LETS CONTRACT FOR EIGHT NEW BUILDINGS!

Mr. Coe Howard of This City Lets Contract for Four Modern Brick Business Houses and Four Dwellings.—Work to Begin This Week.

Monday of this week another large building enterprise took definite, tangible shape, when Coe Howard let the contract for four new residence buildings and four brick business houses. Contractor J. W. Tucker was awarded the contract for building the residences. They are to be located adjoining the Baptist pastor's home, east to the Bascom Howard residence and north of the A. B. Seay residence. The proximity of the location to town, to the school and to the churches will make this very desirable rent property. The houses are to be small; neat, modern cottages of the bungalow effect, each being 24 by 24 feet having 3 rooms and porch with 3 feet base painted green, the body being elegantly finished and painted white. The flues will be of brick and the inside papered and painted. Work is to begin on these buildings at once.

The other feature of Mr. Howard's building enterprise consists of four business houses, to face northwest on Colorado street, being located opposite the Portales Bank & Trust Co. building and west of the Joyce Pruitt building now in process of construction. T. S. Covert who is well known in Portales for rapid and substantial construction work, has secured the contract for the immediate construction of these buildings which are to be of brick, 20 by 60 feet with press brick and plate glass modern front and is to have water connections, being finished with the latest model steel ceilings which are to be 14 feet high. The partitions are to be of wood and to be finished with plaster and calcimine. These buildings represent the growth of the town toward the south and southwest and will make a distinct and substantial addition to the town of Portales. The public will observe that the town of Portales has actually begun the construction work on nine brick business houses during the month of April and among these the Joyce Pruitt building which is 100 by 115 feet with 50 by 115 basement.

EDUCATIONAL RALLY.

The whirlwind educational revival being conducted by state superintendent J. E. Clark assisted by Hon. H. R. Pattengill who is ex superintendent of education of Michigan, reached Portales Tuesday afternoon on the south-bound train. They were driven in automobiles about the city, out to the irrigation plant, hence out into the Portales Valley. When the exercises opened Tuesday night in the Wonderland Theatre building, the house was well filled notwithstanding the annual gathering of the Odd Fellows assembled at the Methodist Church. The program began by a solo from Mr. Beaty. This was followed by the welcome address delivered by Mrs. S. F. Culberson which was responded to by Supt. J. E. Clark who spoke of education as the "paramount issue" with people of New Mexico, regardless of problem considered. This was followed by a solo from Dr. L. R. Hough and a reading by Mrs. Hardy. Then came the main address of the evening delivered by Hon. H. R. Pattengill who spoke for an hour or more and in a masterful way called attention to the great things of life as embodied in what he called his creed which consisted of five statements of belief.

MORNING ADDRESS.

About a quarter to 11 o'clock at the Wonderland Theatre the teachers and others of the local citizenship met to hear the second address of Hon. H. R. Pattengill. The primary exercises consisted of a beautiful piano duet rendered by Misses Finney and Pearle Leach, and rousing quartette by Messrs. Bascom Howard and Chas. Duncan and Mrs. Sam J. Nixon and Mrs. Duncan. Mr. Pattengill had for his theme "An Educational Sandwich," touching both the intellectual and ethical sides of the practical educational problems before the country. The discussion was enlivened by dramatic and humorous touches from the speaker who has shown himself not only a master of educational problems but a master of assemblies as well. The speaker along with Supt. Clark departed on the south-bound train Tuesday afternoon.

JAMES S. CAMPBELL DEAD.

James S. Campbell died at the Portales Sanitarium Tuesday morning and was laid to rest by Ed. J. Neer, undertaker, at the Portales cemetery Wednesday of this week. The deceased had been in New Mexico some seven years; had lived upon a homestead eleven miles south of Portales much of this time. Some three months ago, however, he became so affected with nephritis which ran into dropsy that it became necessary for him to repair to the sanitarium, since he was without family or near relatives in New Mexico. Every care was given him from the first, though he never had hope of life when he came to the sanitarium; and went about his departure in a business like way, having all details arranged when the end came suddenly.

