PORTALES, NEW MEXICO, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1919

Volume XVII, Number 16

POULTRY JUDGE COMING

County Agent J. B. Petersen returned Monday from attendance at the state meeting of county agents of New Mexico and says that within thirty days every county in the state will have a county agent. He will have a week or so a tabulated statement of what has been saved Roosevelt county in freight rates under the county agent plan. Mr. Petersen also announces that the state poultry husbandman, Lewis C. Taylor, who was here a few weeks ago, will come again next Thursday and they will devote a few days to personal work among poultry raisers—mating fowls, etc. and judging. If you wish to benefit by this service list your name with Mr. Petersen.

G. L. Hatcher, proprietor of the store at Upton, was in town today.

Mrs. Gilson, mother of Mrs. E. E. Hoagland, came Monday from Carlsbad for a visit here.

Miss Sydney Pearce visited friends in Clovis Saturday night, returning Sunday afternoon.

Pat Wolfarth, one of the old-timers, was in from the east side yesterday, transacting business.

H. R. Underhill, a former resident here now living at Pawhuska, Okla., has been here for a few days past.

J. C. Compton returned Tuesday from a business trip to Dallas and Ft. Worth, having been gone about ten days.

Mrs. Mary Fosmark and baby Caspar and Mrs. Elmer Mudgett and baby Isabel came last Saturday from Carlsbad for a visit at the parental W. H. C. Smith home.

Mrs. W. L. Doyal returned a few days ago from her trip to Iredell, Texas, bringing with her her mother, Mrs. S. V. Faggard, who will remain here for some time, probably.

Mrs. W. H. McDonald entertained some of the friends of her little son Howard with a party Wednesday afternoon, last week, his tenth birthday anniversary.

A man named Graham, in Y. M. C. A. service, was in town Sunday and made interesting talks at the M. E. church; as his coming was not known in time to give it proper announcement, the audiences were small, but were well entertained. Mr. Graham has western Texas and eastern New Mexico in his jurisdiction and will locate here or at Artesia.

The U. D. C. met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. V. Harris: the subject of discussion was "Women in the War Stricken Countries." The following ladies were present from Clovis: Mrs. Luikart and Mrs. Humphrey; Mrs. Milton Brown and Mrs. Judge Bratton. The next meeting will be with Mrs. H. F. Jones on the first Tuesday in March.

James Baker, recently discharged from the naval service at San Diego, Calif., arrived this morning to visit at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Henderson, and other relatives. He had a memorable experience some weeks ago in an airplane accident: while up about 1,400 feet the tail of the machine broke off and the plane crashed to the ground; the aviator was instantly killed but Baker was not injured at all, although he was rushed to the hospital and kept there two or three days as a matter of precaution. From here he will go on to the home of his mother at Amarillo.

MARKS OF SERVICE

As the soldiers come back it will be interesting to distinguish the meaning of the various chevrons which they wear upon their sleeves. We subjoin a list:

A single red chevron signifies "discharged with honor."

A single blue chevron signifies less than six months service abroad.

A single gold chevron for each wound received in service is worn on the forearm of the right sleeve.

A single gold chevron for each complete six months' service abroad is worn on the forearm of left sleeve.

A single white chevron for each complete six months' service in the United States is worn on the forearm of left sleeve.

There is generally a mere question of opportunity, not of willingness or ability, between these service marks. Often the man who would gladly have served abroad has been retained in this country simply because he has shown superior ability and therefore was better qualified to instruct others. The man who displays any one of the chevrons above described did his full duty by his country and is worthy of honor.

Dr. Frank H. H. Roberts, president of the State Normal at East Las Vegas, was in town on business a day or so the first of the week.

Dr. Roberts is one of twelve men in the state appointed to write a history of the activities of New Mexico in the world war, and his especial part is to tell the part that Ex-Governor Lindsey had in the work.

W. D. Chapman of Clovis was in town today on business.

Mrs. G. W. Carr and Mrs. Roy W. Connally came Monday from Fort Sumner and visited part of the week here with friends.

Ralph M. Foster of the Rogers community arrived home Tuesday from Camp Travis, Texas, with two silver service stripes on his uniform.

Prof. W. M. Wilson and family and W. H. McDonald and family were dinner guests last Sunday at the Carl Mueller home in the east suburbs.

The month old baby of Mr. and Mrs. William Foster died last Friday morning and was buried Saturday; funeral services were conducted by Rev. Gambrell. Mr. Foster is employed with the Gilliam dray business.

The Baptist Missionary society met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Dr. Wollard with twenty-two present. Especial interest was taken in this meeting because of the presence of Mrs. Mary E. Joiner, state field secretary of the W. M. U. who spent several years as a missionary in China, who gave an interesting quiz and lecture on woman's work and missions. After the close of the meeting dainty refreshments were served and those present enjoyed a discussion of the features of Mrs. Joiner's address while they ate.

E. P. Kuhl has leased his truck farm just south of town to Allan Sanders who recently was discharged from the army. The young man knows the intensive farming business from association with his father C. L. Sanders, and with his years of experience in the Valley will make a success, without doubt. Mr. Kuhl expects to again take up the ministry—the profession in which he was engaged before he came here several years ago, afflicted with lung trouble. Now he has recovered his health and strength and is looking up a professional field.

WHEN PEACE COMES

By Kemper Cowing

Lloyd George declared that the only possible terms of peace with Germany are that she shall "repay and restore."—Daily Press.

Ere ever the nations know peace again; ere ever the sword is sheathed;
Ere ever the graves of the honored dead with the Bay and Laurel are wreathed;
They must come to the terms laid down, laid down; not less shall they pay or more,
But the full grim terms of Christian might: "Ye shall repay and restore!"

Take heed, ye wantons, who look in vain for the mercy ye have denied;
Who had no hearts for the children's cries the while their mothers died.
Such as ye gave shall be given to you, for such is the fruit of war,
Ye shall wail and suffer and groan and sweat, but, "Ye shall repay and restore!"

We know the tale of your madman's course; the trail of your blood and tears;
We have seen the ruins ye have left behind from the beauties of ancient years.
Ye can bring back no smile that your heel crushed out, your murdered can rise no more;
But what ye can pay, ye shall pay, forsooth; with God, ye'll "Repay and Restore."

By the name of that God ye have taken in vain, we have set our hands to the task;
We shall beat you back from your lustful gain; it is justice alone we ask.
It is not in hate we decree your fate; but our swords shall lay down the law,
That with all that ye have of body and soul, "Ye shall repay and restore."

The rest of ye must answer to Him above, whom ye blasphemed all in vain;
He knows of your slaughter and rapine and lust; He harked to your victims' pain.
We hale you before His Judgment Seat; ye shall hear His thunders roar;
To the Uttermost, Bitterest, Ultimate pride, "Ye shall repay and restore."

Boy Scouts Entertain

The program given at the Cosy last Thursday night by the Boy Scouts of Portales under the guidance of Scoutmaster L. M. Gambrell was well worth attending. Some of the features planned for the hour had to be omitted but the drills in first aid, pyramid formation, signs, salutes, etc., were of much interest to the audience. There are over thirty Scouts and the scoutmaster reports that all have passed the Tenderfoot degree. If all live up to the Scout oath and the Twelve Points they will be factors in the betterment of the town when they come into their majorities. A rope tying contest of four boys was a part of the program in which they showed their ability to tie a dozen or more knots. The contest was close, one of the boys being first in one performance and another in the next, but it was finally decided that the prize should go to Ralph Warnica for being most accurate in making the knots.

Fine weather today!

Woman's Club at Mrs. Stone's

Mrs. J. P. Stone entertained the Woman's Club Wednesday afternoon honoring Mrs. G. W. Carr of Fort Sumner. A very interesting program was rendered the subject being "Prominent Men in France," conducted by Mrs. Strickland. Following the program there was a unique original Valentine contest which resulted in a great deal of merriment; the prize was won by Mrs. McDowell. A delicious two-course luncheon featuring the Valentine in design and color, consisting of salad and ice course with red sweet peas as favors, was served.

President Wilson is due to reach American shores tomorrow on his journey home from the peace conference in France. After a few days at Washington attending to matters of legislation, he will probably return to France for another session at the peace table. The new electrically driven battleship New Mexico was his escort from the shores of France.

A LIVE CHURCH

You will find a hearty welcome to the warm spiritual services at the Baptist church next Sunday. Come with us enjoy the meetings and prayer for the lost. We are engaging in prayer at four o'clock every day. Join us in this band of prayer. If you believe in prayer pray and have faith to believe in God's willingness and ability to answer.

The orphan's home work is progressing nicely. We wish to acknowledge the following gifts from the people of Portales: Linoleum from Joyce-Fruit Company; a fifty pound sack of flour and a bushel of potatoes from the same; a heating stove from Mr. Johnson, the second hand man; a desk from W. E. Crow; canned fruit from a number of our people; a mattress from the Baptist missionary society; $2.00 in labor from Charles Goodloe. I wish to thank Mrs. Gilson for the use of her furniture. God bless all.

LEON M. GAMBRELL.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. McCallum arrived last Friday from Gadson, Arizona, where they have made their home for the past year. Mr. McCallum says they are back to stay and after all the Portales Valley is the "best on earth."

Mrs. A. J. Smith arrived Saturday from Phoenix, Arizona, and will visit with her daughters, the Misses Fay and Myrtle Cunningham, for some days. Mrs. Smith had just returned from California where she visited with her son, Claude Cunningham and wife.

Miss Lurline Sandefur came in on the noon train Sunday and will make this her home from now henceforth. Miss Lurline has been in Albuquerque for the past several months attending a business college and holding a position as stenographer for one of the big firms of that place. Her many friends are glad to see her return to Portales.

Word was received in Portales this week that Willie Nelson, formerly of Portales, but now of Artesia, had arrived home from France. He also stated that he left Jude Stone in Newport News, awaiting his discharge and it is expected that he will arrive home within a few days.

Victory Girls!

Remember the final payment on your War Work pledge is due March 1. Let's get all contributions in by that time.

Cordially,

Mrs. J. T. Wilcox.

ELIDA MENTION

(From the Elida Enterprise)

Justin Click may be back by the time this paper goes to press as he was expecting his discharge last Monday.

Manley Campbell, salesman for the Joyce-Fruit Co., at Portales was in Elida Thursday interviewing out merchants.

Report comes from Elkins that parties drilling there for water had struck oil, but whether in paying quantity was not stated.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Jones died Monday at their home near Eagle Hill, and was buried at Portales Tuesday. The babe was a grandson of Mr. D. W. Jones.

The Kenna, Elida and Portales section gangs were all called to the sand hill district between here and Portales Wednesday to keep the blowsand from drifting onto the road bed. They had "a man's job."

County Highway Superintendent D. W. Jones, county commissioners Ed L. Wall and C. S. Toler were here Tuesday looking over the county roads to find where work is most needed. An outfit will be here in about a week to begin work at points located.

