ITS HOUSE IN ORDER.

Tammany Gloomily Prepares To Give Up Its Berths in New York.

Texas News Service Special.
New York, Nov. 4.—Battle-scarred Tammany which Tuesday elected a mayor, but lost a city, took up today the gloomy work of setting its house in order for four years of avowed anti-Tammany government in Greater New York.

Analysis shows that the election which resulted in the defeat of the fusion forces of every important Tammany-democratic candidate below the mayor, was more of a victory of the anti-Tammany democrats, who had lined up with the republicans under the fusion banner than for the straight out republicans.

Anti-Tammany democrats elected on the republican-fusion ticket for four years will be in absolute control of the city's purse-strings. They will have a clear majority in the board of estimate and apportionment, one of the most powerful municipal bodies in any city of the world and therefore the right of spending more than a billion dollars of the city's money.

In this board, according to the anti-Tammany democrats is to be found a nucleus of what they believe will make for a complete reorganization of the democratic party in Greater New York.

Persistent rumor had it today that the attempt to create a new order of things for the New York city democracy was already under way. Charles F. Murphy, who succeeded Richard Croker as Tammany leader, came out with a formal disavowal of these rumors, at the same time denying a report that he was to be deposed from the leadership.

The presence of Richard Croker in the city was a matter of considerable speculation to those who were studying the situation and the announcement that he had extended his visit here five days longer than previously announced, was regarded as significant.

"I am out of politics for good and all," Croker declared, "not for a million dollars would I reconsider my determination to keep in the back ground. Yes, they asked me to come back, they always do that. But I'm too old and could not stand the racket."

Complete returns on the balloting in the aldermanic districts show that Tammany lost ground also in that body.

JAIL CLOSELY WATCHED TO PREVENT LYNCHING

Mrs. Lockhold will recover.

MME. MARGUERITE STEINHILL, WHO FACES TRIAL FOR DOUBLE MURDER IN PARIS.

After eighteen months of investigation upon the part of the authorities in Paris, an indictment has at last been returned against Mme. Marguerite Steinhill charging her with having murdered her husband, Adolphe Steinhill, and Mme Japy, her mother-in-law. The indictment, which reads like a thrilling chapter from a French novel, recounts nearly all that is known of the career of this strange and beautiful woman. Following the double murder in the Steinhill villa in May, 1908, the woman was put to the severest test of the "third degree" that the police could concoct, but she steadfastly maintained that she was not responsible for the crime. She first accused Frederick Burlingame, a newspaper man, then one of her servants and finally the son of her cook as having slain her husband and his mother. Many stories published in Paris have hinted that she was connected with the death of President Faure, and the investigations of the police have linked her name with those of many other men prominent in the political life of the French capital.

MORE GOOD REASONS FOR HOME-PATRONAGE

The Times today reproduces the "Home Industry" prize article submitted by Mrs. John Fish:

It has been asserted that the average woman possesses too much sentiment to be sufficiently practical as a business proposition.

That means, of course, that sentiment controls, to a great extent, her judgment and discretion, and unfits her to become a successful tradeswoman. Maybe so, but does a man ex-factly brought up, who will truthfully say that his mother did not display excellent sense in the upbuilding and the betterment of the home and show rare intelligence as the manager of the household affairs and finances?

The good housewife, too, claims distinction in the handling, in the healthfulness and in the geniality and amiability of her man. She has fed the brute well. This latter may be termed tact, but isn't tact a high order of diplomacy and isn't diplomacy the perfection of sense?

Now then, as woman possesses sentiment and intelligence (in a business way), as mentioned in the preceding paragraphs, she is fully qualified to give her reasons, "Why Wichita Falls citizens should patronize Wichita Falls merchants."

If we have the proper sentiment, seriously and sincerely we want Wichita Falls to grow, sturdily and with a stability that will enable her to hold her own with other prosperous sister cities in Texas, and be able to withstand any business depressions that may occur.

