US COUNTER-ATTACK TO KEEP COMMIES FROM ATTACKING

Reds Prepare Big Offensive

By Earnest Hoberecht
United Press Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, Sunday, Aug. 6 (UP)—American troops have made limited counter-attacks from their "line of no retreat" along the Nakdong river and have succeeded in keeping the Communists off balance, Gen. Douglas MacArthur said today.

Communist pressure has been heavy on the southern front near Chinju, but the 27th and 35th U. S. Infantry regiments there have repulsed repeated attacks "with heavy losses inflicted upon Red troops."

On the northern front four Communist tanks were destroyed by action that blunted a Red spearhead.

They destroyed 90 vehicles of all types yesterday, 10 locomotives, 41 railway cars, seven artillery pieces and a number of bridges.

Despite concentrated air and artillery bombardment, a dispatch from 8th Army headquarters in Korea said reports reaching there indicated that the enemy may launch his expected offensive on the southern front sometime today.

"The enemy has continued to shuttle troops and material during daylight hours," the communique said, "thereby providing excellent targets for artillery and air craft. This indicates that the Reds are desperately striving for a main effort and an all-out attempt to break through the new defense lines."

On the east coast of Korea an American cruiser shelled the town of Namsil-Tong, four and a half miles northeast of Yongdok. Large fires were started and Communist troops were dispersed.

A spokesman for Gen. Douglas MacArthur said the North Koreans may launch a double-pronged offensive in a final attempt to drive the United Nations forces into the sea before they can get set for their own offensive.

HE SAID THE REDS APPEARED to be massing troops equal to three full divisions—some 25,000 men—at the Northern end of the American "no retreat" Nakdong river line, before the big transport hub of Taegu and massing another 25,000 troops for their attack on the main supply port of Pusan in the south.

"It may be that the enemy will consider himself strong enough or he may be desperate enough to mount both attacks at once," MacArthur's spokesman said.

Some 700 to 800 Communists in the south twice attacked 25th division units guarding the coastal plain some 40 miles west of Pusan this morning. The Americans held their ground and forced the enemy to break off the engagement.

TWO SIMILAR ATTACKS were smashed yesterday and another two on Thursday between Chinju, 53 miles west of Pusan, and Masan, 26 miles west. Although no information was available on enemy casualties today and yesterday, MacArthur's spokesman estimated that 1,200 North Koreans were killed in the two attacks Thursday.

The 25th division's 35th regimental combat team was credited with yesterday's victories. American patrols, planes and artillery jabbed constantly at the enemy lines west of Pusan, as well as along the Nakdong river to the north.

SEVERAL AIR FLEETS concentrated their Napalm fire bombs, rockets and bullets on Chinju. A The enemy is regrouping, MacArthur said, and there are indications almost buried to the ground.

Other Mustangs, Shooting Stars and carrier-based Marine Corsairs wrecked enemy tanks and shot up troop concentrations massing on the west bank of the Nakdong.

West Figures Kremlin's Peace Plan New Angle On Shell Game

By Bruce W. Mann
United Press Staff Correspondent
LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Aug. 5 (UP)—Russia's "peace" plan calling for immediate withdrawal of all foreign troops from Korea was viewed by the West today as a new Kremlin "shell game."

But diplomatic observers felt that Chief Soviet Delegate Jacob A. Malik, who put the proposition before the United Nations security council, and then succeeded in a surprise maneuver that adjourned the Council until next Tuesday, had scored another propaganda victory, however fleeting.

Ambassador Warren R. Austin, top man in the American delegation, described the Russian resolution for the withdrawal of troops as "a device just like the pea under one shell and then under another."

"This is evidence," he said, "of the kind of game that the peace-loving countries of the world are up against in the Security Council—to have a country with the advantage of occupancy of the presidency and a position as a permanent member offer a resolution that pretends to seek peace and to keep pushing it ahead or the regular order."

"THIS SHOWS EXACTLY THE hypocrisy the UN has been up against since the beginning of the attack on Korea and a pharisaical effort to make the world believe they (the Russians) are really interested in peace."

