

SEEN OR HEARD

We spoke briefly with Coach Sam Allis yesterday afternoon and the good grid mentor said his and Coach "Stubby's" charges were looking good.

Allis thinks they are looking the best about now than they have at any other time during the spring training.

Of course the team isn't supposed to hear this and start loafing. But we believe they understand what they will be up against, especially Stephenville's debut into this district. Those Yellow Jackets will be gunning for a title in the opening year down here with the "small ones".

Our neck is bloody and battered now—so we'll go ahead and stick it out again—but we think maybe the fine people from Stephenville may have a tough time when they start stinging the Bulldogs next season.

We have received a letter from Fagan Dickson of the Loyal Democrats of Texas pointing out his side of the forthcoming political issues. He is also asking us to take up the matter. We think he can better present his own case. The letter follows. You very recently heard Governor Shivers and each day read about their political battle. Here is Mr. Dickson's viewpoint:

I hope you will find an opportunity to present in your editorial columns the merits of the two issues involved in the May conventions in Texas, namely, the unstructured delegation proposal and the party loyalty pledge. Although the voting public is usually indifferent to such questions, 1952 seems to be an exception.

The unstructured delegation proposal hinges on whether you are in favor of having a majority of the voters of a party select their nominees for President and Vice-President and express themselves as to their party platform, or whether you think these decisions can best be made by their delegates. Our present convention system provides that the nominees for President and Vice President on the Democratic ticket will be selected, so far as Texas is concerned, by the majority at the State Democratic Convention at San Antonio on May 27. This method is more democratic and would seem to be preferable to Governor Shivers' plan of an unstructured delegation, which gives a handful of delegates the power to vote against the wishes of a majority of the Democrats of Texas. The unstructured idea actually makes the individual voter's attendance at the conventions a waste of time; why should he not express himself?

The question of the party loyalty pledge hinges on whether you believe in a two-party political system. Independents who do not belong to either party are, of course, free to vote as they choose in November. A voter who wishes to participate in party councils, such as the precinct, county and state conventions of a party, should choose the party he has the most confidence in and agree to go along with the candidates who are selected by the majority of that party's members. If a voter will not bind himself by the simple fundamental of abiding by the majority will in the voluntary party organization, then he should not offer himself for membership and misuse the confidence placed in him.

The Governor of Texas has stated his intention of having a poll taken, after the Democratic National Convention has selected the party's candidates for President and Vice President, to determine what candidates for President and Vice President should appear at the head of the Democratic ticket in Texas. This method of substituting government by poll for the tried-and-true method of government by party is destructive of our two-party system and will result in a complete disfranchisement of a substantial number of the voters of Texas.

"We believe that you can do a real service to your readers by analyzing and discussing the merits of these two issues which are involved in the May conventions of both major political parties. Yours very truly, Fagan Dickson"

CONVICTED—Lt. Verne Goodwin, left, first of 13 flying officers to be court martialed for refusing to fly is confined to his quarters at Briggs AFB near El Paso after he was sentenced to two years in prison. Goodwin testified he refused to fly because he feared his nervous and pregnant wife would lose her baby. Mrs. Goodwin, right, holds their two-month-old son, Roger, born two months prematurely when she heard her husband was to be court martialed. (NEA Telephoto)

RIDES FOR VOTERS

Ranger's four car dealers have shown their support of the proposed bond issue by volunteering the services of their personnel and automobiles to haul voters not having rides to the polls on voting day, April 22. The service will function from the time the polls open until they close.

Those of you who will not have transportation available to and from the polls on Tuesday, April 22 should call:

LEVELLE MOTOR CO.—PHONE 217 or
CRAWLEY MOTOR CO.—PHONE 225, or CLARKE MOTOR CO.—PHONE 511, or ANDERSON CHEVROLET—PHONE 14.

Do not let transportation stand in the way of your voting your choice in this very important matter. Take advantage of the generosity of these fine establishments and go to the polls and vote Tuesday.

