BLACKWELL SETS STAGE FOR TRADES DAY

NORTH NORTON DEMONSTRATION CLUB HAS ACHIEVEMENT PROGRAM

The North Norton Home Demonstration Club held its achievement day program at the home of its Pantry demonstrator, Mrs. R. H. Murphy on Monday, November 13, 1933. In addition to the regular club members, Mrs. Hollingsworth and visitors from Balinger, Winters, Wingate, Independence, Victory, Miles and South Norton were entertained. The domestic science classes of the Norton high school with their instructor, Miss Farnsworth were also present.

Many beautiful articles of fancy-work, such as quilts, quilt tops, table runners, luncheon sets, pillow cases, floor pillows, stuffed toys and a crocheted child's dress were displayed. After inspecting the fancy work the guests were conducted through Mrs. Murphy's garden and pantry.

Mrs. Murphy has a well arranged pantry prepared for a family of six and she intends to supplement it with fresh vegetables from her garden. According to her report she has a total of 1030 containers. Her expenses and the value of her products are as follows:

Garden Expense	$ 3.50
Garden Income	124.36
Canning Expense	27.43
Net Profit	$255.32

Mrs. Murphy says that each member of her family, from her husband to her baby girl had a part in preparing her pantry.

At the close of the program delicious punch and cookies were served to the following.

Mrs. Marie Gentry and daughter, Mrs. O. L. Parish and children, Marguerite Parish, Mrs. W. E. Guley, Mrs. Lura Hollingsworth, C. H. D. A., Mrs. N. R. Iley, Mrs. H. K. Reid, Mrs. G. E. Swindle, Mrs. B. J. Smith, Mrs. R. V. Rogers, Mrs. L. B. Harris, Miss Adine Price, Mrs. W. W. Mitchell, Mrs. D. A. Lane, Mrs. H. G. Ashby, Mrs. W. A. Mitchell, Mrs. S. P. Gray, Mrs. U. S. Daniels, Mrs. G. C. Murphy, Mrs. Lawrence Lee Hilliard, Nellie Henry, Mrs. Bryan, Mrs. W. B. Overman, Mrs. Wesley Caswell, Mrs. Joe Caswell, Mrs. Ernest Overman, Mrs. G. W. Cope, Mrs. B. R.

WOMAN'S PROGRESSIVE IN REGULAR MEETING

The Woman's Progressive Club met on November 2 with Mrs. Ed Cumbie. This being business meeting, Mrs. Keeny called the house to order and most important item was to begin working at once on the kits we are making for the soldier boys. The lesson for the afternoon was on Italy. Each person answered to roll call by giving and Italian artist. The Roman Private Life (McDaniel) was given by Mrs. Lucy Warner. Then Mrs. Holder gave some of all Trovatore selections.

Delicious refreshments were served to the club members and one guest, Mrs. F. S. Higginbotham.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. I. M. Cumbie with a program on Switzerland.

James Hearne and Curtis Smith, two of Bronte's boys who are students in Howard Payne College at Brownwood, were week end visitors with home folks and friends. Both reported that they are well pleased with college life. Their many friends were glad to see these young men and to know they are getting along excellently in school. It is reported, however, that some of the young ladies "wept bitterly" when the "college boys" went back to school.

"UNCLE SAM" SAYNER DIES

Grief was universal throughout Coke county and all over West Texas when the news became current that Sam Sayner of Tennyson had died Wednesday night at the home of his daughter at Tennyson, Mr. and Mrs. John Terren. Mr. Sayner was one of the oldest citizens in all the country, both as to number of years of his life and the length of time he had been a resident of West Texas.

Samuel Sayner was born at Barwick, England, November 9, 1842 and departed this life November 15, 1933, making him to have attained the ripe old age of 91 years when death called him from the walks of men.

The life of this splendid Christian gentleman is more interesting than romance. At the age of twenty-eight he decided to come to America and cast his fortunes with the new world. Getting his material substance converted into money he took shipping for this country. He encountered stormy seas coming over and it seemed for a time his vessel would not weather the storm. But finally he landed and made his way into southern Texas.

In 1877 he met and courted and wed Miss Mynara Eastman, in Travis county. According to his statement to the writer the last conversation we ever had with him, which was some months ago, a few years after their marriage, he left with his family, to go further West. But upon reaching the Pecos river he decided that he did not want to leave Texas. Hence he retraced his course and came with his family to the immediate section of the Tennyson country. All this section at that time was a part of Tom Green county. That was September 1882—from then till death he resided continuously in the Tennyson community.

