

Kenneth Williams And Bride At Home Here After July 3 Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Williams, who were married at Red Springs Baptist Church, July 3, have returned to Ranger to make their home, after a short wedding trip to Lawton, Okla. and other places of interest.

Mrs. Williams was recently honored with a gift tea at the home of Mrs. Carl Page, with Misses A. L. Stiles, Alton Stiles, Hester Gay, Sr. John Tibbels, Bob Plumley, Albert Huffman, Nath Pirkie, Jerry Page, Jesse Smith, Ralph Huffman and E. F. Arterburn as co-hostesses.

The house was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and a table arrangement of pink aster. Pink punch and white cakes, with a tiny sweet pea in the corner, were served. A beautiful array of gifts was displayed.

Out-of-town guests included the bride's mother, Mrs. Robertson and sisters, Patsy and Ann, and Mrs. Walter Miller, all of Red Springs.

BETTI'S BUDGET of HELPFUL HINTS

During these hot summer days, we are always looking for ways to cool off. It is not as strange as it sounds, but a warm tub-bath soaking for twenty minutes just before bedtime is more cooling than a cold shower. Warm water causes the blood vessels to dilate so that much of the internal heat can reach the skin and leave the body. So relax—and cool off—several times a day by bathing in warm water.

Instead of a conventional dessert for a children's party, why not try something different? Make some ice cream clowns: Use a ball of ice cream for the clown's head, raisins for his eyes, and cherries for the nose and mouth. Shredded coconut becomes a clown's ruff and an inverted ice cream cone his hat.

Dazzle white golf balls—much easier to spot. Just a quick scrub-brushing with hot soap will make a ball cleaner and a speedier too.

Did you know that salt is good for the hair? As a dry shampoo, mix one ounce of powdered orris root and one cup of salt. Spread well over the hair and scalp, rub in with the fingertips, then brush vigorously. The hair turns out fresh and glossy. As a treatment for dandruff, try a mixture of one cup of salt and five tablespoons of water pucked on the hair. Let remain for ten or fifteen minutes, and rinse well with warm water. The salt tones the scalp and loosens scaly particles.

Here are some flavor tricks: add a drop or two of almond flavoring to canned cherries; add dry mustard to the cheese sauce for macaroni; sprinkle freshly ground black pepper over a tossed green salad; add chopped almonds to a clear soup just before serving; use radishes sliced fine as garnish for almost anything.

Here's a delicate sauce for ice cream or for light fragile cake that you'll like. It's pureed bananas with a touch of lemon juice, beat on to a cream and made very cold. Add a touch of sugar just before serving.

Beverly Kaye Alexander Has First Birthday Party In Hospital

Beverly Kaye Alexander, daughter of T-Sgt. and Mrs. Melvin Joe Alexander, celebrated her first birthday on Father's Day. They are stationed at Lincoln Air Force Base near Lincoln, Nebraska. A big party had been planned, but two days before, Beverly drank turpentine and spent six days recovering in Lincoln General Hospital.

The party was called off and the two tiered white cake, decorated in pink, was taken to Beverly's hospital ward where seven other patients enjoyed it. The sing'g candle was in the shape of a little girl. Small cars were given as favors and Beverly wore her new birthday dress. She received many small gifts from friends and her brother, Jimmy. But the big swing set had to wait at home for her return.

Beverly was born in the Philippines and was taken all over the island of Luzon, flew to Gunn, Kwajalein, Johnston Island, Hawaii and California; and rode through Arizona, New Mexico, Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas to reach Lincoln, Nebraska. The Alexanders are at home at 701 South 9th street, and find Lincoln a very friendly city. They are members of the First Baptist Church's next door to the State Capital. Jimmy, who is two and a half, recently received a Bible for being the youngest son present at the annual Father-Son banquet at the church.

Sgt. Alexander's home is in Breckenridge. Mrs. Alexander, the former LaVeda Mitchell of Ranger, was recently chosen for membership in the Ann Judson Guild and the Lincoln AFB, NCO Wives Club.

