Vishinsky Turns Vitriolic Attack On West

Vishinsky Ignores U. S. Speaker

Soviet delegate Andrei Vishinsky ostentatiously reads a newspaper as U.S. delegate Philip Jessup presents a detailed review of the Berlin crisis to the United Nations Security Council in Paris. At other times Vishinsky took notes, listened closely. Britain's Sir Alexander Cadogan is at right. — (NEA Radio-Telephoto).

Well...
I Dunno,
But...

Well at long last, we see that after being kicked around by the English snobbery for 12 years, Wally and the Duke may get a break.

And all through the efforts of that warm hearted and human statesman Winston Churchill, "Winnie" went to see the Duke and Duchess of Windsor in France and then did a little connivng with Lord Beverbrook. The Duke and Duchess are to be in Paris Saturday and from there the Duke is to go to London for a visit with Dowager Queen Mary, his mother, and his brother, King George. Winnie even went so far as to urge the Duchess to tag right along to London, with the promise that he's gonna get a job in the cabinet for the Duke and get royal recognition for the Duchess.

Now if Prime Minister Atlee just goes ahead and gets sick and gets outta the picture, Winnie thinks everything will be all right. He's gonna put the pressure on Mania Mama and Brother George.

We hope he does. The Duke and Duchess have been kicked around long enough. And he's taken it with such graciousness as we've never witnessed.

Generally hailed as the greatest love story of the 20th Century, we'll never forget how touched was the romantic nature of the world when on December 11, 1936, the then King Edward of England made his famous broadcast to the world, stating that he was abdicating the throne of England "for the woman I love."

And after almost twelve years of wandering around the world, with the Duchess, practically without a homeland, taking a lot of hard knocks and isolation from the royal family, we guess that he's proved what he said in that broadcast.

Furthermore, considering the conduct of some of England's past rulers, we guess there are things worse than divorce and divorces. Besides that, what the Duke did for the Duchess in abdicating that throne approaches pretty close to a statement we recall, "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends."

And love on that kind of basis ought to be good for anybody's country or throne.

So, we reckon Wally would have done right well sitting on that throne beside King Edward. She's certainly endowed with a natural grace and charm that didn't come from England.

Lilla Jean Brown head of the fine arts department of Ranger Junior College, stated today that the students at the college are eager to have a college band.

But there's a hitch in the deal. There is no appropriation for instruments. Now, if there are enough idle instruments, just any kind, Miss Brown says, in Ranger with owners who would be willing to let the college students use 'em they may be able to go ahead with their dreams.

Anyone with an instrument that could be used, the owner being willing is asked to contact Miss Brown at 525-J.

COME SAT., TURNSTILL AT FAIR BEGINS TO CLICK

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 7, (UP)—The man who wants to build a better mousetrap can take a tip from State Fair of Texas officials on how to bait the contraption.

For come Saturday, the biggest state fair in the world will start herding in the customers for the 16-day run.

No one knows how many times the turnstiles will click on opening day, except that by 2 p.m. there will be at least 47,435 genuis footfalls in the cotton bowl, where 500 workmen were still at work today putting the finishing touches on one of the south's biggest gridiron emporiums.

For while the fat stock are munching in their stalls, the football faithful will be gnawing at their fingernails at the renewal of the 47-year-old feud between the University of Texas and Oklahoma University.

The $30,000,000 exposition offers everything in the realm of physics and physics, education and enjoyment.

In a classic understatement about the classic, Fair Manager W. H. Hitzelberger said that it might be wise to come early to avoid the rush. There will be, he said, possible parking and traffic problems.

A man with a better mousetrap in mind might do well to look in on the fair Saturday. If a wee mouse could be offered as attractive bait, getting caught might well be worth it.

