Powers Charge Russia With Blockade Failure

Well...
I Dunno,
But...

Ranger currently is carrying on three campaigns of vital interest to the town — a safety traffic drive which will be officially launched on Friday; a clean-up campaign which is already in swing and a campaign for the collection of delinquent taxes to pull the city out of the red.

No one of the three can be singled out as the MOST important, though there are strong arguments for all. But there's one thing that applies to all three and that is the need for the cooperation of all of the people of Ranger in all three of the efforts.

Each is vital to the welfare of the town, and to its progress. Each was designed solely for the welfare and progress of the town by men who are thinking and planning for the welfare now and in the future.

The three are integrated parts that must be carried out to maintain the whole scheme. Failing in one, the meaning of the other two is weakened and their effectiveness lessened.

We hear complaints about violations in all three fields. Perhaps the man that complains about the careless driver is slow in paying his taxes or lax in maintaining a clean premise at residence or business. Then the man that is careful to keep a good tax paying record, may be one of the town's worst drivers and also inclined to slovenly habits. While the man that is a fanatic about cleanliness may be a delinquent taxpayer, and one of the drivers that it's in too big a hurry to observe traffic safety codes.

Any way you twist or turn the three, the net is bound to catch most of us. So if each makes a careful check of where he falls in compliance with the three moves and does his part to correct it, there should be no likelihood for failure in either.

Events ahead for Ranger give added emphasis for the carrying out of the three campaigns mentioned above.

It's only a little more than a month until the opening of the annual Jaycee rodeo and in connection with which Ranger will stage its first annual homecoming.

For strangers and returning oldtimers alike, it's important that Ranger present a clean and safe town. No one can say from what far place visitors will appear for those two events and there's nothing more favorable in the way of publicity for a town than the good impressions that are carried away by the town's visitors.

The city of Ranger is not blind to the things that need to be done, but most of those things cost money and when taxes aren't paid then the operations of the city of necessity become stagnant.

Yep, it takes money to run anything that progresses and if the citizens of Ranger want progress it's gonna cost through taxes that are PAID. The money tucked away in the old sock won't do it.

Did you know that $81,324.76 is outstanding against property in Ranger in the form of delinquent taxes. It is estimated that the next four months will require nearly $32,000 to meet all demands on the city. That being the case, if all of the money due the city of Ranger in delinquent taxes were paid, we'd have enough money to run the place for better than eight months based on the average estimate of needs.

And every dollar paid in counts.

Add degrees: Pattie Yonker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Yonker of Houston, formerly of Ranger, this spring received her degree at the University of Houston.

Pattie is a graduate of St. Rita's Catholic School and attended Ranger High School before moving to Houston.

She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Helen C. Yonker and the niece of Mrs. Sam Kirkpatrick.

San Angelo Fights Polio

Children in San Angelo, Texas, watch the Texas Health Dept. employees in the process of spraying DDT over vacant lots in the city's residential districts. A recent increase in polio cases has led to the closing of schools, theatre and swimming pools. The kids, hoping to get back to their regular vacation routines, ride with the spraying crews to see that the job is done right. (NEA Telephoto)

Services are held each day at 10:00 A. M. and at 8 P. M. Dr. Frank Weedon of Dallas and Fred Moeller, also of Dallas, are in charge of the services, the former delivering the sermons and the latter directing the music.

Reconstruction Of Caddo-Ranger Highway Begun

Reconstruction work on the road from Ranger to Caddo got underway Wednesday and crews were busy this morning cutting down the first big hill on the road and extending the right-of-way eastward to eliminate some of the curve on the hill.

A. L. Bucy of Brownwood has the contract for the work which calls for widening of the road, grading, rebuilding of structures and surfacing.

T. L. Castleberry, county commissioner, was at the site of the work this morning directing crews in moving back fences so that dirt being cut away from the hill can be moved in to widen the road.

Right-of-ways at the bridge and railroad crossing in the Bull Hollow community will be altered, moved eastward and westward to lessen the angle of the curve. Fences are being set back for an 80 foot right-of-way instead of a 60 foot right-of-way.

Early this morning bulldozers and other equipment were cutting into the big hill which formed a blind approach on the road.

In speaking of the project, Castleberry stated that it was one of the most needed improvements in the road system of the county and added that it will mean a great deal to Ranger and Caddo, as well as to those who live at intermediate points along the route.

