

SEEN OR HEARD

Each day you see more evidence of what the people of our city are doing toward insuring and development of our town through the concerted efforts.

Right now one of these is the water problem, which is near the building stage and which will be one of the better things to ever happen in this part of the state.

On the other hand you through your city commission is dealing with a company that has shown little or no interest in the affairs of our community other than their desire of a fair return on their investment.

Many nationwide businesses are founded and prosper on the basis of community understanding and making their various outlets part of that community and working toward a better and more prosperous life for the citizens.

In no, or very few instances have we found that the telephone company has integrated itself within the community and tries to work for the prosperity therein.

On April 11 we will know whether we will be forced to pay rates deemed unreasonable by our city commission. Both parties will appear before the judge of the 91st District Court, the telephone company pleading for their "fair and lawful return" and the city commission for their right to refuse this business without competition in Ranger what the commission has deemed unreasonable rates for their service.

Now can the city of Denton's telephone users get dial system service for a maximum one service cost of seven dollars per month, while we are being sued for rates of nine dollars per month for our service in Ranger? Is there that much difference in the rates of two companies run their business?

The city commission is fulfilling its right as a regulatory body in refusing the telephone company the rate in the rates they demand, and the company has taken the attitude that if we won't give them what they want, they'll get it one way or the other.

The hearing at 1:30 p.m., April 11, will be open to the public. It would be worth your time to be there when the telephone company and the city commission present their cases before the court.

Another possibility of the lake that takes a back seat to the intended purpose, but may bring joy to the hearts of many and a new business to this area, will be the fishing and hunting that will come with the lake.

From the amount of water that the lake will hold, you can draw the conclusion that there should be an abundance of fish in time to come. In a lake that size in due time there will be fishing not to be bested by any lake in this area.

Rather than drive fifty or sixty miles and have to spend the day and night to fish, we'll be able to go out in the evening for a few hours.

Round Grove Farmer Reaping Profits From Care Of His Soil

For the past twenty-one years Wade George, Round Grove community, has practiced and preached planting fall cover crops and wind stripping peanuts. Twenty-one years ago he planted his first cover crop of rye and has continued the practice since. However, about three years ago he began using vetch with his rye and believes this has added much to the value of his protection from wind erosion and soil improvement. Until seven years ago he used cow peas as wind strips but soon convinced himself that this was not giving the protection he needed. He then began using red top cane and sudan, using eight rows of peanuts to four rows of the strip. This practice was what he wanted, for the red top and sudan grew tall enough to keep the wind from sweeping the peanut land and piling sand upon the next strip after the peanuts were harvested.

Recently when walking over the field with Mr. George, the later asked, "Do you see any more sand piled upon that east fence row now than there was when we walked across here several years ago?" The answer was no. Wind erosion has hindered the growth of cover crops and strip crops.

Recently one of George's friends stopped while passing along the road and observed that the vetch and rye in front of the house was much greener and more vigorous than that of an adjoining field. He asked, "Why is this cover crop so much better than that in the field I just passed?" ## Club Boys And Girls Capture Money At Show

Eastland County 4-H Club boys and girls won $407.40 of the $1,000 prize money offered at the Eastland County Livestock Show, held in Eastland, March 28-29, stated Assistant County Agent C. V. Whitaker today.

The heaviest winnings for the show was in the fat stock division. All the stock was graded on a Packer Graded basis, and every animal received some prize money, according to its merit. Many of the animals were sold at Tuesday's auction with the grand champion bringing 75¢ per pound.

Dairy cattle were classified with some prize money going to each animal.

Adults and juniors competed against each other in all divisions other than the Fat Stock which was open only to 4-H Club, and F.F.A. members.

Former Official Revenue Bureau Will Testify

WASHINGTON, April 3 (UP)—House investigators are scheduled to hear a former top tax official testify this morning.

He is Daniel Bolich, one-time assistant Internal Revenue Commission, who will talk about his "unusual interest" in two big tax cases.

Bolich's name has cropped up in testimony heard by the Ways and Means Investigating subcommittee during the last few days. One witness, former head of the Internal Revenue Bureau's technical staff Aubrey Marrs, testified that early in 1949 Bolich "ordered" him to find some way to lift government liens against a Baltimore liquor dealer in a seven-million dollar tax case.

