"OFF THE Beaten Trail," a new book on Texas published this month, features the Ranger oil boom. The 256-page paperback will be Volume II of a Texas author-columnist's collection of stories. First "Off The Beaten Trail" last year proved a solid best-seller over the State; and is being reprinted along with the new book. Texas editors have hailed both books as writing on Texas, "at least different."

The short stories in both books deal with the little known, the remote and the unusual in Texas. Author is Columnist Ed Syers of Kerrville. Here is a rip-snorting recollection of the hell-roarin' boom and fight for life. This is any of the great oil towns at their peak. Syers concludes Ranger should relive her old days.

Cross Plains Exec New Officer of Ranger Bank

John O. Adair of Cross Plains has been elected vice-president of Commercial State Bank and will assume his new duties with the Ranger financial institution on Tuesday, Dec. 1, it was announced Wednesday.

Glyn Gilliam, president of the bank, said the new executive was elected during a recent meeting of the board of directors. Prior to his election, Adair had been an officer of Cross Plains State Bank for several years.

Adair, who has extensive experience and background in agricultural and livestock production, will devote much of his time to handling interests of the bank's farm and ranch patrons.

During his career at Cross Plains High School, he was an athlete of note, an active member of the local chapter of Future Farmers of America, and was honored with the coveted award of "Lone Star Farmer."

Adair was born and reared on the Owen Ranch, a 22,000-acre spread in Callahan County.

JOHN O. ADAIR Elected Vice President of Ranger Bank

His father has been foreman of the ranch for 36 years. Prior to having served as an officer of the Cross Plains bank, Adair had been employed by the Owen Ranch for five years.

He attended the American Institute of Banking where his studies covered principles of bank operation, negotiable instruments, commercial law, economics, business administration, credit administration, and bank management.

Adair is a member of the Masonic Lodge, a past president of the Cross Plains Riding Club, past president of the Cross Plains Little League, and served as county chairman for the March of Dimes drive.

Mrs. Adair is the former Miss Sheila Nichols, also a native of Cross Plains. She is secretary of the Cross Plains Parent-Teacher Assn. Worthy Matron of the local chapter of the Order of Eastern Star in that city, and has been active in the community Riding Club, Little League and other civic affairs.

The couple has two children — Bobby, their 11-year-old son, is in the fifth grade, and Gine, 3-year-old daughter, is a third grader.

The family are members of the Baptist Church.

Two RJC Gridmen Win All-Conference Berths

The Ranger Junior College Rangers placed two boys on the all-conference team of the Texas Junior College Football Federation, Tony Jackson as center on the offensive team and Rudy Ramirez as end on the defensive team.

The all-conference teams were named Sunday, November 22, when the coaches' division of the Federation, of which Ranger Junior College Coach Gerald Williams is chairman, met in Dallas.

The offensive team named is as follows: Ends, Ken Tomlinson, Texarkana, and Turman Franks, Wharton; tackles, Lee French, Wharton, and Dwayne Reese, Texarkana; guards, John Kallinger, Cisco, and Hallis Burns, Navarro; center, Tony Jackson, Kilgore; quarterback, Vidal Carlin, Tyler; fullback, Willie Cherry, Navarro, and halfbacks, Curtis Guyton, Wharton, and Glenn Ingram, Kilgore.

The defensive team chosen includes the following: ends, Tony Gonzalez, Henderson County Junior College, and Rudy Ramirez, Ranger; tackles, Joe De La Rosa, Henderson County JC, and J. C. Hermes, Blinn; guards, Burkley Harkless, Wharton, and Wardell Richardson, Texarkana; line-backers, Jim Boller, Henderson County JC, and Tom Chenault, Wharton; halfback, Charles Hoblitzel, Wharton, and Ricky Brantley, Tyler; and safety, Joe Wooley, Kilgore. "Back of the Year" is Curtis Guyton of Wharton, and "Lineman of the Year" is Burkley Harkless of Wharton. Jackson, who stands 6'2" and weighs 230 pounds, plays center on the Ranger Junior College team. The son of Mr. (Continued on Page Two)

