Farmer Says Fruit Crop Is Plentiful

L. M. Cook, fruit grower living near Ranger, was in the Times office this morning and said his fruit was the best in years. All berries are gone but his peaches, apples and plums are plentiful and he is trying to get the people to let him know their fruit needs.

Increased financial aid has been granted Morton Valley school by R. Eldridge, county superintendent, last announced. The increase was from $109 to $728 because of recent affiliation.

J. B. Ames Tells Experiences on Wild Horse Roundup With Modern Trend

J. B. Ames, rancher and farmer of Ranger, has recently returned from a trip into the great Northwest where he went in search of what he termed "thrills" and he says he was not disappointed.

Ames left Ranger, drove to Denver and then on into Salt Lake City and from there to Flagstaff, Ariz. It was at the latter place where Ames participated in the roundup of wild horses.

Getting in touch with some ranchers in that country he went to the Sun ranch, where the cowboys and horsemen were on a big roundup and the story told by Ames is very interesting.

The cowhands have automobiles that are stripped of everything except the tank and two men take off in search of the horses. They usually run into a drove of some 40 to 60 horses and the chase begins.

The herd is led by a large stallion weighing in the neighborhood of 1,100 pounds and the driver of the car will head for the leader.

In the chase Ames was the passenger in the car, he states, and they ran up beside the stallion and chased him for 15 miles with the drove of mares following. The chase is continued until the horses are driven into a corral that has been camouflaged by being built in a canyon or the foot of a mountain and there they are broken for riding by the cowboys. The corral is so arranged that the horses do not know they are prisoners until they are securely penned.

The pen consists of four sets of heavy wooden posts securely tied to nine-foot cedar posts and he says when the horses are first put into the corral several of the leaders break their necks in attempting to escape. After the leaders go down the others mill around in the center of the pen and are easily subdued.

The stallion leading this particular bunch was a beautiful black with long mane and tail and would open his mouth and hawl and attempt to bite the car and driver while they were running at a terrific rate of speed.

The door of the corral is a piece of canvas that could be easily gone through but the leaders will not go near the entrance.

In the race that Ames participated in, he states they drove off an eight-foot bluff and stopped, only long enough to throw the car into low gear and climb the opposite side of the cliff, which he stated would have been a job for a man to crawl up. All during the chase, Ames said, he promised himself that would be the last wild horse chase for him. He had all the thrills of this sort he wanted.

From there he went to Pie Town, N. M., and saw another roundup of the animals. Ames says that frequently one driver will drive up beside a large stallion and take hold of his mane or tail and swing onto the animal's back and there the battle will begin. In most cases the horse is subdued and brought back to camp.

Large numbers of the animals are shipped, some are broken for saddle and some are sent in carload lots that are broken only for halter. The cowboys tie the animals' tails and front feet together and drive them long distances to the railroads. They also stake them out by cross-tieing—that is tying their right front foot and left hind foot, in this way the animals are easy to catch and after they are tied this way a few times soon learn not to run away.

Ames was very enthusiastic about the country he saw and said that if he could purchase some of the horses that were broken and gentle he would probably bring a car to Ranger.

The horses are easily broken by the punchers, with few exceptions, said Ames, and sometimes a stallion will die rather than lose his freedom.

In a question put to Ames about cattle stealing in Utah and Arizona, he states there is no such thing out there. He did say, however, that if one rancher wanted a beef to kill he would kill one that belonged to another ranch and that this was the custom and no one thought anything about it.

"All in all," said Ames, "one would not believe the things I saw, but according to information I received the great picture show companies are going to produce pictures of these round-ups in the near future and probably a large number of people will see these shows and then I will be vindicated for this yarn, which is all true."

Morton Valley Aid Increased to $728

Increased financial aid has been granted Morton Valley school by R. Eldridge, county superintendent, last announced. The increase was from $109 to $728 because of recent affiliation.

Plans Completed For Construction For Centennial

DALLAS, June 11.—Preliminary plans are now complete for Texas' 100th birthday celebration which will center in the spacious exposition grounds, here commencing June 6, 1936.

Just one year is left for construction of a $10,000,000 exposition plant, and ground will soon be broken for the first of the scores of unusual and artistic structures, international exhibits and all-embracing amusements.

When work actually is started on the grounds it is expected thousands of workmen will labor 24 hours each day in eight-hour shifts.

Ample funds are available to make the Texas Centennial Exposition one of the greatest international expositions of its kind in history.

The State of Texas has appropriated the sum of $3,000,000 of which more than a million dollars will go into the construction of a State of Texas building which will be permanent on the exposition grounds.

The City of Dallas is issuing $3,500,000 of bonds for exposition purposes. The Texas Centennial Central Exposition, Inc., has already sold practically $2,000,000 of bonds to private individuals and corporations to aid financing of this Texas World's Fair.

It is considered more than likely congress will appropriate another $3,000,000 for a federal building and other features. This appropriation has already passed the senate and is now being considered by the house.

Walter D. Cline, managing director of the Central Exposition at Dallas, expects to make it a 20 million dollar show for 15 million people.

Frank N. Watson has been selected as the promotion manager for the central exposition and has plans under way to tell the story of this great Texas celebration in all parts of the nation and throughout the world. He will aid in the creation of a national "urge" to visit Texas next spring and summer, and will advertise far and wide Texas historical background, her unparalleled resources and the business advantages of the Lone Star State.

CCC Enrollments To Start June 17th

AUSTIN, June 8.—First enrollments of youths from relief roll families in Texas "tree army" will begin June 17. Neal Guy, state CCC supervisor, said today.

The first enrollment will include only 929 persons, Guy said, and in the period July 1 to Aug. 31, a quota of 12,000 will be filled out.

Enlistment of the 12,000 youths is expected to remove that many families from relief rolls.

Cattle condition improved 7 points during May. The condition on June 1, 1935, was 77 per cent of normal compared with 79 per cent a year ago and 86.3 per cent the 10-year average on June 1. The condition of cattle for the major part of the State is rated as fairly good, but the cattle in the northwestern and western portions are in less than "fair" condition.

Cattle losses have been relatively small from Jan. 1 to date. The heaviest losses occurred in West Texas, due to drought and dust storms; and in southern Texas along the coast of the Gulf of Mexico, due to wet, cold weather. Calf losses for the state as a whole were also light. A considerable number of young calves were lost in some localities of West Texas because of the weakened condition of cows due to the drought.

Drilling On Small Tracts Halted By Supreme Court Test

AUSTIN, June 12.—Drilling on many small tracts of oil land will be halted by a decision today of the supreme court favoring the Humble Oil & Refining company in a suit with C. H. Brown and others and the railroad commission of Texas and others.

