

As I See Ranger

By Gene Townsend

Ranger has two very active Scout Troops. Troop 10 has really been working on advancement. It has been only a few months since they held a Court of Honor where scouts received ratings in every rank in scouting. They are planning to have another Court of Honor soon and will have advancement in every rank again. David Webb was awarded his Eagle badge at the last Court of Honor. It was the first Eagle awarded to a Ranger scout in twelve years. Tommy Robinson has passed all requirements for an Eagle and will be awarded the badge at the next Court of Honor. Fred Bennett is to be complimented for his work with his troop.

Troop 15, which was reorganized last June, started out with only seven members, but Duval Dennis and Aaron Howton, scoutmasters, now have 23 members enrolled. They are mostly younger boys that haven't been in scouting very long, but they are working hard on their advancements.

The Ranger College basketball team didn't have a very good season this year, but one of the players set a pretty good record. Howard Stallings shot and made a 62 foot field goal in the Navarro field house recently, setting a record in the field-house. With only about ten seconds left in the game, Wilbur Smith threw the ball in bounds from under the Navarro basket. To Stallings who was about the center of the back court. When he got the ball he turned around and shot and made the basket.

Ranger home owner, will be paying 5 percent less for their fire insurance this year than they did last year. They have been paying a five percent penalty for fire insurance, but now due to very few fires the past year, the penalty has been lifted.

The story that appeared in the Times early in February stating that the May Insurance Agency couldn't make transfers on automobile licenses should have explained that it was the transfer of new titles only. Transfers from county to county can be made.

This must be the month for oddities. The Abilene paper had an article about a man from Coke County killing a pink rattlesnake recently and there is a report from Olden that a man killed a solid white skunk . . . You think this is odd—let me tell you about those pink elephants that I saw—Well I guess I better not tell that.

Snow can really be beautiful, but after a full day to get used to its clean beauty and all the problems that go with it, the most beautiful thing about snow is remembering it, and not having to drive in it.

The old saying about Texas "if you don't like the weather just wait awhile" has just about been true in the month of February. We have had just about every kind of weather . . . rain, sleet, wind, dust, snow and even sunshine.

Speed Limit Signs Installed On Main Street

New 20 mile per hour speed limit signs were installed on Main Street Tuesday by the Ranger Police Department.

The signs were placed at Commerce and Main Streets and at Marston and Main Streets. The speed on Main Street between the signs is 20 MPH. The speed limit on West Main from Marston to the City Limits is 30 MPH.

Police Chief Dan Butler stated that the reason for installing the signs was not to try to catch speeders, but to remind people of the danger of excessive speed on the narrow Main Street which has been the cause of several accidents in the past few years.

In the year preceding the installation of the stop signs and no U-turn sign on Pine and Marston and Elm and Marston Streets there were 11 accidents. Since the installation of the traffic signs there has been no accidents. The Police Department hopes that the same results will be accomplished by the installation of the new signs on Main Street.

Eastland topped the list on the second team with two herths, John

Paul Hinds Is Busy Athlete At H-S-U

Paul Hinds, former Ranger High School star, is getting ready to conclude one sports season before embarking on another one to make him one of the busiest athletes on the Hardin-Simmons University campus.

Paul, like many other athletes on the H-S-U campus, is not satisfied with a good performance in just one sport. When the current basketball season comes to an end Feb. 27, he will move over to the cinder track in Farmore Stadium for three more months of hard work.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Hinds of 459 W. Main in Ranger, Paul is a Junior at Hardin-Simmons. He came to the Abilene school in 1958 after a successful athletic career at Ranger High School where he was an outstanding quarterback and also participated in basketball.

Hinds declined a chance to play football for the Cowboys upon enrolling and he has devoted most of his time to basketball and track. He is also a member of the Student Council and he is majoring in secondary education.

Paul was one of the top performers for the freshman basketball team's first season at Hardin-Simmons, but last year he fractured a wrist before the 1958-59 season began and Coach Bill Scott held him out in order to give him another year of eligibility.

