

Bonds Approved By Overwhelming Majority

SEEN OR HEARD

Ranger and Eastland went into the water business yesterday. And in a manner befitting their interest and civic pride.

More than one per cent of the voters of both towns voted against the issuance of bonds.

You could see happiness and relief written all over the faces of the people in both towns who had worked so hard to get this plan approved.

Paramount interest after the bond approval seems to be in cabin sites on the lake. At this time we are told nothing definite has been worked out on the sale of such sites, nor on what basis they will be sold or leased.

We are sure that both towns and this entire area will realize much from the recreational value of the newly approved lake plan.

The directors have asked you to have patience with them for a time. Right now they have a thousand and one things which they must do to start the wheels of progress turning to build the lake.

We are both amazed and overjoyed at the number of votes cast in each town. That has shown our leaders in this project we are tired of being without water, and that we can do something about it.

We'll get in a few good natured licks at Major Hoople, editor of the Eastland Telegram, on Ranger's big vote yesterday.

Lee Dockery said he had never seen any husbands bring their wives with them to vote in any election he had judged.

The widest estimate we heard was a prediction of 400 votes in Ranger on the bond issue. No one ever dreamed our citizens were going to take such an interest in the affairs of their city. You can bet your bottom dollar the politicians will be out working over time to see about getting new votes, not just working on the old standbys.

We got an education on work growing during the election yesterday.

David Pickrell, superintendent of Premier, sometime ago bought one-thousand red wriggler worms to start a worm bed. Pickrell said he got tired of spending three hours digging for worms when he wanted to go fishing—that after getting a dozen worms he was too tired to fish.

He bought those 1000 worms, and now, one year later, he has ten-thousand and is getting more every day.

He says he feeds them about anything and they thrive. They are kept in a separate house of their own. A light is kept burning over the boxes day and night to keep them from crawling out and running away, why they run away from darkness we don't know.

The young, when they are first noticed, are about one-tenth of an inch long, and are hatched from eggs. The incubation period is about sixty days from the time the eggs are laid until the young are hatched.

Pickrell said he sells some of the bait, but that his worms are still outgrowing their facilities.

When we get that new lake we know who will be swapping worms for fish.

CONGRATULATIONS

Voters of the Eastland County Water Supply District. You gave evidence of your sound thinking and foresight on approval of the water bonds in such a splendid manner.

And the directors, and those working on this plan for the water district, are to be congratulated for their wonderful water plan, and this sound business proposition which was proved good in yesterday's balloting.

We're proud we are a part of the district.

RHS Bandsmen Win Honors At San Angelo

J. Carter King

Ranger High School musicians who went to the regional solo contest did well in musical competition. Their playing was judged on a standard, not in competition with other soloists.

The twenty-one students who went, and their ratings in the instrument of instruments they played were:

- Madelyn Bond-flute II, piccolo I; Mary Ellen Deffebach-Piano II, Flute I; Don Dooley-Saxophone II; Ann Dorris-Horn II; Twirling I; Dainne Ervin-Pianoll; Flute I; Asker Everett-Bass II; Billy Fox-Piano III; Johnny Gay-Trompet II; Cynthia Hull-Trombone II, Twirling II.
- Sherry King-Piano III; Claude Koenig-Oboe III; Oje Lawson-Cornet II; Barbara Long-Piano III, Clarinet I; Bob Maddock-Bass I; Linda Needham-Piano III, clarinet I; Margaret Needham-Clarinet I; Weldon Needham-Trompet II; Debra Pulley-Piano III; Louaine Shaffer-Trombone II; Lida Jane Smith-Piano III; Eugene Stilton-Clarinet I; Saxophone I.

Very few ratings of first were awarded at San Angelo, with the Ranger musicians taking the Lions share of the one's given.

Bond Director C. F. Briggs stated that some of the RHS musicians were graded above the junior college level, according to a statement made by the judge of some of the events.

WTCC Directors To Meet Albany Noon Thursday

ALBANY, Tex., April 23.—J. Carter King, Jr., of Albany, District 5 Vice President of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, has called a meeting of WTCC directors of the district at the McLeMORE Hotel here Thursday at noon.

Purpose of the meeting is to discuss the annual budget and to make plans to raise the district's membership quota, King said.

Frank H. Kelley, WTCC president, and Alden L. Cathey, membership and public relations manager, will participate.

