

Parade Will Open Ranger Rodeo Week

The Weekly

By The Office Loafer

Does anyone have a popcorn machine — one which is commercial size — or does anyone know where there is a machine the Jaycees can beg, borrow, or swipe for a few days during the rodeo? The boys need one badly, and it will help out in their operation of the concessions at the rodeo grounds. If you can help them out, we know your act of assistance will be appreciated by all the Jaycees.

Is my face red? And it isn't from sunburn either. My color makes crimson seem like a pale shade beside it.

One of the penalties of editing a newspaper is that everyone sees the mistakes you make. It's pretty hard to hide them. None of us are perfect and the average editor errs every once in a while. I have slipped a cog and the mistake seems so foolish after it is discovered.

Then too, some of us frequently go into a mental tailspin and just don't think what we are doing. Sometimes it seems that I am in a whirl most of the time. Tuesday's edition just about topped them all.

My sincere apologies to Floyd Killingsworth. Here and now, let it be understood that it is the KILLINGSWORTH YANKEES that are leading the Ranger Little League. We're very sorry that we stumbled and tried to give credit to a non-existent sponsor, but it was just one of those slip-ups and no one around here caught it until it was too late. A bust like the one this old country boy made seems so unnecessary and inexcusable. (Could it be that such a thing makes people think they can't believe what they read.)

Honestly, Mr. Killingsworth, we weren't trying to give your Yankees away.

We know that he is proud of the Killingsworth Yankees and he has every reason to be. As a matter of fact every sponsor in the Little League has done something for the young boys of Ranger this summer for which they can be justly proud. If it were not for Killingsworth, the Commercial State Bank, Premier Oil & Refining and Arts Tool and Supply, it is possible we do not have had this year's program of Little League baseball.

Thanks to C. B. Pruet, I now have a picture of the 1953 Champion Bulldogs. It is the one, which all of you have had for six months or more, but Mr. Pruet was kind enough to rob one of his offices to give me a copy of his calendar for 1954 — the one which proudly proclaims that the Ranger High School Bulldogs were Texas 1-A Football Champions last year.

Mr. Pruet is the type of man who is proud of Ranger, and who wants to do whatever he can to contribute to its welfare, yet he doesn't want anything said about it. In using the picture on his calendar he has spoken loudly of his pride in Ranger and its 1953 Champions. It is citizens like C. B. Pruet who are helping make Ranger a better place in which to live.

Motorcades Leave Early On Saturday Advertising Rodeo

Two motorcades to publicize the Ninth Annual Ranger Jaycee Rodeo will leave at 8 a.m. Saturday morning, July 17. Traveling in opposite directions the two groups of Ranger boosters will each cover several hundred miles before they return home Saturday night.

Pat Moseley, chairman of the Jaycee Motorcade committee, this morning stated that they are striving to have at least 10 automobiles in each group, and the Jaycees will welcome anyone who cares to make the trip with either of the two groups.

One group leave Ranger for Strawn, Mingo, Gordon, Mineral Wells, Weatherford, Stephenville, Dublin, DeLeon, Gorman, Carbon and Eastland.

The second group leaves Ranger headed for Caddo, Breckenridge, Albany, Baird, Clyde, Abilene, Cross Plains, Rising Star and Cisco.

Each motorcade will be accompanied by a western string band. James Townzen will head one motorcade and Moseley will direct the other. Other members of the committee serving with Moseley and Townzen are Richard West and Dick Henderson.

Road signs have been scattered along the highways within this area within the past several days, and street decorations were completed Wednesday night by the National Guard unit.

Moseley was urgent in his appeal for as many automobiles as possible to make up each motorcade, and emphasized the fact that they would welcome all who cared to join in either of the trips.

Work Started On Road Across New Lake Dam

Work of fencing the right-of-way for the new road which will extend across the new Eastland County Lake dam, was started Tuesday. It is moving forward at a daily rate of about a half mile of completed fence on both sides of the roadway.

The road will connect with the present Ranger-Staff road, about a quarter of a mile north of what has been designated by engineers as the high water point when the new lake is filled to the spillway level.

The road will skirt the lake shore until it reaches the dam and crossing over the dam, to connect with a road to the south of the lake.

Work on starting this road project has been delayed because of the necessity of condemnation proceedings in order to obtain right-of-way for the route the road will take. The Special Commission appointed to hear the condemnation suit of the Eastland County Water Supply District vs. Kenneth Jameson, et al, recently handed in a report, but objections were filed on behalf of the District, as attorneys claimed that the awards were excessive and certain specified conditions set forth in the report exceeded the authority of the commission.

Attorneys for the District have contended that the condemnation hearing report has established the right-of-way so that the road work could begin. Other land owners in the area, across whose property the road will extend, had previously reached an agreement with the District and had granted right-of-way easements for the road. Only controversy has been over the right-of-way across tracts of the Jameson land.

National Guard Will Parade In Gorman Friday

Ranger's National Guard unit, Service Battery, 648th Armored Field Artillery Battalion of the 49th Division, will participate in a parade at Gorman, Friday afternoon, it was announced at guard headquarters this morning.

Gorman is staging its annual Indian Trails Festival, and in addition to inviting the National Guard to participate, has invited Miss Dorothy Dell Beck, "Miss Ranger of 1954" to attend as an honor guest.

Music Students Present Recital At Ranger Junior College Monday

The following students participated in a recital given at the Fine Arts Building of Ranger Junior College last Monday evening: Reed Hunt, Tommy Aishman, Robbie Robinson, Paula Lingle, Kathy Rogers, and Jimmy May Miller played solo arrangements with either second piano or organ accompaniment.

Piano Duos were presented by Kathy Rogers and Norma Gayle Emfinger; Billye Fox and Mr. Baumgardner; Mary Ellen and Anna Beth Deffebach; Ann Robinson and Lynda Ferguson; and Bill Creager and Mary Ellen Deffebach. Mrs. A. Kirk and her two daughters, Karla and Donna each played one of the three movements of Sonatine in C Major (Clementi).

Ann Robinson played the organ accompaniment for her brother Robbie; Norma Gayle Emfinger played the final movement of the Mountain Concerto (Schaum); and Jill Watkins played the entire Concerto in a minor by Jean Williams.

Awards for Superior ratings in the Festival sponsored by the Federated Music Clubs were presented to Sue Williams, Jill Watkins, Robbie Robinson, Cecil Lynn Robinson, Maxine McCotter, M. A. R. Ellen Deffebach, M. A. R. Catherine Rush and Jerry Rhodes.

Awards for those students who have played Individual Recitals were presented to Maxine McCotter, Bill McCotter, Mary Ellen Deffebach, Lynda Ferguson, Ann Robinson and Bill Creager.

HARVEST HIGHWAY—With bumper wheat crops spilling over elevator capacity at Bronson, Kan., Bronson Grain Company employees rope off a block-long section of old U. S. Highway 54 and dump the golden treasure on the road. More than 5000 bushels, which will be placed in elevators as soon as carloadings permit, are on this stretch of highway alone.

New Use For Salt Water—

City Experiments With New Paving

A good use may be found for disposing of salt water, a troublesome factor in so many oil producing areas — if an experiment being conducted in Ranger today is successful. The experiment in road and street surfacing is, as far as it has been determined, the first of its kind ever attempted.

A portion of Desdemona Road, for a distance of about a fourth of a mile from the end of the paving at the intersection of Cooper Street is being given a salt water treatment in hopes of developing a permanent hard surface. The project is being conducted by the City of Ranger with cooperation from County Commissioner Frank Castleberry.

Salt surfacing is not exactly new as it has been proven in some areas to be a satisfactory and inexpensive method of developing surfaced roads and streets. City Manager Les Crossley explained that in cases where streets and roads have been surfaced with salt, that water has been used to cause the salt and soil to bind into a hard surface. In this case of the Ranger test it is concluded that the use of salt water might prove just as satisfactory.

Salt water for the test is being obtained from M. E. Daniel Lease, north of Morton Valley. This is generally known as the old States Oil Corporation lease. R. V. Galloway, Chamber of Commerce manager, who has been working on the project with the city and the county commissioner, says that the salt water is almost as heavy with salt as it can be and still remain liquid.

The area chosen for the experiment, which extends almost to the entrance to the airport on Desdemona road, has been plowed with heavy machinery and the soil pulverized. The heavily laden salt water will be mixed with the soil, and it will continue to be mixed until it is almost dry and then rolled. If the results of the experiment are successful the soil and salt will bind into a very hard surface.

Galloway, together with a committee from the Chamber of Commerce, some time ago made a trip to Denton county to see several miles of road which had been salt-surfaced. The only difference in this process and the one being tried in Ranger is that the salt and road soil were first mixed before the water was added. Rising Star recently gave the salt treatment to several blocks of streets, and it is reported that more streets will be salt-surfaced in the future. A number of other places in the Southwest have been experimenting with this type of surfacing.

Should today's experiment prove successful there is a possibility that a use will have been found for salt water recovered from oil wells, and at the same time enable the paving of many miles of streets and roads, where present costs are prohibitive. It is estimated that on a larger scale of surfacing it might be possible to obtain a hard surfaced road for about one-tenth of the present cost of the cheapest type of conventional topping.

Entries Continue Coming In To Give New Lake Name

All entries in the lake naming contest received in Ranger and Eastland which bear a postmark prior to midnight tonight, will be accepted, Chamber of Commerce Manager R. V. Galloway said today.

The largest number of entries in a single day — 106 — were received in Ranger on Tuesday. As soon as all entries are in, the final tabulation of the suggested names for the new lake of the Eastland County Supply District will be made. It is expected that it will require several days to get all entries in order to present to the judges. It is also expected that the judges will not be able to arrive at a final selection for several days, and it is predicted that the name for the lake may not be announced until near August 1.

WEATHER REPORT

SLOW DOWN

PARTLY CLOUDY AND CONTINUED HOT, THROUGH FRIDAY, with possible scattered showers.

RANGER ORGANIZATIONS, CLUBS INDIVIDUALS URGED TO ENTER OPENING EVENT NEXT WED.

