Bulldogs Set For Lobos

With 53 men, the Cisco Lobo squad is the largest group out for that team in several years. Coaches Jack Everett and Luck Overall hope they have built an air defense that will stop Ranger halfback Jimmy Comacho.

The invaders are in pretty good shape. Freddie Smith, halfback, is the latest Lobo to be promoted to the "A" team. He played in the DeLeon game briefly and will be ready to go tonight.

Cisco has been out of Class AA only a year and they probably still have memories of playing with the "big boys". They'll be wanting to show they are still capable of playing in the higher classification which all adds up to a rugged time for the Bulldogs.

Ranger has been playing "hot and cold" ball. The 62-20 mauling by Brady last week isn't a true indication of the better football the Bulldogs are capable of playing. But another lapse like that can prove disastrous against a strong team like Cisco.

The Brady tilt was the second loss of the season for Coach Warden's team. In the other two games they lost to Weatherford 25-13, beat Bowie 37-12 and tied Hobbs, N. M. in their first game, 14-14.

Starting lineup: For Ranger—Varner, center; Barnes, guard; Hargraves, guard; Yung, tackle; Hummel, tackle; Williams, end; Cantrell, end; Cunningham, back; Comacho, back; Woods, back; Simpson, back.

For Cisco—Watts, center; Coats, guard; Suggs, guard; Farmer, tackle; Voss, tackle; Pippen, end; Brunkenhefer, end; Black, back; Evans, back; Johnson, back; Jackson, back.

SEVENTH DIVISION MOPS UP REDS—Men of the 31st Regiment of the U. S. 7th Division clean out a trouble spot still infested with North Korean Reds. Although the North Korean Army below the 38th parallel has "disintegrated", there are still a lot of "die-hards" who have formed small pockets that have to be cleaned out. (U. S. Another Landing May Be Made By Allied Forces

Swift Pinch Planned To Cut Red Supplies

NEW YORK, Oct. 6 (UP)—The Korean war is about to enter its second phase and it is safe to assume that this phase will include another amphibious landing, Hugh Baillie, president of the United Press, said last night.

In a broadcast (9:45 p. m. CDT) over the network of the Mutual Broadcasting system, Baillie predicted "a swift pinching off of the enemy's capital at Pyongyang, as well as a move to block off the sending of fresh supplies to the enemy from Russia and Red China."

Baillie returned to New York this week from General Douglas MacArthur's headquarters in Tokyo. He made three trips to the front lines in Southern Korea and accompanied the United Nations commander to Seoul when the Korean capital was liberated and restored to President Syngman Rhee.

"General MacArthur is no gambler," Baillie said. "His next step is already carefully planned, but it is a military secret."

He said that once U. N. troops have launched their impending offensive north of the 38th parallel "every effort will be made to neutralize a side no-man's land between Korea and Manchuria, so as to give no provocation to the Red Chinese by trespassing on their territory—even though that is where the enemy supplies come from."

The chances are, he said, based on present strength of both sides, "that the Korean war can be wound up by the end of the next phase, which is now impending. But if it isn't it may be prolonged until some of you who are listening to this broadcast will be in Korea before it's over."

MACARTHUR WAITS FINAL UN OK FOR BIG SCALE OFFENSIVE

By Earnest Hobrecht
United Press Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, Oct. 6 (UP)—A third South Korean Division sent its troops across the 38th Parallel today. There were indications that the North Korean Communists, under attack by land and air, also feared they were going to be hit from a third direction—the sea.

U. S. Naval Forces reported that east coast waters from Changjon 50 miles north to Wonsan had been heavily mined. South Korean engineers said some stretches of sandy beach—which closely resemble those of Florida or California—had been land-mined by the Communists as a defensive measure against possible landings.

U. S. Warships destroyed three more enemy mines yesterday off the east coast, boosting the Allied bag so far to 68. Intensified air-sea patrols were ordered. One American minesweeper already has been sunk and two destroyers damaged by mines.

3 More Fans Donate Money For Grid Lights

It's been only a few months since the new lights were installed at the football field. The brand new, soft, glow is a decided improvement over last year when the fan had to squint and stare to decipher the play on the field.

