

NEW MEXICO NEWS SUMMARY

RUSIA AND CLOUDCROFT.

Secretary Lumber Town and Noted Pleasure and Health Resort.

A correspondent of the Santa Fe New Mexico says: Otero county has been almost five years old that has changed its site five times during the course of its existence. Its name has not changed that many times and at present it is known as Russia. It is a town that many have believed to be the territorial map for years.

The population of Russia is several hundred and its houses are reported to be of the best construction for a town of its size. For natural scenery it cannot be surpassed and is one of the most picturesque little places in the county. Far into the Sacramento mountains, a large force of men are working stripping the virgin forests their best timber and these men are at Russia. Here there are about a hundred little wooden houses, several of them used as bank houses for the convenience of the community; commissary conducted by the New Mexico Tie and Timber Company, which has the contract for cutting the timber; a railroad shop and engine house; a large saw mill; a saw mill; a hauling log to the main line at the Russia station; a postoffice and school house. There are two cook houses and mess rooms, one for the loggers and the other for the railroad men.

From the station to the town it is about two miles and descent of several hundred feet, which necessitates a switch track near the station. In Russia and Wayne counties there are eight thousand men, a crew of laborers now engaged in laying new steel, the logging operations continue up the canon. At present the men are working three miles from town.

Previous camps have been at Bailey, Fresno canon and James canon. In the course of a year the little town will be transferred again to some other canon.

Many visitors from Cloudcroft drive over to see the logging operations, which are interesting indeed to those who have never seen anything of the kind.

The Sacramento mountain region is a center of notable achievements in railroad engineering. The primary cause of these railroad feats was the tapping of the miles of timberland in these mountains.

The Alamogordo & Sacramento railroad consists of twenty-six miles of track between Alamogordo and Cloudcroft, the most beautiful summer resort in this part of the United States, to reach which the road ascends almost a mile. The terminal of the line is at Russia, six miles from Cloudcroft, where the timber is brought up from the mills of the Alamogordo Lumber Company.

Death of Solicitor General.
A Santa Fe dispatch of October 20th says: Edward Leland Hartlett, solicitor general of New Mexico, died 1884, of typhoid fever, complicated with typhoid pneumonia, after an illness of two weeks. He was born in Oxford county, Maine, in 1847, and moved to Kansas with his father in 1855.

In the early sixties he matriculated at Bowdoin college, from which his father and three uncles had graduated. He returned to Kansas in 1866, where he studied law with his father until 1869, when he entered the law department of the University of Michigan. He was admitted to the bar of the Supreme Court of that state in the same year. He practiced at Wyandotte, now Kansas City, Kansas, until 1880, when he removed to Santa Fe for the benefit of his wife's health.

Washouts in Flood Section.

An Albuquerque dispatch of October 11th says: Word comes from San Marcial, a freight division south of this city on the Santa Fe road, that rain is falling there again. That town is a big one and a large number of houses have fallen. The San Marcial Red, a weekly newspaper, is a total wreck from the flood.

At a little suburb, known as Midway, out of 150 residences only two are now standing, others having been washed off foundations from the Rio Grande changing channel and cutting through the town.

Fresh washouts are reported to-night south of the city on the Santa Fe, and there are now no prospects of getting a train from or to El Paso inside a week or ten days. There were no trains yesterday, last night or to-day from either the north or south, but trains continue to arrive from the Pacific coast and in consequence eight passenger trains, over 700 passengers, are held in this city.

The passengers are being fed by the railroad at the Harvey eating house. Division Superintendent Easler, thinks the road between this city and Las Vegas will be repaired by Thursday, when all east-bound passenger trains will be sent out. These trains will be held at the station until the Shoemaker canon washouts will be repaired by Friday or Saturday of this week.

Masonic Officers Elected.

An Albuquerque dispatch of October 21st says: The grand lodge of New Mexico Masons, in session here, will attend the funeral and burial of Past Excellent Commander Edwin L. Bartlett at Santa Fe, on Sunday.

