PRESIDENT TEXAS TECH DIES SUDDENLY

Free Flour For Poor Ready For Distribution

PEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE

with BILL MAYES

Sports writers in many sections of the country are now entering into another period of activity with the baseball, track, tennis and golf seasons opening all over the country.

The major leagues have started the ball rolling and the Texas League follows suit today.

The needy of Ranger will be well cared for the next few weeks as far as flour is concerned, because 7,000 pounds are arriving in the city today to be distributed free of charge among the needy by the Red Cross.

The flour, as we understand it, was ground from wheat held by the Federal Farm Board and for which they found no ready market.

As we understand it, the farm board bought many millions of bushels of wheat some time ago when the price started to go down. The idea was that with that much wheat kept off the market the supply would be partly exhausted and the demand would come nearer being on a level with the supply.

The price of wheat jumped, as the farm board expected, except that it jumped the wrong way. Instead of going up, as planned, it went down. Soon the board found that it had a lot of wheat bought at something like 80 cents, for which it could get very little. A plan was worked out whereby a mill at Fort Worth would grind the wheat into flour at a nominal cost and the flour would be given to the Red Cross for distribution among the needy of the state.

We presume that similar measures were carried out in other states. Anyway, 7,000 pounds of flour is being hauled into Ranger today to be distributed among those who need flour.

Flour alone won't relieve the situation, but when a man has several empty stomachs to fill it is a much easier job when he has a 48-pound sack of flour sitting in the kitchen than it would be without the flour.

Applications for the flour will be handled in the office of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce.

Blondy Cross, of San Angelo, very wisely—'for Blondy—hits the nail on the head when he says, "The ones who suffer from the Highwater case, is not suffering at all, but the boys who attend the Cisco High school are the ones who must pay the fiddler."

The Cisco coach, however, still is much in the picture. He is to coach the Wichita Falls team this year. Being prevented by league edict from playing the Cisco team this year, Abilene officials endeavor to get a substitute of the old tradition by playing the team that the Cisco coach is going to coach this year. That's a fair swap, considering the circumstances. But seriously speaking, the Oil Belt, of which Abilene is a member, in fact, the main member, threw out this year because of alleged discrepancies in the Cisco school records on the eligibility status of a Cisco football player. Cisco High school had committed a crime, so to speak, and apparently should be shunned by the other members of the circuit. We do not know (Continued on page 3)

Times Readers Would Be Crowd On Main Street

Newspaper readers might be thought of as crowds. Crowds of people read the papers, read the advertising, read the news and read the features.

If all the readers of the Times were assembled on Main Street at the same time, it would look like a big convention was being held in the city.

All the readers of the Times, with very few exceptions, are on Main Street at one time or another during the week, but they are not noticed as they go about their daily shopping trips.

Friday's Times will be distributed in the same manner that the city readers receive their papers daily. A truck loaded with papers will travel to the towns in the trade territory and will deliver the papers to the doors of the individual members of the crowd.

Your advertisement in the Times is like telling a huge crowd of the merits of your merchandise.

7,000 POUNDS TO BE GIVEN TO THE NEEDY

Distribution Will Be Started Thursday Morning In Seven Towns.

Free Red Cross flour will be available to the needy of Eastland, Ranger, Cisco, Gorman, Carbon, Rising Star and DeWitt on Thursday morning, when distribution of a carload of flour allotted to the poor of Eastland county will start.

The flour is being furnished free of charge by the Red Cross, through the cooperation of the Federal Farm Board. Several weeks ago the Red Cross committee of Eastland county was asked what the requirements of the county would be and a request was sent in for one carload of flour.

The flour was shipped from a mill in Fort Worth, where it was ground into flour, and arrived in Cisco early Tuesday, less than 22 days after J. E. Spencer, Eastland county chapter chairman, made the request.

When it was decided that Eastland county would receive a carload of flour, 7,000 pounds was allotted to Ranger.