Former Eastland County Resident Dies In Sinton

Mrs. W. E. Sneed of Clovis, New Mexico, arrived in Ranger early this morning to join her brother and sister, Charles Ashcraft and Mrs. Sally Rogers on a trip to Sinton, Texas, for the funeral services of another sister, Mrs. Bertha Phillips, Saturday morning April 19.

Mrs. Phillips, the former Bertha Ashcraft, was born April 27, 1890 and grew up in the Salem and Cheney communities. In 1912 she taught the Mountain rural school, five miles north of Desdemona and the following year, she taught Leon school, southeast of Gorman.

At the age of thirteen she united with the Baptist church and was a faithful and active member the remainder of her life.

On March 30, 1912 she was married to Rev. N. F. Phillips of Gorman, a rural Baptist minister, in the old Ashcraft home near Salem. In 1914 she moved to South Texas where she reared her family of seven children, five daughters and two sons, all of whom survive her.

Buddy and Ollie Earl Rogers will accompany Mr. Ashcraft, Mrs. Rogers and Mrs. Sneed on the trip.

Churchill In Confinement Due To Cold

WESTERHAM, England, April 18 (UP)—British Prime Minister Winston Churchill is confined to his Chartwell Country home with a heavy chest cold.

An announcement by Number 10 Downing Street last night said the cold was following a normal course. But parliamentary circles are anxious because of the Prime Minister's advanced age, he is 77.

Churchill is continuing to carry on his duties and receive callers, but the cold forced him and his wife to cancel plans to be weekend guests of Queen Elizabeth at Windsor Castle.

Dr. Boswell Will Speak At Rotary Meeting Monday

The District Governor of the 18th Rotary District has requested that Dr. G. C. Boswell, past district governor, deliver a speech at the 18th District Conference in Wichita Falls on Monday.

Dr. Boswell stated the governor had assigned him the subject of "Proper Training of Youth" for his address.

Dr. and Mrs. G. C. Boswell, Mr. and Mrs. James Raliff, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Smith, and Mr. and Mrs. Morris Newnam will attend from Ranger.

Guard Members Appear Before Lions Thursday

Local National Guardsmen presented a program similar to the one presented at the Rotary Club at the Lions gathering yesterday at noon.

Capt. Bruce Harris, First Sergeant Jess Cole, T-Sgt. Floyd Simmons, Pfc. Billy Bonney, and Pvt. Fred Harter demonstrated weapons of the guard, showed a film, or spoke about how the guard is of benefit to the nation and town in peace and war.

Peverly Dudley, Jr., asked of Mayor Price Crawley at the meeting if Ranger has a disaster plan in connection with Fort Worth and area being named a critical section.

Mayor Crawley said the city does not. But that some effort had been made along that line. But that no actual organization had ever come of the work.

Capt. Bruce Harris, who commands the Ranger National Guard unit, stated the guard has such a disaster plan. And he could have his unit assembled and fully equipped to get moving in a matter of hours.

Lion President Pat Thomas named a nominating committee of three Lions to select prospective officers for the approaching year.

Thomas also asked and was given permission of the club to have the committee report next Thursday, and hold an election the same day.

T. J. Anderson, R. V. Galloway, and Wilson Guest were named to nominate members for the election. Anderson was named chairman of the group.

Pete Brasher presented the local Guard unit in the Thursday program.

Mark King of the Strawn Lions Club was the only guest.

GOP Lawmakers Praise Firing Pro-Red Writer

WASHINGTON, April 18, UP—Three Republican members of the House UN-American Activities Committee praised RKO movie producer Howard Hughes today for firing writer Paul Jarrico.

Representatives Harold Valde of Illinois, Bernard Kearney of New Jersey and Charles Potter of Michigan said in a joint statement that Hughes' action was an "important step toward eradication of Communists and communists influence from the entertainment world."

The statement adds—"The American people have every right to know if an artist whose work they are paying to see subscribes the same philosophy and that the same end goals as do the Chinese Communists in North Korea and their fellow-conspirators throughout the world."

