Meeting Somewhere In Pacific; ROKS Capture Wonsan

Russia Says U. S. Planes Strafed Field

By Henry Shapiro
United Press Staff Correspondent
MOSCOW, Oct. 10 (UP)—Russia charged today that two American jet fighters strafed and damaged a Soviet airport less than 30 miles from its big Siberian base of Vladivostok Sunday.
(In Tokyo, a U. S. Air Force spokesman said he had "no comment" to make on the Russian charge. In Washington, a State Department spokesman also said there would be no comment there until the protest has been received and studied.)
Deputy Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko protested this "gross violation" of the Soviet frontier in a note handed U. S. Counselor-Minister Walworth Barbour at the Kremlin.

TOKYO, Oct. 10 (UP)—South Korean forces captured the big east coast port of Wonsan today and took over its important air strip practically intact after the sudden collapse of its defenses.
Within minutes after the capture of the airstrip the first American plane had landed. The capture of Wonsan was the biggest prize yet in the North Korean campaign, but the biggest of all—Pyongyang, the Communist capital—still was many miles from the Allied reach. U. S. 1st Cavalry forces attacking toward Pyongyang from the south had been able to punch only about three miles beyond the 38th Parallel above Kaesong on the west.
U. S. Marine "Tiger Bombers" poured rockets, flaming gasoline jelly bombs and machine gun fire into the Communists' mountain positions along the highway, but the Communists' return fire was murderous and the American advance was slowed to a crawl.

Some GI May Be Carrying Blood Of Jap Prince

TOKYO, Oct. 10 (UP)—Some soldiers wounded in Korea may soon be carrying the blue blood of the Japanese Imperial family in their veins without knowing it.
Prince Takamatsu, second brother of Emperor Hirohito, donated 25 grams of "A" type blood to the United Nations blood bank here today.

Thirty to forty Japanese have been appearing daily at the U. S. Army dispensary where blood donations are being accepted, the dispensary staff said. There have been about 400 Japanese blood donations up to today.

After giving his blood, Prince Takamatsu accepted a glass of apple juice from a medical attendant. Princess Takamatsu, who accompanied him, was refused after a physical check-up showed she was not strong enough to stand loss of blood.

70-Year Old Farmer Killed In Gun Battle

EVERY, Tex., Oct. 10 (UP)—A 70-year-old retired farmer, John Haley, was shot to death in a wall-riddled pistol battle in his home last night and Red River county Sheriff Amos Beatty said he had put blood hounds on the trail of Haley's son-in-law.

The sheriff said Haley was wounded several times by .22-caliber pistol bullets, but that the aged farmer evidently had managed to empty his own .26-caliber automatic at his assailant, identified by the sheriff as Quinton Martin.

"The walls and woodwork of the room were riddled by stray bullets," the sheriff said.
Blood trails leading from the house indicated the other duelist also had been hit.

The officer said the gun battle was witnessed by Mrs. Martin and her 14-year-old son.

Chance Meeting Of Nurse, GI Ends In Wedding

TOKYO, Oct. 10 (UP)—An Army nurse and an intelligence officer whose marriage plans in the U. S. were shelved when he was ordered overseas met by chance in Korea—and got married.
The meeting was a surprise to both Capt. James F. King, of Worcester, Mass., and Second Lt. Anna Jacobs, of Muskogee, Okla. Chaplain (1st Lt.) James M. Bragan, of Birmingham, Ala., performed the ceremony Oct. 8 before a makeshift altar in the 10th Corps Headquarters in Tokyo.

Corp. Thomas A. Banks, of Elk City, Okla., a friend of the bride's brother, happened to be at headquarters and was best man.

The note demanded strict punishment of the "persons responsible," asked assurances against future incidents and said the United States must bear the consequences of the attack.
However, Barbour refused to accept the protest on grounds that it should be sent to the United Nations. Gromyko then sent the note to the U. S. embassy by mail. He insisted the United States was responsible for the attack because the plane was under American control.

