Officers for the group were elected and organizational plans were outlined. Named as chairman, Arthur Deffenbach; treasurer, Lloyd Bruce; secretary, Lee Crawford and publicity, J. D. Nichols.

The group plans to make the organization a permanent one to help make Ranger a better place in which to live.

In the Sunday meeting Leonard outlined four suggestions to be used in the fight against the sale of beer and wine in Ranger. He suggested that the committee circulate a petition among citizens of the rural area so that they can voice their disapproval of the election, circulate another petition among the young people asking the voters to vote dry, contact the undecided voters, and write letters to the editor of the Ranger Times urging people to vote dry.

Rev. Avery Sullivan, pastor of the First Baptist Church urged members of the committee to conduct the campaign in a Christian manner and respect the right of the opposition to their ideas.

Rev. W. A. Flynn, pastor of the First Methodist Church, made the suggestion that a counter proposal be circulated in the form of a petition.

College Coaches Pleased With Spring Workouts

Spring football training went into its last week at Ranger Junior College Monday with a small but spirited group of boys working out. Coach Jim Lewis is well pleased with his hard-hitting a n d determined crew.

Several boys were out on injuries the first of the week but are expected back for workouts to round out the spring drill.

Coach Lewis and Coach Larry Parker, assistant coach, are expecting about twenty-five more high school seniors to try out this week end.

Spring training ends Saturday, May 12. Workouts will then be over until next fall.

9 MILES 3 New County FM Roads Approved by Commission

Three new Farm to Market Roads in Eastland County have been approved by the Texas Highway Commission, according to District Engineer E. M. Pritchard of Brownwood.

An additional 3.0 miles is approved for FM 2751 which will complete the presently designated road from U. S. 183, about 5 miles north of Rising Star, west to FM 569 near Sabana Church.

Also approved is a road from FM 101 east of Morton Valley, north to the Stephens County Line to tie in with the extension of FM 1852 approved also.

A new road from U.S. 380 2.5 miles north of Cisco, West and North to Lake Cisco is also included.

This is a total of 9.7 miles of new roads in Eastland County, and it is estimated these improvements will cost $164,000.

This is a part of the State 1962 Farm to Market Road Program, which authorized expenditure of $28 1/2 million for over 1,200 miles of new Farm to Market roads in the State.

Normally, about 1,000 miles of new FM roads are added to the highway system each year, but the 1962 program represents an increase of more than 200 miles, because of the new FM Road Bill (S.B. 1) passed by the third called session of the 57th Legislature and signed into law this past January.

This bill established a long range maintenance program for farm roads. Thus, with adequate maintenance funds assured for these roads, the design standards have been lowered to get more miles with fewer dollars.

Beware of The Spring Months-and look out for hail and wind, both destructive elements that we can do little about except to expect and prepare for. The number 1 cost to property owners in this season is hail damage to residence and business properties but wind-storm damage to plate glass is a close second. One city in Texas last year reported a half million dollar loss on plate glass. Guard against these hazards with adequate insurance. See us now before it is too late.

VISITS DAUGHTER

Mrs. E. L. McMillen visited over the weekend in the home of her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Hinkson and family of Strawn.

WEEK END VISITS

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Williams and daughter spent the weekend in Graham visiting in the home of their parents.

Lone Star's 1st Quarter Income Is Up $1 Million

Lone Star Gas Company's net income for the quarter of 1962 is approximately $1 million greater than the same quarter last year. L. T. Potter, president, told shareholders Tuesday morning at the company's annual meeting in the Lone Star auditorium.

The 1962 first quarter report is based on actual figures for January and February, and preliminary figures for March.

"The explanation for this strong beginning can be described in one word—we're remembering that additional customers are being served," Mr. Potter said. The company's records show that heating weather during the first quarter of 1962 measured 96 DDD's more than during the same period in 1961. DDD's or degree day deficiency are computed by figuring the difference between the average temperature for each 24-hour period and 65 degrees, the temperature at which heating is required for comfort.

Prospects for 1962 are reasonably favorable, although "decided softness in the price element of the current gasoline market and decreased crude oil sales" must be recognized, Mr. Potter said. "Our gasoline and liquefied petroleum gas sales during the first quarter have been considerably less than anticipated and the crude oil producing situation continues to be relatively poor because of allowable," he cautioned shareholders.

Over-all, however, substantial growth continues in the company's operating area, Mr. Potter said. During 1961, 21,908 new natural gas customers were added to Lone Star's system. Growth also has been experienced in gas sales to others by Lone Star Producing Co., a wholly-owned subsidiary, and "it will be a continuing growth," he added.