Jarrico refused a year ago to tell the committee whether he was or ever had been a communist. Several witnesses have told the committee that Jarrico was a communist.

Political Fireworks May Be Popping At New Braunfels

By United Press
There may be some political fireworks popping today at the Texas Democratic Executive Committee meeting at New Braunfels.

Two factions, the so-called "Loyal Democrats" and the opposing Shivers group, are expected to kick the unstructured delegation question around considerably. Shivers is campaigning for an unstructured Texas delegation to the National Democratic Nominating Convention in July.

The "Loyal Democrats", working for an unstructured delegation, may recommend that the executive committee order county Democratic chairmen to require the loyalty pledge. It is a promise to support all nominees of the party, from the precinct convention level on up.

The governor is expected to ask the executive committee to leave the loyalty pledge question up to county and precinct organizations.

If Shivers' program should prevail, it will get its next test at the May 27 precinct conventions. In that convention, "Loyalists" again are expected to battle the Shivers' group for party control.

Meanwhile, in a letter to the anti-Fair Deal Harris County Democratic Club, Gov. Shivers has reiterated his strong support of

Valley Residents Facing Serious Water Shortages

By United Press
Rio Grande Valley water officials may initiate injunction proceedings to stop depletion of their critical water shortage.

Brownsville residents said that water irrigation districts higher up the Rio Grande River are taking water at the expense of domestic users. The flow of the Rio Grande is at an all-time low. It was measured at Rio Grande City this week at 350 cubic feet per second, the lowest mark ever recorded.

Yesterday, the Brownsville City Commission authorized City Manager E. M. Watts to put water rationing into effect when reserves reach a critical low. Watts said that will be Monday. And John Barron, superintendent of Brownsville schools, said this will mean closing the schools because of the lack of proper sanitary facilities.

You - Mr. Citizen - Are Affected (Editorial)

Should we—those of us having the authority to vote on the bond issue next Tuesday—deny our fellow citizens, community, and ourselves the right to a new and fresh outlook on life?

Nothing has even been more important to two towns than water is to Ranger and Eastland.

Heretofore little or nothing has been done about our plight of being without sufficient water for our daily domestic needs, much less the needs of new industries who would want to come to this area.

Should the peoples of Ranger and Eastland choose to show their foresight and intelligence by voting for the bond issue April 22, it is believed the day would never come when they would regret that move.

This plan of getting water. At a cheap cost. On a pay-for-itself basis could mean the salvation of our community.

Cast out now the idea of the average citizen not being affected by not having water. Local industries are feeling the pinch of inadequate water. A majority of us depend on those businesses for a livelihood. A temporary or permanent shutdown would mean layoffs or discontinuance of jobs. That affects the average man.

No one can deny we do not now have an adequate supply of water for our present needs. Before going to the polls and voting Tuesday—drive by your community water supply and see where you stand in the light of having water for the coming summer.

You can't measure your present water supply in months, when it is so much easier to base your calculations on the number of days supply remaining.

This is a business proposition. Businessmen have spent hours, and thousands of hours working toward this plan. All they ask of you is to have faith in their judgment.

As cautious as the planners of a way for renewed life for our community will be the bond purchasers. They will conduct their own investigation. They will purchase the bonds only if our local businessmen have made a business proposition, and they can see where the Eastland County Water Supply District can meet the standards set for itself.

We believe and firmly advocate you showing your desire to become an important part in a growing community, and proving by your vote, your faith in the men guiding us in the time of dire circumstances, the approval of the bond issue Tuesday, April 22.

A man is no larger than himself. A town is no larger than its water supply.

VOTE FOR THE BOND ISSUE APRIL 22.

Lone Star Will Ask Price Boost For Gas, Claim

The Lone Star Gas Company will seek increases in residential and commercial gas rates in 375, Texas and Oklahoma cities and towns, which it serves. This of course will include Eastland.

No revision in gas rates have been made since 1942, it is said, when they made a reduction in price of 13 per cent.