If we want an increased population, stately buildings, the installation of metropolitan conveniences, paved streets, improved sanitation and adornments and general prosperity everywhere, we must patronize our home merchants, for they are the backbone and strength of the city, and it is by and through them that advancements are to be made and results obtained, and in no other way.

I have had years of practical experience as a housewife in the larger cities of the west and really cannot understand why it is ever necessary to send away for household requisites. I find standard articles, of all kinds, are about the same price everywhere. Quality always has, and always will, command its price. Inferior articles, it is true, can be gotten from the cheap John establishments in Chicago, or the east, but do we need them? I rather think not. But, in the event that some of our people do want them, why not approach a merchant on the subject. He will do the needful, and, perhaps, better than you hope for, and it keeps the money at home, where it will do the most good. You know the old song, "Every Little Bit Added to What You've Got, Makes Just a Little Bit More," and it holds good in this instance, because it may be but a mite, but it all helps to encourage the merchant to add a little bit more toward the enlargement of his business and the increased importance of Wichita Falls as a trade center.

These are facts beyond contradiction.

How do the citizens of Wichita Falls hope to advance the welfare of its home-place (this applies to old-timers, as well as new-comers), unless they spend their money where it obtains results? If Wichita Falls is to grow and is to rank with the prosperous cities of Texas, its citizens must be loyal and patronize home enterprises exclusively. MRS. JOHN R. FISH, 1611 11th street.

AMUSEMENTS

The Albert Taylor Company, which begins an engagement of two nights at the Wichita Theatre, Friday, Nov. 5th, is one of the best known repertory companies now touring the state. For this engagement Mr. Taylor will present the following plays:

Friday night, "My Father's Son."
Saturday Matinee, "David Garrick."
Saturday night, "Old Innocence."

An advance notice says:

Mr. Albert Taylor has been compared with Sol Smith Russell in Noah Vale and Hosea Howe. He has a quaint humor of his own and a nobility of feature much like Russell's, but there the comparison ends. He never saw Russell play these roles, and any habitue of the theatre knows that he does not play them just as Russell did. Mr. Taylor's success in the roles made famous by Russell, Goodwin, Murphy and others is due wholly to the fact that he does not copy them, but gives his own conception of them. His support this season is as strong as ever. Miss Nell Paul heads the supporting company.

Louis James.

Among the many excellent offerings for this season, one that stands out in bold relief, is the early appearance of that splendid actor, Louis James, with his coterie of always capable players.

This year he offers Shakespeare's "Henry VIII," and upon some occasions a presentation of that rarely played comedy, "A Jealous Wife."

He promises elaborate production in each instance, and the assistance of Aphie Jones and a cast of exceptional merit.

Who's Your Friend?

It has been said that "a merry comedy doeth good like medicine," and a practical endorsement by the public and press of three leading cities of the world, New York, Chicago and London, have voted that "Who's Your Friend," with that odd comedian Harry Beresford, is the best that has been taken in years.

"Who's Your Friend," with that odd comedian, will come to the Wichita Theatre Saturday November 13th, with the same cast, and the same elaborate productions which was seen during the long New York run.

The comedy which is from the pen of Messrs. Harry and Edward Paulton, the authors of "Ermine," "Niobe" and other successes have handled the subject with extraordinary skill and completeness, witty squibs and amusing complex situations being interwoven into a subject of absorbing interest that commands attention and creates continual laughter from rise to fall of curtain.

A Lot for $1 a Week.

While in our office today, Mr. Jeffries of the Oklahoma firm of Thieband & Jeffries, said:

"After having been away for some months, I am still a firm believer that Wichita Falls is the most promising city of the whole southwest."

"With its good citizenship of town-builders, excellent railroad facilities and cheap fuel Wichita Falls is bound to grow. I know of no town where so much building is going on unless it is Oklahoma City, which, by the way, hasn't all the advantages that are here. They are too far from the coal mines and gas fields to offer cheap fuel for manufacturing purposes and their only chance is to make a distributing point, while Wichita Falls has the making of a manufacturing, as well as a distributing center."