The note said the airport attacked was in the Sukhaya Rechka area of the Soviet coast on the Japan sea 62 miles inside the Siberian frontier from Korea and 25 to 30 miles southwest of Vladivostok.
Two F-80 Jet Shooting Star fighters sprayed the airfield at 4:17 p. m. Sunday with machine-gun bullets from "hedge-hopping" altitude, the note said.

"As a result of the firing, damage was caused to the property of the airdrome," it said.
The incident was the third involving the U. S. and Soviet Air Forces in the past six months.
Last April, a U. S. Navy Private plane disappeared after being intercepted by Soviet fighters, allegedly over Soviet Latvia.

Then, on Sept. 4, U. S. Navy planes shot down a Soviet bomber off the Korean west coast after it flew over an allied ship formation.

Sick Husband Hears Record Of Funeral

By Bud Dixon
United Press Staff Correspondent
FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 10 (UP)—The old man's jaw tightened and his eyes blinked back the tears as the solemn words resounded through his hospital room.

"As she lived, so she died—with faith in the love of God."
W. F. Barnum, 88, listened intently as a wire recorder re-created the funeral of his wife, who died Sunday in the hospital room across the hall.

The services were conducted Monday morning by the Rev. Warren Johnston, pastor of the First Methodist Church. Now it was late afternoon on the seventh floor of Harris Hospital, and Barnum was surrounded by a handful of persons—the Rev. Johnston, a practical nurse and two close friends of the Barnums.
Due to illness, Barnum had been unable to attend his 80-year-old wife's rites.

Mrs. Barnum, who had gained national recognition as a Bible teacher, had taught the Barnum Bible Class for 30 of the 61 years they had worked together in the church.
The minister stopped the machine once until the wall of an ambulance siren died slowly away. Then the recorder continued "... the knowledge that God is our refuge and confidence in eternal life ..."

A closing hymn and prayer ended the hushed service. The recorder was turned off.
"It was very nice," Barnum said huskily. "Words cannot begin to express my appreciation to you for this ..."

The little group turned and filed slowly out past the emptiness of room No. 654, where Mrs. Barnum had died—a few short steps from her husband.

RJC Plays Hefty Odessa Wranglers

Odessa Junior College Wranglers had a square of an action fight which to chose for banging heads with the Rangers in a conference game Saturday.

The Wrangler line averages 169 pounds with the forward wall tipping the scales at a 187 average. The Odessa squad that broke even last year, winning five and losing the same number of games. Mainstay in the Wrangler backfield is Kenneth Shackleford, co-captain from Fort Worth. He's the signal caller and stands five-nine at 179 pounds.

The other co-captain is Pat Evert, a hefty 220 pound tackle who measures six-two from heel to head. Heaviest boy on the Wrangler squad is Doyle Howell, 6 foot 5 inch tackle who over-balances the scales at 245.

A couple of "lighter" men are Bill Cox, 230 pound tackle and John Bruton, another 230-pound tackle. There are also three 220 pounders in the line, Eddie McMillan, Don Thompson and John Drivers. That's in addition to co-captain Evert.

At the other end of the scale is 150-pound Loy Mead, letterman halfback.

Mr. Beard died in Grand Prairie, Oct. 8. He was a brother-in-law of Mrs. Dick Judy of Ranger. Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Ida Beard and three children, Wilbur Beard, Mrs. Elwy Abraham and Mrs. Bob White.

Houston Police Chief Resigns After Scandals

HOUSTON, Tex., Oct. 10 (UP)—Police Chief B. W. Payne, under fire from many quarters because of two recent scandals in the police department, handed in his resignation to Mayor Oscar Holcombe at a special meeting in the Mayor's office today.
Mayor Holcombe said Payne will be relieved of his duties at midnight tonight and placed on the retired list.

