FRIDAY JANUARY 17 1941

Club In Session Tonight

All Dalhart Country club stockholders are urged to attend the annual business meeting at the club at 7:30 o'clock tonight states President J. T. Mann. Principal business will be election of four governors for two-year terms to replace outgoing Dr. E. U. Johnston, John Colquitt, Ralph Waite and Cecil Johnson.

Perico Youngster Dies Here Today

Raymond Richard Hudson, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hudson of Perico, died at Loretto Hospital at 9 o'clock this morning shortly after being brought here ill with flu. Funeral services will be at 3 p. m. Friday at the Texline Methodist church, with burial in Texline directed by Peoples Funeral Home.

He is survived by his parents; two brothers, Frank and Jim; and two sisters, Bobbie Ruth and Mrs. Bill Tyler.

Commissioners Open 1941 Work

Dallam county commissioners met at the courthouse Monday and Tuesday in the first sessions of the new year to outline policies for the year and transact opening routine business. The court voted to continue compensating precinct and county officials on a fee basis for ex-officio duties, reports Clerk R. U. Counts.

Grains, Stocks Slide Off Today

Chicago wheat at noon was an eighth to three-eighths down; May $7; July 82 3-8; Sept. 82 3-4. Corn was an eighth to a quarter high, while oats were unchanged to a quarter down. Soy beans were five eighths to seven-eighths higher with May $1.00 5-8.

The New York stock market continued sluggish today. Third hour sales were 360,000 and all Dow-Jones stocks were down: industrials by 89 cents; rails 28; utilities 18. The entire list was off 34 cents.

The Polio War

A vivid, graphic tableau, bathed in brilliance from a giant spotlight, and showing how the Polio Mercy Dollars are fighting the good fight for American childhood, will be presented next Tuesday night, Jan. 21, at the Second Annual Polio celebration in the Hartley school gymnasium, 15 miles southeast of Dalhart on paved U. S. Highway 87. Supt. H. H. Wilhite of Hartley schools is giving every cooperation, but has requested that someone else assume arrangement of details. He and his family members, he said, are extremely busy at this time of year and so Mrs. Bill Hylton of Dalhart agreed to arrange the dramatic interlude.

The Conlen Community Night program Thursday night, Jan. 30, all proceeds from which will go into the polio fight, will feature forty-two, dominoes and all other types of games dear to the heart of both young and old, reports Chairman Russell Ritchey. Everybody is invited, he said, to come and spend the evening or any part of it. There will be no admission at the door. During the evening (Turn to Page 11, Column 3)

Must Farmers Always Receive U. S. Subsidies?

Must agriculture always be subsidized?

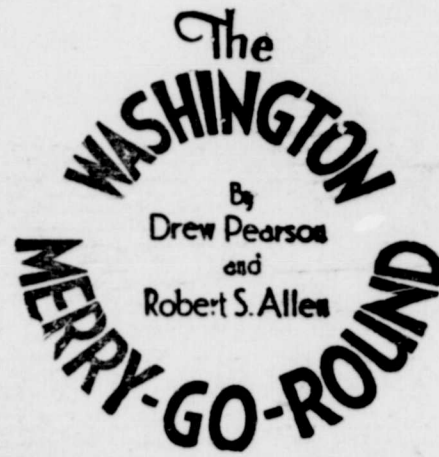

And, granting that permanent subsidy is possible, would it be desirable?

If neither of these questions can be answered in the affirmative, then what is to be done about the situation?

In his column, that will appear in The Texan today or tomorrow, Roger W. Babson, the noted business analyst, gives his opinion of this perennial and perplexing problem.

The column is sure to create tremendous interest, with heated opinions for and against the procedure Babson suggests.

City Indebtedness In Refunding Plan

WASHINGTON. — Phil Murray, new CIO head, apparently is pursuing a policy of trying to carry water on both shoulders. There was a plum for both leftwingers and antis in his latest organizational moves.

The antis cheered when Murray announced that Reid Robinson would replace Lee Pressman as secretary of the legislative committee. This was a big feather in the cap of the antis and a very significant slap-down for Pressman. In the last few years, during the rule of John L. Lewis, Pressman ran the committee with an iron hand.

Because of his use of leftist tactics, Pressman was disliked on Capitol Hill and was repeatedly in hot water. But through his drag with Lewis, none of his numerous CIO foes was able to curb him and he operated as he pleased.

His ouster from the key post caused much jubilation among the antis, who have been muttering disappointedly for weeks over Murray's failure to use the axe on strategically placed leftwingers. But this pleasure was short-lived.

