Cambie Ivey, Jr. Is New Mayor Of Robert Lee

Cambie Ivey, Jr., was elected mayor and Curtis Walker and Wayman Robertson were named commissioners in Robert Lee's biennial city election Tuesday. It means a brand new municipal administration.

A total of 130 ballots were cast. Ivey received 95 votes in defeating W. D. McAdams, former city commissioner, who polled 37 votes.

In the commissioner race Walker was high with 84 votes. Robertson won the other commissioner place with 70 votes. Delmir Shepard was close with 68 votes, while Buster Farris got 34. Farris was running for re-election.

The old city commission headed by Major J. S. Ferrell met Monday night, canvassed the ballots and wound up its business. New city officials are expected to take over immediately.

Cambie Ivey, Jr., mayor-elect, returned to his home here Wednesday after being hospitalized the past ten days. He is expected to be able to assume his new duties this week. The mayor is required to post a bond, while commissioners only go through the formality of being sworn in.

The retiring administration has looked after city affairs in a highly efficient manner. Each new official is competent and our citizens are assured that the city's business will be in good hands.

BRONTE RE-ELECTS

Ernest Ivey received 76 votes to begin his third year as mayor at Bronte. He is an uncle of the new Robert Lee mayor. Editor Ben Chesby, Charlie Boecking and Billy Thomas were named city commissioners without opposition.

1956 Auto Tags Set New Record

A total number of 1,316 passenger automobiles have been registered in Coke County for 1956, according to announcement made by Paul Good, sheriff and tax assessor-collector.

The registration ran heavier than had been expected.

License fees go into county road and bridge funds and will amount to around $50,000.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Crum are visiting at Austin in the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Davis.

Coke Getting Good Showers

Rain started falling at 6 a. m. Thursday morning and at 9 o'clock about 7/10 of an inch had been gauged in Robert Lee. A heavy overcast indicated more showers throughout the day.

The moisture will bring on green stuff rapidly and will be soaked up by farm land which has been made ready for planting.

It was the first sizeable rain in several months.

West Texas weather has again proven that it is entirely unpredictable. Weather stations late Wednesday night reported no indication of rain in this locality.

They were high on prediction of showers all over West Texas Monday, but instead we got the most severe dust storm of the season.

SMALL COMMUNITIES FIGHTING FOR THEIR LIVES

(From The Bronte Enterprise)

This park and Recreation deal which is being discussed looks good to us. Small towns are waging the greatest fight of their lives to remain desirable places to live in, and this would encourage young people to remain here for this phase of their recreation. Trailing off to the big town for a swim appears to be a small matter, but it's just one more link in the chain of habit of thinking we have to drive 20 to 30 miles to get anything. This habit is the very thing which is sucking and will continue to drain the life from small towns such as Bronte, unless we do something about it. A park and pool would certainly make Bronte a more desirable place to live, and that's what we must do, unless we're all going to move to "town."

Mrs. Middleton Gets Temporary Child Support

Temporary alimony and child support of $300 cash and $75 per week was granted Mrs. Dan Middleton following a district court hearing here last Thursday before Judge Joe L. Mays.

A suit for divorce had been filed March 24. The action, titled Francis Middleton vs William Bond (Dan) Middleton, alleged cruel treatment and stated that marital troubles had existed for a long period.

Mrs. Middleton is represented by Runge, Hardeman, Smith & Foy nad Wm. C. Donald of San Angelo, while Dickey & Dickey of Robert Lee are attorneys for the defendant.

Middleton, well known bachelor residing near Hayrick, married the former Glen Rose woman at Waco July 17, 1950. The divorce petition stated the couple separated permanently March 20, 1956. They have a daughter, Dana, born July 2, 1951.

Mrs. Middleton claims her husband owns 4,000 acres of Coke County land, in addition to livestock, stock in the Bronte bank, notes and mortgages and more than $25,000 in liquid assets. She requests an accounting of his assets to determine her share of community property.

