SEEN OR HEARD

That must have been some birthday party Bill Brazda had in the hospital yesterday.

Bill is supposed to get the cast off the broken leg in about a week.

We got a card from a Mrs. Don M. Rodgers of Gordon who thinks there should be no doubt in the Ranger people's mind about putting the derrick up again.

S. D. Parnell and David McMeekam were in the Times this morning and Parnell said he thought the derrick should go up again.

Ranger got 1.30 inches of rain Sunday to bring the total for the month 4.34 inches.

Local Police Find Missing Bolt Goods

Chief Pounds said this morning the local police had found a quantity of bolt goods lying under a hedge in the vicinity of Mrs. Patrick J. O'Donnell's residence on Cherry Street.

The chief said as yet there had been no arrests in the theft of the articles, but the police department was working on the case.

Connally Plans Not Complete

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (UP)—Sen. Tom Connally (D-Tex.) says he isn't planning "whistle stop" speaking tour.

Told of published reports in Texas that he plans such a tour, Connally said "that is not correct."

"I have no engagements as yet," he said. "I'm just going home like I always do when Congress adjourns."

IN EASTLAND

Lucas Appliance Store Robbed Saturday Night; Building Fired

Burglars entered the Lucas Appliance company store early Saturday evening, and after robbing the cash drawer of some $350.00 in change, set fire to the building.

Mr. Lucas handles a complete line of General Electric products, including refrigerators, and also a large stock of tires.

Fire seems to have been set in the rear end of the building. The store was open until after 9 o'clock last night, but Mr. Lucas discovered a back door open less than an hour later when he was in the back yard of his home.

The merchandise in the front of the store was not damaged, though several used electric refrigerators, and a group of new used tires in the back room were either damaged or destroyed.

Copper Heads Shortage List

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (UP)—The government today put copper at the head of the list of critically-short materials needed for the mobilization program.

The Defense Production Administration said copper supplies have dipped to an "almost dangerously low" level as a result of strikes and high import prices.

In a production report on basic defense materials and substitutes, DPA said that aluminum and magnesium output also has suffered from strikes and scrap and water shortages.

As for steel, the agency said that "inadequate collections of scrap" continue to be the industry's "most persistent problem."

DPA reported a "good supply" of mercury, silver, palladium, gold and boron and a "balanced supply" of chromium, manganese, pig iron and vanadium.

UN Forces Gain On Both Ends Korean Front

8th ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Oct. 29 (UP)—United Nations forces punched out gains of a half-mile to nearly a mile at both ends of the Korean front today.

In the central sector, other UN units beat off three powerful Communist attempts to retake a strategic hill mass southeast of Rubbed Kumang, 29 miles north of the 38th Parallel.

UN planes again found North Korean roads clogged with enemy convoys ferrying reinforcements and supplies from Manchuria to the Red front.

UN forces on the hilly western front northwest of Yonchon made the day's biggest advance—800 to 1,200 yards.

On the eastern front, UN elements west of "Punchbowl Valley" seized a hill in advances of up to 1,000 yards.

The Allies jumped off after turning back three separate night attacks by up to 800 Red troops.

Clothes Blamed For Troubles

LONDON, Oct. 29 (UP)—Civilization's worst ill could be cured if more people took off their clothes, according to delegates to the annual nudist convention here.

Approximately 200 delegates, representing Britain's 50,000 nudist clubs, have reluctantly donned clothing to meet and plan a five-year plan to cut the number of clothes now "spoiling" the natural human appearance.

The delegates said men and women of different nationalities "would see things more clearly" with fewer clothes.

Rev. Dr. Robert J. McCracken, minister of the non-denominational Protestant Riverside Church in New York charged that "Roman Catholicism is making an open bid for power and dominance in this country—its clearly avowed purpose is to make America Catholic."

Dr. Edward Hughes Pruden, President Truman's pastor at the First Baptist Church in Washington, said the appointment was "creating a sense of division at a time when we urgently need to be united."