During the heavy wind Wednesday a part of the metal roof was blown off of E. L. McBryde's Hardware building. It scared Rosecoe Cannon's dray team and they put on a runaway stunt, breaking a wagon tongue, also running into Herbert's car, and performing other thrilling movie acts. McBryde had just put this part of the roof on new the day before but did not yet have it quite secure.

Frank Jernigan and family came in Monday from Tucson, Arizona, for a few days visit, then to Kansas where he will go into the garage business with his brother, Eugene.

Mrs. Katie Kenady returned this week to her work of teacher in the primary department of the local schools after nearly two weeks absence because of sickness. Miss Dora Smith substituted for her during her illness.

Paul Westbrook was in from the Inez community today, trading with our merchants.

J. B. Priddy returned today from a stock-buying trip to eastern merchandise markets.

Mrs. Frank Irvine is reported very sick this week.

"Are You A Chopper?"

In connection with the regular picture show Friday night at the Cosy there will be 4000 feet of film entitled "Are You a Chopper?" This picture is sent out from the headquarters of the Woodmen of the World as an advertisement of that organization and will be well worth the seeing.

State Gave 12,439 Men

Official figures just made public by the War Department, show that New Mexico furnished a total of 12,439 men for the United States army in the recent world war. The quota of New Mexico exceeded that of three other western states, namely, Arizona, Wyoming and Nevada.

That Little Resolution You Made

LEAGUE OF NATIONS PLAN COMPLETED

PRESIDENT WILSON CONTINUES TO DOMINATE PEACE CONFERENCE

NEW HUN ARMISTICE TERMS

Will Be Severe Enough to Convince the Germans Just How Bad They Have Been Licked by the Allies.

Paris.—The bourgeois proposition for an inter-allied military force to enforce peace was defeated by an overwhelming vote at the meeting of the society of nations commission.

The final draft consists of twenty-six articles.

The Japanese delegation presented an amendment providing that racial discrimination should not be tolerated in immigration laws.

Several delegates urged that this would open such a large question that great delay might ensue, that the matter was dropped without a vote.

Japan Wants Islands.

Japan has not yet agreed to the plan for making her a mandatory for the Caroline and Marshall Islands.

While the other powers virtually have agreed to the mandatory principle and are willing to accept direction of the various German colonies, Japan desires more complete definition of the plan on which the two groups of Pacific islands would be entrusted to her, and a more complete statement of the kind of international control and supervision which would obtain under the society of nations plan.

New Armistice Terms.

The supreme council has decided on the conditions for the renewal of the armistice with Germany. The council decided first to place Germany in a military situation where it would be impossible for her to recommence hostilities.

It is pointed out that the enemy countries are preserving war materials, permitting them to equip very rapidly an army of at least 3,000,000 men.

The council decided secondly, "to make Germany realize that she is not a 'white peace' that we are seeking to impose on her."

In the event Germany submits with good grace, it is possible that the entente would facilitate works of peace for the benefit of Germany.

Examine Poles' Claim.

The council also had to examine the demand by the Poles that the agriculture machinery stolen by the enemy should be restored.

INSURRECTION IN ROMANIA

King Ferdinand Slightly Injured by Rioters.

Berlin.—A general insurrection is in progress throughout Rumania, according to a special dispatch from Vienna. King Ferdinand has been wounded slightly in attempting to flee from Bucharest with the royal family.

Working men blocked the roadway from the royal palace when the royal family attempted to flee to Jasny and the king and his family were forced to return. The king was wounded when the workers, according to the report, fired upon the palace.

Rioters in the streets of Bucharest are openly demanding the overthrow of the dynasty, crying: "Down with the puppets! Long live the republic!"

The discipline of the Rumanian army, the newspaper adds, is collapsing. The food and economic situation is rapidly growing worse and the country's finances are completely demoralized. The position of the Bratianu cabinet is declared to be untenable.

Senate Will Meet Nights.

Washington.—In an effort to clear the congested legislative calendar and thus remove the necessity for the early convening of the new congress in extra session, democratic senators decided to hold night sessions of the senate.

Australia Sells Wheat for $1.37.

Melbourne.—Australia has sold 12,000 tons of wheat from the government pool to Sweden at $1.37 a bushel f. o. b. Melbourne, bringing the total amount of wheat sold for export since the beginning of the year to 112,000 tons.

Would Change Name of Arkansas!

Little Rock.—Representative John A. Riggs of Hot Springs, Arkansas, announced that he will introduce in the Arkansas legislature a resolution changing the spelling of the state's name from Arkansas to "Arkanaw."

Bank Cashier Held As Thief.

Pittsburg.—With the arrest of J. P. Swartz, cashier, charged with embezzling $250,000 of its funds, the First bank, one of the leading financial institutions of the east end, was closed.

COMMITTEE OPPOSES BIG ARMY SENATE CRITICIZES ADMINISTRATION BILL

National Guards May Be Reorganized—Gifts To Wilson Are Disapproved.

Washington.—General opposition to a standing army in excess of 175,000 men as authorized in the national defense act three years ago, was voiced in the house during debate on the annual army appropriation bill, with its provision for a military force of 526,000 officers and men during the period of demobilization.

Chairman Dent of the military committee, was questioned closely as to the future army with several members asking if the force provided in the bill was to be the permanent army strength.

The chairman explained that it was not, and there was general applause from both sides of the house when Representative McKenzie of Illinois, republican, said the military committee favored a small army.

Mr. McKenzie said the proposal of the army general staff for a permanent peace time army of 500,000 had been rejected by the committee.

Discussion in the house continued with leaders offering no prediction as to when a vote would be taken on the measure, which carries a total of $1,100,000,000 for the war department during the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

Debate was not confined to the bill. There was criticism of the war department, praise for General Pershing and various American units which fought in France, discussion of anarchy, and protest against President Wilson accepting a set of books as a birthday gift from King George of England.

Other members in urging retention of the guard after demobilization, praised the work of the guard divisions during the war.

Much of the discussion was given over to the national guard. Representative McKenzie said that whatever the future military policy might be the national guard should be retained and his declaration was vigorously applauded.

Suffrs Beaten Again.

Washington.—Woman suffrage by federal constitutional amendment was beaten again in the senate. The house resolution for submission of the amendment failed of adoption with 55 votes in favor of it and 29 against, one less than the necessary two-thirds. This ended what leading suffrage champions had said in advance would be the final test of this session of congress.

Seattle Radicals Arrested in Raid.

Seattle.—Four men, declared to have been leaders in distributing revolutionary and I. W. W. propaganda during Seattle's general strike, are in jail here and warrants are out for seven others, charging criminal anarchy following three raids in which thirty-three additional men were arrested and are being held for investigation. County officials, government operators, deputy sheriffs, constables and a representative of the district attorney participated in the raids.

Taking the Joy Out of Life.

Albany, N. Y.—Cider, the drink of many rural communities, is declared undrinkable after it has stood for a month and hence is banned, in bills drawn by the Anti-Saloon League and were sponsored in the senate by Senator George F. Thompson and in the assembly by Assemblyman Walter S. McNabb. The Thompson-McNabb measure, which is designed to regulate traffic in alcoholic liquors, seeks to settle the old question as to what intoxicants are by definitely defining them. Hard cider is given a place alongside demon rum.

War Cost Placed at 193 Billions.

Washington.—The total cost of the war to all belligerents including the central powers was placed at $193,000,000,000 by Secretary Baker in an address here. This estimate, the secretary said, was based on figures just compiled by the war college. New inventions in the process of development by the associated governments and the enemy, Mr. Baker said, would have made the fifth year of the war twice as destructive in human life as all the four previous years.

Cottonseed Rules Continued.

Washington.—Continuation of the food administration's control over the cotton seed products industry until the present crop is marketed was agreed upon at the close of a two-day conference of cotton growers, ginners, refiners and manufacturers of lard substitutes with officials of the administration.

Statistics Compiled by the census bureau, which were submitted to the conference, showed that the general condition of the cotton seed industry is normal.

Mine Workers Name Hayes President.

Indianapolis.—Results of the election of officers of the United Mine Workers of America was announced officially. Frank J. Hayes was elected president. John L. Lewis, Springfield, Ill., was chosen vice-president, and William Green, Coshocton, Ohio, secretary-treasurer.

All Russians Called to Army.

London.—The bolshevik government has decided that all males in Russia, irrespective of nationality, must serve in the Red army.

GLASS ASKS LOAN OF TEN BILLION

CONGRESS REQUESTED TO INCREASE AMOUNT OF THE NEXT DRIVE

HE WOULD HELP COMMERCE

Broad Powers Sought In Order To Make Issue Success—Sinking Fund For War Debts.

Washington.—Secretary Glass asked congress to increase the amount of Liberty bonds authorized but unissued, to approximately $10,000,000,000 and to give him broad powers to determine the interest rate and other terms of the Victory Liberty loan, to be floated late in April.

He also sought permission to issue not more than $10,000,000,000 of treasury notes, maturing within five years, and asked that the war finance corporation be authorized for one year after the declaration of peace to make commercial loans on exports to facilitate foreign trade.

Glass Outlines Policies.

In a letter to Chairman Kitchin of the house ways and means committee Secretary Glass outlined the broad policies which the treasury hopes to follow in dealing with war loans and other national financial subjects of the readjustment period.

The secretary submitted a draft of a bill which would carry out the treasury's recommendations.

As the reason for asking such wide authority to determine terms of the Victory Liberty loan, Secretary Glass explained in his letter to Mr. Kitchin that he could not determine this far in advance, particularly because the country was in a state of commercial and industrial readjustment, what the terms should be in April. Furthermore, it is necessary for congress to act before adjournment March 4.

Mr. Glass expressed hope that the operation of the laws of supply and demand regarding foodstuffs would soon cause reduction in the cost of living.

The proposed extension of powers of the war finance corporation would allow the corporation for one year after the declaration of peace to make advances to business firms or exporters in the United States, up to the market value of the goods exported, or to banks which had made advances to those interests.

The loan would run for not more than five years and the aggregate would be limited to a billion dollars.

By this means the treasury hopes to stimulate foreign trade which is now prevented because of the inability of foreign purchasers to pay cash. Ample security would be required and interest rates would be determined by the corporation.

Extension of loans to the allies into peace time also would serve to stimulate foreign trade, the treasurer believes.

DEPORTING 54 I. W. W.'S

One Way of Getting Rid of Anarchists.

New York.—The federal immigration authorities here are prepared to handle the 54 Industrial Workers of the World who are on their way to New York on a special train from the west to be deported by the government.

The prisoners will be detained at Ellis Island until arrangements for sailing can be made. They will be divided according to nationalities and the deportation of the several groups will be effected at the earliest possible moment, it was declared.

Plot Would Have Defeated Allies.