"The Lone Star Gas Co. has taken a great deal of pride in the fact that we have been able to furnish a good, adequate service to our customers at the lowest possible price conducive to good business and sufficient earnings," Mr. Hulcy, company president, said. In May 1942, we reduced our rates 13 per cent. Now we are in an almost unique position. There are few things we can think of today that cost less than it did prior to World War II. We have been happy that we were able to do it."

Mr. Hulcy declared that the company will seek rate increases based on studies of operating costs and future needs. These studies are now nearing completion.

"I believe our customers as well as the regulatory bodies will understand our situation," he continued, "because all businesses and individuals too have had to waffle with the problem of increased costs."

Lone Star's net income in 1951 was 1.4 per cent less than for the year 1950 he reported to the stockholders, and the direct tax bill of $10,718,264 in 1951 was in excess of dividends paid to stockholders and also exceeded net earnings.

"This tax bill" he stated "look over 18 cents out of every dollar Lone Star received for gas service."

He concluded his remarks to the stockholders with an optimistic picture for the future of the Southwest area.

Army Men Battle Critical Areas In Council Bluffs

By United Press
The Missouri has been hovering slightly over 20 feet for hours. The crest possibly has been reached, or it may climb to the predicted 21 and a half feet. Anyway tons of water are pounding at the dikes protecting Council Bluffs and Omaha.

All civilians have been ordered off critical "sector seven," the anchor levee protecting 42,000 homes in Council Bluffs. They've moved to levees farther south and a desperate plea has been issued for more volunteers to help them shore up the dikes.

Fifteen thousand weary men, women and children are battling around the clock to strengthen the dikes at Omaha, Neb., and Council Bluffs, Ia., across the river. At the critical point called "sector seven" on the Council Bluffs side, martial law is in effect. All civilians have been ordered out, and only Fifth Army men remain to plug leaks in the hard-hit dikes. Officials warn that even when the crest passes there will be no relief and that the danger to the twin cities may go on for days.

A new warning by the government that more floods are threatened by heavy snowpacks in the West has spurred plans for rehabilitating the Midwestern flood area. The Agricultural Department said the new floods could come along several streams in Idaho, the lower San Joaquin Valley of California and the San Luis Valley of New Mexico.

Minnesota has asked President Truman to declare the flooded Red River Valley a disaster area. Governor Elmer Anderson wired the request to the president, specifically referring to the Moorhead area where hundreds of persons were driven from their homes by a record crest on the Red River.

Previously the Reconstruction Finance Corporation designated parts of the Mississippi and Minnesota River valleys as disaster areas.

Aggie Muster Is To Be Saturday

Quite a number of Eastland County people are expected to be in attendance at the Annual Aggie Muster which will be held Saturday, the 19th, at old Fort Griffith. Fort Griffith is about 15 miles north of Albany on the Albany-Throckmorton highway.

A car pool will be formed in Eastland at the Texas Electric Service Co., at 3 o'clock Saturday, to make the trip to the Fort. All members of the organization are urged to be present.

RHS Bandmen Will Compete At San Angelo

Ranger high school band director C. F. Briggs will enter 22 band members as soloists in the band competition at San Angelo Saturday. The contests will start at 9:00 a. m. and continue until 5:00 p. m. The 22 soloist will play approximately 31 solos, some of them playing two or three.

The bandmen going are Mary Ellen Deffebach, Madelyn Bend, Sherry King, Dena Pulley, Diane Erwin, Barbara Long, Lida Jane Smith, Linda Needham, Max Don, Donley, Billy Fox, Eugene Sutton, Margaret Needham, Cynthia Hull, Louise Shaffer, Johnny Gay, Noel Kim, Weldon Needham, Joe Charles Lawson, Claude Koenig, Ann Doris, Bob Maddox and Acker Everett.

The group will go in cars to the meet. Mrs. Raymond Long, Mrs. Vernon Deffebach, Mrs. Tommy Fox, Mr. G. B. Rush, and the band director will accompany the musicians.

FARM BUREAU OPPOSES 100% GOVERNMENT PEANUT PARITY

WASHINGTON, April 18 (UP)—President Allan Kline of the American Farm Bureau Federation said a proposal to boost price supports to 100 per cent of parity would "trap" farmers into "complete government control."