The next day Murray announced the appointment of John T. Jones, director of Labor's Nonpartisan league, as CIO legislative representative on Capitol Hill. This was a solar-plexus blow.

A United Mine Worker official, Jones is one of Lewis' most intimate henchmen and completely under his thumb. Jones owes both his UMW and LNL jobs to Lewis, and he is one of the few UMW leaders who followed Lewis in bolt- (Turn to Page 4—Col. 1)

City council, in a special meeting yesterday, and representatives of Crummer & Co., Inc. of Texas, and the Rauscher, Pierce & Co., Inc., both of Dallas, reached an agreement under which the City's total bonded indebtedness of $357,000 will be refunded at lower interest rates which over the life of the bonds will save the City an estimated $50,000 to $75,000.

Another immediate benefit is that, because of the fine financial record made by Mayor Frank Farwell and his co-workers since 1935, the City will be permitted to use 75 cents of its $1.50 tax rate for the general fund and an equal amount for the sinking fund. The distribution has been 85 cents to the sinking fund and 65 cents to the general.

The City in 1935 refunded its total indebtedness, which at that time was $401,500. Since that time it has retired $44,500 in bonds in addition to $15,500 in outstanding scrip warrants.

Despite that remarkable showing, the City's interest costs beginning in 1942 would have been higher on the $357,000 bonded indebtedness than they were six years ago on the $401,500. That is because the three per cent interest, in force since 1935, would have gone to four per cent next year; and three per cent on $401,500 is less than four per cent on $357,000.

In addition, the four per cent interest rate would have gone to five in 1947 and remained there for the life of the bonds.

Under the refunding program perfected yesterday the City's interest rate will remain at three per cent for the next ten years, and then go to a permanent four per cent. Another substantial advantage in the new program is that it includes $25,000 in bonds that have been held for years by the State School fund and on which interest has always been five per cent. They will now be subject to the three and four per cent rates.

The City's principal payments are now $7500 annually. Under the new program they will be $3000 annually for the five years beginning next March 1. They will then be $4000 annually for five years. In the third five-year period they will be $7000 the first two years; $8000 the next two and $9000 the last year.

However, at the end of every five years, within this 15-year period (Turn to Page 11, Column 3)

Officials Urging Quick British Aid

By UNITED PRESS
Washington—The parade of high government officials, staunchly backing the Administration's proposed all-out aid to Britain bill, continued today when Secretary of War Stimson told the House Foreign Affairs committee that the U. S. would face real danger of air invasion if the British fleet is destroyed or surrenders.

Under questioning by Representative Hamilton Fish of New York, an Administration critic, Stimson admitted the defense program has lagged, is lagging and will continue for sometime to lag because a nation cannot overnight make the change from a land of peace to an armed camp.

He also bluntly and acidly told Fish that the U. S. now has an army less than the army of Holland last May; also less than the army Belgium had at the same time and not nearly so well trained.

He emphatically warned that the big immediate job is for the U. S. not only to arm herself but to rush arms to Britain in preparation for the desperate assault that Germany is sure to make next spring or summer. The U. S., he said, faces a more pressing situation now than in 1917.

The Administration bill proposes to empower the President to manufacture war implements and supplies with U. S. money, then loan them to Britain to be returned or replaced in kind after the war.

Stimson said Secretary of State Hull was right yesterday when he asserted Axis action has reduced U. S. consideration to only one law—that of self defense. Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau has also testified in support of the bill, and has warned that Britain doesn't have money to pay anything like what it needs

Washington—Action was speeded today toward appropriation of over $1,500,000,000 to build 407 auxiliary craft for the U. S. fleet; to build shipyards and other facilities to construct the vessels and also to punch up the building of a two-ocean navy. It also will build factories to provide cargo ships for Britain and provide adequate armor and anti-aircraft guns for the U. S. fleet.

Tokyo.—Japanese newspapers today flaunted angry headlines declaring that the U. S. is challenging the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo Axis with the aid to Britain program.

J. W. T. Mason, United Press war expert, said the Japanese attitude stems directly from the recent tri-partite treaty she signed with Germany and Italy. Japan now sees that she cannot benefit one iota from the treaty unless the Axis is completely victorious which now seems more and more improbable. However, Japan must pay in advance and merely hope that the Axis wins.