Kansas City.—Had the plot been successful for which fifty-one Industrial Workers of the World will be placed on trial at Wichita March 1, the winning of the war by the allies would have been impossible, according to the agreed opinion of naval and military authorities, Fred Robertson, United States attorney for Kansas, says. The plan was to paralyze the mid-continent oil fields by strikes and whatever method came to hand. Mr. Robertson asserted, the government would show.

Portuguese Revolution Waning.

Paris.—Forces of the Portuguese republican government aggregating 50,000 men, are concentrating around Oporto the royalist stronghold. It was announced that attacks by the royalists upon republican troops had been overcome and that the railways are operating under normal conditions.

Only $8,000 Left By Nat Goodwin.

New York.—Nat Goodwin, who died recently after a long and successful theatrical career, left an estate of only $8,000, it was disclosed when letters of administration were applied for.

Naval Enlistments Increase.

Washington.—Enlistments in the navy during the week ending February 4 totaled 1,637, the highest weekly figure since voluntary enlistments were resumed in December.

EBERT SUCCEEDS WILHELM

Welmer.—Dr. Friedrich Ebert, who has been chancellor since the overthrow of kaiserdom, was elected president of the German republic by the German national constituent assembly here. The vote was 277 to 102. The constitution of the German republic as drafted by the "best brains of all parties" was adopted by the assembly. Dr. Ebert's election is taken as a national endorsement of his regime. Tentative provision calls for a salary of a million marks—about $240,000—annually for the president of the German republic. He will live in the formerly royal castle of Bellevue.

NAVY PLANS ARE APPROVED

Three-Year Expansion Bill Adopted In Vote.

Washington.—Administration leaders in the house won their fight for a declaration by congress of a policy of naval expansion unless limitation of world armament is agreed upon at the peace conference.

After an all day debate the house voted 194 to 142 to approve the new three-year building policy of ten battleships and ten scout cruisers and immediately afterwards adopted the entire naval appropriation bill.

The vote on the adoption of the bill was 281 to fifty. As finally approved the measure carries a total of $721,000,000 for the naval establishment during the next fiscal year, including $179,000,000 for the unfinished part of the first three-year program adopted in 1916.

The house adopted by a vote of 205 to 148 a resolution of the rules committee making the naval expansion policy legislation in order, thus overcoming a parliamentary advantage gained yesterday by Republican Leader Mann, whose points of order against the program had been sustained.

Czech Blockade Lifted.

Paris.—Lifting of the blockade of such ports as serve the new state of Czechoslovakia was announced by the blockade council.

Estonia Cleared of Anarchist Army.

Copenhagen.—The entire territory of the Estonian republic has been cleared of the anarchists through the Estonian and Finnish advance movement.

Service on Dinners to Be Revised.

Washington.—Wartime restrictions on railroad dining car service will be modified March 1. Director-General Hines has authorized federal managers of all lines to resume a la carte service wherever it can be done without causing congestion.

Kitchener's Death Due to Hun Mine.

London.—A book written by Admiral Viscount Jellicoe, former commander of the British grand fleet, gives the cause of the sinking of the British cruiser Hampshire on which Lord Kitchener lost his life. Admiral Jellicoe explains that the Hampshire struck a German moored mine. The book contains revelations of British unpreparedness at the beginning of the war. The grand fleet had to run out of harbor several times because submarines were reported inside.

Employers Liable for Slayer's Act.

Little Rock, Ark.—That a firm employing a slayer of the other participant in a fight is responsible and must pay damages to relatives of the deceased was the substance of a ruling by the Arkansas supreme court. The case was that of Mrs. Minnie Bryenas against the Chicago Mill and Lumber Company. The Crittenden county circuit court had awarded her $8,000 for the death of her husband, who was killed during a fight with a foreman of the lumber company.

Huns and Poles Sign Armistice.

Copenhagen.—The negotiations between Polish and German emissaries looking toward a cessation of hostilities in German-Poland have resulted in an armistice.

Stephenson's Estate Inventoried.

Marquette, Wis.—Inventory of the estate of the late United States Senator Isaac Stephenson, values the property at $2,359,375. This does not include the Stephenson trust which includes personal property valued at more than $2,000,000.

RUSSIAN LOSSES ONLY 4,925 OF WHOM 180 WERE MAJOR CASUALTIES

Report Shows Less Than Five Thousand Americans Are in the American Expedition.

Washington.—Total casualties in the American forces in the Archangel region of Russia up to and including January 31, were 180 killed, died of wounds, sickness or from other cause, or missing in action, and 229 wounded or injured, making a total casualty list of 409 out of a force that numbered 4,925.

This information was contained in a cablegram from Archangel dated February 4 and made public. The casualties were listed as follows.

Killed in action—Three officers and fifty-eight men.
Died of disease—Two officers and sixty-four men.
Died of wounds—One officer and twelve men.

Accidentally killed—Three men.
Drowned—One officer and two men.
Missing in action—Thirty-four men.
Wounded in action—All ranks, 198.
Accidentally wounded—Twenty-five.
Wounded, other causes—Six.

Of these casualties, sixty-three occurred between January 19 and January 31, the period during which the Archangel forces were attacking the allied lines in such force as to compel a considerable retirement.

The losses during this time on the Vega front were: Killed in action, eleven men; died of wounds, one officer, three men; missing in action, eighteen men; wounded, two officers and twenty-eight men; total, sixty-three.

On January 31 the American force in the Archangel sector was comprised of 161 officers and 4,764 other ranks.

GOOD ROADS FUND VOTED

Carries 200 Million Dollar Highway Provision.

Washington.—The annual postoffice appropriation bill carrying at total of $400,000,000 and providing for the expenditure of $200,000,000 additional for road building in the next three years, passed by the senate without a record vote. The measure now goes to conference.

The principal fight over the bill was on the committee's amendment appropriating $200,000,000 for construction of roads, $50,000,000 of which would be available this year. The opposition was led by Senator Thomas of Colorado, democrat, who sought to have it eliminated on the ground that it was general legislation. The amendment finally was adopted, however, by a vote of 51 to 17.

Chairman Lever introduced the bill approved by the house agriculture committee appropriating $1,000,000,000 to maintain the government's guarantee for the 1918 and 1919 wheat crops. It would confer powers for purchase and sale of wheat and flour, to control trading in wheat, and licensing millers, elevators and dealers, besides extending government control of imports and exports up to December 31, 1920.

Republicans Drop Seniority Rights.

Washington.—Republicans of the senate voted in conference to abolish some of the longstanding seniority rights in the organization of committees when they take control of the senate after March 4. Under the rules as they will be amended, no senator will be permitted to become a member of more than two of the ten principal standing committees. A resolution also recommending that after March 4 no senate committee shall be composed of more than seventeen members, also was adopted.

Chain of U. S. Radio Plants.

Boston.—Establishment of a chain of radio stations, approximately thirty miles apart along the Atlantic coast, was announced at the headquarters of the first naval district. The statement said that by this arrangement incoming vessels within 150 or 200 miles off the coast could determine their position easily by communicating with shore stations, regardless of weather conditions. Along the 250 miles of coast included within the first district, eight stations already are in operation.

Two Americans Are Slain at Tampico.

Washington.—The recent murder of two Americans on an island in Tampico lake was reported in advices from Mexico through official channels. The victims, whose names were not given, were beaten and shot. The same advices also said that the manager of the Standard Oil Company at Tampico was beaten and robbed of $18,000, and the paymaster of the Texas Oil Company robbed of $4,000. Ninety men working for oil companies in the Tampico district have been killed in the last year.

Eight Killed in Fire.

Plattsville, Wis.—Eight bodies had been recovered from the ruins of the Forehand business block, destroyed by fire and explosion. Twenty persons were injured by flying wreckage.

Mrs. J. J. Sullivan was burned to death in her home at Deming. In some manner as she was preparing to retire, the bed clothing came into contact with the stove, were set on fire, and her nightgown was ignited. Her screams attracted the attention of her son-in-law, who jumped through the window but not in time to save her.

The Corporation Commission has assured General Manager Ten Eyck of the New Mexico Central that it approves of his efforts to give straight passenger service to the Espanola valley, and will not attempt to force the road to continue the service, which began Monday, if after a 90-day trial, it is proved a failure from a financial standpoint.

The border between New Mexico and Mexico is a hard place to successfully conduct the business of stock-raising, and those with ranches along the line are now agitating for a high and tight fence all along the border. The Arizona cattlemen are the active elements in this new move, but they expect the New Mexico stockmen to help them and finish fencing the New Mexico part of the line. A big cattle company owning land in Mexico has fenced part of the line west of El Paso.

In a decision handed down by the attorney general's office, the state game warden is restrained from granting resident game licenses to sportsmen whose home is in another state, but who own property in New Mexico. The decision is aimed primarily at El Paso hunters and fishermen who have demanded the issuance of resident game licenses from the New Mexico office.

Speaker Sedillo introduced at the house session H. B. No. 54 providing for a general primary law applying to all general elections in New Mexico. The bill provides that a primary shall be held at least sixty days prior to holding such primary, to the general election and that the secretary of state, 60 days prior to holding such primary shall prepare and transmit to each county clerk a notice designating the offices for which candidates are to be nominated, covering state, district or county offices and stating the time when such primaries shall be held in each precinct. The county commissioners are empowered to name the place and the judges for each precinct.

Washington's Will Saved to Posterity

Document Has Been Restored and Now Rests in Courthouse Where It Was Filed for Probate in 1800.

FAIRFAX COURTHOUSE WHERE WASHINGTON'S WILL WAS FILED

A PAGE FROM WASHINGTON'S WILL, BEFORE IT WAS REPAIRED

AS THE anniversary of the birth of George Washington comes again and the whole nation pauses to pay a tribute of respect to the memory of the greatest figure of American history, the realization is forced home that Washington lives in the hearts of the people so vividly because of his intensely human traits.

The American public of today does not worship a remote legendary hero, whose glories gather luster through the effusions of flattering songs and stories, but in so intimate terms of acquaintance with his idolized first president through the most trustworthy agency, that of his own hand-written letters and documents. Through the strides of modern progress and the discovery of remarkable paper surgery, 50,000 or more private and official letters, addresses, documents, reports and accounts have been collected, repaired and bound into volumes, 400 of them, and are accessible to those who wish to peruse them in the big library of congress in the interest of research. But the most important of all the papers penned by Washington, and the one which, throughout its entire length, is the most perfect reflection of him as a man of affairs and of business, is his last will and testament, almost the last document penned by his hand, written about five months before his death. After many and varied vicissitudes this marvelous paper has been repaired and saved to posterity by being safely deposited in a steel vault in Fairfax courthouse, where it was presented for probate in 1800.

