NUMBER 41

SUDAN TO HAVE TWO WEEKS OF REVIVAL

Methodist Revival To Start April 7

The Methodist folk extend a most cordial invitation to the entire community and surrounding neighborhoods to attend the revival services to begin next Sunday, April 7th, and to continue through the coming two weeks. Services will be conducted twice daily by Rev. Lewis N. Stuckey, pastor of the leading church of the Northwest Texas Conference. Brother Stuckey is one of the ablest preachers of Methodism and has a burning zeal for souls.

Our community is in great need of a revival. No question about that. There are some of the finest people here that can be found anywhere, who, like the rich young ruler, lack only salvation in Christ Jesus. We will be a prosperous community and people only as we put God first. We will lead happy and successful lives, individually, only in proportion to our loyalty to Him who created, preserves and redeems us. We can look forward to no better future life than that for which we make preparation here.

Services in the mornings, except Saturday, will be at 10:00 o'clock. There will be no morning service on Saturday. Services every night at 8:00 o'clock. We will be happy to greet you at each service.

C. R. HOOTON, Pastor.

Dinosaur Skeleton on New Mexico Farm

TUCUMCARI, N. M., March 29.—The remains of a prehistoric animal believed to have been an iguanodon or one of the herbivorous dinosaurs have been found by Jack Abernethy while digging on his farm seven miles southeast of Tucumcari. Excavation done to date reveals that the animal was at least one hundred feet long and a tooth found is believed to prove that the animal was herbivorous.

The Smithsonian Institute has been advised of the discovery and officials of the institute have promised a thorough investigation at an early date.

C. S. Richardson, Monday, found a section of petrified tree six feet in diameter on his farm sixteen miles west of Tucumcari. Other finds in the Tucumcari section within the past few months have inspired residents of the section to study their farms closely and new finds are being made regularly.

Unusual Flood in Cumberland River

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 30.—Lights from Nashville's flood beleaguered homes and factories played tonight on as strange a sight as a river in flood. The Cumberland was "bumping"—its abnormally swollen flow rolling up in midstream in great bumps, believed a sure sign that the stage of nearly 51 feet would continue for hours to flood streets, residences and industrial sections.

The river today had passed the third crest forecast and still was rising slowly to a point 11 feet above flood stage. The police and real estate firms had made available their facilities to the hundreds whose homes were temporarily uninhabitable, but factories and other commercial institutions had no relief from the water which covered valuable machinery and stocks of goods, and deposited heavy layers of mud throughout the city's river section.

Other sections of the south, previously flood-stricken, were busy repairing the damage today.

Holstein Yearling Will Fly to Texas

OCONOMOWOC, Wis., March 29.—While there may be some doubt as to whether the cow in the nursery rhyme ever did jump over the moon, one of her sons is going to fly.

A pure-bred yearling Holstein bull, Carnation Badger Aero Lone Star, will leave Pabst airport here by airplane, April 2, for a trip to Schulenburg, Texas, where he will be presented to a group of Texas dairy farmers.

The bull is the property of the Carnation Milk Products company, and the occasion for the gift is the breaking of ground for the company's first milk condensery in Texas. The animal is to be sent by airplane, that it may arrive in time for the ceremony, scheduled for April 3.

Two Oklahoma Justices Suspended From Office

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 30.—The senate court of impeachment today suspended Chief Justice Charles W. Mason and Justice Fletcher Riley, pending trial on removal charges which have been filed against them. The court took similar action with regard to Justice J. W. Clark late yesterday.

The three justices are charged with thirty-one articles with corruption, incompetency, unfitness for office and coercion.

Curtiss Foresees Flight to the Moon

MIAMI, Fla., March 30.—Glenn Curtiss, famous aviator, father of commercial aviation and builder of the airplane products which bear his name, believes that men will some day reach both the moon and the planet Venus.

During the course of an interview here he was asked, "What are the probabilities of interplanetary communication? Do you believe man will ever reach the moon and possibly the planet Venus?"

"I think the time will come when man will fly from this earth to the moon," Curtiss replied. "It is not impossible. Anything man thinks of eventually can be made to come true. The weird stories we read today concerning plans to fly to the moon are no harder to imagine than Jules Verne's exploits were when he wrote them over three decades ago. And a good percentage of his predictions have come true.

"Around forty thousand feet is about as high as man has gone. The vehicle to carry man to the moon will have to be extremely strong. It must carry enough oxygen and food to last him the entire journey. The biggest part of the feat will be navigation and it will take another Lindbergh to stay on the course to reach the objective."

History XIT Ranch Is Now Available

CANYON, March 28.—The Panhandle-Plains Historical society meeting will have an added interest to those who attend because of the fact that "The XIT Ranch of Texas," a history of the largest ranch in the world, by J. Everts Haley, associate professor of history and field secretary of the Historical society, has been received and copies may be inspected and bought by visitors to the meeting.

The XIT ranch was the property which was traded by the state of Texas for the capitol building. Its history is the history of the development of the Panhandle of Texas, from the early ranches almost to the present day.

Thousands of documents which were the source of the material from which much of the book was drawn are now in the files of the Historical society at Canyon, the gift of Mr. Farwell of Chicago.

Stock Ordinance Now In Effect

City Marshal Cooper has authorized The News to notify the citizens of Sudan that the ordinance is now in effect forbidding the running at large of any chickens, ducks, geese, etc., also the keeping of hogs within the corporate limits. Any citizen who is inconvenienced by violators of this ordinance is instructed to notify the Marshal of such violation, and he will see that the nuisance is at once abated.

Marshal Cooper also calls attention to the fact that it is positively against the city law for any property holder to remove night soil from outdoor toilets. The city employs a man for this purpose, and citizens are instructed to notify the authorities whenever attention is needed to this sanitary precaution.

All Hope Gone For Four Lost in Plane

LAKEHURST, N. J., March 29.—With the return of the dirigible Los Angeles to its hangar here, all hope of finding the four occupants of the Sikorsky amphibian biplane, missing since last Friday, was abandoned today.

T. Raymond Pinacane of Rochester, N. Y., a passenger; Harry Smith, pilot, and two mechanics were aboard the ship when it left Norfolk.

DEATH OF LITTLE EUGENE HOWELL

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. West, Sudan, Texas, on March 22 at 7 p. m., little Eugene Howell passed away. He was 6 months and 30 days of age. He was only sick a short time.

Our hearts are filled with sadness and we mourn the going away of the little one. All that loving hands could do, was done. But we could not stay the hand of death. It is true, we loved him, but God loved him better. We should not think of him as dead, but as asleep, for Jesus came and gathered him into his arms, to sleep, just as his mother gathered him in her arms each day. Little Eugene was laid to rest in Sudan cemetery.

We wish to thank each and every one for the kindness shown us in the sad hours of our loved one. May God bless each and every one.

One Who Loved Him.

UNALLOYED

He—"There goes a happy couple."
She—"When do they expect to be married?"
He—"They don't."

30 E-Soldiers Armed; Attack on Girl Cause

SAN ANGELO, March 28.—Two weeks of crime and house-breaking climaxed Wednesday by an attack on a 10-year-old girl, caused drastic law enforcement announcements here today.

D. I. Durham, district attorney, started an investigation of the attack.

For general suppression of crime, the police force was to be doubled at once. New men will be placed on traffic duty, and all of the present force were to be pressed into night service.

A reward fund to stimulate officers was started and today it totaled $3,500.

The American Legion called a special meeting to consider steps to organize the veterans into a special vigilance force.

Chief of Police McIntosh today reported that in the past two weeks 84 men have been forced to leave town. He said that more probably would follow them.

Arms were issued tonight to a detachment of 30 American Legion members, who began an all-night patrol of the streets.

