RANGER TAKES COUNTY TRACK MEET

GRIPINGS

By GUS
This column is published as a daily feature and may not be construed as representing the editorial views of this paper. What follows is merely what one man thought at the time it was written, and the writer reserves the right to change his mind concerning any subject, without notice, explanation or apology.

Did you ever hear of second-hand pinch hitting? Well, whether you did or not, this is it. Gus intended for Dick Phillips to do his column today, and somehow they got their wires crossed and neither of them seems to have understood the other one. The calamity of the situation is that it is now almost time to go to press, and no griping has yet been done. That means that somebody has got to get busy. Gus said that he didn't want me to write his column again, but what else can I do? Of course nobody was fooled by that excuse he put up. A poor excuse is better than none, you know.

The old veteran griper claimed that he was called to Fort Worth because of sickness, but that is probably another of those phony alibis—like the one you give for being late at the office. Between here, I've spoken for him still hunting for that pean pie.

Th pessimist remembers only the ester oil of his childhood, while the optimist remembers the nickel he got taking it. And doesn't that show fit all of us? All my time trying to figure out some way to use erstwhile in this column. I notice that every good columnist uses it at least once in every column, and that's why I've been trying so hard to make it fit in somewhere. I guess I'll have to give it up. If I could find out exactly what it means, maybe it wouldn't be such an uphill business.

If this gets safely by the editor's waste basket, it will at least give Gus something to write about tomorrow and that's something.

Judge Hickman Is Honored In Eastland Rally

A representative crowd of friends of Judge J. E. Hickman, chief justice of the 11th court of civil appeals, gathered at the county courthouse Friday night, accompanied by members of the local Booster Band, to commend him to the people of Texas as a candidate for associate justice of the state supreme court. M. McCullough Sr., mayor the city, presided. The meeting was designed primarily for Judge Hickman's home town folk, but there were many visitors from all the county and adjoining counties. Laudatory speeches were made, commending Judge Hickman as a citizen, neighbor, churchman and judge. Among those participating on the program were: R. N. Grisham, P. B. Bittle, superintendent of schools; Dr. George W. Shearer, pastor of the local Methodist church; Dr. H. B. Tanner, secretary of Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. C. C. Roby, Mrs. Joseph M. Hickman, wife of Eastland; Mrs. R. Q. Lee of Cisco, Mrs. M. H. Hagaman and L. H. Flewellen of Ranger, and Harry Brelsford of Eastland, and Hon. W. B. Handley of Dallas.

V. T. Seaberry of Eastland, at the conclusion of his speech, offered the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted: "The citizens of Eastland county, in mass meeting assembled, personally commend to the voters of Texas, Judge J. E. Hickman, an eminently worthy and qualified to serve on the supreme court. We are intimately acquainted with him as a neighbor, lawyer, citizen and judge. In each capacity he is universally liked and respected as an outstanding character. As his personal friends, who recognize his great ability and admire his sterling qualities, we vouch for Judge Hickman unreservedly."

Judge Hickman, being called upon, responded with a speech of appreciation for the commendation thus shown by his home town friends, and at the conclusion of his speech he received an ovation, the entire audience standing.

Government Files Anti-Trust Suits

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The government today filed suit in New York City against the International Business Machine company and Remington-Rand, Inc., charging violation of the anti-trust laws.

The petition charged the defendants with cross-licensing each other under their respective competing patents for the purpose of eliminating competition.

SENATE PLANS WAYS TO CUT DOWN EXPENSE

WASHINGTON, March 26.—An economy coalition of Senate Democrats and Progressive Republicans, today was considering a new proposal to lop half a billion dollars off the cost of the federal government. Its idea is that with such a saving tax increases could be limited to about half of the one billion dollars considered necessary to balance the budget.

The plan is to reduce by 25 per cent the operating allowances for all federal departments, bureaus and agencies. Salaries would not be affected by this plan.

Tim Ingram Is Held on Charge Assault to Murder

Tim Ingram, who is under conviction of robbing a store at Nimrod, was arrested in Cisco Friday night on a charge of assault with intent to murder in connection with the stabbing of George Weatherby at the City Tourist camp at Cisco.

Boys Are Warned To Keep Kites Off Electric Lines

A warning to the parents of boys who fly kites was issued today by officials of the Texas Electric Service company, who called attention to the danger that is incurred by flying kites near electric wires. Serious accidents have resulted from kites becoming entangled in wires and the subsequent efforts of boys to get them down.