Pruden, who took part in a round-table discussion with two other prominent Washington Protestant clergymen, said he was unimpressed with the argument that diplomatic relations are necessary with the Vatican.

"Vatican officials already are as near our present ambassador to Italy as the nearest telephone," he said.

Communists Would Give Up Two Indefensible Peninsulas To UN

PANMUNJOM, KOREA, Oct. 29 (UP)—United Nations truce negotiators rejected today a Communist offer to trade two swamp peninsulas in western Korea for central and eastern mountains captured by the UN at high cost.

The rejection came during a "completely inconclusive" meeting of a subcommittee set up by the UN and Red armistice teams to find a mutually agreeable cease-fire line across Korea.

Brig. Gen. William Nuckols, UN spokesman said the subcommittee would resume its discussions at 11 a.m. tomorrow (9 p.m. today EST).

Gen. J. Lawton Collins, U. S. Chief of Staff, told newsmen just before taking off from a South Korean airfield for Tokyo that he is certain that a cease-fire agreement will be reached, but said he didn't believe it would be in the near future.

He said today American troops will remain in Korea for "some time" even after a truce is signed to end the shooting.

"Even if the truce were signed tomorrow, the army cannot get out at once."

UN communique said the negotiators spent two hours and 50 minutes today in a "fruitless effort to arrive at a military sound demarcation line..."

It said Red proposals would deprive 8th Army troops of "important defense positions from which to protect themselves against a surprise resumption of hostilities."

The Communists offered to turn over to the UN the Ongjin and Yonan peninsulas, two completely indefensible peninsulas which just down from the 38th parallel into the Yellow Sea north-west of Seoul.

In return, the Reds said the 8th Army should withdraw up to 15 miles along 95 per cent of the batteline on the central and eastern sectors. This would mean the abandonment of such hard-won terrain as bloody ridge, heart break ridge, and "unchbowl valley."

U. S. Maj. Gen. Henry I. Hodges replied that the UN does not want the two peninsulas and never had tried to take them. They are still held by the Communists only by default, he said.

Hodges called the Communist proposal "militarily unrealistic."

The UN has proposed a 2 1/2 mile wide buffer zone across Korea generally following the present battle line, but offered to trade the Reds about 200 square miles of territory on the east coast for a similar chunk of Communist-held land in the west, including Kaesong, site of the present Communist truce camp.

22 Killed When Greyhound Bus Leaves Bridge

OAKLAND, CALIF., Oct. 29 (UP)—Seven persons were killed and 22 others injured yesterday when a Greyhound bus struck a dislodged piece of concrete, plowed through a guard railing and plunged 50 feet off the San Francisco bay bridge.

Witnesses said the bus was traveling between 50 and 60 miles an hour when it hit the chunk of concrete which had been knocked loose only three minutes before in an automobile accident.

The bus driver, Edward Elshire, 37, Sacramento, Calif., immediately lost control of the speeding vehicle and it roared ahead, swaying and skidding as he fought to regain control.

The bus smashed through the heavy guard-railing, rolled in a lazy half-turn in the air and landed on its roof on a concrete railroad ramp.

The crash occurred at 8:20 a. m. (EST) yesterday. Police said a car driven by Boatman's State Orville Russell, Jr., 25, of Richmond, Calif., struck the abutment and knocked the chunk of concrete loose.

He was hospitalized in serious condition and his wife, La Vada, said he had suffered a fractured skull while on Navy duty in Japan and since "his vision has been impaired and he has suffered blackout spells."

King Will Go To Annulment Trial Today

HOUSTON, Oct. 29 (UP)—Sheppard (Abdullah) King, the Texas playboy who became a Moslem so he could marry an Egyptian shimmy dancer, was to appear at annulment proceedings today so he could shed his present wife and wed Samia Gamal by December.

The annulment petition filed by Gloria King was set for hearing at noon (EST) in Houston District Court. But Houston attorney Robert Sonfield entered the case and announced he'd ask a week's postponement of the hearing so he could call witnesses.

