parties and "mum" was the word—one would not give testimony against the other. Hence they were hardly in reach of the law. Therefore, Deputy Sheriff Ivey gave them their choice either to go to jail or leave the county. They chose the latter and in a very brief time they were aboard the bus on their way to Snyder where, again, sharing the affections of each other. Mr. Ivey told the negroes last fall when they came here that there was opposition to negroes staying here, but assured them that if they would behave themselves he would guarantee them every protection of the law. But he also told them if they did not behave they sure would have to suffer the consequences. Hence he thought the best thing was to have the negroes involved to go at once—and go they did.

R. E. Cumble was rushed to a Ballinger sanitarium Sunday in the early afternoon and submitted to an operation that evening. He was suffering from a perforation of the stomach. At this writing, Thursday, he is doing as well as could be expected and hopes are entertained for his recovery.

BIRD BROTHERS IMPROVE HERD

Messrs. I. A. Bird and L. S. Bird, of Robert Lee, passed through Bronte late Friday afternoon, en route home, from Stamford, where they had been to receive the last two of four cows they bought from R. B. Colbert, the nationally known white face cattle breeder.

The Bird Brothers are among Coke county's foremost cattle raisers. They already have a fine herd of white faces on their ranch above Robert Lee, but believing as they do that the very best is none too good, they bought the four cows to add to their already fine strains they have on their ranch.

They paid $1200 for four cows. Some price, eh, for four cows, considering the present prices of range "dogies?" Hut, if you were to see the four cows you wouldn't think it too much for pure bred stuff. The Messrs. Bird had two of the cows on a truck, carrying them to the ranch. The other two had already been delivered. The two that the gentlemen had on the truck Friday tipped the beam right at 1200 pounds each.

Coke county needs more cowmen of the type of the Messrs. Bird—cow men who will not be afraid to invest a few dollars in pure bred stuff, and go to raising cattle on a scale that will mean more to them, to the cattle industry and to Coke county. The day the "dogie" passes on the cattle ranches of West Texas and pure bred stuff only is bred that much quicker will the material values of West Texas increase.

The Enterprise congratulates the Bird Brothers on their fine buy and wishes them huge chunks of success in the form of the prettiest, finest types of pure bred white faces ever raised on a ranch.

Car Overturns Near Snyder.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hayley had a close call for their lives Monday near Snyder, when their car turned over with them on a high embankment.

Mr. and Mrs. Hayley started early Monday morning for Olden on a visit to their son, George. They had reached near Snyder, when the car struck a sand bed on a high embankment. In order to keep the car from going over the embankment Mr. Hayley gave it a quick lurch to turn it back into the road, which caused the car to turn over.

The car was badly smashed yet fortunately the occupants escaped with slight bruises and other injuries. Mr. Hayley turned the car back in proper position, stepped on the starter and it began "purring like a kitten," as if nothing had happened. They returned home in the crippled car without a bit of trouble.

Mr. and Mrs. Erast Gideon and Mrs. J. W. Stowers were San Angelo visitors Monday.

Married.

Sunday afternoon, March 14, Ernest Benjamine Hilbo of Sanco and Miss Virgie Williams of Hayrick were united in marriage, Rev. W. E. Anderson speaking the words that linked together the future of this popular young couple. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Williams, at whose home the marriage took place.

Quite a number of friends and relatives witnessed the ceremony, and The Enterprise joins their many friends in wishing the happy couple bon voyage.

Mrs. F. G. Adkins is visiting with relatives in Miles this week. She just returned Monday morning from a delightful visit of some days with friends at Sweetwater.

Ralph Scott has our thanks for "one bean" on subscription. Mr. Scott is glad to get back to Bronte after an absence of some years at Pioneer, Texas.

"Uncle George" Woullard has our thanks for a subscription to his son, O. L., at Grand Falls, Texas.

Chesley Hughes and wife of near Miles were Monday visitors in Bronte.

Lad Breaks Arm.

Ellis, the fourteen year old son of Charley Eubanks, broke his arm early Friday morning while cranking a Ford. Both bones in the arm were broken. His father brought the lad to the doctor and had the broken bones adjusted and put in splints. It is hoped he soon will be well with no permanent bad effects.

Dr. Terrell in Angelo.

Rev. Mark N. Terrell of Sherman, general evangelist of the Methodist church, who held a meeting in Bronte a year ago, is now leading in a meeting with the First Methodist church at San Angelo. We give this information so that if any of Dr. Terrell's many friends whom he made while here wish to go to hear him there they can do so.

Preached on Streets.

Rev. W. E. Hawkins, Jr., pastor of the Methodist church in Robert Lee (possibly we should say all of Coke county except Bronte and Hayrick, as he goes like the early disciples, "everywhere preaching the word") led in an evangelistic service on the streets of Bronte Saturday afternoon. The wind was blowing terrific and cold, it is true, but Rev. Hawkins "warmed up" to his subject and likewise "warmed up" the crowd, so we are informed. Because of other matters it was not our privilege to hear him.

