COOL, NIPPY weather is chili weather. And one of the leading experts is Wick Fowler of The Dallas News, who's quite a hand in the culinary department. A friend recently persuaded Colonel Fowler to take pen in hand and etch a formula. This is his 2-alarm, or medium-hot composition:

Three pounds of diced or course ground beef, venison, or jackrabbit meat is seared until gray in an iron skillet. Put the meat in a pot big enough to hold a gallon, for this makes three quarts of chili. Add 15 ounces of tomato sauce with enough water to cover meat. Put in the following ingredients: Three heaping tablespoons of chili powder. Two minced onions. Enough garlic to suit your taste buds. One level tablespoon of oregano. One level tablespoon of comino powder or cumin seed. One tablespoon of paprika. One level (Continued on Page 8)

Bulldogs Top Baird, 8-0

Coach Jack Duvall's 1964 Ranger High Bulldogs became contenders for the District 10-A schoolboy grid title here Friday night when they upset favored and undefeated Baird High Bears, 8 to 0.

A crowd of about 2,500 fans, including a large entourage of Callahan County followers of the bruising Bears, were on hand to witness the initial conference contest of the year for both schoolboy pigskin aggregations. The contest was a thriller from the opening kickoff until the final gun.

Victory rested on the passing arm of Ranger's quarterback, Johnny McGee, who tossed passes — a TD pitch and an extra points heave — for Ranger's eight points early in the second quarter.

For the losing Bears, who had won four straight and were heavy favorites to take the Maroon & White Bulldogs as their fifth victim prior to kickoff time, the standout was Richard Windham, big, slashing 215-pound fullback who ground out 125 of Baird's 151-yards rushing.

Ranger's ground attack was hampered by the Bear defense. The Bulldogs, too, improved defensively as the battle wore on. The difference was in the air. Ranger completed 7 of 15 passes, but Baird was able to connect on only two of eight. And two other tosses were intercepted by the Bulldogs.

The Bulldogs began their scoring drive two plays before the end of the first period when the Bears were stalled on Ranger's 32 on a fourth down.

As the second quarter opened, the Bulldogs were 12 yards out resting on the Ranger 44-yard stripe. Quarterback McGee, Fullback Ray Newnam and Halfback L. H. Pounds on five ground plays, a 20-yard pass completion and a failure — McGee to end Melton Kennedy — carried the Bulldogs down to the invaders' 22. From there McGee took the oval from Center David Mahaffey, scooted back and shot a quick one to Pounds who was ready for the pitch in the end zone.

A pass — McGee to End Jerry Watson — was good for the two extra points.

Heads-up play by Ranger End Leroy Pearson in the third quarter set off another Bulldog scoring threat.

Thrills were in store the rest of the game. Baird returned the Ranger after-touchdown kickoff to its own 45, then Fullback Windham, in one of his most dazzling sprints of the night, got loose down to the Bulldog nine. Halfback Eddie Childers sliced to the five, and Windham rammed to the three. But that (Continued on Page 4)

Ranger Man Jailed By Mistake As Pres. Kennedy's Assassin

To most people, the Warren Report is a distant, lengthy, formal document — a summary of a weekend when history tore their hearts but did not touch their lives.

To Donald Wayne House of Strawn, formerly of Ranger, it's a reminder of four hours last Nov. 22 when he was jailed by mistake as the President's killer.

House spent those four hours in the Fort Worth jail, denying he had any part in the assassination of President Kennedy. Newsmen eager to talk to him upon arrest turned their attention to the real killer and he remained for the first time.

Although the young man was never charged and said he is now trying hard to forget it all, he recalled how, for a while, "I was facing the nation."

Later his arrest became something to laugh about, but House added: "It hasn't changed my life, but I'll never forget it."

House, 23, hauls dynamite for a construction firm. He lived in Ranger last fall and on Nov. 22 decided to come to Dallas to visit an old Army buddy.

He resides at Strawn now, employed by a Merchandise company.

While he was in Dallas, he waited until he caught a glimpse of President Kennedy, whom he greatly admired, and started back home via Fort Worth.

He did not know Kennedy was assassinated until he turned his car radio on well out of Dallas. Halfway between Dallas and Fort Worth, he stopped in the town of Grand Prairie for gasoline.

A woman asked him whether he had heard what the killer looked like. House gave her the description he had heard on the radio without realizing at the time that it also fitted him.