Washington loved life and crowded into his sixty-seven years many and varied interests. Through a perusal of only a few of the hundreds of letters written to him and by him, it is seen that he enjoyed all outdoor sports and games, was proficient in most of them, gambled on horses, cards, cocks and lotteries, speculated in lands and stocks, danced almost until the year of his death, loved theaters, teas, receptions and all social amusements. Though he made constant use of wines on his table, moderation and method were the precept and principle of his life, and these traits are forcefully illustrated in the 24 pages of his will, which he prepared without legal aid, though contrary to his usual forethought in leaving this duty until so late in life. Every line of it bears mute testimony to his efficiency in business and his sense of responsibility, and it shows that he spent considerable time in its preparation, for in disposing of his various properties in bequests to relatives he went into great detail.

The will was signed July 9, 1799, and was filed for probate at the county seat of the county in Virginia in which Washington had lived and died January 20, 1800, being presented in open court by George Steptoe Washington, Samuel Washington and Lawrence Lewis, three of the executors.

For a long time it rested in the office of the clerk at Fairfax Court House, but with the confusion of the Civil war it was removed to Richmond with other valuable papers and there lost for a time, it being rumored that it had been picked up by a federal soldier and sold abroad. However, it eventually turned up at Fairfax Court House again much the worse for its travels and experiences.

Then, for a number of years, it was freely handled by visitors and historians, until the edges became frayed, great holes appeared, and almost every sheet split in the creases, and the ink, though good, faded from the light and exposure.

When it became apparent that steps should be taken to hold the torn sheets together, some one in authority in Fairfax turned the will over to a woman resident to be mended, which she did most literally and most disastrously with a coarse needle and equally coarse thread. Consequently the needle holes and heavy thread soon worked still greater havoc through the carefully worded pages.

Then a group of men interested in the collection and preservation of historic documents, headed by Lawrence Washington, sought to have the paper turned over to the government, so that the experts of the state department might have a chance to repair and deposit it for safe-keeping, along with other important papers of the government. But the Virginia authorities refused to permit the manuscript to leave Fairfax Court House, and consequently the aid of the state department paper surgeons was rendered unavailable.

As a labor of love and appreciation for the historical value of the document and its famous author, the library of congress finally volunteered to send its most expert manuscript repairer down to Fairfax to make the repairs and put the 24 pages into a condition that would insure them against further destruction. This entailed the shipping to Fairfax of considerable equipment, including a heavy press.

To put the battered paper in good condition required 16 days of the most painstaking work on the part of William Berwick, the library's skilled manuscript mender, who made daily trips to the quaint old courthouse. The first step toward restoration after he had photographed every one of the ragged pages was setting the ink. This was done by a liquid process or bath designed to prevent further fading. Then each one of the sheets was backed or mounted upon crepe-line, a sort of transparent durable silk gauze, which allowed any reasonable amount of handling. Then came an endless amount of scraping, patching, pasting and cutting which only the deftest, most expert fingers could do, and the results would not have been so remarkably satisfactory but for a most fortunate circumstance.

When it came to grafting new material into the old manuscript to replace the old which had been worn away, the great problem lay in finding new material that would match in texture and color that upon which the will was written. Mr. Berwick was in despair as to where to find paper for the patches which would make the will look as good as new, when by a lucky chance in a second-hand book store in Washington a number of blank sheets of the writing paper which George Washington had made especially for his personal use were discovered. This was exactly what was wanted and now, unless one holds the sheets of the restored will in such a position that the bright light will shine through them, there is no way of telling where the old part, or rather the original part, leaves off and the grafted sections begin.

When Mr. Berwick completed his task, which cost the Fairfax authorities nothing, the sheets of the document, mounted upon cardboard, bound in the form of a book mounted with a handsome red levant cover, were placed in a steel fireproof and burglarproof safe constructed especially for the purpose, in accordance with the specifications of the government officials.

The will, which has been called the most valuable relic of any left to posterity by the father of his country—more valuable than the sword, books, furniture or china, in view of the fact that it more faithfully portrays the mind of the man himself, reflecting his personality as nothing else could do so perfectly, opens as follows:

I, George Washington, of Mount Vernon, a citizen of the United States and lately president of the same, do make, ordain and declare this instrument, which is written with my own hand and every page thereof subscribed with my name to be my last will and testament, revoking all others.

In it he directs that:

To my beloved wife, Martha Washington, I give and bequeath the use and benefit of my entire estate, real and personal, for the term of her natural life, except such parts thereof as are specifically disposed of.

He also ordered that his body be interred "in a quiet manner, without parade or funeral oration." One clause, which has been extensively quoted, is as follows:

Upon the decease of my wife it is my will and desire that all the slaves which I hold in my own right shall receive their freedom.

Concerning the disposition of his slaves, the general gave more explicit directions than to any other part of his estate, and he especially directed that none of them should be sold outside of Virginia.

He directed that his debts, which he said were "few and none of great magnitude," be "promptly and speedily paid." He also called attention to the fact that many of the young men of the United States were being sent abroad to foreign countries to be educated and were contracting habits of dissipation and principles unfriendly to republican government. To aid in stopping this he gave 50 shares in the Potomac company toward the endowment of a university within the District of Columbia under the auspices of the general government. He also made provision in his will for the construction of a new family vault at Mount Vernon, in which might be placed the remains of himself and his near relatives.

The will may be seen through the glass side of the vault in which it is deposited, before which hang heavy green curtains to exclude the light. Fairfax Court House is doubly rich in view of the fact that it now also treasures the will of Martha Washington, also returned to it after many years of wandering. It was signed on September 22, 1800. This will is not nearly so long nor so involved as that of General Washington. It was probated in 1802 by George Washington Parke Custis and Thomas Peter, two of the executors. It was taken up with the disposition of household effects and provisions for the education of her relatives. Three granddaughters, four nieces, her grandson, four nephews, a grandniece and other distant relatives and friends are mentioned. To them she gave paintings, town lots and to nearly all of them she gave from five to ten guineas with which to buy rings.

One of the odd provisions was: "It is my will and desire that Ann Mariah Washington, daughter of my niece, be put into handsome mourning at my death at the expense of my estate, and I bequeath to her ten guineas to buy a ring."

Another unusual order reads: "It is my will and desire that all of the wine in bottles in the vaults be equally divided between my granddaughters and grandson, to each of whom I bequeath ten guineas to buy a ring for each."

All of the family pictures, except a few specifically mentioned, were left to George Washington Parke Custis, and to him went a large collection of household furnishings, including beds, water coolers, china and furniture. Special provision was made for the education of three nephews, who were to be fitted in "some useful trade," and she made a further provision that 100 pounds be given to each to set him up in his trade.

The belated return of these two famous documents, so essentially personal and human in their contents, to the little courthouse where they were both filed for probate over a century ago has made of Fairfax Court House another Mecca for the history-loving tourist, and it is rapidly falling into line after Mount Vernon and Alexandria in point of popularity.

CHOICE OF BUT TEN STATES.

New York state had no part in the election of the first president of the United States. For some years following the establishment of the federal government, the legislatures of most of the states chose the presidential electors, the people voting for them only indirectly, their choice being expressed by their votes for legislators. A deadlock between the senate and the assembly prevented the selection of electors from New York state. Rhode Island and North Carolina had not yet ratified the Constitution, so Washington was elected the first time by the votes of only ten of the 13 states.

New York city was the scene of the first inauguration, however. Washington took the oath on the portico of Federal hall, on the present site of the subtreasury, at Wall and Nassau streets, April 30, 1789. Immediately following this ceremony he retired within the building and delivered an address to congress, which met in Federal hall in those days. John Adams, the second president, also addressed congress in person, but Jefferson broke the custom which President Wilson has revived. Jefferson stigmatized that form of address as monarchical and put his message in writing.—New York Sun.

BUILT FROM HIS OWN PLANS.

At the late date of 1827 a wish expressed by George Washington in his will was obeyed. He had called attention to his selection of a spot for a new tomb for himself and family and those of the family already buried in the old vault. The old tomb was disadvantageously situated on the side of a hill which was subject to landslides. For the new vault he specified not only the spot, but also dimensions and materials. According to these, his own plans, a tomb was built, and his and Mrs. Washington's bodies were transferred to it, along with the remains in the old vault of other members of the family. The latter were buried within the vault, out of sight, while the bodies of General and Mrs. Washington are in stone coffins above the ground, within plain view between a grated iron doorway.

REALISTIC.

"You have a realistic picture to advertise your breakfast food." "Almost too realistic. A goat came along and ate one right off the billboard."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

PERPLEXITY.

"You used to promise anything that might please the voter's fancy." "Yes," observed Senator Sorghum. "I don't try that any more. Voters are getting so notorious you can't even tell what kind of a promise is going to suit their fancy."

THE KINSHIP OF THE NEW AMERICAN

Aims and Ideals of the United States and Canada Will Soon Be Signed.

The war is over, peace will soon be signed, the fighting nations have sheathed their swords, and the day of reconstruction has come.

What of it! Hundreds of thousands of men, taken from the fields of husbandry, from the ranks of labor, from the four walls of the counting house, and the confines of the workshop, taken from them to do their part, their large part, in the prevention of the spoliation of the world, and in the meantime removed from the gear of common everyday life, will be returning, only to find in many cases old positions filled, the machinery with which they were formerly attached dislocated.

Are they to become aimless wanderers, with the ultimate possibility of augmenting an army of menacing loafers? If they do it is because their ability to assist in laying new foundations, in building up much required structures, is underestimated. Men who have fought as they have fought, who have risked and faced dangers as they have, are not of the caliber likely to flinch when it comes to the restoration of what the enemy partially destroyed, when it comes to the reconstruction of the world the ideals of which they had in view when they took part in the great struggle whose Divine purpose was to bring about this reconstruction.

Inured to toll, thoughtless of fatigue, trained in initiative and hardened by their outdoor existence they will return better and stronger men; boys will have matured and young men will have developed.

They will decide of themselves lines of action and thought, and what their future should and will be. On the field of battle they developed alertness and wisdom, and they will return with both shedding from every pore.

Action was their by-word and it will stand them in good stead now that the din of the battle no longer rings in their ears, or the zero hour signals them to the fray, and it will continue during their entire existence.

But if they return to find their old avocation gone, their places filled, the institutions with which they were connected no longer exist, new walks of life and employment must be opened to them. It may be that the counting house, the factory, the workshop will have lost their attraction. The returned soldier will look elsewhere for employment; within his reach there is always the "Forward-to-the-Land" necessity. In this lies the remedy that will not only take care of a multitude of those who may not be able to return to their former occupations, whose desires are not to do so, whose health prohibits them from indoor life or whose outdoor habits from the past one, two, three or four years have given them such a taste and desire for it that confinement would be unbearable. Farm life will thus appeal to them, and the indications are that it will be taken advantage of by thousands. It means much to them as well as to the Continent of America that provides the opportunity to the world at large, and to the stricken and famished nations of Europe, who, not only today, but for years to come, will require the sustenance that can only largely be supplied by the United States and Canada. By following the pursuit of agriculture the returned soldier will continue the cause he so greatly advanced when fighting on the field of battle. Both countries have undeveloped areas yet open to settlement.