This season Paul has been one of the top reserves on the Cowboy cage squad and when he got the chance to move into the starting lineup he sustained other injuries which kept him out of the line-up for over a week. Coach Scott called him the fastest player on the squad and looks forward to next season when he expects Paul to have his greatest year. This season Paul has scored 61 points and has 42 rebounds.

Paul will compete in the sprints and all of the relay teams for Coach Vernon Hilliard's Cowboy track team this spring.

A2C Tommy Young Receives Good Conduct Medal

A 2C Tommy Ray Young, who served on in Madrid, Spain, with the U. S. Air Force, has been awarded a good conduct medal.

He is also a member of the USAF Europe football second team, for which he received a blanket.

He is the grandson of Mrs. Pearl Hamilton of Ranger.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:
We would like for you to know that we are interested in seeing something done about the railroad crossing at the end of Main Street. Also we wish that some method of positive halting of traffic at the crossing is accomplished that all strings of empty cars be kept far enough away from the crossing to give vision to drivers approaching the tracks.

Thank You,
Mr. and Mrs.
L. G. Kennedy

Dear Editor:
I'd like to express my feelings and thoughts about the railroad crossings in our town of Ranger. I'm sure there are many others who feel the same as I.

These crossings are very hazardous and they present death-traps for everyone who crosses them. They have in the past, been the site of several disasters, and as they are now will be more in the future.

I for one, am strictly against the trains switching in town and those box cars being parked as is to prevent a clear view of the tracks in both directions. The box cars are now being parked so close to the crossings that a driver has to be on the tracks before he or she can see if there is a train coming.

There are signal lights sure, but sometimes when the switch engine is working the signal lights will be on for over an hour at a time without a train coming through.

I believe that this town has some of the most hazardous crossings of any town anywhere. They're only death-traps for our families and especially our school children. I have five children that have to cross those tracks twice a day on the school bus, and it could have been the school bus that was involved in the tragedy recently, and what mother wants to send her children off to school each day, knowing that because of such death-traps at those crossings, she may not see them alive again.

I think each and every one of us who live in or near Ranger, should try to do something about those death-traps. If we all try, we can make those crossings safe.

Don't just talk about what should be done, but let's all fight and fight hard until those crossings are made safe for everyone.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Walter Tucker

Dear Editor:
Certainly everyone in our community has been awakened to the need of better safety devices at the Main Street Railroad Crossing.

Our prayer is that our town shall never witness another tragedy like the one last week.

The Frank Hicklin Family

Editor of The Ranger Times:
As a driver of a public school bus I would like to add whatever I may to the elimination of the hazard associated with the crossing of the railroad on Main Street.

As one who feels keenly the responsibility of safe travel for students I would like to say with present facilities that danger and death are something to be reckoned with at every crossing. There has been times when my view of the tracks was blocked by railroad cars and the only way of knowing when to advance lay in venturing across at the risk of my life and the lives of a bus load of students.

SCHOOLS CLOSE

Snow Covers Entire Area

Snow, whipped by cold wind, covered Eastland County Wednesday, and Ranger was under a white blanket this morning.

Temperature readings dropped to a low of 8 degrees last night, and the reading at 8 a.m. was just 13 degrees. Ranger schools let out Thursday, and Supt. G. B. Rush said there will be school Friday unless weather conditions remain bad. The weatherman has predicted more snow tonight, so students may well get a four-day holiday.

Numerous fender bumpings were reported on the slick, icy streets and highways, but no serious accident had occurred as late as 10 a.m. today.

Schools in Olden, Rising Star and Eastland also dismissed classes because of weather conditions. The snow which fell was fine and powdery. As much as two inches fell here, with drifts in places.

Welcoming Plan To Be Tested by Ranger C of C

The Newcomers Committee of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce met last week in an effort to solve a problem which has been sadly neglected in Ranger, that is the welcoming of new citizens to Ranger and an effort to encourage them to trade in Ranger.

The Committee decided to try a plan similar to that which has been successful in larger cities. The plan is to give Gift Certificates from local merchants, good for either a particular item or for credit on any item in the store. These will be presented to new citizens with a letter welcoming them to Ranger.