Informed sources had believed that the Western Powers would have kept the Security Council in session as long as possible during the week end to force a vote on an American resolution condemning North Korea's defiance of the UN and calling on all members to refrain from "assisting or encouraging" the Red Korean invasion.

When Malik announced a half-hour before the Council's usual adjournment time last night, that he would adjourn the group until next Tuesday, no Western voice was raised in protest. Best guesses were that the West was caught flat-footed.

THUS, INSTEAD OF BEING left with a situation which would have placed Russia in a bad propaganda light by facing it, in effect, to veto the UN's Korean war effort, the West was left with a situation that had Malik's "peace" plan in the world's headlines for the week end.

Malik's resolution, if accepted—and there was no chance that it would be—would compel the immediate pull-out of the forces that the U. S. and other countries have committed to Gen. Douglas MacArthur's unified UN command. It would leave the decimated South Korean army on the tip of the peninsula at the mercy of the Russian-backed North Koreans.

Much Ado CONGRESS WORRIES ABOUT NOVEMBER; IS STUDYING HOW TO CURB WAR INFLATION

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (UP)—The House Banking Committee scheduled a meeting for Monday to try drafting a compromise economic control bill that a majority of House members would support.

Chairman Brent Spence, D. Ky., called the meeting after four days of fruitless debate on the wage-price-rationing program. About all the discussion showed was that most members are uncertain what to do about economic curbs.

On Thursday the House tentatively approved a plan to invoke wage and price controls automatically when the government's cost of living index rises five per cent above the June 15 level. Yesterday it reversed itself and junked the proposal.

Spence hopes his committee can come up with a workable solution before the House resumes consideration of the legislation Tuesday.

EISENHOWER IN CONGRESS:

Appropriations — After four weeks of debate, the Senate passed a $32,052,362,228 spending bill with funds to run the government through next June. The measure now goes to a conference to adjust differences between the Senate and House versions.

Taxes — The Senate finance committee came up with a net gain of $189,000,000 in prospective government revenue and a lot more is in store. The committee has yet to consider administrative proposals for raising personal and corporation income taxes which account for nearly 90 per cent of President Truman's proposed $5,000,000,000 war tax program.

KOREA — SEN. WILLIAM F. Knowland, R., Cal., said President Truman's request for $10,517,000,000 to fight the Korean war is "obviously just one small bite." On mutual's "Meet the Press"

Patterson — William L. Patterson, Negro head of the Civil Rights Congress, faced almost certain contempt of Congress prosecution for his refusal to submit financial records of his organization to the House lobby committee. During a heated meeting yesterday Rep. Henderson Lanham, D., Ga., bellowed, "You black son of a bitch" and rushed at Patterson after the Negro accused the Congressman of lying about Georgia's treatment of Negroes.

Two capitol policemen grabbed Lanham before blows were struck.

SPAIN — SEN. CLINTON P. Anderson, D., N. M., predicted House-Senate conferees would kill a proposed $100,000,000 loan to Spain. But Sen. Pat McCarran, D., Nev., sponsor of the loan, and many other legislators were confident the loan would go through.

Adjournment — Senate Democratic Leader Scott W. Lucas III, said he hopes Congress can adjourn before September. He told the Senate that many of the legislators have to go back home and campaign for the fall elections.

THE LEAGUE HAS PURCHASED 50 street markers with funds raised by the sale of house numbers. The markers are to be set up on the main streets of town this month by the city.

The League president asked block captains to push the sale of house numbers, report the homes where the numbers have been sold; and urge purchasers to get the numbers up.

The League hopes to buy additional markers in the near future.

American Pilots Use Forty-Fives On North Korean Tank; Stop It

By Rutherford Poats
United Press Staff Correspondent
WITH U. S. AIR FORCE, Korea, Aug. 5, (UP)—Two American pilots flying unarmed T-6 observation planes "strafed" a North Korean tank and troop column with a .45 caliber pistol yesterday and claimed they stopped the enemy cold.

A few hours later Maj. Gen. Earl E. Partridge, commander of the 5th Air Force, heard about it and ordered 30 caliber machine guns installed on all T-6s.

1st Lt. Wayne Upell, of Saint Clair Shores, Mich., and Capt. C. F. Brown, of Tampa, Fla., his observer, were spotting for fighter planes near Kumchon, northwest of Taeju. They directed the fighters to an enemy column.