Improvement of this road has been one of the main objects of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce for a number of years and beginning of work on it marks the beginning of the realization of that dream.

Beginning Monday, the school will open at 9 A. M. each week day. Main features will be worship, Bible study, music, character stories, recreation and handwork.

Refreshments will be served after enrollment Saturday. The school will be without cost to boys and girls—and provides a good way for children to spend part of their vacation time.

Invitations To Homecoming Out

Plans are steadily moving ahead for the annual homecoming to be held in Ranger July 20-23 and committeemen are appealing to the people of Ranger to furnish names and addresses of former residents.

The homecoming committee, composed of E. F. Arterburn, Gaston Dixon, and J. E. Meroney, have had blanks printed for securing the above information and may be secured at the Chamber of Commerce or clipped from the Ranger Daily Times and filled out and mailed to the Chamber of Commerce.

The committee has also had printed a letter which will be mailed to all whose names are handed to them. The letter gives an outline of the events during the four day celebration which runs concurrently with the Junior Chamber of Commerce rodeo.

Houston Couple Held In Slaying

HOUSTON, Tex. June 9 (UP)—A Houston couple was charged with the slaying death today of a Pasadena carpenter, but details of the row at a cafe here last night were still unknown.

Arrested and charged with murder before Justice Thomas L. Decker were James S. Bacon, 24, and his wife, Ruth, 25.

Witnesses said Bacon accused Raymond Clay Nixon, 35, in the cafe. A fight outside followed, and Bacon allegedly drew a knife, Nixon, wounded, ran toward his car, and Mrs. Bacon knifed him in the back, police said.

The restaurant owner, C. M. Barfield, said Nixon and Bacon had never seen each other before, to his knowledge.

Engineering and contingency items, the department said, will swell the overall cost to an estimated $10,924,000 (M).

Seven New Polio Cases Reported At San Angelo

SAN ANGELO, Tex. June 9—(UP)—Seven new polio victims were admitted to isolation wards in two San Angelo hospitals in the 24 hours ending last midnight, health authorities said today.

All were residents of the city or its immediate suburbs.

Meanwhile, this West Texas city's week-long ban on public meetings was allowed to expire at midnight, and movie theaters were ready to open their doors for matinee performances for the first time since last Thursday.

There have been no deaths here attributed to the dread disease since last Saturday, when two children died.

El Paso Army Deserter, Escapee Gives Himself Up At County Jail

Guards from an El Paso Army installation are expected to arrive in Eastland this afternoon by train to return Pvt. John E. Baldridge, of Kentucky, deserter and escapee from the El Paso brig, who gave himself up at the Eastland County Jail Monday, according to the Sheriff's office.

Pvt. Baldridge showed up at the County Jail about supper time and asked the jailer to lock him up as he was a military deserter. He told the jailer he escaped Saturday from the El Paso brig and had started hitch hiking to Kentucky. He became so hungry by the time he reached Eastland, he gave himself up.

A check by the Sheriff's office with El Paso authorities verified the prisoner's story, and he is being held in custody for the military officers.

Pvt. Baldridge is described by the Sheriff's office as being a young man, "who talks about how tough he is." Information was unavailable as to why he had been confined to the El Paso brig, or how the escape was made.

Coal Operators Denounce Lewis' Latest Order

WASHINGTON, June 9 (UP)—Coal operators today termed John L. Lewis' latest stop-work order "a slap in the face", and some said it might cancel all talks for a new soft coal contract.

Lewis, in a move clearly designed to strengthen his hand at the bargaining table, told his 500,000 hard and soft coal miners to quit work for a week beginning Monday. He said the "magnificent" coal production so far this year threatens "the stability of the coal industry," and this "folly" must be stopped.

Coal operators some of whom are trying to get a new contract with Lewis and head off a possible strike June 30, were stunned by the "holiday" order.

Southern coal producers, who have been negotiating with the United Mine Workers at Bluefield, W. Va., called the work stoppage "a slap in the face" answer to their proposal that the union give up its right to call strikes at will. The negotiations were recessed late yesterday until Monday after the miners rejected the operator's offer as "grotesque, ineffectual and a shame."