Editorial

This column is devoted to the bond election coming up Saturday. It won't be very long, so you just as well take time to read it.

Committees who have studied the matter for some time claim the county can build the proposed new parks and swimming pools, and pay off the $130,000 bond issue without increasing taxes. So why not do it?

Now is the time while valuations are high. They have studied the county's financial condition and been advised of money on hand and what can be expected to come in from taxes over future years.

Cash on hand March 1 in three main county funds were as follows: Permanent Improvement (Court House and Jail) $97,928.49, General Fund $71,341.81, Jury Fund $53,995.28. That's lots of money. Now how are we going to spend it?

Or should we cut taxes a nickle or dime? Eighty-five per cent of the county's taxing value comes from oil property. Less than $4 million dollars is assessed against resident property owners. If we cut taxes every dollar saved to local property owners will mean $8 or $9 reduction on oil values.

This newspaper has supported most bond issues in the past and we have tried to be fair and honest. We aim to remain dependable. We firmly believe the parks bonds can be handled without increasing the tax rate. We see no indication that anybody's taxes will be decreased if the bonds carry.

There is a big decrease in rural population and small communities have been hard hit. People prefer to live in bigger cities where they can enjoy nice parks, swimming pools and other opportunities for wholesome recreation.

We want to see Coke County a better place to live in. That's why we favor the parks bond issue.

COMMISSIONERS COURT

Coke County Commissioners were in regular session Monday when most of the day was devoted to allowing bills. It was voted to split insurance on the new court house between five firms, S. E. Adams, W. B. Clift, T. A. Richardson, Youngblood & Glenn and Mrs. R. W. Rees. County officials discussed delays being taken by contractors to finish the building, having in mind that a penalty of $25 per day could be assessed. Indications are that the building will not be ready for occupancy for two more weeks.

Wide Interest On Saturday In School Voting

Saturday, April 7, is school trustee election day all over the state of Texas. Some wide open races have developed in each of the three Coke County school districts.

Robert Lee has seven candidates for three places on the board, Silver has six men running for two positions, while there are four candidates for two openings at Bronte.

In the Robert Lee independent district terms of Jack Cowley, Bob Godwin and Raymond Schooler expire this year. All three are running for second terms, while other candidates include J. F. McCabe, Jr., Melvin Childress, Brent Clark and L. E. Heuvel.

A big vote is expected to turn out Saturday and it is the first time in several years that much interest is being shown here in naming school trustees.

SILVER ELECTION

J. P. Jameson is a candidate for re-election at Silver. Raymond Bloodworth, who is completing a term on the school board, declined to run again.

Other candidates are C. E. Butcher, T. W. Lyle, Arch Mathers, John T. Stewart and L. B. Carden.

Mrs. J. B. Higginbotham was in the race temporarily, but withdrew her name before deadline for making up the ballots.

INTEREST AT BRONTE

Four candidates for the two places on the Bronte school board include Foy L. Moore, Hurlin Lee, A. S. Whatley and Edward Cumble.

Moore is up for re-election. He is an employee of Humble Oil Co. and preaches at the Silver Church of Christ.

Bob Vaughan and family returned Monday from a few days' visit at Victoria with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Vaughan. Bob says the country looked dry all the way down to South Texas.

Bond Issue For Park Projects Comes To Vote

In addition to electing school trustees next Saturday, voters will also decide a county-wide bond issue for parks and swimming pool projects. Only qualified voters who render property for taxation will be permitted to vote on the $130,000 bond proposal.

School elections and the special bond election will be held at separate polling places throughout the county.

The bond election was called by the Commissioners Court after petitions bearing 216 names had been filed. Petitions requested the election to issue bonds for constructing parks and pool projects in both Robert Lee and Bronte.

It is understood that the bond money would be divided equally between the two projects. Both would have swim pools of approved construction, as well as various park and picnic facilities, rest rooms, play grounds, etc. The Robert Lee committee hopes to include a community building large enough to handle meetings of farm and civic groups up to as many as 150 persons.