"After selling 150 lots last July in two weeks time, we discontinued our sale of Floral Heights lots on the easy payment plan, owing to the excessive hot weather and the incompleteness of the car line. Now that it is an easy matter to reach the addition, we shall offer (for a few days only), 150 choice lots on, or near the car line on the same easy terms of $1 down, then $1 a week, without interest or taxes. All these lots are within the 5c fare limit."

A Song of Courage.

Clarissa Dixon in Success Magazine.

From the salt and storm of the sea?
And sing for the gull that goes
Wide-winged and fearlessly—
Bold, bold is the life he knows;
A guest of the gale is he.

Oh, sing for the vale of Peace
Where zephyrs are slow and soft,
Where ragings and strivings cease
And the skylark soars aloft!
Oh, sing for the hearts that leap
And rise to the breast of life.
And sing for the eyes too brave to weep
And the souls too great for strife!

WEATHER FORECAST.

For Wichita Falls and vicinity,
Tonight and Friday, fair.

The Taft smile is now being imitated throughout Texas, especially in the northwestern part. It begins half an inch from the left ear and extends in an easterly direction across the face to a point near the right ear and when correctly displayed is accompanied by twenty-four juicy wrinkles.

A Pennsylvania butcher who decapitated his wife and daughter is said to have quite a peculiar disposition. He was probably merely indulging his eccentricities when he used the axe.

If Tammany could choose now between Judge Gaynor as mayor and another whack at the city treasury, her choice would be made in one-fifth of a second, flat.

Clarence Ousley of the Fort Worth Record has lined up with the anti-football cranks. Some men certainly do get cranky as they grow old.

The average democrat would gladly sacrifice all the democratic victories of last Tuesday to the defeat of Joe Cannon, if they only could.

The defeat of Henry at San Francisco Tuesday shows that the people find it advisable once in a while to reform reformers.

Of course, we are all glad the democrats won out in Kentucky, but was it really necessary to kill people on account of it?

That "tin-pot" road has now pushed about a hundred miles into Oklahoma and is looking like it even wanted to stop.

Tom Johnson will have a reserved seat on the defeated candidates boat for the trip up Salt River. Poor old Tom.

The young man who chloroformed a girl and then cut off her beautiful hair, certainly had an eye for business.

Our advice to Peary is to be sure and bite that geographical society medal to see if it is good.

This great kidney tonic brings to bear an influence that quickly controls the disease, strengthens the weakened kidneys and by stimulating the bladder and bowels to greater activity, drives out of the body the impurities which brought on the disorder.

Wake Up and Buy Some Lots In Floral Heights

Can't you see that delay means a loss to you. Don't you know that lots in Floral heights will soon be higher? Why not? They are certainly the cheapest and best located lots in and about Wichita Falls. They have the highest elevation, the purest atmosphere, the most picturesque view. They have the city water, graded streets, five cent car fare and, in fact, will soon have every modern convenience out to the bend of the car line. Wide concrete sidewalks are now being put down and several nice residences are under construction.

This is the only way the town can grow and the only way we will have street car service for several years. The Floral Heights addition is not a real estate man's proposition, but is an addition backed by over fifty of the leading citizens of Wichita County, who have the interest of Wichita Falls at heart and who are determined to make Floral Heights the swellest residence section of the city. Floral Heights is spending more money to boost Wichita Falls than all the concerns in the city put together, with the exception of the Chamber of Commerce.

Any agent in the city will be glad to give you prices and assist you in selecting your lots. Make your purchase today before the good lots are all sold. Cars leave the corner of 8th St. and Indiana Avenue every ten minutes for Floral Heights. Lots are sold on terms of one-third cash, balance in one and two years, 8 per cent interest.

If you have friends and acquaintances who would like to know more about Wichita Falls, call at our office, 617 8th Street, for nice literature to mail them.

JUDGE SCURRY SHOWS INTERESTING PAPERS

A few weeks ago the Sons of Confederate Veterans organized a camp of the United Sons in this city and named the camp in honor of Gen. W. R. Scurry, the father of our fellow-citizens, Judge Edgar Scurry of this city.