Rains Benefit All Panhandle-Plains

FORT WORTH.—The Panhandle and South Plains regions were drenched by rains ranging from 3-4 to 3 inches Tuesday night and Wednesday.

Prospects for a large wheat crop in the Amarillo territory are brightened as the result of the heavy rains Tuesday night, according to Associated Press dispatches.

A survey of the Panhandle wheat belt shows only 50,000 of the 1,750,000 acres planted in wheat, damaged by wind in the past few weeks. Farm specialists said Wednesday the rain would almost insure a wheat crop to excel that of 1926 when the Panhandle produced 24,000,000 bushels. Plainview, reporting three inches, received the heaviest March rainfall since 1905 when 3.8 inches of rain fell in one storm during that month.

While the heaviest rain fell in the Panhandle and Plains, it was not confined to that territory alone. Showers were reported at Big Spring, Abilene and El Paso, the latter city recording .10 of an inch.

Attorney General Probes Gas Costs

AUSTIN, March 28.—Attorney General Claude Pollard is expected back from Dallas Thursday night, after having spent several days in North Texas investigating the divergence in gasoline prices. Gasoline was selling at 20 cents a gallon in Austin and 13 and 14 cents in Dallas.

The attorney general's department has had an investigation of the variance in gasoline prices on for a number of months.

Pure-Breds Brought Into Lamb County

During the past few weeks interest in pure-bred dairy cattle has increased, as evidence some of the animals that County Agent D. A. Adam has helped select.

O. D. Halsell of Amherst purchased five head from a Mr. Phillips of Lubbock, and with the herd bull that he has, has started on a breeding basis that will mean much to this county as a whole.

Bill Jackson, 4-H Club boy of the Spring Lake school, invested his savings in a bred heifer coming from one of the best herds in Collin county. She was purchased at the Fort Worth stock show, and will be shown in the Panhandle-Plains dairy show this week.

Breeding is one of the vital points of successful dairying, and when we have the herd production built up in this county, creameries, cheese factories, etc., will come in and take care of the surplus. At present a cheese factory can be gotten, but the production at present is a little low, and it is only through importation of pure-bred dams, and bull circles, that the average production can be built up, states D. A. Adam.

Bull circle work has begun in this county, and before the year is up, it is expected that two or more circles will be completed.

Texan Breaks the World's Hog Record

AMES, Texas, March 21.—Smashing the former record of 360 pounds held by a Kentuckian, A. T. Quicksall, Coryell county farmer, has set a new world's record for the highest average weight of a 180-day-old litter of pigs.

In the six-month feeding period the hogs were brought to an average individual weight of 390 4-7 pounds. The ration consisted of protein supplement combined with four parts corn meal and one part finely ground barley, mixed with enough milk to wet the feed. The grain feed was supplemented with a Sudan grass pasture to which the litter of seven pigs had access at all times.

Quicksall selected Poland Chinas for the contest. The cost of production per pound of pork was 7.6 cents.

4-H Club Boys Get Pure Seed

Pure seed for the field crop projects of the 4-H Club boys has been distributed, from various breeders and growers of pure seed, through D. A. Adam, county agent. Something like a thousand pounds of milo, hegaria, kafir and corn has been distributed.

The club boys are taking much interest, and during the next year, with one or two adult pure seed growers, and the 4-H club boys growing pure seed, Lamb county farmers should not have to go out of the county to obtain their pure seed.

REACHING UPWARD. (A Lay Sermon—An Editorial.)

Beginning on the 7th of this month, the Methodist people will start a series of revival services in Sudan. Sudan, then, for a period of three weeks will be enabled to hear the Word of God daily. It behooves every thoughtful man and woman of the community to think seriously, "What of the harvest of these two weeks?"

The one great basic need of the human soul is religion. It has been so in all ages and among all people. Deep down in the average heart can almost invariably be found a yearning for the good, the pure, the kindly glow of love for humanity in the large. Rare indeed is the man or woman who is lost to all these impulses. It can almost be said that there is some good in every human life.

But "some" good is not enough. Unless the whole of goodness is brought to the surface of life, then the net result of life must inevitably be failure. It is this failure which the evangelist whose heart is in his work, seeks with his whole soul to prevent. The real man of God does not seek merely the lip convert. His aim is deeper. He seeks to probe the human soul for every good impulse and to bring the life into conformity to the eternal laws of the Most High.

Blessed indeed is that person who can realize that real, true happiness and contentment lies not in the things of this world, but rather in the right attitude of the soul to its Creator. As nearly as we can approach to this state of mind, just so surely do we reach toward the only true happiness that is possible for humanity. The writer does not contend that we can ever attain to the ultimate. But he does firmly believe that every step upward brings its sure reward. Christianity—soul development—is largely a matter of growth. Few indeed are those souls that reach to full rounded lives as it were in a night.

Hence the untiring zeal of the real evangelist—the true man of God. He must be always striving to bring all lives ever closer and closer to the Divine Model—Jesus Christ. So, if you cannot enter whole-heartedly into the services before us, at least do your best to hold up the hands of those who are laboring for the uplift and ultimate salvation of humanity—and perchance as you allow yourself expansion in this service, you will find that the chief beneficiary of your labors has been—yourself.

West Texas Chamber Commerce at Tahoka

To The Sudan News: TAHOKA, April 2.—Many letters are pouring into the office of the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce from the various Chambers of Commerce and high schools of the South Plains stating that plans are under way for large delegations to attend the South Plains District Convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce here on April 24th. Lamesa has given notice that they will have their Band, Choral Club and a double quartet here. Lubbock has promised the largest delegation of any city on the South Plains and the Lubbock High School Band. Crosbyton states that they will have the High School Band, the Ukelele Club and a male quartet here. Abernathy, a fast growing and thriving city, has served notice that they will have a band here and will ask for the convention for 1930. Word has come unofficially that other towns are going to ask for the convention.

The people of Tahoka are making plans to entertain the largest crowd ever to attend the South Plains District Convention. Nothing will be left undone for the comfort and pleasure of the visitors on that date. A contract has been let for the decoration of every business house in Tahoka.

College Sets Dates Farmers' Short Course

COLLEGE STATION.—The twentieth annual Farmers' Short Course, at Texas A. & M. College will be held this year, July 29 to August 3, according to an announcement by H. H. Williamson, vice-director and state agent in the Extension Service. Plans for this educational event are already being formulated in anticipation of a crowd similar to that of last summer when about 5,000 farm people gathered from every section of Texas.

Instruction will be given this year in practically every phase of agriculture and home making, including field crops, horticulture, dairying, poultry raising, live stock production, insect and disease control, clothing construction and home improvement. Special programs will be arranged for boys and girls, of whom 1,700 attended last year for instruction and to compete in state judging contests. Local delegations will be accompanied to the short course by their county and home demonstration agents as usual.

Speaks to Realtors On Panhandle Crops

AMARILLO.—Stressing the importance of ascertaining the variety of wheat that is particularly adapted to the Panhandle-Plains, P. C. Mangelsdorf, agronomist of the Texas experiment stations and wheat and corn expert, told the Amarillo Real Estate Board of his impressions of the Amarillo territory.

"I had the idea that wheat was almost the only crop of this section," said Mr. Mangelsdorf, "but I am highly gratified to learn that you have many other fine crops and that almost all of your farmers are practicing diversification."

Mr. Mangelsdorf also outlined briefly the plans for conducting a series of co-operative experiments with farmers in this section with the view of ascertaining the best possible variety of wheat for the territory.

Louisiana Governor Faces Impeachment

Proceedings aimed at impeachment have been started against Governor Huey P. Long of Louisiana. Among the nineteen counts considered by the legislature was the charge that Governor Long asked his former personal bodyguard, H. A. "Battling" Bozeman, to murder State Representative J. Y. Sanders, Jr., a political opponent. Habitual drunkenness, oppression and gross misconduct also were among the counts.