Upell said they "got disgusted when every time a flight of fighters would pull out the Reds would get back in their vehicles on move on."

Upell, who last week dived on two tanks to spot them with his landing lights for a fighter plane, went at the column. He turned his slow old T-6 into a dive and roared over the North Koreans while Capt. Brown stuck his pistol out and fired wildly.

"I think I got one guy who was trying to dodge behind tree trunks," Brown said.

The T-6 eventually may be replaced as the liaison aircraft of this war. A new and improved type of liaison plane is scheduled to be supplied to the Far East command in the near future.

Officers said the new version of the "Doughboys" "air cap" will be equipped with blind-flying instruments and navigational radio permitting night flying.

They said this and other improvements in supplies and equipment will continue to arrive in Korea "until the road to victory has been traveled to our final destination."

There seems to be but one real easy way to live long—simply become somebody's rich uncle.

Battle Tension

It's Quite On Western Front Of Korea Today; Too Quiet

By Robert Bennyhoff
United Press Staff Correspondent
WITH 24TH DIVISION, Korea, Aug. 5 (UP)—It was all quiet on the western front today.

I accompanied Brig. Gen. Pearson Menober on an inspection tour of American positions along the front which stretches 45 miles along the east bank of the Nak-tong river.

The west bank was enemy territory. Nothing moved there. Nothing showed on the hills towering above the river bank.

The General and his aide, 2nd Lt. Spencer V. Halgren, of Logan, Utah stood behind a low hill. All the time we had a weird feeling that the North Koreans probably were watching us.

Since our planes have been so vigorous the enemy has become a master of camouflage.

The Nakdong river looks like the wider stretches of the Sacramento, Missouri or Colorado rivers. It's no Mississippi but it's quite a river, and it is easy to see why the Americans say it's the best defense line they've had since they came to Korea.

While we watched, a flight of three F-86s swooped down on the valley across the river and fired rockets at Yulchiro, a village of perhaps 50 mud-walled thatched-roof huts. The rockets set about a dozen on fire.

We watched—a bit nervously—to see if the air strike chased any enemy tanks, vehicles or troops out of the village. The enemy often has hidden tanks inside village huts.

But nothing came out. I looked up and down the river with field glasses and could see no likely place for the enemy to cross over to the American side.

The river at that spot was about 100 yards wide. Through an interpreter we asked a Korean refugee passing by how deep it was. He only replied, "plenty deep."

A concrete bridge ran out from the enemy bank and ended abruptly in mid-air. It's last 50 yards on the American side had been destroyed. No enemy tank will cross that bridge.

But if and when we go the other way, our engineers will have quite a job rebuilding it. Two pontoons lay on the opposite shore. We were told they were used by a South Korean patrol which had crossed over to reconnoiter the rice paddies and hills.

It was too quiet. Any American in Korea will tell you the time to worry about the enemy is when he seems to have disappeared.

Dim Your Lights—Save A Life

Your Health

AUSTIN (Spl.) — Expectant mothers have positive control of whether or not their babies will be born with congenital syphilis. This is from State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox, who characterizes the condition of a baby being born with syphilis as "negligent, unnecessary, and entirely preventable."

"All that's necessary is for the expectant mother to place herself under the care of a competent physician as soon as her pregnancy has been confirmed," the health official said.

He believes all too many Texas babies are being born with the affliction, passed to them by an infected mother during the prenatal period. Early prenatal care, he explained, would include a blood test of the mother to determine the presence or absence of syphilitic infection.

Dr. Cox charged that many times the mother-to-be delays her visit to the doctor until a few weeks, or days, before she expects the infant. Then, he says, it may be too late to prevent the birth of a syphilitic child.

Almost 2500 cases of congenital syphilis were reported last year. Dr. Cox says he sees little indication that there will be any appreciable reduction in case reports this year. Incidence of congenital infection will probably remain at fairly constant levels, he predicted, despite a slight reduction in total of syphilis of all types.

"Advances in medical therapy for syphilis have progressed to the point where it is now possible to effectively prevent congenital infection—but not without the mother's complete cooperation," Cox warned.

