Sewer Lines Available At Low Price $1.15 Foot

A low price of $1.15 per foot is available to Bronte residents who will tie on to the city's new sewer system. Mayor Norman R. Kiker said this week that the city has made a deal with Don Tammen, San Angelo plumber, to do the work at that price.

Kiker pointed out that most of the persons who tied on right after the sewer system was completed paid $1.25 per foot.

Tammen said his work includes digging the ditch, laying clay pipe, tying on and refilling the ditch. The price for lines from the sewer mains to houses, and any work necessary under a house will be charged for on a time and material basis.

First National Bank in Bronte has offered to loan money to those needing financing to tie on to the sewer. E. F. Glenn, executive vice president, said that financing for tying on is available at a low interest rate and that repayment can be arranged to suit most anyone.

The mayor urges that all residents of Bronte tie on to the sewer where the service is available. He pointed out that sanitation conditions in the city are improved every time a house or business building begins using the city's sewer system. "I urge everyone, in the interest of the health of all of us, to tie on," Kiker said Wednesday morning.

Anyone who is interested in securing sewer service may contact Tammen by calling Mrs. Helen Kirkland, city secretary. She will have him call on all interested persons.

Matthew Caperton reported Wednesday morning that he had just had a telephone conversation with Jerry J. Tidmore of Athens and that Tidmore is ready to start construction on a home for the aged in Bronte.

Caperton said as soon as enough money is raised to secure the necessary land and Tidmore gets state approval, he is ready to go to work on the local project. The Athens man operates a similar establishment in his home town and is anxious to expand.

Caperton said he has received money and pledges in the amount of about $750 and $200 more is needed. "I plan to get out and raise this money in the next few days, if possible," Caperton said, "so we can get this thing to moving."

He said anyone who wants to contribute money toward the project should deposit it at First National Bank or hand it to any of the Lions Club committee members who are working toward securing the home for Bronte.

UNCLE HUIE from HOG CREEK says

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

I see by the papers where several colleges is complaining that the honor system fer taking exams at the end of this school year wasn't working none too good. We used that system back when I was a boy. The teacher would announce that we was on our honor and would we please all set three desks apart. It worked pritty good in them days and I'd recommend it fer this generation.

It looks like the value of money is gitting less ever day. Fer instant, I was reading this piece in the papers where penny weighing machines was about to disappear in this country. A feller in Memphis claimed he used to operate 500 of these machines but he's now down to 161 and aims to go out of business. He says they just aint no profit no more in traveling all over the area collecting the pennies. And up till it took a nickel to mail a letter, the nickel was about to get extink like the Buffalo.

The fellers at the store Saturday was setting around giving each other the benefits of their doubts and Ed Doolittle said he had noted where Congressmen from some of the farm states was trying to git a special item in Kennedy's tax cut plan fer giving the farmer a better deal with taxes. One of them tax expert friends of mine allowed as how this would bring a heap of confusion on account of ever city gardner claiming he was a farmer. I don't know how this would work out. Mister Editor. I recollect hearing my Pa say one time that a real farmer could hear a hen cackle and tell whether she was laying or lying. If we git this new tax benefit fer farmers, we might have to use the laying and lying test.

One of the fellers told us he had saw a piece in the papers where the Government was spending $80,000 at Beltsville in Maryland to build a hospital fer the whelping of special dogs. Said he recollect that when old Charlie Wilson took a job in Ike's cabinet he said that what was good fer General Motors was good fer the country, and my friend figgers that what is good fer dogs ought to be good fer people. He's in favor of the Government building special hospitals fer expectant mothers. This brought a good round of applause and it was so voted.

And my pamphlet yesterday from the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported they just completed a "study" showing how much more it costs to feed a teenage boy than a teenage girl. They announce, fer instant, that it costs on average $11.40 a week to feed a teenage boy between 16 and 19, and only $8.80 fer a girl the same age. It probably didn't cost more'n $25,000 to make this "study," so I reckon it was worth it to the taxpayers.

Mister Editor, I never seen the like of people that they was out at Maverick last weekend. I sure enjoyed that little git-together. Fact is, they ain't much of anything I like better than seeing so many old friends.

Yours truly,
Uncle Huie

Cotton insects—particularly fleahoppers—may be a problem to the operators with cotton in the coming days. Conditions lately have been ideal for their development. Frankie Percifull called the other day to say the fleahoppers were damaging his cotton.