Supporters of the projects contend the bonds and interest can be paid off within a period of 15 years without increasing the present tax levy.

They point out that state law permits counties to set aside 5 cents of the Permanent Improvement Fund for park purposes. This fund of 25 cents has been levied for years and is ample to also take care of other commitments, including court house and hospital bonds.

Coke County's taxable valuation last year was nearly $30 million, and it will be approximately the same this year. A 5-cent levy will raise $15,000. Less than 15 cents of the 25-cent Permanent Improvement Fund is required now for current expenditures.

The bonds can be sold at an attractive interest rate of 2.9 per cent, and the bonding firm says the entire issue can be retired in 15 years with 3½ cents of the fund to be set aside for parks. That leaves 1½ cents for upkeep.

Coke County is getting a lot of tax money from oil properties. We have some wonderful new improvements which are being paid off on a sound financial program.

The parks are needed and this is another project that we can afford, according to people all over the county whose families will benefit from these outstanding recreational facilities.

THANKS

We wish to take this method of expressing our thanks and appreciation to the citizens of Robert Lee for their cooperation and courtesies extended to us during our term of serving you as mayor and commissioners of the City of Robert Lee. It has been a pleasure to work for and with you. We would like also to extend to the new commission, Mr. Ivey, Mr. Walker and Mr. Robertson, our sincere best wishes.

Fine Improvements Being Made By Sanco Cemetery Association

Following the completion of a reservoir of reinforced concrete members of the Sanco Cemetery Association have this week built a large outdoor concrete table in a small park adjoining the cemetery grounds for use in spreading basket lunches on work days at the cemetery and for use of those who may come from some distance to work on their family lots.

The concrete tank is 25 feet in diameter, five feet in depth, and will hold when full 17,000 gallons of water, or 340 fifty gallon barrels.

Last year the Association had a well drilled to a depth of 250 feet and installed pumping equipment with windmill and tower. The entire project as it now stands, at standard prices for work and materials equipment, represents an investment of $1,500. All accounts have been paid in full as the work has been completed, and as checks were mailed this week by Mrs. H. L. Reid, secretary-treasurer, about $20 remained in the treasurer.

Mr. T. E. Carr of Sterling City was contractor on the reservoir, which was built at a total cost to the Sanco Cemetery Association of $691.00, not including sand and gravel, which were furnished by the County under a provision of law whereby the county can assist cemeteries where burial is without charge to the public.

Several plantings of evergreens have been made this spring, by Mr. and Mrs. Bob Walker and Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Reid on the Reid lot. Mr. and Mrs. Sam McGallian and Mrs. Walter McGallian have completed a new concrete curb about their family lot and have placed a new granite marker on the grave of Walter McGallian.

The Carwile family has recently placed a new concrete curb around their lot.

The funds are not yet in hand for laying pipe from the reservoir across the cemetery, but the Sanco people have this as their next project. All funds have been by private donation. No dues have been levied, no pledge cards circulated. Donations have come in all amounts up to $115.00 from one donor.

Serviceable pipe can be used as a donation. When the pipe is in hand, or the money to buy the pipe, it will be laid within reach by garden hose of all parts of the cemetery.

Two organizations functioning together at Sanco are the Community Association and the Cemetery Association. The Community Association owns the former school building, which was ceded to them by the Board of Trustees of the Robert Lee Independent School District, with which the Sanco school was consolidated several years ago.

Meeting jointly Thursday night of last week, the Sanco people forming both groups heard reports on completion of the reservoir and statement of bills to be paid.

Ulmer Bird, president of the organizations, brought to the attention of the members the matter of water rights on the upper reach of creeks such as Yellow Wolf, and pointed out that the impounding of water downstream whittles away the rights of those upstream to impound and use flood waters.

He suggested that any in the north end of Coke County who had in mind ever impounding any water in this neighborhood look into this as great pressure has been brought to bear in recent sessions of the Legislature by downstream users of water to pass measures that would greatly jeopardize any future uses of upstream water.