The explanation is that even though a mother contracts syphilis just prior to pregnancy, she can be restored to health and the baby can be born sound and healthy, provided treatments are started within the first three prenatal months. Even after that time, a high index of protection for both mother and baby is assured, but the chances for a normal birth decrease with each week of delay.

Prenatal clinics are held by all local health units for those women who would not otherwise have this care because of lack of financial resources, Dr. Cox said.

Christian Science Services
 "Spirit" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 6.
 The Golden Text is: "The fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, longuffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance; against such there is no law" (Galatians 5:22,23).
 Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Now the Lord is that Spirit; and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty" (II Corinthians 3:17).
 The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Therefore in Spirit all is harmony, and there can be no discord; all is life, and there is no death. Everything in God's universe expresses Him" (Page 331).

Calhoun Goes On Record
 CORSIANA, Aug. 5 (UP)—John C. Calhoun, chairman of the Democratic executive committee, went on record today against any change in the site of the Texas party's convention Sept. 12.

Ranger Rambling

If you like Saturday matinee Westerns in technicolor—well there's something like that showing at the Arcadia.
 But if you don't like long chases, obviously staged fights—and the butchery of what may have been a good story at one time—well then you might eat popcorn at home.

Congress, which started acting like it might be somewhat remotely interested in the little people of the United States, hastily backtracked yesterday by voting down price control. The Congressmen are now going to start over—the news releases say—to build an inflationary curb program. By the time they get around to it some of us will no longer have any savings in the bank—but still our lected representatives mustn't hurry themselves for the good of the country—or is it for the good of their pocketbooks.

 There's still quite a few people in the country that don't want price control. But among the little people the "don't want no control" group seems to be a definite minority.

 I don't think any of us like the idea of government control. But the government can't start spending around 30 billions of dollars in an already inflationary economy without control prices in some way. That is if the government doesn't expect to get so deeply in debt that the dollar bill is worth little more than a Russo ruble.

 Business Week is figuring that price controls are only a few months away. The magazine says: "Experience from the last war showed that once the free price mechanism is disturbed, the government has to impose one control after another to keep the system going."

The magazine is also worrying about war. It states: "There is danger that Russia will decide that the time is ripe." The magazine explains that Korea has shown how weak we are militarily and it will be over a year before the current planning makes strength. "When the Korean war began, our top officials, including Truman, figured that the danger of a showdown was remote."
 "Now there's less certainty."
 It might be pointed out that the Ranger Daily Times editorially reached this conclusion within a week after the outbreak of the Korean conflict. Time will tell whether Business Week and the Times are right or wrong.
 Here's hoping we're wrong.

 AUSTIN, Aug. 5 (UP)—The powerful South schoolboy all-star football team wrote a new record into the books by smashing the North 25-0, last night in the 1950 season opener for Texas.

Screwworm Nips State Deer Herd

The Executive Secretary of the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission reported Saturday that some summer losses to the state's deer population have been caused by screwworms.

He said that while the death rate of the animals from the infestation is "abnormally high," that the situation is not alarming from the overall viewpoint. However, some South Texas counties have been hard hit, including Lavaca County.

The Executive Secretary said little can be done to help curb the threat to the whitetail herd. "Nature causes it and nature will find a way to check the outbreak," he explained. "About all we can hope for, so far as the deer are concerned, is to have dry weather since moist weather enhances the danger."

The Director of the Commission's Wildlife Restoration Division said that the past mild winter apparently caused the present infestation. Normal winter weather usually kills the screwworm fly, except in lower South and Southwest Texas. This year, however, flies survived in such numbers as to bring on an early and heavy outbreak of worm infestations.

The screwworm attack begins when the fly infests wounds, some of which are caused by tick bites and barbed wire fences. The flies lay their eggs on the edges or on a dry portion of the area attacked. The eggs hatch within less than a day and the whitish worms burrow into the flesh.

The victim sometimes is so weakened by the parasites that it dies. Deer ate so wild that ranchers and others seeking to aid infected animals, seldom can locate them until they are in the last stages of a fatal attack.

Enlistees Are In To Stay At Least One Year

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (UP)—No man who voluntarily enlists in the Armed Forces can get out now for at least a year.