'NOW THAT'S WHAT I CALL A TURKEY, GRAND-DAD' — Jimmy Kinnaird, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Kinnaird Jr. of Eastland, points out the turkey of his choice to his grandfather, a man who knows a little about turkeys himself, County Agent J. M. Cooper. This scene, repeated undoubtedly throughout the county during this holiday season, took place on the Don Kinnaird turkey farm between Eastland and Cisco. Jimmy agreed he'd never seen so many drum sticks before and wondered if the mass of turkeys were gobbling in protest to their part in the traditional Thanksgiving design.

BOB MCKELVAIN

Ranger Sophomore Is District Officer Of Texas Future Teachers

Bob McKelvain, of Ranger High School, was elected parliamentarian of the Texas Future Teachers of America, District VII, at the district convention held at Abilene High School, Abilene, on November 21. McKelvain, a sophomore, was elected by the District House of Delegates which consists of two members from each FTA chapter in the district. There are 23 counties in District VII.

Denise Huling and Billy Matthews, both seniors at RHS, were delegates from the Ranger chapter. Matthews presented the nomination speech for McKelvain while Huling supervised the distribution of campaign literature. Barbara Dawson, chapter president, was unable to attend.

"I really appreciate the help that Denise, Billy and Mr. Lee Roy Duke, our advisor, gave me. Needless to say we could have accomplished nothing without their firm support," McKelvain said.

After the convention's business session was adjourned, the members went to workshops where projects, parliamentary law, cadet teaching programs, etc. were discussed. Lunch was served in the school cafeteria following the recess of the workshops.

Mr. and Miss FTA speech contest awards and an attendance awards were presented and the new officers were introduced following the luncheon.

Postmaster Max Ohr Urges Early Mailing To Avoid Final Rush; Suggests Plans To Aid Patrons

A little planning during the Thanksgiving holiday can help avoid the "Christmas Rush," Postmaster Max Ohr said Wednesday.

The Ranger postmaster has some tips which will not only put ZIP into Christmas mailing, but help local postal employees move the record-breaking mountain of mail that is expected this Christmas season.

1. Find last year's Christmas mailing list. If you don't find it, or didn't have one make one up.

2. Check to see that all addresses are correct. The phone book is usually a good source for local addresses.

3. Wherever possible, add the ZIP code to the address on the list. Because ZIP Codes speed your mail, always include the code for your return addresses. This is the best way to inform friends, relatives and business associates. (Continued on Page Two)

Methodist Men To Host 'Ladies Night' Banquet

Traditional "Ladies Night" banquet, sponsored annually by the Men's Club of First Methodist Church will be held Friday evening, Dec. 4, in the Fellowship Hall of the church, according to an announcement by Charles Arnett, president of the men's group.

Every lady of the church is most cordially invited to attend this event held in their honor each year with the Methodist Men's Club as hosts.

Featured speaker of the evening will be Rev. Lively Brown, pastor, First Methodist Church, Ennis. Rev. Brown formerly was pastor of the Ranger church.

THANKSGIVING

O give thanks unto the Lord for He is good; for his mercy endureth forever.—Psalm 107:1.

Thanksgiving Day is a time for reflection and holy remembrance. It carries us beyond the temporalities of the day and reminds us of blessings that are unaffected by passing whims of fortune. We do well to bear in mind the whole scheme of the universe which God has wrought for our advantage. He has set the sun in the heavens to give us warmth and light. He has provided the cattle on the hillside, the fruitful trees, the ripening fields of grain. He has made our world beautiful, everywhere apparent in the wonder of mountains and rolling fields, in the restfulness of wooded haunts and flowing streams, in the flow of golden sunsets and the mystery of evening stars. He has provided companionship of friends, the warmth of love and affection, and all those intimate personal satisfactions which enhance the joy of living.