Not only were last year's lights fit for a man going blind but the posts were stuck in front of the stand. And, as it always seems to happen, many crucial and exciting plays were blocked for the fans who craned their necks to look around the posts.

The Ranger Quarterback Club is donating this year's dues toward payment for the lights which cost over $3500. Ranger citizens have been giving their share of the cost but more money is needed before the lights are completely paid for.

Latest donations received for payments on the lights came from: Jim A. Smith, the Page Plumbing Co., Betty's Flower Shop, and C. D. Hartnett.

Observers here believed Gen. Douglas MacArthur only was awaiting final orders from the United Nations before sending his forces into their final offensive to crush Communist armies in Korea.

They saw four big possibilities:

1. He could send ground troops across the Parallel and up the road to the North Korean capital of Pyongyang.
2. He could make landings on the west coast near P'yongyang.
3. He could make landings on the east coast of Wonsan.
4. He could make both east and west coast landings.

The South Korean Sixth Division joined the ROK Capital and Third divisions in assaults across the border today.

Firemen Put Out Blaze At Kirk Resident

Ranger's fire department answered a call at the Kirk residence, 520 Pine Street, this morning at 9:45.

Mrs. A. Kirk's washing machine caught fire and caused minor damage to the wall. C. D. Luell, fire chief, said the washer apparently caught fire in the switch located at the back of the machine.

The machine's wiring was black from the fire. Mrs. Kirk said flames were leaping straight up out of the washing machine. She ran across the street to call the firemen.

When Luell got to the burning machine, water was gushing from the washer's water hose, and flames were licking the wall. Mrs. Kirk said the machine was probably ruined.

Eight volunteer firemen answered the call: Gene Gortley, Jess White, J. Mace, H. A. Shockey, D. A. Fawcett, Jacobs, Stewart and L. T. Rushing, secretary of the Volunteer Fire Department.

Farm Bureau To Present State Broadcast

The Texas Farm Bureau Federation will present its state-wide radio broadcast Tuesday morning, October 10th from 6:30-7:00 a. m. with Governor Allen Shivers to open the program with a talk to all farmers and ranchers of Texas, according to E. E. Blackwell, president of the Eastland County Farm Bureau.

Governor Allen Shivers will open the 4th Annual Farm Bureau broadcast over the facilities of the Lone Star Network. Layne Beatty, from Fort Worth will be the Master of Ceremonies and interview E. F. Hornback, President of the Wise County Farm Bureau. Mrs. George Clark, Treasurer of the McLennan County Farm Bureau, and J. Walter Hammond, President of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation.

Stations carrying the broadcast are: KTSA, San Antonio; KGNC, Amarillo; KTBB, Tyler; KFYD, Lubbock; KTBC, Austin; KTXL, San Angelo; and KROD, El Paso.

President E. E. Blackwell urges all farmers in Eastland county to "roll out" early on the morning of October 10th and tune to their nearest station for the broadcast.

Time, Blocked Punt Defeat Rangers, 8-0

If Ranger Junior College could have held on to some of those passes and if time could have stopped ticking away for just a play or two, the score of last night's game might have been different.

Five of Rangers passes looked good for completion, only to be dropped or stopped through the receiver's hands. Once in the fourth period Hamrick fired a perfect heave from Midwestern's 15 which sailed right through the outstretched hands of the receiver.

As it was a heavier Indian line and a back named Don Sturters proved the difference in the 8-0

Midwestern victory. Although the visitors outgained the Rangers, the home team showed some good tackling and some vicious downfield blocking.

The game was about evenly matched during the first quarter. Ranger wasn't in too much trouble until the second quarter, got underway. Midwestern punted to Ranger on the last play of the initial stanza. From their own 24 Ranger drew a 15 yard penalty.

Backed to the 9-yard line and with third and 25 to go, Ranger's punt was blocked by Cletus Shank for Midwestern's first two points.

Things really popped in the second quarter. Buckley of Midwestern took a hand-off on his own 40 and just when it looked like he was stopped for a few yards gain, he shook loose down the left sideline for 48 yards to the Ranger 12.