ATTORNEY GENERAL ON OUR TOWN ELECTION.

Under date of April 20th Attorney General Frank W. Clancy writes Judge W. E. Lindsey and Judge A. B. Seay of this city, as to the question of legality of our town election. The following points may be considered settled according to the attorney general:

1. The question of the legality of the new board, elected Apr. 5th, can be definitely determined only by putting the case up to the court—which procedure the attorney general advises if there be any controversy about this point.

2. That but for the provisions of the Acts of 1909, Chap. 36, Secs. 1 and 3, the old board could hold over in case there was no valid election, but by the provisions of said chapter 36 of the acts of 1909, their term of office expires on the first Monday in May. This section provides that all offices for "county, precinct, district, city, town or village," become vacant at "the expiration of the term of office when no successor has been chosen as provided by law," and if said election was in fact void the officers chosen at such void election after they are once seated, and enter, upon the discharge of their duties, become de facto officers and could only be ousted by the Territory on quo warranto, and the attorney general clearly indicates that he will not bring any proceedings to oust the newly elected officers.

3. All the authorities and all the territorial statutes, except Section 7 of the Acts of 1909, are practically unanimous, however, in requiring registration. Yet this one section of the acts of 1909, which was the section that misled the old board in not calling for registration, seems to validate an election in towns and villages without registration. Because of this conflict of the statutes themselves the attorney general declines to decide the matter himself and urges "that you (interested parties) obtain a judicial decision of the question involved," saying further: "I think that it ought to be possible for the interested parties to get the matter in shape for submission to the court with but little delay and expense, and upon a full presentation of both sides the court will be in position to decide correctly."

AFTER THE BOOTLEGGERS.

The case of the town of Portales vs. Roy Boone charged with violating the prohibitory ordinance of the town has created new interest in law enforcement in the town of Portales. The facts brought out in the trial showed that the defendant at the request and as an act of kindness in behalf of Mark Kuykendall bought a half pint of whiskey which Kuykendall took from his pocket and drank with the result of drunkenness. Where was the whiskey bought and who from? To these questions the defendant said that he bought the whiskey from a man named "Dutch." No tangible description of "Dutch," however, was given; though two witnesses believed themselves able to identify him. Judge Seay ruled, however, that inasmuch as the defendant's own testimony showed that he had violated the ordinance, he could not do otherwise than sentence him; but would withhold the sentence until the defendant identify the man designated as "Dutch." Judge Seay further stated that according to the defendant's statements to other parties, the "Dutch" proposition was simply a shield to protect some well known Portales citizen. On this account, he insisted that "Dutch" must be spelled out in plain English to the court if he withheld sentence and that defendant would be given a reasonable time in which to identify "Dutch."

ODD FELLOWS ANNIVERSARY

The Members of the Local Order I. O. O. F. Dispense Good Cheer in Commemoration of 91st Anniversary.

The local order of Odd Fellows celebrated the 91st anniversary of the fraternity on last Tuesday evening with elaborate demonstrations of good cheer, consisting first of a grand supper in the Armory building, after which an impressive program was rendered at the Methodist church.

The members of the order marched in a body from the hall to the place of feasting, where they met around the festive board with their friends and guests. The repast was strictly to the order of a good keen appetite and it was here that the members belied the cognomen of "odd" fellows and appeared perfectly "natural" to the point of extreme. Thanks to the management of this feature of the celebration everything was pulled off decently and in order, and the excellent menu together with the pleasing manner in which it was served out to everyone placed the assemblage in that easy frame of mind which is coincident with that "comfortable fullness" of the satisfied inner man. This also served as an excellent preparation for the weightier features of the program which took place at 8:00 o'clock at the church.