WASHINGTON, June 9 (UP)—President Truman has proposed to the Senate for high office a notable left wing Dealer, and conservatives of both parties are maneuvering to reject the nomination. The nomination was made after many days of indecision. It is sure to be a trouble-maker. The man is Leland Olds, named yesterday by Mr. Truman to a third five-year term on the Federal Power Commission. Olds is a New Yorker who came to the national stage under direction of the late FDR. His nomination looks like a White House bid for left wing political support in New York where Henry A. Wallace cut deeply into the usual Democratic majorities in last November's presidential election.

REFUGEE AIDER—Joseph C. Grew, above, former undersecretary of state, announced formation of a committee to aid democratic leaders who escape to the U. S. from behind the Iron Curtain. Besides Grew, the committee includes Francis Biddle, Lt.-Gen. Hugh Drum and Dwight D. Eisenhower. Headquarters will be in New York.

If your tires wear smooth in the center—
READ THIS ABOUT THE GREAT GULF TIRE

WHY DO so many tires wear smooth down the center, yet still have good rubber along the edges?
 It's simply because their tread design forces the center area to bear the brunt of the load.

But with the Gulf Tire it's a different story. This tire is designed with a wider, flatter tread that distributes the load of your car more evenly. As a result, the Gulf tread wears more evenly from one edge to the other—lasts far longer.

SURE-FOOTED TREAD WITH SHARP SAWTEETH

With 7 ribs, there's a "riding bar" down the center of the Gulf tire. Thus, just where the load pressure is greatest, you ride on rubber—not on a groove.

These 7 zigzag ribs help stop skids before they start. Their flex-wiping action breaks up water film on wet roads.

The tire runs cooler (and safer) at high speeds, because of a special ingredient in the rubber.

Less chance of blowouts and carcass failures, because a double breaker strip cushions shocks.

PRICED SO LOW!

Warranty—companies every Gulf Tire—is honored by Gulf Dealers everywhere!

Sidewall shields protect tire against curbstone bruises.

This tire can stand punishment, because it has a stronger carcass with stronger, new-type cords. And more cords in every inch of every ply!

Dallas Youths Plead Guilty In Rape Case

DALLAS, June 9 (UP)—District Attorney Will Wilson was to submit guilty pleas to Judge Robert Hall today in the cases of five Dallas youths charged with raping a 15-year-old girl at a party they crashed in exclusive Highland Park.

They were permitted to plead guilty and accept five-year suspended sentences after the girl's parents conferred with Wilson and said they wanted to spare her the ordeal of testifying in five trials.

Each of the youths would have been tried separately on the charge.

Hall's announcement that guilty pleas would be entered came

Pee Wee Reese Steps In as Dodgers' 'Take Charge Guy'

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The National League race has run true to form. Only the Pirates and Cubs have been disappointing. When young Roy Smalley settles down, the Cubs should move, but even the highly-regarded Bill Meyer couldn't be expected to go on pulling games out of a hat in Pittsburgh.

The Reds have been a pleasant surprise, with good pitching, and Jimmy Bloodworth acting as the Danny Murtaugh of 1949.

The Giants pack power and more pitching than even Stan Pat Stephenson suspected. The Braves have Sain, Spahn and Bickford, a remarkable second base combination, and an evenly balanced batting order.

But, as tight as the scramble has been to date, a lot of baseball men are already beginning to believe that the Dodgers have a little bit too much of everything for the others, and are ready to pull away.

Capt. Harold Reese is the Brooklyn's new "take charge guy," someone the Superbas have lacked since Eddie Stanky was sold to the Boston.

Pee Wee Reese has been a vastly under-rated and under-publicized ballplayer for a half dozen years.

Working with the extraordinary Jackie Robinson, Shortstop Reese really is something to see. The one-time marble champion is a real stand-up-and-cheer ballplayer.

A "TAKE charge guy" in the infield was palpably missing when the Brooks fell apart late last summer just when they seemed set to take it all.

All winter and throughout spring training, Branch Rickey stressed the fact that hitting, running and pitching must be glued together by team spirit, belief in one another.

Reese broke in at Ebbets Field in the shadow of Leo Durocher. Everything he did was likened to The Lip, who could make the plays as skillfully as anyone. The Louisville Lollaploozas couldn't be aggressive under the great aggressor.

Next Muggsy Stanky took the play away from Reese, blustering himself with little more ability than that required to take advantage of opportunities.