Members of the Chamber of Commerce will be contacted by the committee asking them for 20 certificates, of value from two to three dollars, to be signed for merchandise or credit on purchases of large items. The committee plans to try 20 certificates and see how the plan will work. If successful it will be continued. The certificates will bear the new comers name and will not be transferable.

The cost to the merchants will be for the merchandise only. All other expense will be borne by the Chamber. Every firm that is a member of the Chamber will be given an opportunity to participate in the plan. New members in the Chamber of Commerce will also be allowed to participate in the plan.

Members of the Newcomers committee are, Charles Milliken, chairman, F. P. Brasher, Jr., H. G. Adams, Jr., Buddy Vinson and Mrs. D. E. Pully.

R. M. Wagstaff Candidate For U. S. Congress

R. M. (Bob) Wagstaff of Abilene has formally announced his candidacy for the office of Congress from the 17th District.

"Effective representation is the issue in this race," declared Wagstaff.

"The present incumbent has been in congress for fourteen years, and has not given this district the character of representation to which it is entitled. A change is long past due."

Wagstaff is a member of the law firm of Wagstaff, Harwell, Alvis & Pope, of Abilene. It is the oldest and largest law firm in this area. He is widely known as an able and experienced lawyer, and for the important legislation which he sponsored as a member of the Texas House of Representatives. The Wagstaff Act, preserving the rights of cities, towns, farmers and ranchers to the use of their own waters; and the Oil and Gas Conservation Statutes, regulating the production of oil and gas, are among the most important laws on the statute books of Texas today.

"The time has come for the people to reject those so-called 'Career Congressmen,'" said Wagstaff. "They are apparently unable to solve the problems which confront our nation. It's time for a change!"

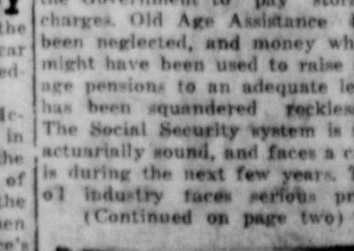

"I believe the time has come for this district to send to Washington an experienced lawyer, businessman and rancher who is more interested in the larger problems of the day than in pork barrel legislation and the next election."

"In the fiscal year ending June 30, 1959, the Government levied more taxes, spent more money, incurred the greatest national debt, lost more gold, and incurred the greatest deficit ever recorded in time of peace. Nobody knows with certainty how much the Government owes, or is appropriating, because while we are swelling the money out of the front door in congressional appropriations, the back doors of the Treasury are wide open and the spenders are carrying it out the back door without the let or hindrance of annual congressional appropriations check or justification."

National defense is in an uncertain state, and it is certain that we are behind the enemy in the missile race. The national debt increases by billions, and no real attempt is being made to balance the budget. An unbalanced budget causes the cost of living to increase each month, and higher and higher taxes take an increasing amount of the individual's income each year. Interest rates on government bonds are the highest in many years. The farm problem is unsolved, the farmers' income is the lowest in fifteen years, a $4 billion surplus overhangs the market and strains the resources of the Government to pay storage charges. Old Age Assistance has been neglected, and money which might have been used to raise old age pensions to an adequate level has been squandered recklessly.

The Social Security system is not actuarially sound, and faces a crisis during the next few years. The oil industry faces serious problems.

Inviting Themselves
Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I are planning to visit our son who is in training camp. Friends of friends of ours have a son stationed at this camp and I understand that they are planning to visit their son about the same time we are planning to visit ours. We do not have a car and were planning to go by train. I would like to know if it would be proper to get in touch with them and ask if we may go along with them. It would be so much more convenient going by car and we would share the expense. We met this couple just once while visiting our friends. Would such a request be in order?

Answer: If you had a car, it would be kind and proper to invite the carless couple to go with you, but you should not invite yourselves to go in their car.

