Mountaineers Out Shoot Bulldogs 42-20

As I Meet Ranger

By Gene Townsend

Well I have made various comments on the high school and college football teams in this column, and now it is time for me to comment on the junior high team.

They have 35 boys out for workouts, the competition for each position is great, and the boys are really having to work to earn a position on the first 11. It is interesting and competition like this that make a good team. If the interest in football can be kept up in the boys until they are in high school they should supply a nucleus for a solid team. Everyone should go to all the junior high games that they can. It is at this age that the boys need the support more than at any other time.

When we look at the national report on the Labor Day traffic accidents we wonder how come so many deaths and injuries. But if we look at the amount of automobiles that are in the United States we can begin to see the reason. There is a reported 60,000,000 automobiles in the U. S. If there is only 20 percent of them on the highways on a holiday, that is 12 million automobiles, and if each one drives only ten miles that is 120 million miles driven. It is no wonder that there is so many traffic accidents! We all gripe about the gasoline taxes, but if part of the taxes are going for the building of better and safer highways, it is small payment for the safety we will receive in the outcome.

Darkness Is Now Major Traffic Danger

AUSTIN — J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, said today that "darkness" is one of the major traffic dangers faced by pedestrians and motorists alike.

"With the approach of shortening Fall days, it is doubly important that we adjust our walking and driving habits," Musick said.

"When driving at night a motorist can't see an object until it comes within range of his headlights. It's obvious that if he is driving at a speed that won't permit him to stop within the range of his headlights he will hit whatever is in his path.

"However, lowered speed is not the whole solution," Musick added. "To see danger quickly and act immediately to avoid it, the driver must be aware there is always the

Display Shows Part Native Grasses Play

By SCS PERSONNEL

Why overgrazing native grass does not pay is aptly illustrated in a display now in the lobby of the Eastland National Bank. The display shows the root system and crowns of two little bluestem plants which were grown in deep containers last year for a full seasons growth. One plant was clipped each 30 days, while the other was not clipped until the end of the growing season. Total forage produced by the unclipped plant was 113.5 grams or about 1.4 pound. Clipping each month on the other plant reduced the total forage yield to only 37.1 grams or about 1-12 pound.

Forage yield is only half the story however. Total weight of both crown and roots was 400 grams or about 87 lbs. on the unclipped plant. Total weight of crown and roots on the clipped plant was 175 grams or about 38 lbs.

The display illustrates the scientific fact that removal of foliage on any plant destroys a portion of the "food factory" and thus reduces the production of organic food within the plant. Application of this principle to grassland management means controlling grazing to the degree of always leaving sufficient leaf and stem growth for the manufacturer of food for the most desirable plants in the pasture. Another application might be the removal of stem and leaf growth on undesirable plants to prevent their manufacturer of food. Unfortunately livestock can be trained to graze undesirable plants and leave desirable ones. This can only be accompanied by grazing management to favor the better plants in different pastures according to their season of growth. Continued close grazing shortens the root system and the grass eventually dies. Under continued year round grazing naturally better grasses most favored by livestock die first.

In addition close grazing eliminates the first grazing climi-

SUNDAY DEVOTIONAL

By K. C. Edmonds, pastor
Eastside Baptist Church
THE DECISION TO BE A FRIEND

"But Barnabas took him and brought him to the apostles, and declared unto them how he had seen the Lord in the way, and that he had spoken to him, and how at Damascus he had preached boldly in the name of Jesus, and the way with them going in and going out at Jerusalem."

Once I heard of an old Scotch preacher preparing his congregation for the Christmas season, concerning Christmas gifts. He said, "Let your giving be sincere, that gift is a bit of yourself you are giving to other people. Do not make a gift if the symbol is insincere. When you send a gift you are saying, it is myself I am offering to you in Christmas friendliness."

I think that if Barnabas were preaching a Christmas sermon in one of our Churches he would say something very similar. He saw the Christian life as a sharing life.

It is a gross misunderstanding of the sharing spirit of Barnabas to suppose that he was advocating a particular economic pattern of Communism. Such an idea was not in his mind. He was just a man who shared with others all that he was — and all that he had.

When, as recorded in Acts 4:36-37, Barnabas sold his farm and put the money he received into the project of the Church at Jerusalem, it was his way of sharing things. He was giving every thing. That sort of thing won't for him his nick name, "Bar-Nabas," meaning "Son of Consolation," or "son of Encouragement." He must have been a consolation and an encouragement to many.

When Barnabas, as recorded in Acts 9:26-28, brought Saul into the fellowship of the Church at Jerusalem, it again was sharing. Already Barnabas had given himself to Saul in Christian friendship, and now he would have Saul share the fellowship of the Church. The people of that Church were afraid of Saul. They had reason for their fear; they could not believe that Saul was now a disciple. It was Barnabas who went surety for Saul and opened the door of the Church to him and made him one of the group.

