FIVE CHILDREN and their widowed mother are in need of clothing and household linen. The need arose two weeks ago when these articles were taken from machines at a Ranger Laundry. It would be of great benefit to this family if the things were returned to the laundry or left at the mail box at 900 Young St. No questions will be asked.

THERE ARE HABITS—like drinking coffee, smoking and watching television, then the more unusual habits, like going to the same Post Office box for 72 years.

The routine had its beginning in 1897 when Ranger Post Office acquired its first rental boxes. Renting Box No. 93 was the late J. L. Ervin. Through the years, they kept the box and when the present P.O. was opened in 1938, J. R. (Dutch) Ervin applied for the box which his father had rented.

There was slight confusion, whereupon the Ranger school principal told the office personnel that it was No. 93 or nothing. It was arranged to the satisfaction of all concerned and, today, mail for the J. R. Ervins is put in Box 93. We challenge other boxholders to top this record!

TELEPHONE CALL on Monday from Ed Stafford, Gen. Manager, Texas Central Railroad, was to express his appreciation for the four groups of Ranger children who recently rode the "Goodie Special."

Mr. Stafford stated that the children were well-behaved, courteous and cooperative. "It was a real pleasure to conduct their trip," said the manager who takes this means of handing an orchid to the children and their sponsors.

LOVELY LAWN of Mrs. Zora Lea Hughes, 324 Elm St., is even more attractive with the Ranger Garden Club's "Yard of the Month" award prominently displayed thereon. Congratulations!

Area's Newest Industry To Be Located In Cisco

Announcement of the location of a new industrial facility in Cisco that is expected, in time, to add 100 or more good paying jobs to the industrial roster of this section, was officially made Tuesday.

Bill Bowerman, president of the Oil States Rubber Company at Arlington, said that his company has selected Cisco as the site for a second plant for the manufacture of heavy rubber goods which the company makes for use in oil field and other industrial machines.

Location of the plant will be in the former Humble Pipe Line Company shop district in southeast Cisco, which Oil States has leased from the Cisco Industrial Foundation.

John Ritchie of Arlington will be superintendent of the new plant. The remainder of the employees are being selected from local applicant lists, made by the Cisco Chamber of Commerce.

Here to direct the operations in remodeling, equipping and otherwise preparing the site and buildings for the beginning of operations is Jim Haddock, vice-president in charge of plant planning and engineering.

For the initial operation period, Haddock explained the Cisco plant will be an auxiliary plant to the Arlington factory, making the rough rubber parts in the big steam presses which are to be installed here, and sending the casts to Arlington for finishing and marketing. The plant will employ at the outset no more than 10 people, mostly men.

The problems of training the employees and setting up an efficient operation require that the company move with discretion in its program here, Mr. Haddock explained.

If all goes well, as expected, he said, the company expects to build a large and modern factory on the Humble site and to upgrade its manufacturing processes to do a complete job, including the finishing of products.

The company makes molded rubber fittings for use in the oil fields and other heavy industry, including swab cups, drilling head rubbers, rod guides, pipe line pigs and spears, bridge bearing pads, inflatable packers for off shore drilling, pistons for mud pumps, air tubes for the famed Wichita clutch and other fittings.

Officials of the company are Mr. Bowerman, president; Mr. Haddock, vice-president; Fred Britton, vice-president in charge of sales; Muri Richardson, vice-president in charge of engineering; Dick Kresner, vice-president in charge of production, and Glen Harris, all of Arlington. Glen Harris vice-president all of Arlington.

Announcement of the location in this area culminated three months of investigation of various sites, study of the Cisco facilities, and a labor survey conducted through the Cisco Chamber of Commerce.

"We were impressed with what Cisco had to offer," Mr. Haddock said, "and with the temporary plant facilities provided by the Cisco Industrial Foundation in the Humble site, and we were particularly impressed with the cooperative spirit of the Cisco people we dealt with."

Negotiations between the company and the Cisco Chamber of Commerce and Industrial Foundation began about three months ago.

Workmen this week were remodeling one of the large shop buildings, installing insulation, and doing other work in preparation for the installation of the big presses with which the company will manufacture its goods.

