Applications Up To Spur Area Drilling Activity

New stabs of the spinning drill bits into Eastland County acres in the never-ending quest for untapped oil production are due to become more numerous from now until the first of the year, according to reliable reports from well-informed sources in the industry.

Pearing out this contention was the big increase in the number of applications for drilling permits in this region currently filed with the Railroad Commission.

Applications requesting permission to rig up and spud in five new tests in Eastland County were filed with the commission last week.

STEVENSON-SPARKMAN CAMPAIGN—The Stevenson-Sparkman Campaign Headquarters in Dallas is wide open for business and discussing the hundreds of details for the state-wide campaign are Marlin Sandlin (L) of Houston and House Speaker Sam Rayburn of Bonham. Mr. Sandlin is treasurer of the campaign committee and Mr. Rayburn was appointed by the National Democratic Committee to head the campaign in Texas.

RANGERS GUNNING FOR THIRD STRAIGHT SATURDAY NIGHT; NEW SQUADMEN JOIN ROSTER

Coach Boone Yarborough's spirited Ranger Junior Col's Rangers, undefeated in two starts, got down to serious business Tuesday afternoon as they prepped in deadly earnest for their third encounter of the newly opened grid season against the highly potent Allen Academy machine down under the arcs at Bryan next Saturday night.

With impressive wins over the Decatur Baptists and a rugged band of rugged Midwestern U. reservists already tucked under their belts, the Purple and White squadmen are hoping to make it a lucky third—straight—this weekend and are sharpening their offensive strategies of the T and spread formations and rock-ribbing their air and ground defenses.

Adding even more optimism to currently bright hopes for the Rangers 1952 pigskin wars was the addition this week of three new squadmen to the Purple and White's roster of ball handling, blocking and tackling talent.

The trio of new recruits—a pair of outstanding ex-high grid stars from Newcastle and a sharp backfielder from Coleman—has "strengthened" the Ranger machine, Coach Yarborough said Tuesday afternoon.

Lee Otis, hefty 186-pound all-state center from Newcastle, is a welcome addition to Coach Yarborough's heavy of bruising wall-men, and Charles Blanton, fleet and rugged-playing 170-pound Newcastle standout artist, and Billy Baker, 162-pounder with field generalizing experience and a product of Coleman High, show lots of promise.

Many fans are due to follow the proud and yet undefeated Rangers crew down to Bryan for the Saturday night contest which is one of the highlight games on the busy battle agenda of Pioneer conference clubs' interscholastic clashes this week-end.

All five Pioneer Conference aggregations are undefeated and undefeated after nine games with Yarborough's crew, and four of them continue this week to engage in non-conference competition.

Thursday the Schreiner Mountaineers, already victorious over Wharton and Southwest Texas Junior College, engage the strong Victoria Junior College eleven at Victoria. The Mountaineers, with one of the best passers in Junior college football in Bobby Bowser and excellent runners in Durwood Watkins and Leon Sefton, are slight favorites over Victoria.

The rejuvenated Tarleton State Ploowboys, who, thanks to the running of Guy Hill and the passing of Joe Bill Fox and Tommy Hudspeth, turned in an impressive 32-6 victory over Cisco last week, will face a sterner opposition this week when they meet Paris Junior College at Paris. A victory over Paris will tab the Ploowboys as title contenders.

Banner games Saturday will include the Arlington State Rebels with the powerful Henderson County Cardinals of Athens at Arlington and the Ranger Junior College Rangers with Allen Academy at Bryan.

The ASC-Henderson tilt is expected to draw a large crowd to Memorial Stadium in Arlington. ASC, loaded with such backfield stars as Joel Mase, Paul Ernst, and Sam Howard, thumped Decatur, 62-0, last week. Henderson stumped Paris Junior College with a 25-7 victory over the Dragons.

Ranger, with Buddy Hamrick running and passing in grand style has chalked up victories over Decatur and the Midwestern University Reserves of Wichita Falls. They also will get a sterner test this week when they tackle Allen Academy.

The San Angelo Rams, 19-7 winners over Wharton last week, are idle until October 4 when they will play Victoria.

Season Standing

Team	W	L	Ts	Pt	Opp. Pt.
Ranger	2	0	42	0	1000
Arlington State	2	0	83	0	1000
Schreiner	2	0	41	12	1000
San Angelo	2	0	40	10	1000
Tarleton State	1	0	32	6	1000

Last Week's Results

Ranger 21, Midwestern B 0; Arlington State 62, Decatur 0; Schreiner 21, Southwest Texas JC 6; San Angelo 19, Wharton 7; Tarleton State 32, Cisco 6.

This Week's Schedule

Thursday—Schreiner vs. Victoria at Victoria; Tarleton State vs. Paris at Paris. Saturday—Arlington State vs. Henderson County at Arlington; Ranger vs. Allen Academy at Bryan.

Father Of Mrs. Saule Perlestein Passes Friday

David Strauss, a resident of Portsmouth, N.H., for the past 16 years and father of Mrs. Saule Perlestein of Ranger, died in that city Friday, Sept. 19, relatives here have been informed.

Mr. Strauss, who had been in ill health for many years, was making his home with another daughter, Mrs. Albert Iselbacher and her family in Portsmouth, at the time of his passing.

Mr. Strauss came to the United States in 1936 from Germany as a result of Hitler's power over that nation. He was a veteran of World War I, having fought against Russia as a German soldier. His wife, Rosa Strauss, nee Oppenheimer, predeceased him in death 20 years ago in Germany in the town of Mckenheim, near Bonn on the Rhine. Mr. Strauss was born August 26, 1871 in Wasenbach, near Dietz on the Lahn, in the province of Hesse-Nassau.

Surviving Mr. Strauss are his two daughters, Mrs. Perlestein of Ranger and Mrs. Iselbacher of Portsmouth, and three grandchildren, Doris and Rheta Beth Perlestein of Ranger and Dr. Kurt Iselbacher, of Boston, Mass.

ALTON L. STILES IN AIR FORCE

Alton L. Stiles, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Stiles of Ranger has been accepted for enlistment in the U. S. Air Force. It was announced today by T-Sgt. James Hendrick of the Eastland Recruit Station.

Alton is a 1950 graduate of Ranger High School and received his diploma from Ranger Junior College this year. He intends to pursue a course in mechanical instruction after entry in the Air Force.

After being sworn in the Air Force at an early date, he will then be Airman Basic Stiles and proceed to the Air Force Induction Center at San Antonio's Lackland Air Force Base for 13 weeks basic training. After basic he will be sent to one of the AF bases for duty and training in a specialist field.

'Don't Quit!' Is Verdict After Nixon Speech

Senator Richard Nixon, GOP vice-presidential nominee should remain on the Republican ticket as Dwight D. Eisenhower's running mate in the important November general election—despite the fact that he accepted $18,000 in "gifts" for political expenses.

At least that seemed to be the "feel of the pulse" of citizens in this area early Wednesday morning following the young vice-presidential Tuesday night TV and radio address to the nation in which he "explained" the fund which was brought to light over the week-end.

Press Favorable
Ry McCorkle, editor of the Eastland Daily Telegram, commented: "Nixon is the next vice-president of the United States."

Mrs. Muriel Lee, publisher of the neighboring Strawn Tribune, said: "The people of Texas, according to comment here this morning, appreciate the forthrightness of Senator Nixon, and the honesty of the Eisenhower-Nixon team in facing the public squarely with what appears to be a simple issue now."

