

Floyd County Boys Win Again In 4-H Club Contests

Henry Neil Schacht of Lockney was declared National 4-H Garden Contest winner and Jack Brock of the Sand Hill Community was also declared second place National Leadership winner at Chicago this week according to A. L. Hartzog, County Agent. Henry Neil and Jack are both club members having many outstanding club achievements to their credit. Earl Edwards, Jr., another outstanding Floyd County 4-H club boy is a contender for the National 4-H Achievement Contest Award. His record is also that of a state and National winner because of his having won the National 4-H Dairy Production Contest in 1945 and the National 4-H Dairy Cattle Judging Contest in 1946. Earl Jr. also won the Santa Fe trip to Chicago in 1944 and was 3rd place achievement winner in the nation last year. He was twice a Producers' Talent Club contest winner and has won many dairy show placings with his fine herd of Registered Jerseys. He went by plane to Columbus, Ohio in October to exhibit two of his Registered Jersey heifers in the All American Jersey Show. He was awarded second place in showmanship and one of his heifers, Draconis Sparkle Pilgrim C. was first in the Junior Yearling class of the junior division.

Henry Neil Schacht, age 16, now a student in Tech has been declared the 4-H Garden winner in the nation, having won the State Contest the last 4 years. This will be his first trip to Chicago to the National 4-H Congress and he will receive a $200 scholarship. He won the Anderson Clayton Cotton scholarship of $100 in 1945 and has been an outstanding junior club leader, conducting fine turkey demonstrations and excellent swine demonstrations as a Cow-Hog-Hen contest winner. He has also fed and shown a number of beef calves and carried crops of milo and corn as demonstrations in addition to his garden work. He is eligible for four more years of club work.

Jack Brock, age 18, won the Producers' Grain Talent Club Award of $25 in 1942. He invested the $25 in conducting a soy bean demonstration using seventeen (17) different varieties. In 1943 he won the Santa Fe Award trip to Chicago and in 1944 was declared National 4-H Safety Contest winner receiving a trip to Chicago and a $200 scholarship. His outstanding leadership in community 4-H activities gave him a trip to Washington D. C. to the National 4-H Encampment with all expenses paid in 1946 and he was declared State Leadership winner and 4th place National Leadership contestant later in the year. In addition to this year's Leadership Award of a $100 scholarship and an all expense paid trip to Chicago Jack served as Chairman of the State 4-H Club Round-Up at College Station for the second time and was awarded a 10 days vacation trip to the Danforth Foundation Youth Camp at Camp Miniwanea in Canada just across the line from Shelby, Michigan.

Jack and Henry Neil will leave from Plainview, Friday, Nov. 28 to join the 4-H Club Delegation at Amarillo enroute to Chicago under the supervision of Mr. W. I. Glass of College Station, a District Agent of the A and M. College Extension Service.

LONGHORNS FALL BEFORE PADUCAH

The Lockney Longhorns lost a ball game—and probably a clear title to the district 4A championship—last Friday night at Paducah by one point. That one point would have given the Longhorns the ball game but they didn't make it, so they lost. The score was 7-6.

Playing on a wet field with a cold norther blowing, the Longhorns didn't seem to be at their best, but at that they beat the Paducah team every way but the score. Statistics showed that the Longhorns had 11 first downs to Paducah's four. They had three penetrations to Paducah's one. They gained probably twice as much ground as the Cottle County lads but they're still paying off in ball games on the score so Paducah won the game.

Since Ralls upset Spur the same night to break the three-way tie for district honors, and since the rule is that where two teams tie, the winner of the game when these two teams met will represent the district in the bi-district game then it is probably that Paducah will have the honor of representing this district against Shamrock. The only possibility of the Longhorns still winning a title to district honors is for Matador to defeat Paducah this Thursday. The two teams play at Matador and (Continued on back page.)

Farmers Urged To Vote On Program

Every farmer in Floyd county who is eligible to vote in the farm program elections to be held in the county during the next few weeks should vote, G. B. Johnston, chairman of the county agricultural conservation committee advises. Elections will be held in three communities, Cedar Hill, Lockney, and Floydada, on December 8, 8:00 until 5:00 p. m. The polling places are Cedar Hill Store, Lockney Beacon Office, and Floyd County Court House.