At this time and place Brother G. V. Johnson was master of ceremonies, delivering the address of welcome in a few well chosen words. Brother W. H. Snell gracefully yielded his place on the program—that of response to the welcome—to Mr. T. J. Molinari, an honored guest of the occasion. He did it by drawing an application from the incident of a Georgia negro camp-meeting in which the "parson" placed a whole box of cigars on the rostrum with the announcement that it would be awarded to the brother who could truthfully say that he had never visited another fellow's chicken roost. On account of these conditions none of those present could conscientiously take advantage of the "parson's" offer, when Deacon Rastus, a member of the congregation, slipped in on the meeting. The "parson" did not wish to overlook a single member, so he restated his proposition to Deacon Rastus, whereupon the deacon responded with the remark that "as far as he was concerned he didn't smoke cigars nobow."

Mr. Molinari then took the speaker's stand, referring in a jocular manner to this being the second time when he was called upon to occupy the pulpit at the Methodist church in this city, the former event being the occasion when Judge Wm. H. Pope was the principal speaker of the evening, with Pastor E. L. Young presiding, when this latter named gentleman introduced him as being the next mayor of Portales. Mr. Molinari said that it was now clearly evident to everyone that Pastor Young was a bad guesser. This and other humorous allusions to his recent race for mayor at once placed Mr. Molinari second only to that illustrious patriot William Jennings Bryan in turning temporary defeat to his infinite credit by emerging with a smile and the true victor's courage which plainly says that "a man is a man for a' that." Mr. Molinari paid a high tribute to the order of Odd Fellows and coming as it did from a keen experienced observer of the fraternal life of our country it could not but be well received by the members and their friends.

Mr. Will Robinson, the gifted journalist of Roswell, principal speaker of the evening, was then introduced, and took complete sway of the minds and hearts of his hearers as he recounted the achievements of the fraternity and drew from the historical setting of the order in the world's history the myriad evidences of its divine conception. The orderly evolution of the civilizing agencies of the Creator as manifested in the benevolent graces of Odd Fellowship was the real keynote of Mr. Robinson's address, and by turns employing pathos, the sublime, and the shafts of sparkling wit and humor native to the man the audience was instructed and regaled in a manner befitting the occasion.

The Rebekahs, an auxiliary of the I. O. O. F., commanded an important phase of the program, in several recitations by the little daughters and by readings and papers, first in a former by Miss Minnie Freeman and by Mrs. Frank Tompkins. Both of these readings were well received. Mrs. Tompkins' reading being a little longer and well adapted in point of expression to the author, gave this talented reader an opportunity to display a rare range of the artist's power in impersonation.

The paper by Mrs. Mand Smith on "Why I Love Odd Fellowship" was full of wisdom and power, setting forth the distinctive virtues of the Order. The Herald hopes to be able to publish this paper in next week's issue.

What, perhaps to many, was the most pleasing feature of the whole program was the music, under the direction of Mr. L. W. Fiscus, in several well selected numbers and in special renditions of the odes of the order. The vocal solo by Miss Freeman in a rendition of the "Holy City" was a distinct credit to this young lady's natural powers of song. It is coming to be pretty generally recognized in Portales that when Mr. Fiscus has the direction of the musical features of a program for an occasion that it will attain a standard of merit rarely exhibited in the small town. This speaks well not only for the director but for the many sweet voices who compose his chorus on such occasions.

So passed the 91st anniversary of this great Order in the town of Portales.

PORTALES PROSPECTS BRIGHTEST IN ITS HISTORY.

At this time it seems that everything, both within and without, conspires to make the prospects for the advancement of the town of Portales in commercial and industrial ways, the brightest in its history. The vast territory from which the town draws trade is developing at a tremendous rate: is being settled by energetic, enterprising people, many of them with capital. The weather has been favorable for the preparation of the soil and the spring for seeding. Splendid rains have fallen and crops are growing off nicely. Business is beginning to hump.

The people of Portales have recently manifested their confidence in their city and county by the authorization of $75,000.00 of bonds for various municipal improvements and the launching of the great irrigation project which is destined to revolutionize this section of the country. These improvements alone justify the most enthusiastic optimism upon the part of Portales citizens. All of the proposed public improvements under way are in condition to be worked out speedily, and it is confidently expected that there will be no delay concerning them. It is often the case that public officials do not know what the people want, are obliged to grope in the dark without assistance. Happily that condition does not exist in Portales. The people have said in unmistakable terms that they want to go forward and nothing has impeded this strong resolution. And let it be said here and now that our own mental attitude is the only thing that can hold us back. Every outside power and force, circumstances and fact, institution and agency, industry and progressive effort, is tending to our benefit if we will only continue to take advantage of the favorable conditions that surround us as a conquering people. While we have already gained some of the things we have been fighting and working for during the last year, it is no time to divide our forces in unnecessary factional fights. The task before us demands that every man do his full duty.