Members of the board of directors of District 5 are: Pricke Campbell, director-at-large, Ed S. Steward, Sr., treasurer, R. W. Haynie, past president, and Ray Grisham, Abilene; A. J. Smith Jr., Anson; J. Rupert Jackson, Jr., Biard; Frank S. Roberts, Breckenridge; W. B. Wright, Cisco; C. H. Dawson, Cross Plains; W. B. Pickens, Eastland; Haskell W. Carter, Hamlin; L. H. Thomas, Lueders; Booth Warren, Merkel; Floyd C. Pool, Moran; David D. Pickrell, Ranger; Robert L. Schultz, Rising Star; W. D. Neve, Roby; C. D. Maloney, Roscoe; Lance M. Davis, Rotan; Lyle Deffebach, Snyder; Rigdon Edwards, Sweetwater; Judge Chas E. Coombes, past president, and W. G. Swenson, Stamford.

Short-Lived Safety Program

SPRINGFIELD, O., April 23 (UP)—The city manager of Springfield, got a ticket for jaywalking yesterday. Just 24 hours earlier R. M. Holsington had launched a traffic safety drive.

Traffic Light Be Installed Hiway 80 Soon

Efforts of Police and Fire Commissioners Angus, beginning in 1947, to secure a traffic light at the intersection of Main Street and Highway 80 have been finally successful and work of installing the light will begin in the near future. An ordinance authorizing the installation and the execution of a maintenance agreement with the Texas Highway Department was adopted by the City Commission in their meeting of last evening.

One of the requirements of the Highway Department before they would agree to put a light at this location was the enactment of an ordinance prohibiting parking of vehicles along both sides of Highway 80 through the intersection.

As soon as possible City workmen will mark off the restricted area which begins on the South side of Houston Street and runs to the North side of East Main, or Lamar Street on both sides of the intersection.

Although Commissioner Angus began trying to secure the light when he first entered office of Fire and Police Commissioner State regulations requiring a certain traffic count entering the intersection, from the highway and from secondary streets have until recently been insufficient to allow the light.

Ranger Marine Takes Training

Jesse F. Gomez son of Mr. and Mrs. Candelario Gomez of 514 Cherry St., Ranger, is now undergoing training at the Marine Recruit Depot, San Diego, Calif. During the eight-week "Boot Camp," as recruit training is commonly called, Pvt. Gomez will become well versed in such basic military subjects as precision drill and mission and field tactics.

The former Ranger high school student enlisted in the Marine Corps at Dallas, recently.

Upon completion of recruit training he will be granted a 10-day leave and, if he has maintained a good record, will be promoted to Private First Class. He will then be assigned to a Marine post or station for duty or to a Marine Corps School for Advance training.

Mrs. Chapman Passes Away

Funeral services will be held at 3 p.m. Thursday afternoon at the Boulevard Methodist Church in Fort Worth for Mrs. E. C. Chapman, mother of Jack Chapman of Gordon and formerly of Ranger. She passed away this morning.

Shannon Funeral Home of Fort Worth is in charge of the arrangements.

Today's National Guardsmen have their antecedents in the early Colonial militias. These were organized as early as 1636 to protect communities from the Indians.

LAYING 26 INCH LINE FOR GULF IS TREMENDOUS JOB

Pipelining is a big business. Especially 26-inch pipelining, like that the Gulf is putting through Ranger. Contractor on a 120-mile section of the line through here to Abilene is the Associated Pipeline Construction Co., Inc., of Houston, Texas.

They have about 245 men on their payroll, engaged either directly or indirectly in putting that line through this section.

Their payroll runs $60,000 every two weeks, or $120,000 monthly. This doesn't include money spent for maintenance and operating cost of their pipeline equipment.

The construction crews and allied personnel moved into Ranger about three weeks ago, they expect to spend at least three and maybe four more weeks on this section for which they have headquarters in Ranger. The line runs about six miles north of town in an east to west direction.

L. H. Gray of Carthage, Texas, is the possessor of the strong shoulders on which the responsibility rests for getting the line through on time and in good shape.

The Ranger Chamber of Commerce and Manager R. V. Gallaway can be given a lot of credit for getting headquarters of the pipeline builders in Ranger. They must be doing a good job, for the pipeline company spokesman said he had heard no grumbling among the men that amounted to much.

The town is glad they have chosen Ranger as their headquarters while in this section, and hope they enjoy their stay here.

2-Way Radio Is Working; Thanks Say The Sheriff

Eastland County's new 2-way radio system has been fully installed and is working like a "charm" according to a statement made by Sheriff Frank Tucker. And just by way of parenthesis, he added that the whole thing was paid for.