A ball club instinctively turns to its oldest player. It was Dixie Walker in Flatbush until he went to Pittsburgh. Then it was Hugh Casey until the ancient and honorable fireman took the same walk. Now it is Reese.

Given his head by kindly Burt Shotton, you'd never know Pee Wee. He talks pitchers out of the jitters, tells you to take what is in the infield, relays signs.

While the Dodgers are in the thick of things, Director Reese has plenty to direct.

ward the door. She opened it, then stopped there to look back at him. Then went out.

He heard her going down the stairs. And twice he heard her stop, as though impulse had flagged; and then go on again, as she fanned it back to life once more.

She was gone about 10 minutes in all. Ten minutes of hell, while flames licked at him all over.

Then presently the door opened and she had returned. She was carrying it in her hand. She came to him and set it down upon the stand, a little to the side of him, beyond easy reach.

"Don't—Not yet—" she said in a stifled voice, when he tried to reach for it. "Let it wait a while. A little later will do."

SHE lit the lamp, and then went over by the fireplace to flog the match away. Then she remained there by it, looking down into it.

Suddenly a bright light flared, like a hot, flickering, yellow star. He looked over and she was standing sideward to the fireplace, holding a burning brand outright toward it in her hand.

"What are you doing, Bonny?" he whispered feebly.

Ohioan Awaits Extradition

BOERNE, Tex., June 9 (UP)—Andrew C. Straley, 42-year-old Ohio undertaker, waited in jail today for a Columbus, O., deputy sheriff to return him to face charges of embezzling $89,000.

Straley, portly and partially bald, said he was ready to go home and "face the music." He waived extradition.

He is accused of embezzling the funds from money held in trust for Martin Licking, 53-year-old invalid Veteran of World War I. Straley is Licking's guardian.

Licking's late mother left a $102,000 trust fund for her son. Only $13,300 has been accounted for, Ohio authorities said.

Straley was arrested Tuesday night at a tourist hotel near here. He had registered as "A. Schwartz." In his briefcase, officers found $6,500 in cash and

A Franklin County, O., grand jury indicted Straley for embezzlement four days ago, after he had been missing about a month.

Deputy Sheriff John L. Krauter, who arrested Straley said the undertaker "verbally admitted" taking some money but did not specify how much.

Krauter said Straley declined any further statement until he talked to his lawyer at Columbus.

GERMAN RAIL STRIKERS ATTACK SOVIET OFFICERS

BERLIN, June 9 (UP)—German railway strikers attacked five Russian officers outside headquarters of the Soviet-based Berlin Railway today, but the Soviets fought their way into the building with loaves of bread as weapons.

The strikers built barricades of stone, iron and bomb debris around the building with the announced intention of starving out the Russians. But West Berlin police forced the strikers to remove the barriers.

The building is in the American sector of Berlin, but under Soviet jurisdiction because the Russians control the city's railways under a four-power agreement.

Strikers rushed five Soviet officers when they emerged from the building in an attempt to get food from two other Russian officers who had arrived outside in a car.

The officers grabbed loaves of bread and brandished them as clubs as they fought their way back into the building. The railway strikers hit out with their fists and shouted, "Communist swine!"

Waltz into Darkness

HOURS of searing, lonely pain had gone by. Tortured hours. She was somewhere in the house but she was not beside him.

Then the door opened and he knew she was looking at him.

"What a long look. Would she never stop looking? What was she thinking? 'You are such a long time dying?' Or, 'My own love, are you not any better yet?'"

Which was the true thought; which was the true she, and which his false dream of her?

She had entered the room. She was coming toward him. She was bending over him. He could feel the warmth of her breath.

His eyes opened and fixed on her. With a strange, melting softness. Like the eyes of a wounded dog, begging its release.

She turned her head, then resistibly they were drawn back again. "Why are you looking at me like that, my dear? What are you trying to say?"

He motioned to her with one finger to bend closer.

She inclined her head a little the better to hear what he had to say.

He reached up falteringly and stroked the fringe, the silken blond bangs that curved before her cool smooth forehead.

Then he struggled higher, onto an elbow, as if cast upward by the ebb tide that was leaving him behind so rapidly.

"I love you, Bonny," he whispered fiercely. "No other one, no other love. From first to last, from start to finish. And beyond. Beyond. Bonny, do you hear me? Beyond. It will not end. I will, but it will not."