The groundwork for a massive assault to develop and increase sales of air conditioning equipment, particularly in residential air conditioning sizes, is being laid by Lone Star's executive management. Potter said a comprehensive study and analysis of every phase of the air conditioning market is being made in great depth by the company, preliminary to a concerted effort to "move into a higher gear in the full sense of the work into this important market."

"I am not talking about current sales of what we are now selling in residential air conditioning equipment," he explained. "We are concerned with a full look into the future and development of the necessary action to move forward at a greater pace."

Potter said the company's promotion program has been tested and proved effective, although additional progress must be worked for. Positive action also is being taken to improve organization effectiveness, with particular emphasis being placed on those working in executive management. The air conditioning survey and study is one concrete manifestation of the company's program to maintain and improve its management effectiveness, said Mr. Potter.

Campfire Girls Has Regular Meeting Friday

President, Cheryl Mahaffey, called the Odako Campfire girls' meeting to order last Friday at their regular meeting. Secretary, Mary McGee called the roll and members answered with their Indian names. She also read the minutes of the last meeting and they were approved.

Becky Adams, treasurer, collected the member's dues. The next meeting will be held Saturday at the First Methodist Church at 2 p.m.

The group worked on a project.

Those present were: Cheryl Mahaffey, Jana Nicka, Janet Covington, Nancy Newnam, Kathy Rourke, Mary McGee, Becky Adams, Vicki Summers, Donna Ainsworth, and Camp Fire girl leader, Mrs. Morris Newnam.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Williams over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Ted Robertson, Bobby, Sharon and Sheila of Wichita Falls and Glenda Rains of Abilene.

Junior College Education First Choice For Many

(Editor's Note: The following article is re-printed from the Fort Myers, Florida News-Press. The article deals with the importance of the junior college in our nation.)

The Edison Junior College which will open next fall is a manifestation of a far-reaching change taking place in American education. At the beginning of this century there were no junior colleges. Today there are nearly 700 in this country, every state has at least one. Florida has 24 with more on the way, and California leads with 71.

The growth rate spurted after World War II with the influx of veterans and the new emphasis on higher education. Yet although about 900,000 students—one-fourth of all college students—now attend junior colleges, a wide area of public ignorance still exists in regard to them. Essentially, the junior college is a school offering two years of study beyond high school. Usually it is community-supported, with no or little tuition.

The goals and attitudes of the students, too, are varied. For those aiming for a bachelor's degree, the junior college provides the freshman and sophomore years. For the uninterested in a full four-year education, the junior college provides a terminal two-year course of either general or specialized vocational training. But of greatest importance to a nation whose educational system is a reflection of its democratic ideals, the junior college often is the saving of youngsters who would otherwise be squeezed out of the education race.

The junior college movement has been called the most significant development in the U. S. education in this century. Indeed, some educators predict that the two-year Associate of Arts degree awarded by these schools may replace the high school diploma as the basic standard of education. In the future, increasingly crowded universities may well require junior college credits for admission.

For many youths the junior college is becoming the first choice after high school. For hundreds of thousands of others it is a second chance at education.

Accidents Can Be Curbed By Simple Rules

More lives are lost in home accidents every year. Most of the accidents are a result of carelessness and could be prevented by some simple precautions.

The most deadly accident of all is fire and its partner, panic. A strange thing and makes people react in odd ways. Panic claims hundreds of tragic victims year after year—in homes, apartments, hotels, and public places.

The all-important rules for preventing fires are as follows: 1. Replace frayed electric cords and faulty appliances with new ones. 2. Repair and clean heating and cooking equipment. 3. Avoid misuse of flammable liquids. 4. Be careful with matches and smoking. Learn what to do in case fire ever traps you, and you will have a better chance to escape panic and get out alive.

A fall is another accident that calls for great concern. Not only can a fall injure a person and cause disability, but also it can cause death. Observing a few simple rules like the following can help prevent falls. 1. Do not allow children to leave toys lying around the house, especially on the stairs. 2. When climbing to reach certain high places, do not pile boxes on chairs. Get a step-ladder. 3. Have a rubber mat placed in the bath tub. All members of the family will be protected by these precautions.

Poison is a deadly killer of small children. Only the adults of the home can be blamed for a child's being poisoned, for if adults keep poison out of the reach of children, there will be fewer deaths from poison.

Every person should be aware of the simple rules of precaution. If everyone would do his job in preventing home accidents, our death rate would be much smaller.

Ever add up what you could LOSE?

You have perhaps often added up what you are worth.