The sheriff got out with a list early this year, and took private subscriptions to purchase the equipment. He collected $2,508.80 and would have finished only he had to go to a hospital on two occasions.

The entire cost amounted to $2,933.32, which left a balance of $424.52 which was taken care of by County Commissioners at a recent meeting.

It will be of untold value to county officers in the locating of criminals, and the sheriff asks us to thank every contributor to the fund.

ONLY 32 OF 1405 VOTES CAST NOT IN FAVOR OF BONDS

Voters of the Eastland County Water Supply District, which is composed of the city limits of Eastland and Ranger, overwhelmingly approved issuance of $1,500,000 in bonds to pay for construction of a dam and water supply facilities on the Leon River, south of Ranger and south-east of Eastland.

Eastland voted 649 for, and 10 against; Ranger voters balloted 734 for and 22 against the proposed bond issue.

The election will be canvassed by the district directors and bids taken from bond purchasers in the near future.

The next immediate step is an appearance before the State Water Commission scheduled for May 12 for a hearing on the water district's application to take 11,000 acre-feet of water per year from the Leon River.

Total capacity of the proposed reservoir would be 28,000 acre-feet. This would supply a population of 100,000 people with adequate water. When full, the proposed reservoir would supply the present district users with water for ten years without additional water being gathered.

At a date in the near future another election will be held to approve a contract between the town and the water district that will entitle them to buy their water from the district. This election will be a local affair, and voters of the two cities will be voting for their respective contract.

Yesterday's election ended several years work toward acquiring an adequate supply of water for towns of this area.

After completion of the water facilities the district will sell water not only to Eastland, Ranger and the Lone Star, but to other towns or industries that may want to buy their water from the district.

Predictions have set the date actual work could start on the dam as early as August of this year. Land purchase will be a deciding factor in how soon work can start, as well as hiring engineers for the supervision of work.

The election in Eastland was held at the County Courthouse. Billy C. Frost was Eastland's election judge. Lee Dockery managed the election in Ranger, which was at the city hall.

Directors of the district are C. B. Frost, president, Dr. P. M. Kuykendall, Wilson Guesel, and L. P. Brasher, Sr., of Ranger; F. E. McGraw, Grady Pipkin, and Dr. James Whittington of Eastland. Jack Frost of Eastland is the district attorney, David D. Pickrell of Ranger is district secretary.

Heavy Rains Move South

Heavy rains which almost flooded North Eastern Texas the past four days have moved into lower parts of the state.

Houston and Beaumont have had more than two inches the past 24 hours, and Waco, Corpus Christi, Palestine, Palacios, Galveston, Tyler and Fort Worth had more than one-inch. Heavy rains have also been reported in Austin, Victoria, Texarkana and Junction.

But the heaviest rain is being reported at Lufkin where more than three inches has already fallen and it is still coming down. The high was 90 degrees reported yesterday with the maximum low, 55 degrees at Amarillo.

The forecast tonight calls for: cool weather for East and South Central Texas and warmer Thursday through North Central and West Texas. Possible widely scattered showers are forecast for West Texas Thursday.

Local Woman Dies From Wreck Injuries

Mrs. Doyle Hughes, who was injured in an auto wreck Sunday thirty miles this side of San Antonio, passed away this morning at 8:30 a.m. Mr. and Mrs. Hughes and their two children were injured and it was reported that the baby seems to be severely hurt.

Funeral arrangements will be completed when the body arrives here today.

HIGHWAY 80 BOOSTERS WILL MEET FRIDAY NIGHT AT 7:30

A meeting of the members of the Highway 80 Boosters Association has been called for Friday night, April 25, at 7:30, also included is an invitation to everyone who is interested in a program to increase traffic over this popular route. The meeting will be held at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Operators of businesses on the highway through Ranger have noticed considerable increase in traffic the past six or seven months, which in part has been due to efforts of the U. S. Highway 80 Association.

Last year this organization had printed and distributed 100,000 maps to prospective tourists and vacationists and tourist bureaus, telling of the advantages of travel over this all-winter southern route across the United States, also of interesting vacation and scenic spots located on the route.

The local Highway 80 Booster's Association was organized in 1949 for the purpose of promoting travel over 80 and also for the purpose of erecting a large traffic sign three miles East of Weatherford directing tourist traffic over this route to El Paso and the West Coast. Sixteen Ranger business men underwrote the expenses of the sign on a three-year contract, and this sign was taken over last year by the Central Division of the National Highway 80 Association.