The editor greatly appreciates the kindly words of Mrs. E. C. Jones of Lampasas sent us through her daughter, Mrs. O. C. Ivey as to her appreciation of the weekly visits of The Enterprise. "A kind word doeth good," so said "the wise man."

Visiting Club Meet.

(Omitted Last Week)

To The Enterprise: The ladies visiting club met at Mrs. E. A. Bell's Friday afternoon and had an enjoyable afternoon.

Those present were: Mrs. Will Price, Mrs. J. B. Glenn, Mrs. J. A. Snyder, Mrs. H. Thompson, Mrs. E. C. Baker, Mrs. Dike Snyder, Mrs. Jim Hall, Mrs. Collins Sayner, and Mrs. W. E. McCane.

Fifth Sunday Meeting.

The 5th Sunday meeting of the Fairland Baptist Association will be held with the Kickapoo church at Union, three miles north of Bronte, the 5th Sunday in this month.

The program has been arranged, which is a good one and appeared in last issue of The Enterprise. All are cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. J. G. Williams of Waco is here visiting her mother, Mrs. A. E. Ivey and her son, J. D. Leathers. She is accompanied by two of her sons, Albert and Corbie.

"Uncle Billie" Rodgers has our thanks for a subscription renewal to his son, A. E. at Lamesa. The one receiving the paper says he regards it somewhat as a letter each week.

Protection for Eye

Afforded by Nature

Salt enters very largely into the composition of our bodies. Were it not so our bodies would speedily "go bad," and it is for this reason that in certain cases of extreme enfeeblement the surgeon revives his patient with an injection of salt and water.

One of the most sensitive parts of the body is the eyeball, and for its protection from dangerous particles of dust, germs and so on, nature has arranged for the upper eyelid to "swab" it, as it were, with salt-diluted water several times a minute. The sweep of the eyelid spreads an even film of moisture carefully over its surface.

Slightly salted water, then, is nature's protection for the eyes, and when under the influence of emotion or pain the glands overflow in "tears," the overflow is naturally salt—Chicago Journal.

Youngster Showed 'Paw'

How to Handle Enemy

"Nick Nucks was going along the road tuther evening with his little boy, Jigger, about thirteen years old, with him, when all of a sudden a feller stuck his head up over a log beside the road and took a shot at Nick, and missed him," related the proprietor of the crossroads store. "Nick yanked his own gun and poured a couple of shots right back at him, but didn't hit him.

"Aw—dad-burn it, Paw!—gimme a show at him!" says Jigger. "And he grabbed up a rock in each hand and let drive! Both of 'em hit the feller in the head just as he poked it up to take another shot at Nick. He gave a howl and tumbled headlong over the log.

"There—durn it, Paw!" says Jigger. "That's the way to do these yer funny jokers. What do you reckon he wanted, anyhow?"—Kansas City Star.

A Fallacy

Theodore Jelenk, the millionaire realtor, said in a success talk in Brooklyn.

"It's a fallacy to say the road to success is long and arduous; it is usually short and easy.

"A man in a club nodded toward a stalwart, broad-shouldered millionaire and said: "He began as an office boy, I suppose, and worked his way up, step by step, to his present position of vast influence and power."

"No," was the reply, "not at all. He began as a star Yale halfback and married his boss' daughter."

Odd Material for Clock

A clock of straw has been made by a shoemaker of Strasburg in the Uckermark in Germany and exhibited in various European countries. It has been going for the last 17 years. The mechanism consists of weight of 200 grams, that is raised by pressing on a knob, and arrangement of eight pendulums, in place of the usual wheels. Rye straw is used in the entire construction, with the exception of the hands and numbers, which are of oat straw.

Diver's Safe Fall

Harry Wright, twenty-eight, building cleaner, fell five stories from the side of a Chicago skyscraper when he lost his balance, but landed on his feet and suffered no worse injuries than two broken ankles and a dislocated right arm. Wright explained that he was a champion diver when he was in the navy and when he fell he was able to balance himself in such a way that he landed "right side up."

Too Many Oil Workers

Because the large numbers of persons who sought employment in the Venezuela oil fields were disappointed and suffered hardships there, the local government has been trying to stop the flow of humanity to Maracaibo and vicinity.

Wealth of United States

The estimated national wealth of the United States, including tangible property, real and personal, public and private, was $320,804,000,000 in 1922, the latest figures reported by the director of the census.

INTRODUCING NEW ANGELO FIRM

In this issue will be found a large display advertisement of R. L. Brown, San Angelo's new merchant. Mr. Brown is now located at 222 South Chadbourne Street, right in San Angelo's shopping district. Mr. Brown came from Cleburne to San Angelo. He visited San Angelo several months ago and immediately fell in love with it, determining while there then to return and engage in business.