The Associations voted to set the last Thursday night in August, the regular meeting night, as the time to hold election of officers. The annual homecoming to be held on the first Sunday in June was discussed. This date was set last year when a special Memorial Day reunion of Sanco and former Sanco people voted to make this an annual event.

Yarborough Vows Morality In State Government

Ralph W. Yarborough of Austin, pledging to "build a structure of morality" in state government, has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for governor of Texas.

Yarborough announced a platform "of progress including water conservation, drought relief, higher old age pensions, improved schools with adequate teacher pay and adequate retirement pay, adequate classroom space, a youth development program, a juvenile delinquency program" based on "broad general humanitarian principles." He said he would take his campaign in person "to the people in every corner of this great commonwealth."

Yarborough made his announcement simply, to the press, in contrast to the statewide radio and television broadcasts of other gubernatorial contenders.

"Humbly I accept," Yarborough said, "the commission of duty you have given me in tens of thousands of messages . . . to lead the fight for the good name of Texas. . ."

"The people of Texas want a new state government, free of entangling alliances and partnerships with the outgoing administration. Texas wants a state government free of the policies of the past and capable of independent action."

Yarborough added: "I pledge the people of Texas the restoration of honor, integrity and dignity in their state government."

"To every one of the 683,132 Texans who voted and worked with us in the hard campaign of 1954, I extend my thanks and gratitude. I urge each of you, and all Texans who believe in the triumph of honesty and morality, to join us in this crusade for a new administration in Texas."

1st Place Essay On Saving Soil

WHY SOIL CONSERVATION IS IMPORTANT TO EVERYONE

By Richard Wayne Rees

Since the dawn of civilization, soil conservation has been one of man's greatest needs. All of the food that supports life comes from the soil. Man and weather for thousands of years have abused and neglected to protect this dire necessity of life.

Besides being the most abused resource, it is also one of the hardest to restore. Erosion has already ruined more than fifty million acres of farmland in the United States and has partially destroyed much more. This wasteful loss can only be prevented by the use of soil conservation methods such as contour farming, strip cropping, terracing, limited grazing, check dams and crop rotation. Cutting trees, plowing on the sloping ground, over-grazing and other unwise practices have made it difficult for water to soak into the ground. Instead, every raindrop that falls on unprotected ground rushes off the land into rivers, carrying valuable soil and minerals and causing destructive floods.

The once rich, shoulder-high grasslands of the Great Plains, which supported millions of wild animals, grows no more because of over-grazing and fatuous farming caused the soil to either blow away in huge dust storms or wash away in torrents of flood waters.

Such great tragedies of waste have served to warn the people of America that "the land of plenty" could become a land of starvation and want. We, the people of the world, must work together and strive to protect our God-given heritage for our own sake and for the sake of those who come after us. To each of us, soil conservation means personal responsibilities for the wise use of our resources on our own country. Soil Conservation is truly everyone's business.

Concho League Has 5 Starters

(San Angelo Standard-Times)

The Concho Basin Baseball League lined up last night with five teams for 1956 pennant play and desires a sixth team entry. The organization session was held in the Standard-Times conference room.

The five clubs registered are the Robert Lee Rabbit Twisters, the Miles Giants, the Sonora Mules, the Magnolia Flying Red Horses of San Angelo and an unnamed San Angelo squad represented by Wesley Harrison.

The league race is to start Sunday, April 29.

A three-round schedule was drawn and it was agreed that the first and second place teams at the close of the schedule play a sudden death game Sunday, Sept. 2, on a 60-40 basis for whatever is in the league exchequer at that time.

Team entry and forfeit fee is $50. April 18 is the deadline for paying the fee.

The 18-player roster registration deadline is May 3.

Harley Jeschke asked that the Miles Giants be given notice that all Miles players are requested to report for practice between 2 and 2:30 p.m. Sunday.

Note: If a sixth club joins the circuit within the next 20 days it is to be placed on the schedule where each of the five other teams has drawn a bye.