In a statement prepared for the Senate Agriculture Committee, Kline said 100 per cent supports would lead to "out-and-out price fixing" by the government, because consumers would insist upon price ceilings at the same figure.

The committee also is scheduled to hear testimony from Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan on various price support measures.

Kline told the committee that "thinking farmers know the proposal of 100 per cent price supports is a trap. It would mean complete government control of farm production, including the matter of who would grow what and how much. It would mean deciding on a political rather than economic basis the production pattern of American Agriculture."

The agriculture committee is holding hearings on three new price support bills. One of them by Sen. Robert Kerr of Oklahoma, would raise maximum supports on most major farm crops except fruits and vegetables to 100 per cent of parity.

MORE PRECIOUS THAN RUBIES

NOW Alma Conroy remembered the curious fact that Mrs. Denton had "come to say goodby" a full day in advance of going on her trip to Mexico. There was also that little business of dropping that handkerchief. What had that handkerchief contained? Its contents, if any, could easily have been spilled in between the slats of the grille on the eve of the floor being taken up by Higgins, the new gold-buying company.

The Albert and Victoria gin was small. Mrs. Denton, it was now obvious, could have taken it, or anything else she wished, out of those inaccessibly placed cases in the appraisal department. And of course, Mrs. Denton was about the only person at Trumbull's who would not be suspected.

The more she thought of it the more sure Alma became that there had been something concealed in the handkerchief the old woman had dropped. Had it been the British jewel or something else? Perhaps Mrs. Denton had the gin in her possession at this very moment, intending to claim the $25,000 reward. But no, that idea was nonsense! She would not dare attempt doing anything so direct. The floor of the workroom must hold the solution of the thefts.

But it was strange that Mrs. Denton should be going to Mexico. Alma's heart skipped a beat at the suspicion this thought gave rise. How much was Joe involved? And Tommy—what part had he in this whole affair? Had he and Joe been playing some sort of crooked game together? No, that simply didn't make sense. She couldn't think of a mortal scrap of evidence which linked the activities of Tommy and Joe for many weeks past.

SHE stood on the street corner, hesitant, wondering what to do next, the shoe-box heavy under her arm. She felt as though she had been carrying it forever. A glance at her watch showed her that it was already after 4 o'clock. She had promised to meet Tommy at 5 with the money. Now she had neither the cash nor any certainty about when if ever she would see her husband again. It was too late to go back to Trumbull's even if she had felt able to do so. She simply had to go someplace where she could hold her aching head and think things out quietly, yet she was almost afraid to return to her apartment. The police might come; might already be there, waiting. But there did not seem to be any other place to go. Reluctantly she turned toward home.

Even before she used her latchkey she knew that Tommy was in the flat. There were no voices, but she could hear his light, dancelike tread pacing the floor. That extra sense which was the basic essence of their relationship, tugged at her intimately, telling her that he was impatient and anxious, wishing for her violently. And a sort of holy rage swept over her. This, she thought, is going to be a showdown to end all showdowns.

I am going to call on everything decent which has ever existed between us, and use it to wring the truth out of him if it kills us both. No matter what that truth is, no matter how it hurts or what facing it lets us in for, we are going to face it together and take whatever punishment is necessary. There is going to be no more fooling myself about Tommy, no more wondering what he does, no more protecting him. He's going to stand on his own two feet now—either beside me, or away from me. But heaven give me strength, he's going to stand!

Opening her purse Alma took out the cuff-link, concealed it in the palm of one hand, and then opened the door.

Tommy was home.

TOMMY turned toward her with a quick, anxious gesture his face fixed and drawn.

"Did you get it?" he asked immediately. Anna did not answer. She threw her furs and her package onto the sofa and stood facing him, her eyes fixed steadily on his, waiting for his reaction as she shook her head slowly in answer to his question. Then she uncurled her hand and let him see what she held inside it. But Tommy did nothing dramatic. He merely raised his eyebrows in mild curiosity.