Rodeo week in Ranger will officially get underway at 4 p.m. next Wednesday afternoon when the big downtown parade is staged as the first event of the Ninth Annual Ranger Jaycee Rodeo and Roundup.

James Ratliff, parade chairman, said today that every effort will be made to make this year's parade outclass all previous parades. An invitation has been issued to all Ranger business firms, industries, clubs, civic organizations, and individuals to enter the parade.

Pat Moseley will be parade boss. He said this morning the parade will form along south Commerce, beginning about the 500 block. When it starts it will move west on Fine Street to Marston, then south to Main, and east on Main back to Commerce.

Horseback riders, boys and girls on bicycles, and just about any group that wants to participate will be welcomed to enter the parade.

Bob Estes, producer of the Rodeo, said all his crew will be on hand to take part, as will most of the contestants who are entered in the Rodeo.

At least two bands will be in the parade, one from Stephenville, and the Ranger High School band. Three National guards bands, Ranger, Cisco and Breckenridge will add military color to the parade.

At least three Sheriff Mounted Posse groups, Parker County, Palo Pinto County, and Callahan County have accepted invitations to attend the rodeo and participate in the parade.

Anyone, whether individual or group, wanting to enter the parade may notify either Ratliff, or Moseley, or can meet at the parade assembly point not later than 3:30 p.m. next Wednesday afternoon.

INDIANS PRIMED FOR DODGERS TONIGHT; GIANTS VS. YANKEES

Art's Indians are primed for an upset attempt over the Premier Dodgers tonight in the first game of Little League baseball at 6 p.m. The Commercial State Bank Giants will take on the league leading Killingsworth Yankees in the second game.

Both games tonight are due to be hard played as the teams enter the home stretch of the season. Only four games for each team remain including the games tonight.

A change in the schedule of future games was announced this morning, following a meeting of Little League officers held Wednesday night at the Chamber of Commerce office.

The scheduled double-header for Monday night, July 19 will be played, but the second night's play for next week will be postponed until Monday night, July 26, with the final game of the season to be played Thursday night, July 29.

League officials last night voted to present the winning team with a large trophy, and to extend individual awards to all members of the winning team. A special program will be arranged for the presentation ceremonies immediately following the final game on July 29.

E. L. Dennis Is Candidate For Sheriff's Post

E. L. (Jag) Dennis, who is presently serving as Constable of Precinct Five in Eastland County, is waging an active campaign for the office of Sheriff of Eastland County.

In behalf of his candidacy, Dennis, who has widespread endorsement of friends and neighbors in the Gorman area, issued the following statement: TO THE PEOPLE OF EASTLAND COUNTY:

May I use this method in order to visit it with you for a few moments in behalf of my candidacy for the office of Sheriff of Eastland County?

This is the first time for me to seek an office above the precinct level. I am now serving as Constable of Justice Precinct No. Five. I have served in this capacity for the past eighteen months. I don't have a lot of pretty political promises to make in an attempt to influence my vote-getting power. This type promise is often impossible to keep or is easily forgotten by its originator. I would like to stress here, however, that I believe the office of Sheriff to be one of utmost honor and I stand in passing that I promise to do all within my power to bring honor and respect to the office and to myself as well.

We are faced with several problems with respect to crime and vice in Eastland County — problems with which this office has to deal constantly. These problems require your officers to be on duty or ready to assume duty twenty-four hours a day.

Rotarians And Lions To Meet Jointly July 21

There will be a joint meeting of the Ranger Rotary and Lions clubs at noon, Wednesday, July 21, at the Gholson Hotel. The joint session of the two clubs has been approved by the membership of each, and will carry out a practice of several years when both clubs combine one meeting date during Rodeo Week in Ranger.

Grady Pipkin of Eastland, president of Piggly-Wiggly stores and president of the Eastland County Water Supply District, and who attended the recent Rotary International Convention in Seattle, Wash., spoke to Ranger Rotarians at noon Wednesday. He told of some of the high points of a side trip he and Mrs. Pipkin made from Seattle to Alaska and return following the convention.

He said that it was interesting to learn, in discussing the question of statehood for Alaska with people living there that most of them do not want statehood. Many of the people do not think the territory is ready for statehood, and if was given them, it would be an expensive to maintain state services due to the vast territory to be served and the thinly populated sections.

He told, also, of a number of interesting Rotary Club meetings with clubs both in Canada and Alaska.

Hugh Smith, chairman of the club's attendance committee, announced the appointment of other members to serve with him. They are, Carroll, Frank Deaton, Chas. Eyley and Fred E. Wortham.

Visitors of the Rotary Club Wednesday were Grady Pipkin, Chas. Freyshaal and Jim Morton, all of the Eastland club.

NEWS FROM CHEANEY

Two more young ladies have signified their intentions this week of entering the forthcoming statewide Farm Bureau-Queen contest, which is being sponsored by each county Farm Bureau group. These latest names are Miss Melba Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brown-Gorman, and Miss Madeline Justice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Justice, of Flatwood community.

Two small young misses also named as flower girls, to attend Miss Brown and Miss Justice, are Sylvia Hendricks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hendricks of Kokomo, and Linda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Harrison, of Gorman. Other flower girls will be named as soon as they are acquired.

Other communities are urged to enter one or more contestants. To qualify, one must be between the ages of sixteen and twenty-two, whose father or brother is a member of Farm Bureau, but not a state or county officer, nor a previous state winner. Contestants will be judged on (1) beauty, (2) poise, and (3) personality. County winner will compete in the district elimination contest, to be held early in September, to select the state Farm Bureau Queen who will win the all-American paid trip to the annual American Farm Bureau Federation Convention in New York City, in December.

The Eastland county Farm group will hold their regular directors meeting Thursday night at 8 o'clock in the County Court Room in Eastland. The women who are on the Queen contest committee, will also meet a short time before the assembly, to discuss further plans of the contest. All directors and committee personnel are urged to be present. Date, Thursday night, July 14.

Misses Wanda and Patsy Perrin visited their aunt, Mrs. Coda Revel and Mr. Revel over the week end. Wanda, who is a registered nurse, will soon take up further work in a New Jersey hospital, while Patsy intends to continue nurses training at the Ranger General Hospital, and enter Ranger Junior College as scholarship student. Wanda and Patsy are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Perrin and former Cheaneyites. Cheaney salutes both these hometown girls.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Love, of Odessa spent the weekend with her, while the Ben Freemans, with whom she makes her home, are away for the two-day annual convention of Pecan Growers Association, meeting in Fredericksburg, July 13-14. Ben is an orchard enthusiast, and his pecans are shipped each year to mail order customers over the whole United States.

The Freeman Patches are well-known also, as attested by the number of satisfied buyers who make return calls each season.

Mr. J. L. Brown continues to be gravely ill at the West Texas Clinic, in Ranger.

Miss Minnie Walton, of Brownwood, visited the Arthur Loves, the John Loves, and the John Tuckers during the week-end, and in Ranger with her brother, W. E. Walton and family, while taking vacation time.

Miss LaVerne Ainsworth spent the week with Miss Carol Smith, in Abertamy. Mike Fisher spent Sunday with Roy Gene Ainsworth. Charlene Blackwell spent Sunday with Loresta Love.

Mrs. M. A. Rose and son M. A. Jr., of Midland were overnight guests of her sister-in-law Mrs. John Love and Mr. Love Monday night. They were enroute to Mincola, in East Texas, to visit her mother and relatives.

Get Set For Fun With The Family This Summer

If frequent picnics and trips to the beach or pool are the order for Summer fun in your family, better take stock of the way you'll travel.

Unnecessary wear on fine luggage should be prevented at all costs — salt water, sun and sand are injurious to all but the very sturdiest suitcases, so plan to substitute wherever possible. Inexpensive zipper bags with separate waterproof pockets are ideal for bathing suits, towels and sports accessories. They come in a wide variety of colors and covers to suit every taste. Color-wise, it's smart to select something bright or unusual for quick identification on the beach or at parcel checking desks.

We Are Proud Of Lyndon

(An Editorial)
 There is one aspect of this coming election over which we can definitely be enthusiastic. It is the virtual certainty that Lyndon B. Johnson will be reelected to the Senate by an overwhelming vote.

We feel mighty proud of Lyndon. We think that practically every Texan feels that same way. He has become one of the most effective members of the United States Senate and he has used his effectiveness in the best interests of Texas and the Nation.

Let's take a look at the record. His office works practically around the clock and any Texan with a problem gets prompt service. As Chairman of the Senate Preparedness Committee, he saved the nation's hard-pressed treasury billions of dollars. As Senate Democratic Leader he has brought his party back to the middle-of-the-road path where the vast majority of Americans want it.

Right now, Lyndon Johnson is one of the most important men in the nation. We think—together with most Texans—that it means a lot to us to keep him in that position. The way to do that is to get out and vote for Lyndon B. Johnson for another successful six years in the Senate.

to contribute all he can to be improvement of agricultural and ranching conditions in this area. He can and is doing a marvelous work as head of the Vocational Agriculture work in Ranger High School and as leader for the FFA boys — The Future Farmers of America.

The foundation for the building of a successful program for farms and ranches is already in this area. We need only to lend our assistance to all worthwhile programs when we in Ranger have a better rural production of those commodities which we need from the farms, then we can expect better commercial conditions here.

So often people fail to realize that little things are greatly appreciated. Without the little things, some of the big things couldn't come about. So frequently a smile, a kind word, or small act of helpfulness makes an hour seem bright. To someone.

Just a few nights ago this old country boy ran out of re-rolled dukes mixture, and walked into the Paramount Hotel in search of a fresh supply. Although closed for the night, the folks there graciously offered to open up the Coffee Shop to let me buy a pack. And they seemed happy to have saved me a walk to some other part of town at that hour. Such favors are appreciated.

Cleanser Has Own Elbow Grease

BY EDNA MILES

THE household cleaning problems that every homemaker must tackle daily are one by one being reduced to nothingness by science.