NEWS OF WEEK IN BRIEF

An unprecedented freeze gripped portions of the southeast Friday. Snow fell for three hours at Atlanta which is the first April snow in its history. Cotton is killed in parts of Georgia and Texas also.

There is a deal of excitement about a supposed oil find at Alamogordo, but as yet no definite information is forthcoming, though the indications are that an oil strata has really been found.

Governor Chas. E. Hughes has accepted the appointment to the supreme bench in the United States Supreme Court, and will enter upon his duties in October, holding the reigns of state government in New York until that time. He is to fill Justice Brewer's place, and perhaps no man in the country is more ably qualified for the place.

Coleman, Texas had a race riot last week in which near 200 negroes were ousted from the town, being made to flee for their lives.

Decidedly the most astounding news of the past week was Governor Patterson pardoning Col. Duncan B. Cooper who stood convicted of murdering Senator Carmack and who was pardoned without a petition, without an appeal to law, against all decisions of the courts and on purely personal friendship—the most anarchistic action of any governor of the South since the days of reconstruction. The Golden Age says of this act: "We do not believe that ever before in America has any governor of any state committed such an unblushing outrage against her courts of justice and her helpless people." This act will go largely to emphasize the correctness of the charges made against him by his political and personal enemies, that he is a dangerous man in the executive office and a selfish politician bent solely on promoting his own ends and those of his political friends and supporters.

DEMOCRATIC OPPORTUNITY.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 14.—"The success of democracy is assured," declared Congressman William Sulzer of New York, in his speech here last night. Mr. Sulzer's address was delivered in reply to the toast "Democratic opportunity" at a Jefferson birthday banquet under the auspices of the Indiana Democracy.

"Democratic Opportunity is at hand," said the speaker. "The Republican party has failed to redeem its promises; it has disappointed the people; it has been weighed in the balance and found wanting; it's tenure of official

HE SCANDALIZES THE INSTITUTIONS OF THE STATE.

In assuming authority to pardon Col. Cooper out of hand, Gov. Patterson of Tennessee arrogated to himself the prerogative of the witnesses who testified, of the jurors who brought in the verdict, of the judge who tried the case, of the Supreme court by which the case was affirmed, of the people of Tennessee whose institutions he had discredited and scandalized. It will be noted that he does not base his pardon upon the usual petition, signed by the jury, the prosecuting attorney, the trial judge and thousands of influential citizens. He does not par-life is short; on every issue today it is in the minority.

"Every Democrat in the land has his face to the rising sun of Democratic opportunity, and imbued with hope, is marching on to victory. The weak and wobbling and incompetent administration of national affairs by the Republicans supplies us with all the political arguments we want; and if we will present the facts of Republican vacillation, Republican inconsistency and Republican broken promises earnestly and fearlessly to the American electorate I feel confident our cause will be sustained. "The Republican party stands for the tariff taxation that makes living a struggle for existence; for subsidies that rob the many for the few; for economic heresies that paralyze industrial freedom; for centralization in government at Washington that destroys the society of the state; for political policies that create monopoly and enslave the masses for special legislation that tramples under foot the right of man, and for a restrictive military government in our insular possessions that violates the basic principle of the declaration of independence.