The court upheld the Austin civil appeals decision that railroad commission rule 87 allowed drainage. The appeals court had sustained an injunction. Removal of the injunction was sought by the plaintiff.

Sheriff Appointed For Lamb County

LITTLEFIELD, Texas, June 13. Franklin Lloyd, 47, Amhurst, took up his duties today as sheriff of Lamb county.

He was appointed yesterday, succeeding Len Irvin, who was sentenced to two years in prison for federal liquor law violations.

Lloyd was appointed by the county commissioners at Otton, the county seat. He has been a resident of Lamb county for six years.

OPPOSITION TO PROPOSED AAA PLAN VOICED

NEW YORK, June 11.—Vigorous opposition to a proposed amendment to the AAA which would devote 30 per cent of customs receipts to bounties and subsidies to exports of American agriculture, was expressed today by Robert O'Brien, chairman of the Federal Tariff Commission.

"This bill," he told the conference of seaport cities, "would make it mandatory on the treasury to spend about $100,000,000 annually, according to the present rate of trade.

"It would work out badly, for example, it would enable Japan to buy cotton so cheaply from us she could take away our Central and South American markets with our own products. I regard it as a dangerous tendency and I feel we must lessen the stultifying effects of such a nationalistic policy."

Texas Ranges 13 Per Cent Better In Month of May

AUSTIN, June 12.—Texas cattle ranges improved 13 points during the month of May. The condition on June 1, 1935, was 79 per cent of normal compared with 78 per cent a year ago and 86.3 per cent the 10-year average on June 1. On an average cattle ranges improve about 3 points during May.

Rainfall has been abundant for the major portion of the state during the month of May. The eastern and southeastern sections had excessive rainfall, which resulted in damage from floods. There is an abundance of soil moisture now and grass has made luxuriant growth.

Conditions have improved greatly in the North Central Plains area and in the major portion of the High Plains of Texas, but in some localities more rains are needed to insure good prospects for summer ranges.

In general, the major portion of Texas has been supplied with ample rainfall, which has resulted in good soil moisture, ample surface water for livestock, and a marked improvement of ranges. The prospects for summer ranges were better than "fair" on June 1.

Sheep ranges improved 20 points during the month of May. The condition on June 1, 1935, was 79 per cent of normal compared with 78 per cent a year ago and 87.5 per cent the 10-year average on June 1. On an average sheep ranges improve 6 points during May. The eastern portion of the sheep area is in fairly good shape, 1,800 were on strike.

Range feed is ample and prospects for summer ranges are good. The western portion is still deficient in soil moisture, although some good local rains fell there during the month of May. The Trans-Pecos range was still in bad shape on June 1. Range feed was inadequate and more moisture was needed.

Cattle condition improved 7 points during May. The condition on June 1, 1935, was 77 per cent of normal compared with 79 per cent a year ago and 86.3 per cent the 10-year average on June 1. The condition of cattle for the major part of the State is rated as fairly good, but the cattle in the northwestern and western portions are in less than "fair" condition.

Cattle losses have been relatively small from Jan. 1 to date. The heaviest losses occurred in West Texas, due to drought and dust storms; and in southern Texas along the coast of the Gulf of Mexico, due to wet, cold weather. Calf losses for the state as a whole were also light. A considerable number of young calves were lost in some localities of West Texas because of the weakened condition of cows due to the drought.

Extend Time to Sign Applications For Certificates

Extension of time for signing applications for tax-exemption certificates under the Bankhead act was announced Thursday by O. W. Ewing, assistant in cotton adjustment. No date limit was announced.

Time for producers to sign at community meetings has expired and the county agent's office remains the only place where it may be done, Ewing stated.

"There are still quite a few of those who sign applications for cotton contracts in the spring who have not come in to sign their contracts and Bankhead applications," said Ewing. "Second notices are being mailed urging this be attended to as soon as possible in order not to delay payment under contracts."

To Conduct Meet At Gorman Church

Start of a gospel meeting July 7 at the Gorman Church of Christ was announced Tuesday by Rev. John G. Bills, pastor of the Eastland church.

Rev. Bills will be in charge of the services.

HALF RANSOM MONEY FOUND BY U. S. AGENTS

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Federal agents today, 10 days after return of George Weyerhaeuser, had recovered more than half the $200,000 ransom, captured two confessed participants and knew the name of a third.

The recovery of $90,700 buried in a canyon near Salt Lake City, was announced by J. Edgar Hoover, making a total of $110,555 recovered or accounted for and leaving $89,445 still in the hands of William Mahan, suspect, or hidden by him.

The record showed: Found buried, $90,700. Found in Mahan's car $15,555. Spent by Harrow, Walcy, $300. Burned by Walcy, $4,000.

Officials said they believed the abduction was a two-man job with Mrs. Waley aiding in disposing of the money and Mahan had the rest of the ransom.

Woman in Threet Cases Hopes For A Second Trial

AUSTIN, June 12.—Mary Lou Howell, sentenced to 20 years from Callahan county for robbery in connection with the death of L. F. Threest, rancher near Cisco, had August, today hoped for a new trial after filing an appeal in the court of criminal appeals Tuesday.

Case of Mary Lou Howell charged with murder in connection with the Threest death will be tried sometime this summer in an Eastland county district court, attorneys indicate.

One, Clifford Doggett, has been assessed the death penalty for murder in connection with the Threest death. Elmer Van Cleave, charged with murder and robbery in connection with the Threest case, is yet to be tried either in Baird or Eastland district court.

Mary Lou Howell reported previously released after making bond, is in Baird jail, District Attorney Grady Owen corrected recently, saying law provides that persons assessed sentences of 20 years shall not be allowed freedom.

First of Safety Classes Held By Lone Star Group

The first of a series of five two-hour first aid courses was instituted in Ranger by the safety department of the Lone Star Gas System on Monday of this week.

Alton Alfred, assistant to A. W. Breeland of the safety department is in charge of the training school, and will probably be located in Ranger for the next several weeks in furtherance of the first aid training.

It is estimated that probably several hundred Lone Star employees will have received the essentials of the work by the time the instruction is completed. A working knowledge of such important subjects as shock, heat, burns, drowning, cuts, huxna, fractures, and their respective first aid treatment is being given the employees in order that they might be able, not only to care for himself or his fellow employee, but also for the benefit of his family or fellow citizen, as the opportunity may present itself.

The first two weeks of the course will be devoted to employees of the Lone Star Gasoline company, and the balance of the schedule to those of the Lone Star Gas and other affiliated companies.

Farmer Grows Huge Onion Near Ranger

W. J. Adams, farmer living near Ranger, brought to town the largest Bermuda onion soon so far this year.

The onion measured 17 inches in circumference. The onion was not weighed, but it was estimated that it weighed approximately two pounds.