The companion of his youth, with two daughters, Mesdames C. D. Derrick and John Terrell, with several grand children, survive to mourn his going. Three children have passed on—Darwin, Harry and an infant son. A sister five years younger than deceased, Mrs. Alice Hanson of York, England, also survives.

Deceased was one of Coke county's first citizens, not only in the length of time of his residence but in ideals and progressive spirit in all civic matters. He helped organize Coke county and for many years was a county commissioner from his precinct. Deceased loved the land of his adoption. He came,

KRAUSS CELEBRATES 14TH ANNIVERSARY

After waiting 14 years, A. Krauss, the big merchant at Winters, and all around good fellow, has come into the realization of his dreams. His dream which has come true was to have one of the most elegant and splendidly arranged department stores it was possible for human ingenuity to conceive.

Fourteen years ago Krauss Dry Goods Company, with A. Krauss, owner and manager, opened its doors to the buying public in Winters. "Quality merchandise and honest prices" was the slogan adopted by Mr. Krauss. And for fourteen years in season and out of season A. Krauss has directed his business to the one end that he may give greatest values for the money.

His dream when he entered business at Winters was that he might so direct his business that he would win the confidence of the buying public and as his business should grow he would expand and re-arrange his store until he would have a department store second to none.

Saturday evening, just after the "bright lights" had come on and Winters was under "the glare of the electric lights," the Enterprise Editor was in Winters and visited Mr. Krauss in his new store. Children were never prouder of their new toys at Christmas time than were Mr. and Mrs. Krauss as we found them in their fine large new store into which Krauss Dry Goods Company had just moved. We asked Mr. Krauss after expressing our surprise at the magnificence of the whole interior of his store as to how long he had had the dream of such a store in his mind and he modestly replied, "A long time." Then he expressed himself that he owed much to the people of Winters-Bronte trade territory for their fidelity to him through the years since he began building his business.

Mr. Krauss is celebrating his 14th anniversary in business at Winters and the fact that he is in his large, fine new store. He has an invitation in this issue of The Enterprise to all his Life is just like one glad sweet song in Blackwell!

The reason is not because that Thanksgiving will soon be here, nor that Christmas is just "around the corner!"

The reason is that Monday, November 27, is Blackwell Trades Day—that means, it is the day when everybody in Blackwell "dresses up and goes to town"—not to shop especially. But each regards himself as "a committee of one" to see to it that everybody who visits their fair little city that day will have "a plum good time."

The progressive business men of the town, through their Commercial Club, have set aside the 4th Monday in each month as "Trades Day." By this they seek to induce everybody within reach of Blackwell to visit the town that day.

To make it worth while for the people from far and near to come the club puts on a program of laughable features. And the program for Monday would "make a dead chinaman laugh." They had The Enterprise print them a large order of large posters setting out the program in full. These posters they have scattered far and wide. So, if the weather is propitious there will be a record-breaking crowd at Blackwell Monday.

Besides the entertainment the club has arranged, the business men of the town, "to the last man," are offering "Trades Day Specials"—and when we say, "specials" we mean all we say and "then some."

Don't miss Blackwell Trades Day next Monday, November 27 if you want to have "a barrel of fun" and simultaneously "mix business with pleasure" and find some of the best bargains that have been offered this season.

Blackwell expects you!—and we speak authoritatively.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Elkins, on the Robert Lee road, near Robert Lee, Saturday, November 18, a baby boy.

friends throughout the Bronte country and everybody else to visit the Krauss Dry Goods Company in their new place. They are making some worthwhile prices in keeping with the spirit of the occasion. Read their invitation.

FORT CHADBOURNE OVER THE TOP FOR RED CROSS

The citizens of the Fort Chadbourne community met at the Baptist church, Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock, in the interest of the American Red Cross. The meeting was in charge of Vice Chairman O. D. Spoons. Short speeches were made by County Chapter Chairman, Robt. Knierim, Roll-call Chairman Rev. J. W. Leggett, Rev. Dunson and Rev. Stuckey.

Mr. Spoons had the situation well organized. There were eighty-six people present. Out of those present fifty memberships were sold. This is by far the best record made in Coke county. We are proud of this accomplishment and we doubt that any other community can boast of as high a percentage of membership.