Jerry Barnes To Direct Singing For Tent Revival

Jerry Barnes, Baylor University, will direct the congregational singing at the big Tent revival sponsored by the First Baptist Church of Ranger, August 16-29. Rev. Cliff Brannon will do the preaching. The two daughters of Mr. Brannon, Beverly and Madelyn, Cliff Jr. and Mrs. Brannon make up the Evangelistic party, according to Rev. Perkins pastor of the First Baptist Church. Mr. Barnes is soloist for the Baylor Religious Hour, and has been associated with Mr. Brannon for several summers. He will assist Mr. Dick Waters of the local church in directing the Youth program during the two weeks. There will be no day services. Only the evening service under the "big tent." The "Old Fashioned Tent revival is coming back to Texas and to the southland. "For too long," Mr. Perkins stated, "People have been denied the privilege of coming into the big tents and hearing the out pouring of the Holy Ghost Religion as was true of a generation gone by. We hope to give to Ranger and the area the greatest opportunity that has come this way since 1915."

I saw a couple of pictures a few days ago that made me home sick. Hute Dunson, who works in the commercial printing department at the Times, and his brother, Kay, took off for Lake Texoma a week or so ago. He now has proof in pictures of the success of an enjoyable fishing trip. Five catfish, with a total weight of 67 pounds were done ashore on the trip.

I've been wondering if these are the kind of days which older folks called "dog days" when I was a boy. Any way they make me dog-tired. Does anyone know what is meant by reference to "dog days"? If so, I would appreciate having an opportunity to continue my education if you will tell me. How about it?

O. H. Dick, top boss of the Eastland Telegram, is certainly a tantalizing person. Every time he comes by here he has been fishing, is going fishing or wants to talk about fishing, and all the time I have work to be done.

E. L. Norris when he drops by to see this corner of the Times. On his last visit—worn, by a little encouragement, talk about his newest grandchild, a girl born to Mr. and Mrs. Don Norris in Abilene on July 4. Of course everyone knows that Don, now on the staff of the Abilene Reporter-News, once did the chores on the Time, with which we now struggle. Grandpa Norris looked right chipper when he was by here.

Question: Can anyone give me a recent report on whether or not Virge Johnson has been able to improve his game in recent weeks?

"The college yell of the school of experience is silence," but some of us who ain't graduated yet are always opening our big mouth too much. That's me cousin.

Americans historically spend relatively the same percentage of their disposable income for meat—around 5 to 6 per cent. In 1924, $35 of the $597 disposable income per person was spent for meat— or 5.8 per cent. In 1953, of the $1,532 disposable income per person, $82.60—or 5.4 per cent—went for meat.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwain Lusk

Miss Audrey Maxine Harbin
Bride of Harold Dwain Lusk

The wedding vows of Miss Audrey Maxine Harbin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Harbin, and Harold Dwain Lusk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lusk, all of Eastland, were solemnized at 7:30 Saturday evening, July 3rd at the Church of Christ.

The Minister, James Le Fan, brother-in-law of the groom, performed the ceremony. Surrounding the Altar, were baskets of white Gladiolus and matching seven-point candelabra of white filigree iron, bearing tall white taper. The large satin bows on each standard held small bouquets. The Chancel rail was roped with greenery and interspersed with flowers of matching flowers.

Miss Harbin's bridal gown was of white chantilly lace and tulle over brides' satin. The strapless bodice was covered with a lace jacket with small Eton collar and long tapered sleeves. The bouffant skirt had design of deep pointed lace yoke from which the triple tulle skirt hung to waist length, worn over crinolines.

The circular illusion veil was elbow length and was attached to a coronet of seed pearls. A shower bouquet with a white orchid and a prayer book completed the bridal attire. She was given in marriage by her father.