Adams lives six and a half miles north of Ranger. He said that all crops in his locality were better this year than for some time.

Gun Club Officials Expect Complete Installation Equipment Soon; State Shoot Due When Clubhouse Finished

Installation of all equipment of the Oil Belt Gun Club within the next 10 days was predicted Tuesday by officials of the organization. Equipment to be installed includes that for skeet, straight traps, pistol, small and large bore rifles, with regulation army target rafter up to 1,000 yards.

When the clubhouse is completed it is planned to hold a state meet with shooters from over the state invited to participate.

In opinion of club officials, a novel feature is the interest manifested by the ladies and juveniles. The club boasts as one of its lady members the holder of the state championship at skeet, Mrs. James Horton.

Regular days will be set aside for practice and instruction of the ladies. A boys class is also slated for organization. The boys will receive instruction from a former rifle instructor at the New Mexico Military Institute.

Association with the government affords free use of government rifles and free ammunition for pistol and rifle ranges, while quantity purchases enable members to shoot skeet and targets at a saving of from 15 to 25 per cent over public clubs.

Membership, officials said, is open to adults with good character and is divided into two groups: "Voting members or stockholders at $25 each, and associate members but with shooting privileges for all events at $5.00 each payable annually in advance."

Stiff competition is expected between shooters of Eastland and Breckenridge at next Sunday's shoot.

For the past year he has been editor of the Dartmouth Daily college paper, oldest in the United States.

Mrs. McCarty of Eastland will attend her son's graduation.

Cisco Planning Golf Tournament For June 21 to 23

CISCO, June 13.—The Cisco Country Club today was looking forward to the biggest meet it has sponsored as it planned its fourth annual invitation golf tournament, to be held here June 21, 22 and 23.

Top golfers from clubs all over West Texas are expected to take part in the tourney, according to R. L. Ponsler, chairman.

The qualifying round will be held on Friday, June 21, with match play starting the following day. Finals in all flights and consolation will be on Sunday.

The nine-hole course on the shore of Lake Cisco has recently been worked over to put in shape for the tournament.

Chairman Ponsler asked all golfers of this section, who expect to enter the tournament, to write the country club here for reservations.

Relief Case Loads Show Big Decrease

AUSTIN, June 8.—Check of state relief case loads today revealed a steady decrease of unemployment. Only 225,529 cases, representing 14.8 per cent of the population, received aid in April. It was the best record since July, 1934.

Ten counties have a request for 5 per cent of their population were listed on the honor rolls.

Six counties, including Orange county, had more than 30 per cent on relief, though none reached the former 40 per cent.

Brazil Is Not Yet a Threat In Cotton Markets

RIO DE JANEIRO, June 11.—Immediate threat of Brazilian competition with American cotton waned today as the Japanese mission studying the possibilities of turning its purchases to this country, apparently found the Brazilian market, thus far, unprepared for the exports required and now acquired from the United States.

Cotton circles here gained the impression the Japanese would continue their present method of making purchases, though keeping in close touch with the Brazilian situation.

Many factors militate against large sales of Brazilian cotton in Japan, including quality of stock and prices. The latter are estimated annual satisfactory, according to reports.

Economical—Use one LEVEL teaspoonful to a cup of flour for most recipes.

Dependable—Scientifically made by baking powder SPECIALISTS to produce best results.

CHRISTIAN STEWARDSHIP

Deuteronomy 8:11-20; II Corinthians 9:6-8

Moses—just the name draws a great picture of a strong man who could go upon a mountain and talk with God; a man to whom divinity would deliver the law written on tablets of stone. Yet we see him as he breaks the tablets when his people go back into sin and he again ascends the mountain to talk with God.

Moses, the great law-giver, lets anger rob him of a long sought reward. He knew that his punishment would be to look over into the promised land which they had sought for 40 years, but not to go over into the land.

Deuteronomy is a book of three beautiful addresses given by Moses more especially for the people born in the wilderness and who had not seen the great events of law-giving. In these addresses he is not only a leader and a law-giver but becomes a great prophet also.

He reminds them of God's mercy in dealing with them in the past.

He pictures the glory of the promised land in its wealth of food, homes, possessions and mineral wealth but points out that obedience to God is required if they would inherit this land.

Moses explained the laws concerning religion, administration of justice and social and private rights in minute detail with added explanation which completed the Mosaic system.

This lesson of Christian Stewardship is taken from his second address. After the beautiful picture of the promised land he warns them in solemn words of majestic strength:

"Beware that thou forget not the Lord thy God, in not keeping his commandments, and his judgments, and his statutes, which I command thee this day."

Two good matches have been arranged for next Monday night's mat program.

In the opener Doug Henderson meets Babe Rodriguez of Old Mexico. This is the first time these two boys meet and a good fast bout is expected. Henderson has made two sensational finishes in his last two matches here; when defeat was staring him in the face. In Rodriguez he meets a worthy foe man who is fast and knows the game.

DESDEMONA

Our whole community was shocked and grieved Wednesday when the news came that J. W. Nicholson had passed away at a hospital at Marlin. He had gone there a few days before for a major operation. He was 69 years old, having been born in Manchester, Ky., March 5, 1866. He came from New Mexico to Desdemona in 1919 and was one of our leading business men. He was ordained a deacon of the First Baptist church in 1921 and was one of its most faithful members. Funeral services were conducted by his pastor, Rev. Z. C. Chambliss, at the Baptist church on Friday afternoon at 2:30 and the body was laid to rest in our local cemetery, where the grave was more than covered by the many beautiful floral offerings. Pall bearers were deacons of the church. Business houses were closed during the funeral. The deceased is survived by his widow, Mrs. J. W. Nicholson,

Two Railroads Mean Much to the City of Ranger and Entire Community

The importance of the two railroads in Ranger is usually taken for granted by the average citizen. It takes a "Railroad Week" to make the people realize the importance of the railroads to the city, the county, the state, the schools and everyone in the community.

In taxes alone, the railroads play a big part in supporting the community. Figures for the past few years show that on the tax rolls of 1934, on which taxes were paid in 1934, the two railroads paid taxes, including county, school and city taxes, a total of $41,299.04, while on the 1934 rolls, of county and state taxes alone, on which taxes are being paid this year, $26,789.74 is being paid up to and including June 1, 1935, while payments totaling $5,489 are to be paid during the month, and a total of $19,486.46 has already been paid.

WATCH KIDNEYS SAME AS BOWELS

Wash Out Your 75,000 Feet of Kidney Tubes

Your bowels contain only 27 feet of intestine, yet the kidneys contain nearly 10 million tiny tubes or filters which would measure 75,000 feet if laid end to end. Therefore, it is just as important to watch the kidneys as the bowels. Kidneys are working all the time and are one of Nature's chief ways of taking the acids and poisonous waste out of the blood.