Community Talks

BY ULMER S. BIRD

THEN AND NOW

The other day I watched one of our vast herds of Texas cattle as they were driven by. There were at least twenty-five head of them.

One Cowboy was handling them all.

Small herds, small farms, and small pastures have largely become the order of the day with us. And "Who hath despised the day of small things?"

Communities are built where people can live. The day of vast herds sounds well in song and story, and brings back stirring memories, but few people lived here then. Many of our farms have been in cultivation twenty, thirty, or even forty years or longer. These farms are usually not as productive as they used to be. If not well cared for, they will before long be in pasture again, especially since sheep are taking the day.

This might mean more money in the country, but would surely mean less people.

Coke county lands must be protected against washing away, and we must study how to build up their fertility, in order to provide livelihood for the homes already here, to say nothing of the homes to be established in the future.

And for that matter, sheep graze better on land that has not washed off down the creek. We must hold our soil on our land.

JUNIOR HIGH SCORED ON FIRST TIME IN 2 YEARS

Coach Fitzhugh took his team of Longhorns to San Angelo Friday and played perhaps the hardest game of the season. Bronte met Junior High in high spirits and defeated them by a score of 26-12.

Things looked bad for the Bronte squad at the first quarter when Lowe, of Junior High carried the ball over for a touchdown. They tried hard for the extra point by a plunge but their man was cut down behind the line by the fighting Longhorns. The score was 6-0, which looked as if Junior High had no intentions of losing their reputation when the whistle blew for the first quarter.

This score, nevertheless, did not "bumfuzzle" the Bronte eleven. Collier made a fast broken field run and then passed a short one to Eubanks, then to Pairish. Pairish hit right tackle for a touchdown and then dodged around right end without interference for the extra point just before the whistle blew.

Bronte gained the ball in the third quarter and Pairish passed a short, snappy one to Eubanks, then a long one to R. Speents, who intercepted it within a few yards of the goal line. There was then a fast play and Bronte made their second touchdown.

Junior High received the ball for a small gain. They tried a pass, but it was intercepted by Pairish and he ran for a large gain but was downed on the 20 yard line. Two fast plays were presented by Collier and Leonard and then Collier plunged for a touchdown. The extra point was also made by Collier's spinning plunge.

At the beginning of the 4th quarter Pairish made a fast end run for a touchdown. This put the score 26-6.

In the meantime Junior High saw something had to be done, so they began attacking the Longhorns with various trick plays and finally put one by the Longhorns. They tried for the extra point but the Bronte line drove through and got their man. This gave the Longhorns a victory of 26-12.

Bronte completed 7 passes, and made 16 first downs. Junior High completed 2 passes and made 10 first downs.

Rev. Claud Vest will preach at Graham Valley Saturday night and at Cow Creek Sunday afternoon and night.

It is with extreme gratitude that we come before you with this Fourteenth Anniversary Sale. We are proud and maybe too selfish to be proud of the achievement we have attained in the last fourteen years, while in Winters. In spite of the last three years depression we have emerged with one of the largest, most up-to-date stores that can be found anywhere in Texas in a town the size of Winters. Needless to say that we are proud of this store, but we would fail in gratitude if we did not admit that only through the faithful loyalty of the people of Winters and surrounding territory we were able to accomplish what we did.

To show our appreciation we are offering you some of the GREATEST BARGAINS that we have ever offered during our fourteen years in Winters.

BETTER TURKEYS

Man took the wild turkey of Southern Mexico, shortened his legs and neck, gave him a bigger body—and thereby launched an industry that has ramifications in practically every state, to say nothing of providing Thanksgiving and Christmas diners with a royal piece de resistance.

The process of domesticating the turkey, however, is not complete. In California, it was announced this week, turkey raisers are developing a new underslung type of bird, with shorter legs and broader breasts. That means more white meat per bird. These California turkeys, we are told, sold at a premium from four to six cents a pound above the ordinary turkey.

West Texas will be glad to hear of that. This part of the Southwest is a natural turkey country, always interested in improving flocks. The turkey's chief handicap is that it is considered a holiday bird. Not until the American palate is educated to a standard of turkey-every-week will the industry be able to find a dependable market. Two turkeys a year should be increased to fifty-two.—Abilene Reporter.

BALES GINNED IN NOLAN COUNTY

Nolan county's cotton crop was still far ahead of last season on Nov. 1, when R. A. Henthorne, special census agent, reported 16,241 bales had been ginned in this section.