"Hello!" he said. "Where on earth did you get that?" Then a petulant shadow crossed his face. "Now I suppose there will be a row about my having given them away!" he added, defensively.

She was watching every gesture he made, every shadow of expression on his face, and now relief flooded her. Tommy was no actor. She had always been able to see through his best pretenses and he was not acting now. But she had to make perfectly certain. "That depends on whom you gave them to," she said evenly. "That shirt you have on, Tommy—let me see the cuffs!"

He held them up so that she could see he was wearing a pair of plain gold links which he'd had for years.

"What on earth are you driving at, Jewels?" he demanded. "I gave those moonstone links to Bright Muncie, if you want to know the truth. I wore them one day and he admired them a lot. I'd had a few drinks, so I insisted on his taking them and he's been wearing them ever since. I was afraid to tell you, after you'd gone to so much trouble making them especially for me. But Bright had been so regular, giving me this new job, and the chance to make good in your eyes, that I... and now I've spent the money he trusted me with... and you can't raise it. I feel like a swine!"

Tommy Conroy sat down abruptly, his face in his hands.

Grace Kerr Enjoys Campaign; Home, Husband, Children First

WASHINGTON, April 17 (UP)—Home, husband, children always have come first with Grace Kerr, wife of the Oklahoma Senator who is seeking the Democratic presidential nomination.

Mrs. Robert Kerr is 51, and the mother of four children. But she has an appearance any school girl would envy. She's slim, and carries herself so gracefully that she stands out in any crowd. She has blue eyes and a fair skin.

At five-foot, ten-inches, Mrs. Kerr is the smallest member of the Kerr household. The senator, a mere six-foot-three, is overshadowed by his three sons. Bob, 31, and Bill, are six-foot-four-inches, and Breene stands six-six. Kay, the only daughter, is just half an inch short of six feet.

Kay, a pretty brunette, is a junior at Wellesley College, and her mother worries lest she study so much she doesn't have time for fun. Mrs. Kerr says "this younger generation is so serious."

The Kerrs' two oldest sons are married. The youngest, 14-year-old Billy, is living with them in Washington.

Mrs. Kerr has a lovely mezzo-soprano voice and once had ambitions to be a concert singer. But that was before she met Bob Kerr, then a young lawyer, on a tennis court in Ada, Oklahoma. He proposed on the third date and they were married soon after.

In Washington, the Kerrs live in a comparatively small but beautifully furnished house in one of the city's most attractive suburbs.

Mrs. Kerr is enthusiastic about her husband's campaign for the Democratic nomination, but less keen about the chance of becoming first lady.

She says, "I'm a simple soul who loves peace and quiet. 'I know you wouldn't get it in the White House.'"

$25,000 Offered As Top Prize In Fabulous Tam O' Shanter

Topped by a blockbuster $25,000.00 first prize for men professional, and a 5,000.00 first prize for women professional, the George S. May Company's World Championship of Golf, scheduled for play at Tam O' Shanter Country Club, July 31 to August 10, promises to be the most nerve-racking event in golf history.

Cash prizes have been upped, smashing all records even at Tam O' Shanter, where the highest awards have always been paid. The total men's professional purse for the World Championship of Golf has been increased from $50,000.00 to $75,000.00. The women's professional purse has been increased from $6,100.00 to $12,000.00. The All-American Men's Professional has been upped from $15,000.00 to $25,000.00. The increase in the total for all events has been from $77,600.00 to $120,000.00, or 55 per cent.

The George S. May Company, Business Engineers, sponsor these events annually at Tam O' Shanter Country Club and have paid out over $473,700.00 in prizes in the last ten years.

Ben Hogan won the Men's Professional Section of the World Championship of Golf last year with a 72-hole score of 273-15 under par. If that score should win again this year, under the $25,000.00 first prize award the winner will receive $91.50 for every time he hits the ball!

