County's New Extension Agent Now on Field

Mr. Travis B. Hicks, Coke County's new Agricultural Agent, and family are now on the field, being domiciled at Robert Lee. Mr. Hicks and family came from New Mexico to this field.

But, Mr. Hicks is a Texas man, being a graduate of Texas Technological College at Lubbock.

Mr. Hicks succeeds H. E. Smith, who goes to Sterling County to take up the same work he has been engaged in for some six or seven years in Coke county. Mr. Smith did a great work and made a fine record in Coke county and he and Mrs. Smith have made many friends among the people of Coke county, who regret to lose them to the social life of the county as well as Mr. Smith's work in his activities in behalf of the agricultural and ranching interests of the county.

But, those who have met Mr. and Mrs. Hicks feel that the county is fortunate in having Mr. Hicks to come to take up the work where Mr. Smith laid it down. The Enterprise acknowledges a most pleasant visit from Mr. Hicks. "I am just going around and getting acquainted. I want to know and work with the newspapers of the county," said he. "I will not burden your columns with long, non-essential articles, but only with such articles and communications as will be helpful to the ranchmen and farmers and all others interested in the line of work which I have been chosen to do. I will give my best efforts. I want to know the people and want the cooperation of all. Let's all go in for winning the war—that is the first and only program we should have now. Mr. Smith has done a great work during his years among the people and I hope to take up the work and go forward with it in the same way as he has done."

Mr. and Mrs. Hicks have six children. In behalf of all of Coke county we bid welcome to this fine family, and we wish for Mr. Hicks the greatest results possible from his endeavors, and pledge him the cooperation of The Enterprise and here request him to use our columns when in anywise we can aid in giving publicity to his work.

Coke County Farm Machinery Quotas are Set

Quotas for farm machinery for Coke County have been set. All such equipment is very limited and it is the desire of the machinery rationing committee that all who contemplate purchasing farm machinery make application not later than January 21, 1943. Applications are taken at the A. A. office.

GOES TO KAISER SHIPYARDS AT PORTLAND, OREGON

Ernest Warner and family, who have resided for several years at Anson, arrived in Bronte, Friday. And Saturday morning Mr. Warner departed for the Kaiser shipyards in Portland, Oregon, where he will engage in building ships for war purposes.

Mrs. Warner and children will remain here with her parents until Mr. Warner secures apartments in Portland and sends for them.

Mr. Warner was joined at San Angelo Saturday by three other men who are going to work also in the shipyards.

B T U Associational Meeting of the Year to be Held

On Wednesday afternoon, January 20, the Runnels Baptist Training Union Association will meet at the Ballinger Baptist church for their Training Union Emphasis meeting of the year. The meeting will start at 2 o'clock, and will be adjourned at 9 P. M., taking time out for a picnic supper at 5:30 P. M.

As secretary of the Association I am appealing to you to plan to attend this meeting if you are interested in your Baptist Training Union work. An inspirational program will be featured during the entire afternoon and evening.

The theme of the program is "Demonstrating Our Faith by Our Work." Among the speakers and workers whom we have on the program are: Rev. Floyd Chaffin, pastor of the First Baptist church of Coleman. We have heard him before and we know that you will miss a great deal if you fail to hear him. He is originally from Tennessee; Bro. R. J. Hickerson, District Missionary, and wife, are from Brownwood; others are Bro. C. M. Morton, Ballinger; Bro. E. E. Dawson, Paint Rock; and Miss Mary Taylor from Winters.

Remember, if we are going to carry out our aim for 1943—"We must strengthen our trust in the living God, keep our feet firmly fixed upon his eternal truth, and be loyal to Christ regardless of the circumstances."

Physically we are on the alert for a danger signal; let us be more sincerely conscious during 1943 for the spiritual call to arms, because it is our duty and responsibility to keep the spirit of our Baptist Training Union glowing with enthusiasm and a determination to keep His work going here at home, while the Boys do our chores on the battlefield.