The Army, Navy and Air Force have "frozen" enlistment personnel. They have taken another 2 months on the scheduled expiration date of all current enlistments. The freeze applies only to voluntary enlistments. It does not affect draftees who enlisted for one year under selective service.

The freeze orders were issued under authority of a new law rushed through Congress and signed by President Truman earlier this week.

The Air Force freeze applies only to regular enlistees actually on duty. The Army and Navy have frozen the status of reserves as well as regular enlistees.

The Air Force order also froze on duty reserve officers who had been scheduled to serve on active duty for only a limited period.

An 808-pound tuna was caught off the coast of Nova Scotia. And yet they manage, somehow, to stuff those things into cans.

Cafe Alarmists Fear Chinese Reds Will Attack Indo-China Too Soon

Editor's Note: Indo-China is one of the hottest spots in the cold war that's not so cold. French and Indo-Chinese troops have been battling Communist-led guerrillas for four years. In the following dispatch, a United Press writer describes the little country's reaction to the Communist invasion of Korea.

By Robert Branson
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 SAIGON, Indo-China, (UP)—Korea's fate has brought new jitters to this tropical outpost, where nerves were already worn thin by four years of guerrilla warfare.

Saigon's war-weary population is asking one big question: Is Indo-China next on Russia's military timetable?

Military and diplomatic observers say there is no tangible evidence that the Chinese Communists will attempt an early invasion of Indo-China, and the men who should know doubt that the Chinese Reds will attack soon.

Nevertheless, the fear persists that Chinese Communist leader Mao Tse-Tung may seize the chance to strike rich-ric Indo-China while American strength is pinned down in Korea and Formosa.

Saigon's grenade-scarred cafes are already buzzing with rumors—that Chinese Red paratroopers are dropping into Indo-China's jungles, that thousands of guerrillas are being trained and equipped in China to strengthen underground forces here.

It seems certain that Indo-China would be no pushover for an invader. France has 130,000 troops here, who have mastered jungle warfare the hard way in their battles with the guerrillas, and there are 70,000 loyal Indo-Chinese troops arrayed against the Reds.

Between them, these forces hold Indo-China's major cities and high-ways and the rich river delta, home of nearly one-third of Indo-China's people and source of much of its rice.

The guerrillas led by Moscow-trained Ho Chi-Minh number some 70,000 "regulars" operating from jungle hideouts, and perhaps 200,000 underground workers who seek to spread terror in cities and towns.

Even in Saigon, the underground wages a sporadic terror campaign with grenades and revolvers.

Cafe alarmists predict that the Chinese Communists will attack soon, before the U.S. equipment which already has started to arrive can be put to full use by the French forces.

It Was An Error In Judgment—
 ... when the rejected candidate was led to believe that he had his rice in the bag because every voter he met told him so. And about as disillusioned is the person who is convinced that an abstract is a lot of extra expense, and unnecessary, in a real estate transaction. There's another error in judgment. He stands to lose more, perhaps, than the candidate who lost the election. A winner always insists on an abstract when he buys real estate, and you can't beat that for good judgment.

Three CHAINS

CHAINS! CHAINS! CHAINS! Great chains which draw the heavy loads of commerce! Middle-sized chains which we carry for pulling an automobile from the mud! Tiny chains which hold a cross, a precious gem, or a lovely cameo, suspended about my lady's neck! Of them all the old adage remains true, "No chain is stronger than its weakest link." For one weak link the great load of logs breaks adrift; for one weak link my car remains by the roadside; for one weak link something precious is lost, perhaps never to be recovered. Chains of character and of fellowship, habits meant to keep us fit for the day's tasks, influence on young life near and dear to us, religious and morals that will make us strong and dependable in difficult hours of living; these also depend on every link in the chain. Life is of a piece; every day is part of the week; every week fits into the month and the year; every year counts toward the everlastings.