A center plunge and another hand-off carried them to the Ranger 9. On a midwestern pass attempt, up popped Bobby Boynton to intercept on the five and ramble on to the Ranger 40 where he picked up his blockers and then scooted on 15 more yards to the Midwestern 45 for a 50 yard jaunt.

From there Ranger could go only to the Indian 36 from where Ranger punted. In the closing moments of the first half, from the Midwestern 37, Bobby Williams, on a fake pass and hand-off from the quarterback, ambled 26 yards to the Indian 11 yard line.

The Ranger fans were yelling for a score and it looked like they would get it. It was second and 8 to go on the Indian 9 yard line. Hamrick jumped up and fired a quick short pass to Wilson down to the 2. And right there and then, the half ended, only two measly yards from parvot.

The fireworks started again in the third quarter. Midwestern was on the Ranger 45. On the first play, Chick Neal smeared Lynch for a 10 yard loss. With second and 20, Buckley took a pitch-out and then passed to Goble for 40 yards down to the Ranger 15.

The situation looked darker than the black sky overhead.

The Indians had worked the ball to the 5 for another first with the help of a 15 yard Ranger penalty. With first and goal to go, Smith fumbled on the Ranger 3 as Elder pounced on the ball for a Ranger recovery. Ranger punted from behind the goal out to the Ranger 25.

The recovered fumble only postponed the coming score. Mixing passes and hand-offs, Midwestern got down to the Ranger 10 where Stutters faked a pitch-out and ran over right tackle for the touchdown. The point was missed and the score stood the same as at the end of the game, 8-0.

Lyndon Williams, Dean Elder, and Aiton Styles picked off their men with some good tackling. Chick Neal was just short of blocking with his downfield blocking.

Men Held For Immoral Parties With Youths

FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 6 (UP)—Four flashy-dressed men were being held today after three high school students told of being enticed to immoral tourist court "parties" by money offered them.

The quartet referred to themselves as the "joy club," one of the youths told police. He added that the men spoke of organizing similar clubs in other cities, including Dallas and Wichita Falls.

One of the high school students told officers that most of the youths attending the "parties" were not pervers, but that "many of them were fast becoming that way."

The "club" was uncovered late yesterday after the father of one of the youths became suspicious when he learned his son played hooky from school and had been associating with the men in the tourist court cabin.

Authorities said "many more boys" may have been involved. Assistant district attorney John McLean said that "it looks like we have just scratched the surface in our investigation."

McLean said a 58-year-old former Fort Worth man had admitted that he was a pervers and that he had engaged in unnatural sex acts with the youths. The man recently had been living in California, he said.

The four men wear flashy clothes and appear to be "well fixed financially," McLean said.

The youths told of being enticed to the "parties" by money offered them by the men, McLean said. Then they were induced to submit to unnatural sex acts with the men, he said.

Authorities said sodomy charges would be filed against three of the men, and possibly the fourth.

Crazy Prisoner Busts Up Game With Truck

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 6 (UP)—A berserk prisoner was returned to city jail today after he escaped and broke up a high school football game by careening in a 17-ton semi-truck and trailer onto the playing field.

Police captured Juan Enos last night after he crashed the heavy transcontinental freight truck through an eight-foot-high fence, narrowly missed two grandstands and scattered more than 1,000 spectators and players.

Jailers said Enos apparently obtained some marijuana in his jail cell, where he was serving a 20-day sentence for drunkenness. He strong-armed his way out of the building and leaped into the truck less than a block away.

Police joined the chase when the giant rig sidetracked a police car. Near the high school Enos lost control of the truck and crashed through a fence a few feet from a grandstand.

He righted the truck and raced around a track bordering the field with police cars in pursuit. The radio cars forced the truck to halt in front of a second grandstand and Enos was pulled from the cab by a mob of spectators.

Police said the fugitive suffered a cut on his forehead before he was subdued but no other injuries were reported.

Reds Call Off Riots In Vienna General Strike

VIENNA, Austria, Oct. 6 (UP)—Rioting Communists called off their general strike and removed all their roadblocks in Austria today.

At the same time the executive committee of the four-power Allied Council scheduled a meeting for this afternoon to discuss an Austrian charge that the Russians had interfered with Austrian police during the strike.