The next few weeks will be a critical period for our cotton. We have the moisture to make the growth and start the fruit that is desired. Likewise, the plants will be fruiting their heaviest in the near future. If we can keep the insects out for awhile, we should be able to get a good start on a bottom crop of cotton.

I visited with Bub Burson this morning just before he returned to his livestock inspector's post in Uvalde. Bub is working primarily with the screwworm control program.

The latest report received from the Foundation shows a decrease in screwworms in Texas for the week before last reporting period—from 111 cases down to 89 cases during that week. The corresponding week in 1962 there were 1667 cases reported in the state. And the authorities estimate the reporting system to be three times as effective as it was in 1962.

Coke County had no cases reported but one case was found as far north as Lubbock County.

The farmer gets about 29c for the cotton in a man's $4.00 business shirt.

Midland Bermudagrass is a cold tolerant hybrid that is producing high yields of forage under irrigation on the High Plains.

The new grass developed at the Georgia Coastal Experiment Station, is a cross between Coastal Bermudagrass and the cold-hardy Indiana Common Bermuda.

"Midland Bermudagrass," L-591, says that the hybrid is taller and has fewer rhizomes than Common Bermuda. It is darker green, has stiffer leaves, produces more seedheads and begins growth earlier in the spring than Coastal Bermuda.

Midland may be grown on most soil types where adequate fertility and moisture are available, according to the leaflet. The grass has a high requirement for moisture and should be irrigated in areas of less than 25 inches of rainfall.

Sprigging is used to establish Midland and it can be planted about April 15 in the Lubbock area. Usually four to 12 months are required for Midland to form a complete cover depending on the time of planting, moisture, fertility and weed competition.

Fertilization is necessary in almost all cases for high yields of good quality Midland forage. Though all the nutrient elements are important in grass production, nitrogen is the key mineral and three or four applications should be made on Midland during the growing season.

Management of grazing will determine if Midland is profitable or not. A systematic grazing plan is necessary for optimum utilization of forage, to prevent excessive losses from trampling and to allow irrigation and fertilization scheduling. A rotation grazing system best meets these needs, the bulletin explains.

If you would like to have a copy of the bulletin give us a ring.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

May 30, 1963

Dear Ben:

As officers of the Bronte Parent Teachers Association, on behalf of that organization and many other citizens here, we should like to publicly express our appreciation to Dr. and Mrs. John R. Harris for their invaluable help during the recent PTA-sponsored health campaigns — the Heath TB tests and the inoculations for children. They offered their facilities free of charge to the PTA and the programs could not have been successful without their help and services.

Very truly yours,

Officers of the Bronte Parent Teachers Association.

FB Directors Have Robert Lee Meet

Regular meeting of Coke County Farm Bureau directors was held Tuesday night at Robert Lee. Ten members and guests were present.

A letter from State President C. G. Devaney was read. It contained congratulations to all farmers who worked for the defeat of the recent wheat legislation, which the Farm Bureau strongly opposed.

The letters also asked members to write their congressmen expressing disapproval of the Cooley Cotton Bill, HD 6196. The bill provides for compensation to textile mills which use domestic cotton. The farm organization favors, instead, legislation proposed in the Ellender bill, SB 1458. It proposes price support of 30 cents in 1964 with a decrease to 29 cents in 1965 in case production exceeds demand. It also calls for an increase in the national acreage allotment to 17,500,000 acres, and a 6½ cent per pound export subsidy, making U. S. cotton more competitive in the world market.

Directors discussed plans to hold the final contest July 2 to choose delegates to the Students Citizenship Seminar which will be held Aug. 21-23 at Sam Houston State College at Huntsville.

A queen's contest and talent find were also discussed and it was decided to postpone the talent find until a later date. In order to enter the queen's contest, girls must be between the ages of 16 and 22, unmarried, and have fathers or brothers who are actively engaged in farming or ranching.

Next directors meeting will be a quarterly meeting on July 2 in Robert Lee. Supper will be served officers and directors and their wives by the Robert Lee home-making girls.

"Sugar already on hand or committed to the United States for 1963 totals 500,000 tons more than last year's entire national consumption," reported Under Secretary of Agriculture Charles S. Murphy in comments made recently regarding the upswing in domestic sugar prices.

"These new commitments have been made within the past few days," he added, "and the speculative bubble in sugar is bound to burst in the face of this plentiful supply."

"Speculators may be able to keep the bubble going for a while, but not for very long," he declared.