PUT the picture of the chains in the gallery of your daily meditation; stamp it indelibly upon the minds of children and youth. Shall habits we form from day to day hold us firmly in constructive toil, or in a community where we count so much? Can family and friends and neighbors depend on us when some difficult emergency appears? Do they know that we will be strong when the going is hard? Have we put goodness and integrity and genuineness and friendliness and goodwill and truthfulness into a chain of personal character that will not break when others are calling for our help? Am I the one person in a community chain which will stand strain and stress and trial? Or will women and men fear to trust me when they must have trustworthy persons at some great task? Will the chain of the years be strong, forged by faithful living? Good chains, strong chains, useful chains, dependable chains; how priceless they are! The Church will help you mold chains of character that will stand the test.

Ferguson Says

Sea Invasion Hardly Feasible In Korea Now; Cost Run High

By Harry Ferguson
UP Foreign News Editor
Lieut. Gen. Walton Walker, American commander in Korea, is faced with such problems as Communist bullets, supply problems rugged terrain and troops that he had to send into action before they were thoroughly trained.

But one of his biggest hazards is the barrage of unsolicited advice he is getting from amateur strategists, seated in comfortable arm chairs with a map of Korea in front of them. There is hardly a person alive who doesn't consider himself an expert on how to run a railroad, manage a big league ball team or win a war.

The arm-chair commanders want Walker to drop what he is doing for a while and answer two questions:

1. Why doesn't he make an amphibious landing behind the Communist lines and chew the enemy to pieces?
Why did he let the Marines go down a gangplank instead of hitting the beach at some vital spot where they could disorganize the Red offensive?

The most difficult of all military operations is a landing on a hostile shore. It is the biggest gamble a commanding general can take, because if something goes wrong thousands of men will be killed on the beaches or be pushed back into the sea to drown.

Disaster almost overtook the Allies in World War II when they cut in behind the German-Italian lines in Italy at Anzio. The Axis powers had fought our troops to a standstill in the mountains of Italy, and the high command decided to gamble on breaking the deadlock by getting in behind them.

Several things went wrong. We didn't achieve surprise. The enemy was waiting with artillery placed at just the right spot. The Allies finally got some troops ashore, but casualties were heavy in the first few days. The difficulty was that they couldn't break out of the beach head. Some 62,000 men were crowded into a beach head that was only 18 miles long and 13 miles deep. They were so thick that the enemy artillery didn't have to aim carefully; it just let fly in the general direction of the beach head.

We finally broke out, but only after heavy casualties. The gray hair of several American generals can be traced to Anzio.

Ralph Teasdale, United Press war correspondent who made 10 amphibious landings in the Pacific in the last war, sends this memo to arm chair strategists who want Walker to change his tactics:

There are several good reasons why no amphibious landings have been attempted. An amphibious landing is an offensive measure and our forces have been decidedly on the defensive in this war. Another reason is that it takes plenty of special equipment for a big scale landing and such equipment just couldn't be gathered together. The third reason is that with a limited supply of troops and in the midst of a critical battle it is sound military tactics to get your men ashore safely without hazardous losses. It's entirely possible that we have amphibious landings in mind when the situation becomes stabilized and the Americans start going in the right direction. But don't look for it in the near future."

First of the Fine Cars in Value

Even Wiser than He Seems

PLAINLY, here travels a man wise in the ways of fine motercars.

You know that, by the four Ventiports and the rich sweep of chrome which mark his car as a ROADMASTER.

You know it, should you trail him on the highway, by the smooth lift of the big Fireball power plant at his toe's command, by the obvious levelness of the ride he enjoys, the swift ease with which Dynaflow Drive solves his traffic problems.

What is not so plain from what you see is that here also is a man very wise in what today's dollar should buy!

For this man has all that a fine-car owner can ask for—brilliant performance, a ride without equal for gentle softness, finger-easy handling, abundant room all around him, styling that is easily the most distinguished on the highway.

Yet he paid considerably less than comparable merit costs elsewhere.

He found fewer extra charges in his delivered price, with such things as Dynaflow Drive, foam rubber cushions, windshield washers, electric clock, even non-glare rear-view mirror included in the price.

If you know fine cars, it won't take fifteen minutes behind a ROADMASTER wheel to see that here is one of the finest.

If you have inquired about prices, a single glance at the delivered figures establishes this as the big buy of the field.

Why not make both checks — especially since your Buick dealer will be glad to arrange a trial run in a ROADMASTER any time you care to call on him?