"Boys should be cautioned to fly kites in open places," the power company officials declared. "If kites become entangled in the electric wires, under no circumstances should boys try to get them down. The Texas Electric Service company will gladly send out trained men who understand the dangers of high voltage electric current to remove the kite."

"Kites with metal frames and the use of a fine wire instead of cotton strings are two other great hazards, for if the metal frame or the wire string comes in contact with electric wires, serious injuries may result and electric service to a large part of town may be interrupted."

EASTER . . . and Its Glorious Revelations!

By ROY HOLLIDAY
Easter reveals in its magnificent glory the supreme resurrection of life. Let us hear Nature as she lingers over her brood and comes forth to reverberate in her appealing, signifying, and promising tones to all ears, that she has won victory o'er the lands of a clay mound and has come forth in like appearance unto life and infinite beauty. Yet, these only present themselves as symbolic terms to the life that met death at the cruel hands of Pilate, who was lowered beneath the tomb, and who came forth the redeeming agent to save the souls of men from eternal perdition.

Thus, Christendom has established itself in the hearts and souls of men, as the one great and satisfying element around whose foundation is banished the doubtful Pride of nations, and within whose gates, are found the bonds of eternal security, upon whose leaders reflect from the lighthouse of the human soul the ever-piercing rays of light, which can only be seen through the eye that has its span turned heaven-ward.

Christendom establishes itself in faith; ennobles itself in hope, and signifies itself in an unconquerable spirit that elevates, evangelizes and impels itself by love.

When the serging bellows of life o'er shadows the silver lining, and the clouds of doubt invade the human soul there is but one consoling channel into which can be thrust all doubts and every care. This is the fountain of life which flows out of the throne of God, ever-purging it of unrighteousness; delivers it out of the hands of its adversaries, and establishes in it an everlasting peace of abounding joy and contentment.

EASTER EGG HUNT TO BE HELD IN RANGER TODAY

Approximately 3,500 eggs, 1,500 of them made of candy, have been hidden around the Willows, Ranger, for the children of this section of the county to find this morning at 8 o'clock.

The eggs were obtained at a special machine in the Arcadia theatre, where 2,000 boiled, dyed eggs were received for admission to the show, according to Ty Grassano, manager of the theatre, who is sponsoring the hunt. Fire Chief G. A. Murphy hijacked the party for the hunt.

The Easter egg hunt has proved such a success, so far, that it is planned to make it an annual affair. The hunt will be given for the children of Ranger through the courtesy of the Arcadia theatre. Chief Murphy supplied all the help in hiding the eggs, assisted by the fire department.

Vacant House Fires Cause An Order for Reports

AUSTIN, March 26.—Vacant dwelling fires have become so numerous in Texas that Raymond S. Mark, state fire insurance commissioner, tonight ordered a statewide inspection report, by insurance agents on these risks.

The inspection embraces eight questions, including a report on physical condition of the property, presence of rubbish, unlocked windows or doors, amount of insurance and replacement costs in case of fire.

Mauk said that 22 incendiary fires in vacant dwellings were reported in January and approximately one-sixth of residence fires are in vacant property. Fire marshals are receiving duplicate copies of calls on agents. They are asked to recommend fire precautions.

Bryant To Rule On Election Law

AUSTIN, March 26.—Assistant Attorney General Bruce W. Bryant, who is preparing a ruling on the status of presidential electors under the new Texas ballot law, today was given a new angle of the situation to study.

The attorney's general's department of Florida asked the opinion of the Texas department on whether failure of a legislature to redistrict for representative purposes deprived the state of the additional electoral votes. The situation in Florida and Texas are the same in that respect.

Bryant said he would consider it on his ruling on whether the statute putting names of presidential candidates on the ballots instead of presidential electors is invalid.

REPORTS SAY CONTACT MADE WITH KIDNAPER

NORFOLK, Va., March 26.—Reports that John H. Curtis, Norfolk shipbuilder, is definitely in contact with the kidnapers of Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., and that plans for return of the baby to its parents at Hopewell, N. J., are being negotiated, were current here tonight.

Curtis, one of three prominent men who reported they received a direct communication from the kidnapers, left his home at 7 a. m. He did not go to his office.

At his office his associates said he had gone fishing. At his home it was said that he was on a trip to Hampton and Foxhall, a town near Hampton.

The Rev. Dr. H. Dodson-Peacock, who has been working with Curtis and Rear Admiral Guy H. Burrage in an attempt to obtain return of the baby, was at his home tonight.