British sources today quoted Haile Selassie, former emperor of Ethiopia, as saying that 90 per cent of his tribesmen are ready to rise in solid revolt against the Ital-

Annual Texline Polio Ball To Be Held Friday Night

Tonight those who love to dance, who love good music and who love to do something for the other fellow will gather in Texline at the Arrowhead Crystal ballroom for that little city's Second Annual Polio ball.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Suddarth are donating the hall for this humanitarian event, and music will be furnished by Marcella Maye and Her Royal Entertainers. Several of the Entertainers used to be with the famous Brunks Comedians, and the orchestra, recently of Chicago, is just becoming acquainted in the southwest.

Everywhere it has played people have been delighted and have immediately arranged for return engagements. The Royal Entertainers have played several times at Texline and are being liked increasingly well.

They feature Little Bonnie and her taps; and Happy Jack Merrell, the Ivory Hunter, at the piano.

All proceeds from the ball tomorrow night will go into the campaign to track down the germ that causes the dreaded "maiming death," and also to provide funds to help those who have or may fall victim to the terrible muscle-twisting, bone-bending disease.

However, the dancers won't be the only ones contributing to the great humanitarian program that is slowly battering forward against the forces of darkness and disease in behalf of American childhood. Dozens of people are buying the little infantile paralysis lapel emblems or otherwise putting their "Mercy Dollar" on the line for somebody's child — perhaps their own—because every threshold continues to be menaced so long as the monstrous "maiming death" is on the prowl.

Don't Count The Women Out

You may not believe it but a certain individual told us just the other day that the one field left today strictly to the men is the farm equipment field. We didn't laugh because we didn't want to hurt his feelings, but we did try to show him that one of the big reasons that so many FARMALLS are in use today is because the women have approved them.

We don't mean by this that the rights of the men have been taken away from them by the women. But men have learned that the "lady of the house" has many and varied interests outside of cows, chickens, eggs, cream and furniture.

The average farm or ranch woman today is familiar with the horsepower of practically every popular make of farm tractor; she knows the cost and the average depreciation and she has more than likely discussed with her friends the cost of repairs and replacements.

Personally we can say that we are glad of this. It has been a pleasure for us to explain to the interested farm or ranch woman the many good reasons why a FARMALL will do the work more efficiently and more economically than other tractors. It pleases us to explain the cost of the new FARMALL and our Blue Ribbon used and re-conditioned FARMALLS and how conveniently payments may be made on the income-purchase plan.

Yes sir, folks, the women of today are interested in farm equipment and we are glad of it.

She was a member of the Order of Eastern Star.

More Figures For Census Are Given

Justice of the Peace A. M. Reese brings The Texan what he believes are the final 1940 census figures for Dalhart and Dallam and Hartley counties.

He took them, he said, from an Associated Press dispatch out of Washington which described the figures as "final".

The Dalhart population is given as 4,682, nine less than in 1930. The 1940 Dallam county population is given at 6,494 contrasted with 7,830 ten years ago. The Hartley county figure for 1940 is 1,873 against 2,185 in 1930.

The Sherman county figures is 2,026 against 2,314 ten years before, while in Moore county the 1940 total is 4,461 compared to 1,555 in 1930. This phenomenal growth, of course, is due to oil and industrial development in Moore county's oil areas.

Decorations of harness, saddles, rakes, bales of hay and other farm implements added to the atmosphere of the gay affair. Johnny Lasswell and His Playboys furnished music.

The Legion has cancelled plans for all further dances until after climax a series of events being the President's ball, which will give to fight infantile paralysis, said Commander Roy Noland.

Mrs. Gladys Barbour, sister, Mrs. Maye Buckley, and daughter, Joan, of Tucumcari, N. M., were in Dalhart the first of the week.

with W. H. Coon at the helm and the Board of Directors composed of men experienced in civic affairs, we predict that the local chamber will enjoy a most fruitful year.

It is important that this spirit created at the beginning of the year continue through the entire twelve months. Men sold on their tasks and realizing that they have the enthusiastic support of the majority of the progressive citizens of Dalhart are more likely to secure results beneficial to all of us.

TAKE A BOW, MR. MACNAMARA

Gananoque, Ontario, Canada, is in small black type on the map that we searched to determine the location of this little Canadian city. Evidently the population of Gananoque does not run into figures of hundreds of thousands, yet there is a group of men there who, by the simple expenditure of a few dollars, should receive some credit for many thousands of United States dollars that will be spent in Canada in 1941.

To each of the thousands of Lions Clubs in the U. S. has gone a personal letter from President F. R. MacNamara, of the Gananoque club, inviting U. S. citizens to spend their vacation dollars in a country which will in turn send those same dollars back to us in payment of supplies to be used by His Majesty's armies. President MacNamara reminds the Lions that purchases from the U. S. are limited by the amount of U. S. dollars available.