Another witness has testified that Bolich overruled the decision of subordinates to prosecute officials of a New York dress firm for tax evasion in a $250,000 case.

The local office of the Western Union has been closed and is not accepting messages as a result of a strike of some 30,000 AFL Commercial Telegraphers Union at one minute after midnight this morning.

Nearly all telegraph service in the country is closed down as a result of the strike. A United Press report stated that the walk-out came as a result of the company's refusal to grant a union demand for a wage increase package of 50 cents per hour. Company officials said the increase would bankrupt the industry. They also stated they hope to restore "limited service" service soon in telegraph offices now closed down.

J. L. Clem's Attend Funeral In Arizona Wed.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Clem, of Ranger, returned Wednesday from attending funeral services for Mrs. Clem's brother-in-law in Arizona.

Mr. W. H. Young of Tucson, Arizona died of a heart attack March 28th while helping to load furniture on a truck.

He was a native of Alabama, being born at Birmingham in 1889. He came to Texas in 1909 and married Miss Beulah Horn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Horn of Eastland. They lived in Eastland for a number of years while Mr. Young was engaged in oilfield work. They moved from Eastland to Arizona where Mr. Young owned and operated farms near Denning and Wilcox. He had lived in Tucson the past few years and at the time of his death, he and his wife were preparing to move to Harrison, Arkansas where they had recently purchased a ranch.

They are the parents of six boys, one of which died at the age of 21 with an heart ailment.

The youngest son is in Korea with the Air Force and could not attend the funeral. The other four were present.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday morning at 10:30 a.m. at the Church of God in Tucson, where he was a member and burial was at Wilcox.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Hazard, another sister of Mrs. Young, of Eastland accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Clem on the trip.

Mrs. Young's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Horn of Eastland were not able to make the trip.

Army Forbids Keeping Diary

WASHINGTON, April 3 (UP)—The Army has issued a regulation forbidding the military keeping diaries while on foreign service. The regulation applies to everyone, from private to general.

The new regulation is a result of the diary stolen from Major General Robert Groves while he was in Frankfurt, Germany, last July. The diary was photographed and published by the Communists in East Berlin as "proof" of American planning to attack the Soviet Union. General Groves had advocated in his journal a war against Russia. Groves was immediately called home, and an investigation of the incident is now underway.

The Air Force has issued a regulation similar to the Army's but one that applies only to military attaches serving in foreign posts. A spokesman says the Navy is also preparing a rule against keeping a private diary or journal.

CIO And Steel Companies Meet

NEW YORK, April 3 (UP)—Representatives of the CIO Steelworkers Union and the big six steel companies meet in bargaining sessions today at New York, for the first time in three months.

The union plans a strike for April 8th in demand for wage increases recommended by the Wage Stabilization Board. The companies contend they need substantial price boosts to meet wage increases and they are reported to have made some progress in behind doors discussions with price officials in Washington.

Government agencies, meantime have been placed on the alert for any possibility, presumably including seizure of the industry. Company officials indicate they would fight any seizure attempt in the courts.

Three Year Old Wanders From Home; Drowns

PASADENA, April 3 (UP)—Three-year old Michael Ford of Pasadena wandered away from home late yesterday and fell into nearby Vines Bayou. The boy's body was found in four feet of water by a neighbor, Mrs. Clarence Johnson. The child's mother, Mrs. Nancy W. Ford, had missed the boy and started a search.

Massachusetts Senators Defeat No Alcohol Bill

BOSTON, Massachusetts, April 3 (UP)—The Massachusetts Senate has killed a bill that would have banned alcoholic beverages at athletic contests.

The vote came after one legislator asked: "What are they going to do at football games to keep warm? I threw away my Raccoon coat long ago."

Ridgway At Truce Camp

Break In Truce Deadlock May Be Forthcoming

By United Press

General Ridgway has flown to Korea for talks which could lead to a break in the truce deadlock.

The Supreme Allied commander flew in from Tokyo without advance notice, landing at Kimpoo Airfield outside Seoul. He left at once for the allied truce camp at Munsan, where he was joined by a galaxy of generals, including Eighth Army Commander James Van Fleet.

Just before Ridgway arrived, UN truce men asked for and got a 24-hour postponement of the talks on prisoner exchange, which are deadlocked over the Allied demand that prisoners be allowed to decide themselves if they want to go home.