Her face came nearer still, slowly, uncertainly, like that of one dipping toward a new experience, feeling her way. Something had happened to it, was happening to it; he had never seen it so soft before.

There were tears in her eyes. It was no illusion; he saw them.

"Will a little love do, Lou?" "Any amount."

"Then there was a moment in which I loved you. And this is it." And the kiss, unforced, unso-labeled, had all the bitter sweetness, the unattainable yearning, of love that might have been. And he knew, his heart knew, it was the first she had ever really given him.

"That was enough," he smiled, content. "That was all I've ever wanted."

Clasping her hand, holding it in his, he fell into an uneasy sleep, a fever oblivion, for a while.

WHEN he awoke, the dregs of daylight were settling in the west, like a fine white ash; the day was past. Her hand was still in his, and she was sitting there, her face toward him.

He released her hand. "Bonny," he sighed, agonized. "Get me another of those tonics, now. I am ready for it."

Involuntarily, she drew her head back sharply for a moment. "Why do you ask for it now? I haven't offered it."

"I'm in pain," he said simply. "I can't endure much more of it." And turned a little this way, then turned a little that. "If not in kindness, then in charity—"

"Later," she said, evasively. Sweat started out on his face. His breath hissed through his nostrils. "When I did not want it, you urged it on me—Now that I plead with you, you deny me—Why wait for the night to be further advanced? Oh, spare me the night, Bonny, spare me the night! It is so long—so dark—so lonely—"

She stood slowly, absently rubbing her frozen hand. Then with even greater slowness moved to-

HOLLYWOOD STARS REFUTE CHARGES OF ASSOCIATIONS WITH REDS

HOLLYWOOD, June 9 (UP)—A group of top Hollywood personalities struck back today with indignant denials of charges that they were "within the Stalinist orbit."

The California un-American Activities Committee, headed by State Sen. Jack B. Tenney, R., Los Angeles, made the charges yesterday in a report which called New York and California the two "principal centers" of Communist activity.

Those named in the report in addition to the Hollywood stars included band leader Artie Shaw, Director John Huston, actresses Katharine Hepburn, Florence Eldridge, Lena Horne, and baren Mowley, actors Orson Welles, Frank Sinatra, Danny Kaye, Kraderie March, Gene Kelly, Charlie Chaplin, Gregory Peck, John Garfield, Albert Dekker, Larry Adler, and Vincent Price.

Also listed were former California Attorney General Robert W. Kenny, former Lieutenant Governor and Congressman, Ellis E. Patterson, former vice-president, Henry A. Wallace, Rep. Helen Gahagan Douglas, D., Cal., Dr. Harlow Shapley, and Writers Thomas Mann, Pearl S. Buck, Dorothy Parker, Clifford Odets, and Lillian Hellman.

The report accused them of attacking the Tenney Committee "without once directly challeng- ing a single finding of the committee."

Crooner Sinatra countered that "this unfair and unjustified at- tack gives every American good reason to be critical of the Tenney Committee. And if they don't cut it out I'll show them how much an American can fight back, even against the state if the American happens to be right."

Other Comments:
 Gregory Peck: "I have been denying these allegations for several years and will do so once more. I am not now and never have been associated with any Communist organization or sup- porters of Communism."
 Dorothy Parker: "I'm com- pletely apolitical. I am not a political woman."
 Robert W. Kenny: "Apparently Mr. Tenney thinks it is un- American for anyone to run a- gainst him. . . . I am going to try to unseat him at the next election."
 Fredric March: ". . . . An unmitigated lie. My record and conscience as an American and as a man are clear."
 Ellis E. Patterson: "I am a- gainst all this witch-hunting and hysteria and I have done nothing politically that I am ashamed of; I need no defense."
 Gene Kelly: "I don't know what Mr. Tenney's talking about. I am not a Communist, never was, and have no sympathy with Com- munist activities. The only line I know how to follow is the American line."
 Director John Huston, winner of two academy awards this year, challenged Tenney to make any statement connecting him with Stalinism outside the pro- tection of senatorial privilege.
 Vincent Price: "If being a 13th generation American and life- long Democrat makes one elig- ible to be classified in this orbit then there are 25,000,000 other voting Americans facing the same accusation."
 Katharine Hepburn "refused to dignify Mr. Tenney's un- American accusation with a re- ply," said a studio spokesman.
 Albert Dekker: "He (Tenney)

simply lies and I know a very good psychiatrist I could recom- mend him to. That is an out- right lie and if there were means of legal referees I would seek it. I rather resent his using my name to get himself some personality

LEW WENTZ, FABULOUSLY WEALTHY OIL MAN DIES

PONCA CITY, Okla. June 9 (UP)—Lewis H. Wentz, 74, oil millionaire and Republican National Committeeman from Oklahoma, died today at his suite at the Arcade Hotel here.