SUNDAY SERVICES AT METHODIST CHURCH

Next Sunday morning at the Methodist church the pastor will receive into membership the class of boys and girls who made the decision for Christ two weeks ago. Parents and teachers will please bear in mind this announcement and assist in the service. These children have been through the School of Religion conducted by the pastor last week, and are ready for the solemn obligations of church membership.

The sermon subject for next Sunday morning will be "Shall We Live Again?" Sunday night, the subject will be "Expensive Indifference." Sunday school will start promptly at 10:00 a. m. and Epworth Leagues at 7:00 p. m.

Easter Cantata A Great Success

One of the best programs of religious worship ever provided for a Sudan audience was made possible last Sunday night at the Methodist church by a choir of twenty-four voices, recruited from the entire community for this special occasion.

The service consisted of an hour and fifteen minutes of beautiful music, arranged in the form of an Easter Cantata to depict the tragic story of the Cross and the glorious Resurrection of Jesus. The cantata was based entirely upon the Bible accounts of the last week of Christ's ministry and His Resurrection. It was a sermon in song, the messages having been delivered in choruses, quartets, duets, trios and solos, with finest effect.

Notwithstanding a large number of extra chairs had been provided for this occasion, the house was crowded to the last foot of standing room. People were there from many miles distant. Some drove from Muleshoe, some from Baileyboro, some from Amherst and many from the surrounding communities to be present at this service. People were finding seats in the church by 7:00 o'clock, though the service was not scheduled to begin until an hour later.

The singers who participated in this rendition of "Joy After Sorrow" were all local talent, save one, Miss Debbie Patterson of Amarillo, was here for two of the special solo parts. Mrs. Roger C. Martini, also of Amarillo, was at the piano throughout the entire cantata. Local people who did solo parts are: Mrs. J. R. Dean, Mrs. C. B. Hooton, Mr. Donald Broyles, Miss Frances Weimhold, and the quartet which consisted of Mr. Herman Lyle, Mr. Wilson, Miss Runnels and Miss Lumpkins. These did excellent work, their individual voices showing up to fine advantage in the parts assigned to them.

People of Sudan have just reason to be proud of the unusually fine assortment of talent to be found here.

Indian Should Aid Self, Says Secretary

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Secretary Wilbur is looking for a man for Commissioner of Indian Affairs who will be so able in that position he will work himself out of a job.

The new Interior Department head believes that the solution of the Indian problem is the elimination of the guardianship of the government over the Indian and the transformation of the native Americans from wards to independent and self-sufficient citizens. Such a solution of the Indian question, as he sees it, necessitates a new direction for the Indian office and a stiff course of "hardening off" for the Indian.

Secretary Wilbur does not believe that the problem can be solved overnight, but he does think that a new program can be started at once. It is understood that he has the backing of President Hoover in declaring that this program must be worked out before a commissioner for Indian Affairs can be selected.

Wheeler Man Sells Hog Weighing 850

John Hefley of the Center community Friday sold a hog which weighed 850 pounds, believed to be the largest one ever raised in Wheeler county. He got eight and one-half cents a pound for the animal.

Another hog Hefley sold the same day weighed 650 pounds and he was paid nine cents a pound for this one.

Hefley sold 11 hogs in Shamrock this year. Last year he marketed a total of 193.—Shamrock Texan.

County Agent's Monthly Report

During the past month County Agent D. A. Adam spent 158 hours in the field, 81 hours in his office, had 36 office calls, 15 telephone calls, wrote 33 letters, visited 53 farm homes, held 16 demonstrations, with 669 people present, and drove 1400 miles.

Most of the work done consisted of terracing, dairying and club work.

"BOOST OR MOVE."

COOPERATIVE MARKETING.

(Texas Extension Service Farm News.)
The third annual School of Cooperative Marketing finishes its three day session as this issue goes to press. The attendance was a little smaller this year than formerly but the program was especially keen and interesting. Cooperative marketing, speakers said, is in a period of "disillusioned agnosticism," in sharp contrast to the intoxicating days a few years back when cooperative marketing, neatly packaged, was dispensed by well meaning persons to the state at large as a panacea. The so-called principles commonly associated with cooperative marketing may not be inviolable principles after all, it was brought out, and success may depend more on dominant personalities than on principles, as is true of most business. In any event, cooperative marketing is not magic nor hocus pocus, has no inherent virtue in itself and is successful in proportion as it efficiently performs middlemen's services.

General J. E. B. Stuart once remarked that battles are won by the side that gets there "fastest with the mostest men." Professor C. A. Wiley of the University of Texas came close to the fundamentals of cooperative marketing when he said that successful cooperation or any other marketing consists of good merchandising, and this consists in getting the right amount of the right quality in the right place at the right time.

The informal discussions of the school piled up instances of fairly successful cooperation, and plenty of instances of failure. No one outlined a sure-fire formula for success.

Without going into details of the program, let the question be asked: What is the good of such a meeting? Simply this: Rural leaders are having to find themselves as regards to cooperative marketing. Facts are many. It is doubtful if there was ever a time when so much was known on the subject of cooperation. But leaders must assimilate and digest the facts and relate them to their own experiences and apply them to their own conditions before constructive action can be taken. It's a long time job. The recent schools of cooperative marketing have blasted away a lot of false notions and provoked thought. The harvest is in the future.

DRIVE OR FLY.

The railroads of the country report a decided decrease in passenger traffic the past year. There's a reason.

The steel makers report that for the first time the consumption of steel by the automotive industry exceeds the consumption by the railroads. In addition to automobile competition, airplane passenger travel is gaining.

"Aviation is not a fad," says Will Rogers. "It's a necessity and will be our mode of travel long after all the people who are too valuable to fly have met their desired deaths by the roadside on Sunday afternoons.

OF VALUE TO US.

The newspaper man is blamed for a good many things that he can't help, such as giving partiality in mentioning visitors to town, giving news about some folks and leaving others out.

The News prints all the news and personals it can secure every week, but no doubt many an interesting item goes unmentioned just because we didn't know about it.

Some of our people give us news items but many other steadfast and loyal readers do not. We are not expected to know the names and residences of all your aunts, uncles, cousins and friends. It will please us to have you tell us when they visit you.

NEW FARM RELIEF START.

The first proclamation by President Hoover, which summons congress to meet in extra session on April 15, mentions farm relief and the tariff as the subjects for legislation. But other business is not barred. This is in accordance with the understanding reached during the campaign. Successful development of concrete farm relief, it is agreed by farm organizations, appears more probable than at any time since the depression struck agriculture.

FROM BEEF TO PORK.

The country appears to be shifting from beef to bacon. At any rate the per capita consumption of pork and its products was last year the highest in the nation's history. At the same time the use of beef by the average man fell to the bottom point. For one reason pork was proportionately cheaper than beef last year. This may have had something to do with it.

SPEED UP SPRING SALES

Now is the time to throw business into high and speed up your spring sales. A regular ad in The News every week will do it. Get on the advertising band wagon while it is going good. Every family in this community is a prospective customer of the local stores. This paper goes into a majority of the homes in Sudan and vicinity every week, and all store news is eagerly read. Keep on telling the people about your store and your goods every week and you'll keep on selling them.

UP IN THE WORLD.

A WOMAN'S CARE.

How to Raise Poultry
By Dr. L. D. LeGear, V. S., St. Louis, Mo.

Save the Soreheads By Timely Remedy

Single Measures Applied Early May Ward Off Disaster From Chicken Flock. Says Dr. L. D. LeGear, V. S., St. Louis, Mo.