True, we haven't yet reached the point where we can loll back and read the paper while dinner cooks itself and the dishes wash themselves, but we're approaching that point.

Newest of the cleansers for porcelain is a nonabrasive liquid cleaner that will, the makers claim, get sink, bathtub or wash basin sparkling in no time. It's handled with a mere wet-and-wipe application, with either sponge or cloth.

Every housewife knows that cleaning porcelain can be a difficult job. It has a fine glaze and a tough, durable surface but it can be injured by scratches, hair tints, clothes dyes, stains, or rust. And sometimes extra elbow grease doesn't achieve the desired cleaning results.

This new liquid cleaner works effectively without hard rubbing or scrubbing, the makers claim, and the porcelain is left gleaming. Further, the manufacturer claims this new product is colorless and cannot make the hands red or rough.

No rub-a-dub-dub with this new liquid porcelain cleanser, according to its manufacturer. It's said to be easy on the hands.

more than 8,000 other witnesses of Jehovah in their 4 day convention opening July 15th.

Mrs. Parish pointed out that Jehovah's witnesses are coming from several states to participate in one of the largest religious conventions ever to be held in San Antonio. Large delegations from Houston, Fort Worth, Austin, and other cities and towns are already making plans to attend.

"It is significant in this materialistic age" Mrs. Parish said, "that people will spend thousands of dollars, for the privilege of assembling together to worship Jehovah God. It will be a feast for the mind on spiritual food. True faith in God is not declining. Jehovah's witnesses annually report a world-wide increase of about 20 per cent in the number preaching. We expect hundreds more will be baptized at the convention."

Mrs. Creager Is Hostess To WSCS Circle 1

Circle No. 1 of the Women's Society of Christian Service met at 3:30 p.m. Monday, July 12, in the home of Mrs. W. F. Creager. Mrs. Calvin Harris, circle leader, presided over the business meeting.

Reports were made by all officers and reports were made on sick members. Collection for the Cheer fund was turned over to Mrs. S. B. Baker, Cheer Fund chairman.

The opening song was "Open My Eyes". Mrs. Creager gave the devotion entitled "The Shape of His Hand"—bringing the thought of different families together in Christian fellowship around the world, and the construction agencies cooperation councils—how the power of the Holy Spirit is used in creating christian communities.

"Lord Speak to Me" was sung by the group.

Mrs. Arthur Deffebach, who had charge of the program, outlined some of the proposed work by our churches. First, larger parish plan; second, group ministry plan; third, county council plan; fourth, christian home; fifth, construction agency; and sixth, public health and effective influence of church women.

Mrs. W. J. VanBibber reported on pledges. Mrs. Deffebach reported that four members will attend the Conference School of Missions in Georgetown July 26-30.

Mrs. Creager gave the closing prayer, after which a social hour was enjoyed by the fourteen members present.

BETTI'S BUDGET of HELPFUL HINTS

If you're going to buy a new radio or television set, you'll be wise to consider plastic cabinets. These are increasingly popular because they don't warp, don't show scratches, and are easy to keep clean with soap and water. If you want to give your plastic radio or TV set an extra luster, wax it after washing. Make sure, of course, to disconnect the set before washing.

An orange stick is a convenient substitute for a lipsticker brush.

Candies that are easy to make and will disappear like dew under the sun are chocolate coconut drops. Heat one package (8 squares) of candy - making chocolate over boiling water on the direct flame until partly melted; then remove from boiling water and stir rapidly until entirely melted. Add one and one half cups of shredded coconut and stir until blended. Drop from teaspoon onto waxed paper. Cool until firm.

To make baked-on stains in the oven easier to remove, leave a shallow dish of ammonia sitting in the closed oven overnight.

Here's a better way to starch clothes. Dissolve one cake of wax ironing aid in each quart of basic starch. This is what happens: ironing is an easier, smoother process for one thing; but, in addition, the fabric acquires a smoother, glossier, more soil-resistant finish than when starch alone is used. The result is that clothes resist getting dirty.

When you're baking a ham, try a mixture of honey with half as much orange marmalade to give it an elegant glaze.

Leather or plastic watch straps, and wallets are 100 per cent better looking when clean. It takes only soapy warm water to keep such accessories free of dirt and stains. Smooth on a thick soap lather, rub hard, and let the suds stay on for a few minutes to dissolve oil or grease spots. Wipe with a sponge wrung out of clear water and polish with a soft dry cloth.

Eastland County Women Attend Brownwood H. D. Encampment

The Tri-County Home Demonstration encampment, which is held each year at Lake Brownwood was concluded Friday afternoon, July 9, following the election of officers for 1955. Mrs. Robert Henry, of Brown County, was named camp chairman, and Mrs. Keith Johnson, Comanche County was named vice-chairman.

Eastland Countians named on committees included Mrs. Lee Burkhead, Rising Star on Foods. Mrs. D. Ball, Chico, was named on Crafts committee, and Mrs. Bill Tucker, Ranger, will serve on the Recreation committee.

Some sixty Home Demonstration clubwomen from Eastland, Comanche and Brown counties, gathered at the Baptist camp grounds, Lake Brownwood on Thursday and Friday, July 8-9 for their annual get-together sponsored by the Brown county clubs. Mrs. M. M. Sheffield, Okla., served as chairman this year.

Group singing was under the direction of Mrs. Bill Tucker and the evening devotional was led by Mrs. J. S. Turner, both from Eastland County. Comanche and Brown counties each shared in the program activities during the two-day session.

Mrs. Eloise T. Johnson, Family Life specialist, A&M College, whose topic, "Health is a Family Affair," emphasized in her own inimitable way, the importance of knowing the traffic signs, as we travel the highway of health.

Velour pictures, taught by Mrs. Rayford Evans and Mrs. Wayne Shelton of Santa Anna, proved quite popular as a craft; also glass etching by Velma Slaughter, Brown County Home Demonstration agent. Basket weaving was under the direction of Mrs. Bill Tucker, assisted by Mrs. Lee Burkhead.

Theme for the sunrise service on Friday morning, presented by the Comanche County women, was "The Home Circle" — a challenge in Christian service. Fellowship, fun, food, swimming, crafts, club skits and stunts and singing provided a full program for the two-day stay. Some Eastland County club members attended.

With fruit more popular than ever as the final course for dinner, you can depend on Florida citrus fruits to furnish you with plenty of variety right now. The Valencia is wonderfully juicy, and sliced or sectioned, or teamed with other fruits, they make delicious and healthful fruit bowls. The grapefruit from Florida is unusually tangy and yet sweet, and broiled or topped with a sprig of mint, grapefruit halves will do nicely to finish off lunch or dinner—and you'll feel better for having eaten so wisely and so well.

This novel orange dessert will make a special hit. Serve it on the fork on which you roll it, and dessert is done in a twinkling!

Florida Cinnamon Oranges
 4 Florida oranges
 1/4 cup granulated, powdered or sifted confectioners' sugar

Mrs. J. L. Turner Hostess To Methodist Circle

Circle No. 2 of the W.S.C.S. of the First Methodist Church met at 3:30 p.m. Monday, July 12, in the home of Mrs. J. L. Turner. The meeting was presided over by the circle leader, Mrs. James Ratliff.

Plans were made for serving the Methodist Men's Club at their next regular meeting, July 29.

Mrs. Leslie Hagaman spoke on "Rural Work." Mrs. Turner gave the devotional and closed with prayer.

During the social hour refreshments were served to the following: Misses R. S. Balch, Bruce Weaver, Gaston Dixon, H. G. Ramsey, T. L. Thompson, Stanley

McAnely, Glen Hamner, Chas. man, M. P. Williams, Ratliff and Ashcraft, Frank Williamson, Ilaga: the hostess, Mrs. Turner.

Rev. Hoover To Wed Ft. Worth Girl, July 17

Mr. and Mrs. Herman W. Kurz of 4929 Donnelly, Ft. Worth, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Carol Ruth, to Rev. Eugene H. Hoover, pastor of the Merriman Baptist Church in Ranger.

The semi-formal wedding will take place in the Birchman Ave. Baptist Church in Fort Worth at 8 p.m. Saturday, July 17. Rev. B. O. Baker will officiate.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception will be held at the home of the bride's parents.

Miss Kurz is a recent graduate of Arlington Heights High School. Rev. Eugene H. Hoover, a native of California, graduated from Richmond Union High School. He attended the Bible Baptist Seminary in Ft. Worth, and while there he accepted the call to the pastorate of the Merriman Baptist Church, where he has been pastor for over a year.

After a short honeymoon, the couple will reside on Tiffin Road, where they have their home. Both, then, will be able to devote their services to the church full time. Mrs. Hoover is expected to take a very active part in church work as a leader among the women.

Rev. and Mrs. Hoover are expected to return to Ranger in time for him to conduct the Wednesday evening Bible Study and Prayer service.

PERSONAL

Legion Auxiliary Drive To Help Veterans Gets Enough Magazines But In Need of Other Materials

Response of Ranger people to the request of the American Legion Auxiliary for old magazines and books to be shipped to the Veterans Center at Temple, has now exceeded the ability to handle them. Mrs. A. H. Powell, who has headed this activity for the Auxiliary, said today.

Up to this time several hundred pounds of magazines have been shipped and the supply at present exceeds the storage space available. Mrs. Powell extended her thanks to the people of Ranger for helping the Auxiliary, and asked that they save magazines until such time as the Auxiliary is able to forward more of them to the Veterans Center.

"We have all the magazines we can possibly handle at this particular time," Mrs. Powell said. She said the Auxiliary had specially appreciated the special assistance which has been given them by Mrs. P. M. Kuykendall, Mrs. J. P. Morris, and Mrs. T. L. Thompson.