No reason was given for the postponement. But in the past, such moves on the part of either side have been followed by fresh developments.

The supreme commander did not give reporters any reason why he summoned the high-ranking officers. But it is believed he may make a statement tonight.

Besides the deadlock on exchange of POW's, the two sides are stymied in their efforts to reach agreement on at least two issues in policing an armistice. These are over the enemy's demand that Russia be accepted as a neutral inspection nation, and its demand that it be allowed to build airfield during a truce.

Truman Must Put House In Order; Stop Feudists

WASHINGTON, April 3 (UP)—President Truman faces the problem of settling a feud within his official family, and he may solve it by firing one or both of the feudists.

Attorney-General J. Howard McGrath and government corruption hunter Newbold Morris are fighting over the Morris cleanup campaign and, specifically, the financial questionnaires Morris has sent to government officials.

McGrath has indicated reluctance to answer the questions. And Morris is reported determined that McGrath must go if the cleanup campaign is to be successful.

There is no indication officially of what course the president will choose. But one administration official says that whatever Mr. Truman decides, he will make his decision within two days.

North African Hotbeds Flare

NORTH AFRICA, April 3 (UP)—Nationalist hotbeds in North Africa have brought two new developments this morning.

French and Spanish troops have entered the international city of Tangier to maintain law and order. French and Spanish authorities decided to use troops after Nationalist riots last Sunday killed seven persons.

In Tunisia, the completion of the government's new pro-French cabinet has been delayed by palace intrigue. The seven-member cabinet was to be announced today, but at the last minute two prospective members backed out. The new cabinet was expected to restore calm to the troubled French protectorate.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

HOMEOWNERS MAY BE LIABLE FOR ACCIDENTS ON PREMISES

Can a homeowner be held responsible for accidents that happen to other people while they are on his property? Lawyers say it is difficult to state a hard and fast rule about liability for such accidents because the facts differ so much from case to case.

A postman delivering mail slipped on a child's roller skate one morning. He sued for damages. The court held that the delivery of mail is for the benefit of the homeowner and that he must take care to remove any conditions on his property which would make delivery of the mail dangerous.

Then there was the case of the meter-reader who slipped and fell on the basement steps and the court held the owner responsible because the steps were defective.

On the other hand, a guest sued her host because she slipped and fell when she stepped on some beans strewn about the owner's living room. The host's children had been playing with bean-shooters on the day she chose to visit. The court held in this case that the host was not liable for her injury.

Similar cases where social calls resulted in disaster involved a guest slipping on a small scatter rug, and another overnight guest who slipped and fell in a shower. Both cases were decided in favor of the homeowners—not the visitors.

From these cases it may be seen that the law is usually more strict about accidents befalling tradesmen and others who enter your premises in the line of duty, so to speak—postmen, laundrymen, meter-readers, delivery boys and the like—than it is in the cases of those who enter your home for purely social reasons.

This does not mean that a homeowner is absolved of all responsibility for injury to his guests. If he knows a dangerous condition exists, he has a duty to correct it and can be held liable for accidents which might happen if he doesn't. For example, a rotted tree branch fell on the sidewalk, injuring a passerby. The general rule here is that the owner was responsible because he knew of the defective condition and should have remedied it.

The law is especially strict in protecting small children. In many situations where no liability would be imposed for injury to an adult, you may be held responsible to an injured child. If you have a piece of machinery, a pond, a well or some other apparatus or condition attractive and dangerous to a child on your property, it may be your duty to take special pains to keep children away from it.

Fortunately, not everyone who falls down the front steps gets up and rushes off to sue his host. However, a substantial body of law has grown out of this type of negligence case. This is not surprising when you realize that more fatal accidents occurred in and around the home last year than from traffic accidents on the highways.

Sixth District Club Women Well Aware Of Encroaching Dangers To American Heritage

Beginning this year, 1952, Texas Club women must be responsible citizens. If never before was the theme of Mrs. Van Hook Stubbs, TPWC president when she addressed the 37th annual district convention Tuesday morning in the First Methodist Church in Cisco.

She told the packed Church Sanctuary that club women must participate in politics, must accept offers of candidacy, must be moulders of public opinion as well as of votes.