"You may as well rest until Monday," the clergyman told newspapermen "I might have some news for you then. There are no definite developments today."

Unconfirmed reports said the three men have established definite contact with the kidnapers and that Curtis had gone off to negotiate payment of the ransom money and obtain the child. This operation, according to these reports, was to be carried out with the utmost secrecy and nothing was to be revealed until the child is back at Hopewell.

HOPEWELL, N. J., March 26.—State police maintained silence tonight regarding reports that contact with the kidnapers of Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., had been established in Virginia.

With the fourth week of the search nearing its end, Col. H. Norman Schwartzkopf, in charge of the state police investigation, declined today to answer queries about Norfolk developments.

The kidnapers are supposed to have sent word to three citizens here that they are prepared to return the child, which has been kept on a boat in Chesapeake Bay since the abduction.

A flurry of excitement occurred in Washington during the day after four youths had reported seeing a man resembling Harry Fletcher, reputed leader of the Purple gang in Detroit, in company with another man, a woman and a baby, seeking lodgings. Police began a search for the party but there was a general tendency to cast doubt on the story.

Oil Belt Golf Club To Play Matches Today

The second match of the Oil Belt Golf association will be held on Monday afternoon when six teams take part in games played in Breckenridge, Ranger and Mineral Wells.

Eastland will play their first engagement of the season, Sunday, when they play Breckenridge. The Phil-Pe-Co club will invade Mineral Wells in the first match between these two clubs.

Ranger will play at home with 12 opponents. About 15 or 20 players are expected to make the trip from Thurber and A. Neill, president of the Ranger club, has requested that all players who can possibly do so, should be present and take part in the matches. A cordial invitation to the public has been extended to all who want to watch the matches.

Ashes of Oil Man To Be Scattered Over Alaska Field

AMARILLO, March 26.—The ashes of W. H. Holmes, Republican candidate for governor of Texas in 1928, who died in Los Angeles Friday, will be scattered over oil fields that he helped develop in Alaska, his friends here learned today.

Back to Stage After 13 Years

Miss Annie Russell, shown above, will know actress who retired at the height of her success 13 years ago, will return to the stage in a production which will mark formal opening of the Annie Russell theater at Rollins College, Winter Park, Fla. The theater was the gift of Mrs. Edward W. Bok of Philadelphia, a life-long friend of the actress.

It was another tumultuous session of the kind that have characterized the attempts of leaders to swing the members into line behind a budget balancing program.

COAL TARIFF IS OFFERED IN THE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, March 26.—A Democratic House, still unwilling to support its leadership, wrote a coal tariff into the shattered revenue bill today and drew from acting chairman, Charles E. Clegg of the ways and means committee, a solemn warning of political disaster.

When the House ceased its labors this afternoon an amendment had been restored to the revenue measure taxing malt, wort, oil, grape concentrates and other products.

The restored sections had been inadvertently stricken from the measure in the sales tax battle earlier in the week.

Harrassed leaders welcomed the week-end respite. A sub-committee of three Democrats and two Republicans from the ways and means committee had to forego any face with the problem of turning up Monday with a program to substitute for the defeated sales tax.

Communist Riot Quelled By Police

WASHINGTON, March 26.—A communistic demonstration at the Japanese embassy was quelled today after the usually serene neighborhood had been thrown into unaccustomed excitement by a few moments of effective club swinging and noisy street fighting.

The half hundred demonstrators, roughly dressed young people, including a sprinkling of women and negroes, were subdued before they reached the embassy grounds.

The police outnumbered the demonstrators. There were about 75 officers in action. Drawn up in front of the embassy, they proved a barrier to any invasion.

EASTLAND IS NOSED OUT BY POINT MARGIN

Ranger won the county track meet at Cisco Saturday afternoon, barely nosing out Eastland, her nearest competitor, by a scant one point. The final score was: Ranger 55, Eastland 54, Cisco 23, Gorman 17, and Rising Star 5.

The meet had an exciting finish as Eastland needed first place in the mile relay, the last event, to nose out Cisco. The Eastland team was conceded a victory as the relay team was considered a little faster than that of Ranger. On the last lap, with a comfortable lead, Eastland was overtaken and passed by Gorman, giving Eastland second place and Ranger taking third and the meet.

Cisco won the all-round class A interscholastic meet, including literary and track events, with a score of 197; Eastland was second with 187, Rising Star third with 140, and Ranger fourth with 130.

