WOULD ROB ROCK ISLAND

LONE BANDIT DRIVEN FROM A
SOUTH BOUND TRAIN

BRAKEMAN IS SHOT

DRIVES ASSAILANT OFF DESPITE
THREE BULLET WOUNDS
IN HAND

TRAIN SAVED BY HEROISM

Well Planned Attack on No. 1 Is Made
South of Chickasha, I. T., at Early Hour This Morning

A bold attempt was made by a lone bandit to hold up the south bound fast express of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific at a desolate spot ten miles south of Chickasha, Indian Territory, between 2 and 3 o'clock this morning. His effort might have been successful had not brakeman D. W. Carpenter, of 211 West Daggett street, Fort Worth, made a vigorous fight. In the scuffle Brakeman Carpenter was shot three times through the right hand. While still wounded he continued the combat finally driving the robber from the train.

The train due in Fort Worth at 7:10 o'clock a. m. was delayed until 8:15 a. m. although the stop caused by the attempted holdup lasted only for a few moments.

Brakeman Met Robber at the Door. From No. 1 of the Rock Island leaves Kansas City in the morning, and at 1:25 o'clock the next morning is to depart from Chickasha, but this morning there was a few minutes delay and by the time it reached what is known as "Siding No. 2" mile west between Chickasha and Rush Springs the speed was fast. The country being on either side of the track is the most desolate of the new territory.

Upon leaving Chickasha, as was his custom Brakeman Carpenter stood upon the rear platform of the last car and the yard limit had been passed. He then went into the smoking compartment of the sleeper and took a seat. As the whistle sounded the sliding Carpenter's attention was attracted by a noise at the rear door through which he had passed only a few minutes before, and upon going out to investigate was confronted by a rough looking man, stockily built, armed with a six-shooter.

Wanted Him to Pass the Hat. "Well, I want you to go through the train, while I hold up the passengers," was the robbers unceremonious greeting.

"Oh, I guess not," replied Carpenter, to which the robber answered: "Oh, I guess, yes?"

With this remark he raised his weapon as if to strike. Carpenter made a lunge for the vision, grabbing the six-shooter with both hands. One held the cylinder to prevent it from revolving, while with the other he held the muzzle. At this the two men found themselves wedged in the doorway, and began what Carpenter thought would be a fight to the death. For several minutes they surged with the motion of the train, when Carpenter's right hand which has been crippled by an accident of a year ago, became loose, and the robber fired three times as quickly as he could pull the trigger. Each of the bullets—41 calibre—passed through the palm of Carpenter's right hand which had again been placed over the muzzle. Wounded and bleeding as he was, the brakeman continued the combat, forcing the robber onto the platform.

HONORS FOR SHOOTER

TOM MARSHALL THE MARKSMAN IS NOMINATED FOR CONGRESS

Monmouth, Ill., Aug. 6.—Thomas A. Marshall, the celebrated trap shooter, is a candidate for congressional honors, having received by acclamation the nomination of the Democrats of the Fourteenth Illinois district. Mr. Marshall is mayor of Keithsburg. He gained fame among sportsmen by twice winning the grand American handicap for shooting. He was captain of the all American team that visited Europe last year. He is wealthy, owning telephone lines, electric light plants and land. He was a member of the state legislature when Palmer was elected United States senator.

HARRY TRACY IS DEAD TAKES HIS OWN LIFE

SURROUNDED BY SHERIFF GARDNER AND POSSE THE WILY OUTLAW SEES NO ESCAPE AND SUICIDES

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 6.—Harry Tracy, outlaw, killed himself in a wheat field near Fellows, at 4:30 o'clock this morning. He was surrounded by a posse.

In the fight with the sheriff's posse last night Tracy was wounded in the right leg between the knee and thigh. Two minutes later, knowing capture was certain he killed himself with a revolver and the body of the outlaw was found in the wheat field this morning.

Tracy at Bay. Spokane, Wash., Aug. 6.—Harry Tracy, escaped convict and murderer, is surrounded in a swamp near the Eddy farm, eleven miles southeast of Preston, Wash.

For four hours before the special messenger left for reinforcements a long range rifle duel between Tracy and the posse of sheriff men headed by Sheriff Gardner was in progress.

This news was brought to Preston by Jack McGinnis, a liveryman of Harrington who is a member of Sheriff Gardner's posse. McGinnis proceeded at once to Davenport for reinforcements.

A telephone message received from Davenport early this morning stated that twenty-five armed men have already been in wagons for the scene of the battle.

Sheriff Doust, of Spokane county, also has gone to the scene.

Harry Tracy, the desperado convict who escaped from the Oregon penitentiary on June 9 and who up to this morning when he met his death, notwithstanding the entire constabulary of the northwest has been in pursuit of him made a record that beats anything shown by the criminal records of the country. Since and including his escape from the Oregon penitentiary at Salem, he killed five men, wounded six more, stole ten horses, held up a number of men including two officers, and robbed houses of provisions, bed clothing, etc.

The flight of the man with his companion Metrell was one of the most desperate and determined struggles for liberty criminals ever made and in view of the determined pursuit that had been kept up it reads like fiction.

Tracy in 1897 murdered Valentine Hoge, a Colorado cattleman, and William Strong, a boy, in the same state and the reward offered for his capture aggregated $5000.

his face. He was a little below the medium height, however, and heavy of build.

Robber Adopted New Tactics

The force in the Rock Island offices here, in discussing the attempted hold up at the noon hour, declare the lone highwayman's modus operandi to be easy, and that the fellow had unquestionably studied out his plans well. They say it would be the easiest of all systems to successfully raid a sleeper on the quiet. A six-shooter thrust in the face of a half-awakened sleeper would compel quiet, and a grand yield up of valuables. This accomplished the robber could manipulate the emergency air and make a grand "get away" even before the other passengers on the train were apprised of the situation.

Carpenter's grappling with the robber frustrated this well laid plan. It is generally believed that the lone visitor had a confederate on the train, although no movement was made by any of the other passengers to take a hand in the trouble. Indeed, no one save Brakeman Carpenter knew of the robber's presence.

The country around "Siding No. 2" said Conductor Thomas to the Telegram this afternoon, "is the most forsaken spot in all the new territory. Sand hills lie in either direction, and the section is infested with a bad class of individuals."

Hardly a night passes, trainmen say, they do not have some character of trouble with passengers, stealing hats checks or trying to work things by the reverse order.

Dogs Put on Trail. W. S. Tinsman, superintendent, left for Chickasha at 7:30 a. m. with a pack of bloodhounds, hoping to strike a trail of the highwayman.

Fire

New York, Aug. 6.—In a fight with revolvers and clubs, for the possession of a little "kitchen garden," at 183d street and Walton avenue, two men and several women have been fatally shot and more than a dozen of the belligerents injured.

Among the wounded were: Christine Agrilla, condition serious, John Monga, Genna Fonsa.

Fonsa claimed he had a deed to the ground on which the kitchen garden had been laid out and cultivated. Monga asserted the garden belonged to him. During the last week there were several quarrels between the two. Monga and three of his brothers secreted themselves, and when Fonsa began to pick some of the vegetables they opened fire with revolvers. He summoned friends and so did Monga and the two forces exchanged volleys. Several women, wives of the fighters, joined in the fray. After a battle lasting ten minutes, the police arrived and dispersed the participants.

Clinton, Ia., Aug. 6.—The property of the Iowa packing and provision company of this city has been sold. The plant was erected about ten years ago at a cost of about $250,000. It had a capacity of 1500 hogs a day. The purchasers are unknown, although it is thought it was bought by one of the big packing syndicates for the purpose of removing it from the field.