In Ranger, Miss Willena James of the staff of the Ranger Times, contacted several residents for their opinions. A half dozen persons were queried, she said, and sentiment favoring Nixon remaining on the GOP ticket was overwhelming.

"From the moral standpoint," said Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Warford, "there is no reason why Nixon should be taken off the ticket. But from the standpoint of a Republican victory in November, he should withdraw. He will lose votes if he remains a candidate, but he will lose fewer if he withdraws."

Mrs. James P. Morris declared that "I think he should be allowed on the ticket, I feel," Mrs. Morris added, "he more or less vindicated himself last night."

"As far as I can understand it," explained Mrs. M. H. Hagaman, "he made a very brave and courageous speech and should be allowed to remain on the ticket."

Let GOP Decide
And Mrs. P. M. Kuykendall, who asserts that she is "definitely" for the Republicans this year because of their "favorable stand on the tideland issue," said "I think Nixon should be allowed to continue as the vice-presidential candidate, but," she added, "if the majority of Republicans think that it would hurt their chances of winning, I'm willing for him to be replaced by another candidate."

"I think he definitely should be left on the GOP ticket," commented Billy Anderson.

"Everyone can make a mistake and all politicians have financial backing of some kind," said Mrs. Saule Perlestein, "and as far as I am concerned, he can remain on the Republican ticket."

Missing Texan Is On West Coast

DENISON, Tex., Sept. 23 (UP)—A 24-year-old Denison church member was found Tuesday in a San Francisco hospital after he applied for work at a San Francisco employment agency and could not remember his name.

The missing man, Jack McCarty, disappeared last Wednesday on a business trip to Durant, Okla. Police in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana and New Mexico had broadcast missing persons bulletins.

NIXON'S POLITICAL FATE IS IN HANDS OF GOP COMMITTEE; PUBLIC ASKED FOR VIEWS

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Sept. 23 (UP)—Richard M. Nixon left up to the Republican national committee Tuesday night—and the American people—the decision on whether he should quit as Republican vice-presidential candidate.

In a dramatic television "and radio appeal to some 60,000,000 Americans, the 39-year-old Californian, who has been in hot political water for the last five days over his use of a privately contributed $18,000 fund, said he rested his case with the GOP leaders.

He urged the American people to communicate their opinions to Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Republican presidential nominee.

"I don't believe I ought to quit, because I'm not a quitter," Nixon said. "And Pat (his wife) is not a quitter."

"But the decision is not mine," he said. "I would do nothing that would harm the campaign of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower."

"Therefore," he added, "I am submitting the decision on whether I should remain on the ticket to the Republican national committee."

Nixon broke off a harrowing tour of the West at Portland, Ore., and flew back to Los Angeles to, as he put it, "have his soul" to the people about his financial status.

The curly-haired, jet-haired veteran appeared bored tired as he went before the television cameras and microphones to explain his stand on the controversial fund which a group of his backers used during his year and a half tenure in the Senate to pay for such political expenses as speeches, postage and travel.

Nixon told the nation he had an independent audit made of the fund and a legal opinion on the propriety of his use of the fund, which was contributed by a group of Californians who said they believed Nixon needed the extra money for expenses in order to properly do his job.

"I want the American people to know all the facts," Nixon said, "and I want independent people to come and make a check—and they did."

Midway through his broadcast, Nixon noted that his comely blond wife, Pat, had worked many hours at night in his Senate office without accepting a cent from the government.

The camera then panned to Mrs. Nixon, who smiled at her husband.

"I can say that never while I have been in the Senate of the United States, as far as the people that contributed to this fund are concerned, have I made a telephone call for them to any agency in their behalf, and the records will show that the records which are in the hands of the administration."

Nixon remained in his hotel room throughout the day putting together the material for his speech. His press secretary said he was unavailable for comment on the story published by the St. Louis Post-Dispatch concerning the Dana Smith tax refund case.

Mrs. Mansker Is Buried Tuesday; Died In Austin

Mrs. Georgia Etta Mansker, 60, died in Austin, Sunday, and was buried in Eastland Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 23. Funeral services were conducted from the Hammer Funeral Home, by Rev. L. H. Donahue, Assembly of God minister from Austin, and interment was made in Eastland cemetery.

Mrs. Mansker was a former resident of Eastland and has many friends and relatives here.

Survivors include three sons, Conway and Pete Mansker of Austin; and C. J. Mansker of Eastland; a daughter, Mrs. A. L. Taylor of Houston; two sisters, Mrs. Mattie Clait and Mrs. Maude Finley both of Eastland.

Funeral services were held by Van Green, Dolphus Copeland, Press Crabtree, S. S. Williams, Jess Riggan and George Parviz.

USDA Says Area 1951 Cotton Crop Totals $191,700

Eastland County's income off cotton acreage totaled approximately $191,700, according to a report recently issued by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Lint grown on the county's 66,000 acres planted to the crop a year ago was worth $163,800, and value of the seed was $27,900, the USDA summary revealed. These figures are based on the department's figure of 36.40 cents per pound of lint and $72.50 per ton of seed as average prices received for the county crop.

The county's total output from the 66,000 acres was quoted as 900 bales.

Eastland's per-acre lint production, however, lagged far behind the average harvested by most other counties in this region.

Here's a summary of neighboring counties' 1951 cotton crop acreage, total number bales ginned, and income from lint and seed as revealed in the USDA's report.

Palo Pinto—7,350 acres, 1,300 bales, $236,600 from cotton, $37,200 from seed.

Stephens—3,000 acres, 410 bales, $74,620 from cotton, $12,710 from seed.

Callahan—15,400 acres, 1,600 bales, $291,200 from cotton, $49,600 from seed.

Shackelford—9,200 acres; 1,440 bales, $262,080 from cotton, $44,640 from seed.

Comanche—15,300 acres; 1,590 bales, $289,380 from cotton, $49,290 from seed.

Erath—16,200 acres; 1,950 bales; $253,080 from cotton, $50,140 from seed.

Only 70 Bales Through Gin

Only about 70 bales of cotton have been ginned at the Ranger cotton gin this far this season, it was reported today.

That figure, of course, is far behind the normal number of bales processed at this time in past years, but the output of lint, like other area crops, has been drastically curtailed this year due to severe drought damage.

The Ranger gin serves a large surrounding area, and despite the unusually low production it is reported that acreage planted this season far exceeds that of a year ago. Other gins in this section are located at Breckenridge, Stephenville and Gorman.

Herman Boyd, 61, Strawn Pioneer Resident, Is Buried

Funeral rites for Herman Boyd, 61-year-old retired miner and a resident of Palo Pinto County since 1894, were held at the First Baptist church in Strawn Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The Rev. W. H. Rueker, Baptist minister of Strawn, officiated during the rites and interment was in Mt. Marion Cemetery. The Triplett Funeral Home, Strawn, was in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Boyd, who was born in Belgium on July 7, 1881, died at the Ranger General Hospital, Ranger, Saturday afternoon at 4:35 o'clock. He had been in ill health for some time.

Mr. Boyd began his career as a miner over in Europe as a lad of seven. He continued in that occupation after coming to the United States with his parents two years later, and following a brief stay in Oklahoma, the Belgier family settled at Thurber, coal-mining method of the pre-20th century. He worked in the pits until the mines in this area were closed during the early 50s.

Mr. Boyd, who wed the former Miss Docie Looney at Thurber back on Oct. 11, 1903, was united with the Mingsu Missionary Baptist Church at Mingsu in July, 1933.