The Women's Professional Section of the World Championship of Golf was won last year by "Babe" Zaharias with a score of 298-5 underpar. The "Babe" also holds Tam's 18-hole course record for women with a 70-6 under par, shot in 1950. The 72-hole record for men at Tam O' Shanter, shot by Byron Nelson in 1945, is 269-19 under par. Tam's 18-hole record, shot by Lloyd Mangrum in 1948, is 63-9 under par.

These events are sanctioned by the Professional Golfer's Association of America and attract the world's greatest golfers.

In addition to the most prominent American contenders, the field last year consisted of such entries as Eric Cremin, Sydney, Australia; Roberto De Vicenzo Buenos Aires, Argentina; G. P. De Wit, Post Den Haag, Holland; Mario Gonzalez, Rio Janeiro, Brazil; Stan Leonard, Vancouver, B. C., Canada; Bobby Locke, Johannesburg, South Africa; Kel Nable, Sydney, Australia; Norman von Nida, Sydney, Australia; Philip Scrutton, London, England; Peter Thompson, Melbourne, Australia.

The All-American Golf Tournament and World Championship of Golf have attracted world-wide attention by their high purses, glamour and the question of whether golfers should or should not wear identifying numbers. Mr. George S. May, genial host to contestants and spectators alike, has always contended that golfers, like baseball players, basketball players, hockey and many other sports contestants, should wear numbers. He feels that a spectator, paying to see a golf even is entitled to that consideration.

Tam O' Shanter, unlike most golf or country clubs, playing host to major golf events, offers its clubhouse facilities to the attending public.

Weather Not So Good

HEARTFORD, Conn. UP—The state board of education has decided that Connecticut weather is not suitable for modern-type schools which are built to take advantage of daylight for illumination. Noting that Connecticut has only about 100 clear days a year, the board ordered that schools be built to rely chiefly on artificial illumination.

NATCHEZ, Miss. UP—F. Brinton Finn, New York art collector who exhibited some of his rare prints here, says that if you have an apple crosswise, then cut off a thin slice from one of the halves and hold it to the light, you will see a perfect outline of the blossom from which the apple grew.

Your Problems are our Business—
... or somebody's business depending on the nature of the problem. Most problems are not a disgrace nor a reflection on one's character, but a natural consequence of activity and growth. For example, if one owns or deals in real estate he is sure to have title problems sooner or later. While the abstract may or may not solve all title problems, within our knowledge it has saved our customers thousands of dollars and it's value cannot be estimated in dollars and cents.

Nursery Department Of 1st Baptist Church Had A Clean-up Party Thur.

The Nursery Department of the First Baptist church had a "come when you can" clean-up party yesterday. An invitation had been extended to the membership of the church to join in this work and fellowship.

A thorough cleaning of two of the three nursery rooms was completed, including painting of the furniture and floor. The painting was done in pleasing pastel colors that will appeal to the young occupants. While the workers worked, they joined in singing the nursery songs that are used each week. This was done in order to acquaint the parents with the songs, so they could assist their children at home with the various activities of the department.

This department is designed for children three years of age and under and they require close supervision in all of their work. The Bible says, "train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old, he will not depart from it." These workers under the leadership of the superintendent, Mrs. Alvin Wood, are striving in every phase to do just this.

Next Tuesday, April 22, has been set apart as another clean-up day when the other room that the babies occupy will be worked on.

Those enjoying the work and fellowship during the day were: Mrs. E. P. Mayfield, V. A. Galoway, Dwayne Dennis, Harry Deal, Keith Langford, David Fawcett, J. T. Belknap, Earle Pitman, Earl Blackwell, Jr., Ira Clemmer and Alvin Wood.

Special provision was made for the care of the children while the mothers worked, and an invitation is extended to the membership of the church to join in the party next Tuesday.

Unusual Party For Jr. Dept Of ME Church Mon.

The Junior Department of the First Methodist Church will have an unusual party Monday evening at 7:00 p.m. in the basement of the church.

The party will be known as the "Mary Jane and Farmer Jones" Party and each one attending is asked to come dressed as the characters on the Mary Jane syrup can.