James McCracken, local banker and president of the Cisco Industrial Foundation, expressed the pleasure of the community over the selection of Cisco as the site for the new plant.

"It will in time represent a big addition to the industrial community of this section and help not only Cisco, but the entire area with the wages and purchasing it will make possible," he said.

"We are proud indeed to welcome the Oil States Rubber Company to our industrial community."

State Capital NEWS

Millions for welfare, billions for water, and trillions for wages. These three "Ws" point up the money problem presently facing the State.

Final decision, of course, rests with those who eventually pay the bill — the people of Texas. Their decision as to whether they are willing to foot the bills with additional taxes will come through the ballot when they vote for or against constitutional amendments at the special election on August 5.

As for welfare . . . the welfare groups face a do-or-die effort to boost the welfare benefits ceiling from $60 million to $80 million a year. If that amendment fails, as a similar one did last November, the Legislature will have no opportunity to resubmit the increase before 1971. That means that benefit list of recipients will decrease payments to the evergrowing accordingly.

As for water . . . a massive statewide campaign is shap-

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES — An elected criminal district judge cannot be a member of a county hospital district board of managers without waiving his right to state compensation, says Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin.

A specialized motor carrier means any of a variety of vehicles as defined in Texas statutes, not just those certified by the State Railroad Commission said Martin in another opinion. He also defined "base municipality" as referred to in transportation statutes as "any municipality to which other municipalities are immediately contiguous."

Treasurer Jesse James asked Martin to rule on the constitutionality of giving cigarette tax stamp purchasers 15 days to pay. (They are now on cash basis). Decision bears on whether revenue is available for teacher pay raises.

Formation of non-profit food cooperatives of ultimate consumers does not violate Texas anti-trust statutes, Martin concluded.

Scuba Diving Classes Begin Thursday Night

The Scuba Diving classes will begin Thursday, June 19, at 7 p.m. at the Lake Cisco Swimming Pool. The classes will continue for five weeks with a two hour session on Tuesdays and Thursdays. All equipment will be furnished.

Storm Does Many Thousands In Damage To Orchards And Property

An assessment of the damage caused by the violent windstorm which swept through southern Rising Star and the northern edge of Brown County late Thursday of last week revealed that many thousands of dollars in value was lost in buildings, fruit and pecan orchards, shade trees and other property.

Numbers of residents reported seeing a small tornado form and dip to the earth, but the twister, if such, appeared to remain mostly in the clouds and the greater part of the damage was caused by the high winds, which were so strong that they bent trees to the ground and uprooted many. There was comparatively light hail.

However, sheets of iron roofing torn from a barn belonging to Oscar White in southeast Rising Star where found from three-fourths to a mile away as if they had been carried in the air for that distance. The barn, which has tile walls, was almost demolished.

Heaviest damage appeared to have been done to valuable fruit and pecan orchards in the affected strip.

The largest commercial pecan and peach orchard developed by the late C. E. Smith in southwest Rising Star, suffered extremely heavy damage, Mrs. Smith said.

One of the finest prospects in years for fruit and pecan production in the orchard was partially erased by the high winds which tore limbs from trees in great numbers, destroyed many of the trees, and stripped the young fruit from those left standing.

The Jack Agnew fruit and pecan orchard, a large commercial orchard bordering Highway 189 just south of Rising Star received the full brunt of the high winds and suffered heavy tree damage and fruit loss.

Similar damage was reported by Duck Bailey, another commercial fruit grower who earlier had told this newspaper that fruit and pecan prospects were the finest in years.

The Lee Clark orchard was also badly damaged. Damage to residential property, shade trees, fences and shrubbery in the affected area was heavy.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Alexander, who live near the Rising Star Tumbleweed Truck Stop, said that the suction of the storm pulled one wall of their kitchen several inches off the foundation. The kitchen doors were closed when the wind hit, Mr. Alexander said, and the wall was pulled outward with a loud rending sound.

Besides the White Barn, there were reports of heavy damage to barns on E. O. Kizer farm south of town and the Earl Allen farm both of which were unroofed. In the extreme southern edge of Rising Star a rock barn and garage building simply "caved in" under the power of the wind.

