CHIEF POUNDS ASKS HELP OF PUBLIC IN SAFETY CAMPAIGN

Chief Pounds of the Ranger Police Department and his co-workers have been working on the safety problems that will confront his department when school starts.

Signs have been placed showing the speed limits in the school zones near the different schools. Chief Pounds said that the police department will be on the job to see that the public respects these zones. Crossing lanes have also been marked on the streets for the students to use. The students are urged to use the places marked for their safe crossing and the motorists are urged to respect them. Motorists should use every caution when approaching a school zone and come to a complete stop when pedestrians are in the crossing lanes.

The people that disregard these safety measures that are in full force will be dealt with according to the law covering such violations.

An attempt is being made to have each class appoint a student to act as patrolman at the marked lanes and in other danger points, from each class in the schools. These patrolmen will have the full support of the police and will have the authority to report violators of the safety laws to the police department.

This system has worked in other large cities where there is danger of accidents when the children are going to and from school. There is no reason that it will not be a success in Ranger.

The buses that bring the students in from the rural sections create an additional hazard when loading and unloading students.

State Agency Charged With Discrimination

EL PASO, Aug. 28 (UP)—State institutions faced an accusation today that they discriminated against Latin-American children.

The El Paso City-County Child Welfare Board made the charge in a letter to Gov. Allan Shivers. Welfare board chairman Ted Andrews wrote that "immediate and stringent steps should be taken in all state institutions to eliminate this unjust discrimination."

Andrews said his welfare board was told that the reason for the large number of children on welfare rolls was the refusal of state institutions to take them.

He wrote: "We found a great number of these children were of Spanish-American descent" and he noted, "practically all of them speak English fluently."

Diamond Mines Not Profitable In United States

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (UP)—There may be diamonds in some of the states, but not much profit looking for them.

The Smithsonian Institution said today that it is "highly improbable" that any worthwhile diamond deposit will be found in the United States.

The Smithsonian has gems from Arkansas, California, Louisiana, Kentucky, North Carolina, Texas, and West Virginia. But it said the big three countries for diamonds are South Africa, India, and Brazil.

Killeen Voters Approve Bonds

KILLEEN, Aug. 28 (UP)—Voters yesterday approved a $300,000 water, sewer and street bond issue for the second time.

The first election several weeks ago was declared illegal by Atty. Gen. Price Daniel because polling places were used in the four voting wards of the city.

The measure passed yesterday by a 7 to 1 margin.

Enrollment Up At Texas A&M

COLLEGE STATION, Aug. 28 (UP)—A sharp rise in enrollment of freshmen at Texas A&M was predicted today because of the "favorable status given ROTC students" by the new military training and selective service act.

President M. T. Harrington said some 500 more freshmen have already applied for entrance than were enrolled last September.

For Good Used Cars (Trade-ins on the New Olds) Osborne Motor Company, Eastland

All drivers of motor vehicles should come to a complete stop when they come upon a bus that is unloading or loading students. Some of the children that ride these buses depend entirely on the drivers to protect them. They just get off the bus and run for school looking neither right nor left. The buses are equipped with stop signs that warn the motorists that the bus is stopping or off the bus.

The people of Ranger can go through the year with a near perfect accident record if they will use more caution and less speed in their travels.

Don't be responsible for some child spending the rest of his life trying to get to or from school.

Disease Feared In Flooded Area In Old Mexico

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 28 (UP)—Health authorities feared today a plague of malaria and dysentery would spread among thousands marooned in eastern Mexico by flooding rivers.

The newspapers Excelsior said 20 more deaths had been reported at Mante, 90 miles northwest of the rich oil port of Tampico. The figures could not be confirmed, but the death toll of last week's hurricane and flood already stood at 55 in Mexico.

More than 15,000,000 acres north and west of Tampico were covered by floodwaters and heavy rains continued to fall upon the stricken area.

Military and civilian aircraft from Monterey and Mexico City dropped food and supplies yesterday to flood victims huddled on rooftops of their ruined homes.

Damage was estimated at more than $15,000,000. Farmers in the rich El Mante agricultural area said they would not return to their land unless they received ample assurance of government aid within a week.

Water spilling from the banks of the Panuco and Tamesi Rivers flooded new sections of Tampico, which is still under martial law as a result of chaos caused by the hurricane.

Tampico civil authorities commandeered every car and truck available to evacuate the new group of refugees to higher land.

Houston Gun Builders Get New Contract

HOUSTON, Aug. 28 (UP)—Hughes Gun Company announced today it has been awarded a supplementary contract by the federal government to manufacture finished guns for Army Ordnance at its Dickson Gun Plant.