Ever add up what you COULD LOSE? It might perhaps be several times what you are worth.

Example: you may injure somebody, and the law may take all you're worth and attach your future income for years to come.

Example: your house may burn and it may cost you twice its original price to replace it.

Sometime add up all the losses you MIGHT have and you'll see that you are underinsured at many points—against theft, fire, lawsuits, embezzlement, interruption of business, etc.

Gloomy? Well, the purpose of the American Fore insurance policies we write is to end this kind of gloomy thinking.

Another $75,300 Damage Suit Filed in County

Another law suit, asking $75,300, has been filed in District Court here against Texas Electric Service Co. in connection with the death of Clyde McFee last November. Filed by Will A. Gray, who lives south of Eastland, the suit alleges that Mrs. Gray received certain injuries as the result of attempting to help Mr. McFee, who came into contact with a high voltage power line while thrashing pecan out of a tree. The Grays are represented by Dan Abbott, an Abilene attorney, and the suit claims negligence on the part of the company on one of three counts—1, that no automatic switching device existed in the area; or 2, that if one did exist, it wasn't functioning properly; or 3, that the company had not kept the pecan tree in question trimmed properly. A $75,000 suit was filed earlier in 913 District Court here by Mrs. McFee.

Bun-anza On a Grill

Play all day at a picnic with bun-in-hand fare. At-home fixing just means making slaw and cheese topping for potatoes. At the "field" day grill-off, its over the goals for ham, potatoes, and salad buns.

The new taste discovery—Hot Coleslaw Buns—is coleslaw, grill heated in sliced frankfurter buns. For the meaty touch, grilled ham strips can be added. Baked-in-the-coals spuds are topped with an onion-seasoned mixture—mayonnaise, soft butter, and grated Parmesan cheese. The picnic closer is a baker's chocolate cake with coffee.

Hot Coleslaw Buns
2 cups chopped cabbage
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon celery seed
1/4 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
1 tablespoon milk
6 sliced frankfurter buns

Combine cabbage, onion, salt, celery seed, mayonnaise and milk. Place 1/4 cup of coleslaw mixture into each sliced bun. Wrap each filled bun in heavy foil. To serve: Heat over hot coals, turning often. Yield: 6 Hot Coleslaw Buns.

Wheat Yield Is Expected To Be Down

The United States Department of Agriculture reports that based on April 1 conditions, Texas wheat production is forecast at 57,920,000 bushels. This is sharply below last year's crop of 84,870,000 bushels but still above ten-year average production of 38,874,000 bushels.

Heavy November rains gave the 1962 wheat crop a big boost from a slow start because of short moisture in September and October.

Crop prospects deteriorated in March, however, as December through March precipitation in all wheat producing areas was much below normal. Timely rains on April 5 helped prospects in some areas. In the Northern High Plains where growth was just starting, precipitation generally ranged up to 1.25 inches. In the Low Plains, Cross Timbers and Blacklands, wheat is jointing with some in boot. Latest reports on area conditions state that crop prospects will be good over the area including Olney, Breckenridge, Mineral Wells and Eastland. Harvest should begin about June 1.

Plans for Strip Row Planting Announced

The strip-row planting of peanuts is the same as in previous years. If the strips of other crops is growing and matures at the same time as the peanuts, only the land occupied by the peanuts will be counted. If the strips are idle, the idle strips must be at least four normal rows wide.

If the idle strips in cotton planting is used, the regulations are quite complicated. The County ASCS office may be contacted for all details.

The regulations regarding the disposition of excess peanuts has been changed. For 1962 there will be a charge for rechecking destroyed peanuts. The charge will be $4.00 for the first plot plus $2.00 for each additional plot destroyed.

Cotton destroyed to come within the allotment will have the same charges applied.

Miss Mary Jane Shugart, Mrs. W. W. Mitchell, Jack Rawls

Plots of destroyed cotton or peanuts must be a regular four sided plot and contain at least one-tenth of an acre. Waste land plots within a field will be deducted if it contains one tenth of an acre and is four normal rows wide.

As in the past, the MQ-92 will be used for those producers who hog or leave peanuts in the ground. Hogged peanuts will not count against the allotment.

THANKS . . .