Evening Clothes Before Six
Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter is going to be married at five o'clock in the afternoon with a reception at six, and the question of the correct clothes for the men has caused quite a discussion. My daughter thinks that the men should wear striped trousers and cutaway coats, while I think they should wear evening clothes since the reception is taking place at an evening hour and they will be at the reception much longer than they will be at the ceremony. Will you please tell us what is correct?

Answer: Your daughter is right. It is entirely correct to continue wearing afternoon dress on into the evening, but all wrong to wear evening dress before six o'clock.

Where To Leave Tip
Dear Mrs. Post: When giving a tip to a waiter should the tip be left in a conspicuous place, in an inconspicuous place (say under the plate) or handed to him?
Answer: Usually a waiter's tip is left on the plate, or tray, on which he has brought the change after paying the check. If it is a restaurant where the check is not paid through the waiter, the tip is left in a place where he will surely see it.

Not Necessarily Of Equal Value
Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter was married six months ago and had a very large and elaborate wedding. A close friend of ours who was invited to the wedding, sent my daughter a very substantial wedding check for a present. Now this friend's daughter is to be married in a month but she is not having any wedding to speak of. I would like to know if our wedding present to her daughter should match that sent to our daughter. I do not think this is necessary as we are not being invited to the wedding. My husband thinks that regardless of this fact, we are obliged to send her a wedding present comparable to the one our daughter received.

Answer: You should give her as nice a present as possible, but certainly not one that costs more than you can afford.

Refusing A Tip Tactfully
Dear Mrs. Post: In my job I am offered tips by people for doing small favors for them. I do not expect payment for them and it embarrasses me when they offer me money. Some of them even insist that I take it. Will you please tell me how I can tactfully refuse without seeming unappreciative of their kind gesture?
Answer: You can say with an appreciative smile, "Oh, no, thank you so much. It has been a pleasure

Invitation Written On Visiting Card
Dear Mrs. Post: I have received an invitation to a buffet supper written on a visiting card which asks for a reply. Will you please tell me how this should be acknowledged? Should I telephone my acceptance, write it on a visiting card, or should I write a formal acceptance?

Year's Feed Grain Situation Analyzed
 The total supply of feed grains in 1958-59 and other concentrates for 1959-60, (October 1, 1959-September 30, 1960), has increased to a record high of 265 million tons, seven percent larger than in 1958-59 and more than a third larger than the 1953-57 average. Supplies have set new records for each of the past years, according to John McHaney, extension economist. The supply this year (1959-60) will total about 18 million tons more than last year, making the seventh year of steadily increasing supplies. A major reason for the increase was the 1959 record feed crop of nearly 10 million tons larger than the 1958 crop and 38 million tons larger than the 1953-57 average. The increase yields per acre added to the supply. Oats supply is expected to be 1,459 million bushels, 17 percent below that of last year and the smallest supply since 1947. Barley is expected to total 622 million bushels, he said, down five percent from last year, but a fourth larger than the 1953-57 average. The record high corn crop of 1959 is expected to increase corn supplies to a record six billion bushels.

The record high corn crop of 1959 is expected to increase corn supplies to a record six billion bushels.

McHaney added that a further increase in feed grain utilization is expected because livestock numbers continue to increase, causing heavy feeding of grain and other concentrates. However, total utilization has not kept pace with production and supplies continue to mount.

37 percent above the 1953-57 average. The total supply of sorghum grain for 1959-60 is estimated at about 1,074 million bushels, 16 percent above last year and more than three times the 1953-57 average. The 1959 crop of 573 million bushels was 7 percent smaller than that of 1958, but more than double the 1953-57 average. McHaney said total utilization is expected to be substantially larger in 1959-60 than the 423 million bushels used domestically and exported in 1958-59. Feed grain prices are expected to average a little lower in 1959-60 due to the record 1959 crop and the large supplies. Expected lower livestock prices in 1960 and lower supports, especially for sorghum grain, will have a tendency to cause feed grain prices to be lower.

Talking is all right—
 . . . if you are running for office or courting your best girl, but when it comes to buying land or town property don't let the owner talk you out of an abstract. The fact that the seller has owned the land for many years doesn't mean necessarily that his title is good. The safest plan is to get an abstract before you buy. The cheapest property on earth is too high if the title is faulty.