All through the area evidences of the storm's malignancy were seen in an almost universal litter of broken trees and limbs, which were being piled up and hauled away by the truck load or burned.

Damage to roofs of residences was heavy.

Reports that a small tornado formed out of the tumult of the clouds as the storm approached from the southwest about 8:30 Thursday evening were substantiated by numerous witnesses.

Mack Gray and his wife, Bill, told of watching the phenomenon as they stood on the steps of their storm cellar on South Main street. The funnel appeared to drop from the clouds and strike the earth, Mr. Gray said. He did not wait to see what happened further, but pushed his wife into the safety of the cellar and followed her in.

After the storm they found trees uprooted in the back yard and there was roof damage and other damage to the house.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Mayfield had extensive damage done to their newly remodelled home on South Main. Windows were blown out and there was much interior damage from broken glass and rain.

C. E. Baker, east of town, reported heavy damage to his house roof, his trees and garden.

Several persons attending a 50th wedding anniversary celebration at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Griffin reported watching the approaching storm and seeing the clouds form into a funnel and drop to the ground a short distance southwest.

Among them were Mrs. Vada Arnold, Mrs. Lucy Boase, Mrs. F. B. Joyce, and Mrs. John Stock.

"It was the first tornado I ever saw," said Mrs. Arnold. "The clouds just seemed to move together and then drop down in a black funnel shape. We didn't wait to see where it went. We got into the storm cellar as quickly as we could."

Mrs. Frank Madison reported extremely high winds and rain so dense that it appeared to be a wall of water. The Madisons live in the Williams community a few miles southwest of Rising Star. There was some hail, she said.

DRAWING TOWARD GOD

The Art and Inspiration of JACK HAMM

Introduction By CHARLES SCHULZ
Creator of "PEANUTS"

DRAWING TOWARD GOD is a book designed to apply scriptural truth to everyday living. By means of some 50 full-page drawings interspersed in the text, the reader is led to reflect with the artist-author on the great issues of life. Over a billion impressions of Jack Hamm's religious art have been printed in the U. S. and 17 foreign countries. For the first time he sets down his reasons behind the drawings. Winner of four national cartooning awards, Hamm contends that the nature of God and man's nature need to be, and can be, related one to the other.

"Jack Hamm has a way of using his brush, crayon, and words to set through to some of the great theological truths that concern us all. This is a marvelous book for individual meditation, or for any group of dedicated people who wish to have a guide to promote inspirational discussion. Jack has a rich imagination and a fine sense of fundamentals. We have been blessed in our world with many great editorial cartoonists, but I know of no other man who has been able to turn his talents to interpreting religious truths as has Jack Hamm."
From The Introduction
By CHARLES M. SCHULZ
Creator of "Peanuts"

"I like the work of Jack Hamm. He has a great gift for phrasing, and therefore making simple, important truths that would be difficult to express so explicitly in words."
DR. NORMAN VINCENT PALLS

"A fine artistic portrayal . . . bringing the inspirational Word of God into American homes."
J. EDGAR HOOVER
Director of F. B. I.

"The most difficult task for a cartoonist is to sustain a point of view over a long period of time, even when the subject is the Word of God. Jack Hamm has kept his work in such sharp focus that it sustains the believers among his readers and most certainly gives hope to those who need it."
MILTON CANIFF
Creator of "Sieve Cowboy"

"Jack Hamm is helping to create a moral and spiritual atmosphere throughout the United States."
BILLY GRAHAM

"How better to reach people of all ages than with the timeless scriptures retold in timely pictures."
PAUL HARVEY

August 1 Deadline For Certifying Crop Acreage

August 1 is the deadline for reporting acreage planted to peanuts, cotton and feed grain by participating farms, Jesse G. Meredith, officer manager for the Eastland County ASC said this week. The ASC will not visit the farms and measure acreage under the new program, and it is the responsibility of the operator of the farm to see that 1969 acreages of crops covered by the ASC are reported in time and accurately, he said. Reporting should be done as soon as crop plantings are completed. "A participating farmer cannot afford to guess at his acreage," he explained. "He should be sure before he certifies. If he wishes his crop to be measured before he certifies he should file his request at once. June 15 is the final date to file application for this service. A small fee will be charged for the service, but it could save the farmer money later on."