The chairman advises that all persons participating in the 1947 Agricultural Conservation Program, the Sugar Program, a crop loan, or who had a Federal Crop Insurance contract in 1947 are eligible to vote, whether owners, operator, tenant or sharecropper.

These annual elections give farmers an opportunity to make their voice heard in the development and administration of farm programs," Mr. Johnston said. "And since every farmer has an interest in seeing that the national programs fit local needs, he should use this opportunity to select the men to administer the program who will best carry out this responsibility."

"With continued demand for food, and corresponding heavy drain on the soil, farmer committeemen will be confronted with many decisions affecting current and future production. Farmers will be called upon to do all they can to produce the abundance of food and fiber needed for consumers in this country and to share with the hungry of other countries. As the demand for food and fiber increases, the conservation of soil and water becomes more important. All of these, together with a need for a better understanding of the farm program and what it is accomplishing for the benefit of the consumer as well as the farmer, are reasons why every eligible farmer in Floyd county should vote in the coming election."

Down Comfort Exhibit Attracts Attention

By Lella Petty
County Home Demonstration Agent
The satin comfort exhibit in the J. C. Penny Company Store window the past week-end has received many favorable comments. The exhibit was made to show one phase of home demonstration work during the year, and only a very small percentage of the comforts made over the county were shown.

Comforts filled with down or wool give warmth with little weight. Those shown in the exhibit were covered with "Down" satin, a material ordered co-operatively by Marketing Committees in Home Demonstration Clubs. Wool bats were bought from stores but the down used came from old feather beds or pillows. The finished comforts are very lovely as well as practical, and the total cost is much below the retail prices of such articles.

Down comforts shown belonged to Mrs. J. V. Greer, Center Home Demonstration Club; and Mrs. Mal Jarboe, Friendship Home Demonstration Club. The wool-filled comforts belonged to Mrs. Jarboe and to Mrs. A. H. Kreis, Friendship Club; Mrs. Harold McLaughlin, Providence Club; and Mrs. Lon Hlasingame, Sunnyside Home Demonstration Club.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY!

71 Percent Of Taxes Are Collected Now

Mrs. Ethel Graham, county tax assessor-collector, reported this week that 71% of state, county and school taxes which go through her office, have been collected. This is the best record the office has ever had on collection of taxes. Mrs. Graham said. At this time last year 53% of the taxes had been collected.

The total amount of taxes collected is $161,413.33. The total this time last year was $100,152.32.

The 2% discount on taxes holds good until Dec. 3, Mrs. Graham said. After that date, 1% discount will be allowed.

Baptists Vote To Purchase Camp Site Near Floydada

Representatives of Baptist District 9 meeting at the First Baptist Church in Plainview Monday voted to purchase a new site for the district camp.

Tentative plans call for acquiring approximately 75 acres along White River about ten miles southeast of Floydada. The plot is located east of the highway and is situated nearer the center of the District than was the Palo Duro camp site which has been sold.

Dr. A. Hope Owen, pastor of the Plainview First Baptist Church, chairman of the camp site committee, reported to the church representatives on availability and adaptability of various sites.

A committee is soon to open negotiations for acquiring the White River plot, Dr. Owen said.

The meeting discussed the District convention scheduled at Spur early in 1948.

Football District Grouping Undecided

A story carried in daily newspapers this week listed the 1948 football districts and omitted from this district the schools of Lockney, Matador and Crosbyton. The list also made other changes, among them being the addition of Abernathy to the present district, the dropping of Brownfield and Childers from Class AA to Class A ratings.

However, the league stated, "the privilege of voting in other schools remain, but the state office does not think it wise in most instances to admit schools from a lower classification."

The grouping is decided on the number in high school with those below 200 enrolled in high school being in Class B, from 200 to 499 in Class A, and over 500 in Class AA. Since Crosbyton, Lockney and Matador do not have as many as 200 enrolled in high school they were not listed in the tentative grouping. However, as brought out in the statement from Austin, the districts may admit schools from a lower classification if they see fit. This has been the situation for years.