LONDON NOW TURNS ITS EYES TO THE CORONATION

LONDON, Aug. 6.—A revival of animation on the streets is one of the earliest signs of the close approach of the coronation.

Piccadilly and Pall Mall are again filled with handsome equipages. Whitehall is crowded with sight seers watching the work of the decorators and carpenters, and hawkers are selling flags, medals and coronation toys for the first time since that melancholy June day when the holiday crowds were paralyzed by the tides of a postponement of the festival.

Seat speculators have been content with moderate prices and the stands along the route of the procession will be well filled. A large force of workmen is now employed in replacing the stands and hangings and the route will not lack decorative treatment, although the brilliant effect of color attempted in June will not be reproduced. The environment of the abbey is disfigured by police barricades, for which now, as then, no decorative scheme has been devised.

At Sixes and Sevens. New York, Aug. 6.—Everything is going at sixes and sevens in parliament where there are sources of irritation and bad temper on both sides, cables the London correspondent of the Tribune.

In the house of commons Premier Balfour is hesitating to apply the closure ruling to the troublesome clause seven of the education bill and is threatening to keep the members over coronation day and deprive them of the privilege of shooting on "Grouse day." He also is hampered and embarrassed by the necessity for making more serious changes in the cabinet than he had contemplated.

The premier's opponents are not in much better spirits than the government benches, and are demoralized by the education bill, which fails to satisfy any section of the party.

The north Leeds election, which was a source of liberal encouragement for a few days has caused a revival of faction feeling through the action of the liberal league in claiming credit.

Jim Dumps had always felt quite blue

Collectors seemed to fill the air,
And landlords sprang from ev'rywhere.

ALL IS QUIET IN CAMPS

MINING DISTRICTS CAUSE NO TROUBLE FOR THE SOLDIERS

Shots Fired During the Night But Aside From This Nothing Disturbed the Even Serenity of Things

Shenandoah, Pa., Aug. 6.—Sentries on duty around the camp and the soldiers stationed at different parts of the town on provost guard duty, reported everything quiet during the night.

Some of the guardsmen say they heard shots during the night but could not locate them.

Two companies of the Eighth regiment are on guard in the town. One is stationed at the eastern part where last night's trouble occurred and the other at the southern section where foreigners have been making trouble for local police.

Braided for Working

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Aug. 6.—Daniel Tweency, a watchman in the employ of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Coal company at Bliss colliery in Hanover township, was found dead in a field this morning, his brains having been beaten out.

He had been threatened for continuing at work.

Quiet at Shenandoah

Shenandoah, Pa., Aug. 6.—The peace of this troop-protected town remains unbroken. The unsettled feeling which has been apparent for the past few days, however, continues. Tuesday was a lively day at brigade headquarters, where all the staff officers were kept busy in connection with the movements of troops and in keeping touch with the situation of the entire country.

There were many rumors of trouble, but excepting at Gettysburg, where a workman was shot and slightly injured, nothing of a serious nature occurred anywhere.

Three Collieries in Operation

Scranton, Pa., Aug. 6.—The Dickson colliery of the Delaware and Hudson railroad company in Greenridge returned operations Tuesday with retrained strikers. Superintendent Rosays the company has been cutting and loading coal at this mine for two weeks. The coal was hoisted and sent through the breaker. The company will not give out the number of men working. This makes three collieries now in operation in this city.

SUIT FOR DAMAGES

Document Filed With District Clerk for Thirty Thousand Dollars

Attorneys John C. Walker of Galveston and Bomar & Bomar of Fort Worth filed a suit in the district court for $30,000 damages for personal injury received by A. C. Walker on the night of May 8. The Texas and Pacific Railway company, city of Fort Worth and the Southwestern Telegraph and Telephone company are made defendants in the suit.

It will be remembered that Drs. Walker and Adams were thrown from a buggy and injured on the night referred to by reason of a defect in the street and no lights.

TERRELL'S FIRST BALE IS IN

Received There Yesterday and Classed as Strict Middling

(Special to the Telegram) Terrell, Tex., Aug. 6.—Terrell received her first bale of this year's growth of cotton yesterday afternoon. Abe Andrews and Smith Clayton, colored, tenants on the W. C. McCord and Fleetwood farms, raised the staple, and it classed as third middling and sold for 9c per pound, and was purchased by L. Rash, representing H. L. Edwards & Co. Dallas.

The merchants of Terrell made up a premium of $28 and presented the producers in addition to the $37.80 the bale weighed out.

INVESTIGATING ALLEGED GAMBLING HOUSES AGAIN

A Number of Officers Visited Places on Jennings Avenue This Morning and Drew Blanks

Evidently the recent raids on gambling houses made by attaches of the county attorney's office had good effect in closing permanently those raided and had influence on others. As an evidence of this fact, a short while before noon today Messrs. Cummings and Buck, from the county attorney's office, Deputy Sheriff Fridge and Purvis, Deputy Constable Isbell and Police Clerk Newby visited two places on Jennings avenue at which the former two officers had reason to believe gambling was being carried on. They found both places closed tight with no signs of life thereabouts, except in the saloons below. Some little chiding was indulged in on the part of the saloonmen, all of which was taken in good part by the officers.

Messrs. Cummings and Buck do not propose to let up in their investigation, and say this trip was simply to satisfy themselves that their instructions were being obeyed.

NEGROES IN SESSION

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 6.—The Negro Young Peoples Christian and Educational congress, said to be the largest gathering of negroes ever held in this country opened this afternoon in the agricultural building at Piedmont park with an attendance estimated at 5,000 delegates. Welcoming addresses were made by Governor Chandler, Mayor Mimms and other distinguished citizens.

Bishop Gaines of the African Methodist Episcopal church, said the purpose of the congress was to quicken and invigorate the colored churches, Sunday schools and auxiliary societies, and other organizations whose efforts are towards moral elevation.

THE NEWCOMER AT PICKVILLE

(Original)

There is a flutter among the men of the mining town facetiously dubbed Pickville. Since the place has emerged from the grub (camp) into the butterfly (town) there have been but three women within its corporate limits, and they all married. Now comes a young woman styling herself Molly Grifton and sets up a small store. Mining supply dealers and gamblers are among the eligible men in Pickville, besides a young man, Arthur Huggins, in consumption, who came to save his life and to save souls, though he has neither church nor salary. The day after Molly Grifton's appearance every bachelor in the town was agog as to who would draw the prize, for it was not for a moment supposed that any good looking young woman would remain long in such a community without being appropriated. The question was parted like an algebraic problem. The parson was not considered at all; the mine owners had wives in the east; the merchants were none of them proficient with the gun; the miners were too busy to look after their interests. This left the gamblers to fight it out among themselves.

The most dreaded among the gamblers was Fox Armstrong, and when he was observed to stop at Molly Grifton's store and buy up the first edition of the stock, cleaning out the shelves entirely, the rest of the profession concluded to keep at a safe distance. But one man in Pickville had the audacity to buck against Fox Armstrong, and he was a young prospector named Stephen Bartlett. Stephen was the only man in town who seemed to find favor with the lady, and though he had not the means of wooing by trade, as in the case of Armstrong, the scale was turned in his favor by his manly and honest bearing, his cheerful disposition and certain ingenious traits which rendered him attractive to women. He was warned by his friends that as he valued his life he should refrain from any attention to Miss Molly.