Healthy persons pass thru the bladder 3 pints a day and get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter. If you pass less than this, your 75,000 feet of kidney tubes may be clogged with poisonous waste. This is a danger signal and may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness. Kidneys should be watched closely and need cleaning out the same as bowels. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS, an old prescription, which has been used by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help to wash out your 75,000 feet of kidney tubes. Get Doan's Pills at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-Milburn Co.

DOLLARS WASTED ON UPKEEP CAN'T BUY NEW ROADS

INFERIOR roads seem cheap and easy to build. They stretch a paving fund so that it covers a lot of territory. But after a year or two, the trouble begins! Maintenance costs go up and up. That's why it's wise—and economical—to build concrete roads. Concrete lasts! It requires almost no upkeep. Concrete's smooth, non-skid surface is safe and satisfactory to drive on. It speeds up traffic... reduces accidents... you save in gas, oil, tires and repairs.

Arrested With Ransom Money

Their venture into major crime cut shore after a week of flight, Harmon M. Waley and his wife, Margaret, above, confessed members of the gang which kidnaped George Weyerhaeuser Jr., in Tacoma, Wash., gave information that led to finding of nearly half the $200,000 ransom money paid by the lad's father for his return. The two are shown here in a picture taken after their wedding a year ago. They face long sentences, with a possible death penalty, when they are returned to Washington from Salt Lake City, where they were arrested.

Jan Garber to Be At Lake Cisco For Dance June 24th

It's a grand feeling to be able to follow the dictates of one's own convictions and then have them come true. That's exactly what happened to Jan Garber, "The Idol of the Airlines," who brings his internationally famous orchestra to Lake Cisco, "Where West Texas Dances," on June 24, through arrangements made by Lloyd Hughes with the Music Corporation of America.

For Garber, who first gained renown for his "hokum," which he originated, and which consisted of interspersing comedy antics, and clowning while the band played, completely changed the style of his presentations in accord with the changing trend of music lovers. Came another marked change in the attitude of dance lovers, and Garber began to create another type of entertainment which is based on a slow, smooth-flowing, albeit, unique tempo. With his latest manner of entertainment approval, it is only natural that he should be acclaimed "The Idol of the Airlines." Garber has not, however, given up his art of "hokum" which bewitders his audiences, coming as it does for the most part spontaneously. Garber brings with him for his engagement at Lake Cisco, his talented bevy of radio stars, including Lee Bennett, the "Nebraska Corn Husker," Lew Palmer, Frits Heilbron, and Rudy Rudisill, who were ployes, have a local doctor retained to take care of them in cases of emergency and retail local druggists and lawyers to take care of any emergency that might arise. All this means additional money to the community in addition to the salaries, taxes and other expenditures that a railroad must make. The two lines maintain three depots in Ranger, own and keep up six dwellings in addition to one express depot, which is located conveniently in the city. Mr. Nat Wade, who portrays King Herod, and who is widely known for his staging of these plays, is stage director of the company. With the required equipment necessary many beautiful effects result from his skillful efforts.

Another Dog Head Shipped to Austin For Examination

Another dog head, taken from a dog thought to have had rabies, was prepared today for shipment to the Pasteur institute at Austin for examination. The dog was killed by Wade Swift, who also made the shipment.

The dog was one belonging to a farmer residing about 10 miles from Ranger, Swift said today, and the owner became suspicious and asked the Ranger officer to have it examined.

It was not known to have bitten anyone, or any other dog, but because of its actions the owner feared that it might be mad and wanted to take precautions before some of his children were bitten.

The war on unvaccinated and unlicensed dogs is being continued, with a total of 84 dogs reported killed in three days.

"Sunday night I made a trip over practically every section of the town," Swift said, "and nowhere did I see a dog running loose that was not licensed and vaccinated. I have had a number of calls from people owning dogs, requesting that I come out and kill them. Some had fits and others were thought to have been bitten by rabid dogs and were killed as a precaution against spreading of the disease."

Swift stated that he had killed several dogs that had "typical" cases of rabies.

Two More Teachers For Coming Year Named at Meeting

At the regular meeting of the school board, held Thursday night, A. W. Warford of Gorman, who has been teaching in the Gorman public schools for some time, was elected to succeed Rupert Ringold as instructor in English and public speaking.

Mr. La Manse of Olney, who was elected to succeed Tricky Ward in the science department, was introduced to the board. He had been elected at a previous called meeting of the board.

The two elections fill all vacancies with the exception of a teacher of Spanish, vocational agriculture and commercial subjects. The board is trying to find a man who can teach commercial subjects and instruct the band, and several applications for the position have been received and are now getting attention.

It is possible, it was said today by E. A. Ringold, that the manual training department will be revived and efforts are being made to find an instructor who can divide his time between vocational agriculture and manual training. It is expected that the three vacancies will be filled within the next few weeks.

Important Events Of Passion Week Given In Play

When the Passion Play is presented in Europe, the majority of the daylight hours are required to stage the German version in its entirety. When the Passion Play was first brought to America, those responsible realized that it would be impossible to hold any American audience in this country as long as in Europe.

After much consultation with the religious and secular leaders it was decided that the performance would run three hours, with two short intermissions.

The principal difference between the Passion Play as presented by the Great European Players in America and the German production at Oberammergau is that, in Germany, the production begins with the nativity and presents many Old Testament scenes. In America, the Passion Play is limited to the Passion week of Christ dealing only with the important events of the last seven days of Christ's life on earth.

All Passion Plays begin with a prologue. The Great European Passion Play that will be presented for three night performances in the Ranger Recreation building under the auspices of a committee composed of the leading civic and religious leaders in Ranger, on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, June 17, 18 and 19, begins with the triumphant entry into Jerusalem.

The production that will be in Ranger presents one healing scene, that of healing the blind, and in Germany many are presented. According to Mary Kaufman, the advance representative for the players who is in Ranger assisting with the production, the one big difference in the performances is that in Germany they depend upon daylight and the European players depend upon a skillful blending of 25,000 watts of electricity made up of a myriad of colors.

Mr. Nat Wade, who portrays King Herod, and who is widely known for his staging of these plays, is stage director of the company. With the required equipment necessary many beautiful effects result from his skillful efforts.

WHEN CHANGING TIRES IS EASY

Many a motorist would be thankful for a machine like this when a blow-out or puncture occurs out on the highway. This machine spins tires on wheels in about the time it takes you to count three. The scene is in the big Hudson Motor Car Company plant at Detroit, where activity is greater this year than in many years, due to increased demand for the new Hudsons and Terraplans.