(Editor's note: The man with a better mousetrap might do well to make the trip also. For a man without a ticket to the Texas-Oklahoma game or a hotel reservation will

Rescue crews found nine bodies at the scene. Four were wedged tightly in the tail section, large intact piece of the plane, and another was found in a forward section of the fuselage. Four other mangled corpses were pulled from the muck of the marshlands where the wreckage fell.

The four survivors, who pulled their parachute ripcords as they were blown free of the bomber,

Texas Producer's Play Gets Mixed Reviews In N. Y.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (UP)—Tennessee Williams' new play, "Summer and Smoke," produced by Margo Jones, of Houston, Texas received mixed reviews today from newspaper theater critics.

Robert Coleman, in the Daily Mirror, said that Miss Jones in bringing it here from Dallas where it tried out last year "proves for us that our so-called tributary theater is the real hope of the American theater."

Brooks Atkinson, in the New York Times said the play was a "tremulous with beauty" and praised Miss Jones for bringing "it to the stage with infinite respect for its delicate qualities."

Even John Chapman in the Daily News, who termed the play "juvenile and sadly delinquent," complimented the producer for having "given it a superb physical mounting."

But Howard Barnes in the New York Herald-Tribune said, "Miss Jones has not helped matters perceptibly with her staging, which is generally on a plane of intertia."

Netty Green Little, also of Houston, who plays an assisting role in the play came in for special mention by Atkinson for "a warm and neatly defined performance."

IN THIRD ATTACK ACCUSES U. S. AGAIN OF PREPARING FOR WAR

BY R. H. SHACKFORD
United Press Staff Correspondent

PARIS, Oct. 7 (UP)—The United States is preparing for atomic war, Russian delegate Andrei A. Vishinsky charged again today in an arm-waving, vitriolic speech before the political committee of the United Nations.

Denouncing the world's "mad armaments race," Vishinsky referred to the headquarters of the U. S. Department of the Army in the Pentagon Building in Washington in these terms:

"In the Pentagon there are people who are men of action of military trade who are preparing a new war, working out plans for 50 years ahead."

Insisting that the atomic bomb is an "aggressive weapon" only, the Soviet deputy foreign minister cried: "Those who don't want to spread mastery over the territory don't need to clutch this weapon for the world as it is."

It was Vishinsky's first UN speech since he announced that Russia would boycott the UN on the Berlin crisis, in which the Western Powers Russia with threatening the peace by the bloc German capital.

He opened debate in the political committee on a Russian proposal for one-third disarmament within one year by the big five powers.

Taking the floor after Vishinsky, British Delegate Hector McNeill challenged the Soviet Union to prove its disarmament proposal sincere, and warned the UN to "look this particular Russian gift horse very carefully in the mouth."

He called Vishinsky's proposal "not realistic not even a method calculated to create the confidence without which disarmament cannot proceed," and branded the Soviet move as "propaganda."

The speeches of the two men more even hitherto events made even before this third UN General Assembly session opened less than two weeks ago—that the UN cannot do anything about disarmament with the temper of the world as it is.

As he spoke, the United States and its Western Allies were seeking new deals with the Soviet Union on two of the most explosive issues before the UN—the Berlin cold war and control of atomic energy.

In the Berlin case, the west seemed likely to support a Security Council resolution asking Russia to accept an American offer of a big four foreign ministers conference on German problems "the moment" the Soviet blockade is lifted.

In the atomic question, the west had agreed reluctantly to spend another year seeking an international control agreement satisfactory to Russia.

Benedictines At Work Preparing Revised Version Of Catholic Bible

By JOSEPH J. BAICICH

United Press Staff Correspondent ROME (UP) — Twenty Benedictine monks are toiling on one of the most monumental scholarly tasks of all time, the preparation of a new version of the Latin Vulgate Bible. In 50 years now, the monks of the Benedictine Monastery in Rome have been at their job. The first seven books of the Old Testament have been revised and published in a new edition for scholars only.