Supremely He has planted faith within our hearts and given us glimpses of eternity. It is hard to realize that anyone would be insensitive to these considerations, yet indifference is the danger which most seriously threatens us.

Thanksgiving Day is a time when we should bring a votive offering to the altar of God. That gift should be more than a spoken word of gratitude. It should be the whole of life dedicated to Him!

"Off The Beaten Trail" may be obtained by mail from the State's metropolitan papers, which carry it exclusively.

Since the mid-day — east-bound and west-bound — Texas & Pacific passenger trains have been discontinued, mail delivery at Ranger has been efficiently continued with operation of a truck from Fort Worth which unloads at the local post office at 10 a. m. Ranger citizens have been assured — and re-assured — by postal officials that the efficiency of mail transit to and from our city will be maintained and improved in the future.

ELTON BRASHER of the Ranger Furniture Exchange, a longtime Ranger civic and business leader, jetted to Miami Beach, Fla., recently to attend the big annual convention of the U. S. Savings & Loan League. Mr. Brasher represented the First Federal Savings & Loan Assn., and we've got more to print on that in your Sunday Times. Congratulations to Mrs. Rosey Potter for Gorman who celebrated her 90th birthday last Saturday. Two important projects out at Ranger Junior College are progressing rapidly. One is the new girls' dormitory, due to be ready for occupancy by the second semester, and the other is the addition of a private dining room to the Ranger JC cafeteria. It will be a meeting place for local civic groups.

4. Determine your list of gift purchases which must be mailed. Such planning allows you to shop early when selections are greatest and you can stock up on mailing materials in advance. Be sure to purchase enough material so that parcels will be packed securely.

The postmaster emphasized that poorly wrapped and loosely packed cartons are the major cause of parcel post damage. He also suggested that the address be written on only one side of the exterior wrapping and that a duplicate address be included inside the carton, in case the outer covering is not secure as comes off.

Mr. Ohr said that the Post Office Department in Washington is predicting that a record seven billion pieces of mail will move through the postal system during the peak rush just before Christmas.

The cooperation of all mailers is vital for us to deliver each holiday card, letter and package before Christmas Day. A little planning will make the Christmas rush less hectic for everyone," he said.

OUR TERRIFIC Ranger Jaycees who staged that highly successful turkey shoot in downtown Ranger last weekend have big plans for the Yuletide season.

We know their efforts will meet with enthusiastic response by folks, young and old, in Ranger and surrounding area.

They're going to bring in a giant cedar Christmas tree and place it on the vacant lot next to City Hall and the energetic Jaycee-Ettes will labor on the decorations. Donations of old Christmas tree decorations not in use are — and quite obviously — desperately needed.

And that's not all — They're hoping to have a big day on Saturday, Dec. 19. Featured attraction will be the fly-in of Santa Claus via private charter at Ranger Airport. Then he'll be transported on a screaming firetruck from the landing strip to downtown Ranger where he'll chat with the youngsters and distribute candy.

There are two other novel gimmicks also in planning stages and we'll have details for you Sunday.

The first of five seminars on "Community Betterment," one facet in the so-called Eastland pilot project for industrial development, will be conducted by the Texas Industrial Commission Dec. 8 in Ranger.

The all-day program is not yet firm, according to Larry Milner, West Texas community coordinator for the commission, but Texas Industrial Commission director Harry W. Clark and John Perryman of Lone Star Gas will be two of the featured speakers during the session at Ranger Junior College.

Milner said community leaders in Eastland County have requested that each of the five seminars be conducted in a different town so all will have a chance to take part in some or all.

Grand Jury Praises DPS; Body Returns 13 Indictments

Members of the Department of Public Safety (Highway Patrolmen) were cited specifically for commendation by the 91st District Court Grand Jury which recessed this week.