Rev. Sid Martin Speaks On 'Home' At Revival Meet

One of the greatest sermons of the series brought by Rev. Sid Martin to the present revival at the Central Baptist church, was delivered last night when he spoke on the subject of "Home."

He stated that the home was the oldest institution known, being older than the church, and was also one of the most important or it could not have survived so long.

He said that he had talked to educators, jailors, penitentiary wardens and many others on the subject and all agreed that the breakdown of the home was responsible, in the majority of cases, for many adverse conditions.

He pointed out that there was a vast difference between a house and a home and that too many people were merely living in houses when they should have homes in which to rear their children in order to bring them up in the proper environment.

At the close of the meeting the evangelist presented Rev. H. H. Stephens, pastor of the church, with a cane, inasmuch as he had become a grandfather.

The crowds at the meetings continued to grow and the meeting is attaining a decided success, with many conversions.

CLASHES MARK MEETING HELD BY DEMOCRATS

AMARILLO, Texas, June 8.—Sharp clashes over new deal legislation and states' rights enlivened the Texas League of Young Democrats' meeting today.

Scott Ferris, Oklahoma highway commission chairman, defended NRA and the new deal as the savior of "millions of homes and lives."

The Oklahoman, a guest delegate, was loud in his praise of President Roosevelt and Vice President Garner.

Joe Bailey Humphries of Crockett, a member of the Dallas county club, said President Roosevelt "needed statesmen and instead had politicians."

"What we need is a return to mutual benefits and protection of rights and liberties of individuals and states," Humphries said.

Humphries said he "opposed regimentation of the oil and agricultural industries." He also decried criticism of the recent U. S. supreme court NRA ruling.

Herman Wright of Amarillo, a member of the University of Texas club, lamented wasted billions of hours of willing human labor and producing machinery while the nation is ragged, hungry and cold. He said graduates now face the world with no place to utilize their education.

Marble Table Men Get Out Injunction

AUSTIN, June 13.—Exceptions and answers to injunctions preventing police officers from seizing marble boards have been filed in 77th district court, it was reported today.

Judge H. F. Kirby issued injunctions to certain marble board operators in Limestone, Freestone and Navarro counties to which the state took exception. Injunctions were obtained on the claim marble machine was not condemned under anti-gambling laws. Rangers were forbidden from molesting the machines.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go
If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks pink, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly alert and buoyant and full of sunshine.
For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.
If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Skin often breaks out in bumps, pimples, freckles and you feel dull and out. Your whole system is poisoned.
It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, inactive, gentle vegetable extracts, amounting when it comes to making the bile flow freely.
But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. See who's at the store. © 1931 C. M. Co.

They Are Larger and Different

"Dusting the Covers of Texas History"

For the Texas Centennial Celebrations of 1936

"Let us assemble at Houston on Buffalo Bayou!" A congressman anxious to begin his official duties voices his opinion about the seat of location of the government.

"The senate committee has reported favorable for Groce's Retreat (San Jacinto)," the chairman said.

"Nacogdoches has been recommended by the house," the House chairman said in a defiant tone. Requests were read from Washington and Hidalgo that the government be located in their communities. Fort Bend citizens wrote that if there were not sufficient houses for the legislators, land would be donated to the great cause.

Earnest debating ensued, and when the vote was finally taken, Houston on Buffalo Bayou had the majority of votes. The President was given authority to erect a building for the temporary accommodation of congress, and other suitable buildings, but the cost was not to exceed $15,000—a much too inadequate sum, as they found out later. Dr. Amos Jones was disgusted with the selection of Houston. "A sell-out to a few individuals," he said.

According to the Telegraph and Texas Register, no better spot could have been selected than Houston. It had a sawmill; there were more than enough rooms; not one solitary building marked the townsites when the government was moved there. Not a lot had been sold until January, 1917, and when the President and his helpers arrived in April, coldness and wide space greeted them. The $15,000 set aside for the buildings had not been available because the government did not have that much money available. Hastily shacks were built. The Telegraph noted one of the first finished shacks.

A. C. and J. K. Allen had built a one-story building covering an entire block on Main street, for the official building. At one corner was the Senate chamber and on the other was the Hall of Representatives. Departmental offices were in between the two main rooms.

A coast storm blew up the night of May 9, and when congress assembled the next morning for their first session, owing to the "insufficiency of the building, the floor being flooded with water, and the hall unfit for transaction of business, on motion congress was adjourned until 10 o'clock the next day."

What a contrast the first regular capital presents to our granite structure that is second largest in the United States. Texas will proudly invite Centennial visitors in 1936 to examine its present capitol, and patriotic Texans will remember the story of the first capitol.

Hundred Million Is Being Sought For Highways

AUSTIN.—In a determined effort to obtain $100,000,000 for gap-closing on Texas highways before the centennial and the opening of the Mexico City road, Harry Hines, new chairman of the state highway commission, will head a delegation of Texas leaders to Washington in mid-June, he has announced.

His hope is to impress the federal administration with the fact that the building of modern highways in Texas can provide more and better and quicker employment than weed-cutting, ditching or many of the other former CWA activities. It can do this, he contends, with minimum waste or abuses, and the result will be useful, permanent, revenue-producing facilities.

Accompanying Chairman Hines to the capital will be the other commissioners, Gib Gilchrist, state highway engineer, Col. Ike Ashburn of the Texas Good Roads association, and envoys from many other groups.

Gov. James V. Allred favors utilization of road-building as a means of unemployment relief in Texas, and has wired his view to President Roosevelt.

"Well over 90 per cent of the Texas road dollar goes to labor either on the job or in the factories, mills and pits behind it," Mr. Hines explained, "and this is why we hope to get some of the money from purely temporary relief projects shifted to it."

"Texas should get over $50,000,000 for roads and grade separations from appropriations already made, and we will ask for $40,000,000 more. We have the plans all ready for badly-needed roads that will exceed this amount, and we can get them under way swiftly."

The highway chairman explained that he has no thought of disturbing the many worthwhile city and community projects to be presented through FWA, but only random and unplanned work relief.

NRA PLANS GO ASTRAY TODAY IN THE SENATE

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Administration leaders failed, today, in their efforts to rush an NRA extension resolution through the senate during a half hour overtime session.

The senate traditional fondness for protracted discussion, caused downfall of the leaders' plan. The Senate met at 11:30 a. m. but encountered an unexpected move from Senator Thomas Gore, Democrat, Oklahoma, who offered an amendment requiring that all government workers receiving $4,000 or more in annual salary be appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate.

He was supported by Senator Huey Long, Democrat, Louisiana. At noon, by prior agreement, the senate reverted to the public utility bill.

Seven minutes of the half hour were consumed by a quorum call. Another interruption came when a messenger from the house delivered a bill that had been acted on there.