Survivors include the widow of Strawn; six sons, Arthur, Herman, J. J. Mansel, Charles, Clarence and David Boyd, all of Amarillo; one daughter, Miss Docie Boyd of Cupertino, Calif.; 10 grandchildren and 29 great-grandchildren. In addition three brothers also survive the deceased.

Rain Forecast For Area Today

Eastland Countians were basking in the refreshing comfort of a cool, cloudy atmosphere today with the temperature in the mid-sixties.

The northern areas of the Southwest the United Press reports, began to warm up Wednesday after the first genuine fall weather of the year which arrived, appropriately enough, on the first day of autumn.

Weathermen said temperatures would push slowly upward in Wyoming, Colorado, Missouri and Kansas Wednesday night. The cool front which moved south through the Southwest entered Mexico late Tuesday.

Temperatures in the southern portion Wednesday were forecast about on a par with Tuesday's. The mercury is due to hit the upper 70s in Eastland County today, according to predictions, and will dive to the lower 60s tonight.

FOOD PRICES IN AREA ZOOM TO NEW HIGH IN AUGUST

Budget-minded Eastland County housewives are due to knuckle down and become even more expert in stretching their shrinking food-buying dollars if August's price trend continues through September and into the coming fall and winter months.

"I think he definitely should be left on the GOP ticket," commented Billy Anderson.

"Everyone can make a mistake and all politicians have financial backing of some kind," said Mrs. Saule Perlestein, "and as far as I am concerned, he can remain on the Republican ticket."

Food prices in this area of Texas, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported Wednesday morning, took a sharp 1.6 per cent jump during August to reach the highest point of the year.

In a spot survey conducted today by a staff writer of the Ranger Daily Times and Eastland Daily Telegram, it was learned that the current Eastland County food dollar, in terms of 1939, is worth only about 41 cents for food.

The September, 1952 long green buck is worth 92 cents in terms of 1939, 67 cents in terms of 1945 and 89 cents in terms of 1950.

The spot check of prices and comparisons with pre-year levels showed that the current dollar, in terms of 1939, is worth only 35 cents for meat. For wearing apparel, it's value is 50 cents.

Throughout the South retail food prices reached new peaks, ranging as high as 2.7 and 2.9 percentage increases in Knoxville, Tenn., and Memphis, Tenn., said Brunswick A. Bagdon, Southern regional BLS director.

In this area, the biggest advance came in eggs, with a 12 per cent increase over July. Eggs jumped 21 per cent in Houston, BLS said.

This sector's retail food price index was up 2.8 per cent over a year ago and up 17 per cent since just before the Korean outbreak in June, 1950. Eggs were up 52 per cent over pre-Korean prices; fruits and vegetables, up 29 per cent; and dairy products, up 25 per cent.

PLS said pork prices were 6 to 13 per cent higher than July throughout the South, reflecting the higher wholesale prices authorized by OIS on July 23. Chicken prices rose sharply in all Southern cities.

Here is how the general classifications of foods compared with prices in July and a year ago.

Cereals and bakery products, down 3 per cent in the month and up 1.4 per cent over a year ago; meat, poultry and fish, up 2 per cent for the month and up 1 per cent for the year; dairy products, up 2 per cent and up 2.8 per cent; eggs, up 12 per cent but 6 per cent less than a year ago; fruits and vegetables, up 1 per cent and up 1 per cent; beverage, unchanged less than a year ago; fats and oils, 2 less than a year ago; sugar and sweets, up 3 per cent and up 2 per cent.

In individual food items—the biggest monthly decline came in fresh tomatoes. They dropped 12 per cent, although the average price was still 26¢ a pound. The price of vanilla cookies was down 4 per cent; veal cutlets, down 1 per cent; frozen ocean perch, down 3 per cent; prunes, down 6 per cent; and lard, down 2 per cent a pound.

torney in an unusual court procedure before the 29th Judicial District Court Tuesday afternoon." How did it come out? A hung jury... Over around neighboring DeLeon pecan growers have in prospect one of the best crops that has been produced in several years. "Before the rains came," says a newspaper report, "some thought that pecans might not fill out well, but now it is expected they will weigh out well and with good prices now being quoted, pecans will be a major crop this year."

During Monday's drizzling downpours The Times had several phone inquiries — from folks interested in the amount of moisture shown on our official U. S. Weather Bureau gauge.

Mrs. Brice Walker is one of the many Rangerites who is greatly interested in climatic conditions. And she called us early Monday afternoon.

"Is it true?" she asked "that Ranger had only 1.18 inches of rain last week?"

We told her yes—that the official gauge here at the Times had accurately measured that amount. "I heard varying reports," Mrs. Walker explained. "And furthermore," she added with a note of triumph, "I measured two inches out here."

Mrs. Walker lives on Stephens street, five blocks north of Highway 80 east. And that's a considerable distance from the Times gauge — and there is, of course, some variance in rainfall, too.

She measured last week's precipitation in a pudding pan which, she said, serves a highly useful two-fold purpose: (1) a rain gauge, and (2) the container for her dog's supper.

According to a United Press dispatch, FBI director J. Edgar Hoover predicted Monday that more than two million major crimes will be committed in the United States this year.

Hoover made the estimate in releasing the FBI's semi-annual uniform crime report—a compilation of police statistics from cities throughout the nation.

The report showed that an estimated 1,022,200 major crimes were committed in the first six months of this year—a 6.4 per cent increase over the same period last year.

Along with an increasing crime rate, the report also indicated a growing number of youthful criminals. More 18-year-olds were arrested this year than any other age group. Last year the 23-year-old age group was highest.

DR. JOE DAVIS HEACOCK—He'll Speak at Baptist Banquet

Baptist Awards Banquet Here Thursday Night

An awards banquet, honoring 160 persons who have earned more than 300 awards during the past year, will be held in the lower auditorium of the First Baptist Church in Ranger Thursday evening at 7 o'clock, announces the Rev. Ralph Perkins, pastor of the church.

Principal speaker for the occasion will be Dr. Joe Davis Heacock, professor of education at Southwestern Theological Seminary in Fort Worth who is in charge of the visual aid department of the School of Education.

Dr. Heacock has served as educational director in some of the South's largest churches and now is associated with the Connell Baptist Church in Fort Worth in that capacity in addition to his duties at the Seminary.

Groups which have earned study course awards this year include the Sunday School, under the leadership of Wilson Guest; the Training Union, under the direction of Walter Arterburn; the WMU under the leadership of Mrs. Lloyd Clem; and the Brotherhood under the leadership of Mr. Lem Rushing; and the Deacons whose chairman is Lloyd Clem.

Books which have been studied are Bible courses, administration courses, soul-winning treatises, and many other books pertaining to Christian subjects.

The banquet tomorrow evening will be to recognize the progress made by the workers of the church and to present the awards that they have won.

NOSE, THROAT,

and Accessory Organs not Adversely Affected by Smoking Chesterfields

FIRST SUCH REPORT EVER PUBLISHED ABOUT ANY CIGARETTE

A responsible consulting organization has reported the results of a continuing study by a competent medical specialist and his staff on the effects of smoking Chesterfield cigarettes.

A group of people from various walks of life was organized to smoke only Chesterfields. For six months this group of men and women smoked their normal amount of Chesterfields—10 to 40 a day. 45% of the group have smoked Chesterfields continually from one to thirty years for an average of 10 years each.

At the beginning and at the end of the six-months period each smoker was given a thorough examination, including X-ray pictures, by the medical specialist and his assistants. The examination covered the sinuses as well as the nose, ears and throat.