This morning A. J. Ratliff, accompanied by W. C. Hickey, secretary of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce, went to Cisco in one of Mr. Ratliff's trucks, and the flour for the Ranger section will be hauled to Ranger free of charge by Mr. Ratliff. It will be stored in the Ratliff warehouse, but all requisitions and orders must come through the chamber of commerce.

All who wish to receive some of the Red Cross flour should put in an application at the chamber of commerce offices where the application will be acted upon. Orders for the sacks of flour which are put up in 24 and 48-pound sacks will be issued at the chamber of commerce office and the flour will be given out at the old Walker-Smith building now used by A. J. Ratliff as a warehouse.

No flour will be given out at the warehouse without an order from the chamber of commerce, which will act as an agent for the Red Cross in distributing the flour.

The 7,000 pounds of flour that has been allotted to Ranger is supposed to be a 90-day supply, but it is thought that the supply will be exhausted long before the 90 days has passed.

Small families will be given orders for the 24-pound sacks and larger families will be given 48-pound sacks when application is made for the flour.

Rotary Committee Urges Members To Go To Conference

The On-To-Mineral-Wells committee of the Ranger Rotary club, composed of Wayne C. Hickey, E. D. Hicks, J. Grassano and Dr. P. M. Kuykendall, are working on a plan to have as many Ranger Rotarians as possible attend the All-Texas Rotary Conference to be held in Mineral Wells on May 1 to 3.

The reason for the activity on the part of the Ranger club in securing as many for the conference is that H. C. "Andy" Anderson, active member of the Ranger club, is a candidate for the position of district governor of the 41st district of Rotary and the election for this office will be held at the Mineral Wells conference.

Seven hotels, with single-room prices from $1 to $5 a day have been secured for the delegates to the conference in addition to a number of rooming houses, tourist camps and apartment houses. Reservations can be made through the committee at this time in order to be assured of a place to stay during the meeting.

Round trip railroad fares of one and one-third fare, good for 30 days, has been offered by the railroads of the state during the conference and members are expected to be present from all over the state.

All who expect to attend the conference from Ranger are urged to get in touch with members of the committee in order that reservations may be made for them.

Kentucky Posse Whips Students

War between visitors and coal mine lords in the Kentucky trouble area flared anew when labor college students were beaten and ejected by vigilantes as they were touring the strike vicinity in an effort to investigate conditions. The students, all of Commonwealth College, Mens, Ark., reported the vigilantes met them at Pineville, Ky., escorted them through Harlan and Bell counties to the Virginia state line. Members of the party shown above are: 1—Lucien Koch, 24, director of the college and leader of the investigators; 2—Isaac Greenberg, 22; 3—Sam Sanberg, 29; 4—Harold Coy, 29, and 5—Leo Grulovic, 19.

When it was decided that Eastland county would receive a carload of flour, 7,000 pounds was allotted to Ranger.

Shary went to his room to get him a drink of water and soon after they both went to bed. Police found no note in the room to indicate suicide. ### Wool, Mohair Sale Delayed For A While By Democrats

Ben Whitehouse, secretary of the Oil Belt Sheep and Goat Raisers' association, announced today that the dates for the spring wool and mohair sale, scheduled for April 15, had been postponed and no new date had as yet been set.

The reason for the postponement was found necessary was that the co-op heads were now meeting in Boston to decide how much of an advance could be allowed on the wool and mohair at this time. As soon as they complete their survey of the market, word will be sent to the different agencies and dates for the sale will be announced.

Those who have already brought in wool or mohair to Ranger have been notified by mail of the change in plans and as soon as word is received from Boston new dates for the sale will be set and everyone who has wool in the warehouse will be notified in order that they may be present when their clip is shipped.

The barbecue that was planned for the same date has also been postponed and will be held on the new date. All members of the association have been notified of the changes in plans and will be kept informed on the outcome of the postponement.

Rotary Committee Urges Members To Go To Conference

The On-To-Mineral-Wells committee of the Ranger Rotary club, composed of Wayne C. Hickey, E. D. Hicks, Ty Grzesiano and Dr. P. M. Kuykendall, are working on a plan to have as many Ranger Rotarians as possible attend the All-Texas Rotary Conference to be held in Mineral Wells on May 1 to 3.