Supt. Sidney Reeves said Tuesday that he was sure the Lockney school could be admitted to Class A football competition. He said that his office had taken no steps as yet to secure entry in the district for 1948.

ROAD BOND VOTE FAILS; MAY CALL SECOND ELECTION

Just what steps will be taken to call another road bond vote in Floyd County was uncertain late Wednesday. At least two sets of petitions are being circulated according to information given The Beacon. One group is circulating a petition asking that the same county-wide bond issue be re-submitted to the people. They believe that the people of the county are aroused to a point of interest to where the issue will carry by a good majority. The Beacon was informed Wednesday that petitions asking that the $300,000 bond issue be submitted again to the voters of the county has been filed with the County Clerk. The Court is required to call the elections if the petitions are filed and are in order, it was said.

Meanwhile, another set of petitions are being circulated asking the Court to call an election in Precinct Two to determine if this precinct shall issue $240,000 in road bonds to be used for the same purpose—hard surfacing roads. The plan here is given in the following story:

Road District Planned

At a meeting here Friday night, a group of men representing most parts of Precinct 2, made tentative plans to ask the Commissioners Court to form a road district of this precinct so that the precinct might vote bonds and pave roads under the Highway Department's plan, The Beacon has been informed.

The group, working out a program that might be completed in two years, tentatively laid out 31 miles of roads that might be paved in this precinct so as to serve a large part of the population. The roads were the Rock Creek road, running north to Lone Star gin with cut offs to Lone Star school and Sterley measuring 13 miles; the road north from Aiken to Providence school, 8 miles; the road south from Lockney by the Pleasant Valley school house to the precinct line, 5 1/2 miles; and a road running south from the J. R. Belt place on Highway 70 3 1/4 miles thence west one mile to Irick school house.

One member of the group told The Beacon, "All of these roads are shorter than they ought to be, but we felt that we ought to hold the plans down to a mileage that we could reasonably expect to get paved and let the lengthening of the paved roads, or the paving of other roads be done on future plans."

It was mentioned that it would cost $250,000 to pave the roads mentioned.

Floyd County's road bond issue was defeated at the polls Saturday by a small margin. With only 728 votes being cast in the county, the issue lost by 11 votes too few for the issue or five votes too many against it. The proposed issue was for $300,000 and the plan was to participate in the State Highway Department's farm-to-market road program.

The light voting in the election was probably due in a large measure to the extremely muddy roads. However, many local people just "forgot" to go vote, a survey here showed.

Lockney voters put their approval on the issue to the tune of 88 for to 16 against, considerably more than the necessary two-thirds majority. Floydada voters approved it 144 for (Continued on Page 4.)

Cotton Harvest Starts Again As Skies Clear

Harvesting of cotton was back in full swing Wednesday. Skies cleared the first of this week after nearly two weeks of rainy, misty weather and pullers went back to the fields Tuesday.

Rain over the weekend added 13 of an inch to the total of 1.05 that had fallen up to that time, making a total of 1.18 inches of moisture during the past two weeks.

Lockney gins were running at full speed Wednesday. A total of 6448 bales had been ginned here up to Wednesday noon.

HISTORY STILL REPEATS ITSELF

The following editorial is reprinted from the Wichita Beacon:

"Lack of understanding on the part of men who are running our government appears to be as much to blame for the chaotic conditions of prices and supply as any other one factor."

"Remember back in the days of the depression when the government was recommending plowing under crops because they were in too abundant supply? Those same experts today are trying to 'plow under' markets because the demand is too great."

"It doesn't take a student of economics to tell our government that prices are governed almost entirely by supply and demand—regardless of the controls placed on either as an artificial stimulus for increased or decreased prices."

SCHOOL DAYS

By DWIG

"The plain truth is that our supply is high, but our demand is greater because of the export policies which this country has followed and is following. Suddenly there has been a drastic cut in export allocations of grain and flour in an effort to retard the upward trend of prices."