Our neighbors to the north have always received a large share of the U. S. tourist dollars. In 1941 this will be increased, rather than decreased, by world conditions. U. S. dollars are worth $1.10 in Canada today. Travel is not difficult and Canada is an ideal vacation land. Our kind of people live there and restrictions are no greater at the present than any time in the past. Crossing the border is simplicity itself.

United States citizens, realizing these facts, will likely confine their travels to foreign countries to a visit to beautiful Canada and President MacNamara may rightfully assume credit for a service to his country.

"Of course, I sent your suit to the cleaners. Where do you think that heap of junk came from?"

LOCAL MEN GET PLEASANT SURPRISE

About the most enthusiastic group of Dalhart business men we've had the pleasure of talking with lately is the Board of Directors of the Dalhart Chamber of Commerce. Starting out to increase the budget of this organization, believing that they would have some difficulties in convincing prospects that the organization renders a service to all, the directors were prepared to meet some stiff opposition.

"The chamber of commerce is against the laboring man" and "the organization is asleep on the job" are some of the accusations the directors expected to have to answer. Naturally it was a pleasant surprise to find that no such arguments were forthcoming and few were not aware of the need of an efficient organization. The greatest surprise came, however, when the directors found that practically every person financially able to contribute is doing so cheerfully.

Due credit for this attitude on the part of those interested in the civic welfare of Dalhart should go to past presidents and directors of the chamber. Led by J. C. Parker in 1939 and Jack Wade in 1940 the organization has made rapid strides in the civic betterment of this community. Now ing to Willkie. Personally amiable and a hail-fellow, Jones is no left-winger, but he takes his orders from Lewis and will follow any "party line" he lays down.

In CIO circles the appointment was taken as clear evidence that the shadow of Lewis still looms potent over Murray and that he does not feel himself strong enough to be his own boss.

GETTING READY

Lewis, confined to his home the past few weeks with a heart condition, is spending his time culling over UMW officer rolls. The inside word is that there is a double purpose behind this:

One: To take vengeance on local leaders who refused to bow to his pressure to support Willkie. Two: To put followers he can depend on into office in preparation for a major coal strike April 1, when the present UMW contract with the operators expires.

Seething with hatred of the President, and an extremist foe of his foreign policies, Lewis is credited with planning to make strong demands on the mine owners. The order for a special $2 assessment on all UMW members already has gone out to provide a strike fund if needed. And unless prevented by ill health, Lewis will head the UMW negotiating group—a key position to churn things up.

Privately government labor chiefs make no secret of their concern over the situation. A major coal strike would play havoc with defense production, particularly in the spring when it will be greatly accelerated.

ABORIGINAL

A witness, testifying before the House Committee investigating migrant labor, related how he, his wife and twelve children slept a small tent pitched in a ditch along the roadside.

Shocked at the story, Representative John Toland, idealistic chairman of the committee, remarked ironically, "And I suppose you had the latest sanitary conveniences?"

"What's that?" asked the witness. Toland explained, "No, not the latest," was the reply. "The earliest."

GUMMED UP TRAINING

Training workers for defense industries, like certain other phases of the defense program, appears to have become gummed up with good intentions.

The program is centralized in the public school system, which is applying the role of universal education and it isn't working out.

When the program was launched last July 1, the schools enthusiastically opened their doors wide on all applicants and turned over their vocational shops and staffs. They are now learning industry won't take some of the trainees on a bet.

In one mid-Western state, which has become a center of defense production, a check of the first batch of trainees revealed a large number who couldn't get jobs because of inability to meet rudimentary qualifications for physical condition, aptitude and background.

The schools also have discovered that the program is a lot bigger than they anticipated and is interfering with their regular activities. Some now are demurring at keeping their shops open on a 23-hour basis, even if the federal government pays the freight.

The Defense Commission is now studying a strongly-worded confidential report from the Interstate Conference on Defense Employment recommending drastic changes of the training program.

Among them are:

1. Training should be conducted separately from regular vocational education activities.

2. Type of training and trainees should be based on specific industrial needs and should be approved by the U. S. Employment Service.

3. Private "defense training" schools and finance companies that are advancing funds for tuition should be investigated by government agents.

STOP, LOOK . . .

The boys on Capitol Hill who are quietly pocketing part of their clerk hire had better watch their step. The Internal Revenue Bureau may get them.

Several years ago the Bureau notified members of Congress that they would have to declare and pay income tax on that part of their mileage allowance which was not actually spent on travel. This was a sad blow to a lot of the boys who were making a nice thing out of the 20-cents-a-mile allowance.