In his letter of resignation, Payne said it "was a most unfortunate situation under which the chief of police is held responsible for the department without having adequate authority over it."
Payne first came under fire Aug. 25 when night police Chief M. M. Simpson and Sgt. C. C. Davis were indicted by a Harris County Grand Jury for accepting bribes to allow a night club to operate after curfew.
The grand jury has continued its investigation since the indictment of the two officers. The situation was aggravated last week when Windal Satterfield, a 21-year-old rookie cop, was jailed and stripped of his badge after admitting he was operating an exclusive call girl service.
Some of Holcombe's chief supporters in the forthcoming city primary election have demanded Payne's scalp. And the mayor's two opponents in the race have promised their first act if elected would be to fire Payne.

Coach Jack "Red" Coats was named by the conference as "coach of the Year." It was his first year as head coach and he did better than most first-year coaches, coming through with a 50-50 season. Aiding Coach Coats is his assistant, Coach Herman Smith.
The Wrangler have an ambitious schedule for 1950. In addition to the conference games, they will tangle with the Texas Tech freshman and the Texas Western Frosh. Odessa won its first game, 20-13, from the San Angelo Rams.

Then, airline spokesmen reported, Guzman found the ship "excessively tail heavy" and returned to Torreon.

11 Producers In New Pool Near Eastland

Eastland County, scene of oil activity of varying ebb and flow since the great Ranger boom of 1917, has a new pool—the Briggs Owen.

This newest "hot spot" is only three and a half miles northwest of Eastland. While there has been little fanfare in connection with the development, the pool has 11 producers; two more are being readied for production and four wells are drilling.

The proven area is considered to be a mile square.
The discovery well produced 130 barrels in four hours through 10-64th choke. Oil men declare that had it flowed wide open, as was the practice in the days of the big boom, the well probably would have been good for 2,000 barrels a day.

Honor of discovering the pool belongs to the Bankline Oil Company and the British-American Oil Producing Company, who own the Briggs Owen and other leases jointly. The first well was completed in April and there are now seven producers on this farm and two on the A. V. Clark. In addition, the Bankline alone has a well on the Mize and J. J. Lynn of Kansas City has a producer on the Keys.
The wells are flowing. Production is coming from the Lake Eastland sand. This pay was encountered in tests drilled years ago in the vicinity but did not yield oil. The hydrofract process, unknown in those days, is now being used to force the formation to give up the petroleum.

DALLAS, Oct. 10 (UP)—Edgar Steel Boyd, 88, became Dallas county's 76th traffic fatality of the year last night when the car he was driving collided with a gravel truck on U. S. Highway 75 some 15 miles north of here.

Band Members Sell Tickets For New Jackets

Ranger Bulldog band members are hawkking tickets this week. The duets are good for a special show Saturday at the Dixie Drive-In Theatre in Olden.
All proceeds for the movie will be used to purchase new band jackets for the bandmen. The band members are acting as salesmen and offer the tickets for 30 cents. There is no other charge for the show which begins at 11:30 p. m. Early birds will get to see a double bill.
The band is hoping for a complete sell out and because of the purpose of the event, they ask that tickets be bought even if the buyer does not intend to use it. They will even deliver the tickets to your home. If a band member can't be located, persons wanting tickets can call 412-W for "special delivery."

The midnight show starts at 11:30, Saturday, Oct. 14. Band ticket holders will be admitted as early as 9:30, in time to see a double feature if they wish.

Mex. Farm Boy Takes Wild Ride On Plane's Tail

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 10 (UP)—A Mexican farm boy hitched a ride on a Linares airliner in Central Mexico today and made commercial aviation history.
Nineteen-year-old Clifre Reyes Guerrero just took hold of the tail of the plane as it prepared for take-off from Torreon and hung on.

He managed to keep his big hands and feet off the movable tail surfaces and veteran pilot Jorge Guzman didn't notice anything wrong until the plane had taken off, climbed to 12,000 feet and was leveling off for the 450-mile flight into Mexico City.

Then, airline spokesmen reported, Guzman found the ship "excessively tail heavy" and returned to Torreon.
The 19-year-old farmer was still standing on the right horizontal stabilizer of the plane, hanging on with all his might to the leading edge of the rudder. His clothes were "all but torn off" and he was half-frozen by the wild midnight ride.