"Looking back over the years, it isn't difficult to see that history repeats itself. Wheat after the Civil war sold for $2.85; after the Russo-Turkish war it soared to $2.45; it went to $1.85 after the Spanish-American war, and to $3.50 after the first world war..."

"Regardless of who is running America, the first truth which must be realized is the old fundamental economic law of supply and demand. It has never failed. It will, regardless of subsidies, grants, doles, price-gogging or other artificial stimuli. When the supply is good, prices tend to be lower. When supply is short, prices are high (provided there is no price control, in which case the short supply usually finds better customers in the black market-at high prices)."

"We are experiencing high wheat prices because 40 per cent of the crop is going out of the country. We are experiencing high meat prices for the same reason. However, we are witnessing high corn prices because the crop this year was 800,000,000 bushels short because of weather factors. In any instance, the avail-

would increase industrial strife, and which would pit class against class. The boring from within technique has been detailed and perfected by the advocates of the super-state from Marx on down. It is an essential prelude to revolution and internal chaos which permits a "strong man" to seize power.

A nation can save itself from ultimate dictatorship in only one way-by aggressively fighting every movement which would in any way circumscribe economic and social freedom. There can be no such thing as a limited freedom. We will have all or none. The forces of totalitarianism count heavily upon American blindness and tolerance as an aid to their work. The American people must prove them mistaken.

IS AMERICA BLIND?

It is an ironical fact that American communists and fellow travelers always scream to high heaven about their Constitutional rights when called to the witness stand. They fervidly embrace the protections which the communist ideology, by its very essence, is determined to destroy.

They have, of course, a perfect right to do this—the Constitution was drawn to defend the liberties of people of all political faiths, all races, and all creeds. But there is a grim humor in seeing it used as a defense by men and women who would destroy it.

From the point of view of the individual, there is little difference between a communist, a nazi, a fascist, or a fascist government. Every kind of totalitarian state is built on the same set of principles. Every one of them says, in effect, that the state is supreme and that the individual is nothing. There can be no such thing as personal liberty—the right to do, think and speak what one pleases. They are concerned with men and women only in the mass—as millions of slaves who may be used ruthlessly to advance the purpose of the state.

In the country, the totalitarian forces are small in number. But are extremely well organized, and they are adept at deception and deceit. They are skilled at waving the flag and at demanding in the name of democracy measures which would destroy democracy. They are solidly behind every project which would weaken free enterprise, which

The Texas Safety Association says if your thinking runs like this, you're living on borrowed time. Accident is no respecter of persons, time, nor places.

LET US RETURN TO THANKSGIVING!

The Pilgrims came to the shores of this country to seek a better way of living . . . they brought with them also a better way of life. The Word of God was their inseparable companion . . . the church the center of their activities. When harvest came, they proclaimed a Day of Thanksgiving . . . not just a day for joyful celebration, but a day in which to give special thanks to God for His protection, His care, His generosity toward them. Let us today not forget their example.

This is a diesel age, some engineers say, and 192 six-cylinder, twin diesel engines are now on sale until December 1 through the Customer Service Center of the Grand Prairie office of War Assets Administration. They are offered at fixed prices to prospective users and to dealers. They are all used and are located at Red River Arsenal near Texarkansas, Texas.

A final block of 127 buildings at Blackland Army Air Field at Waco passed into private ownership as a crowd of 250 persons in attendance at a War Assets Administration public sale quickly bid them off for removal from the grounds recently. Less than four hours after the sale opening at 9:00 a. m., all property listed as surplus except a pistol range and an 8 by 16 foot salvage office had been awarded to the bidders. WAA officials said the sale would be chalked up as netting a good cash recovery for the government, "as good or better than" similar sales held recently.

Highest bidders are to get designated lots of oxygen cylinders, valves and accessories in a bid sale on surplus property offered by War Assets Administration until December 5. Thousands of them are being offered through the Customer Service Center of WAA at Grand Prairie, Texas. The items, however, are located at the Tinker Field disposal depot at Oklahoma City, Okla. The sale is open to everybody and inspections may be made at Tinker Field from 8:30 a. m. until 3:30 p. m. Monday through Friday until the sale closes.