Previously, the Dickson plant has produced only gun tubes for tanks and anti-aircraft batteries.

Noah E. Hull, vice president and general manager of the company, said the supplementary contract doubles the value of the company's original agreement with the government. The sizes of the guns Hughes will not make were not revealed.

Ousted Cadets Enter Notre Dame

SOUTH BEND, IND., Aug. 28 (UP)—More than a third of the 90 cadets ousted from West Point have taken advantage of an anonymous rich man's offer to send them to Notre Dame, it was announced today.

The Rev. Louis Thornton, director of admissions, said 32 former cadets have applied for admission under the terms of the offer. No names were disclosed.

The anonymous millionaire offered to pay room, tuition and board for any or all of the cadets, provided they took no part in Notre Dame athletics.

Country Club Meeting Tonight

President Al Larson announced that the Ranger Country Club will have their regular meeting tonight.

The meeting will start at 7 p.m. at the Club House. Food will be served to the members that attend the meeting tonight.

WASHDAY—While their laundry hangs drying on the edge of their camouflage net, this New Zealand artillery team clean their gun for a mission expected later. Feeler assaults were sent out throughout the night north of Yanggu by the North Koreans, the kind, high UN officials said, usually precedes a general attack. Football Season Gets Underway With Hard Scrimmage Yesterday

Football season is here. Coaches Warden and Aills began tutoring their boys for the approaching season today.

Popping leather, sweat, groans, and grunts marked the first day of the workouts. The coaches lost no time with their charges and had them doing body contact. Most of the boys had taken it upon themselves to be in shape for the season before the workouts started. Those that came out for practice out of shape were suffering for their lack of foresight.

Injuries are already plaguing the team. Herbert Williams and Billy Ferguson were injured in the wreck Saturday night, and Billy Browning is on the injured list and will be out before the season starts. Herbert may get to see action before the year is out, but it is doubtful that Ferguson will recover in time for the hard knocks of football.

The team this year will be quite a bit lighter in the line than it has been in the past few years. Maybe that is what will be needed to keep up with the speedy backs.

The starters from last year in the backfield and the men that have had more experience were showing their experience in the first 3 day's workout. Comacho Cole, Massee and Bagwell are all returning lettermen from last year's district championships and were setting the pace for the newer boys.

In the line it was Hargraves, Cantrell, Varner, Justice and Tunc as lettermen from last year's squad. Other boys that will probably help the backfield that were either in Junior High or on last year's "B" team are backs Moreland, Hill and Rush. Lee Hill and Eddie Joe James will be the largest men out this year with both of them tipping the scales now at close to 195. A few days of these double workouts in the hot sun and these boys will get down to good fighting trim.

By the time of the first game Coaches Warden and Aills will have separated the men from the boys and will be able to tell who will be the big guns for the Bulldogs.

Recently, Meyer collected five renegade mules and couldn't find their owners. He staked them out on ropes and marched into them at the meeting site by R. V. Galloway, Mr. Cooper said.

"I need a stockade to keep those mules in," he told five county commissioners. The five shook their heads "no."

"All right," said Meyer, "I'll farm out a mule to each of you." Faced with this ultimatum, the five held a hasty conference.

Houston taxicab drivers entered the second day of their "strike" against the city council today, despite a warning from the city public service director that some may have their permits cancelled unless they return to work.

The fleet of 700 drivers demanded a special city council meeting "within 48 hours" to set a new, higher rate, pending a formal hearing set for September.

Meanwhile, city public service director Clifton Awsley said there was a "strong possibility" that permits for 52 taxi operators who have five or less cabs and drive themselves will be cancelled unless they return to work.

The drivers, who haul some 25,000 persons daily in their 700 cabs, want the rate increased from 35 cents for the first mile to 35 cents for the first half-mile, and another 10 cents for each additional passenger.

Their demands for a special council meeting were rejected by Mayor pro tem Joe Roeweber, who said, "so far as I know, there's no emergency."

The resolution asked that the A-1 aircraft be assigned where proper aeronautical and agricultural engineering facilities were available. It suggested additional tests be made with the plane and that latest developments be installed for dispensing of agricultural chemicals, seeds and defoliant.

In another resolution, the association asked proper government agencies to consider their particular aviation problems in a separate program. The resolution asked for a definite separation between general, common air carriers and manufacturer problems.

Flying tours to Texas A&M and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Spur were scheduled today.

The convention ends tonight with a banquet at which a National Flying Farmers queen will be selected.

The speaker at the meeting of the Dairy Farmers at 8 p.m. August 30, at the Ranger Country Club, J. M. Cooper, County agent said.