As a freeracker has been known to kindle a city, so a meek and lowly man started the shooting that was bound in time to take place on account of Molly Grifton. Fox Armstrong one night ceased dealing faro at 11:30 o'clock on account of an indisposition, concluding that he would go to his room and turn in for the night early. Passing Molly Grifton's store, he was surprised, though all was dark within, to see the door standing ajar. Thinking that some one might be appropriating Molly's belongings and that he might win credit with her by capturing the thief, he sidled up to the door and listened. Low voices came from the room behind the store where Molly lived, the one a woman's, the other a man's. Armstrong at once assumed that his rival Bartlett was stealing a march upon him and got his revolver in position to handle readily at the exit of the intruder upon what he considered or wished to consider his own domain. Presently the two inside advanced to the shop.

"Come," said the girl; "take it. You are painting me by refusing."

"Do you suppose I could live a moment among these men if they knew you were furnishing me with money?"

"But they don't know it."

"Very well; I will take this. Next week I am going to work with a pick and shovel."

"You will do no such thing."

"There was the sound of a kiss, and the man stepped into the street.

Great heavens! It was the parson! Unconscious of being observed—for Armstrong occupied a position where he could not be seen—Arthur Huggins wended his way toward his room. Armstrong followed him and when in the center of a bridge across the gulch accosted him:

"You white livered hypocrite"—he was beginning, but paused. A step was heard on the far end of the bridge, and in a few moments Stephen Bartlett came up and was recognized under the starlight.

"Parson Huggins and Fox Armstrong together here at this time of night! What does it mean?"

"That he has been skulking with Molly Grifton, which I don't permit."

"He has as good a right as you any way," said Stephen.

"You give me great joy in taking his part," sneered Armstrong. "I can't kill a man with a woman's soul in him, but I can take care of"—

The words were never finished. Had he not had something of the contempt for Bartlett that he had for the parson he would have fired first and talked afterward. Stephen knew full well that firing, and quick firing, was essential or he would be a dead man. Armstrong dropped.

Molly Grifton heard the shot and, fearing that Huggins might have been waylaid, rushed upon the bridge.

"Stephen! Arthur! What does it mean?"

"That dog," said Stephen, "assumes sole right to you. I have maintained that Parson Huggins or any man you choose has an equal right."

"This is all my fault," cried Huggins bitterly as Molly bent over the wounded gambler to assist him. "Molly is my sister. I came here to recover my health. Having no means, I was about to return when she came out to help me. Knowing that this community would not respect me for being helped by a woman, she took another name and concealed our relationship."

The next day the town of Pickville was startled with the news that Stephen Bartlett had drowned Fox Armstrong and was going to marry Molly. The rest of the story was not divulged.

SARAH PARKE TRIMMINGHAM.

THE CASE AT CANE HILL

(Copyright, 1902, by C. B. Lewis.)

One day a stranger arrived at Cane Hill. He said he was Charles Williams and had $13,000 with which to start a bank. Soon after a dead body was found and identified as that of Williams.

John Carnes was arrested for the murder. He couldn't explain his whereabouts on the evening previous for a good reason. He was robbing a house. Another man suspected of being an ex-convict, Joel Fisher, was arrested, who also could not give his whereabouts on that evening because he was robbing a freight car. It was believed that he and Carnes were partners in the crime.

Still another man was arrested, a single man who kept house for himself. While no money was found, it was argued that he had buried the sum secured from Williams, and for three days more than 100 people were ransacking his house and barn and every foot of his land in hopes to unearth the treasure.

The name of the third party arrested was Black. He employed me to defend him. My first idea naturally was to prove an alibi. He claimed to me that he had not left his house during the evening. Living alone, we had only his unsupported word for this, and by accident I ascertained that he was lying to me. Three different persons had called at his house between 7 and 10 o'clock and found him absent. Then Black made a confession to me. A farmer with whom he had quarreled had a large barn on the farm three miles away, and Black had gone there to burn it. His intentions were bad enough, but the fire he kindled went out, and the barn did not burn. To clear himself of the one he must own up to the other.

As if the case was not complicated enough, the sheriff took another step. He worked at the two men first arrested until they "confessed" that Black planned the whole affair, did the killing and that they only watched to see that he was not interrupted. The prosecution now felt assured that it had a straight case, while I realized that Black must run the gantlet for his life. The sheriff naturally wanted to convict Black, and when Carnes and Fisher were "pressed" they cooked up a very plausible "confession."

I had verified Black's story. I had gone to the barn and found a candle in a box just where he had told me to look for it. I had timed his journey to and fro and found it occupied the interval stated. I had found mud on his boots which had come from a spot near the barn. However, when the case was called in the higher court I was appalled at the strength of the evidence against my client.

I could only prove one thing in defense—previous good character. Black boldly confessed that he had intended to burn the barn and thus accounted for his time, but it only hurt his case. Everybody jumped to the conclusion that a man who would commit arson would not scruple at murder. It was shown that he was hard up financially, that certain men were rather afraid of him, that he had been heard to make dire threats, and they could not have painted him blacker had he been one of the younger brothers.

On top of all this came the "confession." Carnes and Fisher had occupied the same cell for days and therefore agreed in all the details. They swore to meeting Black just outside the village. They entered the town to look for Williams and found him on the street. Fisher swore that he accosted him and directed him to the mill race, telling him that the owner of the mill wanted to see him. After the murder all went back to Black's house, where the money was to be divided. He had given Carnes and Fisher $50 apiece and put off the division for a week. While neither saw the blow struck nor the body flung into the water, both agreed as to what Black said on the way home. He had told them that Williams seemed suspicious and was about to run away when struck down.

I lost my case, of course. The jury went out simply for appearance's sake and in seven minutes returned with a verdict of guilty. You may ask what had been done to trace Williams. Very little. He had said he was from Chicago. No one knew his full address. The affair had been published in the Chicago papers, but no one had identified Williams as Williams. He seemed to have neither relatives nor acquaintances.

Black was to be sentenced to death, and Carnes and Fisher were to get off with a term in state prison. They had not yet been sentenced when Williams, the man who had been murdered and buried, returned to town as quietly as any other traveler. He left town on the night of the murder at 9 o'clock, going to Milwaukee to see about a bank safe and other things. He was taken ill en route and left the train at a small village where he had relatives. He had been sick with fever for weeks, and nothing whatever was known of the case.

My case was won by the reappearance of Williams. It was for his murder that Black had been tried. Who was the victim? That was never found out, though it was generally believed that he was one of a pair of bad men who had come to Cane Hill with some evil intent and had quarreled with and been done up by his pal. Carnes and Fisher at once went back on their "confession" and accounted for their time on that evening. This gave them away on the robberies, and they were duly tried and landed behind the bars.

WHITE QUILTS HIS PLACE

THE AMBASSADOR TO GERMANY TO LEAVE HIS POST ON NOVEMBER 7

Much Speculation Is Prevalent as to Who Will Succeed Him—He Received Appointment by McKinley in 1897

Berlin, Aug. 6.—Ambassador Andrew D. White mailed his resignation to the United States several days ago. It is to take effect early in November. The resignation may now be in the hands of President Roosevelt. The date set by the ambassador for his resignation to go into effect was November 7. He is now at Hamburg, where he is taking the waters and where he probably will remain until the end of the month.

There is much gossip at Berlin concerning Mr. White's probable successor, and one circumstantial story is, that the president intends to transfer Ambassador Tower from St. Petersburg to Berlin, Minister Storer from Spain to be ambassador to Russia, and to appoint Henry White, now secretary of embassy at London, as minister to Spain. Mr. Tower who has been dissatisfied with St. Petersburg, expressed months ago a wish to be transferred to some other equally desirable post, preferably Berlin.

Washington Unsettled.

Washington, Aug. 6.—No information has been received at the state department indicating that Ambassador White resigned, but the announcement was not unexpected as a report was current some time ago that he would retire from public life upon his reaching his seventieth birthday.