Officially the plane took off at 11:13 p. m. (CST) last night and returned to Torreon at 12:14 a. m. (CST) this morning but airline officials said it was in the air "only" 53 minutes.
Safely jailed to recuperate, Reyes Guerrero confessed that "I always wanted to ride an airplane."
Allan Bonnalie, a veteran U. S. Navy flier and president of Linares, the United Airlines subsidiary in Mexico, said simply:
"I've never heard of such a thing in 25 years of flying."

Fair Fun

Ranger FFA Students Take In Full Day Of Fun, Education At Texas State Fair, Saturday

Twenty-five members of Ranger's FFA Chapter journeyed to Dallas Saturday for a full day's entertainment and educational schedule.
The boys didn't see Sally Rand at the State Fair but they had a good look at the Midway and saw some interesting exhibits at the livestock show and soil conservation plot.

A grass identification team left Ranger at 4:30 a. m. Saturday with advisor B. S. Dudley, Jr. The team registered at the fair grounds at 8 a. m. They competed against 20 other teams with the Cook County 4-H Club taking first place.
Members of the grass identification team are: Bob Gailey, Byron Gailey, Floyd Woods and Ted Stiffler.

The King Ranch exhibit made a big impression on the Ranger students. On display were three Santa Gertrudis cows averaging 2400 pounds each and three steers weighing 3000 pounds apiece.
The soil conservation plot exhibited grasses of all varieties, said Ted Stiffler, member of the grass identification team. Many new types of farm machinery were also examined.
The Ranger High School group returned from Dallas at 9 p. m. Saturday.
Making the trip in addition to the grass identification team were: Lloyd Jones, J. L. Barnes, Alonzo Stevens, Jimmy Long, Odie Bass, Roy Barnhill, J. Nail, Tommy Harper, Herbert Williams, Eddie Jones, Roddy Carter.
Clifford Harris, W. E. Huckaby, Bill Ferguson, Jimmy Arrandale, R. H. King, Farrell Buckens, Dos Squire, Raymond Thompson.

"ROCKET HEAD" With Oldsmobile

Osborne Motor Company, Eastland

American artillery and tanks joined the fighter bombers in the fight to drive the entrenched Reds from their strongholds.

At last reports, the Americans were about 10 miles from Kuncheon and 68 miles from Pyongyang.

Officers in the field, however, said they were maintaining their pressure and they confidently expected to wear down the opposition and continue their advance tomorrow.

Towering columns of smoke rose over Wonsan from fires in the center of the city and a smoke pall extended far out over the harbor when Communist resistance suddenly ceased shortly after noon.

American military advisers with the victorious South Korean 3rd and Capitol divisions considered the city occupied but not fully secured. The Communists still were in hillside positions where they could—and did—lob occasional mortar shells into the city.

However, most of the enemy defenders were fleeing west and southwest in the general direction of Pyongyang or northward toward Munchon, 10 miles away.

War prisoners claimed there was "a Russian unit" in Munchon, but it might have been a military advisory group and authorities gave the story little credence.

United Press correspondent Robert Bennyhoff reported that all morning he had watched an artillery duel between the Reds and South Koreans. Then American fighter planes swept in, blasting and silencing most of the Red guns. Shortly afterward, reconnaissance planes reported the Reds were pulling out.

A little after noon ROK troops began streaming through the city's heavily damaged factory district and marshalling yards in the southern outskirts.

It Was Tough For Philadelphia And Notre Dame To Lose But Sawyer, Leahy Take It In Style

By Milton Richman
 United Press Sports Writer
 NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (UP)—It takes craft and cunning to win—and a particular kind of championship courage and character to lose like Eddie Sawyer of the Phillies and Frank Leahy of Notre Dame.

Both Sawyer and Leahy lost a couple of big ball games the past week but each won a million new friends because of the first class style in which they absorbed the setbacks.

Sawyer and his young band of fighting Philadelphians enjoyed a brief excursion to the top of the baseball world recently after winning their first National League title in 35 years. Then came the triumph-sated Yankees, the World Series and four straight defeats.