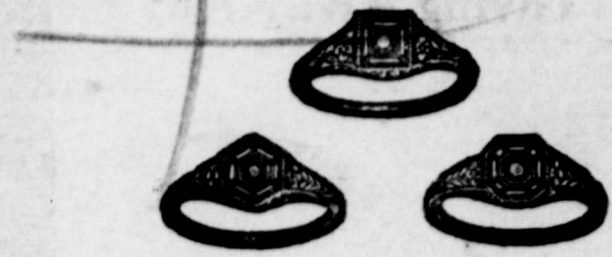

To do this Mr. Brown purchased the greater part of the grocery stock of W. A. Perry and secured the building in that way. In this way he secured groceries at cost, which he now offers to sell at cost, he not being desirous of engaging in the grocery business, but instead conducting a dry goods, millinery and ladies' ready-to-wear store. The stock Mr. Brown now has is complete showing the latest in hats, ladies' millinery, ready-to-wear and dry goods.

This new store promises to become a very popular shopping place for both the ladies and men of West Texas, because it is well known fact that wherever West Texans can purchase good goods at low prices that is where they go. So, when you visit San Angelo be sure to visit Brown's at 222 South Chadbourne Street, the headquarters of stylish goods, low-priced groceries and good merchandise.

Mr. Brown has bought property in San Angelo and will build five new Bungalows immediately. He is a most pleasing gentleman and is a town builder.

Rev. and Mrs. A. D. Jameson from Blackwell were in town Thursday. Rev. Jameson was playing "advance agent" for "Mary's Millions," a play to be on at the Bronte school auditorium tonight, by the Blackwell school.

Is Not Giving Away Any Refrigerators or any Ice, But is Giving You a Quality Refrigerator at a Lower Price.

We know San Angelo and West Texas people know that you don't get anything for nothing, but we do believe that they know a good refrigerator when they see one—and can pick a bargain when it is marked in plain figures right before their eyes.

We have this year the lowest price on Imperial Odorless Refrigerators we have been able to make since the war. Come to the Household and see these Odorless Refrigerators and Ice Boxes. There are many distinctive features of the Odorless which you will recognize when you see the refrigerator, but we want to point out that the Odorless is made of a solid Oak Case, that its ice chamber is made so that it will take standard cakes of ice. If you buy an Odorless of 50 or 100 pound ice capacity—you can be sure that it will hold a 50 or 100 pound cake of ice the way it comes in on the ice-man's back. He won't have to chip it off on your floor to get it into the ice chamber.

The chamber under the ice chamber is sufficient for you to place a quart bottle of milk directly under it. This is the coldest part of the ice box and it is here that you will want to keep your milk. Do not buy a refrigerator that is not constructed so that a quart bottle of milk can go into this compartment.

M. E. Church Notes.

Sunday was a good day for the church, good congregation and a hearty response to the call of the church for mission money.

Now the centenary campaign is over and the revival meeting is at hand. Bro. Porter will be with us Sunday morning. Let every one be in his or her place, on time and ready to work.

There will be preaching at Marie Saturday night but will have no Sunday afternoon service.

Yours for a complete co-operation of the whole community and a revival of Holy Ghost religion "whosoever will may come"

Bishop James E. Dickey spoke on an Unification at Abilene, Tuesday to a packed house in St. Paul's Methodist church.

The meeting was a group meeting composed of five districts, Brownwood, Cisco, Stamford, Sweetwater and Abilene. Thousands were in attendance and it was estimated that at least 85 per cent of the clerical and 90 to 95 per cent of the laity were in harty accord with the Bishop who opposed the present plan of unification.

WOULLARD'S

Grocery and Filling Station
G. W. WOULLARD, Prop.

I take this method of announcing to the people of Bronte and surrounding country that I have opened a grocery store and filling station at my place on the Robert Lee State Highway. I will always keep a fresh, clean stock of groceries, and my filling station and the service I give will always be for I expect to give it my personal attention and therefore the very best that I can do for my patrons both in selling them groceries and in the service of my filling station I will be delighted to do.

I have been here a long time and nearly everyone in all this section knows me. I was in business in Bronte several years ago and I have always had pleasant memories of the splendid way the people treated me then in giving me their patronage. And I want to assure all old-time customers that I appreciate very much still the patronage given me then, and I ask them and all others for their patronage now.

I will treat you right and will appreciate your patronage. My filling station is modernly equipped with a visible gas tank. I pay no rent, therefore I can and do sell cheaper than others. I am selling as low or cheaper than anybody.

Shipments of coal in October attained a new record for the first ten months of the year, increasing to 27,459 tons in October from 21,804 tons in September. Total coal exports in the first ten months of 1924 aggregated 14,929,148 tons, a reduction from the 20,640,900 tons in the corresponding period of 1923.