Three locomotives of various types for sale through competitive bids to priority and commercial buyers are being offered through the Customer Service Center of War Assets Administration at the Grand Prairie zone offices. They are steam, diesel and gasoline powered. Bid opening date on these locomotives is December 11. Casting frames, blocks and lamps are listed in the same sale. The diesel and steam engines are located at the Louisiana Ordnance Plant at Shreveport, La., and the gasoline locomotive is stored at Ellington Field at Houston, Texas.

Eighteen priority applicants sought buildings at Amarillo Army Airfield recently when applications were opened by the Office of Real Property Disposal of the Grand Prairie zone office of War Assets Administration. Eleven schools and school districts, three counties and one city asked to be awarded structures. Awards were to be announced as soon as duplicated bids could be adjusted. The remainder of the buildings not applied for will be advertised for public cash bidding at a later date, it was disclosed.

Water Well Flow Less Than Estimate

Lubbock—Believed indicative of the performance of irrigation wells in this part of the state, discharge measurements of wells in operation are generally 200 to 300 gallons per minute lower than operators had estimated them to be, it is revealed in the second of a series of progress reports in a study of water use and other related management problems peculiar to the high plains of Texas.

The study is being made by specialists from the agricultural experiment station system and A. & M. College. The first report, released during the summer, covered organization and general information on farms covered in the study. The latest report presents results of various measurements of wells during the 1947 pumping season.

Irrigation Cost Studied
The report explains that the cost of producing crops under irrigation, includes the cost of pumping and spreading water. This cost is largely determined by the distance water must be lifted and the rate of pump discharge. The rate of discharge also materially influences the cost of spreading water, and greatly affects the acreage that can be served from a given well.

For determination of the lift and discharge rate, special equipment is required, and is usually not available or too expensive for use by the individual farmer.

Seasonal Measurements Made
Pre-seasonal measurements to the undisturbed water levels were made in March of this year under supervision of the ground water division of the U. S. Geological Survey. This depth ranged from 25.4 feet to 193.9 feet in the 218 wells measured at that time of the 233 involved in the study. The more common depth of water was in the 60- to 90-foot range, the study finding 61 per cent of the wells measuring were in that depth range, while only 12.8 per cent had water depths in excess of 90 feet.

Seasonal measurements were made on 158 of the 233 wells. More wells were visited, but some were not measured because of obstructions in casings or were closed down. The report sets out that each of the 233 wells were visited one or more times between August 4 and 23, but the study was started late in the season, and further measurements were not attempted. It is planned to measure each well during the pumping season in future years.

Pumping Levels Determined
The range in pumping levels on the measured wells was 44.1 to 177.2 feet. Two wells, where pre-seasonal depth to water was more than 177.2 ft. maximum pumping level, could not be measured while in operation.

Tabulation below shows the percentage of wells in different pumping level groups, indicating that more than 60 per cent of pumping levels were in excess of 100 feet.

| Pumping Level | Per Cent |
|------------------|----------|
| 75 ft. or less | 11.4 |
| 75 to 100 feet | 26.6 |
| 100 to 125 feet | 43.0 |
| 125 to 150 feet | 15.2 |
| 150 feet or over | 3.8 |

The rate of discharge was measured on 179 of the 233 wells involved in the study. These measurements ranged from 250 to 1,346 gallons per minute, and, the report sets out, "in general were 200 to 300 gallons per minute lower than operators had estimated them to be."

Water Used Efficiently
Explaining that the wells under study are distributed over Lubbock, Hockley, Hale, Floyd, and Swisher counties, the report believes "results of these measurements should be indicative of the performance of irrigation wells in these counties."

It is found further that "one of the more significant indications . . . is the apparent low water use," on the basis of "assuming an operation period of 960 hours, the average well will discharge slightly less than 8 acre-ft per acre for the 160 acres irrigated from that well."

Comparing this with the two to three acre-feet per acre commonly used in other irrigated areas, "this is an extremely high duty of water."