Now the Bureau is seriously considering going a step further and requiring members to report and pay tax on clerk hire "takes." These take various forms.

Some members do the trick by listing their wives, children or their relatives on the payroll and pocketing all or part of the money. Others require their office workers to "kick-back" part of their salaries. This practice, incidentally, is a lot more prevalent than is generally believed, even though it is a felony with heavy penalties for conviction. No Congressman, however, has yet been caught.

Congressmen are allowed a flat sum of $6500 a year for clerk hire. The only string on its expenditure is that no one employee be paid more than $3900. Senators are allowed six employees at salaries specified by law.

Legion To Hold Session Tonight

Not only Legionnaires, but all ex-service men, are invited to the Roy Rhoades post meeting in the county court room tonight at 7:00. Commander Roy Noland reminded this morning.

He said the meeting would discuss business of interest to every ex-service man in the area served by the Dalhart post and he hoped all of them would attend.

Swoon Helps Intruder

Spokane, Wash. (U.P.)—A bewildered man with a gun forced Mrs. J. Arthur Davis, wife of a service station operator, to cook his breakfast. After he left, the woman's terror caused her to faint and she was unable to notify police until hours later.

Of McComb, his pants or his home—Santa Fe Magazine.

And if women are so smart why does it take them so long to put on so little?

I'm just now getting over a shock that came Christmas, Virgil Dominick walked in, handed me a cigar box and asked if I would accept it as a gift from The Canadian River Gas Co. I kinda grinned, shook the box and pitched it on my desk. "That outfit ain't going to get me on any kind of a gag," is what I thought. Well sir, would believe it that box contained fifty actually good-smoking cigars! It was days and days before I actually realized that there really wasn't any gag to it and came to my senses enough to thank Virgil.

Now some smart aleck tells me that a woman would have known all the time that it wasn't a gag. Yeah, just tell me once.

To keep from being scared when driving around a curve a woman will shut her eyes.

It's difficult for a woman to be brave because she has so many things to keep up.

A woman has eyes like the stars, lips like pearls and a tongue like a babbling brook.

Now, let the "superior" sex laugh that off.

Biggest surprise of my life occurred yesterday when Dick Coon came in and bought one each of the cook books we have thus far received! Yes sir, the big ox says he likes to cook and likes to eat good cooking. He was especially interested in the book on preparation of poultry and game.

And talk about eating, a guy that stumps me is Dick Chamberlain. Yesterday I watched him with a cup of coffee and a dish of ice cream. He poured cream in the coffee, stirred it up real good, then poured half the coffee on the ice cream before eating it! I asked him if he ever tried mustard on watermelon and he got insulted.

This women problem is another thing that has got me, Last Saturday the Dalhart Laundry advertised something about a woman's "horse power" and then yesterday we had an editorial about women holding all the jobs and spending eighty-five percent of the national income. Now today the Fox Hardware comes out with an ad telling about how women even have something to say about the purchase of tractors. And to cap it off I've seen the copy for the Dalhart Laundry ad for next Saturday and it makes some astounding statements about women.

As for me you can talk and write about the women being superior to men from now on, about their "horse power" and their knowledge of tractors as well as perfume, but don't tell me some woman has become a father!

There was a young chap named McComb Who was cleaning his pants in his home He used gasoline— That was the last that was seen

Dalhart-Conlen Battle Tomorrow

Conlen, Jan. 16—Basketball fans tomorrow night are due for two action-crammed games when the Conlen boys and girls meet the invasion of the Dalhart Hi-Y club and the Dalhart high school Wolverines. The Wolverines have a preholiday score to settle, because prior to Christmas the Lassies trimmed the Dalhart reserves by 20 points. Conlen boys face a tough, fast crew which they beat only two points in an early-season battle.

Rue and Roy Wharton of the Bunker Hill country were in Dalhart Wednesday on business. A. McDougald, Coldwater, was in Dalhart the first of the week.

Prosecutor Can't Find Case

Colusa, Calif. (UP)—District Attorney Hudson Ford has been in office for five months without having a superior court case to try. He thrilled at one time at the prospect of having a criminal case, but the man beat him to it, by breaking jail and being sent to the insane asylum.

Submarginal Farms And Their Futures

By ROGER BABSON

Tampa, Fla., Jan. 16.—So many letters come to me from struggling farmers, fruit growers, and even manufacturers asking, "Shall I give up or continue the struggle?" that I will devote this week's column to discussing this painful subject. Most of my letters are from farmers on marginal lands, but many other groups are up against the same problem. They know they are in an honest and necessary business. They work hard and live economically. They attend church and have brought up their children to obey God. From all standards, they deserve success. But they are getting further into debt all the time.