Weather Affects Wires

The average copper telephone wire is four and three-quarters feet longer to the mile in summer than in winter. This is because the copper contracts with the coming of cold weather, and so telephone wires have to be carefully strung to allow for this expansion and contraction. Otherwise if they were tightly strung in summer they would break when cold weather set in. Most of the wintertime breaks in phone wires are caused by sleet storms. A half inch of sleet on one mile of telephone wire weighs about one and one-half tons.

Pig Uncovered Gold Mine

A wounded pig led to the discovery of a potential gold field near Mt. Tarawera, New Zealand. A man shot the pig; the pig fell down a small waterfall, dislodging a piece of stone, the glitter of which attracted the hunter's attention. He examined the stone and thought it contained silver, so submitted it to the mines department. The stone was assayed and found to contain gold and other minerals, including silver. The find may mark the discovery of a large gold-bearing reef.—Detroit News.

Two Things About Auto CASINGS

When you need Auto Casings there are two things to consider, and which you must and will consider if you exercise the same good judgment as you do in all other business transactions:

The first is the Quality of the Casing. If you buy without regard to the quality of the casing, you are sure not to be satisfied in the long run. We have casings that are all that auto casings have ever been made to be. The material and workmanship are first class.

When You Buy Casings Of the first Quality

you get satisfactory service. And when it comes to prices on first class casings we claim to be as cheap as the cheapest house. And all we ask is that you see us and let us tell you about our first class before you buy.

Another Thing in Buying Is That of the Price

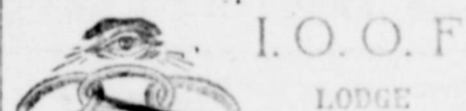

If you want cheaper quality of casings no one can undersell us. We have everything from the very best to the cheaper grades. Therefore we can take care of your casing needs as satisfactorily and as cheap as any one.

Japanese Child Workers

A considerable decrease in the number of child workers in Japanese mines has taken place. This is shown by an investigation by the Japanese bureau of social affairs regarding children and young persons employed in mines during the period from 1918 to 1922, the results of which are reproduced in the Industrial and Labor Information, the weekly publication of the international labor office.

The total number of male and female workers under fifteen years of age decreased from 6,038 in 1918 to 3,840 in 1922, a fall of 36 per cent. In coal mines the percentage of decrease was 16. In metal mines it was 77 per cent for boys and 85 per cent for girls. The actual number of child workers in metal mines fell from more than 2,000 to about 440.

This May Settle an Age-Old Controversy

From the columns of the Baltimore Sun we learn that an issue has arisen again between the inhabitants of the southern part of this great republic and those residing in the northern and eastern sections, ever whether a southerner uses the expression "you all" addressed to one person. We had hoped this grave controversy had been settled long ago; but periodically it bobs up again and again—and it is all because of a mistaken idea on the part of the northerner and easterner; and we believe we detect the real cause of the misunderstanding, says the Wilmington (Del.) Evening.

Some years ago Julian Street, writing for a national magazine, described an experience he had had in a Richmond (Va.) home. He declared that the hostess, a member of the F. F. V., asked him a question concerning his family, and addressed him, "You all." This, he said, was something he had been waiting for all his life—first-hand proof that the expression was used in addressing an individual. Granting that the Richmond lady used the expression as Mr. Street described, an important thing must be considered. The lady, though addressing an individual, was applying the "you all" to Mr. Street's family as well as to himself. This frequently is done.

Yards of String

"Aaron's boy would do tip-top if he had a string long enough," said one neighbor.

"I don't see what use he could make of a string," said the other.

"Well, if he could tie up all the loose ends that he leaves dangling, tie himself down to his work, tie his pocketbook together and then tie his tongue so it wouldn't wag so busily, he would be as useful a fellow as we have in town, but it would take considerable string."—The Myrtle.

Hayrick Notes.

To The Enterprise: On Sunday, March 18th at 2:30 p. m. two of the old families of the county were brought into close alliance and happier relationship, by the marriage of Mr. Alvin Bilboa of Robert Lee and Miss Virgie Williams of this place. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Williams. Only the close relatives of the groom and a few girl friends of the bride attended.

Rev. W. E. Anderson of Bronte spoke the words which made them one. Mr. Bilboa has indeed drawn a prize. Possessing a charming personality and imbued with those many graces of mind and heart which turn every acquaintance into a friend, she was pointed out among us as a perfect example of all a girl should be. An earnest christian, a loyal attendant at church and Sunday school, an excellent housekeeper, home maker and cook.

Mr. Bilboa is one of the rising young men of the county, industrious and quiet, and we predict for them a happy voyage through life.