What Puritan Fathers Missed!

The story of John Alden and Priscilla might have been a lot different if John had ever been in the big-buckled shoes of Amos Kubik, the Town Crier of Provincetown, Mass., who's surrounded by Cape Cod summer scenic effects. Kubik tries unsuccessfully to appear as disapproving of their beach attire as his Puritan predecessors might have been.

Guffey Bill Held Mine Peace Hope

Forecast of a NATIONAL WALKOUT of 400,000 bituminous miners on June 17, when present wage contracts between operators and miners terminate, is made by U. S. Sen. Joseph F. Guffey, Pa., left, whose bill to stabilize the industry is before Congress. The crisis was precipitated by the breakdown of wage negotiations between operators and miners in the bituminous coal industry. Senator Guffey believes strike action is certain unless his bill or some other federal anti-price-cutting law is enacted by June 16.

Mussolini Says Abyssinian Crisis Is Italy's Affair

CAGLIARI, Sardinia, June 8.—Benito Mussolini told Great Britain today Italy's course in Abyssinia is for Italy alone to decide and he would not be stopped. Addressing troops of the Sabauda division, he said of England: "We will imitate to the letter those who presume to be schoolmasters. They have shown that when it is necessary to create or defend an empire they do not take into consideration the opinions of the world." Italy, he said, has firmly decided to accept no coercion in its dealings with Abyssinia.

Too Busy?

Too busy to go to church Sunday? Some day the angel of death will tap your shoulder. You cannot put him off.

Why not cultivate the spiritual side of your nature?

The old commandment: "Six days shalt thou labor and do all thy work; but the seventh day is a Sabbath" was intended for you. Cold-blooded economists tell us that men who rest on Sunday do the most work.

There is a seat for you in this church. Come Sunday.

Remember the Sabbath to keep it holy. In it thou shalt not do any work.

Ranger Helping to Celebrate Railroad Week, June 10-15

Ranger is co-operating with the railroads of the southwestern part of the United States, and specially the two railroads serving the city, in the celebration of Railroad Week, beginning on Monday, June 10, and continuing through Saturday, June 15.

Mayor Harry A. Logsdon of Ranger has issued a proclamation, as have mayors in practically every town in the southwest, declaring the period from Monday, June 10 through Saturday, June 15 as Railroad week.

The proclamation by Mayor Logsdon follows:

PROCLAMATION

Whereas the City of Ranger has been served for many years by the railroads and since it is on the main artery of travel from east to west, and

Whereas the first rails which were to establish a new era of mail service and travel succeeding the heroic and dramatic accomplishments of the Pony Express and the Stage Coach reached Ranger sometime about 2880, and

Whereas these railroads played a vital part in the lives of our people, the progress of the community and general upbuilding of west, have paid and continue to pay large amounts in taxes and employ many of our citizens, and

Whereas these railroads have joined with other western railroads in reducing fares, sleeping car charges and in air-conditioning all principal passenger trains thereby lowering the cost of travel and increasing the comfort of all, and

Whereas the governors of the western states have asked that the public pay honor to western railroads for their continued pioneering. Therefore, I, Harry A. Logsdon, Mayor of the City of Ranger, ask our citizens to join in the observance of Railroad Week from Monday, June 10 to Saturday, June 15, and pay compliment to the Texas & Pacific Railway company and the Wichita Falls, Ranger & Southern Railroad company, serving Ranger.

Youths Deplore Liquor, Pledge Lessening Work

Deploing the use of intoxicants among different groups of people in Eastland, a group of more than 50 young people assembled in mass meeting at the Baptist church Sunday evening and adopted a resolution pledging their every effort toward lessening and eradicating such practices.

Marshall Coleman was named chairman of the Better Youth movement.

An open discussion was held and talks were heard from representatives of the different groups. A recent marked increase in drink among younger people was pointed out. An attempt to create a sentiment against the practice was proposed, and an appeal was issued to older people to aid in the drive by keeping proper examples of sobriety before the younger groups.

The younger people emphasized the movement involves a moral issue and is not a political or denominational drive.

Youth Taught Wages of Petty Crime

Twenty-four boys from a New York settlement house were crowded into patrol wagons and taken to prison the other day. They had done nothing wrong; the whole stunt was arranged by settlement house workers and city officials to give the lads a look at the wages of sin.

So these lads went to prison, handcuffed and everything, and sat for a few hours in cells, and found out what it feels like to be "mugged" and fingerprinted and to have steel doors clang shut behind them; and they emerged, presumably, convinced that the life of a law-breaker is not so pleasant as it is sometimes painted.

As a means of persuading youth to watch its step, a program like this ought to be all to the good. It might occur to a cynic, however, that the lesson could really be carried somewhat farther. A little more of an object lesson might help the lads to understand the real nature of America's crime problem.

As a first step, they could be taken to the lair of some big-shot racketeer and watch him contributing to a politician's campaign fund, receiving the thanks of the politician, and chatting shummily with a judge and a police captain whose appointment that politician controls.

Then they could go down the line a bit and see the big shot in action; see him providing election booth sluggers for the politician on election day, passing out bundles of banknotes to various political leaders in return for the favor of being permitted to operate his illicit business without restraint, and so on.

After that they might watch the big shot when the law tries to catch up with him.

They could observe the politics-hampered cops failing to turn in the kind of evidence that results in convictions. They could see a district attorney, mindful of his debt to the political boss, purposely fumbling the ball so that the grand jury would return a no bill.

They could see the judge mentioned above setting a low bail figure, accepting worthless bail bonds, and granting to the big shot's lawyer a long series of continuances and postponements.

Lastly, they could see the big shot in prison with the politically dominated warden permitting him to loll at ease in a cozy hospital ward instead of a cell and to receive visitors from the outside without hindrance; and to wind things up they could see an unscrupulous governor and parole board tapping the big shot on the wrist and turning him loose.

All this might not make a very pleasant picture for these lads to witness. But it would help them to understand why large-scale crime remains a problem in America.

Disillusioned Women

The outlaw usually gets most of his publicity before the law catches up with him. Once he is safely locked away in prison he drops out of sight, and that, in some ways, is too bad. If his dreary, monotonous years behind the bars could get the same attention his lawless forays got, he might lose a good deal of his glamour in the eyes of impressionable youth.

This thought pops up when one reads a brief news dispatch telling how former underworld "gun molls" have settled down to the use of mop and broom in the federal detention prison at Milan, Mich. Here are such women as Kathryn Kelly, Evelyn Frechette, Winona Burdette, and others whose association with big shot public enemies made them front page celebrities.

A day-dreaming, empty-headed youngster might have seen something romantic in these women when they were in their hey-day. But to look at them now—clad in drab prison uniforms, mopping floors and working in the fields—ought to be convincing evidence that the glamour of crime is pretty phony.