Come—help! to take the BTU Attendance Banner back to your church.

All-day Song Meet at Kickapoo Church, Sunday

Next Sunday there will be an all-day singing at the Kickapoo Baptist church, three miles north of Bronte on highway 70. The occasion is the semi-annual singing of the Coke County Singing Convention. The body meets twice a year in all-day singing.

John Coalson is president of the organization and Francis Pruitt is secretary. The last meeting of the convention was at Fort Chadbourne last fall, which was a great day.

The leaders and others interested in singing in Coke County are looking forward to a great day next Sunday. For, quite a number of singers from other towns and cities outside of Coke county have been invited and are expected to be in attendance. The invited guests include quartettes, trios, duets and other singers of note.

Dinner will be served on the grounds, old fashioned picnic style. And that the lunch will be par excellence goes without saying, for the ladies of the Kickapoo community are known as entertainers, when it comes to the culinary art. But, listen: All, except the invited guests outside of the county, are expected to bring well-filled lunch baskets, for the numbers who attend these gatherings are too many, for any one community to serve the lunch. So, don't forget, if you are in Coke County you are expected to bring your lunch.

There's a time and place for everything. Your place is to give your scrap metal to the Army now.

1942 will be held in the court room at Robert Lee, 9:30 A. M., January 19, 1943. Mr. Tim is conducting these meetings for the purpose of contacting those farm people who have never filled out an Income Tax Report or know very little about it. Anyone interested in filling out an Income Tax Report may attend this meeting.

In addition Mr. Eudaly will explain the new dairy score card which has some wonderful possibilities and should be of interest to many farmers in Coke County. These meetings are being held under the direction of the Extension Service at A. & M. College.

This New Year's Day has found our mind unsullied. Our memories of the yesteryears have been of "the bitter and the sweet."

In 1914 a war in Europe broke out. It lasted and lasted. In 1916 it began to reach out to a peaceful nation—restlessness and uneasiness began to grow and a quiet country was on the alert.

By the end of 1917 we were preparing for war. Our youth was being registered and getting to training camps.

There was a community typical of most communities which had business enterprises, schools and churches. We will call our proud neighborhood Ft. Chadbourne. It had sons it was proud to call her own.

A woman stood by the window of her old fashioned post office, of pioneer type and watched the changes that came fast. She saw the sons of her friends and neighbors, who were her patrons, receive their calls and make ready to take their places in the army that must take its place in history. The boys went and went until it seemed there would be no one left—boys with whom we attended parties, church and school commencements.

There was Reube and Rome Richards, Conda and Freeman Clark, Eld, Walter and Earl Moore, Clay and Wade Faneber, Nash and John Taylor, Jay Hugh and Lucius Kirkland, Pearl Petty, Dempsey Henderson, Vernon Turner and Donney Gary. One Red Cross nurse, "Alta Pritchard," Vernon Turner died in camp and was shipped back to Ft. Chadbourne for burial. Most all the other boys were shipped overseas with the various American Expeditionary Forces. "Alta" was retained at Camp Bowie until the last barrack was torn down in 1920. She still regrets not having a chance to go and see foreign service. All these boys were fortunate in coming home. So far as we recall, the casualty lists, Earl Moore and Conda Clark, were the only ones to be reported wounded in action. Several, however, have developed disability from gas, shell shock, and exposure.

Earl Moore is now in Veterans Hospital at Amarillo, Texas. Then, as now, trains were late, mail slow, and there would be weeks and weeks of no mail from over there. There was worry and anxiety furrowed in the faces of home folks, sweethearts and friends.

Many was the nights we stood at the station waiting for late trains, then gather up the 1st class mail and hurriedly search for a letter from over there—and when it did not come, witness the pain and the disappointment that they must bear! When a letter did come it would do your soul good to silently look on. Did we celebrate when they came home! We were just a loyal proud neighborhood, and of course we did!