Maid of honor was Miss Maxine Baylis of Post and the brides-were the father and mother of the bride, the bride and groom and the groom's parents. Presiding at the brides book was the sister of the bride, Mrs. Jack E. Connell of Kilgore.

The Wedding cake, three tiers, with its frosty orange blossoms and topped with miniature bride and groom was on a table covered with an imported white cutwork cloth. A pink and white arrangement of flowers centered the table. A cut glass service held the frosted punch. Misses, Curtis Kimbrell, Gerald Wingate, L. A. Harbin and Dewey Webb, alternated with the serving.

Traveling dress for Mrs. Lusk was of Mediterranean blue faille with white accessories and corsage. After a short wedding trip the couple will live in Eastland. Lusk is an Engineer with the State Highway Department.

Out of town visitors and relatives here for the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Meadors, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Baldwin, Jack Gibson of Dickens, Miss Chichi Meadors from Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Lusk of Plains, Mr. and Mrs. Jack E. Connell, Toni Joe and Miss Martha Kay of Kilgore.

What To See In 'America First'

There are hundreds of interesting sights and places that you and other tourists may wish by this summer, if you are planning a trip to the western part of the country. A professional photographer, who knows every cranny in the west, says that some of the best is only a few miles off the main highways.

Report in the July issue of Better Homes and Gardens, he tells about some of the best recreational and scenic areas. They lie within easy driving distance of heavily traveled routes.

For instance, there is the Canyon de Chelly National Monument. It is on Arizona's Navajo Reservation, just off highway 66, near Holbrook, Arizona. Then, there is "Upstairs" in Yosemite National Park. You can visit this almost "Unknown" part of the park.

New Mexico's Land of the Penitentes is in the North Central part of the state. This remote habitation is still primarily influenced by the Seventeenth Century culture of Spain and Mexico. It is virtually untouched by modern civilization.

Paint Your Home With Fragrance

BY EDNA MILES

BRINGING a garden indoors during the summer isn't always possible in the literal sense. Maybe you haven't a garden or, perhaps, you're the kind of woman who'd rather leave the blooms adorning the yard.

In that case, try painting either one scent or the fragrance of an entire bouquet into your house. It's easily done with scented lacquer, which can be used on unpainted or unvarnished wooden surface.

A little goes a long way. You may use the lacquer inside bureau drawers, underneath closet shelves or beneath tables and window sills. These strips can be washed off and a new scent substituted whenever you like.

But meantime, the perfume will last for weeks, depending on the size of the area you've covered.

When you use it inside your bureau drawers, apply it in strips on the bottom or at the back of the door with the brush made especially for the purpose. To clean off the brush, wash it off with warm water.

It scents your lingerie and linens, of course, as well as perfuming the air in the immediate vicinity.

Brush long-lasting scented lacquer in bureau drawers to perfume linen, lingerie and the room itself.

Cool, Cooking Tricks To Help You Keep Cool on Hot Days

"Cooking on all burners" is a phrase out of favor right now. Even the most dedicated of cooks are for cool cooking, which sounds like a contradiction in terms, but isn't. It's quite possible to assemble a good and inviting meal with a minimum application of heat. The trick is to take advantage of all available ready-to-eat foods, and to combine them skilfully.

First, consider Crunchy Tuna Salad. This is a gem of a salad to make—when the ruddy temperature forbids turning on even one burner. Simple, quick and good for a light but satisfying lunch—and may we thank our lucky stars for modern refrigeration.

Then, for the hot dish of a hot day—and every day's menus should include one such—Lunch Meat with Corn Casserole qualifies nicely. Preparation is slight—baking time is short—and the result is flavorful and filling.