Jack Cox, of Breckenridge, state representative followed Mrs. Stubbs and warned the club women of encroaching socialism and ended his informative talk with the reminder of the way of American greatness, through the freedoms offered; freedom of religion, freedom to accumulate wealth, and the freedom to dream any think.

Selling the American Way of life was the after-luncheon idea of J. J. Shea, president of the Lone Star Wholesale, Inc., Dallas. Shea spoke from experience having come to this country from Newfoundland at the age of 18, because the country offered freedom. He urged a return to what the founding fathers offered, a return to God, and to see that those we elect uphold these principles.

Other presagers of the critical situation of today were Lyndsay B. Hawkins, Breckenridge attorney, who spoke at Tuesday evening's session on "Apples of Gold in Pictures of Silver", and Mrs. Hubert Baker, Ozona, district president, who spoke as she recently did while on a visit here, on the higher things of life. She termed the present situation a human problem, not a political one, a war between Godless atheism and human freedom. She called upon the club women to live up to their convictions. She reminded them of the three famous Americans, Washington, who gave us a free government under God; Lincoln, who preserved it; and Susan B. Anthony, who gave women their proper place in it.

Tuesday was a full day, speeches were timed, club reports were given, True interest was evidenced by the fact that they listened and formed a most responsive audience.

Club reports showed that the West Texas Club women have been busy. That their programs as summarized show that they are widening horizons, and are serving others. Topics show serious subjects such as International relations, getting to know our American neighbors; Middle and Far East; Needs and of Youth and what to do to fill those needs.

Reports showed also that club women helped with all the community drives; red feather, Red Cross, TB Seals, blood banks, Girl Scouts, nurseries and Korean relief.

They voted to adopt the new project of the state international relations committee: Helping Austrian Children in three different hospitals for the next two years.

Following the parliamentary breakfast at the Victor Hotel, Tuesday, Mr. S. E. Hittson and Mrs. Douglas Hill, both of Cisco, played an organ prelude for the opening session presided over by Mrs. Baker and Mrs. J. F. Boren, district first vice president, Mrs. J. E. Crawford, Cisco, gave "Thought for the Day", and A. E. Waller, Cisco Church of Christ minister, gave the invocation.

Presentation of the flag was by the Cisco Boy Scouts under the direction of J. V. Heyser, Jr., Scoutmaster. Pledge of allegiance was led by Mrs. A. J. House of Youkum. G. S. Rosenthal, Cisco mayor, extended the official welcome. Mrs. A. J. Olsen, vice president of the Cisco City Federation gave greetings from the Cisco Clubs. Pearl Currie, district second vice president, gave response.

Eudora Hawkins, Abilene, convention chairman presented Junior club members and Mrs. Marshall Heap, Junction, chairman of hospitality, the newcomers, who, by two to one, outnumbered the oldtimers.

Mrs. J. L. Blackburn, Baird, special consultant for the legislation department of the district, spoke briefly after introducing Mr. Cox. Mrs. Ken Cody, Ozona, is chairman, Mrs. Jesse Nance Lometa, was chairman of the report of the American Home Department, with Mrs. J. G. Merritt, Colorado City, special department consultant.

Mrs. House, regional vice-president, TPWC answered questions posed by Mrs. J. J. Perry, Sweetwater, chairman extension, GPWC on club extension and institutes.

Re-elected Trustees

Mrs. Fred Heyser, Putnam was luncheon meeting chairman. Mrs. V. C. Overall, Cisco, gave the invocation. Solos were sung by Ruth Beaty of Cisco Junior College.

Cal Campbell, director of the Warm Springs Foundation, Gonzales, spoke during the public welfare session, chaired by Mrs. David Gamble, Merkel. Mrs. M. H. Hagaman, Ranger, was consultant. Mrs. Henry Bailey, Alpine, state chairman of public welfare, spoke on the M. D. Anderson hospital.

Nancy Chuck, violinist, played "Romance" by Wieniaska, accompanied by Fred Shockley. Both are Cisco high school students.

Elaborate Battle of Flowers decorations were used for the Texas Day Dinner, with Mrs. Dudley, new first TPWC vice president, presiding. Small maps of Texas were used to mark the places. Mrs. Phillip Pettit, Cisco, gave the invocation and music was presented by the Beauty Shop Quartet of the college.

