AD-LIB-BEN

The fire Saturday night was certainly a disastrous thing. One never knows when this sort of thing will strike and precautions against fire hazards cannot be over-emphasized.

Bronte's Fire Department certainly deserves sincere congratulations for the speedy manner in which they got the fire under control. Theirs is a very important job, and by their speed and skill Saturday night they well could have prevented the whole north side of Main street from being damaged or destroyed. The thanks of everyone in Bronte should also go to the Robert Lee Fire Department for their good neighborliness in rushing to the aid of the local boys.

Most bad things have their lighter side and we cannot help but admire the audacity of the mother bird who built her nest in the fire siren. Of course she

G. C. Bell Home Destroyed by Fire Sunday Evening

A second fire in this vicinity in less than 24 hours completely destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Bell late Sunday afternoon. The house was located on their farm east of Bronte.

No one was at home when the fire broke out and origin of the blaze has not been determined, although it could have caught from a hot water heater, Fire Chief Bill Thomas said.

Mrs. Bell is ill in a Greenville hospital and has not been told of the catastrophe. Mr. Bell was in Bronte at the time of the fire.

After the fire was discovered by persons who saw it from the highway, and the alarm turned in at Bronte, the fire was so well underway that it was impossible for firemen to save anything by the time they arrived at the scene. All of the contents of the house were lost.

Mr. and Mrs. Bell had no insurance on their home.

Good Shower Falls Over Area Tuesday Night

More showers fell in the Bronte area Tuesday night with up to .7 being recorded in town. Heavier rains were received north in the Oak Creek and Blackwell areas, with as much as 1 inch reported in spots. The thundershowers began about 8 p. m. and continued until almost midnight. They were accompanied by some wind and an electrical storm which caused a 10 minute power failure in Bronte. Temperatures had climbed to 100 degrees Tuesday afternoon for the season's high temperature.

More thundershowers were forecast for the area Wednesday and Thursday.

Blaze in Drug Store Causes Loss of About $60,000

Damage which will probably amount to a total of more than $60,000 resulted from a fire which broke out in the Bront Pharmacy about 2:40 Sunday morning. Most of the damage was done to the drug store, but C. R. Smith & Co. next door sustained losses estimated at $11,000.

The fire was discovered by Otis Mayben who was on duty as night-watchman. It is suspected that it was caused from an electrical short, possibly in a clothes dryer.

The Bronte Fire Department arrived quickly at the scene of the fire and soon had it under control. Most of the damage was caused from smoke which left a sticky film on everything it contacted. Small damage was also done to the First National Bank building next door east of the drug store, by the smoke which seeped under the walls.

The back end of the drug store building was heavily damaged, and floors, walls and ceilings all over the structure will have to be replaced or refinished.

Mr. and Mrs. Rippetoe were out of town when the fire occurred. They had gone to Bangs on business, continuing on to Lipan where they were spending the night with his father. They were called about the fire and arrived back in Bronte about 8:30 a. m.

Rippetoe estimated his damage to stock and fixtures at $40,000 to $45,000. He carried $30,000 in insurance. The building is owned by Wojtek Brothers of Robert Lee. Their damage was expected to run about the full amount of the insurance they carried, $8,000.

Only last week the Rippetoes announced plans to move their drug store to Bangs. They said they would close the store here on June 14. Rippetoe said Wednesday that now his plans are indefinite. "About the only thing I can think of now," he said, "is getting that stuff down there inventoried as well as possible." He added that he would have to guess at a lot of the merchandise which was stored upstairs where the fire damage was heaviest, and at much of the drug loss because of the burning or exploding of bottles of medicines and chemicals.

C. R. Smith & Co. had no fire damage, but everything in the store was covered over with a layer of sticky residue left from the smoke. Hundreds of yards of broadcloth and other materials stored in the back of the building where they operate a blouse and skirt factory were damaged and will have to be sold at a loss. Smith said Tuesday that just as soon as he can get everything in readiness he will have a fire sale. Announcement of the event will be in next week's Enterprise.

Smith carried $5,000 insurance on contents of his building. He was given full damage on this amount plus, he said "a generous settlement on the building damage." He said the interior of the store as well as all fixtures, would have to be refinished. Several thousand dollars worth of sewing machines and other equipment in the factory were covered with sticky smoke but Smith said he believed they could be cleaned up and put back in operating condition.

Insurance adjusters were waiting results of the inventory before making a settlement with Rippetoe.

Wojtek Brothers have made no announcement as to their plans for rebuilding the burned out structure.

"Mystery Farm of the Week"

Who Lives Here?

Sam Seay's Place Last Week's Mystery Farm

Last week's mystery farm picture in the Enterprise was the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Seay. It is located 5 miles east of town. Mr. Seay started managing the place in 1932. Prior to that time, it was operated by his father, who was also named Sam.

The elder Mr. Seay settled the farm in 1897. It consists of 786 acres. The family now has more acreage leased, bringing the total operation to something over 1,000 acres.

Seay and his wife, the former Alva Landers, would be classified as stock farmers. Up until the recent drouth, they ran about 100 head of cows, but their foundation herd is now down to about 35 cows. They also have 20 heifers on the place.

About 300 acres of the farm are in cultivation. This land is used mostly to grow pasture and grain for the cattle. When asked what kind of cattle he raises, Seay said, "there's only one kind and that's Hereford."

Seay said he always tried to make his stock as gentle as possible. "We use a feed sack instead of a pony," he noted when they need to get the cattle together.

The land in cultivation on the Seay place is terraced and other conservation practices include stock tanks on the pasture land.

