SUNDAY DEVOTION

Honor God By Giving Thanks Through Giving

By REV FRANK BROOKS, Pastor Second Baptist Church

At this time of the year our thoughts naturally turn to thanksgiving. Even though we are thankful throughout the year, we still feel a renewed interest in giving thanks at this season.

It means a complete dedication of physical beings to our Lord and Saviour.

We need to give our minds. This means doing some serious thinking about our God and our faith.

Deer Hides Needed By State Hospitals

The Volunteer Services Council for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools has again this year issued an appeal to deer hunters in this area to save the hide from any deer that they might kill.

Transportation for the f a w hides is provided with out charge by most of the motor freight lines in Texas if the following directions are followed by the hunter: (1) Salt hide and allow to drain; (2) Package hide and mark it "Charity"; (3) Address to Austin Taxidermist Studio, 2708 South Lamar, Austin, Texas.

The patients and students derive both pleasure and actual benefit from working with the leather. More than 250 hides were donated last year by Texas hunters.

Ranger Library To Close Friday

The Ranger Community Library will be closed on Friday, Nov. 24, due to the Thanksgiving holidays. The library will be open on Monday, Nov. 27.

TWO NEW MEMBERS. L. Wright, left, and J. E. Tanner, center, are welcomed into the Texas Electric Service Co.'s Quarter Century Club, by company president Beeman Fisher. The two men from the Eastland area join the ranks of those who have been employed by the company for 25 years.

'South Will Provide Leaders' TESCO Told

Any help for the historic upheaval our nation now is experiencing will come from men of the South, approximately 400 employees and guests at the 1961 annual dinner of the Texas Electric Service Co. Quarter Century Club were told Wednesday night.

Clayton Rand, noted author and speaker from Mississippi, told the audience that this is a nation of mediocrities.

TESCO President Beeman Fisher presented gold watches to J. E. (Red) Turner, a line foreman at the distributing plant in Eastland, and to W. L. Wright, a fireman at the Leon Plant.

"If we go as far to the left in the next 25 years as we have in the past 25, we'll have our own home-grown Communism," he said.

He told the Biblical story of the handwriting on the wall, showing that Babylon fell because the nation was divided.

"Something has happened to the leadership of our country," Rand said, and answered his own question of "What can we do?" by suggesting that, as in the past, men of the south, from Texas to Virginia, offer the only hope available.

Ed Wishcamper, managing editor of the Abilene Reporter-News, will be guest speaker. He is a graduate of Shamrock High School and McMurry College, and he joined the Reporter-News staff in 1936.

Schools To Close For Thanksgiving

G. R. Rush, superintendent of Ranger schools, announced today that all students in the Ranger schools would be dismissed Wednesday of this week at regular time for the Thanksgiving holidays.

2 Indians Due Credit For Thanksgiving

Two Indians with an English accent deserve much of the credit for the first Thanksgiving in America.

They taught the Plymouth colonist how to make a home in the New World and helped them establish a peace that lasted for more than 50 years.

The first to approach the colonists, reports World Book Encyclopedia, was Samoset, a chief of the Femaquid Indians. He walked into the colony one day in March, 1621, and unsettled the settlers by addressing them in English. Samoset, it turned out, had earlier met some English fishermen along the coast of Maine and learned some of the language from them.

Two weeks later Samoset dropped in with his friend Squanto, a well-traveled brave of the Pawtuxet tribe. Squanto had been to England twice, once after having been kidnapped and sold as a slave in Spain by an English sea captain. He had returned to America in 1619.

Samoset introduced the colonist to Massasoit, chief of the Plymouth area. With Squanto acting as interpreter, the chief and the Pilgrims concluded a treaty of friendship that lasted until Massasoit died in 1661.

Ranger Citizens Urged To Enter Pecan Show

W. J. Herrington, chairman of the committee on arrangements for the ninth annual pecan show to be held in the Joseph building on Dec. 8-9, urges everyone in Ranger, regardless of the number of trees in the yard, to enter a display.

"It will add to the show in addition to the entry to vote next year on the place to hold the 1962 show," stated Herrington.

An entry consists of one quart of pecans of any variety and the nuts will be returned unless the entry places first, second or third, in which case they will be sent to A&M to compete in the state show.

Farm-City Week, Nov. 17-23

Special weeks, ranging from the sublime to the ridiculous, come and go with the turning of the calendar, most of them drawing no more notice than the turning of that calendar page.