There is little need here to direct attention to the wealth that has come to the farmers of Canada within the past few years. It is not only in grain growing that unqualified and almost unequalled success has followed honest effort, but the raising of horses, cattle, sheep and hogs has been large source of profit. These are facts that are well known to the many friends and acquaintances of the thousands of farmers from the United States who have acquired wealth on the prairies of Western Canada. Farms of from one hundred and sixty to six hundred and forty acres of the richest soil may be secured on reasonable terms, and with an excellent climate with a school system equal to any in the world, and desirable social conditions, little else could be asked.

Canadian statesmen are today busily engaged planning for the future of the returned soldier with a view to making him independent of state help after the immediate necessary assistance has been granted, the main idea being to show in the fullest degree the country's appreciation of the services he has rendered.

But, now that the war is ended, and the fact apparent that of all vocations the most profitable and independent is that of the farmer, there will be a strong desire to secure farm lands for cultivation. Canada offers the opportunity to those seeking, not as speculation but as production. The deepest interest is taken by Federal and Provincial authorities to further the welfare of the farmer and secure a maximum return for his efforts. Large sums of money are spent in educational and experimental work. Engaged in Experimental and Demonstration farms, and in the agricultural colleges, are men of the highest technical knowledge and practical experience, some being professors of international reputation. The results of experiments and tests are free and available to all. Educational opportunities for farmers are the concern of the Government and appreciation is shown by the number of farmers who attend the free courses. Agriculture in Canada has reached a high standard, notwithstanding which lands are low in price.

Thus upon the United States and Canada for many years will rest the great burden of feeding the world. With free interchange of travel, difficulties of crossing and recrossing removed, Canada may look for a speedy resumption of the large influx of settlers from the United States which prevailed previous to the war. During the war period there was a dread of something, no one seemed to know what: if the American went to Canada he might be conscripted, put in prison, or in his attempt to cross the border he would meet with innumerable difficulties, most of which, of course, was untrue. These untruths were circulated for a purpose by an element, which, it was discovered had an interest in fomenting and creating trouble and distrust between two peoples whose language and aims in life should be anything but of an unfriendly character. The draft law of the United States adopted for the carrying out of the high purposes had in view by the United States kept many from going to Canada during the period of the war. The citizen army of the United States was quickly mobilized, and contained a large percentage of the young men from the farms. In this way many were prevented from going to Canada.

That is all over now. There are no real or imaginary restrictions; there is no draft law to interfere. On the contrary there is an unfathomable depth of good feeling, and the long existing friendship is stronger than ever. This has been brought about by the knowledge of what has been done in the recent great struggle, each vying with the other in giving credit for what was accomplished. In thought and feeling, in language, in aims in life, in work, in desire to build up a new world, there has been bred a kinship which is as indissoluble as time itself.—Advertisement.

WHY DRUGGISTS RECOMMEND SWAMP-ROOT

For many years druggists have watched with much interest the remarkable record maintained by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine.

It is a physician's prescription. Swamp-Root is a strengthening medicine. It helps the kidneys, liver and bladder do the work nature intended they should do.

Swamp-Root has stood the test of years. It is sold by all druggists on its merit and it should help you. No other kidney medicine has so many friends. Be sure to get Swamp-Root and start treatment at once.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

RECIPE FOR GRAY HAIR.

To half pint of water add 1 oz. Bay Rum, a small box of Barbo Compound, and 1/4 oz. of glycerine. Any druggist can put this up or you can mix it at home at very little cost. Full directions for making and use come in each box of Barbo Compound. It will gradually darken streaked, faded gray hair, and make it soft and glossy. It will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy, and does not rub off.—Adv.

AN ADVOCATE OF DEMOCRACY

And Our Rate Only $18 a Page!

The upward trend of advertising in 1919 is well illustrated in information given to Editor &
Publisher by an advertising agent
this week. He said the Saturday Evening Post for February 26 will contain 125 full-page advertisements, the rate for which is $6,500 per page, making that one issue of the Saturday Evening Post represent $801,500 of paid advertising, and that the Post had declined twenty-five more pages.

He also told that the next issue of the Ladies' Home Journal will contain seventy-eight pages of color, the rate for which is $9,000 per page. This is outside of the black and white advertising.

It is believed that these figures set new high records for advertising revenue from singular regular editions of any American publication.

WHO ARE THEY?

Watch the men in the towns
you trade with—the merchants, bankers, lawyers, doctors, ware-housemen, grain buyers, etc. etc.

See which men are generous and public spirited and which men are not.

Find out which men are interested in better schools, better roads, public health, sound morals, good citizenship and all the things that make for civilization and progress.

See which men are liberal and which men are "tightwads" when appeals come from the Red Cross the Y. M. C. A., school taxes, new school buildings, community fairs prizes for boys and girls, and all such things.

See which men subscribe adequately for Liberty Loan Bonds, and War Savings Stamps, and which men subscribe as little as possible so as to put their money in something which will bring a little more interest.

Now, shall we criticise, abuse,
and denounce the men who by these tests show themselves selfish, little-hearted, little-souled?
No, let's try appreciation of the generous men rather than depreciation of the selfish ones.
Already too many of our people are so busy criticising, abusing and denouncing all the bad they find in the world (and making themselves miserable thereby) that they never get time to praise and encourage the good—and increase their own happiness thereby.

Try to pick out the men who are liberal and unselfish and atune with progress. Tell your neighbors about them and make up your mind to do business only with such men hereafter. In this way you will throw the profits of your business where part of it will go to improve the community and the county and the country.
Instead of having these profits go simply to enrich some selfish man and his family.

It is your duty to throw your financial influence to business and professional men of the right type and by the right type we mean men who believe that whatever prosperity God gives them, He gives them not for their own selfish enjoyment but to hold as trustees of His, giving a fair proportion to each good and worthy cause that presents itself.—The Progressive Farmer.

FLIRTATION
Mrs. E. B. Hawkins

The breeze wooed the modest violet
With kisse soft as flakes of snow;
But, she nestled among the sheltering leaves
For she knew it was only a passing breeze—
But in her heart was the wish to know
Whence the breezes come and where they go.

With a lilting song the breeze passed on Till he came to the wild-rose hedge aglow.
He wooed the rose with a tender grace
And left her hiding her blushing face
And longing with all her heart to go
Where the balmy breeze would always blow.

He wooed with kisses the fragrant lily
And passed where the pale moonflowers grow,
Softly caressing each dainty bloom,
Whispering ever his soft sweet croon:
"Sweet and low, Sweet and low, Balmy Breezes come and go."

He flirted with the daffodils
And left them trembling, all a-glow.
He kissed to dimples the mighty river,
And left the leaves of the forest a-quiver.

The Fort Sumner Booster Spirit
(Fort Sumner Review.)
A Fort Sumner man appeared on Fourth street one day this week in bad condition. One of his eyes was covered with a bandage, the other had a black circle around it; he had a cut on his head, a split lip and other cuts and bruises. Sheriff Dunlap looked him over and asked:
"Been fooling with a mule?"
"Nope; was up to Taibain yesterday; man said Fort Sumner was no good—was bummiest jim crow town on the map; no decent person would live there."
"He was a liar!" said Dunlap.
"That's what I told him," said
the man with the split lip.

a basket ball game with the crack team from the U. S. Indian Indus-

the tune of 32 to 12, so no scalps were taken from the palefaces
as the Indian boys had announced in the Santa Fe daily paper.

more oil than any of the many deal of money, probably much more than enough to have drilled a brand new oil well, spent on this County, New Mexico.

L. A. Youcum, Plaintiff, vs.
Cleve George, Administrator (No. 1461 of the estate of James Wesley) Armstrong, deceased, and the Unknown Heirs of the said deceased, Defendants.

NOTICE OF PENDENCY OF SUIT
The State of New Mexico, to Cleve George, administrator of the estate of James Wesley Armstrong, deceased, and the unknown heirs of the said deceased, "Real Name Unknown" of the heirs of the said James Wesley Armstrong, deceased, Defendants,
Greeting:

You will take notice that a suit has been filed against you in the District Court of the Fifth Judicial District of the State of New Mexico,
in and for the county of Roosevelt, wherein I, A. Youcum is plaintiff and Cleve George, administrator of the estate of James Wesley Armstrong, deceased, and the Unknown Heirs of the said deceased, are defendants, said cause being numbered upon the civil docket of said court as 1461.

The general objects of said action are as follows: The plaintiff seeks to foreclose a mortgage deed executed and delivered by James Wesley Armstrong, deceased, to Oklahoma Farm Mortgage Company, on the 28th day of October, 1916, securing note in the principal sum of $700.00, together with five interest coupon notes for the sum of $56.00 each, thereto attached, and thereafter, to-wit, November 21st, 1916,
for value, the said Oklahoma Farm Mortgage Company sold, assigned and transferred said mortgage deed and notes accompanying same unto plaintiff herein, and plaintiff seeks to obtain judgment upon said notes in the aggregate amount of $788.98, together with interest thereon, and the further sum of $70.00, as attorney fees as provided for in said note, together with all costs of suit; said mortgage being upon and conveying unto the said Oklahoma Farm Mortgage Company and assigned to Plaintiff as above stated, the following described real estate, lying and being in the County of Roosevelt and State of New Mexico, to-wit:

The north half of section thirty-one,
township five south, range thirty-four east, N. M. meridian, New Mexico, containing 320 acres, according to the Government survey thereof.

To have said mortgage deed declared a first and paramount valid lien against said premises; to have said premises sold, and the proceeds arising out of the sale of said land applied to the satisfaction of plain-tiff's said judgment and demands.

You are further notified that unless
you enter your appearance in said
cause on or before the 12th day of April, 1919, judgment by default will be rendered against you in said cause for $788.98, with interest thereon, together with $70.00, as attorneys fees, and the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

You are further notified that Compton & Compton, whose business address is Portales, New Mexico, and H. W.
Harris, whose business address is Oklahoma City, Okla., are the attorneys for plaintiff.

Witness my hand and the seal of said court, this 18th day of February, 1919.

conveying unto the said Alwin R. Goelzer
the following described real estate, lying and being in the county of Roosevelt and state of New Mexico, to-wit: SE 1/4 Sec. 20, and NE 1/4 Sec.
29, all in township six south of range thirty-six East, N. M. P. M.; to have said mortgage declared a valid lien against said premises; to have said premises sold subject to a prior and first mortgage against said land in favor of the Federal Land Bank of Wichita, Kans., for $1000.00, dated March 12th 1918, and recorded in book 8 page 136, of the records of mortgage deeds of said county, and the proceeds arising from said sale of said land applied to the satisfaction of plaintiff's said demands.

You are further notified that unless
you enter your appearance in said
cause on or before the 30th day of March, 1919, judgment by default will be rendered against you for the sum of $1150.00 in said cause and the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

You are further notified that Compton & Compton are attorneys for the plaintiff and that their business address is Portales, New Mexico.