Ideal Spot Suggested As National Park

Away up in Lake Superior, where the water is blue and cold and the shores are still fringed with gree forests, lies one of the most romantic islands under the American flag—Isle Royale.

Up to this lonely island, centuries before the first white man came, Indians from bar to the south came in flimsy canoes to mine for copper. Where they came from, how they managed to cross Lake Superior in their frail craft, where they got the metallurgical knowledge that enabled them to dig and use copper—these are questions no one can answer authoritatively.

Some archeologists suspect that these mines were the source of supply for such far-off people as the Toltecs of ancient Mexico and the Mayas of Central America—which gives you a dizzying idea of the scale on which long-range commerce may have been carried on in the days when America was peopled by "savages."

But anyway, Isle Royale lies there, a blue smudge on a blue horizon to the passing freight steamers, covered with virgin timber, inhabited by mose, its icy streams and lakes

The chain of parks constitutes one of our most precious possessions. It goes without saying that a judicious extension of the chain from time to time is well worth the price; and whenever there is a region like Isle Royale, untouched and lovely and filled with the mystery and romance of ancient tradition, all of us are served when it is added to the chain.

There is another point to consider, also. For obvious reasons, most of the great national parks are in the west. The bulk of the population lies in the east. The Lake Superior region may not be exactly next door to New England and New York, but it is a lot near than the Yellowstone.

The whole park chain should be expanded. It is hard to think of a better place for the expansion to begin than in this remote and glamorous island in the world's greatest lake.

What makes it all worth talking about here is the fact that a movement is now under way to have the entire island set aside as one of Uncle Sam's national parks.

Our great chain of parks already stretches clear cross the country, and its establishment and maintenance represent one of the wisest steps the nation has ever taken.

In it are preserved for the employment of all of us plots of ground of great scenic beauty and strong sentimental charm, where we can go and get ourselves lifted out of the ordinary press of every-day worries and difficulties.

In the selection of city officials, men should be selected who dare to do right and they should have the backing of every honest citizen.

If information is desired about any city, write to the secretary of the chamber of commerce of that city. You will find him a man with eyes open and a willingness to serve you.

What some governments need at the present time is not only the theoretical study of administration, but a kind of study combining theory with practice, resulting from the cooperation of experts with men of practical experience.

In some cities a whole lot of citizens think the home city is big enough and spend a lot of their time puzzling their minds about how to make a village out of it.

County Body Joins In Highway Plea At Mineral Wells

All county commissioners and their judge, Clyde L. Garrett, attended the road meet in Mineral Wells Saturday, where plans were made to ask federal aid in building Texas highways.

Commissioners attending the road meet were H. V. Davenport, Arch Birt, N. C. Crawley and R. O. Jacobs.

"We should have a wonderful system of connected highways throughout the state," Judge Clyde L. Garrett expressed the county's opinion. "I heartily endorse the program," he said.

Resolutions adopted by commissioners and county judges included:

Endorsement of Texas Highway Improvement Program, including request for $100,000,000 federal aid. To include lateral roads in the highway improvement.

Communication of commissioner courts of Texas with Texas congressmen at Washington to aid Chairman of the Texas Highway Commission, Harry Hines, in obtaining the federal help.

Award of $2,000 Okehed by Court

Approval of 88th district award of $2,000 to R. J. Pruitt by Traders & General Insurance company for alleged personal injuries has been made, court records on file Saturday in district clerk's office showed.

The court set aside a previous decision of the industrial accident board of Texas.

Attorney's fees of 25 per cent of the award was also approved by the court. Attorneys for the plaintiff was Grindstaff, Zellers & Hutcheson of Weatherford. Costs were taxed against the defendant.

Oil Discovered On University Lands Just 12 Years Ago

AUSTIN.—It was just 12 years ago that oil was discovered on land belonging to the University of Texas. In that 12 years it has greased the way for a rapid advance from a small campus, dotted with wooden shacks, to one of the best equipped college plants in existence.

"The benefits of education . . . are essential to the preservation of a free government," wrote Gen. Sam Houston when Texas set up its free government 99 years ago.

So the great expanse of land that came to Texas with its independence was apportioned largely to public schools and to the University of Texas. Income from such lands cannot be spent directly. It goes into permanent funds. The permanent funds are invested and the income from the investments, alone, is available for current use.

When oil was struck on land leased by the university, the land income grew to such size that legends envisioned a comprehensive building plan. Despite all the wealth piling up, only a small annual income upon it was immediately available. The late R. L. Batta, Austin, who obtained his education in the University of Texas, devised the plan that made an early building campaign possible.

The annual income was pledged for 15 years. The campus was enlarged. New buildings started. The last now is under construction.

Many gave the "doodle bug" or diving rod credit for discovery of the great East Texas oil field after geologists had pronounced the territory dry. There is an equally amazing story of the way the university discovered its latent wealth in oil.

An oil prospector with a lease that was about to expire started to haul an oil rig to the leased land from the nearest railroad switch.

The heavy timbers broke down the wagon. There was not sufficient time to get new hauling equipment to reach the place he had chosen as most favorable. The rig was set up where the wagon had collapsed. He drilled there and struck oil.

"Camels don't get your Wind!"
FAMOUS ATHLETES SAY

A few of the famous athletes who approve of Camel's mildness

BASEBALL: Dizzy Dean; Lou Gehrig; Melvin Ott; Harold Schumacher; Guy Bush.

TENNIS: Ellsworth Vines, Jr.; George M. Lott, Jr.; William T. Tilden, II; Lester R. Stoeftin; Bruce Barnes.

GOLF: Gene Sarazen; Craig Wood; Tommy Armour; Willie Macfarlane; Helen Hicks; Denny Shute.

TRACK AND FIELD: Jim Rattsch; George Barker; Leo Sexton.

SWIMMING: Helene Madison; Stubby Kruger; Josephine McKim; Susan Vilas.

DIVING: Harold ("Dutch") Smith; Georgia Coleman; Pete Desjardins; Sam Howard.

WINTER SPORTS: Raymond Stevens; Jack Shea; Irving Jaffee; Bill Cook; Paul Thompson.

"Let's have a Camel," says Mel Ott, heavy-hitting Giant outfielder, to Harold Schumacher, ace pitcher. They agree that Camels have real mildness. Mel says: "I smoke all I want, yet keep in good condition. Camels are so mild, they never get my wind or bother my nerves." And Hal adds: "To my mind that settles it! Camel is the cigarette with real mildness. I'd walk a mile for a Camel!" • In baseball, and in all the strenuous sports, leading athletes cite the fact that Camels are mild. And to this impressive evidence of Camel's mildness is added the experience of people in every walk of life who wish to smoke freely and keep fit.