Mr. Van Rosenberg is a representative of the American Dairy Association of Texas and will discuss the work of his organization.

The Ranger Country Club was secured as the meeting site by R. V. Galloway, Mr. Cooper said.

The Country Club is north of Ranger, and directions given were to go east of Ranger on Highway 80, about a mile, turn north and turn left when the road forks.

Flying Farmers End Convention At Ft. Worth

FORT WORTH, Aug. 28 (UP)—The National Flying Farmers Assn., entered the final day of its convention today after naming new officers and hearing an unscheduled address by Deios W. Rentzel, undersecretary of Commerce for transportation.

Rentzel, who was not listed on the program, praised delegates for their efforts "to do something to advance rural aviation."

The ever increasing use of the airplane in agriculture, he said, is "a healthy indication and encouragement to government officials during a time when air power is so essential."

E. M. (Tex) Anderson, Medina Tex., farmer, was named association president, succeeding Charles Rose of Roseland, Ark. Lee Taladay of Milan, Mich., was named vice president and William H. Jansen of McPherson, Kan., secretary treasurer.

Auburn, Ala., was named as 1952 convention city.

In one of several resolutions passed yesterday, the convention said the experimental agricultural plane built at Texas A&M has been found satisfactory in many respects, but unsatisfactory in others.

The resolution asked that the A-1 aircraft be assigned where proper aeronautical and agricultural engineering facilities were available. It suggested additional tests be made with the plane and that latest developments be installed for dispensing of agricultural chemicals, seeds and defoliant.

In another resolution, the association asked proper government agencies to consider their particular aviation problems in a separate program. The resolution asked for a definite separation between general, common air carriers and manufacturer problems.

REDS MAY USE CONTROL OF KAESONG TO FAKE VIOLATIONS

TOKYO, Aug. 28 (UP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's supreme headquarters said tonight the Communists may be trying to utilize their control of the Kaesong cease-fire conference area to fake more evidence of neutrality violations.

Commenting on the new Red demand for a new investigation of alleged neutrality breaches, a statement issued by Ridgway's public information office said:

"Should the investigation be reopened it is probable that much more convincing evidence of a bombing attack would be presented."

The statement implied that Ridgway probably will reject the Red demand for another investigation of two alleged violations—certainly that he will not accept it on the Communists' terms.

It strengthened belief also that, as the result of a further exchange of charges and counter-charges, the site of the conference talks may be switched from Kaesong. There have been strong reports for several days that Ridgway might suggest such a change to get out of Kaesong, which is under Red control even though it includes a so-called neutral zone.

"There is as yet no indication as to the nature of the reply General Ridgway will make to the latest Communist letter," the headquarters statement said.

It was believed the supreme commander, who has dismissed the Communist allegations of neutrality violations as "preposterous" and completely faked, may be seeking instructions from the chiefs of staff in Washington.

After sketching in some detail the UN and Communist counter-charges, the headquarters release said:

"Today, six days later, Kim and Peng propose that the investigation be reopened.

The statement referred to the latest alleged neutrality breach, a Red complaint that a United Nations plane bombed and strafed the conference area.

(Kim and Peng are Kim Il Sung, Premier and Commander in Chief in North Korea, and Gen. Peng Teh-Hual, Chinese Communist Commander in Chief.)

"They ask General Ridgway to order his liaison officers to Kaesong to re-examine the evidence.

"Once again they may be seeking to utilize their control of the conference area to their advantage. The original evidence was so transparent as to immediately indicate the fraudulent nature of the bombing charge.

"But this defect in the evidence could be cured. Should the investigation be reopened, it is probable that much more convincing evidence of a bombing attack would be presented."

The Reds kept the truce conference alive in a message broadcast by radio Peiping early today, but left the next move to the supreme UN commander.

The Communist message charged that Ridgway had "maliciously slandered" the Reds. This referred to his note of last Saturday, which called Red complaints that the UN had violated Kaesong's neutrality "malicious falsehoods."

The Reds also demanded that Ridgway send his liaison officers back to Kaesong to re-investigate alleged evidence of an allied air raid on the conference city last Wednesday night—the pretext on which the Communists broke off the truce talks.

LaVerne Cornelius Becomes Bride Of San Antonio Man In Formal Church Ceremony

It takes money from a lot of PIGGY BANKS to build a power plant!

Yes, money from piggy banks, and commercial banks too... money from the savings of a lot of people. Thousands of people supplied the money for Texas Electric Service Company to build power plants, power lines and the other facilities that provide your dependable electric service. They invested their savings in the securities of our company, or they have a stake in this company as owner of an insurance policy or shares of a trust fund in the large groups of insurance companies and trust funds that have investments in our securities.