Last night the grand commandery finished its labors by electing and installing the following officers: E. S. Cathoon, Roswell, grand commander; A. Everett, Albuquerque, deputy grand commander; J. C. Black, Clayton, grand generalissimo; A. A. Keen, Las Vegas, grand captain general; J. H. Wroth, Albuquerque, grand senior warden; J. W. Donovan, Raton, grand junior warden; Frank Henning, Raton, grand secretary; A. Maloy, Albuquerque, grand treasurer; A. A. Keen, Albuquerque, grand recorder; C. D. Stevens, Raton, grand standard bearer; C. D. Boucher, Las Vegas, grand sword bearer; W. P. Fox, Albuquerque, grand warden; M. W. White, Albuquerque, captain of the guard.

Judge Pope Wins a Race.

A Roswell dispatch of October 20th says: With a well-earned reputation for his thriffliness, Judge H. Pope won his sensational race against time and convened court at 11:42. Court was convened and adjourned in ten minutes, and the court adjourned at 11:55. If the midnight hour had struck before the train arrived, the term would have lapsed, and there would not have been a regular term of court until spring.

This was not a grand stand play, as it was necessary for the judge to be in Santa Fe on important supreme court business Monday, and he was delayed at the washout on bridge at the Canadian. He stopped at Portales on the night train, and adjourned court in two minutes and returned to this city.

This was the first term of court that has been held in the new county of Roosevelt, and it was adjourned until the second Monday of December. Court was convened this morning at 9 o'clock and there is a large docket. The grand jury went into session this afternoon.

Supreme Court Decisions.

An adjourned session of the Supreme Court was held at Santa Fe, October 17th, all the judges being in attendance. Opinions and decisions were handed down in the following cases:

Benjamin H. Dye et al., appellants, vs. H. Cray et al., appellees. Judgment of court below affirmed. Disenfranchisement of colored people. Disenfranchisement of colored people. Disenfranchisement of colored people.

Harriet Carpenter et al., appellants, vs. Sigmund Dauer et al., appellees. Judgment of court below affirmed. Disenfranchisement of colored people. Disenfranchisement of colored people. Disenfranchisement of colored people.

James B. Orman, plaintiff in error, vs. James L. Vanzant et al., defendants in error. Motion for rehearing overruled.

Jose E. Esquivel, appellee, vs. Francisco S. Chavez, appellant. Judgment of court below reversed and case remanded. Associate Justice Baker dissenting.

S. B. Gilbert, appellant, vs. E. V. Chavez, administrator et al., appellees. Judgment of court below affirmed.

Arrested for Swindling.

A Roswell dispatch of October 16th says: A man giving the name of W. S. Montgomery was jailed here to-day on a charge of grand larceny. He was well people out of $25 each by a land scheme. It is said that for $25 he agreed to locate each on a timber claim in California, promising to supply investors with a round trip ticket to California and to buy the claim of each for $1,000 on arriving there. This unusual procedure was explained by the statement that, being unable to take up more than one claim, he had to employ many persons to get the land he wanted.

Montgomery had a preliminary hearing to-day and was held to the grand jury. He is fifty-five years of age and a smooth talker. George W. Moss, a merchant and Mr. Ida Jordan are two of those who speculated, the latter to the extent of $50. A dispatch from the chief of police of Oakland, California, received to-day, states that a man answering Montgomery's description was arrested in that city.

Medals for New Mexico.
New Mexico Day at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition at St. Louis is to be celebrated November 18th, and it is proposed to issue a medal in commemoration of the occasion. The medals will be issued by the department of the interior, and the design is in the hands of the artist.

PAY FOR IMMUNITY.

TRUSTS FLING MILLIONS INTO REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN FUND.
President Roosevelt Allows Cortelyou and Aldrich to Bleed the Corporations—Affair Has Assumed the Proportions of a National Disgrace.