At the same time last year the total was 11,888 bales. Texas showed a total of 3,522,231 bales ginned up to Nov. 1 this year, while the total at the same time last year was 2,958,033 bales.

The entire nation showed 10,361,404 bales ginned prior to Nov. 1 this season, compared to 9,247,045 bales ginned to the same time last year and 12,124,295 bales ginned to Nov. 1 in 1931.—Reporter.

Runnels county's 1933 cotton season is about ended. Most farmers have received their checks from the federal government, practically all the staple has been ginned, and a large amount sold. In some respects the season has been good. Farmers received more than half a million dollars for plowed-up acreage and will market approximately 40,000 bales at advanced prices. Interest now centers on the federal reduction plan for next year.—Ballinger Ledger.

THANKSGIVING AND HEALTH

AUSTIN, Nov. 22.—The primary reason for the institution of Thanksgiving Day was health. We know how Governor Bradford called together the people, those few of them who were left after that terrible first year of death and disease, to give thanks to God for all his mercies.

We have come a long way since that time in the matter of health, but one seldom thinks of Thanksgiving in connection with the health that we enjoy. Most people have been so accustomed to having these advantages that they are scarcely given a thought until sickness makes its appearance.

The State Department of Health, city and county health organizations have labored for years to secure the measure of health protection that the public now enjoys. They give thanks for the methods that have helped in the saving of thousands of lives each year and look forward to the years to come for greater service.

Since the first Thanksgiving, the mode of transmission of many diseases has been discovered and in many instances the prevention has become common knowledge. Yellow fever, plague and cholera have practically ceased to exist. Smallpox, diphtheria, and typhoid fever would be eliminated as a cause of death if a person would have themselves and children immunized. Malaria and many of the diseases can be controlled if the public would demand that this protection be a part of the every day activities of the government and practice what is known in regard to prevention.

During the past fifty years the expectation of life has increased about fifteen years. This means that a baby born now can be expected to live fifteen years longer than if he has been born fifty years ago. We have much more to be thankful for now than our Pilgrim forefathers, so let each in his Thanksgiving, pledge to assist in furthering the work being done to improve health conditions throughout Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Ensor from Wingate were Sunday guests of Mrs. Ensor's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Stephenson.

BAND COMMITTEE AND PARENTS OF BAND MEMBERS: NOTICE

All members of the band committee and the parents of all members of the band are earnestly requested to meet with the band in regular practice at the school auditorium, Monday night, November 27, at 7:30 o'clock. We especially request Prof. E. A. Hankins, superintendent of the Bronte school, to be present with us. Matters of serious importance are to be considered—so, let those who are requested, be present without fail, if possible.

NEW LIQUOR PROBLEM

The Rockefeller report's advocacy of taking the profit out of the liquor business can't get to the fellow who chooses to smuggle and beat the tariff. More rum boats along the coasts and mounting liquor supplies at their home stations mean nothing else than trouble of another kind than the bootlegger furnished when repeal is attained within the next few weeks. Off the northeast coast there are reported to be about twice as many smuggling vessels as there ever were.

Profit seems to have a way of flaunting the law that way. With or without prohibition, there are things about the liquor traffic that make it a difficult problem. The report about the rum fleet would indicate that the difficulties of handling the liquor problem aren't being minimized.

It is figured that if the rum fleet continues after repeal, it would beat the government out of 50 million dollars annually in evaded duties. That's enough money for the government backed by public sympathy, to go after in an enthusiastic way, particularly in view of the mounting costs of everything that is being done.—San Angelo Standard.

SHOW AT BLACKWELL

The latest thing in the picture show line is at Blackwell this week. It is the Hollywood Movietone Shows.

The editor did not attend the show but he saw the show equipment—and far as we could know it is "about the swellest thing" that has ever come this way in the way of a show. It has every feature of the latest and best in the way of equipment.

The show has a large tent, adjusted everywhere that will contribute to the comfort of its patrons. Then the show equipment furnishes the very best in taking pictures. The management invites the public to visit them and look the equipment over—indeed, it is worth while. There is a complete change in the program each evening. There is a new picture each night.

The Hollywood Movietone Shows will be in Blackwell all this week and perhaps next week. They have an announcement of their Blackwell engagement in this issue of The Enterprise—read it.

The editor found Mr. Midgitt, the gentleman in charge, a most pleasing gentleman.