The jury returned 13 true bills, five no-bills and passed 11 cases. Indictments handed down included:

Assault with intent to murder, (two counts), aggravated assault, driving while intoxicated, swindling by false pretext, forgery, (two counts), driving while intoxicated, second offense, (two counts), theft by bailee, burglary (two counts), and robbery by assault.

The grand jury report, signed by Foreman Gene Abbott of Cisco, said in part, "We particularly wish to commend the members of the Department of Public Safety for their untiring efforts in the protection of the lives and property of citizens who use our highways."

The report said in reference to the 11 passed cases, "The cases passed will require further evidence, which is not available during this term of court."

The jury recessed Tuesday at noon.

One of the assault with intent to murder counts is believed to name a Lake Leon area 82-year-old man who is charged in shooting at another man.

Accent on Health

J. E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

If you're looking for something to be thankful for in these ominous times, consider this:

Almost one-half million Texas babies were born hale and alert during the two-year period between September 1962, and August 1964. That adds up to an average of some 665 new babies per day.

For the same time period 195,160 Texans died — representing a ratio of almost three births for every death, a fact clearly worth being thankful for.

The figures are revealed in an advanced look at the State report soon to be published.

The excess of births over deaths during the two years added some 320,000 people to Texas' population. That increase, together with the influx of newcomers now making their homes in Texas, swelled the population past the 10.3 million mark.

Since 1936, infant deaths during the first year of life have dropped from 71 per one thousand births, to less than 30 per thousand today. And during that same period, maternal deaths have been cut from 6.9 per thousand to 0.5, a substantial decrease.

The past biennium also produced these developments:

Over 12,000 people changed their names by court order during the two-year period, and amendments to their birth certificates were duly attached.

More than a quarter of a million people asked for certified copies of their birth records. Just to process these required almost a half million trips to the files which now contain more than 14 million records of births and deaths.

And finally, since marriage of the parents of an illegitimate child subsequent to its birth legitimates the child, 2,991 new birth certificates based on legitimations were prepared and filed.

If being able to prove age, citizenship and parentage isn't worth being thankful for, nothing is. (A weekly public service feature from the Division of Health Education, State Health Department.)

Have you ever heard of "buck fever"?

Chances are you have, if you've ever hunted — or listened to hunting tales, as most Texans have.

Few hunters — or deer, for that matter — ever die as a result of buck fever. This so-called fever or disease usually occurs when a hunter spots a deer and loses his head instead of being calm.

But over a hundred died last year and will this year from a symptom of this disease — light-headedness — although it is labeled "hunting accidents" in the books.

For example, who would ever climb up an unfamiliar tree in the dark, carrying a loaded gun — except on the first morning of deer season?

Who would ever put a loaded gun in the hands of an untrained teenager and turn him loose in the woods — except during deer season?

Or who would ever snake his way through a barbed wire fence — except during deer season?

And when would you ever choose a loaded rifle for a companion around the campfire or over a hot cup of coffee — except during a hunting excursion?

Planning, preparedness and thoughtfulness would eliminate many unnecessary hunting fatalities. Unloading your rifle before you climb a tree or go through a fence takes a few seconds — maybe even a minute — but why gamble a minute against your life?

If your youngster wants to hunt, prepare him before you take him out. Teach him gun-handling techniques and safety, or check in your community for gun-handling courses.

When you take time out from your hunting for coffee, a nap or supper, unload your gun. A loaded gun is a dangerous companion.

A cardinal rule for hunters of any kind and at any time is to make sure you know what you are shooting. Almost every year the headlines tell about someone who was mistaken and shot for a turkey, deer or game of some sort.

Buck fever is nothing to be ashamed of, but carelessness is. When you load your rifle this season — or any time, for that matter — leave your light-headedness behind. (A weekly feature from the Division of Public Health Education, Texas State Department of Health.)

RURAL RESIDENTS BEING SENT FARM CENSUS FORMS

Questionnaires for the 1964 Census of Agriculture are now being mailed out to farmers and ranchers of Eastland County, according to Floyd M. Johnson and Eloise Parker, crew leaders in charge of the census in the county.