Rev. W. E. Anderson preached an eloquent and inspired sermon Sunday afternoon on John 3:16 to a most attentive audience. The close of the service a collection was taken which amounted to a little over $36.00. W. A. Robbins voluntarily pledged himself to pay $100.00 in five years to extend centenary work.

On the sick list of last week were Mrs. W. A. Robbins, Miss Virginia Thompson, Mr. Wesley Lebenste, all are improved but Mr. Lebenste.

Great Artists Needed to Restore Mosaic Art

The art of the mosaic has had, during the last four or five centuries, a melancholy history of steady and almost unrelieved decay.

From being one of the greatest of the independent fine arts, it decayed into a second-rate craft, practiced not by creative artists but by mere artisans whose highest skill consisted in copying the work of artists working in another field. The rebirth of painting in the Fourteenth century took the wind out of the mosaicist's sails. It was found to be easier and cheaper to decorate the walls of a church with fresco than with mosaic. Painting developed, expanded. Mosaic fell gradually into disuse.

If mosaic is ever to recover the splendors it possessed, it will be necessary for artists to treat it once more as an independent art. There must be no more imitation in this medium of works of art in another medium. Artists must take mosaic for what it is—a decoration made up of separate pieces of stone and glass—and must find an artistic convention that suits this peculiar medium.—From Vogue.

National Park More Than Self-Supporting

Crater Lake National park in Oregon is self-supporting and more. It is even earning money for Uncle Sam. During the year ended June 30 the revenues received in the park from all sources totaled $35,948, while congress appropriated only $30,700 for maintaining and improving the park, which means a profit of more than $5,000 for the United States government on one national park in a year, says the New York Times.

It is hoped that in time all of the national parks will be self-supporting. In order to bring about this condition it is necessary first to expend government funds to provide the necessary roads and other accommodations. The parks are growing in popularity and the government has joined with many recreational organizations and agencies in extending their use.

Churchman's High Honors

Among the numerous distinctions of the archbishop of Canterbury, who recently attained his seventy-sixth birthday, says the Montreal Star, is that of being probably the only recipient of a knighthood who has not received the accolade or sword stroke, he being both a knight grand cross and a knight commander of the Royal Victorian order. He is also one of the half-dozen percentages not of royal blood who have been given the rare honor of the Victorian chain, which is usually bestowed only upon members of the royal family and foreign connections.

Many Uses for Cork

The cork industry is a large and prosperous one. Every bit of the material that can be produced is needed to help meet the world's demand, which amounts to about 180,000 tons a year. The material is used not only for making the familiar bottle stoppers, but in scores of other ways. Cork is used in the manufacture of helmets, lifebuoys and belts, insulating material, linoleum, mats and fishing boats, and in London alone there are more than 300 firms whose business is connected with cork. A large part of the world's supply comes from Spain and Portugal.

Fewer Public Employees

The number of public employees decreased 3,000 during the last fiscal year, says a civil service commission bulletin. There were 544,671 persons on the rolls on June 30, 1924, of which 296,481 were in the postal service. The figures were compared with Armistice day, 1918, when 917,760 civil service employees were carried.

LARGEST ADVERTISING CONTRACT

The largest advertising contract The Enterprise has made for this year was made this week with the Household Furniture Company of San Angelo.

This large and ever growing furniture company is managed by Mr. E. M. Johnson, who, though a young man, yet is one of San Angelo's oldest business men. Mr. Johnson started business for himself several years ago and by diligence, strict adherence to his business and honest, straightforward dealings in all his relations with the public, he enjoys the confidence and esteem of the people generally throughout West Texas.

Mr. Johnson believes in the virtue of printer's ink and for years has used the advertising columns of The Enterprise in soliciting the patronage of the people of this section.

Speaking of the people of the Bronte section Mr. Johnson said: "We have always enjoyed a good patronage from the people of Bronte and the Bronte section. We attribute it to the fact that we have sought their business through the columns of The Enterprise and all other legitimate channels of advertising.

"We greatly appreciate the business favors the people of that section have shown us. And now that, since we have enlarged our floor space and our stocks in different lines, we are in position to serve the people as household furnishers as never before. We want to communicate that fact to the buying public.

"Therefore I make this contract with The Enterprise that we may keep before the people constantly each week, the mammoth lines we carry and the advantages we offer those who come to us for their home furnishings needs. We ask the people to read every week the ads we insert during the indefinite time we shall continue them, for we mean to make it money to them, as we are going on a selling rampage and expect to give the people the benefit of our close buying and the remarkable advantages in the large lines we carry."

The Enterprise asks our readers to read the ads each week, for there will be interesting reading. It is the largest advertising contract The Enterprise has made thus far this year.