CRUNCHY TUNA SALAD
6 medium-sized tomatoes
1 cup (17-oz. can) tuna fish
1 cup finely cut celery
1 tablespoon minced onions
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1/2 cup corn soya shreds
Peel tomatoes. Cut petal fashion about 2-3 of the way down, or enough to spread. Chill. Arrange on crisp lettuce.
Drain tuna fish and flake. Combine with celery, onions and mayonnaise. Fold in corn soya shreds. Fill centers of tomatoes with salad.
Yield: 6 servings

LUNCH MEAT AND CORN CASSEROLE

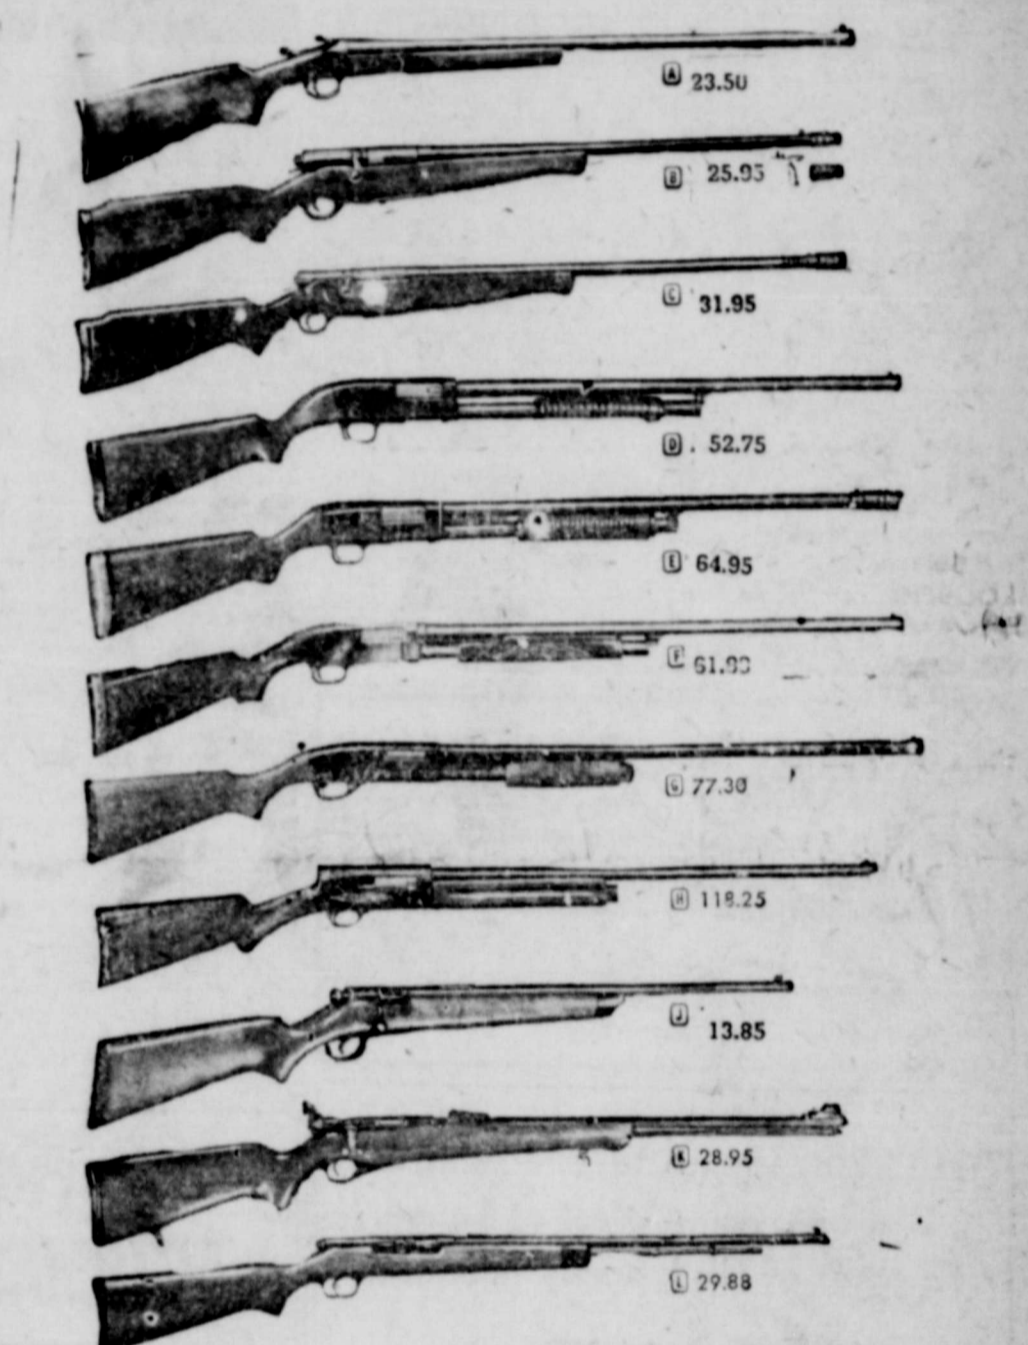

1/2 pound luncheon meat
1 No. 2 can whole kernel corn
1-1/2 cup chopped parsley
1/2 teaspoon salt
1-1/2 teaspoon pepper
3 cups medium white sauce
1 cup corn flakes
2 te. spoons melted butter or margarine
Cube meat and mix with drained corn and parsley. Season with salt and pepper. Put layers of corn mixture and white sauce in greased baking dish (8x8 inches). Crush corn flakes slightly; mix with melted butter and sprinkle over top of casserole. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 20 minutes.
Yield: 6 servings, about 1 cup each.

The Navy uses from 25 to 30 million gallons of all types of paint each year. Roughly 20 million gallons are used for maintenance and are applied by men in the fleet.

In The Mood To Hunt Treasures?

Three County Legends Told

(Editor's Note: The following story was written by J. W. Sinton, editor of the Cisco Daily Press, and appeared in that paper several days ago.)

Almost every county has its treasure legend. Eastland County has at least three such stories. In 1887, the bank in Cisco was robbed. It was a money Valentine Day. A show-up by the band was giving a concert at one end of the business section.

While the show of everyone as drawn to that quarter, in the bank a block and a half away, four men sat around the office: F. C. LeVeaux, the cashier, and three customers. The front door opened and three men walked in, each carrying a pistol and one commanded, "Hands Up!"