The questionnaires are expected to reach the farmers within a few days. This will allow the farmers a period of time in which to consult their 1964 farm business records in order to answer questions on the form accurately before enumerators begin calling on individual farmers to collect the questionnaires. These visits are scheduled to start on November 23rd in this county.

An enumerator will call on every farmer in the district under his supervision, the crew leaders said. At the time of the call, the enumerator will help the farmer complete answers to any questions that prove difficult to understand and check the form for accuracy.

The do-it-yourself aspect of the farm census is aimed at saving time and effort.

The Census of Agriculture is taken every five years in the years ending in "4" and "9" to gather needed, up-to-date information on the nation's agricultural resources and production. Such information is vital in making decisions affecting many segments of the U. S. economy. Data gathered include the number and size of farms, acreage and harvest of crops, livestock inventory, information on farm equipment and facilities, farm products sold, and use of fertilizers, insecticides, and herbicides.

Leon Briefs

By Mrs. O. D. Quarles

The largest bass caught this past week was taken by Mr. Artis Porter of Eastland. It was a seven pound beauty. Several large crappie were caught. Mr. Cornet of Lamesa caught one that weighed a pound, thirteen ounces. Guessing the weight of a fish can be very tricky business. Most people under-guess a large bass and have a tendency to over-guess a crappie's weight.

Bryon Gibbins, Joe Pharis and Ed Lutke from Hobbs, N.M., spent several days here last week. We can add three more to our list of people who enjoy our beautiful Lake Leon. They'll be back, they say.

Eastside Baptist Church of Ranger observed Thanksgiving with a fellowship hour and turkey supper, Friday, Nov. 20. We greatly enjoyed the special music and also a thought-provoking message brought by our pastor, Rev. Jearl Hayes. (Note to the cleaners), that grease stain in Packwood's pocket may have been caused from a large turkey drumstick.

Our little Haden Lee Johnson is getting along nicely since his recent operation. We sincerely thank each and everyone for your prayers, concern and help for this little one. When the March of Dimes is taken, we should be more mindful of our own blessings and give generously.

Thanks TO OUR LOYAL FRIENDS

from the Officers, Directors and Employees of Your Friendly Commercial State Bank.

In the thankful spirit of the pilgrim forefathers, let us join together in grateful recognition of the many blessings God has showered upon our land.

LIFE AND LIVING by Dolly Hunt

DEAR DOLLY: I have a very good girl friend, a very intelligent and high type of girl, who broke her engagement recently when she discovered that her fiancé was running around with other women. But instead of returning the guy's ring to him, she has kept it and is now wearing it on her right hand. I think that, when a girl's engagement is ended, she should hand the ring back to the man... but this girl friend of mine says she has no intention of giving the ring up, that is "at least some compensation" for all the time she "wasted on a no-good dog." What do you think about this? Jill.

DEAR JILL: I can't think of an engagement ring as a "compensation" for a fruitless courtship, and I can't understand why a girl should want to keep something that symbolizes such an unhappy event in her life. But there ARE some girls who do.

DEAR DOLLY: I'm a bachelor of 35, and have been dating for quite some time a very lovely girl of 28. We both are aware that, if our relationship continues as wonderfully as it is now, that we shall be heading for the altar one of these days. Yet, despite this and despite the fact that I have never treated her with anything but the utmost respect and consideration, she still stubbornly refuses me even- ing time I invite her to my apartment for cocktails and dinner, and to listen to my collection of records of which I am very proud. The one time she did visit my apartment she brought her older sister along, and although it was nice entertaining them with a few records and serving them some of my "home-cooked" dishes, still it wasn't as nice as it could have been with her alone. Honestly, my intentions are of the purest and I'm sure she knows that I'm a man of honor — so why must she show this distrust of me and be so puritanical about visiting my place unchaperoned? T. M.