The medical specialist, after a thorough examination of every member of the group, stated: "It is my opinion that the ears, nose, throat and accessory organs of all participating subjects examined by me were not adversely affected in the six-months period by smoking the cigarettes provided."

Final Meeting Sunday School Workers Tonight

The last go-round for the First Baptist Church is scheduled for tonight in final preparation for promotion day Sunday the 29th, reports Ralph Perkins, pastor.

This annual promotion day is a great event in the lives of the youngsters as well as members of all departments. There are very few changes to be made in the entire Sunday School. Officers and teachers are elected on a volunteer basis and each person feels an individual responsibility to the church and to God. The organization is strictly democratic.

Meeting time is 6:30 and will continue for one hour and then at 7:45 at the regular prayer meeting hour the Business Women's Circle of the WMU will present a program for the Mary Hill Davis week of prayer. They will be assisted by the men of the church who are to have a part on this program. Mrs. J. C. Carter is president of the circle and will direct the program.

All teachers and officers are expected at 6:30 for the inspirational program.

George Sanders To Sing In Musical Comedy

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 24 (UP)—George Sanders, the suave cynic of celluloid, set aside his woman-hating sneer and blossomed out Tuesday as a musical comedy crooner.

Sanders is singing sweet, gentle tunes about love.

"I'm the new juvenile," the urbane actor announced.

Ethel Merman's leading man in a frothy musical "Call Me Madam," is none other than this sophisticated "All About Eve."

Sanders has never sung on film before but he treats this switch with the usual aplomb.

"I was singing at a party when Laurence Olivier suggested I do the London version of 'South Pacific,'" he explained. "I used to sing 20 years ago in musical comedy in London."

LOOK WHO'S NEW

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Kribbe of Dallas have announced the birth of a baby daughter born Sept. 23, in Dallas. The baby, named Dianne Yvonne, weighed seven pounds.

The Kribbes have one other child Barbara.

Maternal grandmother is Mrs. Lee Mitchell and paternal grandfather is F. P. Kribbe, both of Ranger.

King George Spends Restful Night After Lung Operation

LONDON, Sept. 24 (UP)—Five attending doctors reported today that gravely ill King George VI spent a restful night and his condition "continues to be as satisfactory as can be expected."

The bulletin was issued by Buckingham Palace at 11 a.m. (6 a.m. EDT), some 24 hours after part or all of one of the King's lung was removed in an operation.

The doctors were keeping anxious vigil over the frail 55-year-old British monarch and all members of the Royal Family were at the Palace or their nearby residences.

Even the brother whose abdication as King Edward VIII Dec. 11, 1936 led to the coronation of George VI was in London. The Duke of Windsor arrived on the boat train from France to keep a long-arranged book luncheon date marking the publication in Britain of his memoirs.

The Duke went at once to Marlborough House, the residence of his mother, Queen Mary, now 84. He left behind at his Paris residence his American-born wife for whom he renounced the throne.

Other members of the Royal Family were expected to form a council of state to carry on the King's duties. It will comprise Queen Elizabeth, Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret, the Duke of Gloucester and the Princess Royal.

Gloucester is a brother and the Princess Royal a sister of the King.

The King is not expected to be out of danger until the end of the week. A long convalescence must follow, and it seemed doubtful that he will be able to sail Jan. 22 as scheduled for a Royal tour of Australia and New Zealand.

However, Princess Elizabeth and Mac And Family Get Invitation From Hotel Man

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 24 (UP)—Gen Douglas MacArthur and his family have accepted an invitation to spend the Christmas holidays at the home here of hotel magnate Conrad Hilton, it was reported today.

Hilton invited the ousted Far Eastern Commander here during a meeting in New York two months ago, and MacArthur reportedly accepted the invitation.

The general, his wife and their 13-year-old son, Arthur, have been living at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel in New York, which is owned by Hilton.

Mother Hugs Her Child To Death
MAYWOOD, CALIF., Sept. 24 (UP)—An autopsy will be performed today on the body of six-month-old Katherine Parson, whose young mother allegedly hugged her to death while "playing" with her.

The mother, Mrs. Lucille Parson, 25, was jailed as a murder suspect in the death of her first-born child yesterday after her husband, steelworker Elmer Parson, 56, found little Katherine dead in her crib.

"I guessed the baby real tight and I squeezed her breath," Mrs. Parson told police. "I was playing with the baby..."

Battleship New Jersey Joins In Battle On Korean Fronts
8th ARMY HEADQUARTERS, KOREA, Sept. 24 (UP)—The battleship New Jersey opened its 16-inch guns today against the hills on the eastern front to aid United Nations infantrymen battling desperately against the Communists.

Standing just off the coast, the crew of the big battle wagon—52,000 tons at full load—put pinpoint fire on enemy-held peaks with their nine 16-inch rifles.

and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, still hoped to fly to Canada for their scheduled tour of that country next month. No final decision will be made until the King is pronounced out of danger.

Elizabeth would become sovereign if her father died.

All eight doctors who were present at the operation on the King yesterday morning examined the patient this morning.

Dr. George Cordiner, radiologist, took new X-ray photographs to make certain that the cavity left by the operation did not displace the heart and to make sure that the other lung was functioning properly.

After a general conference with their colleagues, the five doctors who had spent the night at the Palace issued the following bulletin:

"The King has had a restful night.

"His Majesty's condition this morning continues to be as satisfactory as can be expected."

It appeared unlikely any member of the Royal Family with the possible exception of the Queen would be permitted to see the King today.

Republican Asks That Boyle's Taxes Be Probed
WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (UP)—Sen. Richard M. Nixon, R., Cal., demanded today that Senate investigators check the income tax returns of William M. Boyle, Jr., and Max Siskind to find out how much money the Democratic national chairman received from his former law partner since 1949.

Nixon said an examination of their tax returns is "imperative" in checking into the $100,000 Siskind reportedly paid for Boyle's assets and goodwill after their law partnership was dissolved in 1949.

Chairman Clyde R. Hoey, D., N. C., said the matter will be discussed at a closed subcommittee meeting later today.

Hoey said he presently plans to call Siskind tomorrow and probably will call Boyle Wednesday.

The Senate's special investigating subcommittee, which is looking into Boyle's dealings with the American Lithofold Corp., of St. Louis, has received information that Siskind paid Boyle $100,000 in periodic installments since their partnership was dissolved, and is scheduled to receive still more.

Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, R., Wis., asked that James P. Finnegan, former St. Louis revenue collector, be recalled for questioning about income received from other firms while holding the collector's post.

Finnegan was paid $45,000 in salary and commissions by Lithofold in less than three years. He resigned recently and his activities are being investigated by a St. Louis grand jury.

McCarthy said the committee made a "serious oversight" in not questioning Finnegan last Friday about evidence gathered by its staff on "other income" he received.

Hoey said Guy George Gabrielson, GOP national committee chairman, who admitted Saturday that he had been contacting RFC recently on behalf of Carthage Hydrocol, Inc., will be heard "at the earliest reasonable date." But he said no date has been set.

Boyle became paid executive vice-chairman of the Democratic Committee in April, 1949, and dissolved his law partnership with Siskind. He moved up to chairman at $35,000 a year in Aug. 1949.

The four Americans had survived a vicious bayonet and hand grenade battle through the night to reach the summit in the crisis of a bitter 13-day fight for its control. Other members of their unit were forced to fall back from the peak which controls the rugged surroundings area.