don Col. Cooper on the ground that he is an invalid, or because of the "unwritten law," or because he is needed as a witness in some other case and must be pardoned in order to enable him to testify, nor because of newly discovered evidence. None of the usual grounds are set forth. He proceeds immediately to thrust aside the evidence of the witnesses who testified against the defendant, to set aside the verdict of a jury cautiously selected to try the case, to reserve the judgment of the trial court and to over-rule the Supreme Court of the state, by declaring in so many words that "in my opinion neither of the defendants is guilty, they have not had a fair and impartial trial, but were convicted contrary to the law and evidence." In view of the governor's assumption, wholly without excuse, of all power in this case, one is unable to understand just why the people of Tennessee should longer go to the trouble and expense of maintaining any courts or any legislatures. At all events it is safe to assert that there is not in Europe a single monarch who would dare assume the extraordinary power which the governor of the Democratic State of Tennessee has assumed in this case, and the Czar of Russia is not excepted. In this daring usurpation of power he has abused and scandalized the institutions of the great State by which he has been so signally honored.—Dallas News.

A MERITORIOUS SERVICE.

The attention of our readers is directed to the change of ad of the Portales Sanitarium which appears elsewhere in this issue. The management of this institution has added a feature to its service that will at once be appreciated by the public at large as soon as it becomes generally known, that of supplying a course of baths not usually obtained this side of resorts that make a specialty of this form of treatment. Those who are not averse to believing that great good can be wrought right here in Portales in the treatment of all forms of rheumatism and nervous diseases by the systematic application of the Turkish, dry vapor, shower, (hot and cold) or plunge baths, have already tested the efficiency of what this sanitarium is doing in this direction with highly gratifying results. The phrase "a prophet is not without honor save in his own country," is literally true in the case of institutions as well as individuals, which is demonstrated by the fact that people will send their children out of town to schools when they have as good or even better educational advantages offered at home, and when sensible people will rush their ailing off to resorts where they are charged much and promised much, getting less in return for their money than they could actually get at home by patronizing home institutions, while yet not as extensively advertised as some abroad are yet rendering a glad service to the community. Portales citizens should be proud of their home sanitarium and give encouragement to its management in equipping it for a larger usefulness.

GATEWOOD A NO LICENSE ADVOCATE.

Judge W. W. Gatewood boldly announced his position on the liquor question in Roswell a few days ago and presented arguments against the saloon such as only one can who has had long experience in the courts of our land. In a meeting of 650 men held in Roswell April 2, Judge Gatewood is quoted as follows: "This is not a question of dollars and dimes, but of the home, the fireside, the wife, the children. It does not have two sides to it. Right is Right, Wrong is Wrong. I have been counsel in about fifty murder cases and forty of them were traced directly to saloons where men drink. I am against the continuation of that kind of business." Anything you buy of Smith and Russell in the grocery line will be fresh and good. Phone 21. 21

FIXING UP THE HOME GROUNDS.

We have had a good deal of inquiry this spring for some pointers on the adornment of the grounds around a ranch home and the answer is easy. The first work in laying out the ground is to bring it to an even grade removing all obstructions. It is not necessary that the ground be reduced to a dead level or to a low grade, but it may be allowed to take its natural slope provided it can be irrigated or sprinkled. A gently rolling surface, from the artistic standpoint, is preferable to a level one, but all minor unevennesses should be graded down. After all grading and leveling is done the land may be seeded.

For this dry climate a good lawn-grass mixture is made by using two ounces of the seed of small, white clover, two ounces of Italian rye grass and twelve ounces of Kentucky blue grass, to the pound. Not less than twelve pounds of mixture should be sown to the acre and we would prefer a hundred for best results. If the leveling and grading be done in the fall, the grass seed may be sown early in the spring and will then get a good start before summer. Yet grass may be sown at any time during the growing season, provided it gets plenty of water. During the first season a lawn should not be mown more than two or three times; after that the oftener the better, but we would always leave the clippings where they fall and not rake them as so many do. Grass is our foremost foliage plant, and if we have properly graded our land and make good lawns we have done a great deal toward beautifying the home. Of course no dwelling place can be complete without the sheltering and comforting shade of trees. In planting trees avoid the stiff and formal methods of planting in geometrical designs, and rather seek to follow the artistic simplicity of nature's own planting. It is said by old landscape gardeners that a very good method of arranging trees around a house is to stand in the front door with as many pebbles in your hand as you have trees to plant. Then close your eyes and with a full arm swing let them all fly. Where the stones drop will be a natural and artistic order of planting. In exposed locations windbreaks of evergreens are not only a comfort but a decided economy.—Field and Farm.