JUNIOR STUDY CLUB IN MEET AT MRS. GLENN'S

The Junior Study Club met with Mrs. James Glenn Nov. 9. The thought for the day was "To ease another's heart ache is to forget one's own."—Lincoln. After a business meeting, a well-prepared Armistice program was given by Mrs. Barrett Mackey, Mrs. Cumbie Ivey, Mrs. Ernest Ivey and Mrs. James Glenn.

A lovely plate featuring the national colors was served to Mrs. H. O. Whitt, Mrs. O. R. McQueen, Mrs. Bill McDonald, Mrs. Clytus Smith, Mrs. Cumbie Ivey, Mrs. Ernest Ivey, Mrs. Charlie Baker, Mrs. Claud Gentry, Mrs. Geo. Thomas and Mrs. Barrett Mackey.

That is an excellent report of the North Norton Demonstration Club of their Achievement Day program. The Enterprise will be pleased to have reports of all such meetings—they are inspirational.

to be an American with the Americans—and that kind of man should always be welcome to these shores regardless as to the land of his nativity.) In keeping with his spirit of fidelity to his adopted country when the time came for the formation of a new county he gave himself wholeheartedly to the work of aiding in perfecting the organization of Coke county. And day by day through the long years of his active life, he never let any opportunity pass to do a good favor for his county. He had to do with the naming of Tennyson and for more than a half century he loved and worked for his home community, his county, his state and his nation, which he loved with the last drop of blood in his heart. He stood for the things that were fundamentally honorable among men and he would not stoop to the wrong or dishonorable thing, and by his splendid, upright life and devotion to the correct ideals both in private and public life he had a great part in shaping an ideal that is good in our civilization today—whatever there is that is bad and undesirable in our life as a people today it was not by the sanction or ideals of Sam Sayner.

"Uncle Sam," as his hosts of friends had come to call him in the last several years of his life, was a genial and pleasant spirit. He always made friends of those with whom he came in touch—he was the friend of the young man and always gave any young man who came his way every encouragement possible. It was a third of a century ago this fine old gentleman first touched the life of the writer. We were a young man then. And through the years we cherished his kindnesses to us, and in these last dozen years since we returned to this section of the country to make our home, our friendship ripened with the passing years. And tonight as we pen these feeble lines to his memory our heart is lonely as we know that we shall see him here no more.

Religiously, deceased was a Baptist. He joined the Baptist church in England when only about sixteen years old. When he was ready to come to America he brought his church letter with him. But in the storm at sea which his ship encountered he lost his church letter. Some forty years ago when the Tennyson Baptist church was ready to be organized, deceased made an explanation of his situation—that he had lost his church letter at sea. His statement was satisfactory and he was a charter member of the Tennyson church and served for many years as clerk of the church. Rev. R. M. Cumbie, who was actively in the Baptist ministry in this part of the country back at that time has borne testimony to the writer of the unailing fidelity of deceased back in those days as a member of the church.

Religious services were held at the Tennyson Baptist church, Thursday afternoon, conducted by the writer, in keeping with a request to that effect by deceased many months ago. It was a tenderly beautiful scene: life-long friends and neighbors gathered at the little church where deceased had worshipped for a half century, and paid tribute to his memory. The church choir sang the old-time hymns—the songs deceased had loved during his life. The Holy Book in which he believed without mental reservation, was read and a brief biographical sketch was read and the writer spoke, though feebly compared with his long, useful life, of the splendid character and life of deceased and his contributions to the weal of the world. Then, the poor, tired worn body was brought to the Bronte cemetery and gently put away, to sleep and rest undisturbed until the Lord shall come again.

He spent his days in service to mankind and now has fallen on sleep.

"In my house by the side of the road,
Where the race of men go by—
The men who are good,
And the men who are bad—
As good and as bad as I—
I would not sit in the scorners' seat
Nor hurl the cynic's ban,
But let me live by the side of the road,
And be a friend to man."

General Auto

Repairing Announcement

I want to say to all my friends and the people generally of Bronte and the Bronte country that I have opened a general auto repair shop in the Wint Parish building in Bronte.

Those that know me need not be told that I know auto mechanics and how to do car repairing of all kinds correctly and to the satisfaction of the car owner.

Folks, I appreciate my friends and the way they are rallying to me. I want a chance at your auto repairing and promise you that it will be done right and promptly and at reasonable prices. I will appreciate any patronage you give me. Come to see me whether you need car repairing or not. Make my shop your home when in town.