It is shown that measurements also indicate that there are relatively few wells discharging 1,000 gallons, with only 12 of the 179 wells measured discharging at the rate of 1,000 gallons or more per minute.

The study was occasioned by the rapid expansion of irrigation on the plains, from 300 wells and 3,500 acres in 1934 to 5,500 wells and 650,000 acres this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ferguson visited their daughter, Mrs. Bob Jones, and Mr. Jones near Slaton Sunday and Monday.

Future of Dairy Business Depends On Good Breeding

College Station—"Farmers in the dairy business have a pretty good future ahead of them, if . . ."

That's what extension dairymen of Texas A. & M. College are saying. And that "if" is mighty important.

"If the herd replacements are the result of a good bull; if the feeding program is built around good pastures, high quality hay and plenty of silage, and if the job of managing the herd is handled in such a way that the cows produce quality products for the market, then the dairy outlook is good."

Good dairy management goes back, in the end, to one thing: The right kind of sire for the herd. The feeding program won't help much if the cows are culls; there won't be plenty of quality products for the market if the cows aren't good producers and aren't handled right. The way to get the best results, all the way round, is to pick out a good bull.

The extension dairymen say that a prospective buyer should thoroughly investigate the bull under consideration. Go back to the records of his sire and dam and his grand sire and grand dam. The production records and type classifications of tested daughters of all three generations

County-Wide Tour Visits Many Homes

Achievement Events were observed in Home Demonstration Clubs in Floyd County with County-wide Tours on November, 11 and 12.

Living room and home food supply demonstrations were carried during the current year, and homes visited had one of these demonstrations. Some of the homes were new and visitors were allowed to see the whole house, a privilege that was enjoyed by all. About 50 were on Tuesday's tour and about 50 on Wednesday's.

Tuesday's tour started with a visit to Mrs. W. C. Sims, Home Food Supply demonstrator for the Sunnyside Home Demonstration Club. Her pantry has over a thousand containers of fine quality food. Mrs. Dee Johnson and Mrs. West Hay of Pleasant Valley showed their well-stocked concrete storage cellars. Both had added extra shelves. Mrs. Johnson served tomato juice and coffee to the group. The women stopped at the home of Mrs. R. C. Mitchell, also of Pleasant Valley, to see her lovely living room and had the privilege of seeing the rest of her charming house.

From Pleasant Valley the group went to Lockney where four homes were visited. Mrs. Henry Bollman and Mrs. W. L. Morgan showed their living rooms which had been improved by the addition of new paper, draperies, and re-arrangement of furniture. The group enjoyed seeing all of Mrs. L. M. Honea's new house.

The outdoor storage room built by Miss Josephine Smith gave her and her family a place to get their canned foods out of their clothes closets and from under the beds, she said.

A new wall-to-wall carpet, new curtains and chairs, and a refinished desk were part of the improvements made by Mrs. Ben Quebe, living room demonstrator for the Providence Club.

Luncheon was served at noon at the Providence Club room with the members of the Providence Home Demonstration Club as hostesses. A very enjoyable social hour was spent. Mrs. Clifton Gilly's storage cellar was visited next. She has an excellent storage place that is well stocked with home canned foods. Mrs. Gilly is demonstrator for the Cedar Hill Club. Mrs. Jack Stansell, also of Cedar Hill, showed her living room which has had new curtains, a new carpet, and other improvements added.

Mrs. C. W. Burton, living room demonstrator for the Center Club, has made extensive improvements which include, among others, removing a partition between two rooms to make a large one, sanding her floors, adding draperies and repapering every room in her house. The Center Club had a fancy-work exhibit in one of her rooms which was also admired by all. The well-stocked storage cellar of Mrs. O. C. Vinson has an indication of her good planning and hard work. Mrs. Vinson is also from the Center Home Demonstration Club.

The last place visited on Tuesday's tour was the home of Mrs. Mal Jarboe, Living Room Demonstrator for the Friendship Club. Mrs. Jarboe had had a partition removed between her living and dining rooms. She now has a spacious room more fitted to the needs of her family. The room was re-papered and new draperies and a large mirror added.