At 3 a.m., the exhausted quartet gained the crest. American reinforcements moved up quickly but fiercely resisting Reds drove all UN troops off the peak just before dawn.

Streams of deadly machine gun fire, mortar barrages, and small arms fire pincinated the all-night clash.

UN troops who failed to reach the peak from the opposite side held a position on the slopes after digging out Communists with bayonets and hand grenades.

MARSHAL TITO DENOUNCES SOVIET LEADERS IN SPEECH

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Sept. 24 (UP)—Marshal Tito charged today that Russia has bombing planes painted in the Yugoslav colors and with Yugoslav insignia poised in satellite countries ready to bomb this country.

"We know this and we want the whole world to know it," Tito shouted in a speech at Titovo Ulice, the first town liberated by its partisans in the war against Germany 10 years ago today.

In his 40-minute speech, which Tito urged the people of Russian satellite countries to overthrow their leaders. These leaders, he said, are working not for their own countries but for the Kremlin.

Tito said that the sneak-painted planes were poised in Hungary and other Soviet satellite countries on Yugoslavia's borders.

Russia and the satellites, Tito said, are stepping up provocative action on all Yugoslavia's frontiers. To thunderous applause, he challenged:

"We are ready for them—they have not succeeded in breaking our unity—and they will not succeed."

Appealing to the peoples of all satellite countries to overthrow their leaders, Tito said:

"They are not your leaders. They are Soviet leaders. Do not let them cast you and

Meat Institute Blasts Office Of Price Control
CHICAGO, Sept. 24 (UP)—The chairman of the American Meat Institute charged today that OPA meat controls were intensifying inflation and setting up a "boot-egger's paradise."

H. H. Corey, who also is president of Geo. A. Hormel & Co., Austin, Minn., added that cattle and meat price controls were promoted by planners who want to change the nation "into some kind of a replica of Russia."

Addressing the institute's annual meeting here, Corey said that supply and demand determine price.

"But a belief still exists among some people that you can pass a law and determine a price," he said.

"However, in connection with meat, such a law simply brings on a bootlegger's paradise when the artificial price is below the natural price determined by supply and demand."

Plane Crash Kills Two
LEVELLAND, Sept. 24 (UP)—An Air Force training plane crash killed two California pilots near Levelland Sunday.

The single-engine T-6 trainer piled into a pasture 11 miles north west of here and burned. Only witnesses were two airmen flying in another craft nearby.

Dead were 2nd Lt. William H. Malone, 22, of Pasadena, Calif., and 2nd Lt. Archie N. Walters, 25, of Santa Cruz, Calif., of Reese Air Force Base at Lubbock. They were on an instrument-flight training mission, Base officials said.

REQUEST FOR NEW LOCATION BELIEVED TO BE HOLDUP NOW

Union Head Denounces Cotton Plan
WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (UP)—H. L. Mitchell, president of the Farm Labor Union (AFL), has accused 100 Congressmen of attempting to promote what amounts to a "scandalous wildcat strike" by urging cotton growers to hold their 1951 crop off the market for a better price.

His charges were made against 100 Congressmen who advised cotton growers Thursday to put at least half their crop in Commodity Credit Corp. loans until prices rise.

The group's statement was inserted in the House Record by Rep. Frank E. Smith, D., Miss., who said cotton farmers' "patriotic response" to government requests for a bumper crop may result in a "financial penalty" unless growers do more to control the market.

"Can anyone imagine," Mitchell asked, "the charges that would result from 100 Congressmen urging industrial or agricultural workers to go on a sitdown or slowdown strike until they could get a higher wage?"

First Family Inspects Their Future Home
WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (UP)—The Truman family took a Sunday morning stroll and looked over construction of their home.

President Truman jauntily swung a cane as he escorted Mrs. Truman and daughter Margaret to the White House grounds yesterday and noted the progress being made on reconstructing the White House.

Although the Truman's talked wistfully of moving in by Christmas, completion is considered more likely in February or March.

Eastland Hospital Is Incorporated
AUSTIN (Sp)—Incorporators of Eastland Memorial Hospital, a new Benevolent business in Eastland are Theo Lamb, C. W. Hoffmann, and W. B. Pickett, according to a news release from Secretary of State John Ben Shepperd.

A charter for the business which has a capital stock of None was reported by Shepperd this week. Its corporate existence is 25 years.

Bill Anderson Receives Discharge
Mr. and Mrs. Bill Anderson and young son, Billie, have returned from Oceanside, California, where Mr. Anderson was with the Marine Corp.

He has received his discharge from the service and is to be associated with his father in business at the Anderson Chevrolet Co. Their home will be 809 Sinclair.

New Bill Would Keep Presidents On Active List
WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (UP)—Rep. Ralph A. Gamble, D., N. Y., planned to introduce a bill today which would give former presidents lifetime seats in the House of Representatives.

The bill would create the office of delegate-at-large for ex-presidents, giving them status equal to delegates from Hawaii and Alaska. Thus they could introduce bills and join in debate, but would have no vote.

Mysterious Metal Found By Boys On Roadside Identified By FBI

DALHART, Sept. 24 (UP)—The FBI and the Atomic Energy Commission today lowered the iron curtain of secrecy on the discovery of a 33-pound chunk of pure uranium found by three boys on a Texas roadside.

The AEC confirmed that the cylinder was pure, processed uranium—the rare metal which forms the nucleus of the atomic bomb.

And authorities said they were trying to solve the mystery of how the uranium got to Dalhart, a Panhandle town near the New Mexico border.

Beyond that, nobody was talking. The three youngsters, Don Monroe, 12, Jodel Golden, 13 and Walton Fowler, 12, made their discovery more than three months ago. But it wasn't until Friday that they learned the value of their find.

The brick-shaped chunk was said to be seven or eight years old. It was processed and molded during World War II.

Its value at the time it was processed would have been about $23,000-$1,000 a pound, one scientist said.

Don said that he and his two friends "were climbing a tree across the alley from my house and jumping down."

"I saw this piece of iron or something sticking up out of the ground and figured I'd better move it so we wouldn't jump on it and get hurt."

Jodel and Walton helped me dig it out, and we were awful surprised how heavy it was. We

Bulldog Mothers Met Friday To Plan Year's Work

The Bulldog Mother's Club met Friday evening at 4 p.m. in the high school building for the purpose of electing officers and making plans for the year's work.

This club is composed of all the mothers who have boys going out for football, and each year the mothers make it possible for the boys to have some nice banquets at the close of the season.

Each year heretofore they have raised the money in various ways and this year will be no different. This year there are more boys than usual going out for football, and the club as well as all other clubs interested in athletics wants to encourage everyone of them.

With the permission of the head of the school, a contribution will be taken at the game Friday night in order to have the necessary funds to give these boys a real banquet this year.

Just before the second half begins, the Volunteer Firemen, who are going to assist the mothers, will be ready to pass the football helmets through the crowd for any amount that the patrons care to contribute toward this banquet fund.

At the meeting Friday, Mrs. Della Rushing was elected president and Mrs. Charlie Burmel was re-elected treasurer for the group.

Wife Charged In Slaying

FORT WORTH, Sept. 24 (UP)—A 32-year-old Fort Worth housewife who said she killed her husband because he abused their child will present her story to the Tarrant County grand jury.

Mrs. Alma Motley was released from custody yesterday after questioning. Detectives said evidence indicated the shooting victim, A. Z. Motley, 38, a service station operator, had beaten his wife and mistreated their 15-month-old son.

Motley was struck in the back with two slugs from a .38 caliber pistol.