The charge that Chairman Cortelyou of the Republican National Committee, and Senator Aldrich are collecting enormous sums for the Republican campaign fund has not been denied; although the charge is openly made by the most influential newspaper. The New York Times says: "The men of the trusts think and believe that they are buying, not the Presidency, but the President. Senator Aldrich encourages that belief. President Roosevelt permits it to be formed and entertained. Very different, immeasurably more scandalous, is the case of George B. Cortelyou who was Secretary of the Department of Commerce and Labor in Mr. Roosevelt's cabinet and was by him, as a result of the protests of the party chiefs, made chairman of the Republican National Committee. Within the Department of Commerce there is a Bureau of Corporations, which is authorized and empowered to inquire into the affairs of corporations doing an interstate business and pry out their secrets."

What has wrought the change? Have the trusts magnates been lulled into immunity from prosecution and publicity if they pay enough cash into the Republican campaign. The evidence strongly indicates that the trusts are to be immune from further prosecution. There has been no publicity, although the new law provides for it and the Department of Commerce has been investigating the inside workings of the trusts since Feb. 26, 1903.

President Roosevelt, in his message to Congress December, 1902, said:
"Congress has not heretofore made any appropriation for the better and more efficient administration of the anti-trust law as it stands. Very much has been done by the Department of Justice in securing the enforcement of this law; but much more could be done if Congress would make a special appropriation to the department of justice for the purpose of the law."

Congress promptly voted $500,000 for the purpose asked and yet less than $200,000 has been expended, although nearly three years have elapsed. All that has been accomplished is that the trusts has been an ineffectual injunction against the beef trust and the railroad merger. Then Attorney-General Knox was selected by the coal and other Pennsylvania trusts as United States senator, and no action has since been taken against the trusts and combines. The beef trust case and the rebate cases have not even been advanced in court as the new law permits, and not one word of publicity as to the affairs of any other trusts or corporations.

The criminal clause of the anti-trust law has not been invoked to punish the bad trusts, although Oliver Wendell Holmes, a Republican justice of the United States Supreme court, in his opinion in the merger case, said: "The statute of which we have to find the meaning is a criminal statute. The two sections on which the government relies both make certain crimes. That is their immediate purpose, and that is what they say. It is vain to insist that this is not a criminal proceeding."

Yet the officers of the Department of Justice have failed to bring to the acts of the bad trusts to the attention of the federal grand juries, and a word from President Roosevelt would force the criminal prosecutions that Justice Holmes says was the intention of the statute.

Who can wonder that voters are looking askance and the newspapers are demanding explanations about the collection of vast sums from the criminal trusts and their escaping prosecution or even publicity of their misdoings. Meanwhile, high trust prices are eating up the substance of the people.

Show Need for Increased Wages.
It must be embarrassing to the administration at Washington, while the most of its cabinet members are making stump speeches on prosperity and are declaring that wages have gone up fully as much as has the cost of living, to have the laborers in the great government printing at the capital city hold a mass meeting to petition the president for higher wages because of the increased cost in living. At this meeting a general discussion was had relative to the increase in the cost of living during the last two or three years, and the utter inability of the laborers to support a family on the present wage scale of $2 per day. Mr. J. B. McLaughlin furnished statistics to show that there had been an increase of about 40 per cent in the cost of agricultural products and breadstuffs.

modest in their demands. They only asked for an increase of 20 per cent, while the cost of living has increased 40 per cent, according to their figures. They showed great discretion in mentioning only "agricultural products and breadstuffs" as having gone up 40 per cent in price. They know that the administration is not at allaverse to statistics that show a great rise in the prices of farm products so they said nothing about the rise in the prices of other things. As a matter of fact, the price of breadstuffs and meat were considerably higher two years ago than now, while clothing is about 15 per cent higher now than two years ago. It is true, however, that all things considered, the cost of living is now about 40 per cent greater than it was seven years ago, before we had the Dingley bill with its brood of commodity trusts.