B. A. Butler, secretary of the Cisco Chamber of Commerce spoke.

Tuesday evening's session was designated, President's Evening, with Mrs. Boren conducting. Jane Huettis, Cisco, played the organ prelude. The Rev. Leslie Seymour, district superintendent of the Methodist Churches, gave the invocation.

Mrs. Perkins described the federation headquarters at Washington, D. C., and the A Cappella Choir of Cisco Junior College sang a group of selections.

In the closing session of the three-day convention Wednesday, Colorado City was chosen as the site for the 1953 meeting. The exact time will be set later.

Those attending from Ranger were Mrs. M. H. Hagaman, C. B. Bruce, W. Ross Hodges, A. W. Brazda, Saul Perlestein, Ronald Pruet and Billie Anderson.

A party with a double purpose was held Monday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Coon Goforth who reside on the Caddo Highway. The party was in honor of Mr. Goforth's forty-seventh birthday and also to celebrate the eighteenth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Ruthford.

Various games including forty-two were enjoyed by those present and Mr. and Mrs. Ruthford furnished some lively music during the evening.

Refreshments of pie, cake, salad sandwiches and coffee were served buffet style to the honorees and Mr. and Mrs. Tuck Goforth, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Goforth, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Goforth, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Womack, Mr. and Mrs. Athan Doney, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Ruthford, Mr. and Mrs. Neal Hodges, Miss Carrie Agnew, Miss Betty Barnes, W. ### Revival Spirit Growing At 1st Baptist Church

The revival spirit is growing and there is great evidence that the Lord is directing in every activity. Souls are being saved, the crowds are increasing, members are being added to the church. The revival that Ranger has been in need of is here, and the entire citizenship is invited to cooperate in this splendid effort in "Rebuilding the Walls of Jerusalem," says Rev. Perkins.

Thursday night is dedicated to the men of the "Service Battery 648th, Armored Field Artillery of 49th Armored Division of Texas National Guard", under the command of Capt. Bruce Harris. These men of home defense realize that the spiritual as well as the material is needed to rebuild the city walls.

A special recognition of men and deacons will highlight the evening. The 16 area captains are at work and a great fellowship has been created and the Lord's name and work is being magnified.

An open invitation is extended to those in this area who do not have a church home to come and have fellowship and worship with us. Members from many of the denominations represented in the city are attending each service. The morning Breakfast Devotional hour will be for men only on Friday, reports an official.

'Fires of Sin' To Be Discussed At 2nd Baptist

"Attendance is increasing in both morning and evening services and interest with attendance in the Second Baptist Revival. Wednesday morning attendance more than doubled over that of the previous day. Evening attendance grew in like proportion," Rev. Jasper Massee said.

The Sunday School sponsored the prayer services and the evening preaching services Wednesday. Tonight the Training Union will sponsor both hours of the revival services.

Sunday School attendance goal for Sunday is 296. The unique plan 199 and 1 is being displayed by pennants worn by members of the Sunday School to publicize the goal.

Evangelist Dr. A. A. Brian of Brownwood delivered the sermon last evening upon the subject "Where are the dead." The subject for tonight's sermon will be "Fires of Sin".

Prayer meetings begin at 7:00 p.m., song services start promptly at 7:30. Day services through Saturday are held 10:00 a.m. Al Brian, son of Dr. Brian, a junior student in Howard Payne College is conducting the song services each evening.

Friday evening will be Youth Night and fellowship hour will be held immediately following the services for all of the young people. Mrs. C. C. Harris will be in charge of the special music for the service. She will present her choir at that time. There will also be a group of young people from Howard Payne College.

A special message of prime importance will be presented by Rev. Perkins. The services begin with breakfast being served until 7:15 and then a 30 minute worship service. The meeting adjourning promptly at 7:45. Arrangements are being made for 150 men and boys.

Then at 10:00 a.m. there will be a special meeting for the Women and Young Women of Ranger, regardless of denomination. The pastor believes that this message is of sufficient importance to warrant a general invitation to women who are concerned about their homes, schools, and community, as well as the proper relationship within the family.

Friday evening will be Ladies night and the WMU of the church will receive special recognition with the circles being recognized. Mrs. Loyd Clem is president and the following are circle chairmen: Mrs. Earle Pittman, Mrs. Lloyd Bruce, Mrs. Jimmy Jones, Mrs. Hugh Smith, and Mrs. G. B. Rush. ### CISCO BAPTIST ASSOCIATION PASTORS MEET IN EASTLAND

Pastors, evangelist, and singer met in the First Baptist Church Eastland to consider the work thus far in the campaign. There were eight churches represented reporting 34 having come for baptism, 23 by letter and 12 others having made professions of faith.