In order to be eligible it devolved upon the candidates for membership to show evidence in some way or other that they were entitled to become members of the camp, and among other evidences which entitled Judge Scurry to become a member is the following extract from a copy of the Houston Daily Telegraph, published under date of May 4th, 1864, giving an account of a battle between General Scurry's army and that of Federal troops, in which engagement the Federals were routed, but Gen. Scurry received wounds which proved fatal. Judge Scurry is possessor of an original copy of the Houston Telegraph containing the account of the fight, which contains the following bulletins:

From Houston Daily Telegraph of May 4th, 1864:

By telegraph from Shreveport, by the Southwestern and Arkansas line.

Special to the Daily Telegraph: Shreveport, May 2.—We fought the enemy all day Saturday in Arkansas.

We captured a large number of prisoners and small arms.

We also captured their pontoon bridges and some small artillery.

The battle was a desperate one. Generals Clarke, Waul, Scurry and Randall were all wounded.

We hold the battlefield and have all the enemy's killed and wounded.

The enemy is still retreating, and our forces pursuing.

Special to the Daily Telegraph: Shreveport, May 2.—General W. B. Scurry is dead. General Magruder and staff have arrived.

Ed. Telegraph. General Scurry was killed in the battle of the 3th ult.

Colonels Gray and Luckett are unhurt.

We gained a victory against superior numbers.

H. L. HAYNIE, Major, etc.

We also publish the official program observed at the funeral of Gen. Scurry who was buried at Austin, Texas, June 1st, 1864:

Headquarters, Austin, Texas, June 1, 1864.

The following programme will be observed in forming the procession for the funeral of the late Brig. Gen. Wm. B. Scurry.

By order J. H. SPARKS, Major Commanding Post Programme.

General N. B. Pierce and aid. Captain Ben Hendricks, Marshal of the day.

Capt. C. L. Robards, Lt. P. Trabue, Capt. J. Robinson, Lt. John Burlage, Aids

Tonight the Chesney Bros. Majestic Stock Company will begin a week's engagement in their own big tent theatre located at the corner of 10th street and Ohio avenue.

The opening bill decided upon is Bertha M. Clay's most famous novel, dramatized in four acts, 'Thorns and Orange Blossoms.' This play is one of the most pleasing before the public. Every one of the fourteen characters is a strong one. Miss Grace Richmond will be seen in a most lovable character, as will all the others. Specialties of more than a merely pleasing character between all the acts by Mr. Frank Carmen and Percy Burnell; Misses Burnell and Gussie Andrews. Miss Bessie Burnell's famous ladies orchestra will render the latest comic opera hits with the popular song hits rendered vocally by Miss Bessie and Mr. Percy H. Burnell. This feature will begin at 8 o'clock. Curtain goes up on play promptly at 8:30. This company has been organized here by Mr. E. E. Pollock, under whose direction all the plays are staged and is one of the best, if not the very best, repertoire companies now in Texas. The following plays will be presented here: 'A Fight for Honor,' 'Mr. Pipp,' 'The Morning After,' 'The County Sheriff,' 'A Fool's Advice,' 'The Turn of the Dice,' and 'A Romance in Egypt,' with the famous Gertrude Hoffman, 'A Vision of Salome' dance.
Every play is guaranteed to give entire satisfaction.
Chesney Bros. are citizens of Wichita Falls and should be accorded big attendance.

Will Prohibition Hurt Business?
Paris, Tex., Oct. 29, 1909.
I am of the opinion that prohibition has been the immediate cause of a great uplift morally. There is so much less drinking, drunkenness and rowdiness now than when we had the open saloons. This report comes from every point of the county. It is a great benefit to the people financially. The great sum of money that flowed through the saloons is now spent in legitimate lines of trade.

Paris has built more concrete sidewalks and paved more streets during the four years of prohibition than for the past twenty-five years. We have five miles of paved streets and more under construction. We have twenty-five miles of concrete sidewalks and more building. We have five miles of electric street railway. We own our own filtration plant and an abundant water supply. We have a good sewerage system. We are just completing an abattoir, and we are to have a new union depot. More people are looking for comfortable houses to rent than can be accommodated. The saloons were a dead weight around Paris' neck and she made no material progress until she cast it off.