One reason for the activity on the part of the Ranger club in securing as many of its members as possible to attend the conference is that H. C. "Andy" Anderson, active member of the Ranger club, is a candidate for the position of district governor of the 41st district of Rotary and the election for this office will be held at the Mineral Wells conference.

At the opening of the meeting a telegram telling of the death of Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of Texas Technological college at Lubbock, was read and a telegram of condolence was sent to friends and relatives.

John Thurman and Dr. Kuykendall had charge of the entertainment program today. They presented Miss Ruth Ramey, home demonstration agent of Eastland county, who gave an interesting talk on the 4-H club work in the county and outlined what it had meant to the rural boys and girls. She said that, chiefly through the influence of the club members, more than a million cans of fruits, vegetables and meats had been put up this year in the county.

Mrs. Abernathy, Mrs. Healer and Mrs. Shoemaker of Desdemona were presented and rendered several musical selections on the violin, mandolin and guitar. The numbers were well liked by the Rotarians and the musicians showed aptitude in handling their instruments and in rendering selections for the entertainment of the assembled guests.

W. C. Hickey, chairman of the On-To-Mineral Wells committee, urged all who could do so to attend the All-Texas conference to be held there on May 1, 2 and 3. He said that a good representation, there would aid the candidacy of H. C. "Andy" Anderson, who is being sponsored by the Ranger club as governor of the 41st district of Rotary.

WOOL, MOHAIR SALE DELAYED FOR A WHILE BY DEMOCRATS

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Democratic orators leading party workers with campaign ammunition today heaped upon the Hoover administration the blame for the depression and outlined a program of economic rehabilitation for the party to estound.

Through a series of addresses at a Jefferson Day luncheon attended by Democratic leaders from near and far run the theme that the Republican party had wrecked business, plunged millions into misery and engulfed the government in debt, due to extravagance.

Senator Joe T. Robinson of Arkansas said President Hoover had been elected as "an economic genius with a patent formula to insure prosperity" which now should be "thrown into the limbo of exploded heresies."

Every policy advanced in the 1928 campaign by the "economic marvel of the age" is now generally recognized as unsound, Robinson declared. The record of the last three years establishes "the conclusion the economic policies of the United States as reflected in extravagant government expenditures, in loans to bankrupt foreign governments and in the enactment of tariffs which have well nigh destroyed our commerce, have been the controlling factors in producing depression in this country and in causing it to extend to other shores.

The barbed wire that was planned for the sale date has also been postponed and will be held on the big sale date. All members of the association have been notified of the changes in plans and will be kept informed on the outcome of the postponement.

Broadway America Car To Arrive In Ranger Tonight

A representative of the Broadway of America association, driving a special car from El Paso to New York, is scheduled to arrive in Ranger tonight at 6 o'clock and spend the night. The car and driver are enroute to New York to form the motorcade that will make the trip over the entire length of the Broadway of America to the convention at San Diego.

A group of representatives of the city of Ranger will meet the car at the city limits at 6 o'clock and will escort it into town.

Upon arrival in Ranger a large sheepskin scarf will be taken to the city hall, where Mayor John Thurman will add his signature to the list of mayors between San Diego and Ranger who have signed the scarf. When completed, the sheepskin will be presented to Mayor Walker at New York.

Mr. Watson, driver of the car, will spend the night in Ranger and will continue his trip to the north and east Thursday morning.

DR. HORN WAS WIDELY KNOWN AS EDUCATOR

Had Recently Figured In Atheism Charges Of Dr. R. C. Campbell.

LUBBOCK, April 13.—Dr. Paul W. Horn, 62, president of Texas Technological College, died suddenly here today. He underwent an operation several months ago and had been suffering from a kidney ailment for the past three weeks.

He was a past president of the state teachers association.

Dr. Horn was formerly superintendent of schools at Sherman and Houston. From the latter place he went to Mexico City as superintendent of the American school.