Several gentlemen in the diplomatic service have been mentioned in connection with the Berlin embassy should Ambassador White retire, the most prominent being Dr. David Jayne Hill, now first assistant secretary of state and Hon. Bellamy Storer, at present minister to Spain.

Ambassador White was appointed in 1897.

A DECAYED CORPSE FOUND

Gross Discovery of a Man Dead for Weeks (Special to the Telegram.)

Tyler, Tex., Aug. 6.—Two boys found the remains of a man in an old field one mile from Tyler. The man had been dead two or three weeks, as nearly all the flesh had either decayed from the bones or been eaten off by buzzards. It was impossible to tell whether he was white or black. He wore a red striped shirt and blue striped overalls. Decayed teeth indicated the deceased to have been an old man. No marks of violence were found. Officers were unable to determine the cause of his death or discover anything concerning him.

"I had diabetes in its worst form," writes Marion Lee of Dunreath, Ind. "I tried eight physicians without relief. Only three bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure made me a well man. Sold by Reeves' Pharmacy, Ward's Pharmacy, Arlington Drug Co."

FIRST BLOW CAUSES DEATH

Encounter Between Two Men Results in Immediate Disaster for One (Special to the Telegram.)

Longview, Aug. 6.—A fistie encounter between Ellie Newton and Owen Plumber Monday night resulted in Plumber's death by a blow over the heart. The two had trouble and Plumber began cursing Newton and hitting him, when Newton hit him, knocking him down, and his death resulted immediately. When Newton discovered he had killed his antagonist he picked the body up and carried it home. Newton waived an examination before Magistrate Burton and was placed under $500 bond, which was given immediately. Plumber was only about 17 years old.

CREAMERY FOR VAN ALSTYNE

Cheese Factory to Cost $7,500 Is Now Under Projection

Van Alstyne, Tex., Aug. 6.—This place is to have a $7,500 butter and cheese factory. A preliminary meeting of business men and representative farmers was held Saturday, at which J. Fred Williams, representing a Chicago firm, entered into a contract to erect and equip a factory. Soliciting committees were at once put to work and over $5,000 of stock has been taken. The farmers of the community are being visited and it is expected the full amount of the stock will be subscribed.

NEWSPAPER PUBLISHED AT SEA

The new system of wireless telegraphy renders possible the realization of the prediction that newspapers would be published on the ocean liners. They could not, however, be as much up-to-date or effective as those published on land. In this respect they would differ widely from the famous Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, because it has been proven to be just as effective on sea as on land. We would therefore urge everyone contemplating an ocean trip to take a supply with them. It is invaluable as a tonic and preventive of sea-sickness. Those who remain on land should always keep a bottle of it in the house to cure heartburn, indigestion, dyspepsia, constipation and malaria. Don't fail to try it.

HE WILL PAY A DEAR PRICE

John Homer to Hang for Committing an Assault

Montross, Va., Aug. 6.—In the Westmoreland county court, under guard of the Fredericksburg militia, the jury returned a verdict of guilty in the case of John Homer, alias Lomax, colored, indicted for committing a criminal assault on Miss Susie Costenbader, aged 15 years, near her home at Potomac Mills. Judge Beale pronounced sentence of death and fixed Sept. 9 as the day of execution. The prisoner was turned over to Captain Rowe of the militia and will be taken back to Alexandria, Va., for safe keeping.

Many persons in this community are suffering from kidney complaint who could avoid fatal results by using Foley's Kidney Cure. Sold by Reeves' Pharmacy, Ward's Pharmacy, Arlington Drug Co.

THE COTTON CROP IN SIGHT IN TEXAS STATE

DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 6.—The situation in the cotton crop of the Dallas district—and, for that matter, of the entire state—is one of perplexing uncertainty. The chances are decidedly more favorable to an unusually large crop than a small one. The tremendous rainfalls of the last two weeks and the attendant destructive floods have created the uncertainty. The crop will stand all the rain that has fallen without serious damage, if the clear, dry, warm weather that started in on July 31 continues for a period of two weeks. This looks as if it will be the case. But if more rain falls and the cloudy, cold conditions of the last two weeks are renewed, then the crop will be almost sure to suffer irreparable loss, July rains, in the volume just experienced, are the most dangerous that can fall during the cotton-growing season in this section of Texas. It is just the period when the crop is on the verge of maturing and needs the sunshine and warm nights. The long drouth had put the Texas cotton lands in condition to accept an abnormal quantity of water, and that is why the recent floods are not likely to prove disastrous to the crop as a whole.

The plant as a rule in the Dallas territory is of robust—almost gigantic—size. It is waist high in many places and full of rank growth. Farmers generally say warm, clear, dry weather for two weeks to come will

A HOLD UP IN ILLINOIS

BURLINGTON LIMITED STOPPED BY ROBBERS NEAR SAVANNAH

Express Car Is Looted—Report Says the Thieves Secured $20,000—Train Stopped By Putting Torpedoes on Track

Chicago, Aug. 6.—Masked men held up the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy limited northbound train two miles north of Savannah, Ill., at 11:30 Tuesday night. They cut off the Adams express car, forced the engineer to run up the track and then blew up the express car.

The robbers torpedoed the track and when the torpedoes exploded the engineer quickly brought the train to a stop. One man boarded the engine, ordered the engineer to run ahead, while the other man cut the express car off.

The train crew hurried on to Savannah and gave the alarm and a posse of officers and citizens armed with shotguns and revolvers hastened to the scene.

The limited is said to carry heavy and valuable express packages nightly. It is reported that the robbers secured about $20,000.

At the Burlington offices in this city the news of the daring and successful work of the bandits was confirmed.

The train which was looted is known as No. 47, leaving Chicago at 6:30 p. m., and is a through train for Minneapolis.

The officials of the railroad company were unable to give any information as to the amount of booty secured by the robbers, or to say definitely whether any of the trainmen had been injured during the exciting encounter.

MURDER AT DES MOINES.

Leader Against Gambling Knocked Over the Head and Killed

Des Moines, Aug. 6.—Isaac Finkelstein, whose crusade against public gambling closed eight houses in Des Moines two weeks ago, was murdered Tuesday night at an alley entrance between Sixth and Seventh streets, on East Walnut street. He was on his way home, less than a block and a half away, when a man stepped out of the shadow of the alley and struck him a blow over the head with a single-tree, crushing his skull. The murder is supposed to have resulted from Finkelstein's action in prosecuting the gamblers. He did not object to public gambling, but wanted the city to receive a revenue from it, and when the police did not raid the houses he filed complaints with the sheriff. The resultant raids proved so expensive that the gamblers closed their places.

Other revolutionists were condemned by the same court to various terms of imprisonment, the longest of which is 25 years.

DELINQUENT CORPORATION

Over Five Hundred Failed to Make the Anti-Trust Affidavits Required.

Austin, Aug. 6.—The secretary of state is at work certifying to district and county attorneys, the names of district corporations which have failed to comply with the anti-trust law by not filing before Aug. 1 affidavits to the effect that they are not members of any pool, trust or combination in violation of the anti-trust law. There are 500 of the domestic corporations delinquent, a number of which are the oil companies which sprang up and died a peaceful death, and proceedings against which will amount to nothing. The prosecuting attorneys will institute suits against the delinquents to forfeit their right to do business. There are just 132 foreign corporations which have failed to file the affidavit, and it is the duty of the attorney general to bring suit in their case. Among this list are included the several insurance companies which have withdrawn from Texas and a number of oil and other concerns.

Gray, representing themselves as agents and delegates of the Creek Indian tribe in Indian Territory, have brought suit to enjoin Secretary Hitchcock and Commissioner of Indian Affairs Jones from proceeding in execution of what is known as the Creek agreement for allotments, etc. They ask to be allowed to remain in undisturbed enjoyment of their landed interests and that such property as already has been taken from them under the agreement and the ratifying act be restored.