BRIGHT PROSPECTS
A Philadelphia department store executive the other day announced that the America of the future will be a nation of players instead of workers.
Men will work three hours a day, he said, and play the rest of the time. There will be no hurry, no nervous strain, no rush, no poverty, no business depressions—everything, in fact, will be pretty nearly ideal.

Bank Failures Show a Decline During February
AUSTIN.—Indications thus far point to a relief of tension in the banking industry by the emergency banking measures that have been taken, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. A more optimistic attitude has resulted, it is evident from the meager data available even now, the Bureau's report said.

DARK DAYS PREDICTED FOR THE IRISH FREE STATE
Well, the latest is that shadows of civil war are hovering the Irish Free State—and all Ireland for that matter. President Edward de Valera won control of the government. His first act was to repeal all military laws for the protection of peace and liberate from Free State prisons all persons convicted of conspiracy against the Cosgrove government which had brought peace and prosperity to the people. His next act will be to withhold allegiance and land annuities from England. That is, he is going to abolish the oath of allegiance to the British crown and retain the land annuities which were paid under the late Cosgrove government to the British government. In other words, De Valera, American born, is going to break away from the British empire and establish an Irish republic.

IRISH HAD 700 YEARS OF HELL. Under the reign of William T. Cosgrove as president it had 12 years of peace and prosperity. Now De Valera is in the saddle. Will there be another reign of hell and bloodshed and starvation as the fruits of his leadership and domination of the Free State?

ROGER BABSON'S PROPHECIC VOICE
Roger W. Babson has an understudy. He has taken the American world into his confidence as a prophet of optimism. He predicts that a fair share of prosperity will return in the year 1933, that it will show its face this spring, that it will be a slow traveler during the summer months, speed up in the fall months, and in the winter and spring of 1933 it will exhibit itself in regular form. Another apostle of optimism is Capt. Robert Dollar of San Francisco, who at 80 started a round the world liner service in the face of critics and completed in his 87th year a world winner with the verdict that "the world is a fine place if you want to work." He began working 77 years ago in Scotland at a salary of 50 cents a week. Depressions? He has faced a dozen. His verdict is "the world is gradually crawling out of the slump." His argument, "I have been through six or seven of them and can generally predict their course. We are on the upgrade. Have confidence and work. Good times are heading this way."

The dining room is the most inefficient part of the house, an architect says. And if this depression gets any worse, it may become totally superfluous.

An Ohio woman was awarded a divorce because she found lipstick marks on her husband's shirt front. Just another argument in favor of red silk shirts.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK
By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

THAT there is much need in many cities of a spirit of community cooperation between business men. Problems of business can be handled more efficiently if there is a mutual interest displayed. Business men must fight collectively for prosperity and success. Business men can't be cold in their service to the public and suspicious of each other and expect to increase trade for the city. There should be a friendly spirit not only between business men, but between business men and the public. Lack of community cooperation on the part of business men has done more than any one thing to make dead cities out of live ones. The public has a very definite preference for those business concerns who make themselves a living part of the community. Business men who sit down to watch and wait with critical eye to see what will happen are community debtors. They try to get something out of the community without putting anything into it, and by so doing not only ruin their own business, but their neighbors as well.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON — There are more angles to this process of "soaking the rich" by taxation than meet the eye. First, of course, you have a general desire in Congress to balance the budget by raising revenue. Then, as always, you find strength divided between those who would spread the necessary taxes indiscriminately and those who want to put as much of the burden as possible on the people who have the most money.

Would Check Fortunes

AND when you reach the present proposals of a maximum 65 per cent surtax on the very highest incomes and a 45 per cent maximum in estate and gift taxes you find among the most vigorous proponents not only those who want to take money from the wealthy but those who believe in them as a social measure to check the accumulation of huge fortunes which they regard as a menace.

Gift Tax Coming

WHATEVER the rates may be, this Congress will enact a gift tax to prevent evasions of estate taxes. There are various methods of evading "death taxes" and the higher the rates the more attempts are made to work them.

An Argument Against

AN insistent argument used against the high surtaxes on incomes is that they drive the wealthy to put their money into tax-exempt securities. Under a supreme court decision, the exempt securities will give the states a better market for their bonds, lower their interest rates, increase their income tax collections and create employment through expansion of public works for which the bonds would be issued.

Speakeasies Dodge No Drink Buying

RENO, Nev.—Although liquor prices in Reno have been standardized, operators of various places have found a way to meet the pinch of competition by giving customers more for their money. Free drinks provided the way out. Just now that sort of thing, reportedly, is worrying the gentlemen who organized the speakeasies and clubs a few years ago.