Former County Resident Dies In Dallas

Notice has been received here of the death of Mr. T. F. Maddox, formerly of Ranger, in the Methodist Hospital in Dallas.

While Mr. Maddox was a resident of this area he lived in the Lone Cedar Community. He died in the hospital this morning at 6:15 after a short illness.

Funeral services are pending on the arrival of one of the deceased's sisters.

Junior High 'Pup' Team Will Meet Eastland Tuesday

The Junior High School "Pups," the little Bulldogs, will get their football season underway tomorrow at 3 p.m., when they tangle with the Eastland Junior High team, the "Duggies."

The "Pup" team this year will be formed from the members of the seventh and eighth grades, which is the Junior High in this school system.

A return match will be played with the Eastland team; and other teams in this district will be played twice this year.

Man Made Heart And Lungs Near Perfection Stage
WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (UP)—An artificial heart and lungs to circulate blood during heart and chest surgery is nearing perfection, scientists reported today.

The medical achievement would save thousands of lives and permit greatly improved treatment of serious internal disorders, the scientists said.

The disclosure was made by research scientists attending a symposium at the U. S. Public Health Service's national health institute.

Biggest problem remaining is getting the right degree of oxygen into the blood and taking out the carbon dioxide while it is going through the machine.

The scientists said this is now being done successfully on dogs.

Volunteers To Meet At 7:30 Tonight For Drill
Volunteer Fire Chief Virge Johnson announced this morning that the Volunteer Firemen will meet tonight at 7:30.

Johnson said that this meeting tonight will be for a fire drill.

Eastland Area Due 3 Projects

Three projects are slated to be drilled in the Eastland County Gorman area. The tracts, contracted for 3,000 feet with cable tools have been spotted by S-J-S Oil Co.

No. 1 R. G. Lewis, et al, will be an outpost eight miles northeast of Gorman. Drillsite is 330 feet from the north and west lines of a 66.6 acre lease and being approximately 1,520 feet from the west lines of J. A. Curbella Survey.

No. 1 R. D. Davis, et al, will be an offset eight miles northeast of Gorman, 660 feet from the west lines of a 160 acre lease and being 330 feet from the west and approximately 1,190 feet from the north lines of J. A. Curbella Survey.

Seven miles northeast of Gorman, No. 3 C. E. Ragland has been spotted as an offset. It will be 798 feet from the south and 990 feet from the east lines of a 160 acre lease in Abraham Schmeltzer Survey.

While she was at our house talking about it," Don said, "I hit the thing and a spark flew

"I got to looking it over and quit jumping out of the tree.

"After a while, we threw some rocks at it. Every time we hit it, sparks would fly up. And after the sparks went up in the air a ways, they'd pop, just like a little firecracker."

Don took the uranium home and amused himself and his family for a time showing how it gave off sparks when struck.

"But I got tired of it, and kinda forgot about it," Don said. But Mrs. George Epperson, the landlady, said she was worried that the sparks given off by the cylinder might start a fire in the house.

THE STORY: John Clayton, ex-colonel of the Confederate cavalry, goes West after the Civil War and in Kansas City he is involved in a gun duel in which he kills one of two crooked gamblers.

Below us, spreading along both banks of a beautiful stream, lay scores of evenly spaced tents.

ON the blanket in front of me were nine hundred hard Yankee dollars. All mine by gun-induced default.

Rising to go, I felt a hand on my shoulder. Tensing, I glanced at it, finding it more nearly resembled the paw of an old bear grizzly than any human member. The owner of the hand redeemed the note of its beaklike promise.

He was not over five and a half feet tall, weighing I would say, 200 pounds, yet his voice was oddly soft, almost womanlike. "Son, I thought for a minute there you was gonna be weighed down by your boots when you made the big jump."

"Friend," I agreed, anxious to talk now that the tension was broken, "I was never so scared in my life."

"Wouldn't be surprised." There was a chuckle in the soft voice. "You looked cool as a cucumber and twice as green. Any idea who that was you was buckin'?"

Reaction to the stirring-up of the game was setting in hard. My esophagus wrestled manfully to see if it couldn't keep my stomach pinned down. Apparently it could, at least long enough for me to answer. "No, none at all. His partner called him 'Slate,' I think."

"Yep. That's right. Name's Slate. That's right. Name's Slate. Slate to his friends, of which there ain't none. He's got another brand on him in this here range's tally books, though. Folks out there, gesturing vaguely off toward the west, call him 'Arapahoe Jack.'"

"I thought it best to find a building to lean on. My knees had abruptly turned to pure gelatin, while my gullet threatened anew to lose its hammerlock on my stomach."

"If I had made an enemy, I had done no piker's job of it. Arapahoe Jack was almost a latter-day Simon Girty. I knew at once why the onlookers at our little game paid me such respect of distance following Slate's departure. Arapahoe Jack!"

"If you're bound west," he offered, after hearing my story, "and can handle yourself like you can your gun, I can hire you on. My name's Ed Geary."

"Where you heading and what's the work?"

"Headin' for Montana Territory. Takin' a wagon train through. Twenty hook-ups. Mostly the people are headin' out for the goldfields. That ain't so much interest in the fact they're ainin' to go across the Powder River country to see there."

"Where do I fit in?"

"Scouts is scarce. There's more trains than there is of us to guide 'em. I need help and I figger four years of sneakin' around in them southern woods, pot-shootin' Yankees, nominates you."

"Mister," the impulse to accept came on me suddenly, "you've got yourself an apprentice. My name's John Clayton and west is my direction."

TWENTY-EIGHT days later, as we approached Fort Laramie, an event took place which shook even Geary to the soles of his moccasins.

Geary called me to him shortly after sunset, saying he had spotted smoke from many fires to our north. We squatted out of earshot of the others, under the bed of the lead wagon.

"Colonel," he continued (the always called me by rank, over my objections), "if those fires are what I think they are, we're in for a hot time."

"No, worse." He kept his voice low, talking fast. "You remember the trapper that rode through, headin' down-river when we was noon-halted?"

"Yes. Where'd he come from?"

"He come from Laramie. Big man from Washington is in Laramie, Name's Taylor. Head of the Injun Bureau, I think. Red Cloud, Crazy Horse, and purty nigh the whole Sioux Nation has come into the fort to talk treaty on this new Bozeman Trail, which the Army is aimin' to lay a string of forts along and which we're aimin' to take our train up."

"Then Sioux ain't agency Injuns. Red Cloud is ugly and his people is with him. Council's called for tomorrow mornin'."

"I had learned much from Geary about the Indians and their country since leaving Kansas City, but this knowledge didn't give significance to what he was now saying. "Where does that put us, Ed?" I asked. "If they're all in Laramie what are those fires to the north?"

"Only one answer to that," his tones were so low I scarcely caught the words. "Fraid I know what it is, but I'm ridin' north right now to make sure. You want to come along?"

IN an hour we were working our way to the crest of the last ridge between us and the first Geary seeming to have no more trouble finding his way than in daylight. We tethered our horses and crept the last few yards on our bellies. Not knowing what to expect, I parted the last scrub-growth, peering down into the valley below. Geary made no sound, but the intake of my breath was as sharp as an arrow's whinger.

Below us, spreading along both banks of a beautiful stream, stretching for half a mile, dotted by dozens of campfires and ghostly white against the moonless night, lay scores of evenly spaced tents, a scene which at once brought nostalgia to an ex-officer of the Confederacy.

"It's an Army Camp, Ed. Infantry. Must be thousand men."