As Rev. H. H. McBride received the reports, it seemed the feeling of all that glorious days are ahead, that many will decide for Christ, that churches are concerned, and that the attendance is better than usual. All are planning high attendance for Sunday, the pastor said.

Dr. D. D. Seeger of Fort Arthur, director of the Association revival campaign this week, brought the closing challenge to those present to "do the work we know needs to be done."

The next meeting will be held at noon Friday in First Baptist Church, and reports are expected from most all the churches of the association to find out the complete plans and programs. All pastors and workers are urged to meet with this group, even though their campaign may not be in progress.

ABILENE, April—Beth Garrison, McMurry College student from Ranger, is one of the about 550 McMurry students who will be on Easter vacation from April 10-April 14. The students will be dismissed from classes at noon, April 10 and will not have to report back until 8 a.m., April 14. This will be the last holiday of the year, as final examinations will be completed May 18.

Red Cross To Help Rebuild Tornado Area

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—As the period of emergency mass care for victims of last week's southern tornadoes neared its close, the American Red Cross moved into the gear to rebuild the shattered lives and homes of the disaster sufferers.

now in the stricken region will help the hurt and the homeless, the orphaned, the aged, the widowed, and the ill.

"Two categories of victims will receive special attention," James T. Nicholson, Red Cross Executive Vice President, said today. "One group will be survivors of the dead. Among these will be many dependent children for whose support and education we will make long-range plans where other resources are not available.

"The other category is the seriously injured. This disaster has caused an extremely large number of injuries—1,281 persons—of whom 731 are hospitalized. In spite of expert care, a number will be physically handicapped, needing medical treatment for months or years, and assistance not only for their injuries but for their livelihood as well. This we are prepared to give them where necessary."

In White County, Ark., thousands of dollars worth of strawberries for which the region is famous may be lost. The crop will be ready to harvest in two or three weeks, according to the growers, but many shelters for housing berry pickers and the transportation to bring them to the farms were destroyed.

GRAHAM B. SMEDLEY

AUSTIN — Associate Justice Graham B. Smedley, a recognized authority on water, oil and gas law, announced that he will be a candidate for a second elective term on the Supreme Court of Texas. Justice Smedley rose to a position on the state's highest court from the Supreme Court Commission of Appeals when, in 1945, the Supreme Court was increased to nine members.

Such is the case of 17-year-old James Black, operating the family farm near Bald Knob while his father is in the hospital. He has nine acres of strawberries. The twister destroyed his home and the house built for berry pickers and ruined his truck. The Red Cross will do what it can to aid Black, as well as other farmers who are storm victims.

Earl Wilson is a barber in Judsonia, Ark. He lives with his wife and three small children at Bald Knob, five miles away. When the tornado ripped through both communities, Wilson was a two-time loser—both his home and the barber shop were destroyed. Wilson, like many of his neighbors, has registered with the Red Cross for assistance.

For these and hundreds of other victims, the Red Cross has opened general relief operation headquarters in Little Rock, Ark., with additional offices in the stricken counties.

This week, Red Cross chapter officials in the tornado area are appointing local advisor committees on rehabilitation to work with the Red Cross disaster workers, who include social caseworkers, building advisers, accountants, doctors, and nurses. Local committee members will review individually each application for rehabilitation and advise on each Red Cross rehabilitation plan. Use of these local committees in relief operations is standard Red Cross practice, Mr. Nicholson said, for they are indispensable in interpreting local conditions to the Red Cross workers and explaining Red Cross functions and the limitations on them to prospective beneficiaries and to the public.

Red Cross disaster relief is always a direct grant—never a loan, Mr. Nicholson said. It is a gift of the American people, with no obligation of repayment by the individual or the community. The disaster-caused needs of the individual or family, rather than extent of loss, are the basis upon which assistance is given. A person who has lost heavily in a disaster but who is able to stand the loss financially, without unreasonable hardship, is not eligible for Red Cross aid. The relief funds are expended to meet actual needs which the sufferers cannot meet from their own resources. Thus, two neighbors who have suffered practically identical losses may receive widely different help from the Red Cross, depending on their respective abilities to meet their own disaster-caused needs, Mr. Nicholson explained.