For Sheriff

W. A. (Kid) Hammett, constable of Precinct 2, who is a candidate for sheriff of Eastland county.

W. A. 'Kid' Hammett In Sheriff's Race

To the Voters of Eastland County, Texas: I am announcing myself a candidate for the office of sheriff of this county. In doing so I fully appreciate the responsibilities resting upon the shoulders of the man entrusted to this office.

To you who know me, I feel that I do not need an introduction but to you who do not know me, I have this to say: I was born in the State of Georgia, March 8, 1869. At the age of 23 years I came to Texas and located at De Leon, Comanche county, Texas. I have spent the remainder of my life of 40 years in Eastland and Comanche counties. During my entire life I have tried to make a good citizen, as to whether I have succeeded in this, I invite the voters to investigate my conduct both in private and public life. At present I am serving as constable of Precinct 2, Eastland county, to which office I was elected in 1930, this being the only office I ever ran for. However, I was elected once to the office of constable at DeLeonville without asking for it.

Relying upon the record I have made as a citizen and neighbor, for the last 40 years, I am making this race on my own merit and not the demerit of any opponent. Anticipating your support after a fair investigation, I thank you in advance for whatever interest you may take in my campaign. Respectfully yours, W. A. (KID) HAMMETT.

Soviet Is Moving Specialists East

(Copyright By United Press) MOSCOW, Russia, March 26.—Russia today was moving a considerable number of technical specialists to the Soviet far east for service with the strengthened military forces. Press and government were silent as to the plans—but the news spread as residents of the capitol told of friends and acquaintances who had been ordered to the Far East. Engineers, construction specialists, aviation mechanics and doctors are among the technicians sent east. Their orders conform to recent declarations that the government was taking measures to protect its Far Eastern frontiers. At the same time it was understood that certain of the military reserves are being informed to hold themselves in readiness for service on short notice. Well-informed circles consider this a normal precautionary measure, justified by maneuvers near the Soviet's Asiatic doors.

5 ways to use a telephone

The best reason for having a telephone, as one telephone user says, is not having one. Here are some incidents that prove the point: Little Bobby fell downstairs. He was hurt and mother was frightened. But she wasn't too frightened to know what to do. She called up the doctor... and he was there in a few minutes.

It was only a stray cat in the basement, the policeman said. Mrs. Clark laughed... a little nervously. But what a comfort it was to know the telephone would bring help so quickly!

WASHINGTON CIRCUS

—BY DAVID WRIGHT—

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Governor Roosevelt's victory over Alfred E. Smith in the New Hampshire democratic pre-convention primary was regarded here as indicative of more defeats to come for the party's 1928 candidate. Despite the size of the vote—fewer than 30,000 having been cast by the party throughout the Granite State—the result was considered significant. The "stop Roosevelt" yell, expected by the Smith managers to stir the herd into a stampede and set the pace for the rest of the country, was a washout (if I may mix my metaphors).

This doesn't mean, however, that Roosevelt's chances of getting the nomination have been improved by this first test of strength. It means simply that for the time being Smith's prestige as a candidate has been considerably weakened. But this is not saying that Smith won't be able in the final showdown to prevent Roosevelt's getting the prize. Wait till some of the other states are heard from.

Some very astute newspapermen in the City of the Great Claim to have discovered that Senator Borah and not the president is responsible for the appointment of Judge Benjamin N. Cardozo as Justice of the United States supreme court. According to this dope, the president was getting ready to name another Judge Parker as Holmes' successor. Borah, it is said, threatened to raise ructions if the appointee didn't come up to specifications, and Mr. Hoover remembered what happened to the late Judge from North Carolina, who failed of conformation.

The report going the rounds here is that Mr. Hoover had three candidates in mind when Borah upset the apple cart. The three names under consideration were those of Federal Judge William P. James of Los Angeles, Associate Justice D. Lawrence Grover of the District of Columbia court of appeals, and Federal Judge Orie L. Phillips of New Mexico, an appointee of the late Dr. Harding. It is said that when Borah checked up the qualifications of these three gentlemen and found that Phillips obtained his legal training by a correspondence course given by the new defunct Lincoln-Jefferson university of Hammond, Ind., there was a mighty road of protest.

Deponents further aver that Borah went straightway to the white house and was closeted with the president. The senator impressed upon Mr. Hoover that the whole country would subject the nominee to a most critical inspection.

Alamo Was Named For Mexican Troop

By United Press.