But if House didn't note the similarity, she did and telephoned the police. House heard a siren and saw a red light flashing and pulled to the side of the road.

A Fort Worth policeman ordered him to get out of his automobile and stand with his hands against it.

"I looked up and there were a lot of policemen with shotguns and everything," House said.

"What am I being arrested for?" House asked. You are being arrested for the assassina-

United Fund Push Opens On Tuesday

Tuesday, Oct. 6, is "United Fund Day" in Ranger.

On that date, the local UF organization will launch a fund-raising campaign to raise a quota of $6,856 for eight worthy civic groups and charitable agencies.

Fred Bennett, president of the local group, said that volunteer workers to conduct the 1964 drive hope to meet their quota by the end of next week.

"We can easily raise this amount if we'll just dig down and individually contribute our fair share," says Rev. B. L. McCord, drive chairman. "A fair share, actually, is a day's pay. The needs are worthy. Unless we meet our quota and fully subscribe the funds required several important civic organizations and charity services will be in jeopardy."

"The people of Ranger can meet this challenge and we believe they will!" Rev. McCord declared.

Heading the special gifts committee, one of the most important units of the UF organization, is Glynn Gilliam, president of Commercial State Bank.

The four house-to-house canvass teams are headed by Mrs. P. M. Kuykendall, Mrs. Dortha Harris, Mrs. Bill Collings, and Mrs. Dewey Cox Jr.

The residential drive will get underway following a supper in the basement of First Methodist Church Tuesday at 5 p.m. where the volunteer workers will receive their final instructions for the Tuesday night door-to-door drive. City's Future Mail Service Will Not Be Impaired, Say Visiting Postal Officials

During a meeting in Ranger High School auditorium Thursday night, Mayor Morris Newnam and local citizens were assured that efficiency of mail service will not be impaired when the Texas & Pacific Railway eliminates the two midday passenger trains as proposed.

Two regional officials of the Post Office Department — V. Jones, chief of the transportation department, and R. W. Weathered, field officer, both of Fort Worth, addressed the open meeting. Mayor Newnam presided.

Attacking the procedures employed in inflating truck carrier service was A. E. Crawley, former Ranger postmaster.

Ranger citizens expressed concern when it appeared that local mail service would be drastically impaired and the Thursday night protest meeting resulted.

MAIL SERVICE (Continued from Page One) duced the two visiting postal officials who went to considerable length to clarify changes being made, they said, to improve and expedite delivery of mail rather than to impair movement.

Telegrams had earlier been sent to Congressman Omar Burleson and U. S. Senators Ralph Yarborough and John Tower in Washington. Sen. Yarborough contacted the Post Office Department and as a result the regional officials were ordered to visit Ranger and clarify the public misunderstanding.

Transportation Chief Jones said the department was interested in Ranger and the best interests of its people.

He also accented the changes being made in the area of transportation to meet the challenges of an increasingly heavy volume of mail. "The zip code," he said, "will be the future salvation of the postal system." He explained that the nation is divided into 566 geographical areas — identified by numbers.

Jones said the total postal volume of the United States is about five billion pieces of mail annually — more than all the rest of the world combined.

He also reminded the citizens of the problems which arise and must be met with the discontinuance of many passenger trains which formerly transported mail and parcel post. During the last 20 years, he said, about 125 trains have been discontinued.

As a result the highway postal transportation system is being expanded. The basic objective of the service, he added, is to offer the best possible mail service at the most economical cost.

CARNIVAL (Continued from Page One) Country Store. There will also be a Fortune Telling booth and a Hat booth.

Those on the carnival committee are Mmes. Leonard Pounds, J. D. Drennan, and Pete Miller, representing the Athletic Club and Mmes. T. T. Hale, James Ratliff, Pete Brashier, representing the Band Boosters Club.

Anyone having donations for any of the booths may call anyone of the above or take them to the Adams Grocery Store where there will be a box for such articles.

Prior to her Saturday achievement the Ranger High School coed had 17 hours of flight instruction by Tommy Strong and Vernon Grandpre.

She is the first local woman to solo at the Ranger Airport in several years.

"It was marvelous flying around up there," Marty Sue told a reporter. "I thought I would be scared, but I wasn't."

She listened to music on a standard transistor radio in the plane to help pass away her sky-conquering half-hour at the Taylorcraft's controls.

Marty Sue, daughter of Mrs. Mary Baker of Ranger, has always loved motorcycles and hot rods. She's also an avid sports fan and likes to bowl.