Refreshments of punch and cookies were served by the Friendship Home Demonstration Club to the guests after they had seen all of Mrs. Jarboe's house. This courtesy was appreciated by all.

Mrs. Ed Holmes, living room demonstrator for the Sand Hill Home Demonstration Club was first on the Wednesday itinerary. Pine paneled walls, built in book case and re-upholstered furniture are some of the improvements that Mrs. Holmes and her family are enjoying.

The new home of Mrs. Chloma Williams of Harmony was visited next. Mrs. Williams was Food Supply demonstrator for her club and her ventilated pantry with its rows of high quality canned foods gave pause to more than a mere glance. The guests had an opportunity to see all of Mrs. Williams' house, then they were served fruit juice by Harmony Club members before starting on their way.

Mrs. W. F. Ferguson, Food Supply demonstrator for the Starkey Club, showed the group an abundance of good quality food in her storage cellar that made everyone realize they were very hungry.

The Homebuilders Home Demonstration Club were hostesses for lunch at the home of Mrs. Joe Dunn, Home Food Supply demonstrator. It was an enjoyable occasion for all. After lunch Mrs. Dunn showed her pantry she had recently enlarged, also her new "deep freeze" storage locker. Special guest during the noon hour was R. B. Calhoun, County Commissioner.

A partition had also been removed between rooms to make a large living room in the home of Mrs. Sam Green, demonstrator for the Baker Home Demonstration Club, who was visited next. The room had been sheet-rocked and re-papered, and venetian blinds and other improvements added. Mrs. Poyner Roberts, Food Supply demonstrator of the Baker Club, had to add new shelves in her storage cellar to hold the food she has canned for her family.

After leaving Mrs. Roberts' Mrs. Henry Willis, Food Supply demonstrator and Mrs. Wayne Russell, living room demonstrator for the Lakeview Club, were visited. A significant thing about Mrs. Willis' food exhibit was her variety of fruit which included peaches, plums, grapes, dewberries, blackberries, boysenberries, strawberries and pineapple and all except the pineapple was gathered from her own orchard. A full deep-freeze was of interest to all. Mrs. Russell had re-sanded and varnished her hardwood floors, re-papered, added book cases, a record player and other improvements. Mrs. Russell also showed her deep-freeze locker.

Mrs. C. E. Bartlett, Food Supply demonstrator for the Dougherty Club had the county's record on the varieties of food shown, which was 115. She had a large quantity as well, and her food was attractively displayed in her new concrete cellar.

Two unscheduled visits were made to the attractive homes of Mrs. W. S. Poole of Dougherty and Mrs. A. H. Kreis of Friendship. It was an opportunity that all appreciated.

The basement storage room of Mrs. E. L. Judy, Food Supply Demonstrator of the Friendship Club was visited next. Mrs. Judy showed a large quantity of good food which had all been raised at home.

The visit to Mrs. Alton Chapman's of the Homebuilders' Club was a pleasant ending to a profitable day. The guests had an opportunity to see her newly decorated house and enjoyed a social hour before going their separate ways. Mrs. Chapman was assisted in showing her house and serving refreshments by members of her club and several high school girls.

Special guests during the day were Miss Kate Adelle Hill, District Home Demonstration Agent, and Miss Gladys Martin, Assistant State Home Demonstration Agent of the Extension Service, Texas A. and M. College.

Amateur Landscaper Plants Too Much

College Station.—It's easy to spot an amateur landscape gardener.

He does two things that give him away. First, he plants too close to the house, especially when the shrubs are small. They look better there, he thinks, and he forgets that when several feet tall, the plant will be crowded and its shape spoiled. Long limbs will scrape paint from the house, too.

Two, the amateur landscaper will often plant too many shrubs. In his enthusiasm, he wants every kind of shrub he sees. The well-planned landscape will look rather barren for the first few years. After that, the shrub growth will fill out the bare spots.