The customer was slow in complying and was stunned by a pistol blow, only the heavy brim of his hat saving him from serious injury. The intruders placed the contents of the cash drawer and the vault in the sack. Paper money was little used in Cisco in those days and the loot consisted of silver.

LeVeaux and the customers were herded through a rear door into a back yard and were ordered to climb a high board fence. All complied except the banker who made as though to swing over as the last robber went over the fence. The cashier then ran through the bank and out into the street, shouting "The bank has been robbed."

The three hostages were, meanwhile, freed and the robbers, (there were four, one having been guarding the horses) dashed away. After gaining a hilltop, one handit held up a sack and gestured derisively at the citizens who had gathered near the bank and were in no hurry to give chase. The handits met a farmer, who was on his way into Cisco, and the leader said, "Tell 'em we're going to come back and clean up the town."

PLEASANT "POINT OF PRIVILEGE"—Ray Jenkins, who served as special counsel for the Senate Investigating Subcommittee during the Army-McCarthy hearings, really enjoys a "point of privilege" in his Knoxville, Tenn., home as he feeds his 20-month-old granddaughter, Evelyn, some candy. Before returning to Washington to correlate findings of the committee, Jenkins refused comment as to whether or not he'd become a candidate for the Senate seat now held by Democrat Sen. Estes Kefauver.

This news being delivered, who lived in Cisco, telegraphed the governor, in substance, "Bank robbed and outlaws threaten to return and rob the town; what can be done?" Governor Sul Ross wired back, "If not enough men in town to protect I suggest you burn and evacuate."