"Go to bed with the chickens" "Most certain!" not!" exclaimed a well known radio entertainer in mock indignation. "No, indeed, I'd never be able to sleep on those sticks the way they do." For more reasons than one, I am inclined to sympathize with this gentleman's point of view. Nevertheless, I firmly believe that, short of literally going to bed with them, the man who comes nearest to living with his chickens is going to get the greatest profit out of them. He will do so because he knows his flock both individually and collectively. The slightest change in their habits or appearance will immediately attract his attention and if disease threatens he is able to nip it in the bud long before it reaches the dangerous point.

Of course, not every one can give full time to the care of his fowls nor is it altogether necessary. There are certain times every day when they must receive attention for feeding and the like. Then, scan each fowl as closely as possible and single out for closer examination any that show the slightest signs of possible disease. One particularly malignant disease which may crop up at any time, more particularly in the fall of the year, is chicken pox or sorehead. As this disease may be carried by mosquitoes, your flock may become infected no matter how careful you have been to keep your own houses, yards and runs in a sanitary, healthful condition.

A number of eruptions or nodules, varying from the size of a pinhead to that of a pea or hazelnut, appear on the comb, wattles, eyelids, ear lobes, beak and nostrils and sometimes on other parts of the body, such as the neck, legs, under the wings, on the rump and about the vent. On the body the nodules may become larger than on the head. The nodules begin as small, red or reddish spots with a shiny surface. They gradually enlarge, become elevated, uneven and wart-like in appearance, while the color changes to yellow, brown or dark brown. As these nodules increase in number and the inflammation extends, large areas of the skin will become thickened and covered with hard, dry crusts, closing the nasal openings and eyelids, often preventing the bird from opening its beak.

If the attack is mild the eruptions are distinct and small and the general health is not affected. The nodules seem dry, heal and shrink, the crusts become loose and recovery is rapid. But in malignant cases the eruption is more general, the nodules are larger and there is considerable inflammation and thickening of large areas of skin. When the crusts are rubbed off there will be a watery discharge from the ulcerated surfaces, which will later thicken, become thick and yellow and give off a disagreeable odor. In this type of the disease there is fever, rapid loss of flesh, prostration and death.

At the very first sign of this disease give the whole flock large doses of epsom salts, once each week for two or three weeks at least. Mix one pound of epsom salts in a small tempting wet mash feed for each one hundred Leghorns, or one pound for each 75 of the heavier breeds. For half-grown stock give one-half the amount. Put the mash out in a long trough so they can get at it and eat it up in a few minutes. If wet mash feed is not being given, the epsom salts can be put in the drinking water, but in a wet mash it is much more effective. Remove all the affected fowls to a separate location well removed from the poultry flock. Then make a thorough clean up of all houses, coops and feeding equipment.

Clean and disinfect all hoppers, troughs and drinking fountains, roosts, dropping boards and other removable equipment. Remove and burn all litter and droppings. Finally, make a strong solution of some good coal tar dip and disinfectant and spray it into every nook and cranny where mosquitoes, parasites or disease germs might find a hiding place. If possible, always change clothing and shoes before going from infected fowls to healthy ones.

Give each of the affected fowls from one-half to one teaspoonful of epsom salts and repeat the dose two or three days later if there is no improvement. A local application is also very healthful with a small swab or feather, apply a good dip and disinfectant or tincture of iodine to each of the sores, crust and nodules after removing the scales. The disinfectant should be used full strength, so be careful not to let it get in the eyes. Also apply once each day or two some reliable sore-head remedy. A good poultry prescription tonic in large doses will be found very beneficial at this time. Careful following out of this treatment should give highly gratifying results if started soon enough.

In the fall about the time chicken pox usually appears in your locality, I advise giving all young fowls and in many cases older ones too, large doses of epsom salts once a week for three or four weeks. Give same amount of epsom salts to the same way as above.

cleaning and disinfecting at this time. All houses and sleeping quarters should be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected every week or ten days for some time. The disinfectant should be forced into all dark corners and hiding places of mosquitoes and other insects with a good force pump. I have seen can this treatment for preventing chicken pox for several years with excellent results. If my chickens do take the disease at all, it is usually in a very mild form. Vaccination with a specially prepared vaccine is being used with varying results in some localities. The question is whether the disease is so much to justify the trouble and expense even if it was effective.

PRESENT HIGH ORDER OF FARM IMPLEMENTS IS NOT MATTER OF GUESSWORK

Millions Spent by Leading Manufacturers to Discover Best Kind of Equipment Farmers Want.

Louisville, Ky. (Special).—An interesting fact was brought to light by a disclosure made recently in this city. It seems that data furnished, even by the U. S. Bureau of Agriculture, is closely scrutinized by the implement factories and supplemented by facts secured from independent sources.

Valuable as are the government bulletins to the agriculturist, leading implement makers nevertheless spend millions every year in field work and research to the end that their products may be exactly adapted to the soil conditions where used.

In the South, conditions prevail which make necessary an entirely different type of planting and harvesting machinery than that used elsewhere.

As an example of progress along these lines, take the well-known southern implement manufacturer, B. F. Avery & Sons of Louisville.

William Black, president of the Avery Company, tells us that keeping posted on the regional requirements as related to farm implements comprises one of the most important activities of his firm.

Two Different Requirements. "For instance," he says, "there's a big difference in the demands put on a planting machine by corn planting and cotton planting, and yet some manufacturers have sold regular corn planters in the South for the purpose of doing both jobs."

In full justice to these machines they did a fairly good job, at first. But the planting of cotton requires a machine that has far greater ruggedness than that usually built into a corn planter and the result was one that which could be expected under the circumstances—a machine that soon became rickety and wobbly, and was disqualified even for doing a good job planting corn.

A careful study of the relative requirements of both types of machine (in Mr. Black's opinion) would have completely safeguarded the purchaser against the loss he would sooner or later have to take on such a machine.

Must Know Right Formula. "I could give many other illustrations of this same principle," said Mr. Black. "But the point I especially want to drive home is that farming is as much a science as chemistry. Only by knowing and by using the right formula can the desired results be secured. And it is with a feeling of real pride that I can point to the resourcefulness of various implement makers in working out these formulas in the laboratory of experience and applying them over to the farmer in terms of equipment that will make his efforts more fruitful and his life more happy and contented."

YEAR PARASITE REMOVER Will keep your chickens free of lice, mites, fleas, blue-bugs, healthier and producing more eggs or your money back. H. G. Ramby. 4-4-2 mo

FARM RELIEF Whether enacted under Coolidge or Hoover, farm relief is expected to follow closely the proposal of Senator McNary no wespouses and which is favored by both. The equalization fee is eliminated entirely and in its place is a plan to loan money from a $200,000,000 revolving fund supplied from the federal treasury to assist the handling of crop surpluses, amortization to extend over a period of 20 or 30 years at 4 per cent interest. The amounts loaned will not exceed 75 per cent of the tangible assets of the borrower.

Execution of loans will await authority of commodity advisory councils and stabilization corporations. Over all will be a federal farm board of seven members, including the secretary of agriculture and six others to be appointed by the president at a salary of $12,000 a year. The president will appoint a chairman and name his salary. Not more than three members of the board will be of the same political party.

Sterilizing Defectives Urged in Texas. AUSTIN, March 30.—Sex sterilization of the mentally defective should be taken up again in the special session, in an effort to pass the bill which failed at the regular session, Representative Eugene Giles of Travis county said in a statement here.

Mr. Giles is a member of the committee on eleemosynary and reform institutions, which passes on all legislation affecting the insane. He pointed out the senate killed the bill which had passed the house, and expressed the hope that some member of the senate will sponsor the measure at the April-May special session.