Even as the Yankees happily clambered into their clubhouse after winning, Sawyer was hard at their heels.

He made his way through reporters, photographers and well-wishers, excusing himself every inch of the route, until he came upon tired Casey Stengel.

"Congratulations, Casey," Sawyer said simply. "You and your boys did a fine job."

Stengel rose from his chair, gripped Sawyer's hand in genuine admiration and answered: "Thank you, Eddie. That's a pretty good ball club you have there yourself."

Sawyer returned to his own dressing room and patiently answered at least 300 questions. Even when those queries were repetitious and sometimes silly, the Philly pilot replied honestly and courteously.

There were many times throughout the series when Sawyer had legitimate license to become peeved or angry. He never did. Sure, he was disappointed and it showed but he also displayed a winning character in defeat.

When his boys beat Brooklyn for the pennant he didn't crow and when his club dropped the series to the Yankees he didn't cry.

Leahy apparently is cut from the same mold even though the site of his week-end despair was the gridiron, not the diamond.

Winning a pennant was a novelty for Sawyer; winning games was tradition for Leahy. Until Notre Dame lost to Purdue last Saturday, the Irish had gone through 39 contests without defeat. Prior to Purdue, Notre Dame's last loss occurred in 1945 against Great Lakes.

When the game was over last Saturday, there was an unusual lump in Leahy's throat and a suspicious mist around his eyes.

"Purdue," he said solemnly, "was terrific. We have no alibis. They came here to beat us and they did. We were outcoached and outplayed, but not outthought."

Notre Dame's defeat couldn't have come as a complete surprise to Leahy. All summer long he had been saying that his team might suffer as many as four setbacks this season.

But when that first one came Leahy took it hard. Not so hard, however, that he forgot to pay authentic tribute to a hard-working squad of buoyant Boiler-makers.

In sports, someone has to win and someone has to lose. In the records there will be a loss for Leahy and a loss for Sawyer but in the minds of men there will be an unrecorded victory for both.

Agging Players May Have Seen Last Games

NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (UP)—Chances are that several former star ballplayers—like Tommy Henrich, Joe Gordon, and Bill Nicholson—played their last major league game during 1950.

Only one thing apparently stands today between these and other tottering oldsters and the minor leagues or retirement—and that is selective service. If the military draft is expanded to take many of the young players, clubs will keep the old-timers around for one more turn on stage.

But, barring that, the end of the trail is in sight for many men who used to make the headlines.

Henrich, the New York Yankees' "old reliable" first baseman-outfielder, had to be left out of the world series altogether because of his bad right knee. Thirty-four year old Tommy is considering an operation but doctors said that surgery would have only "a 50-50 chance" of returning him to action.

Gordon, 35-year-old Cleveland Indians second baseman, has slowed down and was benched during late season in favor of young Beta Avila.

Nicholson, 34-year-old Philadel-

SCENES AROUND RANGER

Thought that 62-20 loss to Brady was about the highest score ever made against a Ranger High eleven. But looking back over the scores of other Bulldog games, I found that in 1936, Breckenridge went plumb hog wild to stomp the Bulldogs, 90-0.

That was the years when Ranger was playing in the same league with the 'big uns'—Abilene, Big Spring, Brownwood, San Angelo, etc. These present day Class AA schools romped all over the now-District 8-A teams. So I went back a few years further. I figured the 'big uns' were bound to have been 'little uns' at one time or another.

Sure enough, back in 1934, Ranger was top dog and district champs. They not only beat San Angelo (19-0), Brownwood (44-0), Abilene (23-7), and Breckenridge (42-7) but they tied the McMurry Freshman team 0-0 and lost to the Abilene Christian College Frosh by only one touchdown, 13-20. The Bulldogs must have been weaned on some of that raw oil their dads struck a few years earlier.

The first thing I asked Coach Warden, after the Bulldogs beat Cisco last Friday, was "How did Brady ever beat Ranger by such a score?" The coach just shook his head. It's just one of those unexplainable surprises in schoolboy football. It still amazes me. Ranger was an entirely different team against Cisco.