This is a Presidential election year. It is a good time to ask for presidential favors. These laborers may have their wages increased by decree half enough to cover the increased cost of living. If so they will be far more fortunate than millions of their fellow workers who are idle or are working at greatly reduced wages, yet who will be expected to vote again for the party of protection and prosperity. B. H. H.

Government Receipts and Expenditures.
The first two months of the present fiscal year, July and August, showed a deficiency in the government's revenues of $23,000,000. The last fiscal year ending June 30, 1904, showed a deficiency of $41,000,000, a total of $64,000,000. September of the present year shows a surplus of $6,000,000. That month usually makes a good showing; in 1892, the surplus was $8,300,000, and in 1893, $11,000,000. October generally shows a deficit, as the interest payments, which even Secretary Shaw cannot defer, like he has a good many other payments, will demand about $4,000,000, and last year this month showed a deficit of nearly $5,000,000. In consequence of the extravagant appropriations, the expenditures are all the time increasing, and there is no doubt that October will wipe out the September surplus and perhaps add to the deficit. In any event, the first four months of the fiscal year, or on Nov. 1, there will be a deficiency of receipts over expenditures of over $20,000,000, or at the rate of $80,000,000 for the whole year. Republican orators and organs are exhibiting great awkwardness in explaining this lack of prosperity.

The President and the Corporations.
Another straw which shows which way the political wind blows at the White house is the recognition of the Republican faction of the National Committee of that party. Those who have watched the political tactics of the Administration have all the time known that Gov. La Follette was looked upon as a disorganizer. His propositions for fair primary legislation and, above all, his attempt to tax the railroads on their real value has not endeared him to the Republican leaders. It is, therefore, surprising that President Roosevelt, who through his chairman of the National Republican committee is collecting large sums from the corporations for the campaign chest, should favor the faction from which the funds are being so freely poured forth? And now comes an unfeeling Supreme court of Wisconsin deciding that the Spooner-Barbock faction are political frauds and have no right to place on the Republican ticket a Republican national committee was entirely dominated by the corporations, of course that trust ridden gathering did not agree with the Supreme court.

Wages and Cost of Living.
The increased cost of living since 1897 is a sure sign of prosperity, according to Secretary Shaw, but to those who have to pay the bills it is a very serious proposition. Wages advanced somewhat from the lowest point in 1897, but since 1892 have again declined, although prices are still at nearly the highest point. Lyman W. Redington of Vermont, speaking at a meeting of the Commercial Travelers' league in New York, stated that the increased cost of provisions since 1897 equalled 43 per cent. If anyone has had his wages increased since 1897 43 per cent, he is lucky, but the official report of the Interstate Commerce Commission for 1893 shows that the greatest increase in wages of railroad employees, excluding general officers, from 1897 to 1903, was only 14 per cent. When the maximum increase in wages is only one-third of the increased cost of living, it would be difficult to persuade anyone but a Republican politician that the Dingley high tariff law is as of much benefit to the people as it has undoubtedly proved to trusts and monopolies.

Who Will Warm the Iceberg?
It is getting pretty tough on Republican audiences that Senator Fairbanks is talking to. Until a few days ago he was accompanied by Senator Dooliver, who is an entertaining speaker, and therefore received too much of the applause to suit the Vice Presidential candidate. A gradual coolness developed and Dooliver has now a separate list of appointments, the official report of the Interstate Commerce Commission for 1893 shows that the greatest increase in wages of railroad employees, excluding general officers, from 1897 to 1903, was only 14 per cent. When the maximum increase in wages is only one-third of the increased cost of living, it would be difficult to persuade anyone but a Republican politician that the Dingley high tariff law is as of much benefit to the people as it has undoubtedly proved to trusts and monopolies.