Don't Kid Yourself

This condition is becoming too common. The Roosevelt administration has made many honest attempts to help such people. But many readers are now asking if such help isn't like trying to make two and two add up to five. It is very difficult. Those engaged in the canalboat or stagecoach business 100 years ago, who sold out and got a job on the railroads, came through okay; but those who did not, were swamped.

My father used to tell me: "Roger, there may be times when you should kid other people, but don't ever kid yourself." Let me add to this: "Don't let the politicians or county agents kid you either." Remember that Department of Agriculture officials must present the future rosy in order to keep their jobs. I'm not advising any hasty action and will probably be chastised for calling the facts to your attention. I'm merely suggesting a side to the question which you do not often hear.

Beware of Politicians

We need not only have fewer laws and to insist on their enforcement, but we should not obstruct the working of natural law. Much of the trouble, from which we suffer, is due to such obstruction. This only postpones the inevitable punishment for not heeding natural law. This situation has been due partly to the shortsightedness of welfare workers, but largely to the desire of politicians to get votes "by hook or crook."

I have in mind such misleading practices as lending money to dying industries, exempting from taxation factories which are wrongly located, or enacting tariffs to keep alive certain industries where nature never intended them to operate. Tariffs to protect industries in their initial stages are justified; but the subsidizing of industries which—whatever their age—would perish without a subsidy is foolish.

Pull With the Tide

Inventions, scientific discoveries, and new methods of distribution should be encouraged. To penalize such progress by licensing requirements, unnecessary taxation, and other handicaps is bucking natural law. Price fixing to keep alive the anthracite coal business in its competition with oil, gas, and electricity, is illustrative of such attempts. Refusing to allow the railroads to scrap 20 per cent of their mileage when motor coaches, trucks, and airplanes can better handle 20 per cent of the nation's transportation, is bucking natural progress.

Government would be justified in helping people now engaged in declining industries to move to other localities. It even might be wise to subsidize such employees and employers for a limited period while making a change of occupation. It should, however, be honest with people and not hold out false hopes.

Avoid Bucking Progress

Our country has encouraged agriculture in almost every manner. It is the one industry recognized with membership in the President's cabinet. Farmers have privileges and subsidies not enjoyed by any other group. As a result, the raising of certain crops, fruit, and livestock has been overdone. The most serious mistake has been the cultivation of marginal land. Too many struggling people are trying to raise cattle on land meant only for timber; to raise crops or fruit on land suitable only for grazing. The sooner they give up the fight, the better for their character, health, and pocketbook. Government is justified in aiding these people to change their occupation; in taking over and turning this marginal land back to purposes for which God made it. But is it fair to kid these poor people longer by loans?

Political opposition to large units in industry, agriculture, and distribution is bucking natural law. It seems too bad to see small nations wiped out, small farms consolidated, and out-of-date industries closed down; but this may be in accordance with natural law. Government should prevent monopolies from taking unfair advantage of consumers, workers, or competitors. The attitude, however, that a thing is wrong merely because it is "big" is a great mistake. Let me add that the democracies can win against the Totalitarians only by encouraging, rather than discouraging, efficiency in industry, agriculture, and distribution.

Conclusion

I know that the giving up of your lifework is very hard—it is almost like burying a favorite child. I really hate to write this message, and even hope I am wrong. All I am doing is asking some of you to think it over—honestly and fearlessly—just as you would if a doctor told you of a cancer which must be cut out if you expect to live.

Prison to Make Uniforms

Montgomery, Ala. (UP)—Alabama is planning to use its prison textile mills to manufacture khaki uniforms for its home guard, which replaces the National Guard called into federal service. The substitute guard gets guns and equipment from the government, but no uniforms.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

Sport Parade

By HENRY McLEMORE

Hollywood, Jan. 16.—(UP)—Frank Condon, a 14 handicap player at golf, but a scratch man in the game of life and of writing, is gone.

But the memory of him is as green as the fairways, and on Sunday afternoon many of his friends will pay him tribute at the club he loved so much, the San Gabriel, deep in the valley of that name.

Writers, boxers, coaches, actors, singers, playwrights, dancers and directors. They all will gather to play in the Frank Condon Memorial tournament. From all over the country—from almost every club at which Frank ever dug a divot, missed a putt or flubbed a tee shot—his companions of other days have sent in their entry fee of three dollars. While they won't be here to play they wanted to have a part in a memorial to a man who brought so much happiness to golfers with his humorous short stories dealing with the game.