Red Cross rehabilitation assistance includes rebuilding or repairing of homes; replacement of furnishings; medical and nursing care; repair and replacement of farm equipment, supplies, and livestock; and rehabilitation of small family-owned businesses and other specific needs.

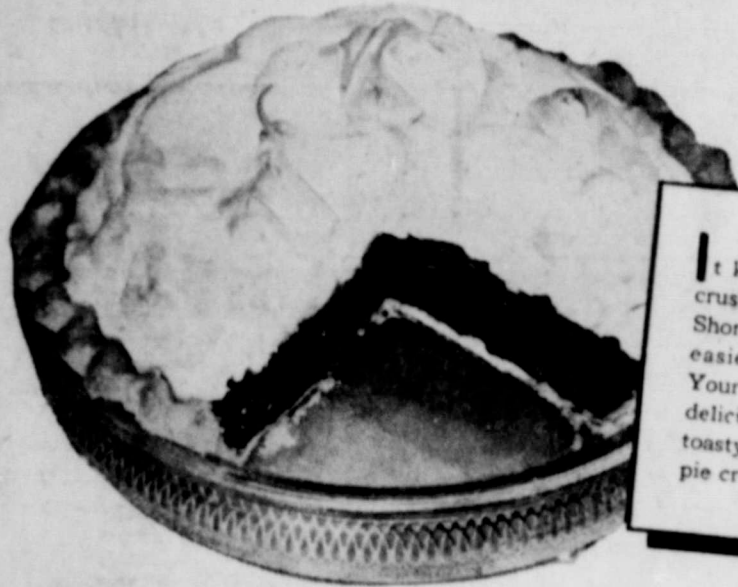

According to Red Cross estimates, 2,747 families were affected in the tornadoes, of whom an estimated 2,246 will register for rehabilitation aid. Red Cross surveys show 1,117 homes destroyed and 2,218 damaged.

Summer School For Mothers Of Pre-School Deaf Children Set For May 27th, June 7th, Austin

You will recall that last year we cooperated with the State School for the Deaf in arranging for a school for the mothers of pre-school deaf children. This same project will be repeated this year.

A summer school will be held at the Texas School for the Deaf beginning May 27 and closing June 7. Actual instruction will not start until May 28, but mothers and children will be expected to arrive sometime on May 27.

Any mother and pre-school deaf child who is a resident of the state will be potentially eligible to attend this school. Mothers who attended the same school last year of course, will not be eligible this year, since it is assumed that they will carry on from their experience of last year. Any child who has considerable degree of deafness is eligible to attend provided he is not over eight or nine years of age. Precedence will be given those children who will become six years of age by September of this year. However, any pre-school child is eligible.

In planning for age groups will make it impractical to accept children of more than eight or nine years of age. Any seven, eight or nine year old child may already have been in school other than the School for the Deaf. But they might be eligible, if the teacher or parents consider that they are having difficulty in continuing in school because of their deafness.

The mothers, with their children, will be provided room, board and laundry as guests of the Texas School for the Deaf during this ten-day period. Each mother with her child will have a separate room in one of the dormitories during the session. The instruction and lectures will be primarily designed to aid each mother in the care of her child before the child is eligible to attend school. No attempt will be made to train the mothers as teachers, but to help them understand the problems and development of a young deaf child before entering school.

Mrs. Spencer Tracy, again, will be among those present for teaching the mothers.

During the mothers' stay at the school, people will be available to take care of the children while the mothers are in classes. Recreation workers will be with the children to supervise their play. Attempts will be made to determine if the children attending do have any hearing present which could be utilized in the development of speech and language.

Any worker knowing of the mother of a pre-school deaf child who would be interested in a program of this type should report this to the Superintendent, Texas School for the Deaf, 1102 South Congress Ave., Austin. Please send the child's name, parents' name, birth date of child, and address of the family. If the family lives in a rural area please give directions for reaching the home if possible.

The Superintendent of the institution upon receipt of the parents' name and address, and the name of the deaf child will send family a questionnaire. Upon return of the questionnaire, if it is indicated that the family will be unable to provide transportation to and from the institution (remember laundry and room and board will be supplied free by the institution), the Superintendent will send Mr. Winters the name of this particular family. We in turn, then, will write the worker so that without fail, community resources will be evolved, to the end that transportation funds will be made available.