The part of Texas we serve is growing rapidly and the need for electric service is growing even faster. Texas Electric Service Company has spent more than $60,000,000 since 1946 to build new power plants, power lines and other facilities so Reddy Kilowatt can provide plenty of dependable electric power for the areas he serves. Yes, this construction program is still under way and is costing a lot of money. Most of it is "borrowed" through the sale of securities to folks who have faith in our future, and in the area we serve. The money you pay for electric service is used for the most part to pay our day to day expenses, such as wages, fuel and other costs of doing normal business, including the wages of capital. The additional new capital which is constantly being needed must come from the sale of securities.

New Baby Bottle Helps Cut Burps And Colic

A paper-thin valve of stainless steel in the nipple of a feeding bottle is being hailed by physicians and hospital authorities as a revolutionary solution to the problems inherent in the bottle feeding of babies.

After two years of testing, these authorities report this new development practically eliminates the most common cause of colic, swallowing of air while feeding, and reduces spitting up and burping.

Nursmatic—trade name for the bottle and valve-equipped—simulates natural nursing by regulating the flow of liquid and reducing the baby's intake of air.

The valve automatically closes when pressure is applied to the nipple, preventing liquid from returning to the bottle. When the nipple is emptied and pressure is released, the valve reopens, permitting the nipple to quickly refill with air-free liquid.

The ease with which the "insta-valve" permits the flow of measured amounts of liquid has proved a boon in the feeding of not only normal babies, but also those with cleft palates and premature babies over 3 1/2 pounds.

Nursmatic for the past two years has been available only to physicians and hospitals for test purposes. Now, with this successful test period behind it, the product is being distributed by Scott Store.

Another Nursmatic advantage markings on the bottle for easier reading, and the blue plastic collars and hoods. The hoods eliminate the necessity of inverting nipples in bottles to keep them sterile during storage and is a primary reason why the Nursmatic is the blue tinting of graduated unit is practically adapted to the terminal sterilization method of preparing formula.

Complete instructions regarding this hospital-recommended method of sterilization are included with each nurse.

Oklahoma Cafe Sell Meals At 1935 Prices

GUTHRIE, OKLA., Aug. 28 (UP)—Hearty eaters released their belts another notch today and said that the Oklahoma cafe's one-day experiment of selling meals at 1935 prices was—burp—a mighty success.

For 25 cents they ate: Fried chicken, roast pork, roast beef or meat loaf, three vegetables, desert, bread and butter and drink.

Everyone was happy, including cafe operator Doin Taylor who dreamed up the experiment to attract new customers.

"Boy, they really went for it," said Taylor. "Lunch customers were lined outside waiting. It was forced to turn 'em away part of the day."

Breakfast customers weren't overlooked either. The "two-bit special" included two eggs with bacon, ham or sausage, buttered toast and coffee.

"We just plain ran out of food a couple of times," Taylor said. "Tripped my staff to 15 persons, but couldn't keep up with the demand. It was wonderful."

Hamburgers, cheeseburgers, and all other sandwiches sold for a dime.

Pickpocket Is Religious Man

First Cotton Is Baled At Lubbock

LUBBOCK, Aug. 28 (UP)—Charter Caldwell today had won the premiums offered annually by the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce by bringing in the first bale of Lubbock cotton.

Caldwell of Salton said he pulled 2,250 pounds of cotton to produce the prize bale which would bring him an estimated $3,600.

"We sold more than 500 hamburgers alone. The bread man said he'd never seen such a run on buns," Taylor said.

The portions of the meals were true 1935 size—big enough to feed the huskiest man. Chicken lovers each received two large pieces.

Taylor could make no estimate of what the experiment cost him, but he said he had "hundreds and hundreds" of customers flock in to his 29-seat cafe.

"Believe me, I saw people I didn't even know lived in this town," the 36-year-old cafe operator said. "Everybody was happy, even though some folks had to wait for a long time outside."

"I believe it really helped my business, but I'm not about to try it again."

Feed Mill Fire Damage $110,000

RICHARDSON, Aug. 28 (UP)—Damage from a fire which destroyed the Cassidy Feed Mill was estimated today at $110,000.

Richardson Volunteer Firemen were aided by three pieces of equipment from nearby Dallas in fighting the fire last night. They were hampered by a lack of water during the hour-long blaze.

Fire Chief R. V. Thompson said the cause of the fire couldn't be immediately determined. He said it apparently started on the ground floor of the mill and spread to a 52-foot elevator.

Eight men were working in the building. All escaped without injury.