"That makes it perfect," said Geary, his voice as calm as water in a horse trough. "Not enough of them to do any good, too many not to cause trouble. Colonel, we've got to mosey down there and find out what they're doin' here."

It was a nervous half-hour which saw us finally on our bellies, 100 yards out from the pickets.

"We won't have to go into that camp, after all. You see that man in the buckskins? The one sittin' just outside the freight in front of the command tent?" I finally made out the figure he referred to.

"Well, you watch him."

As I followed his instructions, Geary cupped his hands tightly to his mouth, emitting such a marvelous series of fox barks that I could not believe they came from came as the Reds turned increasingly aggressive on all sectors of the east-central and eastern fronts.

The air war also gained momentum. Night intruder bombers caught some 2,300 enemy trucks ferrying reinforcements and supplies to the west-central front Sunday night and destroyed or damaged nearly 800.

Fighter-bombers took over in daylight and in 53 early sorties killed or wounded nearly 200 enemy troops. In one area southwest of Cherwon on the west-central front, they drenched deep enemy bunkers with flaming napalm and killed 150 Reds.

Two U. S. jet sweeps of "Mig Alley" in northwest Korea failed to flush any Communist jet planes.

WITH ETHIOPIAN TROOPS, KOREA, Sept. 24 (UP)—Emperor Haile Selassie's six foot warriors complained today Chinese troops refuse to surrender in fear the Africans are cannibals.

"We do everything," we can capture the Chinamen," said Capt Ayalew H. Selassie, a distant relative of the Emperor, "but they have been told we eat prisoners and their surrender."

Except for disappointment over their low bag of prisoners, the tough Ethiopian soldiers with United Nations forces were jumping with happiness over their recent conquest of an important hill position on the central front. They drove the frightened Chinese back a full mile.

Capt Selassie spoke a slow, grammatical English in a low, thoughtful tone. He represented the tall, hand-picked troops who have sworn to die in Korea for their Emperor.

"We are all hunters," he said. "We like to take the enemy alive. But that is becoming very difficult in battle."

"We even hold our rifles up over our heads and some of my men place rifles on the ground to show the Communist we will not harm them. But they are still afraid."

"One prisoner told us he expected to be eaten as his officer had sworn that we were cannibals."

An American officer with one Ethiopian unit under attack from the Chinese expressed concern when the Ethiopians slackened their fire. He asked if they were low on ammunition.

"Oh no," said the Ethiopian commander. "We just stop firing to encourage the Chinese to attempt a banal charge so my children can go to work on them with the bayonet."

London will be unable to commit itself to any definite new policies until after Oct. 25 when the British voters decide whether the Labor Government remains in power or whether Winston Churchill and his Conservatives take over. Definite resistance to the plans for the defense of Western Europe have developed in France and the government, as usual, is balanced on a razor's edge.

Two men who are heroes of the allied defeat of the axis in World War II—Churchill and Gen. Charles DeGaulle—are the men seeking to overthrow the governments and assume power themselves. The danger to the anti-Communist coalition is greater in France than it is in Britain. Churchill is an old-time enemy of Communism. He and Stalin never have seen eye-to-eye, not even when they were allies sitting around the same table and drafting plans on how to defeat Hitler.

The Conservatives carry the election in Britain, the ties between London and Washington probably will be strengthened because Churchill always has based his foreign policy on an Anglo-American agreement which stands ready to oppose anybody who threatens the interests of either or both nations.

DeGaulle's position is different. He, too, is a foe of the aggressor whether it be Communism or Nazism. But he is firm, and will

Britain, France Governments In Crucial Period

By Harry Ferguson
United Press Foreign News Editor
America's two most powerful allies—Britain and France—have entered a period of crisis just at a time when the world-wide resistance to Communism is gathering momentum.

These are the normal processes of democracy in both France and Britain. There is no Stalin in either London or Paris to order up a change of policy overnight or to enforce compliance with the one in existence. Waiting for the people to make up their mind is one of the handicaps democracies accept cheerfully in the cold war.

If the Ranger high school girls basketball team plays under the rules of the Interscholastic League Girls Basketball Committee this year, you will see some highly interesting differences, the most important one being the change from limited dribbling to unlimited dribbling for the girls. This will give the girls a better chance to operate on the court.

The case of the motherless pups has taken a new turn. The responsibility of feeding them has been handed off to Mrs. Owen Bray. Owen said that there are only four of them left. The other one was given to James Calvert of Fort Worth, and the others will be kept until they are a little bigger, and then "passed out to the general public," according to Bray.

All that wind over the weekend brought Ranger no rain — if something doesn't happen soon, these babies that have been born recently are going to be shaving before they see any rain.

The members of the present "B" team of the Bulldogs have declared that they are going through the season again this year undefeated and unscathed. That is a pretty high mark to be shooting at, but if they are determined enough they can do just that.

Coaches Yarborough and Henderson of Junior College were not too pleased with the passing attack of the Rangers Thursday night. On the schedule for this week is plenty of passing and passing and more passing. The team was given a light workout after the Midwestern "B" team game Friday to work the knots out of their joints that those big bruisers gave them. The Rangers were pretty well banged up after that tilt. Jerry Compton, the Ranger center was the hardest hit—he faced their number 69 all night. That boy was listed on the program as weighing 230 pounds, an unofficial source said that he would go over 300 on honest scales.

More football — the "Pups" will start their double round-robin with the other junior high teams of district 2A-10 tomorrow afternoon with the Eastland "Dogs."

Some of the band members of Ranger high were really putting the play they are sponsoring in front of the public Saturday. The advertisement was written on the legs of a member of the band wearing shorts, standing on the corner in front of the Paramount Hotel. I bet no male passerby missed seeing that advertisement.

Bob Gans said that the Band Boosters are putting this play on off and burned a little hole in Mrs. Epperson's dress.

That settled it. Mrs. Epperson bundled Don and his hunk of metal into a car and took them both to the office of the Dalhart Texan, the newspaper in town.

Dr. Leocadia Lopez of the University of New Mexico's Institute of Meteorics, took the metal and examined it. When he first brought it home, he put it on the dining table, but his wife noticed burned holes in the cloth and scoured the wood.

He put it in a milk pail and turned it over to AEC officials. They said it was uranium but that was all.

Uranium, the heaviest natural element in the earth, produces radium when it decays.

Its property of being easily fissionable—the splitting of the atoms—accounts for its use in the atomic bomb. The splitting of the atoms produces a chain reaction which releases enormous amounts of heat and energy.

But in its pure state—the way the youngsters found it—uranium is as harmless as a block of lead. It throws off radiation at all times, but the radiation is harmless.

Radium, on the other hand, is dangerous and can cause serious burns and cancer to those exposed to its powerful radiation. Scratching the surface of the metal produces sparks. It will also glow in the dark if it is in a pure state.

Doctors said there was little likelihood that Don and his companions had been harmed by their long exposure to the rare metal.

Meanwhile, the discovery of a second chunk of the metal, similar to that which the boys found, came to light. It was reported taken from a scrap heap here, and was said to weigh 64 pounds.

The FBI refused even to acknowledge the existence of the larger piece. But Albert Law, editor of the Dalhart Texan, said the FBI had possession of it. He said it was like "half of a cake—about 10 inches wide and three or four inches thick."

Ballet Dancers Enroute To U. S. Heavy With British Tradition

By DAVID MURRAY
United Press Staff Correspondent

LONDON (UP) — Greenwich Village and Paris' Left Bank both have their London counterparts in Chelsea, but Americans won't be able to prove it by Sadler's Wells ballet dancers this fall.