The Law of the Unit is the Law of the Mass.
Man goes through the same process. Weakness in childhood, gradual growth of strength, energy, thrift, probity, prosperity, wealth, comfort, ease, relaxation, self-indulgence, luxury, idleness, waste, debauchery, disease, and the wreck follows. The "levelers" are in the bushes along the pathway of every successful man and woman; and they bear the majority. Only now and then can a man stand out against these "levelers" and hold his fortune, fame and health to the end.

The Eternal Feminine.
He—Will you—O, will you be mine forever?
She—Mercy, no! I just accepted Chilly Saphedde last night.
He—What? Has all your encouragement to me meant nothing of affection?
She—Oh, I assure you it has meant a good deal. In fact, I don't know how I'd have managed without you. You see, until you came along and I began to be as nice to you, Chilly didn't seem to have any serious intentions at all.—Baltimore American.

This One of the Years.
Johnny—Pa, when was the year of the big wind?
Father—Any year when there was an election.

LEVELERS.

The Mission of Whisky, Tobacco and Coffee.
The Creator made all things, we believe. If so, He must have made these. We know what He made food and water for, and air and sunshine, but why Whisky, Tobacco and Coffee? They are here, sure enough and each performing its work.

There must be some great plan behind it all; the thoughtful man seeks to understand something of that plan and thereby to judge these articles for certain true worth.

Let us not say "bad" or "good" without taking testimony. There are times and conditions when it certainly seems to the casual observer that these stimulant narcotics are real blessings.

Right there is the ambush that conceals a "killing" enemy. One can slip into the habit of either whisky, tobacco or coffee easily enough, but to "untangle" is often a fearful struggle.

It seems plain that there are circumstances when the narcotic effect of these poisons is for the moment beneficial, but the fearful argument against them is that seldom ever does one find a steady user of either whisky, coffee or tobacco free from disease of some kind.

Certainly powerful elements in their effect on the human race. It is a matter of daily history, testified to by literally millions of people, that Whisky, Tobacco and Coffee are smiling, promising, beguiling friends on the start, but always false as hell itself in the end. Once they get firm hold enough to show their strength, they insist upon governing and drive the victim steadily towards ill health in some form; if permitted to coil round the human neck, they will not let up until physical and mental ruin sets in.

A man under that spell (and "under the spell" is correct) of any one of these drugs frequently assures himself and his friends, "Why, I can leave off any time I want to, I did quit for a week just to show 'em could." It is a sure mark of the slave when one gets to that stage. He wiggles through a week, fighting every day to break the spell, was finally whipped, and began his slavery all over again.

The slave (Coffee slave as well as Tobacco and Whisky) daily reviews his condition, sees perfectly plain the steady encroachment of disease; how the nerves get weaker day by day and demand the drug that seems to smile and offer relief for a few minutes and then leave the diseased condition plainer to view than ever and growing worse. Many times the Coffee slave realizes that he is between two fires. He feels bad if he leaves off and a little worse if he drinks and allows the effect to wear off.

So it goes on from day to day. Every night the struggling victim promises himself that he will break the habit and next day when he feels a little bad (as he is quite sure to), breaks, not the habit, but his own resolution. It is nearly always a tough fight, with disaster ahead sure if the habit wins.

There have been hundreds of thousands of people driven to their graves through disease brought on by coffee drinking alone, and it is quite certain that more human misery is caused by coffee and tobacco than by whisky, for the two first are more widely used, and more hidden and insidious in the effect on nerves, heart and other vital organs, and are thus unsuspected until all is over.

Now, Reader, what is your opinion as to the real use of the Creator has for these things? Take a look at the question from this point of view. There is a law of Nature and of Nature's God that things slowly evolve from lower planes to higher, a sturdy, steady and dignified advance toward more perfect things in both the Physical and Spiritual world.

The ponderous tread of evolutionary development is fixed by the Infinite and will not be quickened out of natural law by any of man's methods.