Many of the fans thought that the Bulldogs became completely demoralized after Brady jumped to the lead in the first quarter. Whatever it was, the team that played Brady was an unfamiliar and strange one to the Ranger fans.

First it was between Ranger and Cisco for the district title. Now, it has switched to Ranger and Dublin battling for the honors. Because of its undefeated record Dublin will no doubt be picked by most sportscriters to beat the Bulldogs. But Ranger showed us what it can do when it has a mind to, and we see another conference victory coming up.

But least the Bulldogs expect a show-up, they'd best remember that it was fortunate that Cisco was unable to capitalize on the too-many penalties Ranger drew last Friday. A team can be penalized that often only once in a hundred games and still not have the other team score. Dublin would be very happy to get only half that many yards from Ranger penalties.

phia outfielder, with the "swish" swing, is hospitalized with diabetes and the word is that he has played his last game.

140,000 Football Fans To See Big Double Header

DALLAS, Oct. 10—Four undefeated football teams will clash in the Cotton Bowl here Saturday in an unprecedented gridiron spectacle presented as a feature of the 1950 State Fair of Texas.

The Texas Longhorns will meet the Oklahoma Sooners at 2 p. m. in the 45th game of a series that backs to the turn of the century. The Southern Methodist Mustangs will play the Oklahoma A&M Cowpokes at 8 p. m.

There's never been anything in football even to approach the unusual day-night doubleheader, and probably no city of comparable size ever experienced anything like the bedlam which will beset this fun-loving metropolis of half a million over the weekend.

More than 140,000 grid fans are expected to watch the two games, and the crowds will not overlap. The Texas-Oklahoma tilt has been a sellout for months, and at least 65,000 are expected to turn out for the SMU-Oklahoma Aggie bout. The Cotton Bowl holds 75,347.

SMU's explosive aerial circus has swamped Georgia Tech, 33-13; Ohio State, 32-27; and Missouri, 21-0, for the best showing of any of the four teams.

Milling about the Cotton Bowl—which lies smack dab in the center of the fairgrounds—will be an estimated 200,000 additional people Saturday who will have come "just to see the State Fair." The Fair is the nation's largest annual exposition. Probably most of them will be trying to get tickets to the Texas-Oklahoma game too.

One down-state football fan, writing to express his elation at the opportunity to see two great football games in one day, had only one complaint: "What'll I do in the morning?"

Here's a "week" with some sense

Lots of so-called "weeks" are a little silly, but there's a lot of good sense to FIRE PREVENTION WEEK.

This is a week to concentrate on cleaning up the trash and rubbish in basements and attics and elsewhere around the premises — trash which often causes fires. It's a week to examine electrical wiring, etc., which may breed fires.

Most big fires are started in some absurd little way — so don't neglect to attend to the "silly" little things that may burn down your property some day.

False Eyelashes Become More Expensive Along With Other Rising Costs Of Girl's Extras

By Elizabeth Toomey
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (UP)—False eyelashes are more expensive now too.

This news may not cause a flutter in the government price index, but for a girl whose bread and butter is glamour, the high cost of looking beautiful today is nothing to wink at.

Jean Collier, blonde Conover cover girl who's been modeling for 13 years, sadly recalls the good old days before lipstick brushes, special television makeup, false hair to cover short hair while it's growing out—and the 20 per cent tax on cosmetics.

"I've gotten so I do more things for myself, like styling and setting my own hair, and that saves money," said Jean, who is considered the "outdoor type" by fashion photographers.

False eyelashes are only a rare expense for her, since she has a pretty good fringe of her own.
When she does buy a pair, it costs her $1.50, compared to $1.00 10 years ago.

"But what really adds up are all the different shades of makeup and lipstick a girl needs now. I just bought a box of three lip-sticks in the new orangey shades," Jean said. "Then I have to keep darker pancake and dark lipstick for television."

When Jean started modeling right out of high school, she said,

"nobody but the professionals used lipstick brushes. A good one with a sable tip costs about $1.50."