Assistance has been given the Auxiliary by Ranger Transfer and Storage in the packing and shipping of the magazines and other articles to the Center in Temple. Mrs. Powell stated that the four hours each day. These officials must investigate crime, help to prepare charges, and gather evidence for the purpose of prosecution. But more important, your officers are charged with the responsibility of crime prevention. As a constitutional guarantee they are to protect your rights and privileges which all inherited under the constitution. So rather than make flowery promises, I choose to make two pledges at this time. First, I pledge allegiance to the flag of this nation and to the republic for which it stands — one nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all. Secondly, I pledge you duty without discrimination regardless of race, creed or social standing. All will receive the same consideration and will be charged the same in like offenses. I shall proceed to do this duty with prudence, zeal and integrity. I shall do my best to procure capable and honest men to assist me in building respect for this office. I believe that honesty is the first qualification professional or otherwise.

I will greatly appreciate your consideration in my behalf, and I shall always covet your friendship.

A Far Cry From The Old West-

Personalized Cowboy Boots Chronicle
Distinctive Tales Of Famous Wearers

Cowboy boots have become the bearers of tales as well as men. And in their distinctive Southwestern drawl they are talking as well as walking and are spinning intriguing yarns. On the highly-polished faces of boots of varied hue and design are mirrored the personalities or marking characteristics of many a famous boot wearer.

These "personality boots" now speak for people in all walks of life, persons of importance in entertainment, sports, politics and business as well as in the cattle country.

A look into the records of H. J. Justin and Sons, Inc., of Fort Worth, reveals a fascinating collection of boot lore through the years.

The first "personality boots" were worn by Southwestern cattle ranchers who had their brands inscribed on their boot tops. And records indicate hundreds of ranchers are still following this practice.

Another common practice is the monogramming of boots either in the pattern of the boot top or on outside pull straps with the initials of the owner.

The height of this concern for individualizing one's boots is shown in the records of the Austin, Tex., rancher-merchant who had a pair of boots in his design made for every day of the month. His design featured soft music and romance. He had a beautiful son-orita dancing to the rhythm of clinking castanets with a Spanish troubadour giving voice to a love song as he strummed a guitar etched onto his boot tops.

Then as cowboy boots have branched out from their original home on the range to virtually all walks of life and avenues of endeavor, so too have the tales told by "personality boots."

Paul Whiteman has an outline of his face and the inscription, "King of Jazz," on his boot tops. The operator of New York City's swank "21" restaurant, Jack Kriender, has the numerals "21" and a replica of the entrance gate to his dining establishment as the feature of the pattern on his boot tops.

Patrick J. Hurley, former presidential diplomatic trouble-shooter, has a memento of his tenure as secretary of war—a pair of Justin boots with the insignia of the designs. Among the firms which have gone in for "personality boots" with their emblems emblazoned thereon are: Swift's with its "S," Magnolia Petroleum Company with its flying red horse, Waples-Platter Company with its white swan and American Airlines with its eagle.

"Personality boots" have been created for just about everything.

For Portland, Ore., the "city of roses," a special design of roses was created for a special occasion there. Then, too, there have been boots in Hawaiian, Spanish, and Indian designs for festivals on these themes.

The latest creation, a true mark of the times, is for the Tarrant County Republican organization. This is a boot featuring a GOP elephant and the outline of the map of Texas, a memento of the first Republican victory in the Lone Star State since 1928. It is used by party leaders for presentations to government officials on the occasion of their visits to Fort Worth—and already Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson and Secretary of Army Robert T. Stevens have received these boots.

Back in 1949, then general and now president Dwight D. Eisenhower and his wife received their first pair of matched "personality boots" as a made-to-order gift from Sid W. Richardson, fabulously-wealthy Fort Worth oilman who was one of those instrumental in securing Eisenhower's agreement to stand for Republican presidential nomination.

FAMOUS FOOTWEAR—Personalized cowboy boots mirror the personalities or marking characteristics of many a famous personality. Shown here are three personalized pairs of Justin boots. At the top is a pair of boots designed for L. R. (Dutch) Meyer, athletic director at Texas Christian University. Boots in the center could have been made only for Paul Whiteman. And boots at the bottom belong to Jack Kriender, owner of the famous "21" Restaurant in New York.

United States Army on them. The famous cowboy painter, C. M. Russell, had his distinctive mark—the skull of a steer—inscribed on his boot.

Even college colors have been made a part of cowboy boot patterns, the two most famous pairs made in this field being those for Frank Leahy of Notre Dame and L. E. (Dutch) Meyer of Texas Christian.

Those for Leahy featured the letters "ND" and the Irish colors of Blue and Gold, while those for Meyer are as distinctive as the wide-open style of plaid his team plowed. On a background of the TCU colors, Purple and White, are football's Horned Frog, TCU emblem and the word, "Dutch."

Amos G. Carter, fabulous Fort Worth publisher, oilman, host and TCU booster, who presented Meyer's boots to him, had himself an identical pair made with his initials substituted for Meyer's nickname.

Mayor R. L. (Bob) Thornton of Dallas wears a pair of boots with his city's unofficial nickname, "Big D," inscribed with a dot marking its location on a map of Texas on the tops. The president of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce also has a pair of boots featuring the map of Texas and the Jaycee emblem as his "badge of office." He wears these boots while traveling about the state on Jaycee visitations.

Also it has become a tradition in Lions International to present the organization's president with a pair of boots which have the Lion's emblem inscribed thereon. In fact, the Justin folks have made an almost limitless number of boots featuring various club, company and other emblems in their

Calf-roping as a contest sprang from the actual range work of roping calves for branding during the roundup; it is one of the most scientific sports requiring skill, speed, agility and horsemanship. The spectator will be interested not only in the speed and science of the roper, but also in the work of the roper's horse, as the horse plays fully fifty percent of the work of catching and tying the calf. Note how diligently the horse follows the calf in the chase, and after the roper's noose has snared the baby bovine, how the steed keeps his face always toward the calf and the rope taut. This is a timed event, time being taken from the time the calf is released from the chute and the starter's flag drops, until the field judge drops the flag, when the roper has finished his tie.

HIGHWAY PATROL IS SEEKING TO INFORM PUBLIC ON RADAR METHOD TO CATCH SPEEDERS

As a part of its educational program to the public regarding the new radar device to be placed in use to catch speeding motorists, the Department of Public Safety has issued a brief summary of interesting facts on speed detection by radar.

The device proposed to be used by the Highway Patrol was demonstrated in Ranger, June 28 by Patrolman J. Ross Kemp, District Safety Officer. Capt. George Morahan, in charge of the district office in Abilene.

Kemp pointed out that the Department of Public Safety wants the public to be fully advised of the use of the radar units before they are placed in use to apprehend speeding motorists. One reason the Department intends to put on an intense campaign to check speeding vehicles on the highways is due to the fact that a high percentage of fatal accidents involve one or more vehicles traveling at excessive speeds. The effort to reduce the number of speed law violators on the highway is intended as a safeguard to others, and to save lives.

This device sends out microwaves from one antenna on a known frequency which bounces back from any moving object at a different frequency, depending on the speed of the object. The wave which comes back is received by a machine on a second antenna and the difference in frequency is measured and indicated on the meter, calibrated in miles per hour. The speed is also recorded by pen and ink on a recording graph.

This machine is the outgrowth of the Radar used by our Armed Services during World War II and the war in Korea.

The accuracy with which bombs are dropped on the target and the manner in which large ships are navigated during foggy weather, speaks for the accuracy of radar. The Electro-Matic Speed Meter—using the same principle as the Armed Services Radar—is every bit as accurate in the recording of speed on the highway as it is in locating a target for a high flying bomber.

The accuracy of this machine is guaranteed by the manufacturer to be 98 per cent in speeds ranging from 0-100 miles per hour.

The uses of this machine are many—the investigation of complaints in regard to speed—to measure the effectiveness of patrol car enforcement—to check speed for comparison with accident statistics—and finally for enforcement of the speed laws themselves. This enforcement may be against drivers either traveling at high speeds or at very low speeds.

Operation of the radar detector is fundamentally on the same principle as used in radar aircraft spotting. It requires two patrol cars and two officers. One car is equipped with the indicator and records

Farm Families Make Good Use Of County FHA

Farm families in Eastland County have made good use of Farmers Home Administration credit and services this past year and have stepped up the efficiency of their farming operations. George I. Lane, the agency's county supervisor headquarters at Eastland said today.

Additional funds have been made available, he said, to lend through the next year to farmers to operate, buy, enlarge, or improve farms.

A large proportion of the money loaned in this county during the past 12 months has been to veterans and other young farm families who are establishing better farm setups. Their greatest needs were for adequate credit and some help in developing sound systems of farming and adopting efficient farm management practices, Lane said. No loans were made to farmers who were able to obtain the financing they needed from other local lenders.

A total of $34,410.00 was loaned in the county for equipment, livestock, fertilizer, feed, and seed, that farm families needed to make better use of their land and labor resources.

Emergency loans, including special livestock loans, totaled $293,100.00.

The county office of the Farm Home Administration serving Eastland county is located in the Petroleum Building, Eastland, Texas.

Hall Of Fame Planned To Honor Top Cowboys

The cowboys you will see astride the wildly bucking broncs in the Ranger rodeo this week may some day be honored in a national Hall of Fame.

A movement is under way to establish a National Rodeo Hall of Fame foundation. C. A. Reynolds, Kansas City, who is sponsoring the project, thinks that it is high time that due respect is paid to the skills of the men who built the west as they are demonstrated by today's rodeo riders.

Reynolds, Chairman of the board of the H. D. Lee Company, has been enlisting the support of senators and governors of seventeen western states. His company has pledged $5,000 to the Foundation and a permanent hall of fame building.

CHECK Cold Misery QUICKLY

Millions use STANBACK for the alleviation of a common ailment... as well as to relieve simple headaches, neuralgic and muscular aches and pains. Test STANBACK yourself... tablets or powder... against any preparation you've ever used.

A bill providing for the incorporation of the non-profit foundation has been prepared and is expected to be sponsored in Congress by senators from the cattle states. It prescribes the methods of operation of the foundation and authorizes the establishment of permanent headquarters.

So far no site for the building has been selected, Reynolds said. He hopes the final decision to be made by the trustees appointed to the foundation after it is incorporated will come soon and construction started in the near future.

Present plans call for two trustees each from North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Idaho, Utah, Arizona, Nevada, California, Oregon and Washington. Other trustees from the east and midwest will fill out the board.