The Central Division now has a full-time manager who is working with the National Association in their efforts to attract tourist travel over this route and those interested in this movement should attend the meeting Friday night, as matters of interest to every business man in Ranger will be brought before the meeting.

Kansas City May Survive Flooded Missouri River

By United Press
Light rain is still adding to the swollen waters of the Missouri River as it moves against the Sherman Air Base at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.
Troop reinforcements from Fort Riley, Kans., were rushed in to help plug a hole in the dikes at the base last night. A new crest of 30 feet is expected tomorrow morning.
However, an Air Force spokesman at the base said: "We haven't lost any ground and while we know the worst is yet to come, we are confident."
Downstream, the crest is expected to hit Kansas City Friday. But flood experts said the 40-foot wall protecting Kansas City will be enough to hold off the river.

No-Fly Reserve Officers Lash Out At Air Force

DALLAS, April 23 (UP)—A group of reserve officers at Randolph Air Force Base in San Antonio charge Air Force officials with improperly using their positions in court-martialing men who refuse to fly.
The group expressed their sentiments in a letter to Lacey E. Crain, president Concha Chemical Co., in Dallas, who offered money earlier this month for the flyers' defense.
The unidentified officers are demanding a public apology from the Air Force for what they call "illegal charges" brought against the men who refuse to go into the air.

O'Dwyer's Connection In Crime Told By Writer Reader's Digest

PLEASANTVILLE, N. Y.—"Is William O'Dwyer a malignant and innocent public servant, as he maintains, or a weak and amiable victim of compromise, as sympathetic critics believe—or has he betrayed his trust by deliberately collaborating with the bosses of the underworld?"
These questions are asked by Fulton Oursler in the leading article of the May Reader's Digest. Evidence on which the answers may be based is presented in a 12-page appraisal of O'Dwyer's career, from patrolman in 1817, to District Attorney of Kings County and Mayor of New York. "As I see it," the author concludes, "the story is that of a man who began with good intentions but, by playing the game, became a victim of the 'system'."
Patrolman O'Dwyer, "an upstanding and ambitious fellow with a talent for making friends," worked hard in his off hours, earned a law degree at Fordham University and passed the New York bar examination in 1925.
"From the first," Oursler writes, "crime and politics were never far away." O'Dwyer's early law partner, George Joyce, served as aide to a man in a district where underworld leader Joe Adonis held despotic power. Adonis, now in prison, they ran a restaurant patronized nightly by "rogues and political adventurers" who sought Adonis' help and money in elections. "Dwyer knew a number of them, and in later years they were hard to disown."
Oursler's story reveals O'Dwyer's deepening involvements with the underworld of New York. As District Attorney of Kings County, his first move was to choose, as his chief James J. Moran, "a man with no legal training for the post." In the District Attorney's office "great outrages against public safety and decency occurred," Oursler states. Not the least of them was the suppression of evidence gathered by special prosecutor John H. Amen in his crusade against Brooklyn's waterfront rackets.

Moran, as O'Dwyer's perennial confidant and aide, was destined for ever closer identification with his boss, and for increasingly eminent roles in the drama of New York politics, until his ousting by Mayor LaGuardia after the Keefe hearings. He has since been convicted of perjury, extortion and conspiracy, and sentenced to a maximum of 28 years in prison.
Though O'Dwyer's work against Hurdler Inc. achieved "positive accomplishments," none of the top six of the syndicate was prosecuted. Albert Anastasia, "lord high executioner," still remains free, though the 1935 murder of aged Maurice Diamond presented what O'Dwyer himself called a "perfect case" against Anastasia.
The case collapsed when star witness Abe Reles died from falling or jumping from the sixth floor of a Coney Island hotel. The six policemen guarding Reles "all fell asleep at the same time," according to the Captain in charge. It had "never occurred" to O'Dwyer to record the sworn testimony by Reles. No action against Anastasia was taken. The "wanted" cards of men involved in the Anastasia crimes were removed from police files.
O'Dwyer's visit to Frank Costello, shortly before the former sought nomination for mayor, did not concern his majority ambitions, O'Dwyer insists. But Oursler notes that Michael Kennedy, Tammany boss, was at the meeting, with other Tammany politicians. Moran was there, too. And according to Charles Lipsky, an O'Dwyer enemy, Costello's approval was necessary to any man seeking the nomination.
Foremost among O'Dwyer's mystifying choices of subordinates was Moran, appointed to the lucrative post of First Deputy Fire Commissioner and later to that of Water Supply Commissioner.