From time to time a specialy-designated week comes along that is worthy of closer examination, even an extra effort to make it a week of special significance. Such a week is National Farm-City Week, Nov. 17-23.

This is a time when friends and neighbors on both sides of the fence — the city-dwellers and farmers and ranchers — can get together, air their problems and learn and respect their individual aims and goals.

Agriculture remains an integral part of our area's economy and with the mass of information and misinformation we all receive about both our rural and urban populations, there are a few facts worth remembering about this nation's agricultural economy.

Less than 10 per cent of the population is now actively engaged in agriculture. Yet this 10 per cent produces sufficient food and fiber to meet the demands of an exploding population, and in some instances a considerable surplus.

This enables the remaining 90 per cent of the nation's working force to turn to other industries, which in turn has enabled this nation to produce the highest standard of living, with the healthiest and best-clothed population, the world has ever known.

So before we criticize the farmer or the rancher too severely for the problems of surplus crops piling up in the nation's storehouses, let us remember that if it were not for the industry and the know-how of the American farmer and rancher, our way of life and our standard of living might well be much closer to the level of many of the less fortunate people in the world, too many of which go through life hungry because they lack the ingenuity and industry of the American farmer and rancher.

Hunters Subject To Check For New Licenses

With the opening of the major hunting season of the year, game wardens now are beginning a careful check of licenses, according to J. B. Phillips, coordinator of law enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission.

A resident hunting license costing $3.15 is required of every citizen of Texas who hunts outside the county of his residence, or who hunts deer and turkey in the county of his residence. Exceptions are those citizens who are under 17 years of age, or 65 or over, and citizens hunting on land which they are residing. Exemption licenses are required for each of these exceptions, when hunting deer or turkey. Deer season opens Nov. 16 in this area.

Landowners who lease hunting rights also are required to pay a $5 license. They also are required to register and keep a list of persons who hunt on their lands for a fee.

In addition, a Federal regulation requires that all hunters of migratory waterfowl buy a "$3 duck stamp," which can be obtained from your post office.

A warning against hunting accidents during the current season has also been issued by T. D. Carroll, coordinator of information and education of the Game and Fish Commission.

For the 1960-61 fiscal year there were 59 hunting accidents reported through game wardens for the state. One fatality was a youth drowned while duck hunting, and one was an adult deer hunter who died of a heart attack while in the field.

Two of the 57 shooting accidents were not completely reported, leaving 55 persons whose accidents were not completely reported. Of that number, 21 were minors, with 34 adults involved. Four women were involved in the accidents, one fatally.

There were 19 shooting fatalities, 13 of them self-inflicted due to carelessness. There were six persons killed by guns in the hands of other persons.

Thirty-six of the accidents, 15 of them fatal, were reported during the principal hunting season months, September through December.

"A number of these accidents might have been averted through hunter education," Carroll said. "Others were the result of plain carelessness."

"Too many hunters are prone to shoot at something that moves. There is sufficient game, especially in the deer areas of Texas today, for every person to take enough time to examine the animal and be sure it is one and not a person. Snap shooting in the brush is very dangerous."

"Persons carrying out deer or dressing them in the field also should be careful they don't offer a target for the snap-happy hunter."

A GOOD MANY men will tell you that one of the nicest things that has happened to Cisco in the past few months is the weekly Wednesday morning Laymen's Devotional, a 15-minute gathering of business and professional men at the bank's community conference room. Starting at 7:30 a.m., there is a song and a prayer followed by a very brief talk by a layman. This is followed by another prayer and the men are on their way to work in time to arrive at their desks by 8 a.m. Those who wish remain behind for a few minutes for coffee and doughnuts provided by the bank. As many as 50 men have attended these weekly gatherings, which are characterized by their informality and good fellowship. Laymen are in charge of all parts of the service. One man said he enjoyed the services because of the opportunity to practice Christian principles during business hours afterwards. Another noted that "we need religious meditation to help maintain a proper set of values in these very confusing and complicated times."

EVEN WE newspaper folks who tend to believe that there is no substitute for newspaper advertising applauded the weekly theater program that Mr. Bill Samuel mailed out Monday for the Majestic Theater. It contained a fine map of Eastland County that showed all of the towns, roads, railroads and so forth.

Written under the map was this: "A community is like a good football team... they must work together and all toward that goal line. To have a good progressive community all must work together, forget personal profit. Unselfish effort is the MUST. A community is just as good as the people who live in it... Let's all work together toward a big and better Eastland County... Analyze your own effort before you criticize your neighbor."