SAN ANTONIO.—The Alamo, Texas' shrine of liberty and the site of its Thermopylae, did not receive its name from the cottonwood tree, but from a band of Mexican soldiers.

Ancient and historic archives of the old San Fernando cathedral here support this origin of the name "Alamo," the Spanish word for cottonwood.

Early in the eighteenth century, a squadron known as the "Compania Volante del Alamo de Parais" (The "Flying Squadron of the Alamo de Parais") was organized at Alamo de Parais, Coahuila, Mexico. The squadron acted as a guard, or "escorta," of the Mission San Antonio de Valero, and was led by Rev. Eugene Sigraves, C.M.F., here.

Soldiers of the "Compania Volante del Alamo" were so gallant and popular that the mission they defended became known as "El Alamo."

The Alamo-a-dance

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Ellen Rooster, beautiful 20-year-old, loves Larry Harrowgate, young artist. When he becomes engaged to another girl Ellen agrees to marry Steven Barclay, 27 years old and wealthy. Her impoverished and ill-tempered father, who has been married before. Scandal accompanied his Mexican divorce from Leda Grayson, dancer. To avoid talk Ellen and Barclay are secretly married.

They drive to his Long Island home, deserted except for Fergus, the butler. There Barclay suffers a heart attack. Louis Syms, Barclay's lawyer, arrives with doctors and nurses. Barclay dies at dawn.

Syms tells Ellen her marriage is not legal because papers proving Barclay's divorce have been stolen. He gives all claim to Barclay's fortune to avoid scandal. She believes she must keep her marriage secret to protect Barclay's honor and her own.

She learns Larry Harrowgate is Barclay's nephew. Heartbroken, she brushes her hair back from his forehead and thought that he looked rosy and well again. Soon he would be able to get about without the crutches. A hot, wet tear dropped on the cheek of the sleeping boy, but he did not waken.

When returned to the living room, lighted the gas in the grate and lay down on the divan to stare at the ceiling.

Suddenly it was September again. Steven lay dead in a curdained bedroom of the lavish Long Island home. Ellen saw herself in that hatted sitting room watching Fergus pack her traveling case—a pale, shamed girl, mad with grief and humiliation, who wanted to escape, to run away from an impossible situation. She saw now that she had allowed her lack of courage to persuade her that a part of her life could be hidden as if it had never existed. She had been wrong about that. That part of her life was as real as any other part. It lived in her own memory and in the memory of a losthouse, suspicious man who was coming to remind her of it. He was coming to remind her that it might cost her the most precious thing in life.

The sky outside grew darker and darker. Snow began to fall invisibly in the darkness.

Suddenly Ellen sprang up and ran downstairs to the telephone. Frantic with restlessness, tapping one foot impatiently as she waited, she called Syms' office. His secretary told her she thought Mr. Syms had gone for the day. Ellen left a message on the chance that he would return. The message the lawyer could not fail to understand. Then she went upstairs again.

She was still alone when eight o'clock arrived, and with it, prompt to the minute, came Fergus. Seeing him, a small, ugly man in neat blue serge, shook Ellen's courage. The composure of her greeting hid trembling terror. The man carried two strapped bags. He did not leave her long in doubt as to his mission.

"I got to get out of town," he stated baldly, "and I'm stony. I thought maybe you'd lend me $1.00 or so."

"Just what made you think I would do that?" she asked sharply.

"I can't stand around all day talking about ifs and ands," Fergus answered roughly. "I need money and you've got to lend it to me."

Ellen heard the loud ticking of the clock and the drip of a kitchen faucet. She heard the hoarse sound of Fergus' breathing. A way out! Oh, there must be some way out!

"I guess I know my rights," said Fergus abruptly.

"Your rights to what?"

"Look here," the butler resumed plaintively, "You don't get me at all. I don't want to tell Mr. Harrowgate where you were the night his uncle died. Going to a girl's sweetheart with a story like that is the last thing I'd want to do."

"Don't bother to lie," Ellen said contemptuously. "You'd want to go anywhere you could get money. You've been to Larry ready. You've written to him and taken money from him anonymously. You haven't even the courage to speak up openly!"

"Never mind about that," Fergus responded sullenly. "That's done. The money's gone. I wish to God I had it now but I haven't. I've got to blow town, I tell you. Something's come up so I've got to clear out. You stake me, to a railroad ticket and you're through with me. You'll never see me again, never hear from me again. Neither will Larry."