Farm Topics.

From Field and Farm, Denver, Colo.

A very good way to fence off some plot with a hedge is to plant Japanese privet, two to the foot, planting deep and cutting back to eight or twelve inches from the ground. It requires much water to grow up rapidly and should be kept cultivated on both sides and free from weeds. Purple and Thunbergs barberry make a good hedge, and so does the Japan quince, which is also a fine shrub, sometimes called the burning bush. In the southern part of the state there is nothing to beat the Osage orange from Kansas and it ought to be planted everywhere as a windbreak intermingled with the peach and plum grown in a sort of wild way from pits set in the fall where the trees are to stand.

Leslie M. Shaw.—It is one thing to earn money and another to save it. I can pick out thirty farmers in my own county who have accumulated more than thirty business men in the county. There are individual men, it is true, with greater possessions than any farmer but they are so few that the most fortunate thirty have been outstripped by the most successful thirty farmers. The next thirty farmers will have twice as much as the next thirty business men. Let the farmers exalt their own occupation. It is honorable. There is nothing dishonorable in hard work. There is no aristocracy except the aristocracy of industry.

W. T. Foster.—Most people are fearing the results when the earth passes through the tail of the comet but that is not the danger point. The gases of the comet's tail fourteen million miles from the comet are exceedingly light as compared with our atmosphere and therefore cannot penetrate to the earth, but the solid body of the comet will pass very close to the earth's orbit about eight days after it will have passed the point of crossing and, as I see it, the poisonous gases that may be thrown off from the comet will follow the earth along the path of its orbit. I cannot say that these gases will reach the earth but if they do it will be along the path mentioned and may cause some strange diseases during the spring and summer.

DR. H. F. WOLLARD.

As was stated in the Herald columns last week Dr. N. F. Wollard who has been a resident of Roosevelt county for some four years; served out his time on a homestead in the Rodgers community and has since been employed as head druggist for the Portales Drug Company and the Red Cross Drug Company, finally purchasing the Red Cross, then going before the Board of Medical Examiners the 11th and being admitted to the practice of medicine in New Mexico.

Dr. Wollard was raised in Dallas county, Missouri, was educated at the Barnes Medical College of St. Louis, graduating from that institute in 1896. He subsequently located in Southwest Missouri and practiced there until coming here, some four years ago. He has therefore had both the training and the experience of a good physician, and is withal a quiet, sensible, cool headed man who deserves, and will likely win a good patronage in this community.

BUTS MORE LAND.

Some three weeks ago Mr. Pruitt and family of Oklahoma, moved into our community, buying and locating on what is known as the Nat Wise place, 2 miles south of Portales. This place consists of some 480 acres of shallow water land lying right against town almost, with some 50 acres already set in alfalfa. Now, this week, Mr. Pruitt has bought the west 80 acres of W. H. Hill's place one-half mile nearer town and will move his family into the nearer (Hill) residence and will proceed at once to build on barns and granaries and make various other improvements on both his places. Mr. Pruitt is one of the most progressive farmers that has recently come to Portales Valley. He also believes in good schools and good churches and has the name of being one of the best neighbors in the community he moved from.

P. F. BRYAN LOCATES HERE.

Another strong man comes to Portales Valley. This time it is an old friend of our fellow townsmen and Postmaster C. O. Leach. His name is P. F. Bryan and he comes from Plainview, Texas, comes for business. In about three weeks from now he and his splendid family, known also to the Anderson's of Portales and Bethel communities, will be located in the Trammell neighborhood, nine miles east of Portales, in the heart of the best portion of Portales Valley. Our irrigation scheme has caught him, simply because he has lived at Plainview and watched the farmers over there who have 160 acres of land where water is twice or thrice as deep as ours, come there with nothing, go to raising alfalfa and hogs and in a few years gain an independence. We only regret that Mr. Bryan's family will be nine miles out and not right in Portales. But as they have their autos it will take them but 22 minutes to dash into town for school, churches or business. The Herald is glad to welcome these good people to Portales Valley.