Hon. B. F. Whittington Has Gained Twenty Pounds By Taking Tanlac—Wants To Help Others.

One of the latest additions to the long list of prominent men in public life, who have endorsed Tanlac, is the name of Hon. B. F. Whittington, judge of the Rolston Court, South Omaha, Neb. In relating his experience with the medicine, Judge Whittington said:

"The results I have obtained from Tanlac seem wonderful to me. Before I began taking it, my health was broken in many ways. My liver was all out of fix. I was habitually constipated and bilious. I was so frightfully dizzy most of the time that I could not stoop over for fear of falling. My kidneys were out of order and I had fearful pains in the small of my back. I could eat but my food did me no good. Sleep failed to rest me and I felt tired and worn out all the time. I had been in this condition for a year and was becoming badly worried as nothing seemed to reach my case.

"I had fallen twenty pounds in weight as a result of my troubles, but I have gained it all back by using Tanlac and have never felt better in my life. I felt like a new man before I finished my first bottle. I took five bottles and now I haven't an ache or a pain and am feeling great. I eat like a farm hand, sleep like a log and get up in the morning feeling fine. I gladly give this statement for what it may be worth to others who are trying to find relief."

Relieved of Catarrh-Due to La Grippe, Thanks to

PERUNA

Mrs. Laura Berberick, 69 years old, of 1205 Willow Ave., Hoboken, N. J., writes:

"Four years ago I had a severe attack of La Grippe. After my sickness I was troubled with hoarseness and slime in the head and throat, and was told I had catarrh. I took some medicine but without much benefit. Every winter for four years, I have had La Grippe (last winter three times). The catarrh grew worse. I could not lie down or sleep at night. Was always troubled with a pain in my back and a terrible headache every morning, when I woke up, and had no blood. I got a Peruna calendar in Danish, my native language, and I read it through, every testimony, and then I bought a bottle of Peruna. To-day I can truthfully testify that Peruna has been a great benefit to me. It has given me blood and strength. I can lie down and sleep without being troubled. I have no pain, headache, or noise in my head. I have gained in weight three pounds, which I think is good for my age. I will be sixty-nine years old next summer. I have used Peruna since I started in February, and I use it yet. I feel cheerful and happy, thanks to Peruna. It will always be in my home and I recommend it to those who need it."

The More You Use Your Car The More You Need Good Tires

Your car's usefulness is increasing every day. It is becoming more and more of a real necessity to you—both in your business and home life.

For that very reason you need good tires, now, more than ever.

The out-and-out dependability that created so tremendous a demand for United States Tires in times of war is just as desirable today.

It reduces tire troubles to the vanishing point—multiplying the usefulness of your car and putting the cost of operation on a real thrift basis.

United States 'Nobby', 'Chain', 'Usco', and 'Plain' are the most popular fabric tires built. They have all the strength and stamina our years of experience have taught us to put into tires.

There is also the United States 'Royal Cord', the finest tire built for passenger car use.

Our nearest Sales and Service Depot dealer has exactly the treads you need for your car and the roads you travel.

He will gladly help you pick them out.

United States Tires are Good Tires

Very long ago some superstition attached to the dark bars of the filmy wings. These bars are always in the shape of the letter W, but few people remember that through a period of 13 or 17 years, and great significance is attached to it at each recurrence. Some prophet has arisen always to announce that the W on the locust's wings means "war." Since this outbreak will come just at the conclusion of the greatest war, and when the imagination of the rural prophet could hardly conjure up the likelihood of another one, some new explanation will apparently have to be found this time. But no doubt the cicada will, as usual, be greeted as a harbinger of disaster, and, as usual, there will be reports of deaths caused by stings of the cicada, a belief that has perished in spite of positive proof that the cicada has no sting; that only by the extremest accident could it inflict a wound either with bill or ovipositor, and that it could not in any case, inject a poison.

Any attempt to dispel the myths that recur as faithfully as the cicada is likely to be unavailing, since those who still believe in them probably will continue to do so regardless of anything that may be said. There is, however, another erroneous belief that may be somewhat shattered by a statement of the facts and that constitutes the main reason for press-agenting the cicada in advance of its arrival.

Upon every appearance of large broods of the cicada fear is aroused that trees will be destroyed, particularly young trees of the fruiting and ornamental species. There would seem to be some ground for such a fear. The number of the insects is so tremendous that one can hardly understand how they can deposit their eggs in the young and tender branches of the trees without killing them. Yet the fact remains that there have been outbreaks of cicadas in some sections of the United States in most of the years since this country was discovered and that no very grave damage ever yet has been done. Very young fruit trees sometimes are killed or seriously injured, but little or no permanent injury is done to the forest trees or mature trees of any kind, and measures of protection can be employed that will save the young and tender stock from serious injury.

Inasmuch as the coming 1919 brood of locusts may be one of the largest on record, it is particularly important to allay excessive fear of destruction to timber as well as to have people on guard, so that the few preventive measures possibly may be applied. The belief that the 1919 brood will be exceptionally large is based on the fact that the 17-year brood coming out this year is brood ten perhaps the largest of the 17-year broods, and that brood 18 of the 13-year family comes out at the same time. The year 1868 was the greatest locust year in history. In that year brood 19, the largest of the 13-year broods, appeared in conjunction with brood 10, the two combining to make an unprecedented infestation. The coincidence of the largest 17-year brood with a smaller 13-year brood this year will not bring about conditions approaching those of 1868.

The United States Department of Agriculture has long kept close check on all of the broods of both families, and is able to say with almost complete accuracy just when and over what territory any brood will appear. The work of classifying and locating the various broods with their periods of recurrence began a long while ago and was attended for some time with considerable confusion. It was generally believed that the period of recurrence was 17 years, but every once in a while there would be an outbreak that failed to coincide with any possible 17-year period and investigators were getting different results, with periods apparently ranging all the way from 10 to 17 years. All this work was done on the assumption that all periodical cicadas were alike, and the records were getting decidedly snarled before the discovery that the 13-year family is separate and distinct from the 17-year family.

The two broods due this year are brood 10, which belongs to the 17-year family, and brood 18, which belongs to the 13-year family. The former will appear mostly in the northern territory and the latter in southern territory; overlapping in the states of Tennessee, North Carolina, Georgia, and Alabama.

Latitude does not appear to materially affect the time of emergence from the ground, the cicada in the lake states coming out within a week or two of the same time as in the Gulf and South Atlantic states. This date ranges from the last week in May to the first in June, and the shrieking hosts may be looked for throughout the whole territory indicated at about that time. Late in May or early in June the under sides of leaves on practically all trees in dense broadleaved woods will be studded with the cast skins, and every wooded place will be resounding with the shrill drums.

A month later the deposition of eggs in branches will have become general. Of forest trees the oak and hickory appear to be preferred, though the cicada deposits eggs in all kinds of trees, with apparent tendency, however, to avoid pines and cedars, and such other species as exude gummy substances. Of orchard trees, the apple is the favorite, with peach and pear trees second; and all others, even grape vines, come in for some share of attention. In the case of large trees only slight and temporary injury is done, but with young orchards and nurseries the result may be fatal unless some protective measures are adopted.

Fear aroused by the presence of this insect in great numbers is out of proportion to the real damage likely to be done. People in infested sections should not become unduly alarmed, but should apply such methods of control as are possible. In young orchards and nurseries the safest method is the hand collection of the insects at the time of emergence or as soon afterwards as possible. Every cicada tries to climb some plant or tree immediately after coming out of the ground, and great numbers of them can be shaken off and collected in bags or umbrellas. This practice may be continued for an indefinite time after emergence and the work should be done very early in the morning or late in the evening when the insects are somewhat torpid and sluggish. If undertaken at the first appearance and repeated each day, control will be facilitated by the fact that most of the insects will be on the young trees or short branches or on the lower branches of large trees and within comparatively easy reach.

Most men carry loose change about them. It's easy to spend that way. But you don't care for a jingle in your jeans if you have a well-filled War Savings Certificate in your inside pocket. You can get more pleasure out of War Savings Stamps than you can by throwing money away. The jingle sounds good, but the filled War Savings Certificate feels better. Buy 'em, try 'em. W. S. S.

PIGS IN POKES

It is an American characteristic to shout when you win but never cheer when you lose. More's the pity. And shrewd stock swindlers have made the most of it. If only ten per cent of the victims who have traded their Liberty Bonds for worthless stocks in wild cat companies alone were to tell the country of their losses it would discourage this sort of bartering. But they will never do it. The man who is stung the hardest is the least likely to admit it. He simply grins and bears it.

Meantime thousands of Liberty Bond owners are considering surrendering their 3 1/2 and 4 1/2 per cent, for neatly printed and highly illuminated certificates that are 90 per cent pipe dreams.

Nine times out of ten these fellows who can the least afford to lose. There is some excuse for the man who lives in a developing oil field and sees and knows what is being done investing in a promoting company there.

But there is no apology to be made for the man who invests at long range. Who never sees what he is dumping his money into. Who takes only a salesman's word. Who, above all, trades in a Liberty Bond for a stock certificate. Keep your bonds. They're an investment, not a speculation.

LIVER DIDN'T ACT DIGESTION WAS BAD

Says 65 year Old Kentucky Lady, Who Tells How She Was Relieved After a Few Doses of Black-Draught.

Meadersville, Ky.—Mrs. Cynthia Higginbotham, of this town, says: "At my age, which is 65, the liver does not act so well as when young. A few years ago, my stomach was all out of fix. I was constipated, my liver didn't act. My digestion was bad, and it took so little to upset me. My appetite was gone. I was very weak. I decided I would give Black-Draught a thorough trial as I knew it was highly recommended for this trouble. I began taking it. I felt better after a few doses. My appetite improved and I became stronger. My bowels acted naturally and the least trouble was soon righted with a few doses of Black-Draught." Seventy years of successful use has made Theodor's Black-Draught a standard, household remedy. Every member, of every family, at times, need the help that Black-Draught can give in cleansing the system and relieving the troubles that come from constipation, indigestion, lazy liver, etc. You cannot keep well unless your stomach, liver and bowels are in good working order. Keep them that way. Try Black-Draught. It acts promptly, gently and in a natural way. If you feel sluggish, take a dose tonight. You will feel fresh tomorrow. Price 25c a package—One cent a dose. A Terrible Ordeal!

Gravel and Kidney Stone Caused Intense Suffering—Doan's Brought a Quick Cure.