The bill provides that the governors of each of the western states be invited to serve as trustees. Most of them have already indicated they would be happy to serve.

After making a careful study of the Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, N. Y., Reynolds thinks the Rodeo Hall of Fame should be organized along similar lines. He feels that it will honor more than a great American Sport, however.

"In paying homage to the brave and skillful men who perform their dangerous jobs in the rodeo arena, the Rodeo Hall of Fame will acknowledge in a permanent memorial the indomitable courage of and resourcefulness of the men who built the great West," he said.

He doesn't think it necessary to wait several years after a man's death to evaluate his ability, but favors election of living cowboys to the Hall of Fame. "Some of the best cowboys of them all are still alive and riding," he said.

Tribute will be paid not only to outstanding rodeo performers, but also to stock raisers and others who contribute to the sport including famous rodeo stock. Selection of those to be honored will be made by the Board of Trustees from among candidates proposed by the public, historians and rodeo fans.

Part of the Hall of Fame building will be a museum housing relics of the development of the west. Equipment and personal effects of pioneers and western heroes will be enshrined with mementoes of famous rodeo personalities.

Governor Issues Proclamation For Farm Safety

"More accidental deaths occur for each 100,000 workers in agriculture than in any other major industry of the nation. Texas, with its widespread farming and ranching operations, is in a position to help reduce this accident toll," said Governor Allan Shivers in the proclamation he signed on June 8 designating the week of July 25-31 Farm Safety Week.

Continuing the Governor said, "A disabling injury strikes some farm person in America on the average of every 26 seconds. The U.S. Department of Agriculture and the National Safety Council are cooperating in a campaign designed to reduce the huge number of avoidable farm accidents and I urge all Texas engaged in farming activities to exercise all possible caution in their work."

The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety committee is the organization in the state through which cooperative efforts are being directed toward reducing the farm accident rate. Committee members represent state and federal agencies working in agriculture and home economics, farm organizations, press and radio, commercial, industrial and business concerns and individuals who are all interested in seeing the label, "Nation's most hazardous occupation," removed from agriculture.

Paul Walser of the Soil Conservation Service is chairman of the general committee and J. Walter Hammond, president, Texas Farm Bureau, is chairman of the Executive Board of the committee. E. C. Martin, state agriculture leader for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and W. L. Ulich, extension agricultural engineer, serve as Vice Chairman and secretary of the group.

The State Committee joins Governor Shivers in urging all Texans to not only observe the special week of July 25-31 but to make the other 51 weeks just as safe as humanly possible. Says Executive Board Chairman Hammond: "It's a real challenge to every farm family. I have never yet met a farmer or a member of his family who wanted to get involved in an accident. The way to avoid day."

Mike Smith Attends Lions' Crippled Camp

KERRVILLE — Eleven-year-old Michael Anthony Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Smith, of Olden is now enjoying a summer vacation here at the Texas Lions Camp for Crippled Children. Michael is one of 80 children from all parts of Texas who are currently enjoying a fortnight's stay at the free camp, which is open to any crippled child in the state. The age limits are seven through 16. and the present group is the third of six which will visit the camp for recreation and rehabilitation this summer. Lions Clubs throughout the state help keep up the camp. The boys have a chance to participate in all kinds of supervised activities.

Business Upswing Forecast By Chrysler

A general business upswing with a marked increase in interested prospects is reported by a group of Chrysler sales executives who have completed a series of meetings held in 16 major metropolitan U.S. markets, reports E. M. Braden, general sales manager, Chrysler Division, Chrysler Corporation.

Members of the group held meetings with Chrysler metropolitan dealer groups with a total membership of over 1,000 dealers.

to present Chrysler sales and merchandising plans for the remainder of 1954 and to learn at first hand from the dealers the problems presently encountered at the retail level.

"Generally speaking we found that dealers feel that all business is improving and the sales will tend to be better than was anticipated a few months ago," Braden said.

"Part of this optimism was verified for us last week when we experienced the second biggest order day Chrysler Division has had during the 1954 model run with 1,700 orders coming in from dealers in an eight-hour period."

Braden credited Chrysler's increased business to several factors. He said that Chrysler sales executives and Chrysler dealers are now geared to the type of hard selling necessary to keep the production lines running.

BULL RIDING AND BULLDOGGING CONSIDERED RODEO DANGERS

As a contest at the rodeo, steer riding has been in vogue only about two and a half decades. It sprang from the sport of the youthful buckaroos of the range, as they were wont on Sundays or special occasions, when the elder cowboys would be riding broncos, the youngsters would engage in riding the yearlings or calves of the milkpen.

First introduced to the rodeo arena in the form of an exhibition, then graduating into regular contests, with the importation of the Brahma breed of cattle (which are descendants of the sacred cattle of India crossed with the long-horn type of the range), steer and bull riding became one of the most thrilling and dangerous events of the rodeo.

The Brahma breed of cattle for the rodeo are brought from the salt grass marshes of the Gulf coast of Texas and the Everglades of Florida. They are more like jungle beasts than domestic animals, and in this event especially spectators are warned to remain away from the arena fence. The Brahmas are the quickest of action animal of their size in the world. They are human-haters and are dangerous at all times.

Wild Brahma steer or bull riders not only have to be experts, they ride with only a rope around the animal's body, but they must use good judgment and fast foot-work in alighting from the hurricane deck of one of these animals after the ride is completed as the Brahmas have a penchant for attempting to gore out the life of any who dares to ride them.

Bulldogging or steer wrestling is one of the most dangerous sports in which human being indulges. It was first originated by a Texas Negro cowboy, Hill Pickett.

It is amazing how quickly a cowboy steer wrestler weighing about the same as a middle-weight or light heavyweight boxer, can leap from the back of a flying cowpony, grasp a wild steer, weighing close to a half a ton by the horns and in a hand-to-horn battle or wrestling match, subdue the animal and lay it flat upon its side.

The cowboy, however, does not always win, the brute strength and animal cunning of the bovine many times proving too much for the cowhand. This is also a timed event.

State FFA Boys Will Hold Meet In San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO (Sp.) — All corners of Texas will be represented when the Future Farmers of America gather for their 26th annual state convention in this historic old city July 21-23.

Young men from the piney woods, coastal plains, Panhandle, fertile river valleys, and the plains will be provided a full program of entertainment, as well as the important business and educational sessions.

State President Jon Hagler of LaGrange and six of his regional vice presidents have met with the local planning committee of San Antonio business men and report plans for one of the finest conventions in the organization's history.

Area vice presidents are Raymond Henders of Canyon, Derrell Rogers of Lamesa, Damon Campbell of Hamilton, Ardis Barnes of Commerce, Rusty Reynolds of Pittsburg, Hugh Spring of Luling, Kenneth Richardson of LaRue, Bobby Beathard of Kirbyville, and John Post of Alamo.

Elmer Crumrine is chairman of the San Antonio arrangements committee, aided by Mark L. Browne and R. Beal Fumphyrey. George H. Hurt and Vannoy Stewart of Austin headquarters of vocational agriculture activities are assisting in the planning.

A downtown parade, fun night at La Villita, entertainment at the Plaza Hotel, and individual sight-seeing trips are high points to the San Antonio convention. Business sessions and educational exhibits will be at the Plaza Hotel.

SOCIAL SECURITY BENEFITS
IN COUNTY $37,200 MONTH

Mothers and children in Eastland County were getting 20 per cent of the $37,200 monthly total in social security insurance benefits being paid in the county at the end of 1953, Ralph T. Fisher, manager of the Abilene social security office, announced today. Total payments to children in this county were $5,955 for the month of December. In the nation as a whole, over one million children were getting a total of about $32 1/2 million in monthly payments at the end of 1953. Nationwide, over a quarter of a million widowed mothers were paid a total of over $9 1/2 million in December.

The largest group of beneficiaries under the social security insurance program, however, continues to be retired workers, Fisher said. In December 527 such beneficiaries in Eastland County were paid a total of $23,362. This was an increase of $5,723 over December, 1952. Nationwide, the increase in retired-worker beneficiaries was 578,416, and the monthly payments to them increased from $130,217,439 to $164,659,061 in the same period. Fisher said, "Many of us are inclined to think of old-age and survivors insurance under the social security system as a program for retired workers and their dependents exclusively. As the figure relating to mothers and children indicate, however, survivors benefits are an important part of the program, too."

Other beneficiaries on the rolls in Eastland County are wives and aged dependent husbands of retired insured workers, aged widows and dependent widowers of deceased workers, and dependent parents who are receiving survivors benefits. The total of all beneficiaries in Eastland County receiving monthly benefit payments at the end of 1953 was 1,007. The total amount being paid in the county as of December, 1953, was 29 per cent more than a year before, and 79 per cent more than two years before.

Wheat Referendum
In County July 23

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Henson has set July 23 as the date for a national referendum among growers on marketing quotas for the 1955 wheat crop. E. F. Blackwell, chairman of the Eastland Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Committee, reminded farmers today. At least two-thirds of the growers voting must approve quotas before they may be put into effect.
"Under present supply conditions," the chairman stated, "Secretary Henson had no choice but to proclaim wheat quotas and call for a vote. Legislation directs the Secretary to proclaim wheat quotas whenever the supply exceeds 20 per cent of 'normal.' The 'normal supply' as calculated under provisions of the controlling legislation, is a year's domestic and export requirements plus 15 per cent as a reserve. Actually, the available supply for 1954-55 is about 79 percent above normal."
If quotas are approved, Blackwell explained, producers who comply with their farm wheat acreage allotments may market all the wheat they produce in any way they choose. They will also be eligible for the full level of price support which is authorized for the 1955 crop, apparently somewhere from 90 to 75 percent of parity. Producers who are subject to the marketing quotas—those with more than 15 acres of wheat—will lose their price support eligibility if they do not comply with their acreage allotments. They will also be subject to a marketing quota penalty on their excess wheat.