HURRY! The silk worm is now going on the code!

The silk worm, when interviewed, was nibbling on a mulberry leaf preparatory to turning out a batch of fiber for a bolt of Patou's new blackberry shade. The silk worm has turned! He believes that silk prices have

OF COURSE, you wish now that you'd bought up a lot of good dress lengths. You had fully intended to do it, and could have spared a dollar or two on several occasions. With today's good patterns and fabrics, it seemed a good idea to make some of your own clothes.

Just what is the situation in textiles? Have the good "buys" all gone by forever?

Well, not if you get down to the store very, very soon! FOR DRESS FABRICS ARE LOWER TODAY THAN THEY ARE EVER LIKELY TO BE AGAIN!

You can easily understand why. Textiles have no standard of value, these days. Rayons have sometimes sold at higher prices than pure dye silk. "Pretty little summer cottons" have been offered to you at a few cents a yard because child labor has been "sweated" in steaming hot mills.

But now the NRA codes are penetrating to every level of this great industry. The handler of the fiber, the spinner of the yarn, the weaver of the cloth, the designer of been entirely too low. His dignity as a producer has suffered. His handlers and workers have suffered. His spinners and weavers and dyers have had to exist on starvation wages or no wages at all.

fabric section of the store . . . all will benefit from a rise in the pattern, the dyer, the finisher, the saleswoman in the in wages right down the line. Already payrolls have been increased by $21,000,000!

Since March raw silk has gone up 46 per cent. Cotton 59 per cent. Wool has advanced 76 per cent. Rayon 13 per cent.

You hear of a great silk mill installing a hundred brand new looms. And a famous cotton-goods firm investing thousands of dollars in research to perfect a process for making summer suitings noncrushable and wrinkleless. All this is putting more people on more pay rolls, and setting new standards of VALUE.

But YOU . . . today . . . thinking about the dress you want and need . . . you are interested in the stocks of your favorite fabrics that remain AT THE FORMER PRICES. And they DO exist. Good colors. Good quality. Good style. But the supply is limited. NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY.

JOHN W. EUBANKS DIES

John W. Eubanks died at a San Angelo hospital, Thursday evening, November 23, 1933, at 6 o'clock, after being confined there for two weeks after an operation from which he never rallied.

Deceased had been in failing health for some time. His trouble proved to be internal cancer. He suffered much before death came and relieved him.

The body was brought to the home of Henry Hudman in Bronte, Thursday night by Frank Keeney, undertaker. Burial was in the Bronte cemetery this Friday morning, following religious services at the grave side by the writer.

Deceased was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charley Eubanks. He was born in Brown county, November 5, 1907, making him to be in his twenty-sixth year when death took him.

Deceased was united in marriage to Miss Emma Spinks, July 6, 1929. To them three children were born, one of whom, a little three months old baby girl, survives. Besides his wife and one child his parents and three brothers and one sister survive to mourn his death.

"John," as everybody called him was a good boy—honest and upright. He left evidence with his loved ones that it was well with his soul.

From every human viewpoint, it seems tragic that one just beginning had to be taken from his little family—but, a great and gracious providence overshadows the lives and destinies of men!

The Enterprise extends deepest sympathy to the sorrowing in their bereavement.

PROF. T. J. KELLAM DIES

Just as we are ready to go to press this Friday morning, Prof. T. J. Kellam is called by death. To the writer it is a personal sorrow—for deceased and the writer have been steadfast friends since 1898. With the passing years our friendship has ripened—so, we are bereft of a faithful and abiding friend, which is one of life's most golden treasures. He was a prince—a biographical sketch and review of our friendship will appear next week. Pal of the long years, goodbye, but not forever!

KILLED IN CAR WRECK

L. D. Larkin was killed in car wreck Sunday night between Wichita Falls and Henrietta. The Enterprise has not been able to get any of the particulars of the accident. Wylie Clark was called there early Monday morning by telephone. The Enterprise extends sympathy to the family in this tragic accident.

The many friends of W. H. Mackey and family will be delighted to know that Mr. Mackey has rallied and is doing splendidly from an operation for appendicitis to which he submitted last week. All wish for him a speedy recovery to normal health.