Galveston, Tex., Aug. 6.—The city commissioners accepted a compromise offer from Leon Levi in settlement of his suit against the city for $100,000 as contingent fees based upon the reclamation of certain flats from the state in the western part of the city. He represented the city several years ago and claimed a big fee, which was refused, and he entered suit, which case is still pending in court. He offered to take $2,500 cash, and the commissioners accepted, as it would cost the city several thousand dollars to defend the case.

A CLOUD BURST AT MANITOU

Colorado Summer Resort Presents Sorrowful Spectacle

Colorado Springs, Aug. 6.—Manitou presented a sorrowful spectacle Tuesday night. There was a cloudburst in the vicinity of Woodland park in the afternoon, and the flood that descended Ute Pass did great damage. There is not a wagon bridge left in Ute Pass below Cascade. The rainbow fall, one of the beauty spots of the vicinity, has been put out of existence, and the carriage road is washed out completely. Wreckage consisting of household goods, lumber, railroad ties, bridge timbers and tree trunks, is piled twenty feet high in Soda Springs park.

There are many reports of loss of life, but none is confirmed.

The Denver and Rio Grande railroad lost a bridge between Manitou and Colorado Springs, and is washed out at Butte and Wigwam.

The Colorado Midland line is totally destroyed in Ute Pass.

Drouth in Colorado Over.

Denver, Colo., Aug. 6.—The drouth which has prevailed in Colorado for several weeks has been broken. A cloudburst occurred south of this city, and railways were washed out between Colorado Springs and Pueblo. At Pueblo the Arkansas river is bank full, and has broken a levee and flooded the state insane asylum's big garden, doing great damage. Reports of damage have been received from other places in that vicinity.

Facts about your trouble

There is no more sense in paying big fees to a great medical specialist when you are distressed with liver and kidney trouble, than there is in trying to heal a broken limb with putty.

Fifty years ago as Dr. McLean treated the most complicated cases, curing and bringing hope and happiness to his great number of patients, he did not have one-fiftieth as many medicines as his fellow doctors have to-day. The wonderful success of his cures proves that the simple common sense remedies he employed were right. His theory was to go direct to the seat of the trouble and apply the simplest form of remedy there.

The McLean way of reaching the trouble, which has stood the test of a half century of successful life-saving, is simple, safe and sure. It is the good, old-fashioned, practical method of going direct to the evil to quickly relieve suffering. Nothing will take the place, nothing can replace.

McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm

It should be used at the beginning of the trouble, but it is equally safe and sure even if taken when the trouble has taken deep root.

In new cases a cure will result in a short time. In very bad, chronic cases, it is equally effective, but patience is necessary and the need to keep up the treatment faithfully. Kidney and liver troubles are stubborn, and only a persistent use of this reliable remedy will cure them.

HOLDING THEIR OWN. Some cynical writers claim that the churches are not as popular as formerly with the people, because the revelations of science, an increasing liberty of thought and act, and a destructive criticism have circumscribed their authority, but their growth is a remarkable phenomena of the age.

We have only to look at the fine church buildings of Fort Worth to see that the old power of the church is as strong as ever in this city. Attention to the strength of the church is called to it now by the many news items concerning church buildings. Not long ago we had descriptions of the great Roman Catholic cathedral in London, a magnificent specimen of church architecture that might almost suggest a rivalry with some of the splendid medieval monuments to religion. Recently it was reported that the Methodists had paid $1,650,000 for a site in the same city on which to erect a central headquarters that will be constructed on a grand scale.

In New York plans have been completed for the new Broadway Tabernacle which is to cost $400,000. The new Episcopal church at St. John, the Divine, has cost millions, and the fine Roman Catholic cathedral which belongs to the same epoch, though it is somewhat older, is another very imposing and costly structure.

All over the land church edifices are going up. The churches and power are evidences of vitality, for contributions in these immense buildings funds are more than ever voluntary. They can be explained by a large measure of popular approval and by an intense popular desire for extraordinary loyalty to the church.

But the costly cathedrals and other church buildings tell only a part of the story. It is said of the Methodists of this country that they erect a church every day in the year, and if the assertion is not strictly true it is a fair, as well as a vivid way of suggesting their activity in building. And as other churches are active also and effective according to their membership we have each year new churches enough to cover the site of a good sized town.

Persons who proclaim the decline of the church should pause a moment to reflect upon these interesting and significant facts.

TRUST PROFIT PAID BY THE PEOPLE

(From the St. Louis Republic.) Contemplating the figures of the amazing profits of the Steel Trust for the past three months, some $37,691,696, the Philadelphia Bulletin, an independent Republican newspaper, confesses that this raises the question whether the time has not come for a reduction in the tariff on iron and steel.

The Bulletin makes a very frank analysis of the significance of the situation. It points out that the most recent three months' earnings of the Steel Trust indicate that the annual profits of the concern will be only a trifle below $150,000,000, or about half a million for every working day of the whole 12 months. This exhibit of enormous and unparalleled profits logically demands tariff reduction. "The query," says the Bulletin, "why the public should be forced to pay prices which give the combination a surplus over operating expenses of some $3,000,000 a week is likely to be pressed with increasing earnestness in the interval before the next assemblage of congress."

This truth is so obvious that the stubborn blindness of the Republican party to the duty of the hour is astonishing, unless accounted for by the fact that the Republican party is so absolutely dominated and controlled by the trusts that it dare not look the couragement held out to outside investors. The time is propitious for a boom, not of the inflated kind, but a substantial progress in the way of development that will gather momentum as time goes on, and that will soon make the state blossom with the richest fragrance of a genuine and unprecedented prosperity. Texas has suffered in the past because of the large crop calamity howlers it produced each year. Through these political and commercial pests the state has been improperly and injuriously advertised, and there has been crop failures and political demagoguery enough to give color to the predictions peddled by pessimists. But the calamity howler has been scourged into silence and the world is invited to watch Texas grow. Those who desire to invest their surplus money where they will be protected, but not plundered, are cordially invited to come and help us develop the vast resources in agricultural and mineral wealth that abound here in dazzling magnitude. With such prospects it will not require a second invitation. Men of means have already observed the promise of the Texas field, and they are coming. Texans no longer mistrust the alien capitalist, but will join him in hastening the industrial development of the great commonwealth.

AS VIEWED OVER IN DALLAS

Times-Herald Takes Snap Shot at Assessment Proposition

The Dallas Times-Herald has this view of a local subject: Trouble appears to be brewing over at the other end of the Suburban trolley line—Oak Cliff, but Fort Worth.

Over in Fort Worth they have grand juries just like there, are in Dallas. The Fort Worth grand jurors have made a most wonderful discovery. They have ascertained that there are wealthy men in Fort Worth, and that these wealthy people have been telling fibs to the tax assessor. Just think of such a violation of social etiquette as telling stories to the horrible assessor who has the impudence to want to know what you own! Why, he's liable to ask old maids concerning their age. Now, over in Dallas, everything is so different. All the land, the buildings, the stocks of goods, the railroads, the cars, engines, horses, buggies, pianos, furniture, stocks, bonds, money—everything—is assessed. Yes, all these things are assessed for $25,000,000. Less than half of all this property is insured for $80,000,000. But the idea of a Fort Worth grand jury declaring they will indict for perjury all who have sworn falsely to their assessments! Don't the grand jurors know there is a difference between perjury pure and simple and perfunctory perjury? They ought to know it's not sinful to lie to the inquisitive assessor—it's only telling a "white lie," as the children say.