The monks expect to be at the work 20 years from now. But time is of no importance to them in their modern book-lined library, where their laborious study of ancient biblical manuscripts is so exacting that they can work only three hours a day.

The great work began about the turn of the century. Pope Pius XI decided that the official Roman Catholic Bible — the Latin Vulgate edition, as it is called — needed revision. The objective was stated simply: to produce the best possible critical edition, one that would come as close as possible to St. Jerome's translation of the Bible from Hebrew.

St. Jerome's work of the 4th century has never been found, but present-day editions of the

THE STORY: A mysterious locked room on the top floor of Nana Parkins, a rented country house, fascinates twenty 17-year-old Sabrina. Father and Aunt Effie tell her the room belongs to one of the owner's sons and they are not to have the key of it. One rainy day Sabrina, overcome by curiosity, picks the lock. She finds a comfortably furnished man's room, filled with books. The place enchants her. Mrs. Dillon, the housekeeper, surprisingly offers to leave the door unlocked henceforth. Sabrina gets to know the room as well, it is almost as though she knew its owner. She tries to find out his name. Her papers in his desk without success.

Meanwhile, half-way across the world Hilary Shearstone, British secret agent, lies wounded in the desert beside a crashed plane, after completing a dangerous mission. He thinks of home (Nana Parkins) and feels a desperate need to get back there. His thoughts begin to slip. Will he be able to find his way back to his home as they await rescue.

SABRINA closed the blotter and moved on slowly, away from the desk and into the bedroom end, where she had never ventured before. On top of the chest of drawers was a silver frame enclosing the picture of a fair girl in her presentation gown and feathers. She was very nearly a great beauty, but her mouth was thin and at the same time pouting. Spolt, thought Sabrina, regarding her with a mixture of surprise and hostility. "With Love, ALICE" was written across one corner of the picture. Alice too was in the absurd conspiracy to withhold his name. Who was Alice?

Beside the picture was a round leather box, with its catch hanging loose. Between two fingers Sabrina lifted the lid. It was full of winged dolls for evening wear. Did he dress for dinner, every night in the country? In the center space lay something small and black and cold, like a snake. Sabrina looked again, incredulously

Latin Vulgate Bible of the Catholic Church. Not even the scholars who published the Clementine edition had access to all the information the St. Jerome monastery gathered. Old parchment manuscripts, documents written on leather hides, all handwritten and scrawled in a variety of script, faded with time, marred by the foraging trail of worms, all in Latin and all dated from the seventh to the 14th centuries, were carefully gathered by the advance guard of experts. The best documents were found in Italy, but other important ones came from France, Britain, Ireland and southern Germany and one from Russia.

Crews of experts looked over the documents on the spot. The best were photographed and the photostat copies sent on to the St. Jerome Monastery. The scholars were trained in Hebrew, Greek, Latin, French, German and English — and the Semitic languages of Aramaic and Chaldean — before they set to work. Over the years, some of the monks have grown old on the job, others have had to give up the exacting work and have been replaced by carefully-trained substitutes.

When the work was in its early stages, the monks used to use magnifying glasses to help them read the ancient manuscripts. But the smallness of the scripts in many cases and the photostatic inversion of white handwriting on black background, made the eye-strain terrific. That is why a three-hour work day is all one man can stand.

"We prefer to read with the Father Salmon said. "We have naked eye, whenever possible," learned that a magnifying glass destroys our eyesight after a few years."

THE table beside the bed held books and a lamp, and an ash-tray. Sabrina was strangely reassured at sight of them. He was an entirely right-minded person anyway. He read in bed. She founded the foot of the bed and approached the door in the wall on the other side, pulled it open a few inches and peered in. A small bathroom, modern and complete, lighted by a narrow window, with a gay oil silk shower curtain and a gay linoleum underfoot. He had let himself go, there. She withdrew from the bathroom, a little startled, and found the picture on her immediate right.