Edw. J. Turcek, 4332 Eichelburger Ave., St. Louis, Mo., says: "I was taken with a terrible pain across the back and every move I made, felt like a knife being driven into my back and twisted around. It lasted about half an hour, but soon came back and with it another affliction. The kidney secretions began to pain me; the flow was scanty and burned like fire when passing. I had severe headaches and my bladder got badly inflamed, too, and I noticed little particles of gravel in the secretions. Doan's Kidney Pills had been recommended to me and I began their use. The first half-box brought relief and I passed a stone the size of a pea. It was a terrible ordeal and afterwards a sandy sediment and particles of gravel settled in the urine. I got more of the pills and they cured me. The inflammation left and there was no more pain or gravel. I now sleep well, eat well and my kidney is normally functioning. Doan's Kidney Pills alone accomplished this wonderful cure."

"Subscribed and sworn to before me," JAMES M. SMITH, Notary Public.

Weekly Health Talks

Where Most Sickness Begins and Ends

BY FRANKLIN DUANE, M. D.

It can be said broadly that most human life begins in the stomach and ends in the stomach. Good digestion means good health, and poor digestion means bad health. The minute your stomach fails to properly dispose of the food you eat, troubles begin to crop out in various forms. Indigestion and dyspepsia are the commonest forms, but thin, impure blood, headaches, backaches, pimples, blotches, dizziness, belching, coated tongue, weakness, poor appetite, sleeplessness, coughs, colds and bronchitis are almost as common. There is but one way to have good health, and that is to put and keep your stomach in good order. This is hard to do if you use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is a wonderful tonic and blood purifier, and is so safe to take, for it is made of roots and herbs. Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., stands behind this standard medicine, and it is good to know that so distinguished a physician is proud to have his name identified with it. When you take Golden Medical Discovery, you are getting the benefit of the experience of a doctor whose reputation goes all around the earth. Still more, you get a temperance medicine that contains not a drop of alcohol or narcotic of any kind. Long ago Dr. Pierce combined certain valuable vegetable ingredients—without the use of alcohol—so that these remedies always have been strictly temperance medicines.

If piles are torturing you, get and use Pierce's Anodyne Pile Ointment. The quick relief it gives is hard to believe until you try it. If constipated Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be taken while using Anodyne Pile Ointment. Few indeed are the cases which these splendid remedies will not relieve and usually overcome. They are so good that nearly every drug store has them for sale.

CHAPTER XII.

Something Carolyn May Wishes to Know.

Carolyn May's heart was filled with trouble. This was the result of her first talk with the old sailor. Not from him, nor from anybody else, did Carolyn May get any direct information that the sailor had been aboard the Dunraven on her fatal voyage. But his story awoke in the child's breast doubts and longings, uncertainties and desires that had lain dormant for many weeks. Uncle Joe and Aunt Rose loved her and were kind to her. But that feeling of "emptiness" that had at first so troubled Carolyn May was returning. She began to droop. Keen-eyed Aunt Rose discovered this physical change very quickly.

"Yes, sir. Do people that get drowned feel much pain? Is it a sufferin' way to die? I want to know, Benjamin, 'cause my papa and mamma died that way," continued the child, whooping a little. "It does seem as though I'd just got to know."

"Aye, aye," muttered the man. "I see. An' I kin tell ye, Car'lyn May, as close as anybody kin. I've been so near drownin' myself that they thought I was dead when I was hauled aboard. 'Comin' back from drownin' is a whole lot worse than bein' drownin'. You take it from me."

"Well," sighed Carolyn May, "I'm glad to know that. It bothered me a good deal. If my mamma and papa had to be dead, maybe that was the nicest way for them to go."

It was always dark enough in the little back office in winter for the hardware dealer to have a lamp burning. So he did not notice the snow flurry that had taken Sunrise Cove in its arms until he chanced to walk out to the front of the store for needed exercise. "I declare to man, it's snowing!" muttered Joseph Stagg. "Thought we'd got through with that for this season." He opened the store door. There was a chill, clammy wind, and the snow was damp and packed quickly under foot.

"Hum! If that Chet Gormley were here now, he might be of some use for once," thought Mr. Stagg. Suddenly he bethought him of the errand that had taken the boy away from the store.

"Hey, Stagg!" shouted a shopkeeper from over the way, who had likewise come to the door, "did you hear that?"

"Hear what?" asked Joseph Stagg, puzzled.

"There she goes again! That's ice, old man. She's breaking up. We'll have spring with us in no time now."

The reverberating crash that had startled Chet Gormley had startled Joseph Stagg as well.

"My goodness!" gasped the hardware dealer, and he started instantly away from the store, bareheaded as he was, without locking the door behind him—something he had never done before, since he had established himself in business on the main street of Sunrise Cove.

Just why he ran he could scarcely have explained. Of course, the children had not gone out in this snow-storm! Mrs. Gormley—little sense as

So, as a stimulant and a preventive of "droopiness," Aunt Rose prescribed boneset tea, "plenty of it."

Three times a day Carolyn May was dosed with boneset tea. How long the child's stomach would have endured under this treatment will never be known. Carolyn May got no better, that was sure; but one day something happened.

Winter had moved on in its usual frosty and snowy way. Carolyn May had kept up all her interests—after a fashion.

Benjamin Hardy had gone to Adams' camp to work. It seemed he could use a peevy, or canthook, pretty well, having done something besides sailing in his day. Tim, the hackman, worked at logging in the winter months, too. He usually went past the Stagg place with a team four times each day.

There was something Carolyn May wished to ask Benjamin Hardy, but she did not want anybody else to know what it was—not even Uncle Joe or Aunt Rose. Once in the fall and before the snow came she had ridden as far as Adams' camp with Mr. Parlow. He had gone there for some hickory wood.

But, now, to ride on the empty sled going in and on top of the load of logs coming out of the forest, Carolyn May felt sure, would be much more exciting. She mentioned her desire to Uncle Joe on a Friday evening.

"Well, now, if it's pleasant, I don't see anything to forbid. Do you, Aunt Rose?" Mr. Stagg returned.

"I presume Tim will take the best of care of her," the woman said. "Maybe, getting out more in the air will make her look less peaked, Joseph Stagg."

The excitement of preparing to go to the camp the next morning brought the roses into Carolyn May's cheeks and made her eyes sparkle. When Tim, the hackman, went into town with his first load he was forewarned by Aunt Rose that he would have company going back.

"Pitcher of George Washington!" exclaimed Tim. "The boys will near 'bout take a holiday."

There was but one woman in the camp, Judy Mason. She lived in one of the log huts with her husband. He was a sawyer, and Judy did the men's washing.

Benjamin Hardy was pleased, indeed, to see his little friend again. "You come with me, please," she whispered to the old seaman after dip-

Since Joseph Stagg had listened to the rambling tale of the sailor regarding the sinking of the Dunraven, he had borne the fate of his sister and her husband much in mind.

He had come no nearer to deciding what to do with the apartment in New York and its furnishings.

After listening to Benjamin Hardy's story, the hardware dealer felt less inclined than before to close up the affairs of Carolyn May's small "estate." Not that he for a moment believed that there was a possibility of Hannah and her husband being alive. Five months had passed. In these days of wireless telegraph and fast sea traffic such a thing could not be possible. The imagination of the practical hardware merchant could not visualize it.

One day when Carolyn May was visiting Mrs. Gormley Chet burst in quite unexpectedly, for it was not yet mid-afternoon.

"Mr. Stagg has let me off to take Carolyn May sled," the ice man said. "The sled ain't goin' to be safe in the cove for long now. Spring's in the air 'ready. Both brooks are runnin' full."

Carolyn May was delighted. Although the sky was overcast and a storm threatening when they got down on the ice, neither the boy nor the little girl gave the weather a second thought. Nor had Mr. Stagg considered the weather when he had allowed Chet to leave the store that afternoon.

Chet strapped on his skates, and then settled the little girl firmly on her sled, with Prince riding behind.

The boy harnessed himself with the long tow rope and skated away from the shore, dragging the sled after him at a brisk pace.

"Oh, my!" squealed Carolyn May, "there isn't anybody else on the ice."

"We won't run into nobody, then," laughed the boy.

It was too misty outside the cove to see the open water; but it was there, and Chet knew it as well as anybody. He had no intention of taking any risks—especially with Carolyn May in his charge.

The wind blew out of the cove, too. As they drew away from the shelter of the land they felt its strength.

Naturally, neither the boy nor the little girl—and surely not the dog—looked back toward the land. Otherwise, they would have seen the snow flurry that swept down over the town and quickly hid it from the cove.

Chet was skating his very swiftest. Carolyn May was screaming with delight. Prince barked joyfully. And, suddenly, in a startling fashion, they came to a fissure in the ice!

The boy darted to one side, heeled on his right skate, and stopped. He had jerked the sled aside, too, yelling to Carolyn May to "hold fast!" But Prince was flung from it, and scrambled over the ice, barking loudly.

"Oh, dear me!" cried Carolyn May. "You stopped too quick, Chet Gormley. Goodness! There's a hole in the ice!"

"And I didn't see it till we was almost in it," acknowledged Chet. "It's more'n a hole. Why! there's a great field of ice broke off and sailin' out into the lake."

"Oh, my!" gasped the little girl. The boy knew at once that he must be careful in making his way home with the little girl. Having seen one great fissure in the ice, he might come upon another. It seemed to him as though the ice under his feet was in motion. In the distance was the sound of a reverberating crash that could mean but one thing. The ice in the cove was breaking up!

The waters of the two brooks were pouring down into the cove. Spring had really come, and the annual freshet was likely now to force the ice entirely out of the cove and open the way for traffic in a few hours.

"Where's That Plagued Boy?"

he believed the seamstress possessed—would not have allowed them to venture.

Yet, why had Chet not returned? He quickened his pace. He was running—slipping and sliding over the wet snow—when he turned into the street on which his store boy and his widowed mother lived.

Mrs. Gormley saw him coming from the windows of the tiny front room. Mr. Stagg plunged into the little house, head down, and belligerent.

"Where's that plagued boy?" he demanded. "Don't tell me he's taken Hannah's Car'lyn out on the cove in this storm!"

"But—you told him he could!" wailed the widow.

"What if I did? I didn't know 'twas going to snow like this, did it?"

"But it wasn't snowin' when they went," said Mrs. Gormley, plucking up some little spirit. "I'm sure it wasn't Chetwood's fault. Oh, dear!"

"Woman," groaned Joseph Stagg, "it doesn't matter whose fault it is—or if it's anybody's fault. The mischief's done. The ice is breaking up. It's drifting out of the inlet."

Just at this moment an unexpected voice broke into the discussion.

"Are you positive they went out on the cove to slide, Mrs. Gormley?"

"Oh, yes, I be, Mandy," answered the seamstress. "Chet said he was goin' there, and what Chet says he'll do, he always does."

"Then the ice has broken away and they have been carried out into the lake," groaned Mr. Stagg.

Mandy Parlow came quickly to the little hall.

"Perhaps not, Joseph," she said, speaking directly to the hardware dealer. "It may be the storm. It snows so fast they would easily get turned around—be unable to land the shore."

Another reverberating crash echoed from the cove. Mrs. Gormley wrung her hands.

"Oh, my Chet! Oh, my Chet!" she wailed. "He'll be drowned!"