Among interesting events recalled by 1926 are the centenaries of the founding of the Zoological gardens; the first ascent of Ludgate hill by a steam-driven coach; the earliest success in experiments with incandescent gas burners; the revival of Lloyd's Post, now Lloyd's Register; and the discovery and naming by a French medical scientist of the diphtheria germ. EDITOR VISITS COCA-COLA PLANT

A newspaper man usually has opportunity to visit places and get information that the masses do not get. The average newspaper man because of his inquisitiveness will get information with reference to places and institutions that many people would overlook.

The Enterprise editor recently visited the Coca-Cola Bottling Company's plant at San Angelo. And to say we got "our kitten eyes opened" expresses mildly with reference to what we learned as to Coca-Cola, that delicious and universally popular drink.

In the first place, after we had introduced ourselves to Mr. E. W. Walker, the genial owner and manager of the Coca-Cola Bottling Company, at San Angelo he took us to a refrigerator and gave us a drink of ice-cold Coca-Cola. It was a hot day and we were more or less "jaded," from the day's toil of soliciting business for the "old home town" paper. And, boy, believe us, a "whiff" of old "bottled in bond" never did a toper of "them days are gone forever" more good than that cold, delicious refreshing drink. And there was absolutely no "bad after effects."

Then, Mr. Walker interested himself to show us the plant. It is believed in some quarters that bottled Coca-Cola is not sanitary and that there is about as much uncleanliness in bottling Coca-Cola in bottles as if a beverage was being made for hogs to drink. But a more false conception were never entertained. For cleanliness and one hundred per cent sanitary procedure we will put the Coca-Cola Bottling Company's work of bottling Coca-this broad land.

In the first place, modern machinery for making and bottling Coca-Cola has become the last word in machinery of that kind. Mr. Walker has erected his plant with one hundred per cent of cleanliness in view. Neither the beverage nor the bottles are touched by human hands in the process of mixing and bottling. The bottles are put through a cleaning process that is purely scientific in its sanitary features. And the Coca-Cola is mixed and bottled the same way. Hence when one drinks bottled Coca-Cola that was put up by the Coca-Cola Bottling Company at San Angelo no liquid of any kind ever went down human throat that was more thoroughly sanitary.

It was a genuine pleasure to the writer to go through this modern Coca-Cola plant and get the information we did as to its sanitary process and the methods of bottling the delicious refreshing drink that has almost become the universal drink around the world. Mr. Walker extends an invitation to one and all to visit his plant and he will be pleased to explain the sanitary processes by which he makes and bottles Coca-Cola at his plant.

The Coca-Cola Bottling Company begins a series of advertising in this issue of The Enterprise. A more expert advertising writer never drafted ad copy than the writer of the ads and they will make interesting reading. The names of the local dealers in bottled Coca-Cola in Bronte and all the other towns in this section who handle the products of the Coca-Cola Bottling Company appear with each ad. Read the ads from week to week and when thirsty, if you relish Coca-Cola The Enterprise assures you that you will get one hundred per cent purity and cleanliness, if you drink the products of the San Angelo Bottling Company.

AUTO PARTS IN CARLOAD LOTS

In this issue of The Enterprise is an announcement of the Scott Replacement Parts Company of San Angelo, announcing the change of location of their place of business and also announcing that they will transact business under the name just given.

J. B. Scott is the manager of the Replacement Parts Company. He is a most pleasing gentleman, and is a hustler. He understands his business and hence he is meeting a great need in all this part of West Texas, in supplying parts for all kinds of automobiles.

The Enterprise editor visited the Replacement Company's place of business the other day and it seemed to us that they had just about all the auto parts in the world unloaded in their place.

Read their ad elsewhere and remember that the Replacement Parts Company can always meet an emergency for you when you need auto parts of any kind.

TEN WINNERS ON FIRESTONES

Firestone Full-Size Gum-Dipped Balloon tires again made a remarkable showing in the Indianapolis Speedway Classic on Decoration Day, when all ten winners participating "in the money" rode on these dependable tires.

This is the second time balloon tires were used in the great Speedway event, the first being last year when Peter DePaolo on Firestone Full-Size Gum Dipped Balloons made a new world's record at an average speed of 101.18 miles per hour.

Smaller motors of 91 1-2 cubic inch displacement, compared to 122 cubic inches in 1925, combined with rainy weather and a slippery track, slowed up the time of the 1926 winner, Frank Lockhart, who won this year's race at 95.88 miles per hour.

This year's grueling battle of tires was called at the end of 402 1-2 miles because of the downpour of rain. Lockhart, who captured the grand prize, drove the full distance without a single tire change and was all set to go the entire 500 miles on the same set of tires.

It is noteworthy fact, too, that the 1926 Indianapolis race was the ninth on the Hoosier Speedway in which Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires carried the winners to victory.

The terrific battle of tires brings out the effectiveness of Gum-Dipping, the exclusive process employed by the Firestone Company, which builds extra strength and endurance into the cord fabric by impregnating and saturating every fiber of every cord with rubber.