Sonfield came into the picture as Amicus Curiae (friend of the court), seeking to have the court deny an annulment on the grounds Gloria and King conspired to seek the annulment jointly.

Gloria alleged she was intoxicated during her re-marriage to King last June in Dallas and doesn't "remember" the ceremony.

Sonfield contended this was not true and was a reflection on the judge who re-married them, and on the judiciary system of Texas.

King indicated Gloria probably would go to Reno for a divorce if the annulment was denied.

One Killed And Five Injured In Head On Collision Near Baird; Three Victims From Eastland

Mrs. Jackson Thomas Dillard, 35, of Abilene, is dead and five other persons are hospitalized as the result of a head-on crash, which occurred just east of Baird about 6:30 Sunday evening.

ONE DRIVE WILL CARE FOR SEVEN DEPENDENT AGENCIES

At 7 o'clock Tuesday morning, Aug. 30 (tomorrow morning), the big kick-off breakfast will be held at the Gholson Coffee Shop, which will herald the starting of the campaign for the raising of funds for the Community Chest, which comprises six local agencies and the Red Cross.

All committees are being contacted today, according to President C. J. Owen, and 75 or 80 workers are expected to report for duty and contact those on their lists immediately after the breakfast.

Former Residents Want Derrick Up

"Dear Mr. Dennis, As you know we live in Oklahoma now, but Ranger is still our home and always will be.

When we heard the news of the storm that made such a destructive sweep through our town we were naturally worried and deeply concerned and drove down this Sunday. Our folks had saved a nice stack of the Ranger Times and we read the varied opinions of many on whether the oil derrick should go up again. We think it should.

When we first heard the news about the derrick falling in the mad rush of the storm, we didn't like it a bit, but when we drove into town this afternoon and didn't see the derrick the street looked lonesome, and we felt sad inside. So it is needless to say we want to see it go back up and by the way—in the same place, the same size as much like it was before.

We realize our opinion is a rather sentimental one, but that's it—remember that derrick was symbol, it stands for a lot and a lot stands for it. Let's put it back. It's a part of our town and a part of us.

Sincerely, The Dale Wheats"

Plowboys Take Advantage Of Ranger Fumbles To Win Game

Before losing the services of their able field general, quarterback Buddy Hamrick, the Ranger Junior College Rangers were out playing the Tarleton State Plowboys both offensively and defensively. Hamrick was withdrawn from the game near the end of the second quarter with a broken collarbone.

In the first half of the ball game the lines of both teams held their opponents to little gain. Ranger gaining 97 yards and getting thrown for losses totaling 60 yards; giving them a total net gain in the first half on the ground of 37 yards. Tarleton fared only one yard better gaining a net of 38 yards; having a total forward gain of 56 yards and losing 18 at the hands of Rangers line.

Passing Ranger completed five of 11 passes for 29 yards in the first half, while the Plowboys only completed 2 of six gaining 17 yards.

After battling through a scoreless first half the Plowboys took the ball on their own 41 yard line to have initial drive halted by the Rangers and forcing them to kick. Tarleton kicked to the Ranger 32, where Matthews of Ranger took the ball and fumbled to give Tarleton possession on the Ranger 32. From there the Plowboys moved the ball down to score. Gene Hardin of Tarleton took the ball across for the tally.

Six minutes into the fourth quarter the Rangers recovered a Tarleton fumble on their 44 yard line. There they went into the "I" formation, giving fullback Kenneth Burns the ball. Burns went 46 yard on the first play to put the ball on the Plowboy 10. Caddo Sanders picked up enough yardage to put the ball on the 6, Burns picked up five to the 1, and then came right back to score.

Tarleton again scored in the fourth quarter when they took advantage of a fumble on the Ranger 20 yard line. In six plays from the point of the fumble the Plowboys had the winning six points. Edsel January scored the winning mark for the Plowboys with a little over one minute left to play in the ball game.