A few references in the acts of the Apostles enable us to create a portrait of Barnabas, apparently he was a tiller of the soil. He owned a farm, he was a man who loved the out-of-doors. At the City of Lystra, Barnabas was called "Jupiter" by the superstitious people, while Paul was called "Mercury." That clearly tells one thing, that physically Barnabas was the larger and more impressive man. Barnabas was a Levite. He belonged to the hereditary Priestly class. He became a disciple of Jesus Christ. That released in still finer form, all his faculties for useful living. When he was sent as a messenger to the Church at Antioch he was described as "a good man full of the Holy Ghost and of faith."

This man is a fine example of Christian faith, and love in the

Bulldogs Show Much Improvement But No Match for 3-A Team

The Ranger Bulldogs got off to a bad start Friday night, losing the ball on the opening and allowing Mineral Wells to score and lead in the remainder of the halfgame. The game ended with the score of 42-20 in favor of Mineral Wells.

The stadium at Mineral Wells was kept full of flying footballs Friday night as most of the scoring was made from passes or resulting from punts.

First Quarter
Ranger fumbled the opening kickoff, and Mineral Wells recovered. Six plays later they scored from the 25 yard line on a pass play from Jackie Ingle to end Bob Watson. The conversion was no good.

Ranger tried their hand at moving the ball but had to punt. Mineral Wells came right back to score again with Clyde Copeland running 45 yards to pay dirt. Don Moore ran the two points after TD.

The Bulldogs then took to the airways to get their first tally. A pass play from Jerry Anderson to end Charles White, good for 42 yards, set the ball up on the 5 yard line, and from there Anderson scored on a keeper play. Anderson passed to Bill Stuart for the extra points.

Mineral Wells came back to score again in the first quarter with Ingle again throwing to Tommy Key for a 22 yard gain to set the touchdown up on the one yard line where he hit Key again for the one yard and the score. Bob Watson took a pass from Ingle for the 2 point bonus.

Second Quarter
Mineral Wells was the only team that could get a score in the second quarter. They intercepted a pass on Ranger's own 14 yard line. Ingle then hit End David Visentine for six points. The conversion try failed.

Third Quarter
Mineral Wells again was the only team to score in this quarter. After the kickoff at the half, wingback Ronnie Munday put together runs of 14 and 29 yards. Lack to back to set up the third quarter score. Ingle again hit end Tommy Key with a pass good for 19 yards and another six points. Key took a pass from Ingle for the conversion.

Fourth Quarter
Ronnie Daskevich picked a fumble off in mid air to set up Ranger's second TD Bill Stuart and Richard Robie did some fine ground gaining, carrying the ball down to the one yard line, and from there Anderson hit pay dirt for a six pointer. The try for extra point failed.

The Mountaineers weren't to be denied. They again took to the air for yet another TD, with Ingle again tossing to end Tommy Key for a gain of 36 yards and six points. The conversion was no good.

Ranger ended the scoring with the longest scoring play of the night when Anderson hit Charles White with a pass good for 65 yards. The conversion try failed and that ended the scoring for the night.

Ronnie Daskevich and Jim Robinson were the standouts in the line for the Bulldogs. Daskevich turned several good tackles and picked off a fumble that resulted in a Bulldog touchdown. Robinson did some fine tackling through the game.

determination to share all good things with others. Behind the enterprise of sharing there are a few strong Christian virtues.

Barnabas was genuine, we find no false notes in his life, he was very careful about what sort of person he offered to other people. Real friends always are. They never palm off a fraud on others.

When gifts were being made at the Jerusalem Church, Ananias and Sapphira came, offering their gift, they said that they had given all. That was untrue, behind the untruth was that treacherous thing, the desire to be given credit for being what we are not and giving what we have not really given.

The real offense of these people was that they were offering to the fellowship of the Church two lives, that were not genuine. The first concern of Barnabas was that he be genuine.

May each of us strive to be like Barnabas.

possibility that danger lurks in the shadows ahead."

Musick pointed out that the pedestrian is similarly handicapped at night. But the pedestrian has the advantage of being able to see a vehicle's headlights long before the motorist can see him, so the prime responsibility for his safety rests with himself.

The safety expert advised pedestrians to wear something made of white or reflectorized material when walking at night. Carrying a flashlight, or even a newspaper, will help drivers spot him sooner.

When You Buy Real Estate— you not only buy the land and all that's attached to it above and below, but some kind of a title, good or bad. The abstract is a written history of the title and is the evidence of your security or insecurity. Since security is the basis and measure of all values, the abstract becomes the most important factor in every real estate transaction. Christian Science

The unlimited availability of divine supply will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday. Scriptural readings in the Lesson - Sermon entitled "Substance" include the account in II Kings (4) of Elisha's feeding of a hundred men with twenty loaves. Correlative selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include (494:10): "Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need. It is not well to imagine that Jesus demonstrated the divine power to heal only for a select number or for a limited period of time, since to all mankind and in every hour, divine Love supplies all good." The Golden Text is from James (1:17): "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variable-ness, neither shadow of turning."