This special process minimizes friction and heat, keeping the tires comparatively cool under a continuous racing strain:

The performance of Firestone tires at Indianapolis certainly was remarkable when the terrific speed at which the cars traveled over the 15-year-old rough brick track is taken into consideration.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. West and baby of Bronte, Coke county, came in this week to visit at the home of Commissioner and Mrs. Milam Ponton of Ezzell. Mrs. West (nee Miss Minnie Waldrop) is a sister of Mrs. Ponton. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Waldrop, formerly of Ezzell, also live at Bronte. Mr. West is editor and manager of the Bronte Enterprise. Mr. West paid The Era a pleasant visit Tuesday afternoon.—Hallettsville Semi-Weekly New Era.

Habit Asserts Itself.

Mrs. Frank Johnson (nee Miss Mattie Owens of Hamlin) who after her marriage to Mr. Johnson in the early days of June, came to make her home in Bronte, was a charming caller at The Enterprise office the other afternoon. Her call was doubly appreciated because of the fact that Mrs. Johnson is herself a printorial artist, having been the linotype operator of the Hamlin Herald for six years. Hence it was natural for Mrs. Johnson to visit the newspaper office in the town of her new residence, for what water is to the fish the odor of printer's ink is to one who has followed the art of printing for any length of time. Mrs. Johnson's visit was only an instance of habit asserting itself.

Fords Take A "Tumble."

Robert Knierim, manager of the Home Motor Company, which is the Ford Agency at Bronte, doesn't know exactly how to express himself. He is almost convinced that the old saying, "one cannot be happy and sad at the same time" is not true, for that just about expresses his condition.

The cause of the medley in Mr. Knierim's feeling is the "tumble" in the prices of Fords, which occurred Saturday. Just at the time when it looked like everything else was going higher, here came the message that all Ford products are reduced by large degrees. Some of the Ford makes are reduced as much as $50.

The cause of Mr. Knierim's sadness is due to the fact that he had just recently stocked up heavily on Fords of all kinds. Hence along with all other Ford dealers he has to take his loss according to the number of cars he has on hand.

"But," said Mr. Knierim to The Enterprise editor, in discussing the matter, "I am far happier over the fact that the prices have been reduced again rather than that they should have been advanced. Had they advanced I would have made a thousand or two dollars. But as the prices are reduced the people get that benefit which means several thousands of dollars saved to them. This last reduction puts the Ford again strictly into a class by itself. Nothing has been sacrificed in the manufacture of the Fords and yet a very material reduction in price is made. This puts the car still nearer within reach of all the people, which fact makes me glad. This reduction shows that Ford is in position to lead the whole automobile world in the manufacture of a car that for service is without an equal and yet at a price that no other manufacturer can approach.

"Tell the folks in the columns of The Enterprise this week in words big and loud that we have the cars and that the prices have been knocked down very materially."

Read the display of the Home Motor Company elsewhere in this issue, giving old and new prices—the ad shows what the reductions in prices mean.

Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Ponton and son, Burdette, of Hallettsville are visiting in Bronte and at Hayrick. Mrs. Ponton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Waldrop of Hayrick and sister of Mrs. D. M. West. They will spend some weeks here and in the mean time Mr. Ponton will do some prospecting. We can say to him now that he need not go any further for if he is looking for a place where "all the coons are up one tree," he will come as near finding that true in the Bronte country as anywhere else on earth. Mr. Ponton is county commissioner of his precinct at home and hence is interested in good roads building as his county has the good roads development in progress now. Mr. Ponton is pleased with our fine highways.

M. E. CHURCH NOTES.

Sunday was a very profitable day. Good attendance at Sunday school with nearly 100 studied lessons. Following the Sunday school we dedicated little Dorothy Ruth and Richard Henry Wiley to the Lord by baptism.

The special song by Messrs. Jones and Morton of McMurry College was enjoyed by all present. Dean McKeown of McMurry College introduced Rev. Jones as a student of the college who gave an outline of the work being done and the hope in the future of the college. After which Dean McKeown delivered a very helpful and well prepared address on "Christian Education."

Mr. Morton went to Hayrick with us in the afternoon, sang some special songs and made a talk concerning the McMurry College and the kind of work they were offering the young life.

Our night service was very well attended. At both morning and evening services we had several visitors in the congregation.

Sunday school 10 a.m.; preaching at 11 o'clock. Next Sunday night a special program will be rendered at 8:30.

Our revival meeting will begin at Marie Saturday night. Everybody cordially invited to come and worship with us.

An Early Morning Wedding

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tate May a pretty wedding was solemnized Tuesday morning at six o'clock, when Miss Mattie Owens became the bride of Mr. Frank Johnson, in the presence of a few intimate friends.