Therefore we see many illustrations showing how nature checks too rapid advance. Illinois raises phenomenal crops of corn for two or three years. If she continued to do so every year her farmers would advance in wealth far beyond those of other sections or countries. So Nature interposes a bar every three or four years and brings on "bad years."

Here we see the leveling influence at work. A man is prosperous in his business for a number of years and grows rich. Then Nature sets the "leveling influence" at work on him. Some of his investments lose, he becomes luxurious and lazy. Perhaps it is whisky, tobacco, coffee, women, gambling or some other form. The intent and purpose is to level him—keep him from evolving too far ahead of the masses.

A nation becomes prosperous and great like ancient Rome, if no leveling influence set in she would dominate the world perhaps for all time. But Dame Nature sets her army of "levelers" at work—luxury, overeating and drinking, licentiousness, waste and extravagance, indulgence of all kinds—then comes the wreck. Sure, Sure, Sure.

The law of the unit is the law of the mass. Man goes through the same process. Weakness in childhood, gradual growth of strength, energy, thrift, probity, prosperity, wealth, comfort, ease, relaxation, self-indulgence, luxury, idleness, waste, debauchery, disease, and the wreck follows. The "levelers" are in the bushes along the pathway of every successful man and woman; and they bear the majority.

Only now and then can a man stand out against these "levelers" and hold his fortune, fame and health to the end.

So the Creator has us for Whisky, Tobacco and Coffee to level down the successful ones and those who show signs of being successful, and keep them back in the race, so that the great "level" (the masses) may not be left too far behind.

A great many of our people are away from home in Texas, and elsewhere at work and will not have an opportunity to register as voters. The law provides that any one can register the names of those whom they know to be legal voters. Be sure to avail yourself of this privilege and register your acquaintances who are absent.

Professional and Business Education Compared.

"A young man may take a course of study in a medical college and his time, labor and money may be in a measure wasted, because he is not cut out for a doctor; he may graduate in a theological school, and prove a failure as a preacher; he may go to an agricultural college, and never work on a farm. A young man may go through life without practicing medicine, preaching a sermon or doing a days work on the farm, but not without having business relations with his fellowmen. He must buy and sell something, or be can not live. Hence, while a professional education may or may not be utilized, a business education must be."

The professions are crowded till good bookkeepers and stenographers get more for their work than the teacher, lawyer or doctor and have no starting time at beginning. It has cost the one $1000 to $2000 and three or four years to prepare. It has cost the other $100 to $200 and only a few months.

Any of our young people thinking of going away to school ought to reread the above and write to Tyler College, Tyler, Texas, for a catalog before deciding fully; as this is the largest and best equipped commercial, shorthand and telegraphy school in the South, and students can enter there at any time.

Today's Announcement.
To the people of New Mexico: I hereby announce myself as an Independent Republican candidate for the office of delegate to the 56th congress.

I am impelled to this action by the request of thousands of my fellow Republicans, who do not consider that the convention held in Albuquerque on the 12th day of September was in any manner representative of the wishes of the delegates originally elected there, or of the Republicans of the territory.

I, therefore, acquiesce in the almost universal demand and most respectfully ask for the suffrages and support of all good and honest people at the polls at the November election.

B. S. RODEY.

Clean up.
Let us start the ball to rolling to clean up our back yards.

Typhoid fever is caused by filth from some where. We not only have a good many cases among the people but even the doctors are infected, which is a sin, when they are obliged to be doctor and nurse both for nearly all of these patients.

It is a very easy matter to burn all rags, papers and vegetable paring, if one only will also fumigate the house now and then with sulphur, and wash wood work and windows with carbolic acid water. It will help stop this dreaded disease that is likely to get half of our people. Oh! these dreadful back yards. Let us take it to heart and begin today. Burn everything.

A SUBSCRIBER.