He was one of the authors of the famous "New Century" spelling book.

Dr. Horn was born at Booneville, Mo., and attended Central College at Fayette, Mo., receiving a masters degree in 1888. Central College, Baylor University and Southwestern University later gave him honorary degrees.

Recently Dr. Horn figured in the atheism controversy at the school in which the Rev. R. C. Campbell charged members of the faculty with scoffing at religious beliefs. Dr. Horn denied the charges.

Funeral services will be held at the school at 5 p. m. tomorrow and he will be buried on the campus. A memorial tomb will be erected later for the first president of the school.

Times Readers Would Be Crowd On Main Street

Newspaper readers might be thought of as crowds. Crowds of people read the papers, read the advertising, read the news and read the features.

If all the readers of the Times were assembled on Main Street at the same time, it would look like a big convention was being held in the city.

All the readers of the Times, with very few exceptions, are in the city at one time or another during the week, but they are not noticed as they go about their daily shopping trips.

Friday's Times will be distributed in this large crowd of people in the same manner that the city readers receive their papers daily. A truck loaded with papers will travel to the towns in the trade territory and will deliver the papers to the doors of the individual members of the crowd.

Your advertisement in the Times is like telling a huge crowd of the merits of your merchandise.

RANCHER FOUND DEAD

SWEETWATER, April 13.—P. T. Chenaunt, Scurry county ranchman, was found dead in his truck today, a bullet hole through his chest. A note was found near his body notifying finders of his body to notify his son.

TARIFF ON COAL TO RELIEVE JOBLESS

Now there is a demand for a tariff on coal to relieve jobless miners. Brice D. Disque is executive director of the Anthracite Institute. He issued a statement saying that congressional approval on an excise tax on imported coal would add 400,000 working days a year to employment in the hard coal fields and at the same time obviate any possibility of any increase in prices.

In the long ago the Democrats named Gen. Winfield Scott Hancock as their presidential standard bearer. In his speech of acceptance, he declared "the tariff is a local issue."

Now, after the rough riders overturn, what is the weight of the donkey?

FINANCIAL LOANS MADE TO DATE

General Charles G. Dawes is busy. His reconstruction finance corporation has lent a total of $243,981,000, speaking of March 24. A total of 587 banks and trust companies received $127,000,000; building and loan associations totaling 18 received $3,000,000; a total of 13 insurance companies received approximately $6,000,000; railroads $56,975,000; two joint stock banks, $775,000; and three mortgage loan companies, $1,400,000.

A republican congressman has introduced a resolution calling for information. He wants a list of the corporations or individuals favored with loans or advances. He wants to know what action has been taken to thaw out frozen assets. He wants to know what relief has been extended to banks which were closed by runs made by wild depositors.

Speaking of excess fees for public service. A private audit has disclosed that a former sheriff and the incumbent in the county of Dallas overpaid themselves a sum of something like $63,000 in the period of four years.

Point to Europe. UNBALANCED budgets contributed largely to economic chaos in Europe. It is argued that no nation can maintain its credit by consistently spending billions in excess of revenue.

Four former sheriffs have been elected to terms in the Texas penitentiary. Others are said to be shivering in their boots. There is a senate committee busy with their under cover workers and the trails are said to be numerous.

COST OF FEEDING HUNGRY IN OHIO CITY

Niles, in the commonwealth of Ohio, is a steel city of 16,000. It is feeding one-fourth of its residents. Niles officials say the cost is about $1 per month each, or one and one-half cents a meal. Seven hundred and forty-three families, or 4377 persons are given two meals a day at the relief kitchens.

Why go hungry when it is possible to make $1 buy food supply for a month, or at a cost of one and one-half cents a meal. Calvin Coolidge, internationally known as a thrifty person as well as a writer on thrift methods, has been vindicated by the feeding record of this Ohio mayor.

ANOTHER VICTORY FOR THE CITY MANAGER PLAN

William E. O'Brien is city manager of Kenosha, Wis., a very prosperous city of 50,000. There is joy in the heart of O'Brien and his picture is in the paper. The Kenosha treasury had a surplus of $77,785 reported by the Wisconsin tax commission at the end of 1931.