A group of boys in football suits, seated on a lawn. Boys about 12 or 14 years old. She bent closer. He must be there among them if only she knew which one he was. For a long time she stared at the picture. At last she turned away with a sigh of frustration, and was facing the wardrobe.

Her hand was on the latch of the great wardrobe. A coat or two, possibly riding-clothes—a mackintosh—why should she want to see them? "MAY'S clothes were all alike. . . . One panel swung out toward her, then the other."

EXACTLY the sort of thing Father wore. Only—she lifted a coat sleeve and rubbed her fingers across it like a caress—for all its rough weave it was surprisingly soft. And from it came the faint, unmistakable scent of pipe smoke. She laid her cheek against it, and felt comforted. He would come back, his things were still here. With a grateful smile she closed the wardrobe.

As she did so, a long shiver ran through her, and uneasiness like a cold draught pervaded the room. For a moment, leaning against the edge of the wardrobe, she looked about her, puzzled. She had put back everything, exactly as she found it. She had touched nothing a maid with a duster might not have fingered—except perhaps his clothes. She had committed no sacrilege, surely. But something was wrong. She felt sick and weak, the way she had felt after influenza. And the room was—different.

"What's happened?" she whispered instinctively, as though the room could hear and answer. "What have I done?" Rain was still falling outside, the gray windows were darkening, and the air was chill and dim. For the first time the room's silence was loud. Something had gone out of the room, something friendly and protective, and in its place was emptiness, strangeness, and doubt. She began to back toward the door, with wide, watchful eyes, as though the room might try to stop her. . . .

WHEN Aunt Effie came home from the sewing circle, she found Sabrina lying on her bed, and sent for the doctor. Sabrina lay very quietly, with her eyes wide open. Her lips were cold and bloodless. She would say nothing except that she didn't feel very well. The doctor said it was a slight chill on the liver, and left some little white pills. (To Be Continued)

Texas Alloted $55 Million For Flood Control

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 7 (UP) — Almost $55,000,000 has been earmarked for navigation and flood control work in Texas this fiscal year, Col. Henry Hutchings, Jr., southwest division engineer of the U. S. Corps of Engineers, said today. Addressing a meeting of the Texas Water Conservation Association, Hutchings said the figure represented an increase of $22,900,000 over the previous fiscal year.

And the amount available for Texas accounts for nearly half of the total for the southwestern division, composed of Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma and New Mexico. The total is more than $121,000,000. It "places Texas in the front ranks of navigation and flood control construction throughout the nation," Hutchings said.

He told the water conservation group that "our construction program is on schedule," with completion of Hord's Creek dam and Addicks dam, Benbrook, Addicks dam, and "rapid construction progress" at Whitney, San Angelo, Town Bluff, Benbrook and Lavan.

Completion of present projects, Hutchings said, would create "a tremendous new water asset from what many have considered meager resources."

In "the worst droughts of record" he pointed out, had existing reservoirs and Benbrook dam been completed, their conservation storage would have provided water for a Fort Worth population of 825,000.

State's Righters Ready To Spring

HOUSTON, Tex., Oct. 7 (UP) —The State's Rights Party of Texas today laid plans for taking its presidential campaign to every county in the state. The party urged voters to contribute one day's income "to save the south."

R. W. Milner, Jr., a Houston oil man who was named yesterday to direct the state's Rights campaign in Texas, said the voters would be given the opportunity to make their donation at a rally and barbecue in Houston, Oct. 18.

He said the rally would serve as the kick-off for vigorous campaign in which some 35 or 40 well-known political leaders will tour Texas in behalf of States' Rights.

Milner promised that the campaigners would remain in Texas until after the Nov. 2 general election. "They are coming to Texas," he asserted, "to ask our help in keeping Texas united with the solid south."