Meredith suggested that a farmer who is not sure of his acreage or his ability to measure it properly should request the service as a precaution. Applications for new grower wheat allotments must be filed at the County ASC office not later than July 1, Meredith said. Eligibility requirements are now available at the office. The minimum price support for peanuts of the 1969 crop has been announced as $247.50 per ton. This minimum is subject to possible upward adjustments at the beginning of the marketing year, which is August 1, he said. The preliminary penalty rate for excess peanuts is 9.3 cents per pound. June 30 is the final date for reporting Coastal Bermuda sprigging on all acreage under ACP practices. This acreage, as in other crops, must be certified by the producer. Incorrectly certified acreages could result in complete loss of the ACP payment, he warned. Meredith reminded producers that acreage diverted under the wheat grain and wheat program may not be grazed until October 1, and that oats and rye on diverted acreage must have been destroyed by May 1.

THE GORDON SPOT

By DeMarquils (Dee) Gordon
Eastland County Extension Agent

When you come by the county agent's office you'll see a new face, Betty McDaniel is working for the county this summer and has been placed in our office. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McDaniel of Carbon. Betty was valedictorian of the 1969 graduating class at Carbon. I read in the Gorman Progress that she had a 96.84 average—the one of the highest ever earned by a graduate of Carbon.

We think she will be a lot of help to us this summer.

There sure are a lot of people using Di Syston to control honey dew aphids in pecan trees. It's not too late to get the granules in the ground since the aphids do not usually get bad until July and August.

Roy Lane, District Clerk in Eastland, said he was sure sold on Di Syston. He has always had trouble with honey dew, but used Di Syston last year and got one hundred percent control.

You can't be too careful with this insecticide because it is sure dangerous. Don't let the Di Syston come in contact with your skin nor inhale the fumes. It is safe to use if you follow those two rules.

Following directions on the label is important when using any insecticide. Even then you must be careful.

Sam Kimmell of Cisco said he sprayed the ornamentals with Malathion and poisoned his dog in the process. Sam got the dog to Dr. Bill Cardwell in time though and at last report the dog was improving.

I sure have seen some pretty vegetable gardens all over the county this spring. Mrs. Lloyd Williams, who lives at Lake Leon, came by the office to pick up some publications. She was very enthused over her garden. Th Williams retired about two years ago and moved to Eastland County. They had already harvested tomatoes, okra, and many other vegetables on June 4.

If you are having trouble with insects in your garden you might like to have a copy of bulletin L-642, Insect Control in the Home Garden. Come by or call the county agents office for a copy.

Almost every one was glad to see the rain on June 3. I know some peanut farmers were waiting for rain before they planted.

Harold Dunham was one who was happy over the rain. He had just sprigged 50 A. of coastal bermuda. The rain came just at the right time.

J. D. Griffin Jr. of Carbon sprigged the coastal and said Harold Dunham had his land in excellent condition for sprigging. A good seed bed is usually the key to getting a good stand of coastal bermuda.

Roger Blackman, Coleman County agent and formerly the assistant county agent here in Eastland County informs us that the Texas Junior Polled Hereford Association is having a field day Wednesday, June 18. The activities will begin at 9 A.M. on Bob Ross's Clear Creek Ranch 15 miles south of Brownwood. There will be a good opportunity for 4-H and

Water Claim Must Be Filed By Sept. 1st

Anyone using water from a public stream who does not claim a water right under a certified filing or a permit from the state must record his claim by September 1, the Texas Water Rights Commission has announced.

Failure to do so will "extinguish and bar" the claim of water right, according to Section 11.001 of the Water Rights Act, the commission said.

Users of water for domestic and livestock watering purposes are exempt from this requirement, however.

All affected water users who have not already filed their claim were urged by the Commission to do so as soon as possible.

Valid claims will be recognized to the extent of maximum use of water without waste during any year between 1963 and 1967. Where the user was in the process of constructing a system or had facilities to use a larger amount of water on the effective date of the Act than he had actually used, use from 1968 to 1970 may be recognized.

Further information and forms for recording water rights under the Water Rights Act may be obtained from the Texas Water Rights Commission, P. O. Box 12396, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711, the announcement said.