CATTLE SHIPMENTS MAY BE DELAYED IN SPRING (Farm News) Poor ranges, caused by continuous cold and rain, may delay the spring movement of cattle and sheep to market, according to the March 1 live stock report of H. H. Schultz, federal crop statistician. Cattle are still in fair condition and losses generally have not been heavy, since both stock and ranges entered the winter in the best condition in years; but cattle and sheep have lost flesh during the last month, present condition being below that of Feb. 1, and also below the five-year average. Trading has been slow.

Ranges are dry in West Central and South Texas, but in other areas there is plenty of soil moisture to provide quick grazing with warmer weather. Feeding has been general, particularly in the plains territory, where an abundance of grain and roughness is available. Ranges of Central and East Texas, as a rule, are understocked and local demand is strong in some counties. The coast territory also reports good demand for young steers, with prospects of the spring movement being about normal.

Receipts of cattle and calves at the Fort Worth market during February were 35 per cent under last year's total of 65,600 head. Hops shipments also fell off, while receipts of sheep during January and February were 46,572 head, compared with 41,321 last year.

Who's Going to Do the Spanking?

(By RICHARD H. McCARTY in the Albany News.)

The West Texas crowd have been quite wrought up this week down at Austin. To start with, Governor Moody vetoed their pet bill and then some one told them they could not secede from Texas without a real reason. If there is any bunch in Texas that are spoiled it is the West Texas crowd. They are fine fellows, they have some wonderful organizers in charge of their work, some of the best executives in the state, but sometimes we feel like they need a good spanking, like the spoiled boy and put to bed without their bottle for one night at least.—Richardson Echo.

The above clipping is from the facio pen of the Hon. Sam Harben, editor and proprietor of the Richardson Echo and secretary of the Texas Press Association. He is large mentally as well as physically—yes, some boy, but he has stirred up a hornet's nest and he's going to get his feet wet when he jumps on West Texas. O, yes, he says that West Texas needs a spanking, but what we want to know is, who in the hell is going to do the spanking—Says that we were mighty wrought up about Governor Dan Moody vetoing that land bill—Well, boy, did you notice how we spanked the red headed governor of Texas, yes, just as soon as the giants came down from the West to storm the state capitol, to register their protest, and the doggone lawmakers dove-tailed, fell into line, and gosh, we swamped that red-headed governor of Texas—O, yes, it was a regular and side, passed it over his veto, and West Texas got what was coming to her—Be it said that it has been ever thus. West Texas has had to scarp for what she wants, and by doggies we know how to strike back.

Of course you durn "fellers" down there in the sticks think of West Texas as a waste, howling wilderness, inhabited by wild animals, rattlesnakes, mule eared rabbits and little spotted tails and long horned cattle—And they think that just because we wear ten gallon hats, bellspurs and leather leggins that we are wild and wooly and simple. But get this boy, when West Texas puts on a show, they rush the ticket office for front seats in the grand stand—Actors? Why Lordy yes. Did you notice that Simmons Cowboy band in the tour of the eastern states—Why doggone they like to have stamped the inauguration proceedings and Washington City declared a holiday to flirt with these western giants—Put on a show, why bless your soul boy, we went after Herbert, wanted to fetch him west and show him a sure enough Gosh country—Why yes, we bait our hooks for big fish, and by gosh he said he would come—Yes, captured the President of the United States, general of our armies and the admiral of our navies coming west to be our guest this coming May at El Paso during the annual meeting of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, the largest regional commercial body in the world, and think of it, the Commander-in-Chief of the armies of the greatest republic on earth has sat up and taken notice, and agreed to visit this great Empire. Spank West Texas, eh? Why boy she is a giant, and if you ever undertake it you will sure get stung. Stuck up, eh? Why hell, who wouldn't be stuck up living in a country like this, some five or six hundred miles across it from east to west and about a thousand miles long, play snow call up in the northern part in the early morn, hop across this vast domain, and lunch on oranges and grape fruit in the Magic valley at noon, and bathe our feet in the Gulf Mexico at even-tide—And here comes you "fellers" from down in the sticks" and talk about spanking West Texas and putting her to bed without her bottle—Yes, we are easy and stuck up, have a right to be living in the greatest country on earth, and with our varied interests out here, we have a right to some of the rich, ripe political melons being cut down there at the state capitol. Spanking West Texas, eh? Roll up your britches and wade in boys, the water is warm and the swimming is good, shed your duds and get in, the fracas is on—O, yes, it's a great country Sam, and the richest in the world—Its white faced cattle, Jersey cows, sheep and goats, copper mines and oil wells, fertile valleys and undulating hills, green grasses and babbling brooks, fructified breezes, where the ozone puts kick in the blood and takes the bile out of your system—Pretty women and handsome men—And scappers did you say? Come on you durn fellers down there in the sticks and put on that spanking stunt. Eh?

Man Bites Dog's Ear; This Is Real News DENVER.—Years ago Charles A. Dana, editor and proprietor of the old New York Sun, told a cub reporter, "If a dog bites a man, that's not news—it's common—but if a man bites a dog, that's news." The expression became famous in the editorial world.

Now comes the story of a man—Francis M. Eckhart, 26 years old—who bit a police dog in the ear with such success that the dog, which had attacked Miss Dorothy Hamm, was unable to withstand the competition and fled ignominiously.

A newspaper, speaking of a deceased citizen, said: "We know him as Old Ten Per Cent, the more he had the less he spent; the more he got the less he lent; he's dead—we don't know where he went—but if his soul to heaven is sent, he'll own the harps and charge 'em rent."

Irrational Law Enforcement

(Fort Worth Star-Telegram.)

There are technical points in the international "law of the seas" involved in the sinking by a United States prohibition cutter of the schooner "I'm Alone." These points will be settled to the formal satisfaction of both countries. If it is held that the American officers acted without proper regard to the rights of the British ship and crew, and in disrespect to the British flag, there will be forthcoming reparation for the one and apology for the other. But there is another matter involved in this latest "sensation" of the prohibition enforcement campaign which intimately concerns the American public. It is the question whether, in losing our sense of proportion over the prohibition laws, we are not permanently injuring the cause of justice and law in this country.

So far as the "I'm Alone" is concerned, the sympathies of the American public must be wholly with the captain and the crew who, believing in their rights as a free ship on the free seas, refused to halt and strike their flag at the demand of a ship of another nation. That is the way we would have American seamen act, and we can but applaud the same indomitableness when it is displayed by British seamen. The matter might reasonably end there, were the "I'm Alone" case an isolated one. But it is quite otherwise; it is but one of a series of unpleasant incidents which have marred the activities of prohibition enforcement agents. Some of these incidents have deservedly been classed as "atrocities." Some months ago there was the case of a prominent resident of Buffalo shot by prohibition agents on a public highway. Some time earlier a United States senator was shot on a Washington street. A few days ago in Illinois a mother was shot and killed in her home as she bent over the form of her husband, who had been beaten to the floor by raid prohibition officers. Some time ago the headquarters of the prohibition enforcement service recognized the gravity of the situation by issuing specific orders to all agents to be more careful when, where and how they loosed their firearms. But little effect seems to have come from these orders.

The question must inevitably arise in the minds of level-headed people whether in our zeal for prohibition enforcement we are not allowing more precious things to go by the boards. The delusion of grandeur which seems to fasten itself upon a citizen the moment he is commissioned by the federal government as a prohibition enforcement agent expresses itself in a lofty disregard for the rights and even the lives of other citizens. Too many of them become afflicted with the disease which affects all too many peace officers of every sort in this country. The officer regards himself as being "the law," and that is a very different concept from that which regards the law as the master and the officer as the servant of the law. Lawlessness in the enforcement end of law must inevitably produce increased lawlessness at the other end. How can respect for law be expected when law officers reckon it standard practice to disregard one or a dozen laws when they seek to enforce another law?