Bogart Busy Man As Lauren Sleeps

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 7, (UP) —Battlemat and wickets are to match for a screen toughie Humphrey Bogart. A rattlesnake slid onto the porch of his Benedict Canyon home early yesterday and bit one of his pet boxers on the nose. Bogart reported. The actor trampled the snake to death, lanced the dog's nose and hustled it to a vet. A few minutes later a wicket attacked the other boxer in the backyard, then headed for the hills when Bogart fired four shots with his .22 rifle. Bogart's wife, actress Lauren Bacall, slept through it all.

Spahn and Lemon Mound Choices

BOSTON, Oct. 7 (UP)—The brilliant pitching which marked the first game figured to continue in the World Series today as Warren Spahn of the Boston Braves faced Bob Lemon of the Cleveland Indians.

It didn't figure to be a thriller like yesterday when Johnny Sain bested Bobby Feller to give the Braves a 1 to 0 victory in one of the best hurling duels in series history. But Spahn and Lemon are pretty close to being as good as they come, and if they are in form this afternoon it could be another battle that will go down to the wire.

Lemon, who was the strong man on the Cleveland mound corps in mid-season when Feller faltered, won 20 games this season—the first man in the major leagues to attain that mark in 1948.

Spahn won 15 for the many of them in the drive in which Boston beat the Dodgers to win the National League pennant. A lost 11, Lemon 14.

It had been an off-season for Spahn, who won 21 in 1947. He had trouble regaining his effectiveness after a bad start, but he came along fast toward's season end, and in his own words, "is ready."

When right, he is tough to beat. He has a deceptive delivery, snapping his throws, giving the batter no chance to get set. He has a fast ball a tough screw ball, and, usually good control.

Golfer Fires Ace In Tourney Play

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Oct. 7, (UP)—The Championship flight in the state senior golf tournament at San Antonio Country Club was narrowed to eight players today, but the spectators were talking about another event instead.

J. T. Carrell of Dallas, playing in the last round flight—lowest bracket in the tourney—teed off yesterday on the first hole and made a hole in one at 181 yards. He was the man in the spotlight, outshining even the top-bracket eight.

In the top flight, Willie Hunt of Houston, defending champion, stayed in the running by defeating J. P. Razor of Houston, 6 and 4.

M. P. Wilson of San Antonio, who dropped medalist Tom Ahearn of Houston Tuesday, defeated R. D. Humphries of Houston, 5 and 3.

Remaining in the top division were Hunt, Wilson, Ed Anderson of Houston, Ed Tyre of Houston, Cole D. Ions of Fort Worth, Wilson Frank Stacy of Austin, Ike Handy of Houston, and A. C. January of Dallas.

YARBROUGH RATES GAME EVEN EXPECTS CISCO TO REBOUND

By Marvin Gross

Straining at the bit after a two week layoff the once defeated Rangers invade Wrangler land tonight to face Cisco in a key conference battle.

"This Cisco team is due to play a ball game and we'll probably catch them on the rebound," spoke Coach Yarbrough. "It's true they didn't look like a good high school team against Navarro but it won't be anybody's picnic out there tonight."

The Wranglers floundered like a landed tuna in their last game, never threatening the Navarro goal line. But previously they had beaten a good Clifton team and dropped a close count to the mammoth Hardin-Simmons freshman.

The Rangers will enter the game still short of tip-top shape. Half back Claude Neeley, an offensive bulwark, still has elbow trouble and probably will spend most of the evening on the bench. And Yarbrough's ace defensive end, 210-pound Charley Sullivan has knee agonies but should see action.

The Wranglers will be another in the line of Ranger opponents who do not run from the T formation. Coach Jack Everett will line his offensive attack in the single wing formation and has the backs to make this system click.

Tops on the list of ground gainers is veteran halfback Doug Garner, an 140-pound will o' the wisp. Garner is a tricky slasher, dangerous in the open field and should do the majority of ball carrying for the Wranglers. Jack Leveredge another slender speedster also can cause trouble along the ground.