At the time, he warned that people who load up high priced sugar may sustain losses when the price goes down.

"Current Congressional hearing on the sugar situation," he said, "will show plentiful supplies and this will help restore stability in the sugar market."

He noted that a relatively tight situation in world sugar supplies early this year created uncertainty in the market, and gave speculators a chance to bid up prices.

In case you are interested in substituting other sweets for sugar, here are a few basic rules:

Conversion Table for Sugar
For 1 cup of sugar in baking use:

Honey
1 cup honey and reduce liquid ¼ cup for each cup of honey used.

To insure a quality product, about half the sugar should be retained in a recipe and honey substituted for the other half.

In baking, use ¼ teaspoon soda for each cup of honey used; this is in addition to baking powder in recipes when honey is substituted for sugar.

Better results in baking are obtained to use recipes which were developed to use honey as the sweetening agent.

Molasses or Sorghum
One and one-half cup molasses or sorghum reduce liquid ¼ cup for each cup molasses and sorghum used.

Corn Syrup
2 cups corn syrup reduce liquid ¼ cup for each cup of corn syrup used.

Cane Syrup
One and one-half cups of cane syrup is equal in sweetness to one cup of cane sugar.

In cakes and cookies: Replace sugar with syrup, measure-for-measure and reduce liquid one-third. Cakes and cookies made with corn and cane syrups are not as sweet as when sugar is used.

Canning Fruits with Corn Syrup or Honey

Fruits will have a better flavor, texture and color when canned in syrup, but they keep as well without sugar as with it. The final product will be slightly different when using corn syrup. The liquid in the jars will be slightly stickier. Corn syrup is especially good for canning pineapples and peaches.

Syrups Made with Honey & Sugar
Thin syrup use ½ cup sugar and ½ cup honey to 2½ cups water. Medium syrup use 1 cup sugar and 1 cup honey to 4 cups water.

Method: Bring water and sugar to boiling; add honey, stir and return to boiling.

Syrups Made with Corn Syrup and Sugar

Use 1 cup sugar, 2 cups corn syrup and 6 cups water.

If corn syrup is to replace all the sugar, use ¾ cup syrup to 1 cup water.

Preserves, Jams, Jellies

Jelly—¼ of the sugar required for making jelly may be replaced by corn syrup.

Preserves—½ the sugar required for making preserves may be replaced by corn syrup.

Jams—¼ the sugar required for making jam may be replaced by corn syrup.

Honey may replace up to ½ of the sugar in jams and preserves.

Freezing Fruits with Corn Syrup
Use 1½ cups corn syrup to 3½ pounds of fruit. Treat for discoloration.

Canning Fruit with Non-Caloric Sweetener (Not Saccharin)

In home canning procedures, you use the non-caloric sweetener in much the same way you would use sugar—adding it during the preparation for processing. Either the liquid or tablet form may be used for this purpose.

Fruit put up with non-caloric sweeteners will taste sweet, but since it provides only the sweetness and not the bulk or other properties of sugar, the fruit will not have the heavy syrup characteristic of fruit put up with sugar.

Allow from ¾ to 1 cup liquid for every 2 pints (or 1 quart) of fruit. Sweeten according to the table below, depending on personal taste preference and the natural sweetness of the fruit.

For each cup of liquid use:
For moderate sweetening: 12 to 16 tablets, or 1½ to 2 teaspoons solution. For tart fruit or greater sweetening: 20 to 24 tablets or 2½ to 3 teaspoons solution.

Vacations go smoother in a Chevrolet Corvair

Bring on those mountains! They're not so high and mighty when you've got Corvair's gummy six and rear-engine traction working on them.

You scurry up the meanest grades. You move with sure-footed agility on wet pavement, muddy lanes, gravel and other would-be miseries.

And with most of Corvair's weight on the rear wheels, you have easy steering, too. Fact is, the handling's so light and responsive we don't even offer power steering for the car.

And there's more to feel good about. No problems with your radiator boiling over or going dry, because there's no radiator. Corvair's engine is air cooled. No concern about brake adjustments, either, because the brakes adjust themselves. Nothing much to think about at all except the good time you're having.

Like to do that in a sporty bucket-seated Monza Club Coupe or Convertible? Like to spring into summer with a 4-speed stick shift* and Spyder package* with its 150-hp Turbocharged engine? Your dealer's got just the Corvair and the Trade 'N' Travel deal on it to put you in a holiday mood.