SPEAKING OF football teams, we drove down Austin way last Saturday to look while the University of Texas played Baylor University. And we can't remember seeing a football team demonstrate more real power than the Longhorns. They seem destined to go through the season undefeated.

The half-time show was very entertaining, with performances by both the UofT and the Baylor bands... Baylor has twin girls as twirlers and they're real good... The UofT student cheering section uses cards to express greetings and show pictures very effectively.

Saw the memorial that was dedicated Sunday to veterans of World War I. It stands back of the capitol building in a prominent spot... Saw Mr. H. R. Garrett of Eastland and the Crigler Paschalis, the O. A. Nances, and Mr. Bill Seaborn, Miss Carolyn Fox, of Cisco.

EDITOR:

We are about to enter the next to final phase of school consolidation in Eastland County. We find ourselves at a crossroad. We have to decide which path to follow. One path leads to the best education system for Eastland County, and the other path leads to a better education system for Eastland County. One path leads to the County Unit System, and the other leads to Six District Consolidation. The six districts are: Eastland, Olden, Ranger, Gorman, Deaddeona and Carbon. We believe that because of certain economic-social factors in play at this time the County Unit System would be impossible from a political point of view. Cisco, the largest school district in the county, has ideas for its own advance through consolidation with Moran, Putnam and Seranton in Cisco. They know that as population decreases in Eastland they may annex and get paid for every school district in the county. As consolidation movements continue, we may well expect to see a Central High School in Cisco in fifteen years.

On the other hand, it is possible that the six districts must consolidate for their own protection, and get better education as a bonus. Senate Bill 80 as a basis for consolidation will pay all debts owed in the six districts, and leave $614,000.00 to be used for new construction. The six district consolidation removes the major objection. Under Six District Consolidation, the high school would not be any closer to Eastland than any of the other towns involved. Almost half of the debt is owed by Cisco, Seranton and Rising Star; therefore, the "incentive aid" money is almost as much with the six districts as with the county as a whole.

To understand the plan to be presented, one must understand the reason for any plan in the first place. With the nation crying for better education for national survival, we can not gamble with our education system. We can not continue high educational inefficiency that we have at present.

With the above in mind, a study committee was formed in 1960 by the school boards of Eastland, Ranger and Olden. The study recommended consolidation, but stated that it was impossible because of existing state laws. Under the law at that time, any school districts desiring to consolidate offer financial loss of present state aid. The committee recommended that the school boards do nothing, and at the same time made recommendations to the 1961 Texas Legislature.

As a result of the study, Senate Bill 80 became law. The law permits school districts that wish to consolidate to receive the same amount of state aid for a period of ten years provided that the consolidated unit pay in excess of one thousand state far reaching effects on education in Texas. It is a tool that can be used in Eastland County to equalize all the debts so that no district will have to pay any debt of the other districts.

Since the passage of Senate Bill 80, we have talked only in general terms about consolidation. We have offered no concrete plans up to this time. We have tried to show the people the need for such school district reorganization. We have tried to show the national state, and local picture of education today.

It is good to review these basic facts that exist at the moment. The national picture is a d e b t by Dr. James Conant, president emeritus, of Harvard University. Dr. Conant states: "Not one high school in four is big enough to afford the courses, the facilities, and the teachers needed to provide a substantial program." "One out of every three high school seniors in this country today are denied a good education because the schools he attended is too small." Dr. Conant also states that schools should have at least one hundred in the high school graduating class to have an efficient school operation. Nationally, there are nearly 40,000 separate school districts. The President's Commission on National Goals says this number should be reduced to not more than 10,000 by 1970. Only California and New Jersey have 90 percent of their students in schools large enough by accepted standards. Iowa leads the nation in school district reorganization. The State of Texas faces rising cost in education. The cost of education has risen 104 percent in the past ten years, and the end is not in sight. We quote Dr. J. W. Edgar, Commissioner of Education: "Many school districts in an area of population decline are experiencing difficulty in maintaining a sound education program at a reasonable cost per pupil." Of the school districts in Texas (about 1400), 263 school districts educate two-thirds of the students. Dr. Edgar said this of Senate Bill 80: "It is sound legislation. It will save money both at the state and local level."