When a posse did get around to taking up the trail, they found a spot where a few coins were scattered about. Apparently the robbers had made a stop and perhaps divided the spoils there. The amount obtained was around $5,000. Some citizens believed that the silver was buried some miles from town and, through the years, quite a few hunted, but without success. One such search was made, 40 years after the robbery. Well, that is one story of Eastland County buried treasure. Now for the second one.

Along in the 1930's, this chronicler was visiting Gorman when the editor of the Gorman Progress looked out on the street and said, "There's the man who is hunting for Spanish treasure." He called the treasure-hunter into the office. The old man — he was a Confederate veteran — assured us that there was $6,000,000 worth of silver and that he was "right on top of it," all he needed being a little more capital.

For several years, he had been too old to dig and so he had employed others. One of these told me that he had actually encountered what seemed to be an old shaft in the bottom of which he found the rusted metal of a pick of crude workmanship. Nearby, he had come across a primitive iron pot which could have been used — "could," mind you — in a simple form of smelting. These finds would indicate a mine, rather than many jackloads of silver.

The aged treasure-seeker would not discuss details and he has now gone on to that realm where the treasures are of a nature that rust doth not corrupt nor thieves break in and steal.

Eastland County's third tale of treasure was related by a man who spent a small fortune seeking it. He had been a deputy sheriff and was a successful trader in land, cattle, horses and oil leases in short, a highly practical individual, about the last person you would think of as hunting for buried gold. But no one is immune to the fever once the "gold bug" bites you.

This is the story he spun while we sat on a bench in Burk Burnett Park in Fort Worth:

"During the days of the California gold rush, a band of outlaws held up stage coaches, banks and mining company offices with great success. But California became too 'unhealthy' so they headed east in a lonely section of what is now Eastland County — (there were plenty of lonely sections then for the region was almost unsettled.) — they hid many thousands of dollars. The plan was to ride off in two groups in different directions and meet later, return to the spot, dig up the spoils, divide it and scatter for good and all.

But one gang had gone only a short distance when the leader became to be assailed by doubts. Perhaps the other crowd would ride only a short distance, then turn back and dig up the gold. So he decided to make sure that no double-cross was planned. He and his men headed back and when they came over the hill, sure enough there was the other group preparing to dig up the gold.

Immediately, a battle broke out and man after man was killed. One escaped; as far as he knew, he was the only survivor. He decided to put plenty of distance between him and the scene; he didn't want to be asked awkward questions by a posse; he had no hankering to hang. He fled to Mexico. There, he became ill and a native took him into his abode but administered to him. The outlaw realized that the end was near and, calling for his paper and pen, he drew a map. This, he gave to his benefactor and soon afterward died.

The Mexican felt there were too many difficulties for him to undertake the search so he sold the map for a small sum and the purchaser went to Eastland County and began the search. But you understand that years had gone by. Prairie fires destroyed trees and floods buried rocks and streams cut out new courses. He hunted until his funds played out. I met him and he told me the story. We became partners and set several men to digging.

The old man had said, time and again, "If I can just find the wall,

Salt Prevents Heat Fatigue

As the weather gets warmer most people who do physical work in factory, garden or at sports and play are in danger of heat fatigue unless sufficient salt is taken to replace body salt lost through sweating.

Salt helps keep the body functioning properly. People who prescribe a lot may become dehydrated. Then, as they drink more water to offset this condition, body fluids are diluted. Heat cramps, or even heat prostration, may result.

An easy way to replace this lost salt is by the use of salt tablets. A new improved type of salt tablet is made by Morton Salt Company. Each tablet is impregnated by a patented process to make it non-nauseating. Use of these yellow impregnated salt tablets makes it possible to replace salt losses promptly, but at a gradual rate.

I will know where to go from there. The wall had certain markings which were the clues needed, he declared. And one day, we uncovered a wall with unusual markings. The old man shouted, "The Wall! The Wall!" I have found the wall! and he ran to the top of a hill, his arms upraised. I ran after him and asked, "What do we do now?" He kept shouting, "I Have Found The Wall!" over and over again. At last, he turned towards me; his eyes were wide and vacant; he had lost his mind.