ALL WERE SAVED. "For years I suffered such untold misery from Bronchitis," writes J. H. Johnson, of Broughton, Ga., "that often I was unable to work. Then, when everything else failed, I was wholly cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. My wife suffered intensely from Asthma, till it cured her, and all our experience goes to show it is the best Croup medicine in the world." A trial will convince you it's unrivalled for Throat and Lung diseases. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00 Trial bottles free at Guthrie & Guthrie, 502 Main street.

Notice to Taxpayers. The City Assessor's books are now ready and the Board of Equalization will convene on Monday, June 23d, in the City Assessor's office in the City Hall and continue in session every day thereafter, excepting Sunday, from 10 to 12 o'clock in the forenoon and from 2 to 4 o'clock in the afternoon. All owners of real estate are requested to bring descriptions of their property with them when coming to inquire values.

It is very important that all owners of real estate should appear before the Board of Equalization as a great many changes in values have been made since last year. Many improvements have been made since Jan. 1st, last, that may possibly appear on the tax rolls for this year and all mistakes of this or any other character will be corrected by the Board of Equalization on application of the owners. Be sure and bring descriptions of your real estate with you. G. H. DAY, City Tax Assessor and Collector.

MOTHER'S CLEVER RUSE TO DESERT HER BABE

On a Pretext That She Wanted to do Some Washing, She Left the Child With Strangers—Her Whereabouts Unknown

A young son of Mrs. G. W. Terry residing at 111 Galveston avenue, reported to Chief Rea late yesterday afternoon that a baby about three months old had been deserted and by its mother, presumably, and was then in the care of his mother, Mrs. Terry, at the number indicated.

The young man related to Chief Rea that the woman appeared at his mother's home about 11 o'clock Monday morning and requested to be allowed to come in and do some laundry work for the baby, saying she had just arrived on a train and was a stranger in the city. Mrs. Terry permitted her to come in and granted her the use of her laundry utensils. In a few minutes the woman suggested she would go out and purchase some soap. Mrs. Terry told her to use the soap she had provided for her, but the woman suggested a different kind. Mrs. Terry's little daughter offered to go for it, but the strange woman declined the proposal, and finally slipped away, and has not been seen or heard of since.

Mrs. Terry cared for the child, but is anxious to place it with some family, and notified Rev. I. Z. T. Morris, with a request that he take the matter up and provide a home for the child.

FORT WORTH'S FIRST BALE BROUGHT IN AND SOLD

FORT WORTH received her first bale of cotton yesterday afternoon. The staple was raised by J. B. Broome, whose farm is near Mansfield. It classed as strict middling, and was sold to highest bidder in front of the Frisco general offices on Main and Eighth streets.

Simon Gabert, the farmers' friend, was the purchaser at 8 1/8c per pound. It weighed out 465 pounds, and in addition to the $32.42 1-2, Mr. Gabert made up among the merchants a premium of $59.50 for Mr. Broome. Thus he received $93.92 for the first bale to be brought to Fort Worth this year.

The Premium Fund Among the contributors to the premium fund are: Neil P. Anderson & Co., F. McPeak & Co., George Hoffman, W. R. Edrington, N. Harding, W. C. Stripling, The Fair, White Mercantile company, The Parker-Lowe company, Farmers and Mechanics bank, Montgomery & Co., Cash, Fakes & Co., Carter-Battle Grocer company, H. W. Williams & Co., Monnig Dry Goods company, The Columbia, Lane & Rail, Mickle-Burgher Hardware company, Childers Drug company, H. C. Pettigrew, Texas Implement and Transfer company, Cash, T. James & Sons, Fort Worth Implement company, William Henry & Co., Nobby Harness company. The contributions were from $2.50 to $5.

Last Year's First Bale The first bale last year brought to Fort Worth was from the same vicinity and was raised by E. A. Erwin. It came in ten days earlier than this year's bale, caused by a better general season for growing and dryer weather for gathering. This year cotton was retarded by drouth, and then just at gathering time of this particular crop incessant rainfall kept the pickers from the field. Otherwise the bale brought in yesterday would have been here August 1.

There is but little cotton raised in the vicinity of Fort Worth, yet the information obtained by cotton men is that the acreage generally this year exceeds that of last, and the impression is that there will be an improvement in prices. The yield, too, will exceed expectations contained a few weeks ago, because of the fact that the dry season enabled the producer to keep his crop clean, and when the recent general rains came an impetus highly beneficial was given to the crop.

WAS NOT JIM QUARLES OF TEXAS

President Roosevelt Designated Tennessee Man of Same Name to Take Examination for the Army—He is a Republican

James Hays Quarles, formerly of Fort Worth, now attached to the Charleston, W. Va., Gazette, is not to enter the regular army as announced by a West Texas newspaper a few days ago.

President Roosevelt designated a number of military aspirants who should present themselves for examination for lieutenant's commissions and among them was J. C. Quarles of Tennessee, a Republican, and not even a relative of the former Fort Worth man.

Mr. Quarles' friends say the only time he was known to have a desire for army life was when the troops were mustered into service against Spain. He applied to Governor Culbertson for commission as adjutant of the Fourth Texas infantry, but the berth was given to Major Spencer Hutchins, the social leader of Houston.

Mr. Quarles, it is said, will stump West Virginia for the Democrats in their next state campaign.

CONSUMPTION THREATENED. "I was troubled with a hacking cough for a year and I thought I had consumption," says C. Unger, 211 Maple St., Champaign, Ill. "I tried a great many remedies and I was under the care of physicians for several months. I used one bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar. It cured me, and I have not been troubled since." WATCH FOR A CHILL. However slight at this time of year and in this climate, it is the forerunner of malaria. A disposition to yawn, and an all tired out feeling even comes before the chill. Herbine, by its prompt stimulative action on the liver, drives the malarial germs out of the system, purifies the blood, tones up the system and restores health. 50c at H. T. Pangburn & Co's.

TEXAS CATTLE OVER IN CUBA They Have to Cut the Grass There to Find the Stock

Colonel Hezekiah Williams of Austin, Tex., said to the San Antonio Express reporter: "I have about 3,000 cattle on the island. I bought and leased pastures in the province of Puerto Principe while over there last winter and shipped the cattle, 2,000 stock cattle and 1000 steers, from Galveston in April. I believe that I have the best herd of cattle over there, as there have been heavy importations of cattle both from Mexico and Florida. There is certainly no lack of grass over there, and as an instance will state that my foreman has written to me to send him over a mowing machine as it will be necessary to cut the grass before he can find the cattle. I haven't shipped the machine yet, however. He also writes me that it rains regularly twice a day. I don't know how readily the inhabitants of the island will accept an improved type of beef, but I am in a fair way to find out. Don't you think so?"

COTTON CROP WILL BE A LARGE ONE

Assistant General Freight Agent Fyfe of the Cotton Belt Says Production of the Staple Will Be Heavy This Season

Assistant General Freight Agent Fyfe of the Cotton Belt was here yesterday making a tour of the lines in Texas. He says territory along the Cotton Belt will have the heaviest cotton crop for several years.

"Reports that the country will suffer for cotton," said he to the Telegram last night, "has no foundation. I am now making a freight train trip over the lines to see the condition of facilities for handling what will be a large crop of the staple. This is necessary, for when the cotton begins to move it will require much equipment and enlarged station facilities to handle it."

ANOTHER INTERURBAN LINE The Sherman-Denison System May Be Extended to Dallas

W. L. Lemmon of Sherman, Tex., while in Dallas the other day reported that there is talk of extending the electric line between Sherman and Denison to Dallas by way of McKinney. He said that the car line was doing a good business and had up to this time nearly earned the total cost of building it. Mr. Lemmon stated that the cotton between Dallas and Sherman was the finest he had ever seen.