Mrs. John Edward Eubank

Former Ranger Resident Is Wed In Corsicana Church February 14

Miss Jane Ruth Howell of Corsicana and John Edward Eubank of Waco, formerly of Ranger, were married Sunday, February 14, at 4 p.m. in the First Baptist Church of Corsicana. The Rev. Robert Wooddy, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse R. Howell of Corsicana are the parents of the bride. The groom is the son of Mrs. Edward T. Eubank of Waco and the late Mr. Eubank.

The vows were read before a setting of palms and white wedding tapers in candelabra, enshrouded with festooning greenery, to provide contrast for a centered altar arrangement of white mums, gladioli and red satin streamers. A white priest-don was adorned with bridal flowers.

Mrs. Sam B. Roberts was soloist for the wedding. Mrs. John E. Womack, who accompanied, also provided traditional organ procession and recessional. Songs included "Through the Years" by Youmans, "Be These Mine Own" by Bohm, and "A Wedding Prayer" by Crowder.

Mrs. Dan T. Roberts was her sister's honor attendant, and Jack R. Eubank of Waco was his brother's best man.

Misses Virginia Dill, Ann Weatherford, and Phyllis Starks, all of Dallas, were bridesmaids. Misses Brenda and Jay Warshaw, Dallas cousins of the bride, were candle-lighters.

Stanley Shaeffer and Grady Jenkins, both of Midland; Bill Payne, cousin of the bride, and Wayne Cross, both of Dallas, were groomsmen and ushers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length gown, fashioned of crystal white pure silk-organza combined with imported Alencon lace, delicately traced in seed pearls and iridescent sequins. A Sabrina neckline, with the jeweled lace forming natural scallops and tiny brief sleeves, featured the closely fitted bodice. The circle skirt flared gracefully over multiple ruffles of net and crisp white taffeta, and appliques of lace spanned the waistline to create a drift in bustle effect.

Her shoulder length veil of imported French illusion fell from a matching contour hat, which was overlaid with nylon leaflets and pearls. White satin shoes and white kid gloves completed her ensemble. The bridal bouquet was a chapel arrangement of white hyacinths and white orchids with pearls.

A reception was held in the Fellowship Hall immediately following the ceremony.

For a short wedding trip, the bride chose a dress of navy blue faille, trimmed with large round gold buttons, with accessories of the same color. White-accents was provided in costume jewelry, gloves, and orchid corsage.

The couple will make their home at 901 North 23rd Street, Waco. The bride graduated from Corsicana High School, Baylor University at Waco, and Southwest Texas State Teachers College at San Marcos. She has been associated with Corsicana Public Schools as a speech therapist.

The bridegroom, a Central Texas rancher, attended Texas Technological College at Lubbock. He is a graduate of Ranger High School.

United States Far Ahead of Russia In Electric Generating Capacity

The continued argument about whether the United States or Russia is predominant in the production of guided missiles overlooks another important measure of a nation's strength—the production of electric power and its efficient distribution, a field in which the U. S. holds a wide margin of superiority, J. B. Thomas, president of Texas Electric Service Company, said today.

At the end of 1959, the United States had more than three times the generating capacity for electric power than the Soviet Union, Thomas reported.

This is one of the greatest advantages this country possesses, he added. A report on Russian electric power developments just released by the Edison Electric Institute sets out the findings of two delegations of American electrical industry leaders who toured the Soviet Union at the request of the United States State Department and makes clear that this country will continue to increase its lead over Russia in electric power supply during the next five years, Thomas stated.

The report estimates that the total capacity of the United States in 1959 will be 245 million kilowatts, as compared with the Russian goal of 110-112 million kilowatts. This is a difference of 134 million kilowatts.

Information in the report Thomas pointed out, tends to correct any impression that Soviet Russia is in any way likely to outstrip the United States in the production of electric power.

In the field of power transmission, Thomas reported that in 1957 Russia had only 46,500 miles of power transmission lines of 35,000 volts and above. That year the United States, with about one-third Russia's area, had more than five times as many miles of comparable transmission lines, a total of 240,000 miles.