Jeanette McDaniel Honored Saturday With Bridal Shower

Miss Jeanette McDaniel, bride-elect of Don Glenn, was honoree at a seated shower Saturday afternoon in the parlor of First Methodist Church. Mmes. Otis Smith, Cecil Kemp and A. N. Rawlings of Bronte and Mrs. Randal Meador of Abilene were hostesses.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Rawlings; the honoree and her mother, Mrs. J. E. McDaniel of Chillicothe; and Mrs. D. K. Glenn, mother of the prospective bridegroom.

Miss Carolyn Glenn presided at the guest register. About sixty persons were present.

A color theme of orchid and white was carried out in refreshments and decorations. Punch, party sandwiches and mints were served from a table laid with a madeira linen cutwork cloth over orchid. The centerpiece was fashioned from orchid and white larkspur with artificial rain simulating a shower over the flowers. The centerpiece was flanked by a miniature bride's bouquet and crystal candelabra holding orchid candles. White net bags, containing rice, and tied with orchid ribbon, were plate favors.

Orchid streamers ran from the centerpiece to the side of the table. They were inscribed "Don" and "Jeanette."

Arrangements of larkspur, gladioli and other spring flowers decorated the parlor.

Mrs. Wyn Weathers of San Angelo presided at the punch bowl. Others in the house party included Mrs. Martin Lee and Mrs. Harold Sheppard of Midland.

Mrs. George Thomas read a poem "youth and old age" before Miss McDaniel opened her gifts.

The couple will be married June 22 at First Methodist Church here.

UNCLE HUIE from HOG CREEK says

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:
It'll take me all summer to git over some of them Commencement addresses I've been hearing and reading about in the papers. "This country faces a period of great unrest," says one of them distinguished speakers. "America has come to the cross roads" says another speaker. "This country does not want war" expounds another genius.

Such junk ought to be agin the law, even in a country where free speech is allowed. Any 10-year-old knows the world is in a mess and that we've got to work on the problem.

I think we ought to make a new law this summer that Commencement addresses next year is illegal, unlawful, and in very bad taste. It'd be much better fer the graduates if they'd turn 'em out a hour earlier so's they could git a faster start. They ought not to lose a second's time in trying to git themselves adjused to a country where the janitor makes more money than the school teacher, where prices is so high they'll probably have to wear their cap and gown to work, and where the only blessing of finishing one war is to get ready fer the next one.

It would do away with a great handicap, Mister Editor, if they'd plan to let out school next year without any commencement speakers.

I see by the papers where England is having another "dollar shortage" and a couple of Englishmen is heading fer Washington to discuss it. Now, I ain't bragging, but I've had as much experience with dollar shortage as anybody living. There ain't been a time in my recollection when I wasn't having a dollar shortage in some form or other. It's a funny thing, but it don't seem to make no difference if times is good or bad, busting or booming, I still am short on dollars. If them Englishmen git any relief over here, I'm heading fer Washington myself. If everybody in the world suffering from dollar trouble heads fer Washington, the place is liable to cave in.

I was reading last night where a doctor told a bunch of business men at a medical meeting that the reason so many business men was stoop-shouldered was because they didn't know how to sit proper. The truth of the matter, Mister Editor, is that with things in such a mess, most business men don't know how to sit proper because they don't know which end is up.

Yours truly,
Uncle Huie

By STERLING LINDSEY

The Coke County 4-H Club boys and girls swine improvement program began a new year with the distribution of the eight registered Duroc gilts to eight fortunate and happy girls and boys at the show barns here in Robert Lee last Saturday morning.

Some 25 parents, 4-H club members and agents met, discussed the program briefly, then held the drawing to see which gilt each boy and girl would receive.

Contrary to normal, several 4-H club girls were awarded gilts. Five girls received gilts while only three boys are in the program to develop swine breeding animals. The group receiving the weaned pigs is as follows:

Jeanna Kay Denman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Denman, Bronte; Douglas Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. Beuford A. Phillips, Bronte; Juanita Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Johnson, Bronte; C. L. Sparks, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Sparks, Robert Lee; Kay Wink, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Wink, Sanco; William Ray Hood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jett Hood, Robert Lee; Prescilla Wylie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Wylie, Robert Lee; and Dawnie Grace Boykin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Boykin, Robert Lee. Malcom Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Johnson, Bronte, received the male hog, a 12 weeks old animal purchased from Paul Merchant of Haskell.

The girls and boys will feed the gilts through the year, then return a registered gilt next spring to keep the program in operation. During the process of developing the swine breeding animals they will be shown in the county and store area gilt shows in San Angelo next fall, will farrow and develop a litter of pigs next spring and then enter the store area heavy litter contest. Some outstanding individuals and litters are expected to be developed from the eight gilts awarded to the eight 4-H club girls and boys.

didn't know her work would keep the thing from sounding when it was vitally needed. We'd rather think she thought her nest was more important than the fire whistle's blowing. Look at it as you like.

And, too, the smell at the First National Bank these days is something out of this world. The bank had a deodorizing firm down Tuesday trying to get rid of the odor left by the fire next door. The little woman looked a little suspicious when we came in the shop after being around that good smelling machine for awhile. Said she couldn't quite place the brand.

Congratulations are in order for DaNell Dixon and Marjorie Gladys Rives, both Coke County 4-H Club girls, for their accomplishments recognized by people who realize the amount of work and time it takes to do what they have done.

Recognition has also come to Wallace Clift, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Clift of Robert Lee. He has been appointed as an assistant attorney general of Texas; and will be given a special assignment on the Tideland situation.

ATTEND RALLY