Here in Hollywood, where Frank lived for 15 years, and where his shock of gray hair, cowboy gloves, outrageous back-swing, unique vocabulary and matchless wit were known wherever men suffer in traps and in the rough, his friends have joined to make the Condon tournament one that he would have loved to write about.

First prize in the tournament will be a bronze plaque, but it won't go to the winner. It is to be sunk in a giant tree that guards the approach to the ninth green at San Gabriel. This is the tree that cost Frank a thousand bogles, because it catches shots that are sliced and Frank had a slice that followed the path of the great circle route.

Its bark has felt the whack of hundreds of his brassie shots, and for 15 years it stymied him. Many and varied were his descriptions of this tree in the locker room, and the San Gabriel members felt that he would understand and chuckle if he knew that the plaque were being placed there.

One of the several feature foursomes which will play in the tournament is composed of Bing Crosby, Bob Hope, Patty Berg and Mildred (Babe) Didrikson. At first the tournament committee considered having Crosby and Hope play the girls, but remembering that the spectators deserved a full run for their admission fee of $1, the officials decided to separate Patty and Babe so that the match would stand a better chance of going the full distance.

Another foursome will see Johnny Weismuller, Eric Pedley, Jimmy McLarnin and Ford Palmer matching strokes. This is a pretty fair sports foursome, pitting as it does the world's greatest swimmer, one of the world's greatest polo players, and former welterweight champion, and one of U. S. C's greatest ends, against one another.

The match I plan to follow however, is the one that involves Frank Craven, Adolph Menjou, Guy Kibbee and Grantland Rice. Craven is the world's best approach shot player, and that goes for all the tournament stars. Mr. Menjou is the master of the "gimme" putt. Mr. Kibbee hits the straightest and shortest tee shot of any living golfer, and Mr. Rice is the only man who has ever written 2,000,000 words advising against the lifting of the head on a shot, and who still does.

Another foursome of men who laughed and played with Condon will include Tyrus Raymond Cobb, coaches Howard Jones and Bill Spaulding, and Ellsworth Vines.

Quite a man, Frank Condon. He gave so much, to so many, for so little.

Dalhart-Amarillo Cage Clash Friday

Dalhart first and second string cage squads will leave about 4 p. m. Friday for Amarillo, where the Wolves will meet the celebrated Sandies and the reserves will play the Yannigans. First game is the reserve clash at 7 p. m. Second game starts at 8 p. m.

Two good bouts are assured, but more action is expected in the Wolves-Sandies clash, as Amarillo is rumored to have the best cage material in years and has an eye on the state championship.

First-string starters for the locals will be: Proffitt, center; Vicars, Thomasson, forwards; Ball, Thurman, guards.

Further Revival Sermons Slated

John H. Davis, Assembly of God Sunday school superintendent at Pratt and widely known through several states for his evangelistic work, this morning announced his subjects for the rest of this week's services at the Assembly of God revival in North Dalhart.

Last night he spoke on "The Poor Man's Market", and tonight at 7:45 he will speak on "No Condemnation", reported Rev. Robert T. Ridener, pastor.

Tomorrow night he will speak on "The I Am's" and Saturday night on "The Persistence of Evil". The public, Rev. Ridener said, is invited to all services.

Sunday morning at 11:00 his sermon will be "The Trial of Faith", and Sunday night at 7:45 it will be "Sin—A Detective".

A special children's service will be held Sunday night at 7:00 in charge of Mrs. Robert Ridener.

The revival opened last Friday night. It has had good attendance and exceptionally fine interest, Rev. Ridener said.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Atkinson have returned to Dalhart from Pampa and are established in the old family residence at 714 Oak Ave.

riod, the City can, if it wishes, take up $25,000 in four per cent bonds, which would be in 1946-51-56. If these $25,000 blocks of bonds are not retired on the dates when they become available they will continue to remain optional for retirement during the entire life of the bonds, which will be to 1970, officials said.

After the 15-year period the regularly scheduled annual payments scale gradually upward to a peak of $24,000 in 1969 and then drop to $1000 the next year when, under the present arrangement of payments, the bonds will be retired.

Fans in both towns are already saying that the doubleheader Dalhart-Hartley cage bill at Hartley Tuesday night, Jan. 28, is a natural. And, adding to the natural interest in the two-edged tilt is the fact that both Hartley clubs have agreed to donate a big part of the total proceeds to the infantile paralysis campaign. The Hartley Tigers have a good fast club that last Friday night marhandled the Stratford Elks. The Hartley girls however lost a close fight to the Stratford sextet.