Ranger took the kickoff off to their own twenty and began a desperate try for another score. Bridges the quarterback, tossed a long pass from his own 20 to the Tarleton 45, where Tommy Wilson was standing surrounded by Plowboys. Wilson leaped high in the air and came down with the ball, to give the Rangers a gain of 35 yards on the one play. That ended the Ranger threat with that one play.

Another long pass from Bridges to Caddo Sanders went incomplete erasing the last Ranger chance to tie the game.

The Rangers, while allowing the Plowboys to tally twice in the second half, outplayed them by a big margin, both offensively and defensively.

Caddo Sanders the shifty running Ranger halfback played good at all times during the game at either offense or defense. Sanders broke away for one time during the night for a broken run that racked up 32 yards.

Jerry Compton, T. Wilson, Kenneth Burton, Bobby Gene Boynton, were the mainstays of the Ranger line during the game.

Maxwell Loses In Mexican Open On Missed Putts

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 29 (UP)—Mexico City golf fans still talked today what might have been if U. S. amateur champion Billy Maxwell hadn't been double-crossed by his putter.

The 22-year-old Maxwell lost a 3 and 2 match to Toledo's strapping Frank Stranahan yesterday, and the Ohio strong man took the Mexican amateur gold championship.

Stranahan recovered miraculously when in trouble, was accurate with his approaches and calmly efficient in trimming the North Texas State College star in the 36-hole final.

Maxwell lost with a misbehaving putter. A gallery of 3,200 tried to groan them into the cup for the Texas, but still he missed simple one and three-footers.

After the match, Stranahan told Maxwell: "If you hadn't been off your game today, Billy, you'd be champion."

Stranahan shot a two-under par 84-86-70 on the morning 18, and Maxwell ran three over with 37-38-75. The young U. S. champion spoiled his card by missing a one-foot putt to bogie the third hole, and a three-footer to bogie the 13th. He went into a trap on the long, level 18th to lose the other stroke.

Stranahan finished the round three holes up, having recovered methodically from what little trouble came his way.

The third hole again threw Maxwell in the afternoon round—he missed a two and a half foot putt, then miscued an 18-inch shot on the fifth while Stranahan was taking a birdie four.

Maxwell got a birdie on the ninth, settling down then to come out even at the rest of the way except for a birdie three on the 14th. On that hole, Billy sunk his longest putt of the day, 10 feet.

Stranahan has five holes ahead after 25 holes and kept his game safely steady to prevent Maxwell from closing the gap.

Hit 'n miss

By DON NORRIS

What went with my prediction that the Rangers would take the Tarleton Plowboys by two touchdowns? Perhaps we had better send the college a paper when there are predictions in it to let them know what is expected of them.

From a nice dry, glass enclosed press box at Stephenville Lynn Robbins, George Beigley and myself set back on a hard bench and watched the game, while the other fans shivered.

I am proud to agree with the Sunday morning quarterbacks that the Rangers have a better team than the Plowboys, but that we just donated them their twelve points on the two fumbles.

The fans seem to feel that the team didn't play quite as well after Buddy Hamrick got his collar bone broken in the second quarter. Buddy may not be the best quarterback in the world, but he will not let the situation get out of hand, and does not become excited when things go wrong. Most people think this tends to keep the team working together.

Our neighbors down Highway 80 are all set to give the Bulldogs a tussle when we go to Eastland Friday night for another conference game. The Eastland people would rather have their team beat Ranger than win the district, and they will be doing everything in their power to urge the team on.

Right now Dublin and Ranger are tied for the lead in the district. Ranger has defeated Cisco and Dublin took Eastland for their first conference win. Cisco took Comanche out Friday night to leave Ranger and Dublin on top of the heap.

After Eastland the Bulldogs will meet Dublin after a week off for the Lions.

The Bulldogs have scored 188 points this year compared to 47 for their opponents in seven games.

Southwest Conference Teams Will Have Showdown This Week

This will be showdown week in the southwest conference football race. With six teams still left in the running for the championship being defended by Texas, each of three title games will have a definite bearing on five of these clubs' aspirations.