If quotas are disapproved, there will be no marketing quotas and no marketing penalties. Price supports would be at 50 percent of parity for those who comply with their acreage allotments—which will continue in effect even if quotas should be voted down.
Eligibility for price support, with or without marketing quotas, will also require compliance with all crop allotments established for a farm in 1955. In addition, a "total acreage allotment" will be established for all farms where more than 10 acres are diverted from production of allotment crops. A producer will have to comply with the total acreage allotment if one is established for his farm, as well as with all individual crop allotments, in order to be eligible for price support on any crop.
These cross-compliance provisions are designed to assure more balanced production without shifting surplus problems from one crop to another, Blackwell said.
Four and one-half million dollars was saved by Army installations in Japan during a single three-month period. Biggest savings—$2,300,000—were reported by Ordnance units. Most of this came from the reclamation and reuse of scrap and salvage material.

IS RECOMMENDED BY PEOPLE WHO KNOW HIM BEST

To Whom It May Concern:
As Mothers, we would like to express our appreciation for the way in which E. L. Dennis has handled our Youth problems during his administration as Constable of Precinct No. 5. He has counseled and advised with them, winning their respect and cooperation. He is fair and unbiased, alert to their problems and needs, using good judgment at all times.

To Whom It May Concern:
I have been personally acquainted with E. L. Dennis for the past four years. I have had occasion to call on him on numerous times in direct relation to truancy problems, order at athletic contests, and various other types of duty. I have found him always willing to respond to our needs at any time of the day or night. He not only is sincere and efficient in his duties, but more important, he is fair and is capable of using good common sense and judgment.
His honesty is beyond reproach and in my opinion, he not only is qualified to be sheriff of Eastland County, but he would indeed be a credit to the communities and voters of the county.

The Gorman Progress Says—
Constable E. L. Dennis became an officer of the law by vote of the people. His by-word has been, "Duty Without Discrimination". Dennis has held the respect and friendship of the majority of the people in this community by putting into practice the above motto. He has sought the help of the young people in the community and explained to them his need for their assistance. Where reason could not be applied he has been stern in enforcing the law, regardless of age.

Constable Dennis has worked diligently and now seeks a promotion. He has fulfilled his obligations in office. He is qualified for the office of Sheriff of Eastland County.

Cowboys Are Guided In Rodeo Events By Many Detailed Rules

We give here only the principal points in the rules, believing that the rules in their entirety are too voluminous to interest the average layman and the principal points here given will enable the spectators to understand the conditions under which the contestants are working.

Rodeo Cowboys of America rules and regulations governing entries will be in force.

No mistreatment of stock will be tolerated, any contestant guilty of this offense will be immediately disqualified and barred from further competitions.

Judges decisions shall be final, and they may disqualify any contestant for any of the following offenses: rowdiness, quarreling with judges or officials, abusing stock, not being ready for events.

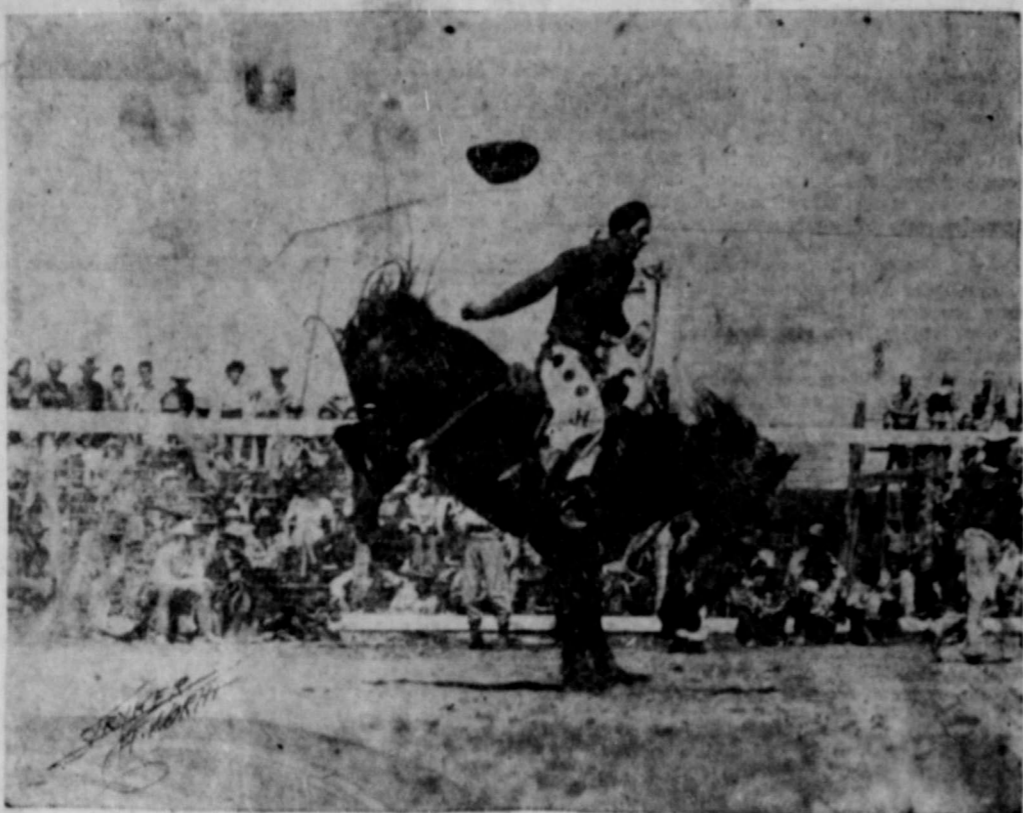

No contestant will be allowed to withdraw from any event unless disabled and must then furnish certificate from official rodeo physician.

Principal Points in Bronc Riding Rules

All riders draw their mounts by lot and must attempt to ride the horse they draw. Riders will be disqualified if they cheat the horse to keep him from doing his best.

If saddle comes off, rider is entitled to a re-ride on same horse, should horse fall before ride is completed rider will be given a re-ride, but after honest effort and horse fails to buck, rider will be allowed to draw another horse for a re-ride.

Any of the following offenses disqualifies rider: losing stirrup, changing hands on rein or losing rein, being bucked off, failing to scratch (keeping feet moving in kicking motion) wrapping reins around hand, pulling leather, hitting horse with hat or hand.

Principal Points in Calf Roping Rules

Roper must start before starter's flag drops, penalty for breaking starting barrier 10 seconds.

Roper must make catch that will hold calf until he gets to him, five to ten seconds fine for roper jerking down or bustling calf with lariat to make the catch. Roper's horse must not drag calf over three feet at any time, penalty 20 seconds. Roper must throw calf by hand, if calf has fallen down before the roper gets to calf, he must allow calf to regain feet and then throw by hand. Roper may cross any three feet and tie, tie must hold until after judge has passed upon same. Each roper is allowed two loops and failing to catch with either must retire from the arena and will be given no time.

Principal Points in Steer Wrestling Rules

All wrestlers draw their steers by lot. Wrestler and hazer are allowed to leave the chute with steers, but must not touch steer or leap until after the steer has crossed the starting line and starter's flag has dropped.

Wrestler must leap from horse, catch steer and twist the animal down. If steer is thrown by wrestler pressing horns against the ground, steer must be let up and twisted down. If steer falls in the opposite way from which it is being twisted (Dog Fall) then steer must be let up and twisted down again, or rolled over to where all four feet are out from under steer. The official recorded time is the time elapsing between the starter's flag and the flag of the field judge who signals that the throw has been completed.

Principal Points in Bareback Bronc Riding Rules

Rules in bareback bronc riding are principally the same as in saddle bronc riding, except riders ride with a circingle, one hand on the air, horses have no reins in bareback riding, riders must not change hands or circingle to touch horse in any manner with free hand.

The masterfulness of the man in which the ride is made with the amount of scratching done by the rider and the roughness of the horse are the deciding factors with the judges.

Principal Points in Steer Riding Rules

Riders draw their mounts by lot and must attempt to ride each animal drawn, as to turn one animal down or refuse to ride would disqualify a rider.

Steer or bull riding is done with loose rope drawn around animal's withers, riders must ride with one hand on this rope, the other hand in the air, must keep feet moving in a kicking motion, must not touch animal with free hand. No knots or hitches in rope is permitted. Judgement on rides is based upon the masterfulness of the manner in which the ride is made, the roughness of the animal and the amount of scratching done by rider.

Rice And Meat Loaf Ring For Summer Treat

Want a really good looking dish to serve company? Then fix this RICE AND MEAT LOAF RING, but please don't save it for company—let your family enjoy it often. You can make it early in the day and wait until mealtime to bake it in the oven.

The meat, mushrooms and the olives taste so good together—the rice is a perfect "background" and sets off the flavor so well. This is a "can't fail" main dish, and you can depend upon it to always "look its best" as well as "taste tops."