Eastland County faces unique problems brought about by the decline in population. The population of Eastland County is 2,900, the same as it was in 1905, and there is no indication of an upward change at this time. We are paying for buildings that were built in 1920 that are obsolete. If we count the County School Board we find some facts that show gross inefficiency. We have ten school systems for 3600 students with ten high schools; one superintendent for each 360 students; one school board member for each 248 people in the county. We have, as a group, the most inefficient system of any county in the State of Texas. From experts in the field of education who have examined the school conditions in Eastland County, we quote: Committee for Economic Development (CED)-"I would judge from your population figures that the entire county must have only about a minimum number of students that we, and others who have studied the matter, would judge sufficient for a fully effective and economical unified school system."

National Education Association (NEA)-"This appears to be another example where mistaken local pride and jealousy have stood in the way of better educational operation for boys and girls."

From the past history and present facts, it is obvious to those not blinded by local prejudice or conflict of interest that some action is long past due. It has been our purpose to make the parents and tax-payers take a long objective look at their education system. We believe that we have accomplished this.

We will present to you next week The University of Texas plan for Six District Consolidation as the most practical for use in our county at this time. You may give it to your readers as you see fit.

The facts will be in this impartial survey; the decision is up to the people. The final phase of education and election will soon begin.

James C. Whittington.

RAN INTO Mr. Paul Brashear, former member of the Legislature from Eastland County, in Austin. He has just joined the staff of the Texas Game Commission and will be concerned primarily with public relations. Understand Paul has a very responsible position and he has a fine background and a wealth of experience to be highly qualified for the new connection. His friends will be pleased to know about his new position, we are sure.

WE ARE INDEBTED to Mrs. Charles S. Sandler, well known Ciscoan, for a helpful suggestion on how to manage a paper napkin at barbecues and dinners where they give you a plate full of food and a paper napkin. You tie a knot in one corner of the napkin and put it in your shirt pocket or in your shirt front just below your neck. And the knot will make it stay put. Mrs. Sandler confessed that this was not new with her. She saw her daughter prepare napkins like that for the Sandler grandchildren. Try it next time you get a paper napkin. It works better than any other arrangement we ever tried.

FRESH BAKED FOR THANKSGIVING

In the course of centuries, world famous people have been immortalized in marble, bronze and oils; their faces have appeared on stamps, coins and most frequently on the front pages of newspapers and news magazines. Four or five hundred years ago, however, anybody who was anybody was honored by appearing as a gingerbread man!

Gingerbread is one of the world's most venerable goodies, baked as a special treat for more than two thousand years. The Egyptians, the Romans, even the wild Goths throughout northern Europe loved gingerbread of some kind. It remained for the monks of Medieval times to perfect the art of doing all kinds of artistic things with this fragrant dough.

It was Queen Elizabeth I who first delighted guests at the royal banquet table with elaborate gingerbread likenesses of themselves. This became so popular — such a conversation piece — that Queen Elizabeth hired a special gingerbread baker to make gingerbread loaves and lozenges.

When, in the 13th Century, the Grimm Brothers wrote "Hansel and Gretel" the gingerbread house, with all of its frosting curlicues, became famous.

First Baptist Church

The morning worship service at the First Baptist Church will feature Thanksgiving Music by the Graded Chorus. The Church is justly proud of a completely graded choir program, and of the work being done by the leaders and sponsors.

The morning message will be brought by the pastor.

Training Union will meet at 6:00 p.m. dismissing in time for all to attend the Thanksgiving services at the First Methodist Church.

Lee Russell, Minister of Music, asks for the cooperation of all children and parents in this musical portion of today's worship. Due to the holiday season, there will be no choir practice next Wednesday.

A cordial invitation is extended to visitors to worship at the First Baptist. The nursery is always open.

Today we much prefer a simple square of velvety, still warm gingerbread redolent of ginger and all kinds of good things. That is the kind of delectable dessert you will make by following any of the following gingerbread recipes.

Honey Gingercake, Angel Gingerbread and Gingerbread Men are all excellent, all a bit different.

2 1-2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
1-2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon ground ginger
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1 teaspoon ground allspice
1-2 cup shortening
1-2 cup light brown sugar, firmly packed
1 cup strained packed honey
1 egg
1 cup sour milk or butter milk
Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Set aside. Blend soda and spices with softened shortening. Gradually add sugar, mixing well after each addition. Stir in honey. Beat in egg. Add flour mixture alternately with milk. Beat batter 1-2 minutes. Turn into 2 well-greased lightly floured 8 or 9 inch square pans. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350 degrees) 30 to 35 minutes or until a toothpick inserted in center comes out clean. Let stand in pans 10 minutes. Turn out onto wire cooling racks to finish cooling.