Front-running Texas Christian, with a 2-0 record, puts its lead on the line against the top challenger, Baylor, in the No. 1 game at Waco.

Texas and Southern Methodist, each with one loss already on the books, meet at Dallas, with the loser due to bow out of contention. Texas A&M, hanging on the ropes but not quite out, carries its hopes deep into the Ozarks against an Arkansas team that spoiled Saturdays ago. The loser moves into the cellar, since A&M has only a loss and a tie to show for two conference starts and Arkansas one victory against two losses.

Rice takes a week off from conference action to entertain down-trodden Pittsburgh at Houston.

For the first time this season, there will be no night games on the calendar.

Arkansas actually is the only club with little chance at the crown, and even the Porkers still have a mathematical chance, but no team has ever won after dropping two games.

Likewise, the Aggies' chances are dim, because only twice since the loop was organized in 1915 has a club with a loss and a tie topped the flag.

Baylor battled from behind to gain a 21-21 tie with A&M in last week's feature game, while Texas took to the air while throttling Rice's passing attack to beat the Owls 14-6 in the only other conference game.

In intersectional play, the conference lost both starts — TCU bowing to powerful Southern California 28 to 26 and Arkansas losing to oft-beaten Santa Clara 21-12. SMU was idle.

Another Poem About Derrick

Oh big tall derrick, so large and strong
You stood in Ranger street, where you belong,
To greet the stranger who came your way,
And bid to them welcome, if they wanted to stay.

You had been on duty for twenty four years,
Listening to all the noise and cheer,
You were at your post, both day and night,
To show the drivers, to drive right.

You have heard the laughter of childrens glee,
As they made you into a Christmas tree.
Children would, take me to the derrick site,
So we may see the Christmas lights.

You pointed us to churches, our important need,
Regardless of nationality, color or creed.
As the years went by, you did your work,
From your duty, you never shirked.

You watched the boy's as they left home.
Often of foreign fields to roam.
You welcomed them as they came back,
As you stood near the railroad track.

You bowed your head to the will of God.
Now you are living on the sod.
So we will pick you up and put you back,
Down between the T&P track.

Second Explosion Indicates Development Of Compact Bomb

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Oct. 29 (UP) — Results of the second atomic explosion in the current series of tests on the Nevada desert indicated today that atom scientists have developed a compact aerial bomb that can be used to support troops on the battlefield.

The Atomic Energy Commission set off the seventh nuclear blast at the Frenchman's Flat proving ground yesterday, apparently by dropping a bomb from a B-29 Superfortress, and the detonation sent a purple cloud mushrooming 30,000 feet in the air.

The detonation was neither as great as those held at Bikini Atoll in the South Pacific nor as tiny as the "baby-a-bomb" blast set off here last Monday, indicating it was a medium-size atomic weapon that could be used on the battlefield.

It was difficult for observers to determine whether the explosion was as powerful as the five that rocked the desert proving ground and lighted up the sky early this year because yesterday's test was held in daylight.

The earlier ones were staged at dawn when the flash could be seen for as far as 500 miles.

Most observers agreed, however, that the latest test was not as strong as the earlier ones because the shock waves were felt only slightly by persons only about 30 miles from the firing range.

The cloud sent skyward by the blast was clearly visible here, but no shock waves were felt. In the tests last January and February, shock waves broke windows in downtown Las Vegas stores.

Troops did not participate in the test, but it was indicated that the world's first atomic combat maneuvers involving foot soldiers were not far away.

No test was scheduled for today, but it was believed the AEC would test another atomic weapon tomorrow.

Oil money helps

In 1950, the value of the crude oil produced in West Texas* was approximately a billion dollars.

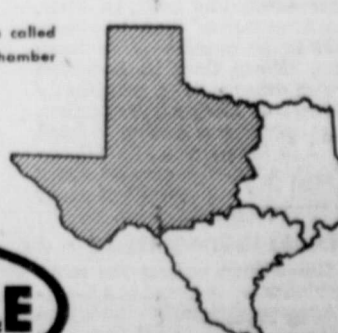

That is a lot of money. It pays taxes, salaries and wages; it goes to landowners for royalties and lease payments; a sizable portion of it will be reinvested in West Texas in the further development of its rich petroleum resources.