The living room suite of the home was converted into a summer garden, by an artistic arrangement of graceful ferns and baskets of white and pink. The was constructed an improvised altar, which was entwined with growing ferns and Rambler roses. From the center of the arch was suspended a cluster of white wedding bells.

Lovely nuptial music was given preceding the ceremony, with Miss Marie Pope playing "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice." As the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March sounded, Miss Tennie Barnett dressed in a dainty frock of canary georgette and carrying an arm bouquet of bridesmaid roses and Miss Alberta Howell, wearing green georgette and carrying an arm bouquet of pink sweet peas, entered and took position to the right and left of the altar. Next appeared the bride and groom who were met at the altar by Rev. J. Henry Littleton, who read the impressive and beautiful ring ceremony while the pianist softly played "To a Wild Rose."

The bride was wearing a lovely dress of fawn crepe, with accessories to match, and carrying a bouquet of brides roses combined with sweet peas.

Immediately after the ceremony Mrs. May assisted by Misses Venice Bowen, Lennie Greenway, Velma Boyd and Nettie Bowen served a delightful breakfast. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson left in their car for an extensive trip to points in New Mexico and Colorado. They will be at home in Bronte, Texas, June 10th.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Owen of Bronte, but formerly of Hamlin. She has spent most of her life near Hamlin and in this city. She is a graduate of the local High School and during these years has won a host of close admiring friends. For more than five years she has been one of the chief assistants in the Herald Office.

Mr. Johnson is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Johnson of Hamlin. This community has been his home for most of his life, and he has in every way proved himself a young man of highest qualities.—Hamlin Herald.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson are now domiciled in their apartments in the Mrs. Wylie residence where they are at home to their friends. The Enterprise in behalf of all our people extends welcome to Mrs. Johnson into the social life of Bronte and we wish for Mr. and Mrs. Johnson every blessing in life.

Bad for Business

The late William M. Wood, head of the American Woolen company, held that clothing prices were too high, and at a luncheon at the Algonquin club in Boston he once said:

"The cost of clothing has gone up nearly 800 per cent. Well, that's bad for business.

"A Boston cashier sat at supper the other night when his hired girl came in and said:

"The old clothes man is here, sir."

"The cashier gave a grim laugh. "Tell him we don't need any today," he said."

Negro College in Africa

At Achimata, on the west coast of Africa, the British government has established a negro college for which high schools are held by those interested in raising the higher education in the black continent. The college is to do for the African what the same measure did for the American in the

Lesson Evidently Had Been Lost on Elephant

On June 17, 1906, in a zoological garden in Vienna there was a five-year-old elephant, named Maily which was being admired by a party including a lady-in-waiting at the royal court. Filling her trunk from the great concrete tank which had been provided for her, "Maily" blew the water straight into the face of the lady-in-waiting. When the emperor heard of the misbehavior he ordered the elephant's tank covered and condemned "Maily" to go without a bath for the remainder of her life. It happened that the Nineteenth anniversary of the elephant's birth was a warm day and those in charge of affairs in Austria, figuring that no danger could come from vacating the late emperor's decree, restored "Maily's" bathing tank. The big beast plainly showed her delight with her first plunge in 14 years. That plunge apparently recalled her last previous one and "Maily," perhaps thinking it part of the program as before, immediately filled her trunk with water and then emptied it into the faces of the park inspector and half a dozen of his friends who had assembled to watch her get reacquainted with the tank. This time, however, the offence was overlooked.

JUST A COWBOY

"I understand he is a knight of the Garter."

"No! He doesn't wear them any more."

Hearing Muscles Creak

Most people think that clenching and opening the hand is entirely noiseless. As a matter of fact, says Popular Science Monthly, every muscular action is noisy. Every time you move or breathe, or talk, you creak.

This fact was proved in a recent demonstration of a new electrical stethoscope perfected by the Bell Telephone laboratories in New York city. Three hundred persons heard the scratching and rumbling of the muscles as they slid over one another in clenching and opening the hand.

Airplanes Drop Provisions

A new use for the airplane has been found in the Swiss Alps. There provisions are carried to the Alpine huts in the Tyrol by dropping the cargo by means of parachutes, where no suitable plateau or glacier can be located for landing. The cost is about one-third of the old method of provisioning these out-of-the-way places.

Utilizing Saint Valentine

With a view to testing the possibility of using St. Valentine's day traditions as a means of promoting fine ideals, the American Social Hygiene association sent out 200 letters last year and 2,000 this year asking the judgment of ministers and others on the feasibility of the project. Practically all replies received were favorable to the idea.

Indians' Race Dwindling

From the number of 918,000 in 1492, fixed after careful consideration by ethnologists as that of the aborigines of the continental limits of the United States, full-blooded Indians have dwindled in numbers to no more than 162,600, which they consider as a fearful decline in view of the increase in white population.