The Wranglers will field a medium sized forward wall with right tackle Don Price the behemoth of the group at 220 pounds. Left tackle Melvin Nobles at 183 pounds is another battle wise veteran who plays a lot of defensive ball.

In previous games the Rangers have bucked up against a very good team—Kilgore—and a very bad team—T. M. C. There has been no middle ground. But tonight's game will pit them against a ball club that rates about on par with the locals—a steady hard-hitting offensive blended with a charging, strong defense.

Taking over for the injured Neeley in the backfield will be Frankie Ford, an 155-pound first year man from Ranger. Ford saw his first action against Texas Military and snared one of the touch-down passes. Junior Arterburn, a super tosser and fine runner resumes as the man-under with Jimmy Crawley and speedboy Bailey Wood rounding out the big four.

Offensively the line will shape up with Howard Frazier and Ben Blitch at the end post. Blitch will also handle the punting and conversion chores. At tackles Bob Herrington and Wayne Royce will get the nod with Edwin Crum and Jack Townzen at guards. And snapping them back will be Johnny McClendon.

Defensive changes will find Dale and Jud Jones manning the tackle posts, Charley Sullivan moving to end and Eugene Knappenberger taking over at one of the guard spots.

Bobby Williams and Leonard Boyd will move in as defensive line backers.

To Reorganize Tamale Circuit

SAN LUIS POTOSI, Mexico, Oct. 7 (UP)—It looked today as if Jorge Pasquel's Mexican Baseball League, which folded up last month, might be revived under new direction next season.

A group of wealthy baseball men, headed by industrialist Anuar Canavati, were trying to reorganize the league as a corporation with club owners sharing jointly in the profits or losses of the league.

The group would attempt to limit the power held by Pasquel as president of the league. It was proposed that a directive council be set up whose decisions would have more power than those of the president. In the past, Pasquel, whose pesos lured many big league players from the United States during the war has been accused of running the league in dictator fashion.

BARONS STOP CATS, 5-3, NEED ONE MORE VICTORY

FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 7 (UP)—The Birmingham Barons of the Southern Association enter La Grave Field in Fort Worth tonight needing only one more victory over the Fort Worth Cats for the 1948 Dixie Series title.

The Barons made it three straight over the Cats last night, 5 to 3, behind the five-hit pitching of Harry Dorish, to forge ahead in the series, 3 games to one. Fort Worth won the first game of the four-out-of-seven series when play began in Birmingham.

It was sweet revenge last night for the Barons, for the pitcher who licked the min their home town, Eddie Chandler, started for the Cats and was knocked out of the box in the first frame. George Brown came in as relief hurler and kept the Birmingham batters under control until he left the game in the eighth inning for a pinch-hitter. Chris Van Cuyk pitched the final inning for the Cats.

The Barons scored three runs in the first inning, one in the second and one in the eighth. Ft. Worth snagged single runs in the second, third and sixth frames.

The victory was twice-sweet for the Birmingham pitcher. Dorish was the victim of the Cat's 5 to 1 triumph in the first game. A double by Eddie Lyons in the first inning gave Dorish two of the three runs scored in that frame and the right-hander never got Ben Procter were being counted on for at least partial service Saturday. However, fullback Tommy Landry and tackle Ed Kelley still were on the sidelines and not expected to play.

Coach Blair Cherry said Texas still would depend on several sophomores, particularly on defense.

RICKEY DENIES RUMOR
FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 7 (UP)—Branch Rickey said here today that there was "nothing to it" when queried on reports that Stanley (Bucky) Harris would become manager of the Brooklyn

Dodgers.
Rickey was here from St. Paul to watch the Fort Worth Cats, a Dodger farm club, play the Birmingham Barons in the Dixie Series.

Young Farmers Take Over; Do Splendid Job

Peanut harvesting; at this season has its inclination for young and old around Long Beach.