Furthermore, it is productive money. Some part of it finds its way into the pocket of practically every West Texan. There is a portion of West Texas' oil income in the dollar your wife spends for groceries, in the check your husband writes for rent. Oil money helps to meet payrolls, pay doctors' fees and hospital bills, buy new farm equipment, send sons and daughters off to school.

Oil money helps on every hand. It is a resource from which all West Texas benefits.

Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Gregg of 1020 Vialous Street celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary Sunday, October 28, at their home.

They were married in Randolph County Alabama in a simple home wedding. They had known each other all their life they said, having lived in adjoining communities and their families were friends.

They left Alabama in 1925 and lived in and near England until eight years ago they moved to Ranger. Mr. Gregg has been a farmer most of the time, but owned and operated a Help-Self Laundry until recently when his health became so bad until he could not continue with his work.

They have seven children, twenty-one grandchildren and two great grandchildren. All of the children were present for the occasion Sunday except one.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith and children, Dorothy, Fanny and Sally of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Brooks, Howard and Clarice of Forney; Mr. and Mrs. William Foster, Maudine and James of Garland; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gregg, W. At noon an anniversary dinner was served to the family from a beautifully decorated dining table and smaller tables. A large three-tiered cake centered the table where the honorees were seated. Pictures of Mr. and Mrs. Gregg and of the family group were made.

Although the rain fell all afternoon, a number of friends called to extend their best wishes for many more anniversaries in their time.

Mr. Gregg who is seventy-one years old said that he was really enjoying everything, and they both looked supremely happy. The last child in their family was married just last week and will be going to Dallas to live.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Horton and son, Charles and Mrs. Mary Francis Hickman and daughter, Patricia; Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Edwards and Mr. Edward's niece, Joan of Oklahoma City attended a birthday dinner honoring some of their friends in Breckenridge Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Cowan.

Houston To Probe Report Of Police Licensing "Girl"

HOUSTON, Oct. 29 (UP)—Texas House Crime Investigators indicated today they will investigate a charge by one of the committee members that a 14-year-old Houston girl was "licensed" as a prostitute by Port Arthur police.

The girl was listed as 22 years old and nicknamed "Frenchy" in Port Arthur police files, Rep. Charles Murphy of Houston charged.

At Austin, chairman Fred V. Meredith of the House Crime Investigators said Texas law does not provide for "licensing" of prostitutes. He said the committee expects to announce dates for hearings on juvenile delinquency in the state within a few days.

"We know that police of our state try to keep a certain kind of tab on those girls who practice prostitution, but certainly they have no authority to give anybody authority to practice prostitution."

The child was found in the alleged Port Arthur brothel Oct. 12, police said, and told officers she became a "professional" after three men raped her at a Houston tourist court.

The girl charged she then was sent by the men to a Galveston brothel but was turned down because of her age, after which she was taken into a Port Arthur "house."

Murphy said she claimed police fingerprinted and photographed her for their files and tagged her with the alias "Frenchy."

Rep. Murphy said the records listed her age as 22 years old. Murphy's request for the crime committee investigation was seconded by Port Arthur Mayor J. P. Logan, who said he will discuss the matter with police authorities.

The largest brassiere on the market is size 60. Twenty dozen of them were sold in the United States last year. The most popular size still is 34 inches.

They reported several thousand young people met there to listen to young men tell of their Christian experiences and inspirational talks that inspired others.

90% For! 10% Against

Railroad workers are represented by 23 standard unions. By mutual agreement, 20 of these unions—comprising about 1,200,000 men, or more than 90%—are working under wages and rules agreed to by them and the railroads. But leaders of three unions—with only about 130,000 men, or less than 10%—still refuse, after more than a year of negotiations, to accept similar wage and rules agreements. These are even more favorable than the terms recommended by the Emergency Board appointed by the President.