The Communists said their demonstrations which paralyzed traffic in various sections of the country since dawn yesterday, had been broken off because of "terror" in the western zones.

Other quarters said slush-swinging police and workers supporting the government prevented the strike from making the progress the Communists expected.

Only 50,000 of Austria's 1,500,000 workers joined the strike. Observers said that with Russian assistance the Communists could have seized control of the Soviet Zone within a day or two. These observers said the Russians did not go all out in aid of the Communists for two reasons:

1. The Russians did not want to involve American troops who are committed to maintain law and order in the international sector, where the Austrian government buildings are located.
2. The Russians wanted the status quo to prevail in the area so that they can continue to receive goods from western Europe through the area.

Ranger's First Community Chest Making Arrangements For Drive; Approved By Civic Organizations

Ranger's first Community Chest will soon get under way. Directors are now contacting firms for contributions and are making arrangements for the drive proper.

By having one big Community Chest drive, Ranger hopes to do away with numerous other drives by including them in the main Chest drive.

The Chest's purpose is to get contributions from all members of the community rather than a small percentage, primarily employers, as has been done before.

The Community Chest was organized by the Civic Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, with the approval of all civic organizations.

All welfare organizations interested have been given an opportunity to join the Community Chest and shall be given opportunity to join each year hereafter if they want to raise money for Ranger.

For the good of all concerned it has been suggested that contributions be given only to the Community Chest. All other welfare solicitors can then be referred to the Chest.

Included in the Community Chest organization is the Boy and Girl Scouts, the Salvation Army, and the Child Welfare organizations.

'Betsy Rosses' Knit Flags For UN Day, Oct. 24

Thousands of modern Betsy Rosses are taking their needles in hand and making United Nations flags in preparation for celebrating United Nations Day on October 24.

The goal of this flag-making program is to have a United Nations flag displayed alongside the Stars and Stripes in every rural and city community in the United States on October 24.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt is chairman of a National Citizens' Committee which is sponsoring the program, and many city, farm, church, educational, patriotic, labor, and other organizations are represented on the committee, giving a true representation of the citizens of the United States.

The Cooperative Extension Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture has been given the responsibility of leading the program.

For 50 cents each, kits containing patterns and directions for making the flags can be purchased from the National Committee on the Boy and Girl Club Work, 29 East Van Buren Street, Chicago 5, Illinois.

Scientist Says We Don't Take After Ancesters

By Paul F. Ellis
United Press Science Editor
NEW YORK, Oct. 6 (UP)—A scientist offered evidence today that people are only snuffing themselves if they believe they inherited the intelligence of noted ancestors in distant generations.

The genes that control hereditary traits just don't pass that far along, according to Dr. William C. Boyd, a native of Missouri and now professor of immunochimistry at Boston University School of Medicine.

Boyd, a recognized authority on genetics and physical anthropology, outlines his evidence and theories in a new book published today by Little, Brown, and Co., Boston. It is called "Genetics and The Races of Man," and sells for $6.00.

With clear, readable style Boyd takes the reader through a course in genetics. He explains the theory of chromosomes and genes and predicts that one day the world will be raceless.

He said simple arithmetic will show that the genealogists have ignored the contribution of females to the genetic material of the offspring, "although we know that in any mating, the female contributes exactly the same number of chromosomes as the male."

Chromosomes are the pod-like substances that contain the genes. Some of the genealogists have traced back through male ancestors, ultimately arriving at some really or supposedly distinguished individual such as William the Conqueror, Boyd points out. Then their client swells with pride in the belief that he inherited the ancestor's intelligence and other outstanding characteristics.

"Even before we consider the specific number of chromosomes involved," he said, "it should be quite clear that scientifically this sort of thing is nonsense. Clearly a man's mother and her ancestors have the same chance as his father and his paternal ancestors to contribute to his heredity."

Studies have shown, according to Boyd, that a person may not inherit even one chromosome from his grandfather; that the chance of inheriting one chromosome from a grandparent is 1 in 8,388,608.