Saved His Life.
J. W. Davenport, Wingo, Ky., writes, June 14, 1902: "I want to tell you I believe Ballard's Snow Liniment saved my life. I was under the treatment of two doctors, and they told me one of my lungs was entirely gone, and the other badly affected. I also had a lump in my side. I don't think that I could have lived over two months longer. I was induced by a friend to try Ballard's Snow Liniment. The first application gave me great relief; two fifty cent bottles cured me sound and well. It is a wonderful medicine and I recommend it to suffering humanity." 25c, 50c, $1.00 Sold by Pearce & Dobbs.

Last fall I got for her a bottle of Horehound Syrup. She used it and has been able to sleep soundly all night long. Whenever the cough troubles her, two or three doses stops the cough, and she is able to be up and well." 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold by Pearce & Dobbs.

Blankenship & Woodcock will have an exhibition one of the famous J. I. Case corn husker and shredder. Mr. James D. Gray, the traveling representative of the J. I. Case Traction Engine and Threshing Machine Company, of Racine, Wis. in conversation with the Herald man states that this machine threshes Kafir corn, milo maize or sorghum and at the same time shreds the stalk, and threshes and cleans the grain ready for market, thus preparing the feed in proper manner for any kind of stock and also saving the per cent of loss incident to feeding stalks.

The J. I. Case people undoubtedly have the best threshing machinery on the market, their reputation for durability, speed and work being well known and universally recognized in all wheat, oats and alfalfa producing localities, as a matter of fact you will see three J. I. Case machines where you will find one of any other make. They also build a steam plow engine and attachment.

The Herald man and Rev. Meeker went out to Wooding's slaughter pens Tuesday to view a hog that was about to be butchered. This hog was five feet six inches long, three feet, four and a half inches high, two feet across the shoulders and his belly was six inches from the ground. He weighed eight hundred pounds. Mr. Wooding bought him last spring when the weather was too warm to butcher, at that time he weighed two hundred. Mr. Meeker took his photograph.

In the Democratic primaries at Does precinct, Mr. J. L. Morgan presented himself and offered to vote he was challenged by Messrs Minshaw and McCall. He stated that while he would not agree to support every nominee of those primaries, he would agree not to support anything but the Democratic ticket.

He is now a Republican candidate for probate Judge. How many believe that he will make his word good.

G. C. Johnson has purchased the Arc Light Saloon on Ocie Reasonover and will conduct it in future. Mr. Johnson is too well known to need an introduction from us. He says that he proposes to make a specialty of Mellow Blossom whiskey and will handle nothing but the best of everything. His place will be kept clean, quiet and orderly and he solicits a share of your patronage.

G. W. Holland arrived this week from Durant Indian territory with a car load of household goods, etc. for J. D. Maxwell. Mr. Maxwell is coming overland with a fine bunch of horses, jacks and cattle. Mr. Maxwell unloaded 300 chickens from the car. Homeseekers like Mr. Maxwell will soon build up Inland Valley.

Weisendinger the most cheerful man who ever vegetated in comanche county, Oklahoma, or vicinity, and who was the author of "A Week in Hell," the worst libel ever written of New Mexico, was in town this week. It is a wonder the fellow had gall enough to come to Portales.

G. C. Johnson is a distributing agent for the justly celebrated Carlsbad Springs mineral water.

Beef by the quarter, 4c and 5c per pound. No. 7 steak, per lb. 7c. Duet roast, 6 lbs. for 25c.

Miss Agnes Westley, 816 Wells Street, MARINETTE, WIS., Sept. 25, 1903.

I was all run down from nervousness and overwork and had to resign my position and take a rest. I found that I was not gaining my strength and health as fast as I could wish, and as your Wine of Cardui was recommended as such a good medicine for the ills of our sex, I bought a bottle and began using it. I was satisfied with the results from the use of the first bottle, and took three more and then I was restored to good health and strength and able to take up my work with renewed vigor. I consider it a fine tonic and excellent for worn-out, nervous condition, and am pleased to endorse it.