Time
settle...

Yes, it certainly seems to be finally about time that the leaders of the three unions stop their delaying tactics—their quibbling. But the leaders of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Order of Railway Conductors continue to refuse. They continue a course of dillying and dallying. It is definitely time to END THIS QUIBBLING!

On June 15, 1950, an Emergency Board appointed by the President under the terms of the Railway Labor Act—an Act largely fathered by the unions themselves—made its recommendations on certain wage and working conditions ("rules" in railroad language) which had been in dispute between employees and the railroads.

More Than 90% of Employees Accept
Since then, terms equal to or better than the Board recommendations have been accepted by about 1,200,000 railroad employees—more than 90% of the total of all workers. They are represented by 20 of the 23 standard railroad unions.

Less Than 10% Refuse
But three unions—with about 130,000 men, or less than 10% of the total—have refused to accept, even after months of negotiations. These three unions are the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Order of Railway Conductors. These are three of the so-called "operating" unions. Already the highest paid men in the industry, their leaders demand still further advantages over other workers.

In all, there are about 270,000 operating employees. But not all of them, by any means, are represented by B.L.E., B.L.F.&E., or O.R.C. As a matter of fact, less than half—132,000 to be exact—are in these three unions. More than half—about 140,000—are in other unions, principally the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. What makes the whole situation so hard to understand is that these 140,000 operating employees are working under wages and rules which the leaders of the other 130,000 say they cannot agree to.

What Do the Railroads Offer?
They offer these three unions the same settlement which was contained in a Memorandum of Agreement signed at the White House on December 21, 1950, by four brotherhoods and the railroads. Later these brotherhoods sought to repudiate this agreement. But on May 25, 1951, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen signed a complete agreement carrying out the principles of the Memorandum Agreement of December 21. They have been working under this agreement since May 25.

What About Wages?
Under the terms of the agreement, yard engineers, firemen and conductors would now be receiving a wage increase of $34 an hour ($2.72 a day) and road engineers, firemen and conductors would now be receiving an increase of 19½ cents an hour ($1.56 per day). Large sums of retroactive pay have already accrued and if the agreement is carried out, will be paid promptly.

What About "Cost of Living" Increases?
The White House Agreement includes an "escalator" clause under which wages will be geared to changes in the Government's cost-of-living index. Two such increases—April and July, 1951—have already been paid to the 90% of railroad employees covered by signed agreements.

What About the 40-Hour Week?
The White House Agreement calls for the establishment of the 40-hour week in principle, for employees in yard service. The employees can have it any time after January 1, 1952, provided the manpower situation is such that the railroads can get enough men to perform the work with reasonable regularity at straight time rates. If the parties do not agree on the question of availability of manpower, the White House Agreement provides arbitration by a referee appointed by the President.

What Else Do the Union Leaders Demand?
The continued quibbling of the leaders of the three unions has to do principally with rules changes, which have already been agreed to by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. Of these, the principal one seems to be that having to do with so-called "interdivisional service"—runs which take in two or more seniority districts.

The union leaders would bar progress and efficiency in the industry, and better service to the public, by maintaining a situation where they can arbitrarily stop a railroad from establishing such interdivisional runs. The carriers propose that if a railroad wishes to set up an interdivisional run, the railroad and the unions should try to agree on such run and the conditions which should surround its establishment, and if the railroad and the unions can't agree, the matter will be submitted to arbitration.

But the three union leaders still refuse.

Rules Can Be Arbitrated
The railroads have not only offered these three unions the same rules agreed to by the BRT and covered by the White House Agreement, but have even agreed to submit such rules to arbitration.

The Industry Pattern Is Fixed
With the pattern so firmly established in the railroad industry, it seems fair to suggest that the leaders of B.L.E., B.L.F.&E., and O.R.C. stop their quibbling and take action to make the railroad labor picture 100% complete. Certainly today's economic and international situation calls for a united front. And certainly no good reason has been advanced why these three unions should be preferred over all other railroad employees.