Sadie Hatfield, extension landscape gardening specialist for Texas A. & M. College, says that large growing plants, such as Arizona cypress, wax ligustrum, cherry laurel and evergreen privet, need ten feet or more of space. Other plants and shrubs need space in proportion to their full growth.

An overplanted yard, like an over-crowded home, lacks neatness and symmetry. A well-developed landscaping plan, prepared before planting, will pay dividends in the end.

Bison Bones Are Given To Tech

Lubbock.—A block of bison bones removed from an old road material pit near Plainview in 1945 has been presented to the West Texas museum at Texas Technological College by E. H. Sellards, director of the Texas Memorial museum at the University of Texas.

Flint artifacts located among the bones indicate that this prehistoric bison, "Bison taylori", and ancient man lived at the same time in the south-central United States during the latter part of the Pleistocene Epoch, which began approximately one million years ago.

The block received by the West Texas museum is one of eight removed from Plainview. The total excavation, some 500 square feet in area, with an average thickness of less than a foot, yielded skeletons of approximately 100 bison. Bones of most of the skeletons were separated, and exhibited evidence of having been rapidly accumulated in a shallow water hole or pond. The presence of several fetal skeletons suggests that the accumulation occurred in the spring or early summer, according to Wann Langston, geology instructor at Texas Tech.

It is thought that the bison may have been stampeded over the low steep bluff bordering the south side of the water hole, and the projectile points may have been shot into those animals which were crippled but not killed by the fall.

The projectile points, which have been classified as the Plainview type, are perhaps historically intermediate between the Folsom and Yuma types. All may be found in association with species of extinct bison.

The birth rate on farms in 1946 was apparently the highest since 1929. There was an increase of 2,360,000 in farm population in 1946 over 1945, and of this number 773,000 were babies born during the year.

People living on farms owned an estimated $22,977 million of currency, bank deposits, United States Savings Bonds and stock in cooperatives at the beginning of 1947, in comparison with only $4,975 million early in 1940.

Spanning Canyon Diablo

Another new bridge on the Santa Fe

A new double-track steel bridge now spans Canyon Diablo (a giant gash 225 feet deep in the tableland of northern Arizona) on the main line of the Santa Fe between Chicago and California. This new bridge, which replaces the old single-track viaduct, is 544 feet long, 32 feet wide at track level, and contains over 2,000 tons of structural steel. The heaviest trains can cross it in both directions at once, and it's built to handle anything in rail traffic the future may bring. Canyon Diablo Bridge is just a part of Santa Fe's continuing program of improvements—typical of the Santa Fe spirit of progress and initiative—to provide Santa Fe passengers with smoother riding, and Santa Fe shippers with more efficient freight handling. It is another good reason for traveling or shipping "Santa Fe—all the way."

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste
Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.
Symptoms may be nagging headache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength.
Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.
There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

DOAN'S PILLS

Longhorns Fall

It is usually a tough game but observers give the Matadors little chance to take their Cottle County foe this year.

At the game last Friday night, the strong north wind gave the team defending the north goal a decided advantage. The Longhorns chose to defend that goal the first quarter. It was during this period that they made their first penetration, driving to Paducah's 11 yard line before losing the ball on downs. In the second quarter the Paducah lads had the wind advantage and on an exchange of punts took the ball on Lockney's 42 yard line. A long pass was completed to the 19 from where Sandlin swept left end for the score. Sandlin also kicked the point.

After the half time period, Paducah receiving the kick, were unable to gain and tried to pass. Wyman Guthrie intercepted and the Longhorns started a drive goalward. They were stopped on the Paducah seven yard line, but came right back after a punt and completed a pass from Carthel to Pyle to Paducah four from which point they drove over for the score. Then came the try for the vital point. The play called was to hit the line and Robert Quisenberry hit it, but the Dragons backfield were all backing up the line and the try failed. The Dragons received the kick-off, failed to gain and kicked. The Longhorns were never able to make headway either after their score and the ball changed hands times with neither team threatening.

This closed the season for the Longhorns unless they represent the district in bi-district play. Games scheduled this week end include Spur at Floydada; Ralls at Crosbyton, Paducah at Matador.