INGREDIENTS:

- 1, 12 ounce can luncheon meat
- 4 cups hot cooked white rice
- 1, 10 1/2 ounce can condensed cream of mushroom soup
- 1/2 cup water
- 1 1/2 cup stuffed green olives, chopped

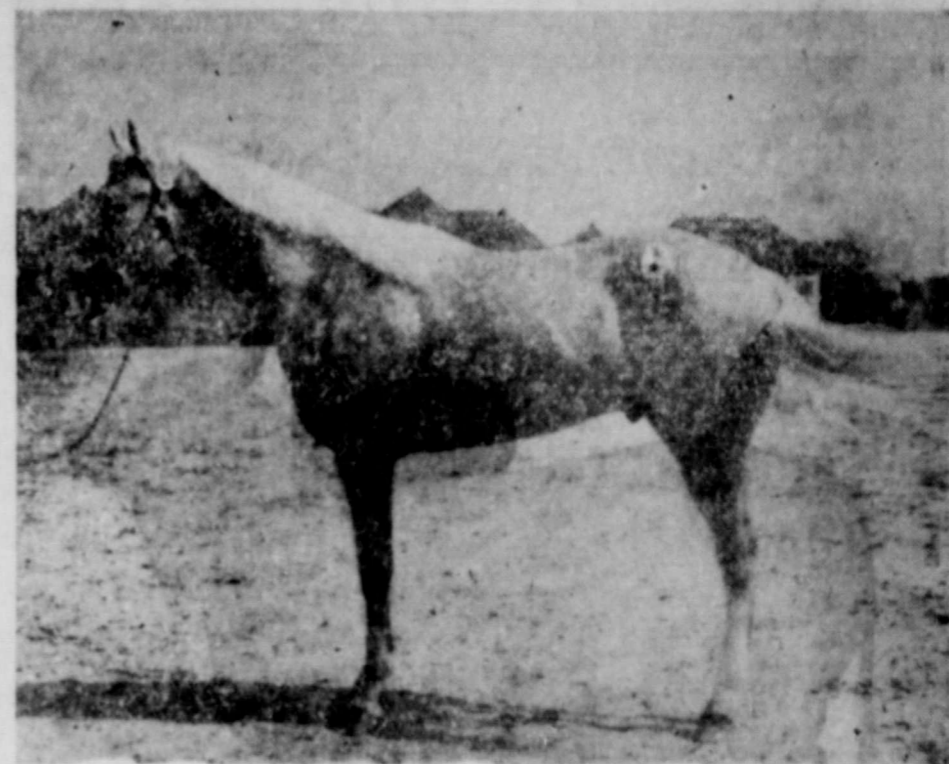

dash of Tabasco sauce
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup water

METHOD: Thoroughly grease a 9-inch (5 cup) ring mold. Cut 7 thin slices of the meat to decorate the ring. Arrange the slices in the ring mold so that one end of each slice is on the bottom and the rest of the slice is pressed against the outside in such a way that when unmolded the slices will be over the top and down the outside of the loaf. Place an olive slice on the mold between each meat slice. Coarsely chop the rest of the meat. Add the rice, 1/2 cup of the mushroom soup, 1/2 cup water, olives, Tabasco sauce, salt and pepper. Place on the meat in the ring. Press together firmly.

Loosely cover the ring with a lid or with aluminum foil. Place in a 350 degrees Fahrenheit oven for 45 minutes. Remove from the oven. Place a plate over the mold. Invert and mold together. Lift mold from the ring. Serve hot with the rest of the mushroom soup which has been heated with 1/2 cup of water. This recipe makes 7 servings.

Increase In Poliomyelitis Expected

This is the season of the year when an increase in poliomyelitis can be expected and Dr. Henry A. Holle, State Health Officer, is urging the public to cooperate in helping to prevent the spread of this crippling disease.

"Children should not visit homes where poliomyelitis or symptoms of this disease are present. Promptness in diagnosing poliomyelitis is one of the most important factors in its control," Dr. Holle declared. "Direct contact between persons is the chief factor in the spread of infantile paralysis and since carriers are difficult to determine, it is advisable to reduce to a minimum human contacts during any outbreak of this disease."

Dr. Holle stressed the fact that a rigid program of sanitation is advisable since it has been suspected that flies and other seasonal insects may convey the virus germ of poliomyelitis. He added that insect transmission has not been scientifically demonstrated but pointed out that sanitation is always advisable in controlling disease and that filth is likely to produce typhus.

Early symptoms of infantile paralysis are headache, fever, vomiting, unusual droopiness, and inability to be moved by stiffness in the neck and back.

Children under five years are most susceptible and all children under twelve years should be watched for suspicious symptoms. Dr. Holle urged that a physician be called immediately if infantile paralysis is suspected. If the disease is definitely diagnosed, local health authorities should be contacted immediately and patients isolated for at least 21 days.

How To Escape Buying A Used Car In A Poke

WASHINGTON.—The Better Business Bureau warns used car buyers to play safe by trading only with reputable dealers.

A special bureau report contained a few hints on how to spot a dishonest dealer. It also gave a number of checks you can make to insure getting your money's worth.

The bureau said to beware of the dealer whose prices are marked below the advertised average. It cited an actual case where a buyer was fooled when he answered an ad offering for $395 a car that normally sold for around $595. He liked the car's looks and, without further examination, signed a blank finance contract.

When the papers were returned to the buyer, the price had been upped to $795 and the agreed downpayment had jumped $200. Therefore, the actual price was $200 above market and $545 above the advertised price. This did not include the later installation of a new engine which the delivered car was found to need.

Beware, also, of so-called guarantees that many dealers offer orally, but not in writing.

Check the Facts

The bureau also recommended:

1. Trade with a dealer whose reputation in the community is established.

2. Make sure that the agreed price is in writing. Get a receipted, detailed bill covering all the facts about your purchase.

3. Make certain the finance contract is made out before you sign it. Read it carefully to see if it is in accordance with your understanding with the dealer.

The report urged the following checks to determine the condition of a car you may wish to purchase:

1. The cardinal rule is drive it before you buy it. If the dealer won't let you drive it, don't buy it.

2. Check the speedometer reading against the condition of the car. Grease and oil stickers inside the driver's door may show a higher mileage than the meter. Other tipoffs are worn arm rests, pedals, and floor mats. If they are unusually worn, "it's unlikely the car was owned by a retired minister who only drove it 10 miles a week."

3. Check play in the steering wheel and steering gear, as well as the amount of smoke coming from the exhaust. Too much of either is a danger signal.

4. See if the engine slows down and speeds up quickly when the accelerator is pressed. If not, the rings may be bad.

Traveling With Children? Here Are Some Helps For Auto Trips

Sensible planning before vacation-time will make traveling with the children easier for Mom and the other adults in the car. Aside from planning the wardrobe, itinerary and frequent stops, here are a few suggestions to keep in mind from the Luggage & Leather Goods Manufacturers:

Use separate luggage. Infants' garments should be packed separately, with immediate needs on top for easy access. Tots enter into the spirit of the vacation when they are allowed to fill their own suitcases — even if Mother finds them packed with unmatched shoes and toys, she can rearrange selection later. There are inexpensive sets of miniature luggage designed expressly for children which include little train cases, overnight bags and hatboxes; many are decorated with favorite cartoon, fairytale and television characters.

Give older children responsibilities. Allowing a boy or girl to be keeper of the extra key case (should father misplace his) gives the child a feeling of importance. Junior navigators will be thrilled to have custody of the map case with the vacation route marked in heavy crayon for easy following.

Provide extra comforts. Refreshments are best kept in one of the new "E-d bag" containers which fasten over the backrest of the seat; food and liquids are kept at an even temperature, never get spread out all over the car. Provide five-and-dime store games, toys and novelties to distribute one at a time when the trip gets boring. Many families use a shoe bag with individual pockets in which they pack games, damp sponges for sticky hands, tissues, treats.

ROUGH RIDING—With the advent of the Brahma steer into the rodeo arena, cowboys say that steer riding is a rougher contest than it was at one time. Action shown here doesn't resemble a soft ride, and it's this kind of action that can be seen at the Ninth Annual Ranger Jaycee Rodeo.

IT'S THE LAW

LEGAL TERMS HAVE EXACT MEANINGS

The average person seldom needs to exercise any great degree of caution in selecting the words and phrases which he uses to communicate his ideas to others. We usually give voice to the first appropriate words which come to mind, and then make use of additional explanation to clarify our expressions if necessary.

In legal documents, however, words must have exact meanings in order that they may be uniformly interpreted by the courts. Lawyers naturally become accustomed to this situation, and frequently use terms which have a definite meaning to them, but which do not always convey the same meaning to laymen.

Below are explanations of several terms commonly used by attorneys. Exact definition has not been attempted, as this would take too much space and would involve the use of other terms having a legal meaning which might not be entirely clear. However, you will find below a general idea of the meanings involved. See how these correspond with your own definitions.

Real Property. Real property consists of land and includes generally buildings, fences and other improvements erected upon or attached thereto. Also generally included within the term are trees and crops growing upon the soil.

A DOUBLE SPILL—This cowboy went down with his horse, as it fell. Any dust-biting, whether man or animal, always provides a thrill for the spectators at a rodeo. Plenty of thrilling action is assured those who attend the Ninth Annual Jaycee Rodeo.

Personal Property. This term ordinarily includes movable possessions of a person which are not so attached to the soil as to become real estate. Stocks, bonds, notes, livestock and household furnishings which are not firmly attached to or made a part of the house itself, come within the ordinary meaning of the term.

Community Property. In Texas community property includes all property acquired by a husband or wife after their marriage, except such items as may be obtained by one of the parties through gift or inheritance.

Separate Property. This phrase covers property owned by either husband or wife before their marriage, and such real or personal property as either may acquire after marriage by gift or inheritance.

Trust. A trust occurs where one person holds the legal title of real or personal property for the benefit of another person. For example, a husband may direct in his will that after his death certain property shall be held and managed by some corporation or individual, with income going to his widow. In such a case the person holding legal title and control of the property is known as a trustee.

Another type of trust is sometimes called a spendthrift trust. This is an arrangement whereby one sets up a certain sum of money to be given out to another at a definite rate per month or per year, or under definite restrictions.

This type of trust is generally used in wills where a person desires to leave money to an individual, but feels that the individual is not capable of properly caring for the money and that if left to them in full that the party receiving the money will spend and waste the money and not receive the maximum benefit from it.

There are certain technicalities in setting up such an arrangement, but in a proper case they will reserve to the beneficiary a definite income, and see that the principal estate left to the beneficiary is not wasted.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts because the facts very change the application of the law.)

Many Accidents Are Attributed To Distractions

Distractions cause 75 per cent of all automobile accidents, according to a prominent woman traffic judge.

Window shopping, looking at pretty girls, settling squabbles among the children in the back seat, head-swiveling conversations with passengers, lighting a cigarette—these are the things that cause accidents, in the opinion of Judge Geraldine F. Macelwane, of the Toledo, Ohio, Municipal Court. Hearing 80 to 120 traffic violation cases a day, she qualifies as an expert on human behavior behind the wheel. In 1953, she heard 7,300 traffic cases.

"It takes only a second of distraction on the part of the driver to cause a serious injury or death," Judge Macelwane points out. "If a moving car is left unattended, even for a second, a serious accident can result."