"He won't be, if he's got any sense," snapped Mr. Stagg. "I'll get some men and we'll go after them."

"Call the dog, Joseph Stagg. Call the dog," advised Miss Amanda.

"Heh? Didn't Prince go with 'em?"

"Oh, yes, he did," wailed Mrs. Gormley.

"I've Been So Near Drownin' Myself, That They Thought I Was Dead When I Was Hauled Inboard."

her. "You can smoke. You haven't got to go back to work yet, and Tim is only just loading his sled. So we can talk."

"Aye, aye, little miss. What'll we talk about?" queried Benjamin cautiously, for he remembered that he was to be very circumspect in his conversation with her.

"I want you to tell me something, Benjamin," she said.

"Sail ahead, matey," he responded with apparent heartiness, filling his pipe meanwhile.

"Why, Benjamin—you must know,

CHAPTER XIII.

The Chapel Bell.

If Joseph Stagg had obeyed the precept of his little niece on this particular afternoon and had been "looking up," instead of having his nose in the big ledger, making out monthly statements, he might have discovered the coming storm in season to withdraw his permission to Chet to take Carolyn May out on the ice.

A CHILD GETS SICK CROSS, FEVERISH IF CONSTIPATED

LOOK AT TONGUE! THEN GIVE FRUIT LAXATIVE FOR STOMACH, LIVER, BOWELS.

"CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS" CAN'T HARM CHILDREN AND THEY LOVE IT.

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign the little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."—Adv.

The demise of the oldest inhabitant can usually be attributed to the fact that he was born too many years ago.

Shave With Cuticura Soap And double your razor efficiency as well as promote skin purity, skin comfort and skin health. No mug, no slimy soap, no germs, no waste, no irritation even when shaved twice daily. One soap for all uses—shaving, bathing and shampooing.—Adv.

The deserving poor are often those who don't deserve to be poor.

HAARLEM OIL CAPSULES IF YOUR BACK ACHES

Do you feel tired and "worn-out"? Are you nervous and irritable? Don't sleep well at night? Have a "dragged out," unrested feeling when you get up in the morning? Dizzy spells? Bilious? Bad taste in the mouth, backache, pain or soreness in the loins, and abdomen? Severe distress when urinating, bloody, cloudy urine or sediment? All these indicate gravel or stone in the bladder, or that the poisonous microbes, which are always in your system, have attacked your kidneys.

You should use GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules immediately. The oil soaks gently into the walls and lining of the kidneys, and the little poisonous animal germs, which are causing the inflammation, are immediately attacked and chased out of your system without inconvenience or pain.

Don't ignore the "little pains and aches," especially backaches. They may be little now but there is no telling how soon a dangerous or fatal disease of which they are the forerunners may show itself. Go after the cause of that backache at once, or you may find yourself in the grip of an incurable disease.

Do not delay a minute. Go to your druggist and insist on his supplying you with a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. In 24 hours you will feel renewed health and vigor. After you have cured yourself, continue to take one or two Capsules each day so as to keep in first-class condition, and ward off the danger of future attacks. Money refunded if they do not help you. Ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand, and thus be sure of getting the genuine.—Adv.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By Rev. F. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Teacher of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)
(Copyright, 1918, Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR FEBRUARY 23

THE BREACH OF THE COVENANT AND MOSES' PRAYER FOR ISRAEL.

(May Be Used With Missionary Application.)
LESSON TEXT—Exodus 32:1-34:3.
GOLDEN TEXT—The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much.—James 5:16.
ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Deut. 9:8-20; Eph. 3:14-21; James 5:16-18.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Ask God's help for others. Memory Verse—James 5:16.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Praying for other people.
INTERMEDIATE TOPIC—Interceding for others.
SENIOR AND ADULT TOPIC—The value of intercessory prayer.

Less than six weeks have elapsed since Israel took the oath of allegiance to Jehovah. In less than forty days they flagrantly break the first and second commandments.

- I. The Golden Calf (32:1-6).
Moses' delay (v. 1) This they interpreted to mean that their leader had either lost his way in the darkness or had perished in the fire that hovered over the mount.
2. The people's demand (v. 1). They demanded of Aaron that he make them a god to go before them. Their profession of allegiance to God collapsed as soon as the strong personality of their leader was no longer felt.
- 3. Aaron's cowardly compliance (vv. 2-4). He was an eloquent man, but lacked moral courage. Many today can talk fluently, but vacillate before the real issues of life. In order to gain time with the rebels he demanded that they cast off their jewelry and bring it to him. Perhaps he thought that their love for it would cause them to forego their demands, but they cheerfully gave up their jewelry for a false god. Aaron, like many compromising men of this age, opened a door which he could not shut.
- 4. Wanton revelry (vv. 5, 6). Seeing their disposition, Aaron erected an altar and proclaimed a fast unto Jehovah. He no doubt wished them to worship the Lord through the image, but he had made a god for them and it was a very short step to the heathen orgies connected with idolatrous worship.
- II. God's Burning Wrath (32:7-10). God's nature is such that he cannot tolerate a rival. No gods shall be before his face. The rival must be removed or the people must be consumed with divine wrath. God does not own them as his people, for they had cast him off.
- III. The Mediation of Moses (32:11-14). The declaration of a divine purpose to destroy the Israelites did not deter Moses from making intercession for them. What was his threefold plea? (vv. 11, 12, 13).
Moses knew full well that the people deserved to die, therefore he could not plead any merit on their part. His plea was based wholly on God's purpose for Israel. Through his intercession God relents.
- IV. Judgment Falls (32:15-35).
1. Moses broke the tables of testimony (vv. 15-19) emblematic of the breach of their covenant with God.
2. Moses destroyed the image (v. 20) and made the people drink of the water which contained its dust, thus making them to experience in a physical sense the bitterness which results from sin.
3. Moses showed Aaron that he was inexcusable for his part in the disgraceful affair (vv. 21-24).
4. Moses called for those who would take a stand for the Lord to gird their swords and slay all who stood out in rebellion. The tribe of Levi ranged themselves on his side and became the instrument by which God chastened his people (vv. 25-29).
5. Moses confessed the great sin of the people and begged that God would forgive them. He was willing to suffer the punishment himself, if possible, and let the people go free. The Lord declared to him in answer that every man should bear his own sin (vv. 30-35).
- V. The Covenant Renewed (33:1-4:9).
1. Moses' commission renewed (Ch. 33).
2. The second tables of the law given (34:1-9). In the giving of these tables he reiterated God's justice, but gave particular emphasis to his mercy. "The Lord God, merciful and gracious, long-suffering and abundant in goodness and truth, keeping mercy for thousands, forgiving iniquity and transgression and sin, and that will by no means clear the guilty; visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children, and upon the children's children, unto the third and fourth generation."

What to Pray For.
Oh, do not pray for easy lives. Pray to be stronger men. Do not pray for tasks equal to your powers. Pray for powers equal to your tasks. Then the doing of your work shall be no miracle. But you shall be a miracle. Every day you shall wonder at yourself, at the richness of life which has come to you by the grace of God.—Phillips Brooks.

Fellowship.
Those who follow Christ are blessed with the fellowship of Christ. Where there is fellowship there is fellowship.

DREADED FOR NIGHT TO COME

Texas Lady, In Pretty Bad Fix, Heard of Cardui, Tried It, And Now Says It Saved Her Life.

Chilton, Texas.—Mrs. Mary Reese, of this place, states: "Some time ago I was quite sick and suffering a great deal. I had been suffering quite awhile . . . At times I had such severe pains in my back, across my hips and in my sides,—I was in a pretty bad fix . . . was so restless I dreaded for night to come. Having heard of Cardui, I thought I'd try it . . . I commenced to get better with my first bottle. I took six bottles of Cardui, and will tell any woman what this Cardui Home Treatment can and will do if taken according to directions. We not only feel it cured but . . . most likely saved my life. I am able to do my work with ease and know Cardui did it."

Cardui has been found to relieve many womanly pains and ailments, and thousands of women have written to tell of the benefit it has been to them, in cases of female troubles and weakness.

Cardui is prepared from mild, medicinal ingredients, which act as a tonic and help build up health and strength in a natural manner.

Try Cardui. At druggists.—Adv.

I am Sincere! Stop Calomel! I Guarantee Dodson's Liver Tone

Listen to me! Calomel sickens and you may lose a day's work. If bilious, constipated or headachy read my guarantee.

Live up your sluggish liver! Feel fine and cheerful; make your work a pleasure; be vigorous and full of ambition. But take no nasty, dangerous calomel, because it makes you sick and you may lose a day's work. Calomel is mercury or quicksilver, which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel crashes into sour bile like dynamite, breaking it up. That's when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. Listen to me! If you want to enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced, just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone tonight. Your druggist or dealer sells you a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents under my personal money-back guarantee that each spoonful will clean your sluggish liver better than a dose of nasty calomel and that it won't make you sick. Dodson's Liver Tone is real liver medicine. You'll know it next morning, because you will wake up feeling fine, your liver will be working; headache and dizziness gone; stomach will be sweet and bowels regular. Dodson's Liver Tone is entirely vegetable, therefore harmless and can not salivate. Give it to your children. Millions of people are using Dodson's Liver Tone instead of dangerous calomel now. Your druggist will tell you that the sale of calomel is almost stopped entirely here.—Adv.

Pat's Whereabouts.
In a small village in Ireland the mother of a soldier met the village priest, who asked her if she had had bad news. "Sure, I have," she said. "Pat has been killed." "Oh, I am very sorry," said the priest. "Did you receive word from the war office?" "No," she said. "I received word from himself." The priest looked perplexed, and said, "But how is that?" "Sure," she said, "here is the letter; read it for yourself." The letter said, "Dear Mother—I am now in the Holy land."

Painful End.
"Jimmie" said Aunt Nell, "I saw you reading very intently last night. Did the story end happily?" "Naw," said Aunt Nell, "I saw 'Diamond Dick' and pa came in and caught me just as I was finishin' the last chapter."

The Drawback.

Tired Nervous Mothers

Should Profit by the Experience of These Two Women

Buffalo, N. Y.—"I am the mother of four children, and for nearly three years I suffered from a female trouble with pains in my back and side, and a general weakness. I had professional attendance most of that time but did not seem to get well. As a last resort I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which I had seen advertised in the newspapers, and in two weeks noticed a marked improvement. I continued its use and am now free from pain and able to do all my household work."—Mrs. B. B. ZIELINSKA, 202 Weiss Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Portland, Ind.—"I had a displacement and suffered so badly from it at times I could not be on my feet at all. I was all run down and so weak I could not do my household work, was nervous and could not be down at night. I took treatments from a physician but they did not help me. My Aunt recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I tried it and now I am strong and well again and do my own work and I give Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound the credit."—Mrs. JOSEPHINE KIMBLE, 935 West Race Street, Portland, Ind.