DEAR T. M.: The girl refuses because she has high principles and because she doesn't want to risk any more on her reputation. Instead of fretting and fuming about this, you should admire, appreciate, and love her all the more as a girl of fine judgment and taste.

DEAR DOLLY: A widower of 41, a fine man, has asked me to marry him and I've accepted happily. I've known him for many years, and I knew his late wife, too. She was a lovely person and a very good friend of mine. Now, however, he has approached me on the idea of wearing her engagement ring. It is one of the most beautiful diamond rings I've ever seen, and I always admired it when she wore it. But somehow I can't steel myself to wearing another woman's ring, and I'm sure that many of our friends would recognize it... and all in all, I'm sure I would be very uncomfortable about the whole thing. D. Y. B.

DEAR D. Y. B.: Why not suggest to your fiancé that he have the diamonds set in an entirely new and different mounting? Then I'm sure the ring will seem more like your very own, and no one else will recognize it either.

DEAR DOLLY: The fellow I'm engaged to has some good traits, but one thing that bothers me about him is that he is rather moody and very unpredictable. For example, some very good friends of mine invited me to bring him to their home recently for dinner with a group of their friends. My fiancé showed up for the date wearing a sport shirt and wrinkled slacks, and no tie or jacket. This embarrassed me very much, since all the other men were nicely and neatly dressed with ties, white shirts, and jackets. This wasn't the first time in which he has done something like this and embarrassed me in front of others. What do you think about this? F. A.

DEAR F. A.: I don't know just what those "good traits" you mention are, but I do know that your fiancé is inconsiderate, rude, and unmanly, and that if he makes a habit of embarrassing and humiliating you in front of others (as you say; then you'd better do some powerful thinking before you enter marriage with him.

Students at RHS were pre-occupied the first three days of this week with second six weeks' tests. I think someone forgot to tell the teachers that this is the Thanksgiving Season as they made out their tests. However, the four-day vacation probably will serve to erase any bad memories!

The Powder Puff game sponsored by the Beta Club was postponed until December 4th. At that time a real thriller should be in store for players and spectators alike. Both teams have been working out diligently, and, so far, no casualties are reported, other than a few black eyes and loose teeth!

Last Saturday Denise Huling, Billy Matthews, Bob McKelvin, and Leroy Duke, sponsor, went to Abilene to the district meeting of the F.T.A. While there the group voted on an amendment to the constitution and participated in various workshops. Denise attended the workshop on scrap-books and money-making projects while Bob and Billy went to Cadet Training and Mr. Duke stayed at the teachers' training session. There was much campaigning for district officers and Mr. and Miss F.T.A., the Ranger group not excluded. Bob McKelvin successfully ran for district parliamentarian. Congratulations, Bob; you and the other delegates represented our school well.

Both the boys' and girls' basketball teams have made a very good showing in the two games already played this year. The first basketball game of the season is always thrilling as the five men on the wood court gain the spotlight from the football boys. This year was no different as the girls lost and the boys played to a magnificent victory over Merkel.

Last Thursday the Future Homemakers held their regular program meeting in which Mrs. Martha Harmon, home economist for Lone Star Gas, showed the girls many ideas for Christmas gifts and decorations. The girls were shown how to put the personal touch in clever packages with home baked cookies and candy and ways to bring the Christmas spirit to each home.

After the program Mrs. Deffebach reminded the girls of the deadline for having merchandise or money turned in for the Christmas sales. Soon Mrs. Deffebach, with each of her homemaking classes, will decorate the halls of RHS with a Christmas theme, as is done each year.

The cast of The Long Christmas Dinner, selected from the Drama Club, have been rehearsing the play and will present it before Christmas. Members of the one-act play are Mary Sue Twyman as Lucia, Donella Carwile as Mother Bayard, Ray Newnam as Roderick, Wayne Coleman - Cousin Brandon, Bob McCleskey - Charles, Sarah Cooper - Genevieve, Denise Huling - Leonora, Zulella Carwile - Ermengarde, Lee Ausburne - Sam, Delia Camacho - Lucia 2nd and Alex Brashier as Roderick 2nd.