Modern family minus electricity

What would you do without low-cost electric service in your home? Well—you could use candles. And build fires. And use elbow grease for all the jobs Reddy Kilowatt does automatically. If you did, you would be reminded quickly—and forcefully—how much your electric service does at such low costs for each of the many jobs. Your electric service is the biggest bargain in your family budget. What else gives you so much value in comfort, health, ease and fun? Keeping your electric service high in usefulness, low in cost is the main job of your electric service company.

Farmers Find Gardening Is Cash Crop

By JACK WAIDE
 County Agent

Dust storms don't generally make one think of gardening, but planting time is just about here. There are a few people who make a nice profit from their gardens. Aubrey Denman and Oscar Westa are typical examples of this type of gardening. Both have a water supply that is strong enough to justify their efforts. A good many others practically feed themselves throughout the year on vegetables raised during the spring and summer.

Bob White, who lives at Blackwell, and M. A. Cox of Robert Lee are just two who raise very fine gardens each year. Both families freeze the surplus vegetables and eat from their gardens 12 months out of the year. I counted 17 different vegetables in the White garden one day last year.

It was undeniable proof that gardens could be raised even in a drought. I doubt that there is a more productive piece of land in the county than the White garden. We have a very complete bulletin on gardening which might be helpful to some of you.

The terrific drop in egg prices has put many of our poultry raisers on a break even basis again. I wonder how many of you have ever figured the cost of your eggs on a weight basis? A dozen large eggs must weigh 24 ounces. Since the smallest egg must weigh two ounces, you seldom find a dozen of less than 26 oz. at 45 cents a dozen you probably are paying only 28 cents per pound for eggs. Consider the waste involved in most other food and you can readily see what a good buy they are.

BAPTIST YOUTH DAY
 The Robert Lee Baptist Church will observe Sunday, April 8, as Youth Day. Young people will be in charge of every part of the evening service, as ushers, leading the singing, a youth choir, and one of the young men of the Church, Sherman Williams, will bring the message of the evening. They plan to meet in the afternoon and spend some time in visitation, after which they will return to the church for a period of fellowship, with refreshments being served. You are welcome.

BALL GAME SUNDAY
 Robert Lee Rabbit Twisters will play their first game of the season here next Sunday at 3 p. m. Wesley Harrison's club of the Concho Basin League will furnish the opposition. Chilly Tinkler and Lew Heuvel will again be in charge of the Twisters, who for many years have ranked among the best amateur clubs in West Texas. The league season opens April 29.

Water Valley To Get Seven Mile Extension

A contract for the construction of grading, structures, base and surfacing on Farm to Market Road 2034 in Coke County was awarded in Austin last week, J. A. Snell, District Highway Engineer at San Angelo has announced.

The firm of Harry Campbell, Abilene, submitted the low bid of $136,069.96 on the project which runs from Between Water Valley and Robert Lee, a distance of 7 miles.

Resident Engineer H. L. Bailey of Sterling City will be in charge of the project for the Highway Department, and it is estimated that the work will take 120 days to complete.

More than 10 miles on the Water Valley Highway was finished last year, leaving a 5-mile gap near Water Valley which will be considered in a subsequent program.

Bahlman Plans Cleaning Plant At Sweetwater

Melvin Bahlman is branching out in the business world and will establish a new dry cleaning plant in Sweetwater. He will continue to own the Robert Lee plant.

Bahlman has leased a building on the main highway in the east section of Sweetwater. It is near a new school and a growing residential district. He plans to install new equipment.

Success of his dry cleaning business in Robert Lee prompted Mr. Bahlman to seek a larger field, and he was attracted to Sweetwater by the continuous growth of that city. He is assembling his new plant now and plans to move his family to Sweetwater within a month. Melvin has two sisters living in Sweetwater.

Coming here from Winters more than six years ago, Mr. Bahlman bought the dry cleaning business with scarcely no capital. He later acquired the building and a few years ago built a nice modern home. He and his wife have two small children.