Boyd says that his studies and observations show that the man in the far distant future will be shorter, perhaps about as tall as present-day inhabitants of southern Europe, with dark brown eyes, a brown skin, and straight or perhaps slightly wavy hair.

BOYCE HOUSE SAYS

The members of the faithful little flock in a town in Scotland managed to build a church. Everything was considered complete — until it was discovered that the church had no bell. A campaign was started for funds for a bell but the parish had been well-drained, so the pastor sought funds from outsiders.

He approached a farmer who listened, thought for a moment, and asked:

"Ye say ye have a new church?"

"Yes."

"And noo ye want a bell for it?"

"tha's right."

"Did ye say the choorch is heated by steam?"

"Yes."

"Well, then, my gude men, who don't ye put a whistle on it?"

TCU, Ark. Game Seen As Grudge Battle Saturday

By Ed Fite
United Press Sports Writer
Southwest conference football title play opens on one front this weekend while four clubs carry on against interconference foes. The odds favor two of them to emerge victorious.

Texas Christian and Arkansas, with a private grudge as well as championship hopes at stake, initiate conference play at Fort Worth Saturday night.

While Texas rests, Southern Methodist invades Columbia, Mo., against Missouri; Texas A&M runs into the mighty Oklahoma Sooners at Norman; Baylor tackles Mississippi State's upsetting Maroons at Shreveport, La., and Rice entertains potent Louisiana State at Houston.

SMU and Rice were favored to win, Baylor and the Aggies to lose.

TCU has been established as a three-point favorite over the red-shirted Porkers, but the odds probably will be whittled down to even by game time. The Razorbacks, spurred by memories of an official conference censure growing out of TCU's complaints of "rough" play in their last year's game, are sure to be keyed up for this one.

Both clubs have dropped one game — that to a common foe, Oklahoma A&M, by a one touch-down margin. They appear to be evenly matched.

TCU, at its best strength of the season with most cripples ready to go, will be seeking its first win over Arkansas since 1943.

SMU was the heaviest favorite, being given a 13 and one half point bulge over the Big Seven Missouri Tigers who were dazed 34-0 last Saturday by a Clemson team they had been figured to beat by two touchdowns.

The defending champion Rice Owls were rated three points better than LSU on the basis of their 27-7 triumph over Santa Clara last week with a potent passing attack.

But, Oklahoma was rated a 19 and one half point edge over the Texas Aggies who have won their first two ball games in convincing fashion. The Sooners, however, had better not be looking ahead to next week's Texas game.

Baylor was a 7 and one half point underdog against a Mississippi State team which upset highly-touted Tennessee last week 7-0 while the Bears were stopping University of Houston 34-7.

Disregarding the odds, here's how they look to us:
Arkansas 14, TCU 7; SMU 26, Missouri 13; LSU 14, Rice 13; Oklahoma 21, Texas A&M 14; Mississippi State 20, Baylor 7.

Well Equipped Ambulance Is Ready For War

By Harman W. Nichols
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (UP)—You may as well face the facts. One of these days in the future, one of those horrible a-pills may be dumped in your back yard.

To whom will you look for help? The local cops, the organized or volunteer firemen, likely. Along with Red Cross and the other outfits that are being organized to save us in what may be our hour of need. All of the possibilities are being considered today in a national conference of mayors from 200 cities at the Statler Hotel.

And sitting outside in front of the hostelry is an innocent looking model of a rescue car.

It's called a Hoskins civilian multi-purpose unit. For all practical purposes, it looks like an ordinary Chevrolet truck. But when you examine the innards, you realize that science has done a lot to protect us against what may come.

The windows of the thing are protected with bullet-proof screens. There are four pints of whole blood ready for direct transfusions, if necessary.

The truck, actually, is a super-modern ambulance. But instead of being capable of taking care of one patient, this job has stretchers for as many as three people. They are mobile stretchers, to be sure. And they can be cranked up in the back so that the attendant—you need only one attendant account of these stretchers—has two wheels—can guide a wounded person around corners.

The truck is equipped with two-way radio for advice in case of a dire emergency. Makers of the truck, which was brought here from Michigan, had wide vision. They believe that the gimmicks in the thing could be placed in every bread wagon, luggage truck, moving van, etc., in the whole country, so that if disaster strikes — we all could be ready to take care of our lame.