The narrator stopped. And there, as far as I know, the story was halted. For not long afterward, he died.

It's hard to be polite and wait when Mom is fixing cold instant chocolate milk. Her impatient offspring watches her between sips—only two sips—as she makes up one for herself. It's so easy—she spoons the instant cocoa mix right from the package into the milk and twirls the spoon till the cocoa dissolves. Next time he'll make it himself—it's more fun that way!

Cold Chocolate Milk

1 glass cold milk
2 to 3 heaping teaspoons instant cocoa mix

Four milk into a tall glass. Add cocoa mix and stir well. Or shake in shaker. Makes 1 serving.

For variety, try adding a dash of ground cloves and a shake of cinnamon, or a couple drops of peppermint extract to the milk.

4-H Club Boys Camp At Cisco

More than 160 4-H Club boys from six counties began their annual 4-H Club Camp at Lake Cisco this morning.

The camp, which is purely for recreation purposes, will feature swimming contests, track, washer pitching, pole - pillow fights and baseball.

Boys from Eastland, Palo Pinto, Stevens, Shackelford, Jones and Callahan Counties began their 11th annual camp. Fifty of the boys are from Eastland County, representing Eastland, Ranger, Cisco, Rising Star, Gorman, DeLeon and Olden.

A noon luncheon of cold cuts, meat, bread, iced tea, Fritos and potato chips was served today. Tonight at 6 a hot dog supper will be served. Following the supper a program is planned in which each county club will present some form of entertainment.

Friday morning's breakfast will feature scrambled eggs and bacon, coffee, stewed prunes, bread and jelly.

Dinner Friday will consist of pot roast, potato salad, red beans, iced tea, cookies and bread.

The Six County 4-H Club Camp has been held annually at Lake Cisco since 1943. All the camp costs the boy is $1.25—to help pay the salaries of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. McBeck of Mangrum, who each year serve as cooks.

County Agent J. M. Cooper said each boy is insured. The camp precedes the District camp which will be held the 19-20-21 at the Baptist Encampment at Lake Brownwood.

The boys should have plenty to eat at the encampment. For instance, 40 pounds of weiners and 33 dozen hot dog buns have been ordered for tonight.

Opinions of Readers

To the Editor:

Since the Supreme Court has passed its history making decision on racial segregation various writers have been bending over backward in their efforts to agree with the nine wise men. In my opinion the decision was a tragedy to justice and should call for an amendment to the Constitution. One writer has almost exhausted the English language in an explanation of people's pigmentation and the results of centuries of geographical environment not being a "curse of God." Well, it might not be a "curse of God," but it certainly was an act or the will of God, and as such I'm willing to abide by God's decision. Another writer goes to the extreme by pointing out the advantages of miscegenation between the white and black races. This would be a tragedy indeed. One writer quotes a great orator, Col. Bob Ingersoll: "The Negro who can pass me in the race of life will receive my admiration, and can count on my friendship." This quote is alright and proper in its place, but it deals with the individual only. When comparing the achievement of the two races and their contributions to civilization, the pages of history will speak for themselves. Another writer says: "NO man ever lived who proved his superiority by trampling on the weak." This assertion would open up an inexhaustible debate and require a lengthy research into history.

I take the liberty to quote an excerpt from the address of another great American, Abraham Lincoln in a speech delivered in Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 16, 1859 said: "I will say, then, that I am not and never have been in favor of making voters of Negroes, nor of qualifying them to hold public office, nor to intermarry with white people. I will say that, in ad-

In addition to this, there is a physical difference between the white and black races which will forever forbid the two races living together on terms of social and political equality, and, inasmuch as they can not so live while they do remain together, there must be a position of superior and inferior, and as such as any other man I am in favor of having the superior position assigned to the white man.

The Great Emancipator's opinion is good enough for me. Many Texas Negroes say that they like the present system of segregation and that they are much better off with it.