Bahlman Cleaners in Robert Lee will be operated by his brother, Nelan, and Mrs. Evah Mahon, both of whom have been connected with the business for some time.

SMALL TALK

By A. J. K.

It was news to us that the proposed Yellow Wolf Dam was "dead as a door nail." That's what Gerald Allen, UCRA secretary, said the past week. Seems that a meeting was held here one very cold day and landowners who would be able to irrigate some 800 acres, showed little interest when they learned the dam would cost $400,000.

Snead may be out of line in raising haircuts to $1.00. Millard Meek says he slips over to Indian Gap occasionally where a guy is still cutting hair for 25 cents. That's right, only two-bits.

These Ivey boys are pretty popular. Election returns show that Bronte, Robert Lee and Rankin have a Mayor Ivey.

Had occasion the other day over at the court house to learn they assess you just as much for a little Ford as a big Cadillac. Why? And then if you don't own real estate your car isn't assessed at all. Why?

Miss those school items this week. Have been wondering about some of the names. Who's that Spider fellow, and Snaky?

Marriage, they say, is like a cafeteria—grab something good looking and pay later.

Gov. Shivers continues his rule or ruin tactics. He wouldn't stand for Senator Lyndon Johnson heading the Texas delegation to the national convention in Chicago. Shivers won't even get a seat at Chicago. Why should he? He still thinks Ike is the greatest president of all time. He won't say that he'll support the Democratic nominee. Democrats won't be dumb enough to let him in this time.

Another Shivers trick was to include DAC in the same group with PAC and NAACP. Now DAC stands for Democratic Advisory Committee which Speaker Sam Rayburn organized four years ago when the Shivers dominated State Democrat Committee folded up and went Republican. Thank goodness for Sam Rayburn's wonderful efforts to preserve some kind of Democratic organization in Texas.

PAC is more or less radical and is backed by the labor unions, while NAACP is the National Association for Advancement of Colored People. When Shivers links Rayburn with those groups he's using plain tactics to misinform the voters.

Monday evening's duster seemed to depress me more than any other bad sand storms of the past. Guess it was because it was such a let down from the weather man's morning prediction of showers all over West Texas.

Ten years ago today I landed in Robert Lee and bought The Observer. I'm still glad I came. Have mentioned before that it was sure dry that spring and we didn't get a good rain until Aug. 29.

Some good rains this week will help the parks and swimming pools bond issue coming up Saturday. Most everybody has been down in the mouth because of the continued drought.

Watch the Third Ward shine now that we've got the mayor and both city commissioners.

Locker Plant Being Moved By Gene Baker

Gene Baker began work this week getting ready to move the cold storage locker plant to his grocery and market. Roy Taylor is in charge of the big job of moving the machinery and equipment.

Mr. Baker has ample space at the rear of his store to house the locker plant and meat processing department. The rooms, formerly constructed for tourist cabins, are built of concrete blocks with concrete floors.

Present plans announced by Mr. Baker include installation of 150 large lockers, with more to be added later if necessary. A number of families have reserved locker space and Mr. Baker will be glad to hear from others who are planning to become locker users. He will also offer complete meat processing service.

Mr. Baker recently purchased the locker plant from trustees of the Cowe County Co-Operative Association. The plant had to be moved from its present location since the owner, Mrs. Effie Roe, sold the building to the Robert Lee State Bank as a site for its new banking structure.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Wayne Smith and children and Mrs. Jim Mauldin enjoyed a reunion of Mrs. Mauldin's kinfolks at Gatesville on Easter.

PERSONALS

Mrs. V. H. Simpson has moved to San Angelo and will reside at 610 East 19th. She has rented her home in Robert Lee. Mrs. Simpson made the move to be closer to her children, four of whom reside in San Angelo.

Cumbie Ivey, Jr. returned to his home here Wednesday after a ten days' stay in Shannon hospital where he submitted to an operation early last week. His condition seems favorable but he will be required to take things easy for a while.