Today, 24 years later, we who were girls are mothers; the mothers of War No. 1 are the grandmothers of the war No. 2 boys. Four mothers of our community boys of 1918 still live. They are Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Faneber, Mrs. Gary and Mrs. Richards. No fathers are living of the No. 1 war boys.

In 1918 we looked on and marveled at the courage and determination of those neighbors we loved. Today we understand why the pain and anxiety, the joy and sorrow! We are a mother today! We have our part to share with those other mothers. We are wiser in the wisdom they were

WEST TEAS MUST FURNISH MORE WAACS, SAYS RECRUIT OFFICER

A new quota for the West Texas Army Recruiting District called for the enrollment of more than four times the number of WAAC during January, February and March as have joined the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps during any previous three-month period.

Lieutenant Colonel Marvin B. Durette, Commanding Officer of the West Texas Recruiting and Induction District, stated that every effort will be made to reach this quota. He said that it is going to take the help of every one of the seventy-six counties in the district to attain this goal.

WAAC officers will visit practically every town in the district during the three-months' period. Public meetings will be held in many of these towns to give the public full information on the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps. Newspapers, Radio Stations, Theatres, Women's Clubs and various other civic organizations will be asked to aid in this recruiting drive. Women are urgently needed to take over non-combatant assignments that relieve physically fit soldiers for fighting duties.

The pay scale, which is the same as the Army's, will be distributed along with other information on advantages of training; the clothing, food, lodging and care of women, and all the attractions of membership in the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps.

All organizations willing to help in this recruiting drive should contact the Headquarters of the West Texas Recruiting and Induction District in Lubbock.

---who are contributing in many ways to helping win the war!

Women in business—replacing men who have joined the Armed Forces—women in Red Cross work, the Army Nurses' Corps, the WAACs, the WAVES, the civilian employes at Goodfellow and the bombardier school—tireless, fearless, you're doing everything and anything that needs to be done for victory!

And the housewives—saving waste greases, saving metal scrap—you're the ones who'll keep the home fires burning—you'll cook, clean and sew—wash and iron—and you'll bring up healthy, happy children because you know about vitamins. And all of you will shop more carefully, more thriftily, to save the money to buy more and more War Bonds and Stamps!

There are trying days ahead—but we promise to exert our every effort to serve you to the limit of our ability. We moved to our larger, more modern quarters to enable us to serve you better—we have the largest single grocery-market in San Angelo. We'll continue to comb the markets of the world to bring you everything it's possible to get in the way of foodstuffs. Rationing is going to cut down on many of the things you'll want—but we pledge ourselves to continue to serve you in the same friendly, courteous manner—with everything we can secure in these troubled times. Just depend on "YOUR HOME-TO-N BOYS"—we won't let you down!

"STOP THAT AD!"

That was the exclamation of Lester Ash of Marie as he came meeting us on the street Saturday.

Mr. Ash had run an ad with us for two weeks, announcing that he had some roosters for sale.

"I must say that the ad in The Enterprise brought the results. No foolin' I had inquiries from almost everywhere and had all my chickens sold before this week's issue of the paper was out. I could have sold many more chicks."

Thanks to you, Mr. Ash for the kindly words as to the results from the ad in The Enterprise, as well as congratulations at your success.

And, by the way, Mr. Ash's good results at advertising leads us to suggest to all our readers that if you have anything to sell, or if you want to buy anything, your surest and safest and cheapest and quickest way is by advertising in The Enterprise. The cost is nominal, and if what you want is in the country, you will get that fact before those who have the thing for sale. If you have something to sell, likewise those who may be wanting the thing you have will be advise about it.

FUN, FACTS AND PATRIOTISM POETICALLY EXPRESSED BY FIFTH GRADERS

(Editor's note: Bronte may not have its quota of boys wearing the uniform, and it may not have many WAACS and WAVES, but The Enterprise will "pit" "the old home town" against any community, large or small, when it comes to producing "poets" and "poetesses"—and the bold declaration is based on the evidence that follows. Mrs. H. A. Springer decided she would test her pupils on verse-writing. And before she could stop "the mills from grinding," her desk was piled high with the verses below. Evidently, from the sentiment expressed by many of the verse-writers, Hitler and the Japs have a very poor rating within the confines of the room of the fifth graders.)