For Sale, some fine brood mares and horses for cash or credit. Also some good property in Madille, Okla., to trade for land near Portales. See me at the Puckett place or address Box 192, Portales, N. M. 20-41

A UNIQUE FLOOR.

The Joyce-Pruit Company's building is now under construction, also that of R. M. Sanders soon to be built, will have a unique floor. It is commonly called the sanitary floor, and is made as follows: Underneath the sleepers the foundation for the floor is made of solid cement then the 2x4 pieces used to nail into are laid upon this solid foundation and the mixture of cement and pitch is built up solid around the 2x4 pieces. The floor has many advantages over the ordinary floor and is but little if any costlier. First, it makes a more solid floor, no amount of weight affecting it or causing it to sag in places. Second, it makes the floor last from twice to three times as long as the ordinary floor. Third, it makes a more sanitary floor, as there is no room underneath for the collection of foul odors, dampness and disease germs. Fourth, it is much less liable to a fire, for the reason that there is no room for rats to burrow beneath it, carry matches and ignite them; and on this account the insurance rate is reduced 75 points. The sanitary floor will give these two buildings the lowest rate of insurance in Portales. As there will practically be no extra cost from the fact that all the materials to build the concrete foundation are right here and this foundation makes the 2x10 commonly used for sleepers, also the blocking, wholly unnecessary. We are giving space to this matter in the hope that others will follow the example of the Joyce-Pruit Company and Mr. Sanders and build sanitary floors.

HOT AIR HEATING.

Another unique feature of these buildings is the fact that it has been determined that they shall be heated by a hot air furnace also water and sewer connections in the buildings.

Mr. P. E. Fuller has purchased a splendid Winton automobile.

RICHLAND NEWS.

Everybody that can work is busy at Richland these lovely days planting, listing harrowing and smoothing their fields for the next crops. Gardens are being planted, yards cleaned up and house cleaning all going on at the same time.

The young people still keep "tipping the light fantastic" two and three nights in a week.

The census taker is among us. Three ministers visited our city yesterday. One remained as a guest of Mr. McBath.

Some miscreant damaged the windmill at the twin mills and ditched the pond so stock could not get water. The citizens are very indignant. The D. Z. men had just repaired it last week at some expense and considerable hard work.

Does anyone know who those two young men were who started to the dance at Mr. Roberts' east of Richland last Friday night but failed to get there? Say, boys, take a guide next time when you are going so far. Five or six miles is too far from home to go alone, ha, ha.

We have some cases of la grippe but the patients are improving.

Mrs. Williams and daughter, Miss Lizzie, and Miss Delia Faw visited Mrs. Bishop and Mrs. Watson visited Mrs. Cone recently.

FLOYD ITEMS.

There was a good crowd at the singing Sunday. Everybody is invited to meet with us at three o'clock every Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Looper called on

Mr. and Mrs. George Sunday.

Misses Myrtle and Enid Fry are visiting in this community this week.

Quite a number of the Floyd farmers are finding employment at Portales the past week.

The Floyd school closes next week after a six month's term, Miss Idella Sissom as teacher. We only hope to have another school as good and could wish for no better.

The Fifth Sunday singing convention will be held at Floyd on the fifth Sunday in May.

FROM CARTER.

Prof. H. M. Nichols of Arch has just closed a very profitable singing school with us. A district convention was organized last Sunday with Prof. Nichols president, Prof. Vaughn, vice-president and Reuben Pitts, secretary. Professors Vaughn, Eades and Bridges were with us and we had some fine singing.

There was dinner on the ground and most of the day was spent in singing and all seemed to enjoy it very much. We think Prof. Nichols has been a great help to our community in improving the singing. This convention will meet at Rogers the second Sunday in May.

Farmers are very busy preparing the ground and planting since the rains and all are hopeful of raising a bountiful crop.

The S. S. Workers meet at Rev E. D. Fortner's Friday night.