Every member of this department is urged to be present and to bring their mothers as guests. Sponsors for the hilarious occasion will be Mrs. Fulley, Dennon, Roth, Powell and Bernice Hunt.

Mrs. McMillan Celebrates 93rd Birthday Tues.

Mrs. H. S. McMillan celebrated her 93rd birthday Tuesday, April 15, quietly at her home in the Simon Apartments. She was not physically able for her friends to have the usual birthday party that they have been having every year since 1945, but all during the day her friends and neighbors dropped in for a cheery "hello" and to leave a little reminder of their love and appreciation.

Mrs. McMillan has lived at her present location for the past seven years. She lived in Thurber for a number of years, and reared her family there. Then moved to Strawn and some nine years ago came to Ranger.

Her friends report that she is a devoted Christian, a member of the Methodist Church in Strawn but has been unable to attend church for a long time due to her physical condition. She always enjoys having her friends drop by to see her and they say they always leave with a blessing.

Intermediate Dept. Of 2nd Baptist Church Has Party Thursday

The Intermediate Department of the Second Baptist Church enjoyed the fellowship and fun of a picnic on skating party at Lake Cisco Thursday evening.

The group gathered at five-thirty for the trip over to the picnic grounds where they spread their luncheon for the picnic. After the lunch, the group enjoyed swinging and playing until time to skate.

There were some thirty-eight making the trip and enjoying the fun. Sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. Chester Miller, Mrs. Fred Tibbels, Mrs. J. B. Baker and Mrs. Jasper Masseege.

Sgt. and Mrs. Dale Wheat and family visited here Wednesday. He is serving in the Recruiting office in Abilene now and has his family located there. He states that they like it very much but that "Ranger is home" and he wants to get the daily paper in order to keep up with things here.

Mrs. L. G. Wood of Rails, visited last week in the home of her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Wood and son.

W. B. Cozby Honored By Daughter On 82nd Birthday

Mr. W. B. Cozby of Strawn was honored at a birthday party commemorating his 82nd birthday April 10, in the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. A. Ball at the Ranger Country Club.

Mr. Cozby received several gifts from his family at the supper. The cake was decorated with 82 candles, one for each year.

Mrs. Ball, Mr. Cozby's wife, and a son from Strawn, C. L. Cozby, were members of the family present. Mr. Cozby has four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

ROAST BEEF DINNER

1952 Cost $5.16 1946 Cost $2.37

No wonder steaks and large roast beef dinners are like the buffalo—disappearing from the American scene. For instance, the cost, to a family of five, for the old-time favorite—roast beef dinner (above)—has jumped from $2.37 in 1946 to $5.16 today. The extra money is going off in many directions, but statisticians say one place it hasn't been going to is the railroads, for freight charges for bringing all this food to the family table have risen only three cents in these six years.

Sunday School Meeting In Cisco

The Quarterly meeting of the Sunday school department of Cisco Baptist Association will be held at the First Baptist Church in Cisco Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m.

Reports from the Sunday school convention in Longview will be given at the time, and many things of interest to local Sunday schools will be discussed.

All members of Baptist school in the Association are urged to attend this meeting.

So Easy To Put On . . . So Easy To Keep Clean

New Pittsburgh WALLHIDE
Rubberized SATIN FINISH

EXTRA TOUGH EXTRA GOOD COOKING

- Glides on with Amazing Ease
Even if you've never painted before, you can do an expert job with either brush or roller. Stop or start any place. You'll leave no apparent brush- or lap-marks. Even missed spots can be filled in without impairing the final uniform appearance.
- Cleans in a Jiffy
New WALLHIDE's non-porous surface prevents dirt or soot from penetrating. Stubborn stains, grease, crayon, ink spots, mar-ble, chrome, lipstick or finger smears can be washed off in a jiffy without harm to the soft, mellow sheen.
- Withstands Hard Family Usage
No need to worry about lively children scuffing or marring the walls. The modern chemicals used in new WALLHIDE make it extra tough and durable. It dries quickly to a tough, elastic film that will not crack, chip, or rub off.