Frank C. Bala, the Police Captain who picked the six guards for Reles, was made a Deputy Police Commissioner. Philip Zichello, brother-in-law of a notorious gangster, was appointed Deputy Commissioner of the Department of Hospitals. Frank Quayle, friend of Adonis, was made Fire Commissioner. Two friends of Costello were similarly cared for.

Gloom Hanging Over The Korean Truce Talk Site

By United Press
An air of gloom once again is settling down over the Korean Truce meetings at Panmunjom. And last night's talks did nothing to dispel it. A 16-minute meeting on policing an armistice was used up by the two sides in accusing each other of not wanting an armistice.
The only incident during the day's talks came when a UN artillery barrage blasted enemy positions just outside the 1950-year neutrality area around Panmunjom. It shook the tents, forcing a Red translator to halt in mid-sentence. Otherwise, there was little ground action. In the air, American jet pilots followed up the destruction of four enemy planes yesterday by joining bombers in blasting Red supply lines.

Childress Bomb Slaying Unsolved

CHILDRESS, April 23 (UP)—The neighbors of a Childress dairyman who was killed by a bomb in his truck April 15th say today they saw a car speeding away from the victim's house seconds after the blast. The dairyman was 40-year-old James Hoyt Hill who was killed at his home when he stepped on the starter of his pickup truck.
Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Kelley, who live three-quarters of a mile from Hill's house, said they were awakened by the blast. They said they looked out and saw a car and saw a car speeding along the rough, little-travel dirt road leading from Hill's house. And Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Weatherbee, the Kelley's daughter and son-in-law said they saw the tail-light of a car leaving the victim's house. At the time, the four said, they thought the speeding was someone going for help.
Childress County Sheriff Kermit Waters and Texas Rangers are investigating the death. They have questioned five persons with a portable lie detector flown to Childress from the State Department of Public Safety at Austin.

Keeping Records Important Part Farming-Ranching

COLLEGE STATION.—Farming and ranching are two of the world's most important enterprises. The home is the hub of the business activities and if the households are not organized much time may be lost looking for mislaid addresses, receipts, deeds and many other items that have been pigeon holed and can't be found.

Gladys Darden, home management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says many letters, records and other business are neglected for lack of a convenient place to work. The 1951 annual report shows that county Extension agents assisted 22,829 rural families to keep farm and home records and suggested organized places where such records can be filed and "paper work" done.

The location of business centers can be a personal choice. Some people prefer the living room, some the kitchen and some the privacy of the bedroom. Where the farm or ranch enterprise is on a large scale, a separate room may be needed and furnished with standard office equipment.

Any family can have a business center. However, Miss Darden says, there are a few essentials necessary for any center.

There should be ample and comfortable writing space, a chair with a back support and a good light. Current records and supplies should be in reach with storage for inactive files. Keep accessories to the minimum but have all that are needed such as, account books, blotters, ink, pen, pencils, desk calendar eraser, stationary postcards, stamps and a waste basket.

If possible, have a filing cabinet and a filing system with headings for current files are: account books, addresses, automobile, bank deposit slip, bank statements, canceled checks, equipment instructions, four records, income tax returns, insurance information, letters tax forms and lists of material kept in a safety deposit box. A key to the files aids in locating material quickly.

Miss Darden says that she has observed that business activities in any household run more smoothly after the organization of business centers.

An angry man bounced into the postmaster's office. "For some time now I've been pestered with threatening letters," he shouted, "and I want something done about it!"

Cop Accused Robbing NY Post Office

NEW YORK, April 23 (UP)—A policeman described as a "good cop" has been named by the FBI as the mastermind of a Brooklyn, New York postoffice robbery he had been "investigating" for six months.

Forty-year-old Nathan Mennen was taken off the investigation in October when his younger brother and two other men were arrested on charges of cracking the safe in the postoffice last April 28th.

Federal authorities say Mennen found out about the postal station's burglar protection system and hours of operation while investigating a minor complaint by a postal employee. He is accused of then plotting the robbery with the other three.

Mennen, who was a policeman for 13 years, was charged with conspiracy in the robbery yesterday and released on bail.

Dallas Police Probe Father And Son Fracas

DALLAS, April 23 (UP)—Police are investigating the shooting of a 37-year-old Dallas gambler last night by his son. But they don't have much to go on—neither the father nor the son are talking.