However severely some citizens and groups of citizens may regard violations of the prohibition law, the fact remains that in sanity and common sense all violators of this law are not perform outlaws who have forfeited all human rights and must be hunted down ruthlessly, and that the crime of violating the Volstead Act is not one properly to be classed with murder and highway robbery. No less an authority than the director of the Civil Service Commission, which conducts examinations for prohibition agents, has declared that it is impossible to obtain high class men for the run-of-service jobs on the force. Yet we allow these men to act as judge and jury and arm them with firearms to be loosed whenever and wherever they may choose or their imaginations may conjure up danger to themselves or an effort of a suspect to escape capture, and then furnish them with immunity afterwards. Between the fanaticism of the liquor criminals who are at war at all points with prohibition, and the fanaticism of those citizens who think that whatever act may be committed in the name of prohibition enforcement is right and justified, there is not much to choose. The great body of reasonable citizens in the nation must surely occupy the middle ground—that prohibition enforcement is important, but not so much so that all other rights and liberties may properly be sacrificed to it.

CUTTING Lubricating Costs Our volume of sales on Conoco Amalie Oils is growing larger each month, and there is a reason for this growth. Our customers are buying these oils time after time and they are telling their neighbors about the lubricating satisfaction they are getting. In this way the news is spreading that the CONTINENTAL OIL COMPANY is the one to go to for cheaper lubricating values. Tests are proving that tractor owners are getting more hours of running on Conoco Amalie Oils, and are holding up a better pressure on their indicators than with any oil they have ever used. Car owners are finding their oil looks better and has a better body when drained from their car after a THOUSAND MILES OF RUNNING than other oils they had used after five hundred miles of running. The proof is there before their eyes that by using Conoco Amalie Oils they are CUTTING THEIR LUBRICATING COSTS. If you are not using this oil you are losing money F. Z. Letter 100 Years Old Describes "First" Oil Well in Kentucky

The following news item from the Oil and Gas Journal describes the first oil well, that drilled in Kentucky 100 years ago:

GLASGOW, Ky.—While cleaning out a leak formerly used by the late E. T. Ellison, now in the office of the Consolidated Gas Company, Louis Fisher, service manager for the local company ran across a 100-year-old letter of historical interest to oil men.

The letter was written by the late Thomas Ellison, father of the late E. T. Ellison, and was addressed to the late Edmund Rogers, who lived at that time at Mount Hope, in Barren county. The letter was delivered by a messenger, "Dick," according to the notation on the fold of the letter, envelopes not being used at that time.

The oil well referred to in the letter is believed by those around here who are conversant with its history, to be the first one drilled in Cumberland county, and claimed to be the first in the United States. The letter follows:

Burksville, March 15, 1829.

Mr. Rogers,
Dear Sir,

I rec'd your letter by Dick informing me that you would take unconditionally Sixty Two Dollars & fifty cts for your Salt from fifty. I'll take her at the price & will fill your request by sending you account which is fifty Dollars. I wish you to keep the fifty for me until an opportunity offers to bring her down. If Joseph can bring her you may send her down by him.

We are all in tolerable health except Mrs. Coleman, her health is not good.

We have nothing new except Coles, Emerson & Stockton in boring for Salt on Renick struck a lake of oil. The well has been for the past four days throbbing out large quantities of rock oil. It would spout at least fifteen feet above the top of the ground as large a stream as a man's body, perfectly pure. Cumberland River has been covered from bank to bank for three days. The River was this evening set on fire it burnt for at least a mile in a stream of sheat of fire.

I have no doubt but in the time it has been running as to speke in the bounds of reason that five hundred thousand gallons of oil has run down Cumberland River & is still running but not quite so fast. Col. Emerson tarried up twenty barrels of it. It burns well in a lamp & is said to paint and oil leather & I have no doubt it will be a good medicin for many complaints particularly the Rheumatic pains. The whole atmosphere is perfumed with it. It is complete Phenomion. I could write a whole sheet and not say half.

It is late & I am sleepy, I am yours &c.

THOS. ELLISON.

Cuts Farm Operation Costs in the South

A Great Concern Perpetuates Its Greatness by Strict Adherence to An Original Policy.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., (Special).—The old adage about the man in the woods who if he could build a perfect mousetrap would soon have the whole world beating a path to his door, has long since passed into the limbo of worn-out phrases, but every now and then it happens that the success of some great manufacturer suddenly calls it to mind.

In this instance it is a large and well-known implement manufacturer whose products are used extensively throughout the South. Due to the perfection of the product in question, the cost of tilling the soil has, relatively speaking, been materially reduced. Farmers throughout the South have been able to obtain plowing, planting and harvesting machinery exactly suited to their own peculiar soil requirements. Better crops have followed. And with these better crops has come greater prosperity to the farmers.

The Real "Farmer's Relief."

The beginning of this real farmer's relief program dates back over one hundred years to the time when Benjamin Franklin Avery, the village smithy of Clarksville, Virginia, beat out the first Avery plow.

The plow he designed and built at that time was an innovation. He had the idea that no plow, regardless of how well it was made and assembled, could do good work in the peculiar Virginian soil unless it was specially designed to meet those conditions. He figured if he could build a plow better than all others for use in the South, that he would be benefiting not only himself but his community and all the farmers in it. So he studied the conditions and built the plow. It was a success. The news of it began to spread and farmers came from miles around to buy the Avery Plow.

Southern Farmers Approve.

They liked the new implement. They liked young Avery and his straightforward way of doing business. And whether the young smithy realized it then or not, the seed-sowing of a great industry was on!

Time passed! The seed fell into fertile soil. The business grew. With it, and into it, grew the two Avery sons—Samuel L. and George Capwell—both in hearty sympathy with the ideas and ideals, the plans and the policies which their father had conceived before them. Under their guidance the business thrived more than ever. Upon the death of B. F. Avery in 1885, his sons took over the leadership. After the retirement of his brother, George succeeded to the presidency, the spirit of the founder still sweeping the concern onward in its march to the top.

Good Work Carried On.

With the death of George Avery in 1911, this was written to that chapter of the history of the House of Avery in which any members of the family took active part. But then, just as now, there were men in this great organization whose long association with the founder and his two sons had resulted in the absorption of their spirit. These men, now the chief leaders of B. F. Avery & Sons, still guide its destiny with the ever present motto of the patriarch—"To Build Well—To Deal Square." This policy has now become one of the traditions of the Avery Company. To it B. F. Avery & Sons owe their splendid success in the manufacture of farm implements for the southern farmer who has come to recognize this company as foremost in the list of makers of highly efficient equipment.

FRIENDSHIP FOR DOG CHUM LEADS TO CAPTURE ELEPHANT

HOUSTON, Texas, March 28.—Friendship for a dog chum yesterday stopped an elephant on a rampage on the Galveston road after the animal had torn out the side of an arena in the Christy Brothers circus winter quarters, broke through a door, crashed through eight wire fences and threatened to enter a farm house.

The elephant was being "re-hearsed."

A leopard rebelled when ordered to mount the elephant. Trainer Stokes lashed the cat. The elephant became excited. At another crash of the whip the great beast wheeled, butted through the huge double doors, broke its chains and, waving his trunk wildly, crashed two fences as he crossed the Galveston, Houston & Henderson railroad, despite the efforts of Slim Walker, "bull man," who was hanging on to a bull hook in the elephant's ear.

Walker hung on grimly, shouting from time to time, but the elephant apparently did not hear.

Down the Galveston road for nearly a mile, motorists were scampering from the highway, stopping automobiles abruptly. Then the elephant went through the railroad fences again, circled and crossed the tracks a third time, crashing two more fences, with Walker still hanging to the bull hook.