Wentz had suffered from coronary thrombosis since last January, when he entered Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn. He returned here May 23, and told friends he believed he was on the road to recovery.

Wentz, a life-long bachelor, never permitted his doctors to disclose the gravity of his illness. Upon his return from Minnesota a little more than two weeks ago, he said he was recovering after an attack of pleurisy and burstitis.

Wentz was born the son of a blacksmith in Pittsburgh, Pa. He came to Oklahoma when he was 30, to look after oil interests of some friends. He stayed, to get into the oil business for himself and prosper so that in 1926 he was classed as one of the nation's five wealthiest men.

In addition to his oil company, Wentz owned several newspapers in Oklahoma and had operated automobile agencies in Kansas City, Mo., and other cities.

Only his doctor and a nurse were at his bedside when he died. His nearest relative, Mrs. Doretha Wentz Realy, a niece, is in California with her two teenage sons.

Wentz devoted much of his time and money to a variety of philanthropies. He was chief sponsor of the Oklahoma Society for crippled children, and he established a summer camp near here which was used widely by youth organizations.

Swept into the ranks of the wealthy on the tide of Oklahoma's first oil boom, he spent his later life giving away his wealth for treatment of crippled children and bringing happiness to the children of poverty-stricken parents.

Wentz fostered legislation for the establishment in 1929 of a state hospital for crippled children at the University of Oklahoma Medical School in Oklahoma City. There, each year, dozens of victims of polio and other crippling diseases are made to walk again.

Drafted into public office in 1928 as highway commissioner, he donated his salary of $6,000 annually to crippled children.

Gorman Oil News

By Buena Van Winkle

R. H. Patterson No. 1 James is having trouble again. Now they have blown a gasket off the motor after they have drilled to approximately 3,100 feet. However, they should have the damage repaired within a few hours and the drilling started up again.

The Jay and Parker Company have another well, apparently on their No. 2 T. N. Watt. It flowed through the 7 inch last night just as the No. 1 Operations on this same lease flowed through the 8 inch before they were ready for it to come in. They are installing a disk to prevent it from flowing through the tubing until they get it all set to take care of the flow. These boys are lucky, to be sure, but they couple a lot of elbow grease and risk with an enormous amount of courage and stickability to make the luck break in their direction.

Commercial Production Co. No. 1 R. S. Sanders have set pipe at 2,925 feet and are WOC.

Skeeters and Curry Rig which drilled the No. 1 R. S. Sanders for Roy Gaines' outfit Commercial Production — is moving from that location to some contracts which they have in Coleman County near Santa Ana for Rodgers and Smith.

Continental No. 1 N. L. drilling on a tight hole at approximately 2,000 feet. They had sufficient joints of drill pipe out yesterday to make at least 1,800 feet. This is the deep test which is reported to be started in the Oliver Springs Community.

Mrs. Roy Jolliffe of Moundsville, W. Va., here for a visit with her sister, Mrs. E. L. McMillian, is the wife of the sheriff that headed the search for the 14 escapees of the Moundsville Prison, recently. Mrs. Jolliffe stated today that the break was the worst the prison ever had.

Today is V. V. Cooper Sr.'s birthday. He didn't say how old he is but advised members of his family that if they lived to his number of years, they'd all be considerably older than he is. By virtue of the fact that we were bound by a previous engagement, we couldn't accept his generous invitation to his birthday dinner. But knowing how his dinner table groans under the weight of good things to eat, we took a rain check. Anyway, we probably couldn't have kept our eyes awake to work this afternoon, if we had accepted.

With him for his birthday, are all of his children who include, O. R. Cooper of Tyler, Mrs. Annie Laura Jensen of Colorado Springs, Colorado, Mrs. C. C. Cross of Kilgore, and Mr. Cross, C. C. Cooper of Kilgore, Charlie Cooper and Mrs. Cooper of Kil-