BALLINGER BRONTE HIGHWAY DESIGNATED (From The Ballinger Ledger)

Assurance has been given County Judge Paul Trimmier by the state highway commission that the new Ballinger-Bronte highway will follow the northern route and that six projects in this county to cost $5,000 each will be approved. Judge Trimmier has called meeting of the Runnels county commissioners' court to convene Thursday and start at once considering the projects which State Resident Engineer G. M. Garrett has already surveyed.

Judge Trimmier returned Tuesday night from Austin where he had been to attend a meeting of county judges, mayors and county administrators at the call of Governor Miriam A. Ferguson. Drury Hathaway, a member of the local delegation, remained in Austin to attend a school of instruction and stand an examination after finishing the course.

Judge Trimmier was told in Austin that the extreme northern route would be accepted for the Ballinger-Bronte highway. This road will leave Ballinger over highway No. 4 to the turn of the highway at the Pumphrey road north of the city. It will cut west across the Golden, Hutton and Byler tracts to cross the Wingate road and over a new right-of-way altogether until it intersects the old road west of Valley Creek. The crossing on Valley Creek will be about a quarter of a mile south of the bridge. It will follow the present road on a straight line to the southwest corner of the J. L. Lee home section and from there follow a straight line west across Oak creek a short distance north of the bridge across that stream. The highway will run a short distance north of Maverick.

The county will at once begin securing the right-of-way for this highway and it is anticipated that $5,000 will be spent in construction on the new road from highway 4 to the old Wingate road across the Golden, Hutton and Byler farms. It is thought that grading can be done and a caliche top can be placed on that part of the road with the allowance from federal funds.

Speaking of the six $5,000 projects, Judge Trimmier said it was probable that three would be allotted in the northern portion of the county and three in the southern portion. This work will be started as soon as the court can draft and approve the projects.

Engineer Garrett stated that his crew completed the survey on the portion of highway 4 from Winters south to the precinct line north of Hatchel late Wednesday, and he would put a crew to making maps and blue prints for the Ballinger-Bronte highway the latter part of this week.

Miss Elvida Davis of Galvin, New Mexico was married to Mr. A. G. Johnson of Cedearvale, New Mexico, October 27. The bride is the daughter of Clifford Davis of Galvin, and is a grand daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Davis and of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Best of Bronte.

"BIG BOYS" IN BRONTE FOR THANKSGIVING

A two days' rodeo program is arranged as a Thanksgiving feature at Bronte, Friday and Saturday of next week.

Far as arrangements have been perfected the program will consist only of roping contests.

The "big boys" in the roping world are on the program—so, the string will be twirled in the most scientific way—and every lad is going to do his best to tie his calf first.

Forty-five calves will be roped each day and the big purse goes to the one making the best average for the two days.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Hallmark have moved to Miles to make their home. They order The Enterprise to follow them that they may keep informed on the happenings at "the old home." The Enterprise wishes that they may like their new home. Likewise Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Tidwell have moved to Miles. Mrs. Tidwell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hallmark.

TENNYSON FOR RED CROSS

At a Red Cross meeting at Tennyson the other night there were 16 in attendance and only five Red Cross memberships taken. The leaders in the Red Cross work came home almost discouraged.

But the next morning "Uncle Bob" Howell got out among the people there and he soon reported eleven more memberships—the leaders feel better—and so do the Tennyson folks.

MARRIED

Wednesday evening, November 15, 1933, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Maxwell, in Bronte, Rev. Wallace N. Dunson, pastor of the Bronte Methodist church officiating, Mr. Earl Barr of Concho, and Miss Ruth Maxwell were united in marriage.

The bride is a young woman of charm and culture and is a graduate nurse. She is eminently qualified in mind and heart to be the life companion of the one to whom she has betrothed herself. Having been born and reared and educated at Bronte and Robert Lee she is known to all and her friends are numbered by the number of her acquaintances, all of whom wish her unmingled and increasing happiness as she enters the married state with the one to whom she has given herself in marriage.

The groom is a prosperous young ranchman in Concho county. He comes highly recommended as a young man of sterling character. All the hosts of friends of the bride extend congratulations to him upon his good fortune in winning one so fair as his companion through life.

Mr. and Mrs. Barr have gone for a short visit to the Carlsbad Caverns, after which they will be at home on their ranch.

O. H. Willoughby, manager of the South Texas Lumber Company of Bronte, joined by F. D. Willis, manager of the same company at Blackwell, were in San Angelo Thursday, attending an NRA meeting relative to the code for their industry.