Thomas also said the relative standard of living of the people in Russia and in the United States might well be measured by the average residential use of electricity which is about 400 kilowatt-hours a year in Russia and 3,500 kilowatt-hours a year in the United States.

"Communism and an all-powerful state have surely failed to approach the tremendous advantage in electric power supply for factory and home that private industry has brought to this country," Thomas said, "even though some ardent proponents of federal ownership of the electric supply facilities of the United States, and of other industries and businesses as well, are continuing to try to convince our people that his nation should follow the Russian example."

NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS

Suppose that Mrs. Housewife wants to buy a vacuum cleaner. She may not have the $100 or so required to pay for the appliance. The salesman will probably ask her to sign a negotiable promissory note, perhaps payable in a series of monthly installments. When Mrs. Housewife signs the note, the salesman will give her a cleaner. The cleaner company in turn will probably sell the note to a bank or commercial credit company.

Thus, Mrs. Housewife has the cleaner, the cleaner company has funds with which to do business, and the bank holds the promise of Mrs. Housewife to pay a sum of money. The bank, of course, will pay to the cleaner company something less than the face value of the note. The difference is the gross profit that the bank will earn on the transaction.

If the cleaner turns out to be defective, and contrary to the representation made by the salesman, an interesting problem arises. Mrs. Housewife may feel she is not legally obligated to pay the note, until some adjustment is made with regard to the cleaner. However, the law of negotiable instruments requires that Mrs. Housewife must pay the face value of the note plus interest to the bank bank in spite of the defect in the merchandise. At least such results follow if the bank has taken the note under these circumstances.

Mrs. Housewife certainly has the right to a cleaner in the condition represented, or damages resulting from the defect. But Mrs. Housewife must pursue these remedies against the cleaner company or its salesman. The fact that the merchandise is defective does not give her a defense against the bank on the note.

Whenever Mrs. Housewife signs a promissory note or other negotiable instrument, she should pay only the person who actually holds the note. For example, if Mrs. Housewife had paid the cleaner company at the end of the 30-day period, the bank, as holder of the note, could none the less collect from her.

Checks, drafts, promissory notes, and bills of exchange, are types of negotiable instruments. They are, in effect, unconditional promises to pay a definite sum of money to the bearer or endorsee of the instrument in a fixed or determinable time. Their use dates back to about 1600 in England.

"CORVAIR HANDLES BETTER, STEERS MORE EASILY, RESPONDS MUCH MORE QUICKLY AND HOLDS THE ROAD MORE SECURELY THAN ANY STOCK FOUR-DOOR SEDAN EVER MADE IN THE U.S."

—Jim Whipple, Car Life

If you think we're enthusiastic about Corvair, leaf through the leading automotive, sports and science magazines and see what the experts are saying. Then, by all means, drive one yourself.

"Corvair's steering is so light that at parking speeds it feels power assisted; it is so precise as to be absolutely without play, and it is fast enough to allow complete control over every situation."
—Karl Ludvigsen, Sports Cars Illustrated

"Steers like a feather and is extremely quick. . . This is a beautifully designed automobile, engineered by real pros. . ."
—Tom McCall, Mechanix Illustrated

"Most surprising thing to me outside of the excellent handling characteristics was the feeling of roominess inside. . . I didn't have the sensation of driving a small car and the headroom was greater in the Corvair than in some standard size cars. . ."
—L. H. Hoack, Automotive News

"So far as shopping goes, the Corvair is a housewife's dream. It's small and easily maneuvered without any power steering, and so easily parked. . . it's a lot easier to unload a cart full of groceries into a front trunk at the supermarket than it is into a rear one."
—Rosemary Francis, Popular Science

"I want to state as firmly as I can that the Corvair handles as beautifully and is as safe as—if not safer than—any family car on the road today."
—Jim Whipple, Car Life

SHORTCUT TO SHORTCAKE

Ready in a fraction of the time it took grandmother to make strawberry shortcake—but with the same old-fashioned goodness—is this quick formula using a packaged mix. For an added bonus, serve a dish of fresh strawberries with a bowl of powdered sugar for a dip. If stems are removed, multi-colored toothpicks may substitute for handles.