A nice looking store and stock may give a lot of satisfaction to a merchant, but it takes newspaper advertising to attract the customers and keep the cash register ringing.

Just a Drop in the Bucket!

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON.—Congress will "balance the budget," backed by an obvious preponderance of opinion everywhere. But "balance the budget" has become a phrase loosely used and a majority of seafarers continues to hoot at the theory that it is a vital necessity.

The books of the treasury are bound to be balanced. The treasury will raise the money for the appropriations of Congress, regardless of deficits, and the government's bills will be paid. Anything else would be unthinkable.

"Balancing the budget," as the phrase has been used recently in connection with the deficit and new taxation problems, simply means "pay as you go."

Deficits simply add to debt. THAT is, stop issuing bonds to meet government expenses and meet them for the fiscal year 1932 by whatever federal economy may be achieved.

The 1931 and 1932 deficits, amounting to about three billion dollars, were met by adding the amount to the national debt through bond issues.

A minority has held that next year's deficit can be best met by a certain amount of new taxation and a certain amount of proceeds from new issues of government obligations. The majority view is that such a course would be likely to lead to national catastrophe.

Point to Europe. UNBALANCED budgets contributed largely to economic chaos in Europe. It is argued that no nation can maintain its credit by consistently spending billions in excess of revenue.

Acting Chairman Charles E. Crisp of the House Ways and Means Committee, one of those most profoundly impressed by the danger of issuing any more obligations, pointing out that some $1.8 billion were well below par.

"If we continue to issue government bonds, they will further depreciate, all private and industrial bonds, stocks, lands and property of every kind will depreciate, and economic chaos will be inevitable. . . . Foreign nations are becoming alarmed as to stability of the American dollar and withdrawing funds from the United States and gold from our vaults."

What Mills Thinks. BANKERS were calling loans, refusing to make new ones and sacrificing all types of securities to become liquid, Crisp explained, holding their funds to buy government securities instead of lending to industry or individuals.

Secretary of the Treasury Order Mills says arguments for budget balancing are "compelling and unanswerable," and that: "It is essential to preserve unimpaired the credit of the United States government. Bring that credit into question and our present difficulties, great as they are, become infinitely greater. New dangers and evils will appear and recovery will be indefinitely postponed."

But certain others pooh-pooh such dire warnings and say the position of the country obviously is too sound not to be able to stand a few billion dollars more of bonds.

Byrns Talks of Resources. CHAIRMAN JOE BYRNS of the House Appropriations Committee says some money should be raised by new taxes and certificates issued for the rest needed until the government gets in a better condition to pay for current operations.

"The issuance of certificates of indebtedness would not depress the price of our government's securities," he says. "For two or three years we have been laboring under a deficit and you can't make me believe the credit of our government or our business would fall merely because we didn't balance the budget on June 30, 1933.

"The people and the country ought to be permitted to recover to some extent before we rush into an imposition of taxes which they are so little able to meet at this time. The country has such resources and such great wealth that it seems preposterous to argue that unless the budget is balanced in the next year our credit will fall and chaos result."

But the whole argument has become rather academic, since everyone knows Congress is out to balance.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

ERNEST S. JOHNSON, Advertising Manager of the Washington (D. C.) Post, Says: That every business and every individual in the United States owes a debt to the newspaper advertiser and, if for no other reason, should insist upon buying newspaper-advertised merchandise.

Newspapers have given the first information to the general public of new discoveries and inventions that have revolutionized our standards of living, increased health, comfort and enjoyment of living. They have given us a better understanding of our neighbors in other sections of the country and have provided an international viewpoint of benefit to the entire world.

Few persons will fail to recognize the tremendous public service rendered by our newspapers, but it is seldom that they reflect upon the fact that it is the advertisers who, in the final analysis, finance our great world-wide news-gathering facilities, the familiar features of entertainment and specialized information, and make it possible for us to keep in constant touch with the affairs and happenings of our own community.