The father, Ivy Howard Miller, underwent surgery at Baylor hospital last night for the removal of four .38 caliber bullets from his stomach. Hospital attendants say his condition is fair. The son, 33-year-old Ivy Howard (Peck) Miller is being held in the Dallas County Jail.

The shooting occurred in the elder Miller's home last night.

Western Big Three Will Draft Reply

LONDON, April 23 (UP)—Britain, the United States and France have started drafting a reply to Russia's proposal for all-German elections.

Representatives of the Western Big Three are meeting at the British Foreign Office in London. British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden said the reply will be "constructive and will not close the door to negotiations."

Austin Jail Fire Nearly Suffocates Two Inmates

AUSTIN, April 23 (UP)—A fire of undetermined origin has broken out in the Austin city jail. It temporarily threatened two inmates with suffocation as smoke billowed through their isolated cell block.

A 21-year-old woman prisoner was taken to Brackenridge hospital for treatment when police found her overcome by smoke. Her condition is reported as good. And a male prisoner said he joined the woman in screaming and pounding on the bars for help.

The flames, however, were extinguished with very little damage.

Care TB Patients In State Is Big Challenge

AUSTIN, April 23 (UP)—Officials of the Texas State Hospital and special schools said the long-range challenge for state hospitals is the treatment of tubercular patients.

The report has been made by Larry O. Cox, executive director.

and Dr. George W. Jackson, medical director of the State Hospital and Special Schools. They said Texas has only 2600 beds for tubercular patients where 8100 is the minimum set in Texas by the U. S. Public Health Service.

SOCIETY

Intermediate Day To Be Observed At 1st Baptist

Sunday, April 27, will be observed as Intermediate day at the First Baptist Church. Mrs. G. H. West, Superintendent of the Intermediate Sunday School Department with the help of the other officers and teachers in the department have made extensive plans to make the day successful for the young people.

At 8:30 Sunday morning the officers and teachers will serve the membership of the Intermediate Dept. a breakfast in the Fellowship Hall of the church. Special music, a short devotional and other features will be presented at that time. The bulletin for Sunday will honor the intermediate boys and girls and the entire worship hour will be in their honor.

Parents of the boys and girls will be given special recognition in the morning Worship hour.

Working with Mrs. West in preparation for the day are Mr. Wilson Guest, Sunday School Superintendent; Mrs. J. B. Houghton, Sr., Mrs. R. J. Raina, Mrs. Mary Wheat, Mrs. W. B. Entinger, H. A. Shockey, Lee Russell, and L. L. Thomas.

Jean Roberts, Joe Worley To Wed May 24

Mountain Lions Create Trapping Flurry On Border

AUSTIN—A flurry of action in the mountain lion zone along the Rio Grande river was reported to the Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

Seven were trapped on the San Pedro Ranch, south of Eagle Pass after damaging raids on the deer herds.

Three more were shot on the Ortiz Ranch, about ten miles north east of Laredo, when a cruising state trapper ambushed a female and two cubs. The cubs were almost full grown.

The San Pedro ranch roundup occurred after Foreman Jim Tate reported finding carcasses of newly killed deer. Johnny Hearn of Cotulla, predator control chief for the Commission, assigned Game Warden Jim Pond of Carrizo Springs, and State trapper Ruf Bishop to the job.

They pitched camp in the deer range and struck quickly, trapping four big lions within four days. The other three were caught later.

Warden Supervisor Herbert Ward at Catarina, in whose district most mountain lion depredations occur, said his force had to be ready to act on short notice. He explained the lions swim the

Life In These United States
From Readers Digest

It was a beautiful evening and Aunt Louisa, looking very lovely in her long white dress and little fur cape, her white hair piled high, strolled outside to wait for the taxi she had called to take her to the concert. A noisy jalopy rattled by, full of students from the nearby college. Then a piercing wolf whistle split the air and one of the boys leaned out. "Wish we were forty years older, ma' ma!" he called.

A summer resident in the North Carolina mountains was so impressed with the philosophy of an uneducated mountaineer working on his place that for Christmas he sent him a book of Plato. He never heard anything, and next summer he asked the mountaineer if he had received the book.

"Reckon I did," was the reply. "Did you read it?"

"I read a few pages," the mountaineer replied, "but then I come to find that feller agreed with me so perfect-like it weren't no need for me to read no further."