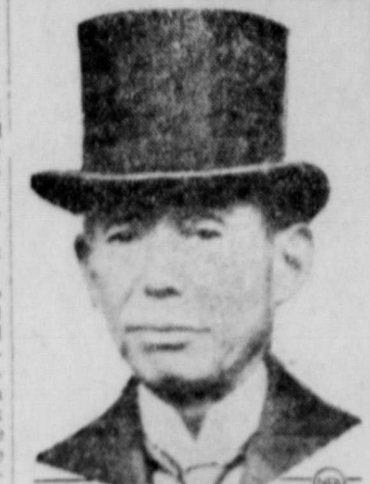

"You'll get no money from me row or over," Ellen declared.

"Maybe if I went to Mr. Harrowgate he wouldn't feel that way."

Ellen turned away. She clutched her two hands and felt the hardness of the engagement ring. This was the end, she thought, the end of everything. She knew that if Fergus carried out his threat and went to Larry she could not do. To evade the truth was difficult enough. To look into Larry's gay eyes and tell him an untruth was impossible.

Voice Japan's Peace Plans

Attempting to save the wounds of war-battered China, these three Japanese leaders have been playing important parts in peace negotiations. They are: Foreign Minister Kenkichi Yoshizawa, above, who says friendship between the two nations can be restored as soon as China abandons its "anti-Japanese" policy; Manasu Shigemitsu, lower left, minister to Shanghai, and Lieut-Gen. Kenkichi Ueyeda, lower right, of the Japanese army.

LOS ANGELES.—Prosperity is just around Alameda and 85th streets, down by the Los Angeles River, where shacks and tents flutter up a boggy lot.

The town has just accumulated during the past six months, inhabited by desperate men, ousted from their homes, out of work and hungry.

With their hungry families they chanted, erected in bitter irony a sign, "Hoover Town," and sat down in misery and want to wait out the depression.

Today there are 141 families, nearly 700 men, women and children living there. But for every citizen, there is a roof, no rent, free food, free wood and free water.

Early each morning two of the men make the rounds of the city's big markets, collecting vegetables which fail to pass the inspector's practiced eye.

Alma Temple McPherson-Hutton heard of the town and her Angeles Temple workers lent a hand. God natured contractors contributed used wood for houses, and a neighboring gasoline station provided the water.

The town is healthy. Its "hospital" is closed and city health officers watch over the depression's victims. There's even an orchestra which helps to maintain the spirits of the city.

PROFESSIONAL DISTRESS

NERVE STRAIN—MENTAL ANGUISH

Doctors and their social duties sometimes have a hard time making connections, and often are the despair of their family and friends.

It may not be generally thought that the modern Doctor takes the case of the patient as much to heart as the old family physician, but those who live close to Doctors will tell you a different story. The Physician who tries to divert his mind, or fulfill social obligations, with a seriously ill patient in his thoughts, is a very absent-minded theatre companion or bridge partner.

The Doctor expecting a momentary summons, is not free from mental strain or wakeful nights. When he finds the case beyond human or scientific help, only the immediate family grieves more than the Doctor. Of course it is up to the Doctor not to show distress, and to keep nerve strain under leash, but modern Physicians take their profession seriously, and want just as sincerely to make and keep you well as the old-fashioned general practitioner.

How to Keep Peace in the Family
Even With "Good-for-You" Foods.
Do your young things scream at spinach, cress and carrots and other such foods? Does your family seem to feel that vitamins disagree with them and that "whole-some" is a synonym for "horrid"? Even if they do, don't despair. There is a way to satisfy your cry of "oh, for a little peace!"
Our grandmothers forced the foods we needed right down our throats. Our mothers pleaded and wheedled and got tears for their pains. But we, in this day of Angelo Patri and other child-training experts, dare not risk complex by employing either method. The net result has been the reason why mothers grow gray.
But there are some foods the persnickety young things like, that are good for them, too. So, to keep peace in your household, serve these and let the despoiled dishes take a back seat. One of the youngsters' prime favorites is dates. They think they are candy, and you can let them continue to think so while they are consuming the vitamins and the body-building minerals the dates contain. With milk, dates are a perfectly balanced meal; when you buy either, buy the pasteurized kind.
4 large bananas, 2 cup peanuts, 1/2 pkg. pasteurized dates, mayonnaise or cooked salad dressing.
Remove the stringy portion from the outside of the bananas, cut them in thirds lengthwise. Roll each cylinder in dressing, then dip into the chopped peanuts. Place on an individual salad plate and garnish with strips of dates. Pass additional dressing, 4 servings.