Highway 41 Convention In February Or March

The Annual Oil Field Highway 41 convention, ordinarily held about this time in January, has been postponed to February or March because of bad weather and other untoward conditions, according to information reaching Elmer D. Elliott, an association director.

President J. I. Lowry, of Sayre, has also announced that he hopes to hold the convention at Binger, Okla. and further hopes that a special night meeting can be arranged in Oklahoma City with Oklahoma Highway Commission members, other prominent state officials and leading Oklahoma business men.

Lowry reports that A. F. Heket, operating the Panhandle Stages between Pampa and Oklahoma City, has agreed to furnish a bus for the run from Binger to the Oklahoma City meeting. He furnished a similar service last year. He would also furnish a special bus to carry delegates from Pampa and intermediate points to Binger.

Under tentative plans, the Binger meeting would close in time to permit delegates to get to the Oklahoma City session that night.

Garnet Reeves, secretary of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development, also secretary of the Highway 41 Association, says prospects grow steadily brighter for an early all-paved highway between Oklahoma City and Denver by way of Pampa, Borger, Dumas, Hartley, Dalhart, Boise City.

He praised the Dallam county program under which a contract may soon be let leading to pavement on Highway 41 from here north to the Oklahoma line. Reeves said Jan. 24 the Highway Commission would contract a five mile segment which will start five miles east of Wheeler and run east. That will leave a gap of only six miles to the Oklahoma line, he said.

Paving of the Stinnett-Dumas Highway 41 segment last summer brought the road a lot of additional traffic which should continue to grow this summer, Reeves believes,

State Housecleaning Is Urged By Gov. O'Daniel

Austin, Jan. 16. — (UP) — Gov. O'Daniel, in his first message to the 47th legislature which convened Tuesday, today urged a five-point program "to clean up this Texas state government." Proof that the people want it cleaned up, he said, is found in the number of new faces here.

Summarized his program is: Give the Governor power to discharge any employee he appoints; let the Governor appoint a budget director and the legislature, instead of the Governor, appoint a state auditor; consolidate tax collection efforts; empower the comptroller to set aside money for appropriations as they are made to eliminate constantly recurring deficits; establish a merit system for state employees.

He also renewed two requests made in his first term: That irrevocable life sentence replace death penalties; and elimination of the poll tax, at least as a prerequisite for voting.

W. H. Clark of Houston is visiting Mrs. Clark and Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Chatelain. Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Chatelain are sisters.

General Public Is Invited To Safety Meeting

The general public, reminded Rock Island officials this morning, is invited to the R. I. division safety meeting tonight at 7:30 in the district court room.

Of particular interest, officials believe, will be the series of still pictures, accompanied by a talking record, showing general progress of railroads.

Shippers, passengers and others directly concerned with railroads will be especially interested in the program, it is believed, while all persons will hold much more than a passing interest since the rail lines affect every phase of a community's life.

Division Superintendent E. B. Herdman will have charge, and the meeting will be attended by F. A. Bogue, Rock Island superintendent of safety of Chicago.

Kidneys may need help the same as bowels. Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Clayton Readies For Western Ball

Noel Brane, one of the leaders in presenting Clayton's Annual Old Western dance, was in Dalhart this morning—fine crop of whiskers and all—and predicted that the 22nd annual affair Jan. 23-25 would be the finest in history.

Over $300 in cash awards will be given in the three nights for the best old-time and modern men and women dancers; for the best Western costume worn by both men and women, and for the best crops of whiskers, regardless of where they were grown. Even Russians aren't barred, but they would get some tough competition because some of Clayton's men started cultivating the facial brush along in the fall and have arrived at a state of lush foliage.

Indigestion, Gas Nervousness Left When Hoyt's Came

Wichita Falls Lady says Hoyt's Compound Routed a Bad Cold and Relieved Constipation and Kidney Misery.

"I have been troubled with indigestion, constipation, kidney misery and nervousness," says

MRS. L. E. BROWN

Mrs. L. E. Brown of 1663 Lucile st., Wichita Falls, Texas, "I also suffered with a bad cold. After reading what others said about Hoyt's Compound, I tried a bottle of it.

"Now my food digests better, and I am relieved of the gas and belching. I can eat anything without ill effects. My bowels and kidneys are regular. My nerves are much better, and I sleep through the entire night. Hoyt's also routed my cold. I plan to take a thorough course of it to get all the poisons out of my system."

The Wolf Drug Store, and all leading druggists in this area recommend and sell Hoyt's Compound.