I know that each of you realize how valuable this project is and that you will take immediate steps to search out in the community possibly eligible mothers and children. Some of you may find a short news item in your local paper indicated. In many communities, I am sure you will contact other agencies, informing them of this opportunity.

This will require immediate emphasis, since planning for the project has just now been completed and little time remains.

come from a watershed covering approximately 300 square miles.

The reservoir would supply under normal conditions about 2,000,000 gallons of water per day and at top capacity could furnish 3,500,000 gallons every twenty-four hours. Cost to Ranger would be approximately 5 cents per thousand gallons more than the city now has to pay, delivered to the city reservoir in a purified and ready to use state.

Mayor Price Crawley stated at the meeting that there would be no increase in the water rates in Ranger under the plan of buying water from the district.

It was stated that comparing the figures obtained in the survey of water usage for the past three years in Eastland and Ranger showed that the output would be more than three times the average daily usage from their present water supplies, or an abundance of water for both domestic and industrial uses.

In order for Ranger and Eastland to buy water from the district an election would be called and a vote taken from the people as to whether they wanted to buy their water from them. The whole plan bases on the thought that the people of these two cities do want to buy their water from a supply that is adequate and would so vote in an election.

Should the bond issue carry on April 22, and the two cities vote to buy their water from the district within a reasonable amount of time, it was told at the meeting that actual construction could start on the lake in August of 1952.

The question of who is eligible to vote arose at the meeting and attorney Jack Frost of Eastland, legal counsel for the board stated that:

To vote you have to be a resident and live within the corporate city limits of Ranger or Eastland. And own and have rendered for taxation with the County of Eastland property within the city limits of the water district, which is the corporate city limits of Eastland and Ranger. The property may be real or personal and must either be rendered for 1951 taxation purposes or be rendered before the bond election for 1952. And as in all elections you must have paid your poll tax.

O. D. Dillingham of Abilene, and president of the Ranger bank, said that "he was surprised the project cost only $1,500,000 and would impound so much water. As a matter of fact I know of some towns who have spent more money than that and still do not have an adequate water supply." Mr. Dillingham was very enthused about this project for getting water in Eastland County and urged they do everything to make it a success.

Cooperation between Ranger and Eastland has brought the water district this far in its efforts to provide water. Without the two towns cooperating in the wholehearted manner as they are doing now there could be no lake such as the one they propose to build. The project is too large for any one town in Eastland County to go at it singly, but action of Ranger and Eastland in getting preparations made has shown cooperation can do anything.

For any further information you may write the Ranger Daily Times and we will attempt to secure that information from the Eastland County Water Supply District if you request, or talk with any one present at the meeting, or a member of the Water District Board of Directors.

Here is today's household hint: Try a coat of clear shellac on pottery which contains flowers needing water daily. The shellac prevents sweating which leaves the white ring on woodwork.

Circus Operator Will Appear Today In Federal Court

AUSTIN, April 3 (UP)—Circus operator Benjamin C. Davenport of Gonzales goes before a U.S. Commissioner in Austin today for a hearing on a federal charge that he transported $83,000 in stolen cash and securities across a state line.

Davenport has been free on $10,000 bond since March 25th, the day following his arrest by federal authorities in Austin. He was charged with the interstate transportation of stolen money and securities which federal agents said he took from a Uvalde rancher.

If your vacuum cleaner has a sprayer attachment, put it to work in your spring refurbishing. It can be used to apply water-thinned paint and liquid wax to floors and wood furniture. It also will do a good job spraying insecticides, both inside and outdoors on flower beds or shrubbery.

Campaign To Get Men To Wear Hats Staged
The men's hat industry would like to have the males out buying new Easter Chapeaux along with the ladies.
A campaign to get all men wear hats is being staged by the makers of half a dozen name brands.

Their motto is, "hats as healthy as they're handsome."
"If we're going to win this war against 'ocar-headedness," the group says, "it's going to take time and money. We're in this to stay."

Major move of the campaign is to flood the nation with pictures of handsome men, who apparently get that way because they're hatted.
Month after month, the public will view hats which the corporation calls "eye-catching" or "wo-men getting."