She cited the example of a tearful and trembling young mother who recently appeared in her court. The mother had made the common mistake of allowing her small child to stand on the front seat beside her.

"As the driver of the car ahead signalled an intention to turn left, the child diverted the mother's attention for an instant—long enough for the car ahead to stop for oncoming traffic," Judge Macelwane said. "The woman crashed into it, the child required hospital treatment, and she was hailed into my court on a reckless driving charge."

Improving the driver's knowledge and attitudes is more important than punitive action in such cases, Judge Macelwane believes.

"Although women can rally public support for enforcement and engineering advances, they can be even more effective in reducing accidents by focusing attention on more common dangers, like distraction," she says.

As one of the judges of the 1954 Carol Lane Awards for traffic safety, Judge Macelwane called upon American women, as individuals and in club groups, to enter the award program before the June 30, 1954, closing date. Winners will receive a $1,000 defense bond and a bronze safety "oscar."

The Carol Lane Awards, the nation's only awards which recognize the achievements of women in the field of traffic safety, are administered by the National Safety Council through a grant from the Shell Oil Co. Further information about the awards may be obtained from Alice C. Mills, National Safety Council, 425 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago 11, Ill.

Number of Elderly Citizens Growing

CHICAGO—Barring national disasters, there will be 16,000,000 persons aged 65 and over by 1960 and about 19,000,000 by 1970, according to T. Lynn Smith, University of Florida sociologist.

In an article in the Journal of Business, Smith wrote that "any spectacular medical developments that sharply cut mortality rates among the older population will increase still more the expectation of life after 65."

Smith said St. Petersburg, Fla., stands in a "class by itself" in the high number of old people in proportion to the population.

Petersburg is Pasadena, Calif., followed by Atlantic City, N. J., Long Beach, Calif., Spokane, Wash., and Rochester, N. Y. The city with the most marked scarcity of old people is Corpus Christi, Tex., he added.

"The village or small town is still to a very considerable extent America's 'old folk's home,'" Smith said.

He said the nearest rival to St. Petersburg, Texas, Washington and The present concentrations of the aged are greatest in New England and the Middle West. At the other end of the scale are the Southwestern states, with New Mexico the lowest.

In state-to-state migration, Smith said New York, Pennsylvania, and Illinois lost the greatest number of oldsters, California,

Modern Appliances Make Woman's Life Easier, Says W. G. Smith

The average happy bride, who says "I do" so eagerly, might be somewhat less cheerful if she realized she was facing a sentence of five and a half years of hard labor. She is pledging, indirectly, to do the family washing for the rest of her life! In many homes this means lifting 92 tons of wet laundry, walking 43 miles, and making 1,176,000 motions each year as she washes, dries, and irons the clothes and linens. This report was made Monday by W. G. Smith of Wiley-Wilkes Furniture Company local area's best home laundry appliance dealer.

Home economy of Whirlpool Corporation, world's largest manufacturer of home laundry appli-clothes line, and a hand iron. The next time she breezed through the test with an automatic washer, clothes dryer and electric ironer.

The results were astounding, Smith reports. Working time was cut by 80 per cent, but that wasn't the entire story. The tons of weight lifting—of dripping clothes, heavy laundry baskets and the weight of the iron—dropped from 92 tons to two and a half tons!

Almost as spectacular was the difference in distance walked in each method of doing the laundry. The old-fashioned way took 43 miles. This included steps from the machine to the rinse tub, from the laundry room out to the yard, from one end of the clothesline to the other and back again. But, it also took into account the steps from the ironing board to the rack where the freshly-ironed clothes and linens were hung.

With a modern laundry consisting of an automatic washer, clothes dryer and ironer, the miles were cut from 43 to two and a half! Finally, the economists found that the number of manual motions was cut from 1,176,000 to 453,000.

It is the wise bride today who knows her own strength, commented Smith. Who knows that her real strength lies in building a home, not in exerting needless manual labor which, in many cases, not only results in wrecking her health but also her home.

New Fungicide for Home Gardeners

It's no fun when a rose bed is hit by the dreaded black spot disease in late summer and fall. It means the end of prize blooms and it means ugly, scrawny bushes, instead of fine, fat bushes clothed with healthy green foliage. It's no wonder that Dr. Ray Allen, former secretary of the American Rose Society, who now heads up Kingwood Center in Ohio, once said that "black spot was by all odds the most serious disease of roses."

Now, thanks to research work carried on by the plant scientists of the California Spray-Chemical Corporation, a new product has been developed which puts an end to all rosarians' fears about how to control black spot.

Orthocide was declared by a noted commercial rose grower to be the "first fungicide that has the power to kill black spot right in the leaf." Containing Captain, this new product has given good results on controlling black spot for Pennsylvania State College researchers, Extension Service experiments at Ganesville, Florida, commercial rose fields in Texas, and many other places across the nation.

A little Orthocide goes a long way. You can buy a half pound of the material at any dealer for about $1.50. Apply it at the rate of 2 level tablespoonfuls per gallon of water. Spray in advance of, or at first signs of disease and repeat sprayings as required for control.

How black spot works: "Black spot is caused by a fungus (Diplocarpon rosae). The fungus lives over winter in the old leaves on the ground and possibly also in lesions on the canes. In the spring spores are formed which correspond in a general way to the seeds of an ordinary plant. The spores are splashed by rain to young foliage on the plants. When foliage is wet for six or more hours, the spores germinate and the fungus soon penetrates the new leaf. Once inside, it grows through the tissue and in about a week a new black spot develops and produces a prodigious number of fresh spores.

Even a one-quarter-inch spot will yield more than 30,000 spores, each of which is capable of causing another spot. These newly produced spores are easily splashed to other leaflets and, if foliage is not protected, it is only a matter of a few weeks before every leaf is infected and the plant defoliated.

Orthocide also controls the new form of powdery mildew which hit commercial tuberous begonia growers in the West three years ago. For awhile the existence of the commercial fields was threatened seriously. Neither sulphur, copper or any of the other fungicides could give the growers relief. But last year, when extensive trials were made up and down the coast, it was demonstrated that Orthocide could control and clean up begonia mildew.

Calf Scramble at Rodeo Popular With the Boys

For the seventh consecutive year the Ranger Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the original West Texas Calf Scramble in the interest of promotion of better livestock in the area. At the 1953 Ranger Jaycee Rodeo the committee sponsored their first scramble, giving away ten pure bred Angus and Hereford calves to ten outstanding FFA and 4-H Club boys of this area. Local and county merchants purchased these calves by contributing to the Jaycee program. In 1949 this Calf Scramble was changed to what probably should be called a greased pig scramble. Local and county merchants went to great expense in securing ten high quality registered Jersey heifers to be awarded to the outstanding FFA and 4-H boys. Instead of scrambling for these Jersey heifers, pigs were used in the scramble in the arena, to avoid possible injury to these valuable animals. The boys fortunate enough to catch a greased pig was given a Jersey heifer. In return, each boy getting a heifer was to care for, raise, and breed his heifer, and return his first heifer calf to the Jaycees. This calf would in turn be presented to another boy at the next annual rodeo in another calf scramble. Every year this stellar arena event has been an increasingly popular feature of the Ranger Jaycees' show. It not only provides entertainment for spectators and for the youngsters, but it contributes much toward boosting and building interest in the livestock industry in Ranger and the surrounding territory. The following merchants or firms have spared no expense in originating this important program for the youth of this area: Ratliff Feed Store, Owen Implement Co., Ranger Jaycees, Ranger Times, Ranger Creamery, L. K. Pearson, C. B. Pruet, Swaney's Pharmacy, Crawford's Rexall Drugs, Greer Boot Shop, Anderson Chevrolet, Ranger Auto Parts, Texas Drug, Lloyd Clem, Inc., Ranger Peanut Co., Killingsworth's Ranger Furniture Exchange, Globe Clothiers, Tip-Top Feed Store, Eastland National Bank, Dr. Pepper Bottling Co., H. Children Make Good Automobile Travelers When Parents Plan Well

NEW YORK—Children make good automobile travelers, if parents are good planners. By all means take the children along on the vacation trip, but prepare for their comfort as well as yours before you start. To keep travel with the younger set from becoming frenzied, here are some tips from the American Automobile Association and Carol Lane, women's travel director for an oil company. Provide first for safety. Most hardware stores sell special safety locks for rear doors. Make some of these before you hit the road—that the children will not annoy the driver, won't play with the dashboard controls or cigarette lighter if they're in the front seat, and won't put arms or head out the car window. Calm Start Essential Provides for their comfort. Start any trip on as calm a note as you can. Once the trip is underway, eat lightly and avoid rich foods. Have the main meal after the days for active play, which is necessary on a long trip. Food usually can be bought from roadside stalls, and a portable ice chest will hold enough for a whole day's meals. Avoid sweets and heavy foods, but since children love to snack, have plenty of fruit, raisins, dates, raw carrots and canned juices. Choose clothing of fabrics which are non-creasable, easy to wash and need no ironing. Seersucker, jersey, corduroy and many of the synthetics provide a basic travel wardrobe for both children and adults. Choose simple, loose fitting clothes, with no tight areas or necklines. ATTEND THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE EACH SUNDAY

Arthur's Death ECHENECHADY, N.Y. — A used by Chester A. Arthur before he became president in 1881 has been donated to Union College by the Albany County Historical Society. He was graduated from Union in 1848.

travel is over. Make a short stop frequently and drink plenty of water. Make sure the children get plenty of rest—and if a child begins to feel a bit of car sickness, give him to the front seat and let him suck a lemon. The items you'll need to keep children entertained along the way depend on their age and interests. One tip—dream up some simple games before you start, and you'll find they amuse children for long periods. You can work out contests with license plates or with street signs along the route. The child who sees a white horse gets a special citation. You may offer prizes in such contests—small, inexpensive toys, or small cash gifts which will help the children to earn their own spending money. Bring along a few favorite toys, and of course the camera. Picnic Meals Easy Now about meals along the road. Picnics are easy on your food budget, and give the children a chance