In the average newspaper, a full page advertising message may be placed before the eyes of a thousand families at a fraction of the cost required to mail a postcard to the same number—and what compensation could the postcard offer as a replacement of the enduring information and entertainment brought to you through the cooperation of your NEWSPAPER ADVERTISER?

Royal Russian Chorus Will Sing In Ranger Tonight

Recent announcements made by the Senior class of Ranger High school of the appearance here of the world famous Royal Russian Chorus at the high school auditorium on April 13 have created a distinct furor in local music circles and the success of their concert seems to be assured, as the advance sale has started very briskly, at the high school by the members of the Senior class.

The Royal Russian Chorus has the distinction of probably having sung before, and been received by, more royalty, than any other musical organizations in the world. On two occasions under the personal direction of Prince Dmitry Slaviansky, the original founder of the chorus, they sang before the Pope in Rome and at St. Peter's Cathedral. On their first European tour they were given over 50 medals, decorations and diplomas.

In Spain, they received the Order of Chivalry from the king and the silver medal of honor from the Ateneo Musical and Art Society of Madrid. King Edward, of England, bestowed upon them the British Model of Music and invited them to sing at Windsor Castle.

On their first American tour, the President invited them to sing at the White House, in Washington, and bestowed upon them the first, and possibly the only, Presidential Medal ever given to a musical organization.

Their most recent royal honors were bestowed upon them in Japan two years ago at the X coronation ceremony in Kyoto, where they were invited by the Japanese government as a special foreign entertainment feature of the entertainment festivities, and Princess Slaviansky, the present conductor, was given an imperial medal. The Imperial Conservatory of Music, Tokyo, also honored her by making her an honorary member of their faculty, the first foreign woman to have ever received this honor.

Their present American tour is under the personal direction of Walter Lowe, well known Pacific Coast impresario.

This magnificent group of singers and dancers, with balalaika instruments will appear here on April 13 at the high school auditorium under the local management of the Senior class of high school who are to be commended for their civic spirit in sponsoring this famous organization. Tickets are now on sale by members of the Senior class at, popular prices for both adults and children.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Blame for the stock market crash of 1929 was placed largely on the frenzied activities of private corporations today by Governor Harrison of the New York Federal Reserve bank.

The TINYMITES

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

IT wasn't long until each bird flew out of sight. Then Duncy heard a very funny rumbling sound. It frightened him a bit. He knew 'twas thunder, right nearby. A storm was brewing in the sky. Then he looked down and saw that he was floating over it. Thought he, "I am a lucky lad. I guess I really should be glad that I am not below the clouds that seem filled up with rain."

THE bubble slowly rose and fell and Duncy got a sleepy spell. It wasn't long till he dozed off and had some crazy dreams. In one dream he was falling fast and clouds and birds were whizzing past. Then he woke up and looked around and thought, how strange this seems.

Way down on earth the others knew that there was naught that they could do. They'd watched the bubble disappear "It's too bad."

And then, with one more swoop around, the plane came nearer the ground. The Tinymites were very thrilled. They stood and watched it land.

(The Tinymites get acquainted with the Sky Cop in the next story.)

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

A BOTTLE OF WATER, standing outside a California home, focuses the sun's rays with such intensity on the wall of the house that the wood was ignited. WHEN WINTER COMES, the female polar bear turns away from the sea-coast and digs a den in the deep snowbanks. At the bottom of the den she curls up and goes to sleep, and soon the snow drifts over her head and seals her in; not airtight, however, for a tiny hole remains open to admit fresh air. But this air hole often brings disaster to the bear. Dogs catch the scent through it and it is easy for the hunter to send a spear into the helpless animal. Should all well, however, cubs are born while the mother is thus confined, and when spring comes they are well developed and able to follow their mother back to the coast.