This is Thanksgiving Day. On November 26, 1789, one hundred and ninety-five years ago today, President George Washington issued a general proclamation for a day of thanks. Since that day so many years ago, so very many things have happened—things for which to give thanks—things of heart-breaking aspect—things that only God would understand why or how such could be happening. With the world tension so great, we may wonder how any thinking person can give thanks in the midst of the problems of our present age but there have always been troubled times since the beginning of history. Daniel, threatened by death, gave thanks; Paul and Silas, in prison, sang their thanks; Jesus, on the night He was betrayed, took bread and gave thanks. The Pilgrims, with the Bible in hand and the love of God and freedom in their hearts, observed the first American Thanksgiving near the graves of more than half of their company. They had borne great hardships because of their faith and the end of their sufferings was not in sight, yet thanks giving was in their hearts.

The end of our modern day strife is not in sight, but each of us must feel the strength to offer thanksgiving. This age is strained, but no more than that of any other age faced by any other brave people. The storm of the time often seems to toss us about, but we, as Americans, must never lose sight of the many principles for which we have stood for so long. We must never lax our love of our freedom, of our country, and for our faith in all that is dear to us. With this in mind, we will come through any storm that threatens our age. To each of you, HAPPY THANKSGIVING.

The Annual Texas Youth Convention to be held Nov. 29 will be attended by the following members of the Church of God: Johnny Stiffler, Judy Johnson, Gay O'Bannon and Rev. Benjamin Stewart, all of Eastland; and Sharon and Geneva Wilcoxon of Cisco. The speaker for the event will be Rev. Frederic Pineyoun of Pasadena, California. Director of music will be Mr. Wayne Carpenter of Pasadena, Texas. "A Slave or a Servant, which Choice is Yours?" will be the theme.

18-YEAR-OLD REGISTRATION DUE 5 DAYS OF BIRTHDAY

An estimated 6,000 to 8,000 18-year-old males, legally required to be registered under the draft law, are not registered in Texas currently, and quite a few of that number are Eastland Counties.

That was the conclusion reached here this week by a spokesman for the local board of the selective service.

The estimate is based on 1946 male birth in the state and rates of increase in the number of males at the 18-year-old level.

More than 45,000 males registered with Texas draft boards from January through July. The figure should be 51,000 to 53,000, based on the best analysis of statistics at his disposal and current experiences of local boards.

One Texas draft board recently began a special project were considering similar action.

The draft law makes it the responsibility of the 18-year-old male to register at the nearest local board on the day he is 18, or within five days thereafter.

"If he waits as much as six days to present himself for registration, he is late," the spokesman said, "and is subject to penalty of the law."

165 Goats Stolen From Two Ranches

Nearly $1,700 worth of goats have been stolen in two rustlings and County Sheriff Lee Horn reports that extensive investigations are underway.

Both losses were reported Sunday, indicating that the animals were stolen sometime last week.

Frank Byers reported that 75 head of goats were stolen from his place, known as the Frank Ford place, near Nimrod, and O. D. Chambers reported that 90 head were stolen from his place, three miles west of Chandler's Store near Rising Star.

Animals are valued presently at from $10 to $12 a head, Sheriff Horn said. A Texas Ranger from Brownwood and a Sheep and Goat Raisers Association official from Coleman are assisting with the investigation.

Investigations thus far indicate that the rustlings probably were accomplished by driving trucks, and-or pickups into the places at night and "loading up" because fences are all still in good repair with no signs of having been cut on either place.

Byers runs about 500 head of goats on some 360 acres and Chambers has about 215 head. Brush has been pushed on both places, the sheriff said, and daytime visibility is good.

Several good leads are being checked.