"The first time I ever went up in a plane, I fell in love with flying," she said. That was back in June.

The Taylorcraft, a battered second-hand plane in need of extensive repair, was acquired by McIntosh in March. He and some friends, including Miss Baker, had the ship ready to fly in May. McIntosh is a TV technician with Montgomery Ward in Ranger.

"Flying will be my career," the young femme flyer said Thursday. "I'm going to get my private license and then go on and get a commercial pilot's license."

Marty Sue is the only daughter in a family of six children. Her brothers are Jimmy Baker of Post, Airman 2nd Class Kenneth Baker, Dyess Air Force Base, Abilene, Airman 2nd Class Jerry Baker, Fort Worth, Troy Baker, also of Post, and Dennis Baker, a student at Young Elementary School in Ranger.

Marty Sue's mother was asked if she'd like to fly with her daughter. She winced slightly, then smiled. "I don't know about that," she said.

But we'll bet — one of these days — that Marty Sue Baker and her mother will be cruising around up in the clouds.

Large Crowd Attends Tournament At RJC

The first of the three games tournaments planned by the Ranger Garden Club was held Tuesday night, September 29, in the Ranger College cafeteria.

Bridge, forty-two, dominoes, and checkers were played, and prizes were given winners. Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Ramsey won the door prize. Prizes were donated by Ranger merchants.

Coffee and homemade pie, donated by Garden Club members, were served. A good crowd attended.

The tournaments are being sponsored by the Ranger Garden Club for raising money to landscape the oval bed in front of the new Administration Building at Ranger Junior College. This is a new Garden Club project planned by this year's Civic Committee, whose chairman is Mrs. R. L. Hamrick.

The next games tournament night will be Tuesday, October 6, at 7:15 in the college cafeteria. The public is urged to attend. Tickets may be secured from Garden Club members or bought at the door.

According to Mrs. J. W. White, Garden Club president, the response has been good thus far.

was all she wrote. Two plays later the Bulldogs took possession on their nine.

Another Baird drive was chilled when Jesse Renteria, defensive end, intercepted a pass thrown by Tommy Barton, Bear quarterback.

A bobbed punt attempt by Steve Stanley, blocked by Ranger's LeRoy Pearson, launched another Bulldog drive. A pass — McGee to Pounds — put the ball down on the Bear 9. Pounds picked up two yards to reach the seven, but after an incomplete pass, McGee was trapped back on the 18 and fumbled the oval when he was hit by hard-charging Windham.

The Bears, late in the third period, launched a 59-yard assault, punctuated with their two pass completions, and rolled to the Ranger 21.

But the Bulldog defense stiffened and the Maroon & Whites held their foes for four downs and then took over on their own 16.

And that was the ball game. The Ranger club now has a record of two wins — over Baird and Gorman — and two losses, to Cisco and Dublin.

Next Friday night they face another tough competitor in their second 10-A contest — the Clyde High Bulldogs at Clyde.

In a thriller Friday night at Clyde the Bulldogs overpowered the Cisco Lobos, 8 to 3.

After three hours of denying he was the assassin, House was put in a cell. Finally a policeman came to the cell door and said:

"They've caught another boy, Lee Harvey Oswald. They are pretty sure he did it."

House was released and the best apology he got was from a jail matron who ran up, kissed him and said, "I'm glad you didn't do it."

House was married a few weeks ago and lives with his bride in a new house in Strawn.

HOW CREEP FEEDING MAY HELP YOUR CATTLE PROFITS

Lots of cattlemen in this area have found it pays to creep feed their calves. Helps the calves, and their mamas, too.

Here's proof from work with 2800 head of cattle where calves were fed Purina Creep Rations:

1. 34% more choice and good grade calves.
2. Heavier calves. Every 10 calves creep-fed Purina returned weight equal to one extra calf. (No extra cow to breed, feed and care for, either.)
3. Better cow condition. Cows suckling creep-fed calves carried 44 lbs. of extra condition.
4. This extra condition meant 16% more calves the following season.

That's a big return for just a little outlay in creep feeding the Purina Way. Come in. Let's talk about how creep feeding fits in your calf raising program.

LOW COST PRODUCTION... the reason why more farmers feed PURINA

"So Sorry" —

"Sorry I took a nip at that stranger. Now my master is being sued and it may cost him lots of money. It could be a very expensive bite!"