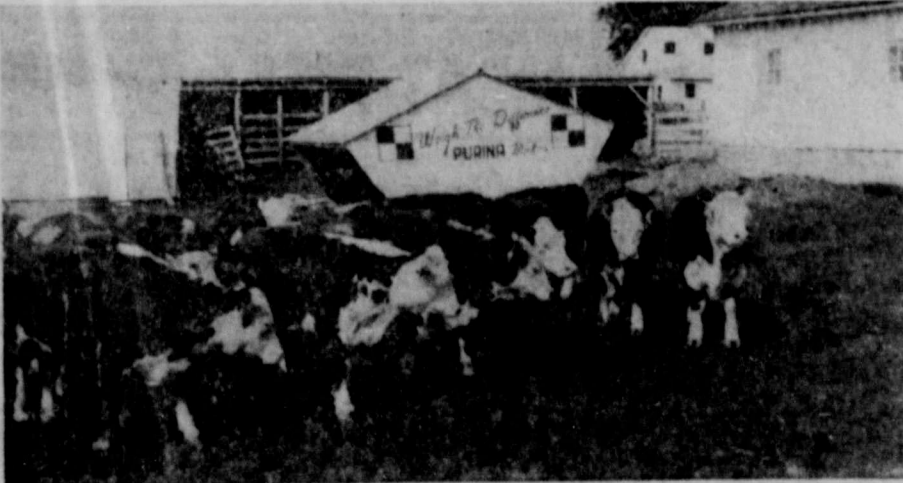

. . . to all the wonderful people in Eastland County. We are especially grateful for your loyal support and encouragement in our recent candidacy for County Judge. We were unsuccessful in winning, but ever so successful in re-affirming our appreciation of the friendly, courteous people in our county.

It was our first political endeavor and we are very pleased with the progress we made. Sometimes it's hard for the loser to remember the words of counsel which go "It matters not whether you win or lose, it's how you play the game . . ." We feel that we completed one of the most thoroughly fair campaigns possible, and are constantly reminded that our friends have been very helpful.

We offer our congratulations and Democratic support of the victorious, and pledge ourselves to the continued support of that Party. Before long we'll probably announce some plans for the future, but for now . . . we're going to bait some trot-lines.

Lacasa Places Fifth In State Contest

Charles D. Jackson County Agriculture Agent Stephens County

The results of the judging in the District Community Improvement Contest were given this week, and the Harpersville community placed third in the district judging, and the LaCasa community near Ranger, placed fifth. Both of these communities will receive fifty dollars each for their efforts in the program.

The two communities placing first and second were Murray community in Young County, and the Fort Griffin community in Shackelford County. Much hard work has been done by all the communities entered in this Community Improvement Program from District Three. All the people concerned are to be commended for doing such a fine job. The judges this year had a very difficult time deciding on the winners, as so much work had been done in each community. Record books on the overall community improvement were the deciding factors as to the judges' decision.

The Texas Community Improvement Program is open to rural neighborhoods or communities throughout the state. It is sponsored and conducted by electric utility companies throughout the state. It is sponsored and conducted by electric utility companies operated in Texas, in cooperation with the Texas Extension Service of Texas A & M College. In judging, credit is given for individual family and group effort within the community to improve farms, ranches, homes and the community as a whole. The leaders in the Harpersville community for the past year were Mr. Buel Whiteside, president, and Mrs. Cecil Brown, secretary. Leaders and officers in the LaCasa community were Mrs. Robert Jackson, president, and Mr. Joe Jackson, secretary. Harpersville has made a lot of progress in the past improving their community center, erecting name plates and signs for homes, civil defense, first aid, animal health improvement, cemetery and range improvement. LaCasa has made much progress in community center development, churches, home improvement, cemetery, livestock and range. This program has brought the people in these communities closer together in schools, churches and other organizations in which they participate. It has made the community stronger and they have both developed a stronger 4-H club program as a result of this united effort.

It is amazing what could be done, however, if each individual in each community would do his utmost toward development of his community. The leaders and others responsible are to be commended on the effort and hard work that they have already done, but I would like to challenge each person in each community to offer their help and assistance to the ones who are already working to try to make their community a stronger community and a better place in which to live. After all, this challenge is left to the people in each community to improve their community and the community program. In this day of changing times, individuals in business must stay abreast of latest research information and must strive to be more efficient in order to compete with the rest of industry. Farming and ranching is certainly no exception since it is the biggest business in the county, state and nation.

Farming and ranching promise to be even bigger business in the future, with greater emphasis on efficiency. This increase in efficiency will enable each person in this business to show a profit and enjoy the conveniences and luxuries which people in other businesses have. In order to continue being the best-fed nation in the world, we must strive to maintain our efficiency because of ever increasing population, and to compete with other countries in the world which are advancing rapidly in agricultural knowledge — and who knows when they may become our competitors. The improvement that Texas help more than anyone will ever realize in maintaining their place in the society of tomorrow.