Half-Moon Sandwiches.
1 lb. loaf sandwich bread, 1/2 cup brown sugar, 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 cup butter, 2 tps. orange juice, 1/2 cup butter.
Chop dates finely in a food chopper or wooden bowl. Add cinnamon and orange juice to this round of buttered bread and cut in halves. Half-Moon sandwiches are especially delicious when Roston brown bread is used.
24 small sandwiches.

Graham-Tapioca Omelette.
3 cups milk, 2 tps. quick-cooking tapioca, 2 tps. sugar, 1/4 tsp. salt, 10 graham crackers, 1/2 pkg. pasteurized dates, 1 tsp. vanilla, 1 egg.
Scald milk in double boiler. Add tapioca, sugar, salt, and graham crackers (which have been crumbled or rolled). Cook 15 minutes, stirring frequently. Remove from stove; add dates and vanilla. Pour slowly over the slightly beaten egg. Pour into buttered baking dish and bake in a moderate oven for about 40 minutes. Serve with whipped cream. 6 to 8 servings.

Hygiene Pudding.
1/2 cup uncooked rice, 1/2 cup brown sugar, 1/2 tsp. salt, 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 cup butter, 1 quart milk.
Wash rice. Pit dates or use ready-pitted variety. Cut with wet scissors into lengthwise slices. Place all ingredients in a buttered baking dish. Bake for 2 to 3 hours in a slow oven. Stir the pudding every 15 minutes during the first hour so that a hard crust will not form. Serve hot with plain cream or hard sauce or very cold in individual dishes with whipped cream. 6 servings.

Health Bread.
2 cups flour, 4 tps. baking powder, 1 tsp. salt, 1 cup bran, 4 tps. brown sugar, 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 cup butter, 1 egg.
Sift flour, baking powder, salt and sugar together. Add the bran. Add sliced dates and well beaten egg to the milk; and then stir these mixture into the dry ingredients. Pour batter into a well oiled loaf pan. Bake in a very moderate oven for 1 hour. 1 loaf.

After School Spread.
2 cups (1/2 pkg.) pasteurized dates, 1 tsp. salt, 1/2 cup orange juice, 1 tsp. honey.
Place all ingredients in a saucepan and cook over low heat until a thick paste is formed. Stir the mixture frequently to prevent burning. Cool and spread between graham crackers, vanilla wafers or slices of buttered bread. This recipe will be sufficient to cover two dozen graham crackers.

OUT OUR WAY

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY
SEA Service Writer

JUST as the modish woman of today adds that "well turned out" look to her general effect by the careful choice of her costume accessories, so the clever housewife may increase the popularity of some dish that is more wholesome than welcome by the deft use of some extra material which plays the part of the accessory. The food accessory differs decidedly from the garnish in that the accessory is not merely ornamental. Nuts, dates, raisins, coconut, candied fruit, jelly—these and many others combine happily with the most nutritious economical dishes. And they add food value and interest to the combination with relatively little expenditure of either time or money.

The carefully chosen food accessory should not be regarded as an extravagance and superfluity. If two or three chopped dates added to the children's cereal will make the dish a treat instead of a morning "bone of contention," it surely cannot be termed extravagant. Especially since the dates add about ten calories as well as food iron to the dish of cereal.

"Dressing Up" Baked Apples
Chopped nuts or raisins or both combined with baked apples materially increase the food value and assure the apples a cordial welcome. A spoonful of jelly is an attractive variation if put in the cavity left when the core is removed from the apple. Of course the jelly does not add as much nourishment as the nuts and raisins contribute.

An added feature of diversion thoroughly enjoyed was that of the program given over WEAP, Fort Worth, by the Ranger American Legion Tickville band. Mrs. Davenport presented a lovely green satin spread and pillow from her class associates.

A plate of chicken salad sandwiches, with angel food cake and coffee was served to the following guests: Messrs. and Mrs. J. C. Smith, B. S. Dudley, Joe. Thorne, Onis Littlefield and son Jack, Tom

Tomorrow's Menu

Tom and Jerry
Now Showing At Columbia Theatre

Tom and Jerry, "the variety boys," will be presented Sunday by the Columbia theatre, Ranger, in a musical act that they have been producing for the entertainment of the public for some time. Tom and Jerry have just completed two seasons with the Fox West Coast, Public and Fanchon Marco vaudeville circuits, where they were favorites with theatre goers. They come to Ranger direct from the million-dollar theatre on Third street and Broadway, Los Angeles.