Linnie Grace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Almus Hastings, was too young by 12 days to enter school this year. But dolls and picture books and the like could not hold her interest. Not when the older people, with the aid of the numbing thresher, were busy converting the peanut fields into bare land, after the sacks of gobbers and bales of hay had been hauled away.

So Linnie brought pressure to bear on mother and daddy until she was permitted one day to drive the Farmall. It was carrying the trailer into which the peanut vines and fruitage were being hauled to a machine to be threshed.

Young Jimmy, a partner of his dad, Fred Wilson, share-cropper on the Jennings farm, philosophizes that one does not need to outweigh a sack of flour, or outreach in height the length of a ward stick, to handle a tractor. And shifting gears or even machines is just a matter of fun for the little man. He had had an urge ever since he became five years of age (which incidentally was September 3, last) to run a tractor. And that dream came true a few days ago, when he prevailed on his parents to be allowed to accomplish that feat.

Mrs. McGowen. The time of services is as follows: Sunday school, 10:00 A.M.; preaching, 11:00 A.M.; training Union, 7:00 P. M.; preaching, 8:15 p. m. Woman's Missionary Society, Tuesday afternoon, 2:00 o'clock.

Quarterly Social Security Reports Due October 31

The regular quarterly social security tax returns and wage reports for the calendar quarter ending September 30 are due in the office of the Collector of Internal Revenue, Dallas, Texas, by the end of October, John B. Dunlap, Collector of Internal Revenue, and Ralph T. Fisher, manager of the Austin social security office, announced today.

For the sake of economy in Government and to simplify reporting by employers, the two agencies use the same reports to secure needed information. Both officials strongly recommend to employers that the name and account number of each new worker be copied from his social security card when he starts to work.

The statement concluded that "a great majority of employers have done an excellent job of reporting the few who have not done so are now expected to comply with the requirements."

N. Y. Vice Trial Closed To Public

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (UP)—The vice trial of five women on prostitution charges was closed to the public today to protect prominent men listed among the clientele of an alleged $100,000 bawdy house where the defendants were arrested.

As an added precaution, only the first names or last initials of the men were used in testimony.

Defendants in the trial were Jane Reynolds, 48, alleged madam; Patricia Murphy, 26-year-old blond; Julia Ludolph, 35, a self-styled Viennese countess; and Del Ellis, 34, a negro maid. A fifth defendant, Margie Hamilton, 21, skipped bond of $300 and a warrant was issued for her arrest.

The women were seized two months ago in a raid on a swanky duplex apartment just off Fifth avenue. Arresting officers said it was the most lavish establishment

APPETITE AWAKENER

Brightest breakfast idea in a month of Sundays... French Toast Logs made like this: Break 2 eggs into shallow dish; beat lightly with fork; add 1 1/2 cups of milk and 1/2 tsp. salt. Cut crusts from 12 slices of tender-textured, oven-fresh MAR-VELENICHERD WHITE BREAD from the A&P. Dip each slice into egg mixture. Brown lightly on both sides in hot fat in heavy skillet. Spread with preserves, and roll. 6 servings.

JAM SESSION

I could eat jam-filled baked apples for breakfast Sunday, Monday or all days. To prepare them, I core medium-sized apples, place them in a baking dish, and fill each cavity with 1 tsp. of A&P's luscious ANN PAGE GRAPE JAM. Then I cover the bottom of the pan with water and bake in a moderate oven, 375° F., 30 minutes, or till the apples are soft, basting occasionally with the liquid in the pan.

FRY THIS FOR SIGHS!

To make small fry finish their farina... and sigh for seconds... fry ANN PAGE MILD WHEAT FARINA from the A&P. Cook 1 cup of this pure, refined wheat cereal in 1 quart of boiling salted water to a thick mush. Pour into small loaf pan; chill; turn out and cut into five or six 1/2-inch slices. Dip in seasoned flour and fry to a golden brown in hot skillet with bacon or sausage fat. Serve with jelly, preserves, syrup.