Put together in layer cake fashion with whipped cream. Garnish with grated orange rind and chocolate curls if desired. YIELD: 9 to 12 servings.

WHIPPED CREAM: Beat 1 cup heavy cream until it stands in soft peaks. Add 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 tablespoon grated orange rind and 1-2 teaspoon pure vanilla extract.

(Watch for other gingerbread recipes.)

Mrs. Pat Collins Is Hostess to Circle No. 4

Circle No. 4 of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church met Tuesday morning at 9:30 a.m. in the church for their regular monthly meeting.

Mrs. Houston Moore, chairman, opened the meeting with a prayer.

Business was conducted after which a very interesting program on Latin America was given by Mmes. Fred Bennett, David Allsup, and Pat Collins.

The meeting was closed with a prayer after which refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Pat Collins, to the following: Mmes. Houston Moore, James Townsen, Glenn Wilson, David Allsup, Charles Gann, Fred Bennett, Melvin Slagle, and Pat Collins.

Adult Banquet Is Held Tuesday At First Baptist

Tuesday evening, 168 adults assembled in the Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church for a Thanksgiving season of fun, food, fellowship and inspiration. This, the 23rd annual Adult Banquet is said by many to have been one of the finest held.

The hall was beautifully decorated to carry out the Thanksgiving theme. Turkey with all the trimmings was served.

The budget and pulpit committee reports were given and an interesting program was presented. Dr. Wm. O. Beazly brought the message of the evening. His keen sense of humor together with his deep Christian convictions, challenged all who heard him.

Homecoming Can Be Hazardous Tool

Just as the bullfighter may become overconfident with success, so may the homeowner not stop to think of hazards he faces in owning a home.

A fire, windstorm, or explosion could destroy his home. An injury on his property could result in a crippling lawsuit.

If you are a homeowner, don't let trouble take you by surprise. Call your local independent insurance agent and let him protect your property with insurance placed in a Capital Stock Insurance Company, the standard bearer of reliable protection for more than a century.

DESDEMONA NEWS

Annual Thanksgiving Dinner To Be Monday

The annual Thanksgiving supper will be held at the Desdemona High School Monday night. Tickets will be on sale at the door for $1.00 per plate for adults and 50c for children. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Attendance at the different churches here Sunday was somewhat below average due to the peanut harvest.

Visiting with the Horace Lane family last week were Mr. and Mrs. Leland Lane of Burnburnett and Mrs. Ace Wilson of Electra. Also visiting on Saturday of last week was Mrs. Lyman Spain of Corpus Christi and Mrs. Cecil Williams of Robstown.

Mr. and Mrs. Walls and Mr. and Mrs. Doc Finley of Carlton were recent visitors with Aunt Sallie Eaton.

Victor Cornelius Home-Showing Set Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Cornelius will hold open house Sunday at their home at 1906 Blair St. at Hillcrest, in Eastland.

Friends are invited to call between the hours of 2 and 5:30 p.m.

Construction of the split-level stone resident was completed in August and Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius moved into the house at that time.

They have delayed their open house until landscaping was complete.

One of the attractive features of the contemporary home, is a second floor sun deck, which provides an extensive view of the country side.

Serving as host with the couple will be their daughters, Mrs. Charles Meeks of Roswell, N. M. and Mrs. Jack Germany of Eastland.

Project Plans Discussed by Band Parents

Band Boosters Club met Tuesday, Nov. 14 at 7 p.m. for a call meeting. Due to the absence of the president, Band Director, Bill Auvenshine, was in charge.

Two plans were discussed for a project for the club. One was to locate and move a barnack to enlarge the band hall, and the second was to black top a strip by the band hall for a marching area.

Band parents are urged to think about these plans and to decide on one for the band to use as a project.

Ten members were present.

FULL HOUSEPOWER—properly planned wiring and plenty of circuits and outlets for the appliances you now own and those you may want to add later.

BASIC WORK-SAVING ELECTRIC APPLIANCES—including an electric range, electric bathroom heating and at least three additional major electric appliances.

LIGHT FOR LIVING—properly placed fixtures and ample outlets and switches to provide beautiful, efficient, sight-saving light in every room.

Only new or remodeled homes that meet modern high standards for electrical living are eligible to display the Medallion. Look for it when you choose your new home. It's your assurance of a home in which you can live better electrically, now and in the years to come.