KEEPING FIT IS JUST AS IMPORTANT TO ME AS TO STAR ATHLETES. CAMELS ARE MILD — NEVER JANGLE MY NERVES!

I LIKE TO KEEP IN TOP CONDITION, SO I SMOKE CAMELS. TOO, I SMOKE A LOT. CAMELS DON'T GET MY WIND OR RUFFLE MY NERVES.

So Mild! YOU CAN SMOKE ALL YOU WANT!

I PICKED CAMELS LONG AGO. THEY ARE MILD WITH A FLAVOR THAT SETS THEM APART. NO MATTER HOW MANY I SMOKE, THEY NEVER IRRITATE MY THROAT.

I NEED TO KEEP IN "CONDITION," AND I SMOKE CAMELS, TOO. THEY TASTE BETTER — AND WHEN I AM TIRED I GET A "LIFT" WITH A CAMEL!

CAPITAL BEING SOUGHT TO AID IN RECOVERY

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The government moved today to attract private capital to its re-employment drive by re-establishing at 4 per cent the interest rate on its $900,000,000 public works fund.

FWA recently reduced the rate on loans to 3 per cent. This was done when President Roosevelt issued an order increasing from 30 to 45 per cent the amount of a project cost which the government would finance by a gift.

The interest rate was increased, Harold Ickes said, mainly to permit communities to supplement the federal grants through utilization of their own funds or credit resources opening sources of private capital without recourse to federal loans.

If a city should borrow money

Divorces Granted In District Court

From sources other than the government, PWA still is empowered to make the city an outright grant up to 45 per cent of the cost.

Five divorces were granted in Eastland county district courts were recorded during the week ending Saturday, according to records on file in the district clerk's office.

The divorces: Juanita Garner from Jimmie Garner, Plaintiff's maiden name, Juanita Foster, restored. In 88th district court.

Ida E. Pruett from S. W. Pruett, in 88th district court. Plaintiff's maiden name, Ida E. Brown, restored.

Thelma Baldrige from F. C. Baldrige, Plaintiff's maiden name, Thelma Morrison, restored.

Bertha Clause from Frank Clause, in 91st district court.

Law's Bell Ends Fun for Pussy

All the fun has gone out of life for Mickey and he yawns disgustedly at these meddling human beings who decree that every cat in Lake Bluff, Ill., be belted to save bird life in the Chicago suburb. It's tough when the bell warns mice and even tougher to endure Cock Robin's sneers as the tinkle warns the redbreast away.

Jake Hamon Line Built to Serve a New Local Section

Although the building of the Jake Hamon railroad, now the Wichita Falls & Southern, came at a much later time than the building of the Texas & Pacific, its history is just about as romantic, even though it lacked the Texas rangers to drive off marauding bands of Indians.

When the plan of building the railroad north and south of Ranger was conceived in the minds of Frank Kell, still president of the road, and Jake Hamon, there was dire need of an outlet to the north, as many oil fields had sprung up throughout that section.

Work on the road started in 1919, and in a remarkably short time trains were running to Ranger from as far away as Frankell, named for one of the builders.

By April, 1920, many towns had sprung up along the line of the road, and as the building pushed farther and farther toward Breckenridge new towns sprang up along the right of way. When the building progressed to the south the same situation prevailed. Jakehamon, Frankell, Necessity, Gunsight, Breckwalker and other towns flourished. Everything was a mad rush.

By June 1 the railroad building had progressed as far to the north as Breckenridge and as far south as Dublin. At the latter town it connected with the Frisco and the Missouri-Kansas-Texas lines, forming a complete link to the outside world.

Early in May, long before the road was completed, the Texas & Pacific announced that during the month of April it had handled 166 cars of freight, routed over the Jake Hamon road, and passenger trains were running from Frankell, later from Breckenridge.

Early in 1920 a total of 39 miles of the road had been built, and at that time much freight, dispatched to the various oil fields, was being hauled over the short line. With completion of the road later in 1920 the freight business was increasing.

It was at about that time that M. M. Dutton came to Ranger as an employe of the road, and two years later he was made general agent.

Though little is now thought of the wild and luscious days of the young railroad it had a romantic beginning, and is still serving the purpose for which it was built—handling freight consigned to sections not reached by other roads.

Like other railroads of the southwest, the Wichita Falls & Southern is doing its bit toward the celebration of Railroad Week, and is joining its larger brothers in helping to make the week a success.

UTILITY BILL IS ABANDONED FOR PRESENT

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Administration leaders decided today to lay aside the public utility bill and try to rush action on the resolution on a skeletonized NRA.

The decision came after indications from the Republican side any effort to bring the utility bill to a vote would meet with opposition.

The Republicans wanted to delay vote on the utility bill until absent members return to the city.

Chairman Pat Harrison of the senate finance committee who planned to let the NRA resolution lie over until the utility bill was disposed of, announced his intention to bring up NRA.

Gran Chaco War Virtually Ended

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, June 10.—By nightfall three years of warfare in the Gran Chaco between Bolivia and Paraguay may have ended.

Mediators of half a dozen republics were waiting for word that the governments of the two countries had agreed to a peace formula accepted here by representatives of both governments.

Meantime some 35,000 Paraguayans and 45,000 Bolivians were fighting on the Bolivian border with Paraguay claiming important victories.

Gardening Books In Free Library

Are you interested in a cactus garden? The Ranger public library has a practical book on cactus culture by Ellen D. Schulz. Some chapter headings of the book are "How to Start a Cactus Garden," "The Indoor Cactus Garden," "The Outdoor Cactus Garden," "Succulents Other Than Cacti," "The Rock Garden," "Nurslings," "Grafting," "Insects and Diseases." The book is well illustrated and contains much information in small space for one interested in the cultivation of cacti.

"How to grow fruits and flowers in Oklahoma and the Southwest" is written by a nurseryman and fruitgrower of 40 years' experience. He gives directions in detail for planting, spraying, harvesting, etc. He also takes up the fruits and flowers such as pecans, plums, grapes, roses and ornamental hedges to give a detailed discussion of their care. This book contains a wealth of practical advice in regard to the growing of the kinds of fruits and flowers best suited to the Southwest.

Other books on this subject in the library are "Pecan Growing," by Stuckey; "The Complete Garden," by Taylor; "Vegetable Gardening," by Green; "The Farm and Garden Rule-Book," by Bailey, and "Variety in the Little Garden," by King.

A number of interesting books of fiction have been received by the library from the state library this week.

The library is located on the first floor of the high school building. It is open every week-day morning from 9 until 12, and also on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays from 4 until 6, and 7 until 8. Books are circulated to anyone wishing the privilege absolutely free of charge.