We have made costly additions to our county buildings. Our county finances are in fine shape. We are well pleased with prohibition, as is evidenced at our election called by the anti last January, when we showed the largest pro. majority the county ever polled.

"THE GREAT DIVIDE."

Good Talent Displayed in Production at Wichita Last Night.

One's enjoyment of a play depends largely on one's temperament and a theatrical performance is, more than anything else, a matter of taste. Perhaps that was why 'The Great Divide' failed to make at hit with Wichita people last night.

'The Great Divide' has an interesting plot, but it lacks action and coherence. The theory upon which the play was based may be good, but the play itself is too deathly serious and the spice of comedy is almost entirely lacking. Even those who followed the trend of the production closely were apt to characterize it as illogical. In short, the play didn't 'fit.'

But it need not be considered that dramatic ability was lacking. Edgar Jones in the role of Stephen Ghent, made the most of that part's possibilities and his acting served to brighten many a dull streak in the play. Miss Ina Brooks as Ruth Jordan, was scarcely less able in her part and in the lines that called for splendid acting, she was splendid. The supporting cast was almost uniformly excellent.

The fault lay in the action of the play. 'The Great Divide' will not be one of these plays to linger in pleasant memory.

Fishing Superstitions.

In British Columbia the Indians ceremoniously go out to meet the first salmon, and in flattering voices try to win their favor by calling them all chiefs.

Every spring in California the Karaks used to dance for salmon. Meanwhile one of their number secluded himself in the mountains and fasted for ten days. Upon his return he solemnly approached the river, took the first salmon of the catch, ate some of it, and with the remainder lighted a sacrificial fire. The same Indians laboriously climbed to the mountain top after the poles for the spearing booth, being convinced that if they were gathered where the salmon were watching, no fish would be caught.

In Japan, among the primitive race of the Ainu, even the women left at home are not allowed to talk lest the fish may hear and disapprove, while the first fish is always brought in through a window instead of the door, so that other fish may not see.

The Eskimo women of Alaska never sew while the men are fishing, and should any mending be imperative, they do it shut up in little tents, out of sight of the sea.

Under no circumstances on the northeast coast of Scotland will a fisherman at sea mention certain objects on land, such as minister, kirk, swine, dog, etc., and the line will surely be lost if a pig is seen while baiting it. As on the land, chickens must not be counted until they are hatched, so at sea fish must not be counted until they are caught. It is good luck to find mice nibbling among the nets; a horseshoe nailed to the mast will help, and a herring caught and salted down will produce wonders.

In the Shetland Islands a cat must not be mentioned before a man baiting his line, and among the Magyars of Hungary a fisherman will turn back and wait over a tide if he meets a woman wearing a white apron.

Every year the natives of the Duke of York Island decorate a canoe with flowers and fern, fill it with shell money and cast it adrift, 'to compensate the fish for their fellows caught and eaten.'

It was always the custom of the Maoris, the primitive inhabitants of New Zealand, to put the first fish caught back into the sea, 'with a prayer that it might tempt other fish to come and be caught.'—Post-Dispatch.

A Gold Mine to All

The following is an analysis of water taken from a well on my farm two miles southwest of town, on the road to Lake Wichita; was made by G. S. Fraps, Ph. D., State Chemist, at the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas, on Oct. 13th, 1909.

This sample of water has the following composition, expressed in grains, per U. S. Gallon:
Carbonate of Lime..... 7.56
Sulphate of Lime..... 23.33
Calcium Chloride..... 16.68
Magnesium Chloride..... 32.19
Sodium Chloride..... 135.41

This water is classed as a mineral saline water. These waters stimulate the secretion of the stomach, increase digestion and favor a more complete absorption of the food. This water should have a laxative action, taken in small doses, and a purgative action taken in larger doses, on account of the magnesium which it contains.
Yours truly,
G. S. FRAPS.

This water will be delivered to any part of the city at 10c per gallon.