At a farm house a dog barked furiously. The elephant hesitated. Then Walker showed his wits.

"Here, Rover! Here, Rover!" he called, tugging at the elephant's ear.

The huge animal quieted down, listened to the keeper for a few minutes, and then tamely submitted to being led back to the circus headquarters.

"He thought the dog was his chum, which rode in the car with the elephant for several seasons," Walker grinned.

THE JOKE WAS ON THEM.

Ex-Senator Chauncey M. Depew in his new volume of reminiscences gives one of Theodore Roosevelt's favorite stories as follows:

While Roosevelt was on the ranch the neighbors had caught a horse thief and hung him. They soon discovered that they had made a mistake and hung the wrong man. The most diplomatic among the ranchers was selected to take the body home and break the news gently to the wife. The cowboy ambassador asked the wife: "Are you the wife of...?" She answered "Yes." "Well," said the ambassador, "you are mistaken. You are his widow. I have his body in the wagon. You need not feel bad about it, because we hung him thinking he was the horse thief. We soon after found that he was innocent. The joke is on us."

Amherst

(Amherst Argus.)
The Cadmean Chautauqua will visit Amherst for five performances, starting on the night of April 5th.

Floyd Heckey returned the latter part of last week from Beaumont, Texas, where he attended the Grand Lodge I. O. O. F. of Texas. Mr. Heckey reported a very nice and pleasant trip. He represented Amherst Lodge No. 123.

Amherst fire boys are going to stage a real thriller in the way of a minstrel in the near future. They have already assigned the various parts to the members and they are rehearsing several times each week.

On Monday, March 25, the vocational teacher brought into the Amherst community seven more high class registered Jerseys. They consisted of three heifers and one bull from a register of merit cows and bulls, and two cows and one bull from a register of merit bull and high producing untested cows. This makes a total of 24 registered Jerseys that Smith has brought into this community during the time that he has been here.

April 6 is the day four school trustees will be elected, and from 100 appearances the race will be a war. According to D. M. Cravens, secretary of the school. He reports that eight names have been filed.

Last Sunday was a banner day with the Methodist folk. It was devoted to the boys and girls in the important matter of deciding for Christ. For the past several weeks officers and teachers had been working with parents and pastor for this service. Sunday morning, without any coercion, seventeen fine boys and girls gave their hearts to Christ.

Littlefield

(Lamb County Leader.)

A mass meeting for discussing the moving of the present county seat from Olton to some more desirable point in the county, was held last Friday afternoon in the Palace Theatre, Littlefield. The meeting was attended by about 250 representative citizens from all over the county.

Building permits in Littlefield during the past 30 days totaled $24,250. Many of these are in process of erection, and several other property owners are contemplating beginning erections during the coming month.

Upon representation of A. G. Hemphill and F. G. Sadler, of the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, and A. B. King and J. A. Boone of the northern part of the county, the commissioners' court last Monday granted a new highway running north from Littlefield about 15 miles and crossing the sand range at a narrow point.

Rev. Roy Kemp, pastor, Littlefield Baptist church, announces a revival meeting to begin Sunday, April 14.

The Lamb county Interscholastic league meet was held at Olton Friday and Saturday of last week. Littlefield high school won the all round championship and the large loving cup by scoring 242½ points. Olton high school was second with 157 points.

C. A. Baird returned last Friday from Beaumont where he attended the Grand Lodge of the I. O. O. F. of Texas, going as a representative of the Littlefield lodge. He reports more than 2,000 delegates, Odd Fellows and Rebeccas present.

Littlefield grammar school again won the loving cup given the war school in the county scoring the most points at the county interscholastic meet held at Olton Friday and Saturday of last week.

At a meeting held here in the Baptist church last Sunday afternoon the Littlefield Cemetery Association was organized with about 50 members, with prospects of many others joining.

Muleshoe

(The Muleshoe Journal.)

Muleshoe is already one of the largest shipping points for agricultural products and livestock on the South Plains and is increasing shipments each month. This section, served by the Santa Fe lines, has one of the largest trade territories in West Texas, and up to last Friday, shipments of products from Muleshoe for this season passed the million dollar mark—$1,125,515.00 to be exact—and many more cars of farm products and livestock are to go during the next few weeks.

The Muleshoe section continues to develop, and prospects still indicate that a much larger acreage will be cultivated by the farmers of this territory this year than ever before. During the past two or three weeks dozens of families have moved into the country just north of Muleshoe. These new citizens are breaking out land and making preparations to become permanently located in our midst. It is estimated that something like four or five thousand acres of new land is being put in cultivation this spring.

Mr. R. L. Hobbs is erecting a new four-room house and a...

of town. The house is to be occupied by a tenant. It is to be a neat and modern structure. Other improvements are also to be made on the place.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Williams of Trenton, Nebraska, accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. Mabel Redmer and her little girl, Imogene, were visiting in Muleshoe from Friday until Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Williams are the parents of Charles Williams, who has made his home in Muleshoe for some time.

A Get-Together meeting of Muleshoe business men will be held next Tuesday at noon, at which time a luncheon will be served.

Levelland

(Hockley County Herald.)

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce at its meeting Tuesday evening discussed the matter and decided to offer first, second and third prizes for the most successful grower of shade trees, flowers, etc., or in other words, the ones who have the most beautiful yards during the coming growing season.

House & Stroud, owners of Hotel Levelland, the new structure recently built on the site of the old court house on the north side of the square, have announced that E. M. Crook, for many years in the hotel business at Crosbyton, will be the active manager of that new addition to our list of enterprises.

The Hockley County Interscholastic League held its annual meet here Friday and Saturday. It was an event that had been of absorbing interest to the different schools for the past few weeks and there was a large attendance from all parts of the county. In fact all the schools were represented and the pupils acquitted themselves in a manner to receive credit upon the various schools of this section.

That an oil test to the depth of 4500 feet will be made on block 77 of the Slaughter lands about fifteen miles southwest of town is now assured. Leases were blocked up in this section several months ago, and in December a drilling contract was signed.

Revival services will begin at the Methodist church Sunday and will be continued for several days with two services each day. The plans are to extend the meeting for two weeks.

Rev. Chas. Burnett of this place has made arrangements to begin a series of revival services at the Baptist church at Morton on Monday evening, April 8.

The regular March term of the district court convened here Monday with Judge Henry L. ... on the bench, and with District Attorney Durwood Bradley, Court Reporter C. B. Smith, Clerk Warren Peary and Sheriff L. P. Williams in attendance.

Rev. W. B. Wages of Lamesa will shortly begin a series of revival services at the First Missionary Baptist church at this place.

South's Business Grows Amazingly

Arthur Coleman, in the April issue of "Holland's," the Magazine of the South, says: "Today there are millions who, being possessed of all the means of information at man's command, do not know the tremendous steps the New South is making toward her goal of industrial supremacy; don't realize the awe-inspiring power still unexploited, still untouched. It seems almost impossible that this should be so; that people who call themselves modern, and who live in a world of modern miracles and modern means of knowledge, should go unenlightened concerning so great an economic movement, change, renaissance, beneath their noses."

"For the New South is coming into a power that is startling in scope, in its vastness. It would be startling in a purely industrial and commercial section. Much more amazing is it, then, in a region which the people of a nation have come to regard as purely agricultural. One expects other and more commercialized sections of the United States to show gains and growth in industry. And that is why it is so unexpected to learn that, in six years, the annual value of manufactured products in the South increased $567,000,000; while manufactured products values in the remainder of the country, during those same six years, decreased $275,000,000."