Also most of the ambulances which the services are buying these days run into the $7,000 class and up. This little number is much less than half of that. The Limousine jobs carry one wounded. This one will haul three. Plus blood and oxygen.

Baylor was a 7 and one half point underdog against a Mississippi State team which upset highly-touted Tennessee last week 7-0 while the Bears were stopping University of Houston 34-7.

Disregarding the odds, here's how they look to us:
Arkansas 14, TCU 7; SMU 26, Missouri 13; LSU 14, Rice 13; Oklahoma 21, Texas A&M 14; Mississippi State 20, Baylor 7.

Red Forces Open New Indo China Drive

By Robert Branson
United Press Staff Correspondent
SAIGON, Indo-China, Oct. 6 (UP)—Communist Vietminh forces opened a new offensive along a 35-mile front near the Chinese Communist-Indo-China border today and drove French troops out of another frontier position.

French military headquarters here said the attack centered on several French outposts between Thatkhe and Langson, along the main invasion route from China.

A French spokesman said "several battalions" of Rebels (several thousand troops) took part in the Rebel drive.

The spokesman said their objectives were blockhouses that link Thatkhe and Langson along colonial route four in northern Tonkin Province, where Ho Chi-Minh's forces have stepped up their operations recently.

Russ Reporter Claims US Has Wrecked Korea

MOSCOW, Oct. 6 (UP)—A Soviet correspondent said today that Pyongyang, capital of North Korea, is an isolated city of wrecked buildings, food shortages and constant air raid alarms.

"Electricity is available only with interruptions," A. Koshin called Komsomolskaya Pravda, the Communist youth organ.

"Water mains are destroyed. There are provisioning difficulties as municipal communications with distant points are broken. Office work goes on in shelters."

He said the few undamaged settlements in (North) Korea are being subjected to an even more massive aerial bombardment.

Sergei Borzenko Pyonyang correspondent for the Communist Party newspaper Pravda, said Korea was a "land enveloped in flames."

He cabled that Americans have destroyed the bulk of the country's riches, installations, railroads and metal plants.

"Factories and mines, not only in the north but in the south, have been set to the torch," he said.

Bubble Dancer Headlines State Fair Attraction

The one and only Sally Rand returns to the State Fair of Texas, Oct. 7-22, as the headline midway attraction, for the second straight year.

Sally will arrive with her world-famous ostrich plume fans and her shimmering, translucent, five-foot bubble, along with an all-new Star-Studded Musical Revue.

Miss Rand has produced a completely new show for this fair with the top acts available, and her beautiful line of girls who make up the famed chorus known as the "Heavenlies". All this plus Sally doing her world-famous bubble dance should make this one of the best shows to play on any midway.

As an added attraction for this fair, the show features the four Tune-Toppers, a sparkling new musical comedy group. With bass accordion, guitar and trumpet as their instrumentalation, the boys mix their musical talents with a dash of comedy and serve it as a real entertainment treat.

Last year due to the size of Sally's tented theatre, many people could not get in to see the show, but the size of the tent has been increased for the 1950 State Fair.

Nude Statue Sets Off Battle In Santa Fe, N. M.

SANTA FE, N. M., Oct. 6 (UP)—Outraged artists and indignant clergymen met in battle yesterday their field of contest the office of New Mexico's governor and the issue at hand a sloe-eyed, reclining nude.

After two days of anguished outcries, first by one and then the other side, the two forces confront each other to decide whether the unclothed stone maiden shall be removed from her terra cotta, has relief perch on a wall of the state capitol annex.

Gov. Thomas J. Mabry and the building contractor, William Krueger will referee the engagement.

The ministers, led by the Rev. Robert J. Brown, insist the sculptor "fertility" must go. The artists, led by the sculptor of "fertility," bearded William Langley, demand that she stay.

The ministerial group, represented by Brown, started the fight after a visitor to the new annex spotted the unclothed lady when a breeze whipped up a piece of canvas which concealed her. Brown, who was notified, made his own investigation and promptly protested to the Governor.

"There is just one thing you think of when you look at it,"