She was wearing her blonde hair pulled back snugly under a small brown velvet hat, with a chignon at the nap of her neck.

"This one is nylon, not real hair, and I got a pair of them for $7.50," Jean explained, pointing to the bun at the back of her neck.

When she started modeling she wore a loose, shoulder length bob, all attached to her own scalp.

"Then I have two eye pencils, a black one to outline my eyes and a brown one for eyebrows," she added.

Even the price of eggs affects a glamour model's budget. The girls give themselves facials with stiffly beaten egg whites.

"It's cheaper than buying a ready made facial pack," Jean said.

There are other ways the models can save pennies, like learning to make their own false eyelashes.
Candy Jones, who directs the models' training for Harry Conover, insists she can teach a girl to pull a few hairs from her head and turn them into false eyelashes.

"Just knead short pieces of your own hair on one longer strand, trim them and curl and mascara
the hairs," she explained. "Then

Lost Battalion Beats Way Back To 38th Parallel

WITH U. S. 5TH AIR FORCE, Korea, Oct. 10 (UP)—A "lost battalion" of American troops—possibly liberated prisoners—may be beating its way south somewhere between the North Korean capital of Pyongyang and the 38th Parallel.

A 5th Air Force spokesman said the battalion of 150 to 190 men was sighted late Saturday afternoon in a rolling wooded area somewhere north of the Parallel.

He said the troops had spilled out the word "food" with rounds of earth and that planes from Kimpo Airbase flew immediately to the spot to drop food and equipment.

When rescue planes returned to the area yesterday to rescue the troops, they could not be found.

Indication, pointing to the fact that the food supplies and other equipment had been sufficient for them to scatter and start moving south individually or in small groups," the spokesman said.

Father Dies As Tragedy Again Hits Family

SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 10
(UP)—Death has written another chapter in the tragic story of the W. A. Kelly family.

Kelly, 60, sales manager for a Shreveport department store, died Sunday 30 minutes after his automobile turned over near Coushatta while he was motoring to Alexandria to visit his son, a polo victim, on his 24th birthday.

Three months ago Kelly's wife died unexpectedly of a heart attack.

ings which are taller than the tallest skyscraper in Chicago.

glue them along the lashes just like any other false eyelashes."

Only don't try it at the last minute before a date, veteran model Jean advised, or your new eyelashes may have to be stuck on an eyelid that's developed a nervous twitch.

Miss Verner Becomes Bride Of Joe Kimbrough In Brady Ceremony

Miss Mary Emily Verner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Newton Verner of Brady became the bride of Joe Delbert Kimbrough, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Kimbrough of Ranger, at 7 o'clock Sunday evening, October 1, 1950, in the Presbyterian Church in Brady.

The Rev. Chester P. Karrick, minister, officiated at the double ring ceremony. The candlelight service was held before an altar centered with a large fan arrangement of white gladioli flanked by floor standards to which were attached salad and jade hurricane foliage plants placed on either side. Beside the steps leading to the kneeling bench were baskets of white gladioli and candelabra.

Mrs. Karrick, organist, played as the prenuptial selections, "Meditation," "Serenade," and "Ah Sweet mystery of Life." She accompanied as Mrs. Marston Dale Rice sang, "I Love Thee" and "Because."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a dress of white slipper satin, styled with a fitted bodice which was fastened down the back by self-covered buttons, and long fitted sleeves pointed at the wrists. A Venice lace bertha outlined the neck and folds of satin added hip interest to the full gathered skirt which extended into a formal length train. The fingertip length veil of nylon illusion was held by a tiara of seed pearls and silver beads. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations centered with a purple throated white orchid and showered with stephanotis and white satin streamers.

Her something old was a diamond and sapphire brooch of her mother's, her something blue and borrowed, a pair of blue garters of her mother of honor's, and something new, carved ivory bracelet and ear screws, a gift from the groom. The bride's father placed a lucky coin in her shoe.