THE YANKS

The Japs are over there,
And the Yanks are marching
On to Victory.
The Japs on Guadalcanal
Are not very good pals
To the Yanks of the U. S. A.

—Bobby Dean Franklin, Bronte School.

OUR FLAG

Our flag is red, white and blue—
Although Hitler doesn't like our president and you;
Hitler is as ugly as anyone I ever saw—
If I could get a chance, I would sock him in the jaw!
If I could see our president and Hitler fight,
I'd be seeing a strange sight—
Our flag is red, white and blue,
For we want liberty, too.

—Doris Nell Adair, Bronte school.

THE BLUE BIRDS

The bluebird sings so sweet to me.
In turn I give him food.
In that way we help each other,
Just as if he were my little brother.

He sings so sweet and clear
That all can hear it ring.
These bluebird songs that he sings
About the springs and the meadows.

—Hubert Brock, Bronte school.

THE WAVING FLAG

Red, white and blue,
Are the colors of our flag,
That waves so true.
It is waving for you and me,
To win our Liberty.

We are doing our duty
To make our flag a beauty.
We will march by her side
And give her more pride.

Our flag is waving for Liberty
To make all nations free.
So, all may declare,
In Heaven and on earth, peace so fair.

—Dorothy Fae Scott, Bronte school.

THE RAIN

We wanted to go to town,
But the rain came pouring down,
While we were jolly as a clown.

When the rain is over,
We will run through the clover
With our dog Rover—
And play anti-over.

—Joe Russell Ash, Bronte school.

OUR BASEBALL TEAM

Raining or snowing,
Our baseball team keeps on scoring—
Throwing and blowing,
They keep on scoring.

When they get put out,
They do not pout.
They just shout, "We'll get it back on you."

OUR FLAG

The flag flies over your land and my land—
It flies half the world around.
The flag that our forefathers loved so true.
The flag that we should all love and honor so true.
The flag—the dear old flag of red, white and blue.
The dream of our forefathers,
Where the country would be free.

And today, nations are trying to take their dream away.
The flag is flying for our country—
For truth, for freedom, liberty and justice.
The flag that our fathers and brothers are dying for today.
The flag that our fathers and brothers
Followed across the sea in nineteen and eighteen,
And brought back victory for good old U. S. A.

—Pauline Virginia Box, Bronte school.

MY DONKEY

My donkey is so slow!
But he hurts
When he kicks me.
Although he can't go very fast
I still like to ride him past.

—Charles Timmons, Bronte school.

then crowned with. Our community has reached and joined our friends of Bronte. We are no more a village of business and churches and the post office that so proudly floated the flag from the old porch. It is all just a memory! We're still proud community—proud of our boys. They're the sons of our beloved land, America! We can see them in future years reaching out with their strength and courage—not perhaps men of Ft. Chadbourne. But building homes of love and principle, where loyal, courageous men should be.

These, our sons of War 2, who have taken their places in today's United Nations, are Varney and Saleh Moore, Dean Morrow, Dick and Percy Sings, Jim Callaway, Lowell Hallmark, A. J. M. Daniels, Clifford and M. R. Grayson.

May the Great Good Father grant all mankind that if it be His only choice, to send them all back to us, just as safely home as the boys of 1918.

You may wonder if we are worried, afraid. We are only a little about our boys—we're just plain simple mothers. We're worried yes, because that's human nature. If you think we're afraid we will lose the war, you are wrong. Our sons are fearless and we're deeply proud of their loyalty. We miss them, but there will come a day that all wrongs with Germany and the dirty yellow Jap will be avenged and should that day send the anguish of death or the possibility of a wrecked son home to us, give us strength and courage we beg to face it unselfishly with the same loyalty that our friends and neighbors all over America must face it, as our sons are facing it.

—Addie Prichard Callaway