It's strawberry picking time in Florida, only place in the country that produces a winter strawberry crop.

The principal strawberry growing centers of Miami and Plant City are a-buzz with growers, pickers, packers and shippers putting this million dollar crop on the market. Later in the season the scene will move to Starke in Northeast Florida.

At farmers' markets, auctioneers rattle off the bids of buyers from many parts of the land. Refrigerated trucks and planes whisk the berries away to cities over the eastern United States. Some of the small pint crates find their way to bakeries and restaurants... a great many more to supermarkets where housewives snap them up to use in tangy strawberry tarts, with fresh cream, and many other wonderful ways.

Perhaps the most popular use of fresh strawberries is in the old fashioned shortcake.

Try this quick recipe for:

- 2 cups packaged biscuit mix
 - 1/2 cup milk
 - 1/2 cup sugar
 - 1 quart fresh strawberries
 - 2 tablespoons sugar
 - 1/2 cup butter
 - 1 cup water
 - 1 pint whipped cream
- Mash half the strawberries and cover with 1/2 cup sugar and water. Stir milk, 2 tablespoons sugar and butter into mix with fork and beat 1/2 minute. Knead on board dusted with mix. Pat out and place dough into round pan. Bake 18 to 20 minutes or until light brown.
- Cool shortcake and slice in half. Whip cream, sweeten to taste and add vanilla if desired. Spread mashed berries over bottom layer of cake, cover with whipped cream. Place top layer on and cover with whole strawberries and rest of whipped cream.

AS IT LOOKS FROM HERE

By Omar Burleson

WASHINGTON, D. C. — It is human nature for most of us to attempt justification for errors, rather, than to admit them.

In last week's column, reference was made to the current argument in Washington as to whether we should be willing to gamble the existence of our Nation on guesses as to what the Soviet Union may do, rather than on what they are capable of doing.

Several newspapers and several political critics have leveled these charges at the Administration, and particularly at the Secretary of Defense, as proponents of a policy.

As the truth develops, statements made in this connection by the Secretary of Defense and other high military officials were laid out of context or an oversimplified interpretation was made of their remarks.

The facts are that reference to Russia's capabilities referred to their production of missiles and other war preparations, and not as to whether they may attack the United States.

Our best intelligence estimate indicates that the Communists have a greater capability in production of the instruments of war than they are now utilizing.

There is a vast difference in these two conceptions, and confusion has been created, either by design or by misinterpretation. Regardless of which, the results are the same. For the good of the country, and in fairness to the officials involved, this matter should be clarified.

Invariably and almost without fail each new "program" created by Congress extends beyond what was originally provided. It seems every Federal spending program has "built-in" features which make it practically necessary for expenses to increase and activities to expand. The provisions of a new "program" usually start off with moderate sums. To make a simplified interpretation was made of their remarks.

Another reason why programs grow and expand is because money appropriated for the purpose is expended on the request of the beneficiaries, which is then followed by the sponsors of such legislation for greater sums and increased activities, using as proof the "demand of the people."

Senator Byrd of Virginia, in a recent speech, said that when he came to the United States Senate in 1953, Federal "programs" could be counted on the fingers of one hand, and that the total cost in Federal money was about $100 million. He said that by 1956 there were 17 such programs, and ten years later there were 30, with the cost totaling $485 million. By 1956 there were 54 programs costing $3.5 billion, and in 1959 the total was 60 with an estimated cost of $6.4 billion.

Many "programs" are, within themselves, good, but they have a way of growing to colossal proportions from the original intent. Few, if any, are ever reduced. The cost is automatic. Once provided, it must be paid for. Added to the cost of past wars and present military preparedness, this leaves a comparatively small percent of the total over which economy can be practiced.

It is a dilemma, and the choice becomes more narrow each year in trying to reduce Federal expenditures.