Mrs. Robert H. Wallace of San Antonio was matron of honor. She wore a lilac slipper satin dress styled with a basque bodice, bateau neckline, circular skirt with matching satin cloche cap and satin gloves pointed at the wrists. She carried a Colonial bouquet of purple asters and lavender mums.

Bridesmaids were Misses Betty Ellis and Betty Schmidt of Brady and Mrs. Robert L. Gordon of Cameron. Misses Anna Lee Coggin and Georgeanne Gilbreath of Brady were junior bridesmaids. They wore identical dresses styled as that of the matron of honor in emerald green satin with matching cloche and gloves and carried similar bouquets.

Mrs. Edmon Ellison of Brady and Mrs. Jim Mitchell of Lohm, lighted the tapers. They wore orchid satin gowns made with bows of purple satin accenting the bust, the effect and matching cummerbunds and wrist corsages of purple asters.

Russell Quinn of Dallas was best man and ushers were William Stroman of Austin, Bob Harrison of Llano and Onis C. Warden of Ranger.

The bride's mother wore a formal of violet crepe, a small lilac velvet hat with matching gloves and bag. The groom's mother was attired in a dusty rose crepe dress

French Rush Troops To Stop Indo-China Reds

SAIGON, Indo-China, Oct. 10 (UP)—Fresh French troops are being rushed to the big fortress of Thatkhe to meet Communist Viet Minh guerrillas pressing down toward it from the Chinese Communist Indo-China border, a French military spokesman said today.

The reinforcements were sent north as hundreds of survivors of two riddled French columns — one from Cao bang and a rescue column from Thatkhe — reached the protection of the fortress.

Meantime, French fighter planes are strafing and bombing enemy positions whenever weather conditions permit. But the weather has been very poor for flying.

The survivors of the riddled French columns reached Thatkhe after fighting their way through Communist Viet Minh lines, according to the French spokesman.

But he said there was no new information on the fate of the French battalions bottled up somewhere in the mountains north of Thatkhe.

Fighting around Thatkhe reached peak intensity on Oct. 8, with the Communist forces pounding the two columns relentlessly with heavy mountain guns.

The French, essentially infantry units, were not able to match the rebels in artillery power.

And Here is Another Successful Business Man Helped by HADACOL..

He Suffered Deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron

Jacob Goldberg should have been a very happy man. At an age when most men are still struggling to make a living, he was able to retire from his Chicago metal business to his beautiful 150 acre estate at Music Mountain, near Hot Springs National Park, Ark.

But at a time when life should have showered its greatest blessings on him, he met with unhappiness. He became run down through a deficiency of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron and as a result food had no appeal to him and he tried many expensive ways of overcoming his discomfort.

Then he saw the blessings that inexpensive HADACOL had brought to his daughter and many of his friends, who had such deficiencies. Life is more pleasant for Mr. Goldberg today, but let him tell you about it, himself. Here is how he overcame these deficiencies:

"I was generally run down some time ago. I lost appetite and my food just did not digest. I knew I needed food but even the tastiest dishes had no appeal to me. I have been coming to Hot Springs since 1937 and now make my home in that city. Recently I just about gave up hope of feeling well and happy again. I had tried almost everything. I decided on HADACOL because it had helped my daughter and many friends. I have never regretted the decision. I am hungry all the time after taking only four bottles of HADACOL. I have back my old pep and vigor and all food agrees with me. I have recommended HADACOL to many of my friends and see the good it is doing."

Yes, HADACOL Does Help thousands and thousands of fine folks who are suffering from deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin, and Iron. HADACOL is wonderful in the way it builds up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when Iron is needed). It carries these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every organ, and every part of your body—to the heart, liver, kidneys and lungs. Today, even hundreds of doctors are recommending HADACOL to their patients.

You Own It To Yourself... to give HADACOL a chance. Refuse substitutes, don't let anyone tell you something else is "just as good." Insist on genuine HADACOL. You risk nothing because HADACOL is sold only on a strict money-back guarantee. You'll feel better with the first few bottles you take or your money back. Trial size only $1.25. Large Family or Hospital size, $3.50.—(Adv.)