TRACTION COMPANY TO BUILD MORE LINE Contemplated Extension of Route in North Fort Worth Has Sent Property Prices Up—A Loop Line Is Doubtful

The Northern Texas Traction company contemplate making an addition to its line in North Fort Worth, which will involve the building of another line or transforming the present one into a loop.

If the former, another line will be continued out Main street from Central avenue where the present one turns to reach the temporary stock yard's exchange. The new line will curve eastward and turn directly east to, where the new exchange building is to stand. The situation at the yards does not seem to justify the loop line, they say, as it would be a continuation from the present terminus to the west taking up the route described from the new exchange building site, and involve a dangerous crossing with the Stock Yards company's belt railroad.

The contemplated improvement will be taken up and adjusted by Manager Haines as soon as work on the new exchange building is begun. Real estate people say prices on property bordering along the thoroughfare in which the new line is to operate have gone up somewhat since the Traction company's plans became known.

is due to the retention in the system of Uric Acid or other inflammatory poisons which find their way into the blood, and are forced by the circulation through the glands and pores of the skin, causing it to burn like fire, and the incessant itching allows no rest night or day. Eczema appears in a great many different forms, beginning frequently as a mere redness of the skin, followed by little blisters or pimples, from which a clear or straw colored matter oozes, forming into sores, scales or scabs this is weeping Eczema, commonly called Salt Rheum. These acid poisons sometimes dry up the natural oils and the skin becomes hard and dry, often cracking and bleeding and causing intense pain and fearful itching. This form of Eczema is known as Tetter, and oftenest attacks the hands and feet. Unsightly eruptions in the shape of pimples and blackheads break out upon the face, neck and shoulders as a result of polluted blood, and this humiliating disease is called Acne. Local remedies afford but scant relief. The blood and system being saturated with the poison, the disease cannot be reached with washes, salves, powders or other local applications. S. S. S. restores the deteriorated blood to its normal condition, stimulates the sluggish organs, and all the waste matter is eliminated through the proper channels. S. S. S. makes the blood rich and strong, and under its tonic and invigorating effects the general health improves, and the skin becomes soft and smooth again.

S. S. S. contains no minerals but is guaranteed purely vegetable. Write us if you need medical advice; this will cost you nothing. Illustrated book on skin diseases sent free.

A NEW HEAVEN AND A NEW EARTH

By Associate Justice DAVID J. BREWER of the United States Supreme Court

THE other evening my eight-year-old grandson asked his father if anything in the Bible was true. His father, in order to suggest the difference between narrative of fact and allegory, after stating that the words of the Master were all true, said in respect to the book of Revelation that it might be considered something like a dream.

THE DREAM OF JOHN IS THE HOPE AND FAITH OF STRUGGLING HUMANITY. Along life's toilsome way for unnumbered centuries the race has marched, looking evermore to the new heavens and earth on the far distant heights, and as from century to century it slowly ascends its mountain path the vision grows brighter and brighter, nearer and more glorious.

Will they grapple all these questions and, grappling, fight the good fight which ends in victory and so make the republic in the judgment of all not merely a world power, but the world power?

How Savings Give Strength and Independence

By JOHN D. HICKS, President of the Bowery Savings Bank, New York

IT GOES WITHOUT SAYING THAT THE MAN WHO IS NOT PROVIDENT AND DOES NOT LAY UP FOR A RAINY DAY HAS NOT THE FIRST ELEMENT OF ADVANCEMENT.

He needs to learn of his little neighbors, the squirrels and the bees. There comes a time when one's savings are needed, and there also comes a time when they are not only needed, but become a storehouse from which he may use the energies which he has accumulated.

The accumulation of savings eliminates the fear of want and gives consciousness of strength. THE POSSESSOR OF SAVINGS, HOWEVER SMALL, KNOWS THAT HE HAS SOMETHING TO FALL BACK UPON. THE ARMY THAT HAS NO COMMISSARY IN THE REAR HAS BUT LITTLE ENERGY TO GIVE TO THE FIGHT IN FRONT.

Microscopic Matter.

Particles of matter too small to be discerned with the naked eye float through the atmosphere and bear, like a microscopic fleet, uncountable millions of organisms whose combined attack suffices to render a large fraction of the human race miserable.

Wing Muscles.

The muscles of a bird's wings are twenty times more powerful, proportionately speaking, than those of a man's arm.

The Siamese Ramet.

The Siamese have an instrument which they call the ramet, a species of harmonicon, with seventeen different wooden keys, united by cords and resting upon a stand, each strip of wood giving a different note. The instrument is played with two wooden hammers.

How We Increase.

It is believed that the world's population is increasing at the rate of nearly 6,000,000 a year. The most populous continent is Asia.

A Floral Tent.

Construct a floral tent in this manner: Connect the tall center stake with the low stakes surrounding it in a circle or triangle by lengths of stout twine. Train morning glories, Japanese hop vines or jack and the beanstalk along the strings, water generously, and the thing is done.

The sleeping-car that leaves Fort Worth on our night train is ready to receive passengers at NINE o'clock, each evening, and this car is set out at Colorado Springs for guests to vacate at their leisure. The place where the car waits is only about six miles from the mountains, and a beautiful sight greets the wakers from that long, refreshing Colorado sleep—under blankets.

This night train also has a sleeper that goes into Denver, reaching there at a comfortable rising time.

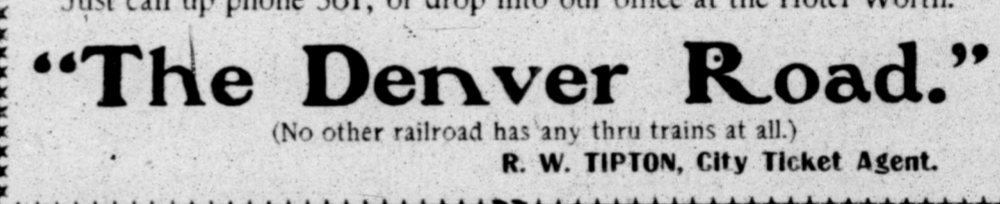

Both of our daily THRU TRAINS have those sleepers with "Large, Ladies' Dressing rooms," also meals served in our own Cafe Dining cars—a la carte service, 25c and up per individual. These special features of distinguishing excellence are among the characteristics that have, now for some time, made appropriate the "Only One Road"—and "You Don't Have to Apologize" verdict of persons who are capable of appreciating good service and making distinctions.

HAL SPERRY MEETS PRESIDENT

Former Union Pacific Man Tells One of His Adventures
Hal Sperry, private secretary to Vice President Keeler of the Fort Worth and Denver, was in town recently, says the Denver Times. He was formerly a clerk in the local office of the Union Pacific. One night he was working when a heavily built man with a full beard came to the door. The man rattled the door, but Sperry did not notice him. Again and again the man shook the door violently. Finally Sperry got up and opened it. "What do you mean by coming here at this time of the night rattling doors?" demanded Sperry. "Don't you know that we close at 6 o'clock?" "I am Mr. Burt, the president of the Union Pacific," said the man. "If I had known who he was," said Mr. Sperry afterwards, "I'd have thrown a chair through the window, if it were necessary to let him in promptly."

Dr. A. W. Acheson, general surgeon for the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway in Denison, and a prominent Republican leader, has announced as a candidate for state chairman against Carl Lyon of Sherman. Another candidate is Terrell of San Antonio.

The Grayson county Republican executive committee held a meeting in Denison yesterday and had a row over the date for holding primaries. There was a clash between Dr. Acheson and Chairman Lyon, the former calling the latter a dictator. Dr. Acheson was the Republican candidate against Bailey for congress eight years ago and polled an increased vote. He is a brother of Congressman Acheson of Pittsburg, Pa.