The young male dancers who roam their native heath in logg hoods, berets and sandals will be wearing bowlers and carrying carefully furled umbrellas, paid for by the ballet company management when the troupe sails for Canada and the U. S. this month.

And the girls who normally peer at London through thick, uncombed hair will be carefully dressed with new fall and winter wardrobes complete with 30 pairs of nylon stockings apiece.

The girls will also be given handbags, several pairs of gloves, and — like the men—umbrellas which are as much a part of the Mayfair woman's wardrobe as they are of the Parisienne's.

For British Front

Tour manager Sol Hurok said he was surprised that most of the men would choose to bowler instead of a more dashing type of headgear. But one dancer, gazing pensively into a beer at the Antelope, a Chelsea pub frequented by London theater and ballet people, summed it up.

"When I'm in London, I like to slop around but I am never more British than when I'm away. If I didn't look so awful in one, I'd take a homburg to New York, just to look like Anthony Eden. But I guess I'll settle for the bowler. At least it identifies me as an Englishman."

Tour manager Sol Hurok, however, said he wasn't going to be part of the scheme to make each to its powerful radiation.

Doctors said there was little likelihood that Don and his companions had been harmed by their long exposure to the rare metal.

Meanwhile, the discovery of a second chunk of the metal, similar to that which the boys found, came to light. It was reported taken from a scrap heap here, and was said to weigh 64 pounds.

The FBI refused even to acknowledge the existence of the larger piece. But Albert Law, editor of the Dalhart Texan, said the FBI had possession of it. He said it was like "half of a cake—about 10 inches wide and three or four inches thick."

Rich Sportsman Injured in Crash

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 24 (UP) — Millionaire sportsman Joel W. Thorne, 36, who built the racing car that won the 1946 Memorial Day classic at Indianapolis speedway, was in critical condition today with injuries suffered in a motorcycle accident.

Thorne was injured Saturday when his "hopped-up" motorcycle sideswiped a car, hurling him 15 feet into a curbing. He suffered a skull fracture, concussion and severe lacerations.

It was the millionaire's second serious motorcycle accident. He was hospitalized for nine months last year following a similar wreck.

Mrs. Eppie Carr Honored By Her Children At Willow Park Saturday

The family of Mrs. Eppie Carr gathered at the Willow Park here for a reunion Saturday Sept. 22. The family has made it a practice for a number of years of getting together about this time of the year for a reunion and to celebrate their mother's birthday which is June 22.

She was born Eppie Jane Keith on the ranch of her father just outside of Desdemona in 1871. Her father, B. M. Keith, was a frontier stockman and a charter member of the Texas Ranchers Association. The first marriage license issued from the courthouse in Eastland county was issued to Mr. and Mrs. Keith.

When Eppie was 15, she met R. S. Carr, a stockfarmer from Tennessee. It was at a neighbors house, and the young man, then 26, teased Eppie Jane by swatting her with a white silk handkerchief. Eppie Jane retaliated by keeping the handkerchief. Soon the couple were engaged, and her fiancé wrote her that he would soon come back for her. Her parents rejected the marriage due to Eppie's youth, but their objections were overcome and the couple were married.

To this union was born twelve children, eleven of which are living today and eight of them were present for the reunion. Her husband passed away in 1929 and she is living with a daughter, Mrs. Fron Ames at 309 S. Austin.

The children and their families that were present Saturday were Mrs. R. P. Lewis of Desdemona; Tennie Merrick, Moody Carr and Frona Ames of Ranger; R. S. Carr of Stephenville, Herman Carr, Kermit, Cecil Carr, Desdemona and Mrs. Alveta Compton of Fort Worth. Those who could not attend were O. F. Carr, Mary Cheney and John Carr.

At noon a picnic lunch was spread on the long tables at the Willow Park and in the afternoon music was provided by the grandchildren. Two granddaughters, Ann and Lavetta Carr sang "It is No Secret" and a number of others brought instrumental numbers. Many pictures were made and the group of about seventy-relatives enjoyed being together for the occasion.

There were sixteen grandchildren present, eighteen great grandchildren and a number of friends.

Miss Eubank, Mr. Shaeffer Are Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Eubank, 619 West Main, have announced the engagement of their daughter Miss Frances Ann Eubank, to Stanley Deaubien Shaeffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Shaeffer of Altadena, California.

The couple will be married October 27 in the First Baptist Church in Ranger.

Miss Eubank is a graduate of Texas Technological College in Lubbock where she received her B. A. Degree in Elementary Education.

She has been a teacher in the Midland schools since Sept. of '49. Mr. Shaeffer is a graduate of Colorado School of Mines where he received his Masters Degree in Geological Engineering. He is now a consulting geologist in Midland.

Study Course To Begin Tonite

The Adult Dept. of the First Baptist Church will meet tonight at 7:30 at the church for a Study course. The course will take two nights, Monday and Tuesday. All teachers and officers of the Adult Dept. are urged to attend.

The teachers and officers of the Young People's Dept. will meet at the home of Bill Bullock to complete the study course that was begun last week.

Hodges P-TA To Meet Tues.

Patsy Ann Frasier, Max Lasater Are Wed In Church Ceremony

The First Baptist Church of Ranger was the scene Saturday evening September 14, at 6:30 p. m. for the wedding of Patsy Ann Frasier of Ranger and Jerry Max Lasater of Eastland.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Opal Rodgers of Ranger and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Lasater of Eastland.

Rev. Ralph Perkins was officiant for the ceremony before an altar banked with white gladioli. Miss Joy Hill was organist.

The bride wore a dress of white lace over satin and her flower was a white orchid. Miss Letty Louise Frasier of Ranger, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and wore a royal blue crepe dress with white accessories.

Billy Joe Lasater of Eastland, served his brother as best man. A reception in the Rodgers home followed the ceremony. The wedding cake was a white three-tiered cake with tiny pink rose buds and topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Slayer Held For Killing Child With Beer, Soda

DALLAS, Sept. 24 (UP) — A 17-year-old boy was held today after he admitted giving a year-old baby "several shots" of beer to see how the child would "take it." The infant strangled.

The youth told authorities that he and a 12-year-old boy went to visit a teen-age girl who was babysitting with Leslie Fletcher Saturday. The child's mother was attending a movie.

Detective T. L. Baker said the youth told him he thought it would be "cute" to feed the baby a drink of beer to see its reaction.

The first drink of beer seemed not to affect the child, Baker said. The youth told him he decided to give the infant another drink. Immediately after the second shot, the child's hands started turning purple.

Then, the youth told Baker, he gave the baby some orange soda, but the child gagged. The three youngsters then called a doctor. The baby died en route to a hospital.

The baby-sitter and the other boy told police essentially the same story. Their names were withheld and no charges were filed.

An autopsy was performed on the infant yesterday, but no report was issued pending laboratory tests to determine whether alcohol was present in the child's body.

Mrs. Betty Lois Fletcher, the child's mother, said her husband, Clifford, was overseas with the Army.

The 17-year-old boy is too young to be prosecuted as an adult under Texas law, police said.

Railroad Travel Was Faster Then

BOSTON (UP)—It was faster traveling on the Boston & Maine Railroad a century ago than it is today, according to a Danvers lawyer.

Speaking at a state house hearing on railroad matters, town counsel William B. Sullivan Jr. produced a timetable showing that the Boston-Danvers trips on a wood-burning train took 41 minutes in 1854.

Today, he said, the run takes 49 minutes.