The danger of damage suits is always a possibility. Your dog may bite someone — a tradesman or visitor may be injured on your property, your slice might bite someone on the go! course.

Various accidents can happen and you might be held liable for them.

The Family Dog Liability problem is always present. It gives you a lot of protection for very little cost. Let us tell you about it.

An Editorial — ON SCHOOL SPIRIT

What is school spirit? It's a feeling that no one can measure or make, but even as an intangible thing, it unites the students in a school even though they come from every corner of the nation. School spirit is a deep respect for and loyalty to one's school and classmates; it is an underlying force that draws all together in concerted action.

School spirit does many things for a school. It joins students together to work as a team. When students and faculty act together for the betterment of the school, the public has a better opinion of the school, and more people support the school and thus enable it to grow.

When a student works to build school spirit, he gains a feeling that he is part of the school and part of every school function. When a social affair is planned, it is for the students, who have the responsibility at these functions of circulating among the guests, making new friends, getting to know everyone else, and not hanging around in cliques. Often we stand in groups and do nothing, causing the activity to be a failure. We can change our attitude and work to make everything we do at Ranger Junior College a success.

The football team is a part of our school, and when it plays, it represents us as a school. We must support our team in order to win, and giving our cheer leaders a helping hand is one way to help. If we fall our team and do not give it our backing, we can not expect it to do its best for us.

Ranger Junior College is growing in every way, and our school spirit must keep pace. We can start now by participating wholeheartedly in pep rallies and by attending home games and other functions. Of such is school spirit bred.

Three Coeds Vie For Homecoming Queen

Three Ranger Junior College co-eds will wait anxiously for the 1964 Homecoming to find out which one will be named Queen at the half-time ceremony of the football game when the Rangers play Kilgore Junior College on the afternoon of October 10.

Sophomore Ginger Gooden, and freshmen Paula Clemens and Naomi Bradford are the three who survived the two elections held on the campus Wednesday and Thursday. The one with the most votes will be crowned Queen and the other two will be duchesses for the ceremony.

Miss Gooden, a 5' 5" brunet, was chosen during her freshman year as Band Sweetheart and Valentine Sweetheart in student elections. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gooden of Route 1, Colorado City. Her hobbies are water skiing and other sports. She is a member of the RJC 58 piece band and interested in a career as an airline stewardess.

Paula Clemens is 5' 3 1/4" tall, weighs 106 pounds, and has blue eyes and black hair. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Clemens of 1001 N. Trinity, Decatur. She was graduated from Decatur High School in May, 1964, where she was active in campus clubs, and was elected secretary of her junior class. The Future Farmers of America chose her as their favorite in Decatur High. At RJC she is majoring in elementary education and expects to attend North Texas University after completion of two years here. Her hobbies are painting and swimming, and she plans a teaching career when college requirements are completed.

Naomi Bradford is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Bradford of 437 Pine Street in Ranter. She is a 1964 graduate of Ranger High School where she was a member of the Future Homemakers of America, Spanish Club and Beta Club.

This 5' 6" freshman has blue-green eyes and dark blonde hair. During the past summer she has served as assistant in Cooper Library of RJC. She plans to attend the University of Texas for further work toward a degree in library science and then to earn the masters degree in the same field. Her hobbies are music, dancing, swimming and reading.

RJC CAMPUS QUIZ

For several years members of the RJC journalism have, from time to time, conducted polls and questionnaires on the campus on various types of subjects, some light, some serious. The results of the questionnaires, which have been published, have proved both interesting and amusing. This year's class decided, however, to learn the reaction of the RJC students to the polls before planning any campus quizzes. One student was designated to find out how students feel about the quizzes and whether they want them continued.

When asked the question, "Do you like campus quizzes?" students gave varied answers, generally in the affirmative. Harvie Chaney, Houston, is in favor of the quizzes. He says that in small schools like this one it is nice to know what other students are thinking.

Howard Starling, Houston, likes the quizzes because they give him a chance to air his opinions. Martin Barrow of Andrews thinks that the questionnaires are OK. Bobbie King of Fort Worth likes the quizzes because of the humor they present.

A few of the people interviewed had had no experience with a quiz. One of those, Mike Shultz, a freshman from Houston, replied, "I don't know. I've never been in one, and I have never heard of one."

James Easton of Andrews likes the quizzes because he enjoys reading them.

Charles Brazeel of Graham likes the wide variety of subjects.