Pastor G. W. Stroud will preach at Belvue school house at 11 o'clock the 2nd Sunday and at Carter school house at night.

CROWER.

Everybody has been busy preparing their land since the fine rains that fell recently. The rain fell so fast that the roads could not carry off the water and it stood four inches deep on the level prairie.

A double wedding occurred last Thursday in the neighborhood. Ezra Parks and Miss Wilkerson, Sharkey Shambley and Miss Oma Parks. Rev. D. B. Moore officiated. These young people will move on their claims south of here in a few days. Their friends regret that they must leave this community, but wish for them a successful career.

Children's day will be celebrated at Dora next second Sunday. Rev. Kyle will preach both morning and evening. A good program has been prepared and a basket dinner will be served.

The Wilkerson boys have gone to Lubbock to work.

Mrs. Swarford has been sick but is some better now. Miss Saline Parks is better also.

The stork visited the Frank McRae home and left a baby girl.

SINGING CONVENTION ORGANIZED.

On April 24th, Rogers and Carter singing classes met at Carter school house and organized the Roosevelt East District Singing Convention. The boundary lines for the district are the sand hills on the north, Texas fence on the east, Chaves county on the south and the west line is from Portales south to the Chaves county line. This convention is for the upbuilding of vocal music in Roosevelt county, also that it may lead peple to see that there is something good in gospel of song.

The song field is white, and the laborers are few. We ask all the classes in the district to join in and help.

The first convention meets with Rogers singing class the second Sunday in May.

SCHOOL IS OUT.

School is out, spring has come bringing with it thoughts of vacation and how we will spend our time. The brook with its sparkling waters whispers to the boys, "Come boys with rod and line and after you are tired fishing, the water is here now for a swim." The girls think of the sweet song of the birds, the sweet scent of the flowers as the cooling breezes glide calmly by.

School is out, yes school is out with nineteen intelligent girls and boys having completed the eighth grade and received certificates of attainment and promotion to the high school, which every one of them is proud to possess. I am proud of these girls and boys, yes, glad indeed to call them my pupils. It has been a great pleasure to me to instruct and be associated with them. It is my sincere desire to know of them passing through school and through college with high honors and obtaining high position in the world.

I wish to thank the people of Portales for the many courtesies extended me while in your midst. It is with a sad heart that I leave the many friends as I depart for my home in Clovis Thursday.

With a good bye to all,
G. E. Cardwell.

A CORRECTION

A friend of the editor informs him that some of the parties we do not know how many who went to Clovis to the circus last week were offended from the fact that their names or the names of their families were mentioned in the Herald along with all the others who made this trip. The point of offense, as best we could learn, it seemed to be that Negro Bill's name was mentioned, also that we said that others went along. Now the facts in this case are as follows: The editor intended to go on this trip himself for the simple reason that his sister was passing through Clovis at that time also, his little boy who never saw a real circus was on his head to see the animals. It turned out however that neither the editor, or his wife could go. This fact was stated to the crowd of boys who made the trip and who gave me their names. Then, as the train pulled from taking water, Negro Bill mounted the car saying he was going to Clovis to the show. Also other people from the country or elsewhere got on the car saying they were going. We simply gave the names of all those whose names we knew and then said "others" because we did not know the other names. These names, moreover, were simply mentioned, they were not even commented upon. We reported them just like we reported the names of those who went to Clovis last year to hear Bryan speak and just like we reported the party who went out in autos last week and just like we reported every other event where a party of people went on a trip. We had neither thought or intention of reflecting on any one of the party. Not only so, but there is no reflection in it. In Peary's accounts of his trip to the north pole, he mentions the explorers, the crew, the negro (Mat. Henson), the Esquimaux and the dogs. When Roosevelt tells of his hunting parties in Africa, he gives the whole list including the hunters along with him.

the negro porters and servants. But nobody imagines that Roosevelt and Peary are classing themselves with negroes and dogs, because they mention them in their party. Neither can anyone say that we classed them or attempted to class them. We simply mentioned the names of every one we knew and said "others" because some went whose names we didn't know.