Susan Carey, stenographer in the office of Ernest Heath, architect, lives with her Aunt Jessie on Chicago's West Side. Ben Lampman, moody young musician, admires her and introduces her to a Bohemian crowd which she finds rather tiresome. Jack Waring, employed in the same office as Susan, tries to flirt with her but she discourages him. She finds she is beginning to care deeply for Bob Dunbar, young millionaire whom she met at business school. At lunch one day Bob is interrupted by a declaration of his feeling for her by the arrival of Denise Ackroyd, also wealthy. Susan is terribly disappointed. Bob does not telephone, departs for Europe. Mrs. Heath, wife of Susan's employer, calls at the office and teases the girl.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XIII

Aunt Jessie was going away. It was astonishing but true. Her sister who lived in a little town in southern Illinois had undergone a rather serious operation and was convalescing. She wanted Aunt Jessie to come. "I declare, it doesn't seem right!" Aunt Jessie kept saying over and over. "It seems a pity you couldn't go and stay with the Miltons instead of having Rose come over here. But what with those cousins of theirs visiting from Des Moines suppose we can't help it. She's aged again, frosting, folded her feet. Philippine, nightgown and draped her bedroom slippers in issue paper. "I don't see why you make such fuss," Susan said capably, trying to help and not succeeding very well. "You always say yourself that Rose is so sensible, and after all you won't be gone more than two weeks." Aunt Jessie kept grumbling that she didn't seem right and she declared she was at her wit's end. But she went nevertheless. This was on a Sunday morning. After Susan had seen her aunt off at the small old station she came back to a house strangely empty and grim, familiar rooms with the sensation of seeing them for the first time and when Rose came over to join her at a lazy, two o'clock dinner the kitchen rang with the sudden, foolish, irresistible laughter of two young things set free. They used the best embroidered tablecloth and the thin cups which Susan's great-grandmother had brought out with her from New York State. Aunt Jessie would have been scandalized at the idea of this casual employment of her nearest treasures. The tablecloth and chairs were generally reserved for weddings and funerals but since Susan saw no chance of the aunt and hoped there might be none for the other she made the most of this golden moment. It was fun even to wash dishes with Rose. Susan hung over with laughter, over a kitchen chair as her friend described with embellishments the peculiarities of the head of her department. "Stop! Please don't tell me any more," Susan begged, wincing. Naturally Rose, delighted at this tribute to her powers as a mimic, continued the performance. As Susan rinsed out the last

By Cowan Bargains Tempt Hoarded Dollars

Stating his pleasure in optimistic reports concerning the "Save and Spend" drive sponsored by the Ladies' Home Journal, Mr. Barham, manager of the local Montgomery Ward store, commented today upon the tremendous local approval of Ward Week, intended as a merchandising contribution to better times.

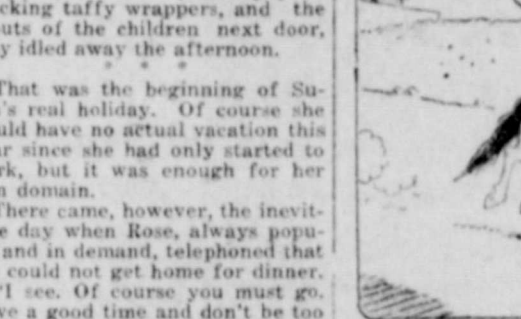

"Ward Week, our tie-up with the various prosperity drives, has every prospect of smashing victory before Saturday night, the final close. I have been pleased to see large paper currency, which has been out of circulation for some months, presented for merchandising values at the new, low price levels for this week," stated Mr. Barham. Numerous out-of-town visitors have been attracted to the local Ward store for a copy of the "Save and Spend" program. "They want to see the tie-up between Ward Week values and the prosperity movements," continued the local manager.

The Ward manager commented that an amazing number of people are trading hoarded dollars for six months' supplies of outstanding bargains. "I certainly am happy," he said, "that Ward's is lined up for this week in the prosperity campaign by offering fresh stocks at slashed prices."

Ward Week, planned for several months, began on Saturday, April 9 and will end Saturday, April 16. The local store is employing many extra local people to help with the daily arrivals of new merchandise.