"The industries of the nation are learning that the New South offers advantages in such abandon and of such quality as can be found in no other one section of the country. They are discovering that many southern mills can pay a dividend on the annual cost of heating similar establishments in some portions of the country. They are discovering that wages for competent labor are 25 to 40 per cent cheaper than in more congested sections, and that the labor itself is of a far higher class. And the fact that southern taxes are not oppressive is very welcome knowledge to northern industries who are finding it more and more difficult to compete with contemporary institutions in this territory."

AVERY Two-Row Listed Corn Cultivators

Give a good crop a good start

When your listed corn is young, is the time to lay a foundation for profitable growth. Careful cultivation at this time brings a generous reward.

Listed corn farmers who work their corn through the early stages with Avery Sled and Two-Row Cultivators, bring down to the young crop exactly the required amount of finely pulverized soil and give their crop the best possible start. They do the most for the crop, in the easiest and best way, when good care is most needed.

In designing the Avery Sled Cultivator, which runs in the furrow beside the row, every essential has been provided for doing the work easily and accurately. The Avery Two-Row Listed Corn Cultivator offers a broader development of the same principles, but due to the exclusive Avery equalizers and other features, it cultivates two rows with the same ease and accuracy as does the single-row machine.

Avery Sled and Two-Row Cultivators bear the unmistakable quality characteristics of all Avery tools. Because they do better work and last longer, they are the most economical in the end to buy. They are built in America's finest implement factory—to meet a need that springs direct from the soil—by men inspired by 100 years of implement-building leadership.

Ask us for the details. We will gladly give you all the facts upon request.

There is a full line of famous Avery walking, riding and tractor plows; tillage implements, and Champion harvesting and haying machines.

Baileyboro Community Organizes P.-T. A.

BAILEYBORO, March 2. — With the completion and occupancy of the new school building, comes the determination to cooperate to a better school on the part of the patrons of Baileyboro Independent School District. At a community meeting March 22 a splendid program was rendered by the primary room, under the direction of Miss Harrington, after which Mrs. John Dean of Sudan made a splendid talk on the purposes of the Parent-Teachers' Association and how it benefits a community. Those present then voted Friday night. At this program those present realized the need of a piano and our Superintendent, Mr. A. L. Stringer, headed the list with a donation of $5. Within 15 or 20 minutes $119 was raised and Mr. Stringer and J. M. Bell were chosen to apply same on a new piano, which we now enjoy.

On March 29 the patrons and teachers of Baileyboro school organized the first P.-T. A. to be organized in Bailey county, with 35 charter members. They voted to assess each member 25 cents dues for the year, to affiliate us with the State P.-T. A. The following officers were elected: A. L. Stringer, acting temporary chairman; G. L. Blackshear, president; Mrs. Clifford Wallace, vice president; Mrs. J. L. Howard, secretary; Mrs. Willis, ex. treasurer; Mrs. John Blackshear, historian. Program and new member committees were appointed.

On account of rain and bad roads our District Vice President and Mrs. Dean were unable to attend, but their presence has been requested April 14 to complete the organization.

Waco Officers Go Calling

WACO, March 28.—Constable W. B. Mobley and Deputy Constable D. L. Tiner, carrying a search warrant, prepared to make a raid on a South Waco home today but a woman occupant of the house saw them coming.

Every door was barred and all the windows were locked. The officers could only peer through a window as the woman busied herself pouring ten gallons of whiskey down the sink. As the last drop of liquor disappeared the woman opened the front door and asked: "Well, what do you want?"

"Nothing, we were just calling and must be going now."

CAN YOU TELL WHAT IT MEANS?
 Clara—"Rita told me that you told her that little secret I told you not to tell her."
 Mae—"What? That mean thing I told her not to tell you that I told her."
 Clara—"Well, she told me anyway, and I told her I wouldn't tell you she told me, so don't tell her I told you."

News of Texas Told in Brief

COLLEGE STATION.—More than 150 highway engineers, contractors, officials and others from all sections of Texas met here for the opening of the three-day session of the fifth annual short course in highway engineering.

AMARILLO.—Despite inclement weather more than 2,000 persons crowded the municipal auditorium for the special program of the old-time fiddle music and dances given by the Tri-State Fair Association. Milt Trout of Dimmitt won first place in the old fiddlers' contest. He was awarded a $25 prize.

PERRYTON.—Charles W. Calloway, president of the Perryton Chamber of Commerce, Wednesday received official notification that the National Fire Waste Council, in awarding prizes for good fire records for the year 1928, awarded Perryton second place in the honor list for towns of that size and class. This survey covers the entire United States.

SAN ANGELO.—As far as this section of the state is concerned a heavy automobile license fee, a high gasoline tax and any campaign for a highway bond and constitutional amendment will be vigorously opposed, the first two propositions immediately, since they will come before the April special session of the legislature.

DALLAS.—T. J. Britton, Jr., 31, was killed Wednesday when a shotgun he was removing from behind a rubbish pile at a house where he formerly lived, exploded. The shell apparently had been in the gun for years.

BORGER.—Spearman will be supplied with natural gas from the fields near Stinnett, Hutchinson county seat, through a six inch line to be built by the Keystone Pipe and Supply Company.

STINNETT.—Gas from the Stinnett field will be piped to Perryton, county seat of Ochiltree county, this summer and service is to begin on or before September 15.

AMARILLO.—Mrs. Matilda S. Smith, 86 years old, pioneer resident of this city, and said to be one of the oldest living native-born Texas women, died at her residence here Saturday afternoon after an illness of several weeks.

SNYDER.—A new creamery and poultry plant in Snyder is to be located by East Texas capital, it has been announced with the arrival here of the men who are backing the project.

LUBBOCK.—Enrollment for Texas Technological College, to date, is approximately twice what it was for the first year of its existence, with 2,074 recorded yesterday, information from the college office reveals.

BRADY.—Irene Curtis, 19, of one of three young women held in connection with a daylight robbery of the Farmers' and Merchants' state bank here last week, was released under $500 bond.

SLATON.—Work began Monday on the installation of machinery for Slaton's new creamery, which will be placed in operation between April 19 and 25, according to G. S. Fraser, president of the company.

SNYDER.—Classes of Snyder high school with the city federated clubs cooperating have started to beautify the school grounds. Each class in the high school and grammar school will have charge of a certain plot of ground.

LAMESA.—The mammoth tree planting campaign is going over fine in Lamesa and Dawson county. At this time better than 10,000 shade trees have been sold and planted, and 1,000 evergreens including 300 Arizona cypresses have been sold. Another car of evergreens will be placed during the campaign.

SNYDER.—Indications that farmers who are diversifying their farms are being rewarded is seen by the business done by a produce firm here on a recent Saturday. The firm, it was reported, on that day paid to 391 sellers a total of $4,110.30. Milk, eggs and poultry made up the greater part of the rural sellers' wares.

LAMESA.—Dawson county is fast becoming dairy minded. At this time there are more than 5,000 head of good dairy Jersey cattle in the county and of this number 320 head are registered Jerseys and 29 are registered bulls which are located in cities.

VEGA.—A new 20,000-bushel capacity elevator is being erected at the Everett switch 5 miles east of Vega. The new elevator is being built for the Wildorado Grain and Mercantile Co., of Wildorado.

FORT WORTH.—Members of the Texas Women's Christian Temperance Union, meeting here today for an "Institute," smashed jugs and bottles containing 2,500 gallons of whiskey. This activity was arranged by the sheriff and district attorney, who had seized the liquor in raids. Several stills also were destroyed by the zealots.

MUSEUM STUFF

"What is a whiffletree?" asks The Sioux Falls Argus-Leader. "What is a thill?" These once familiar words have a strange sound in this motorized age. For the benefit of the younger generation it may be necessary to explain that whiffletrees and thills are essential parts of a buggy. Oh, yes, the whiffletree is a buggy fender.