WHARTON-SPOONTS MARRIAGE

Fort Worth and Houston Identified in a Wedding Yesterday
A very pleasing surprise was the wedding yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Spoonst, in which Miss Adele, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Spoonst, was married to Clarence Ray Wharton, a young attorney, from Houston. Rev. Dr. Werlein of the First M. E. church pronounced the ceremony.

Only a very few of the intimate friends of the young people were apprised of the affair, there being no cards. It was simply a pretty home wedding. Both are prominent in social circles in their respective cities. The bridal couple departed last night for Denver and other Colorado points and will be absent several days, returning to Houston via Fort Worth, making a brief stop here.

SURPRISES FRENCH

W. K. VANDERBILT BREAKS THE PARISIAN RECORD FOR AUTO TIME

New York, Aug. 6.—W. K. Vanderbilt has broken the automobile records for a mile and almost for a kilometre, according to a Paris dispatch to the New York American. He drove the car used in the Ardennes circuit race. The course was along the road between Ablis and Starnaul, flying along the mile in 48 2-5 seconds and the kilometre in 29 2-5 seconds.

The kilometre time has been beaten only by two-fifths of a second. The previous world's record for one mile by an automobile was held by Henri Fournier. It was made in a record competition held under the auspices of Long Island Automobile club over the Coney Island boulevard, between Prospect park and Coney Island, Brooklyn, on November 16 last. The course was straight away and practically a dead level. The mile was electrically timed in 51 4-5 seconds, a rate of 69 1-2 miles an hour. Other records for a mile are: Train, 32 seconds; horse, one minute 35 1-2 seconds; bicycle, 57 4-5 seconds (Murphy behind locomotive), and running record, four minutes 12 3-4 seconds.

MORE PRAISE FOR FORT WORTH

FARM AND RANCH PARTY EXPRESS THEMSELVES FREELY ABOUT THE TOWN

ALL OF ONE OPINION

The North Side Will be a Town of 15,000 in Five Years—Former Attorney General Crane Sounds Key Note

(Special to the Telegram)
Dallas, Tex., Aug. 6.—The members of the Farm and Ranch party who went to Fort Worth in Col. J. W. Maxwell's private car to attend the editor's banquet and inspect the stock yards are back in Dallas full of praises for the hospitable manner in which they were entertained.

The Panther, they declare, was very wide-awake and on close acquaintance proved to be an exceedingly attractive beast. The day spent in Fort Worth was one of unalloyed pleasure. The packing houses, it is admitted, will go far towards making Fort Worth a great town and, it is further pointed out, the benefits will be shared by all the people of the southwest. "I had heard a great deal of the big packing plants," said Col. Joe Maxwell, general superintendent for the Katy, who was with the party, "but my expectations were more than realized when I saw the big buildings in the course of construction. They will mean an increase in railway traffic, and in the output of the farms and ranches of the southwest almost beyond estimate. The stock yards and packing companies, the Traction company, the brewery and the people of Fort Worth generally, entertained the visitors in a way to make them long mindful of the hospitality and enterprise of that city."

E. P. Turner, general passenger agent of the Texas and Pacific, said: "One of the most pleasant features of the day was the manifest harmony in which Dallas and Fort Worth are working for the advancement of North Texas. This was shown in the numerous speeches by residents of both cities. The interests of the two cities are in the main identical and the bond of union can not be made too strong. The day in Fort Worth I enjoyed immensely."

W. O'Connell, auditor for the Katy, expressed himself: "It is necessary to see in order to believe the great things that are being done at Fort Worth for the advancement of Texas. The Swift and Armour companies are making good every promise that has been made."

A. Catuna of the Kansas City Southern, said: "I believe the packing industry will add 15,000 to the population of Fort Worth inside of five years."

Hon. O. P. Bowser, former state senator, remarked: "The packing plants are in themselves great and they are the forerunners of other industrial enterprises that will add to the wealth and population and prosperity of the great Southwest."

W. Grice of the Waters-Pierce Oil company, expressed his surprise: "To find such material progress in the building up of the great packing houses which Fort Worth has secured was a matter of pleasant surprise. The meeting of the editors was by the courtesies of the stock yards people and the citizens of Fort Worth made all that could have been desired."

Former Attorney General M. M. Crane was not disappointed. He said: "I expected to find great progress on the Fort Worth enterprises and I was not disappointed. The location of such establishments as those of Armour and Swift show that capital is not afraid to come into Texas under existing laws."

G. A. Hickok, another of the Katy, said: "Fort Worth gave us an example of true southern hospitality. Nothing was omitted that could in any way have added to the pleasure of the guests. Fort Worth has always been a live stock center and with the coming of the packing industries she bids fair to become a great city."

C. H. Mullen of the Big "4" is happy over his visit: "Too much can not be said of the lavish manner in which the guests were entertained. Fort Worth has always been noted for its hospitality and the stock yards and packing companies did more than was necessary to fully sustain the reputation already established by the city. It was a great day and will not be soon forgotten by the guests."

Cyrus W. Strain of the Frisco system, enjoyed himself, and had this to say: "I have just one complaint to make—the day wasn't long enough to properly enjoy the good things we found in Fort Worth. As entertainers the citizens of Fort Worth and especially the stock yards people deserve to be placed in the front rank."

VOLCANIC ACTION IN WEST INDIES

A Government Official Defines Line of Danger and Gives His Views as to the Proper Course to Be Pursued

(Associated Press Correspondence)
Fort de France, Martinique, July 29.—In an interview today with a representative of the Associated Press James A. Jagers, Jr., assistant geologist to the United States geological survey, who has been investigating volcanic conditions in the West Indies, said: "I have been fortunate in seeing a real eruption, before I go and the eruption of the night of July 9, seems to have been a very characteristic one. Mount Pelee has impressed me as being much more venomous looking than the Soufriere of St. Vincent. The question has been constantly asked me, do you not think it is finished now, is not the danger over? I have always answered: 'The mountain at this moment appears calm and the dust columns that one sees from time to time are largely due to landslides from the crater into the head of Riviere Blanche.' The eruption of that night was to be expected. We may expect many more before so hot and vigorous a steam engine as Mount Pelee comes to rest."

Danger to Inhabitants

"A diagnosis of the real dimension in activity can be made after the mountain has been watched a year and all its movements recorded. After watching events here since May 21 I do not think a single habitation northwest of the line from Bellefontaine to Vive is safe to live in at present. I do not think that Carbet, Fonds St. Denis, Morne Rouge or Basse point are safe at present. Not that there is any immediate danger, but I believe that the action of Mount Pelee is too uncertain for us to be assured that future eruption may not occur to windward."

"The greater part of destruction wrought by the Soufriere in St. Vincent was on the windward or easterly side and Mount Pelee is in many respects a twin sister to the St. Vincent volcano. I gave the same advice without hesitation at St. Vincent, although the Soufriere there was much quieter than is Mount Pelee. I know well that causing people to move from all these villages and habitations will produce great inconvenience, but the alternative is a risk of human life. When the mountain is entirely cold, and the people are protected by a properly equipped experiment station, with advices to signal danger, they may with certain restrictions, return to the volcanic lands. No city should ever again, however, be built on the northeast end of the island."

Fort de France Is Safe

"I do not think that Fort de France is in any danger from the volcano. 'Most of the towns in the West Indies are equally in danger from tidal waves. It would take an explosion from Mount Pelee of enormously greater dimension than anything that has happened as yet to make a wave which would harm Fort de France. No evidence exists of augmenting violence in the eruptions hitherto which would lead to the supposition that a Krakatoa explosion is coming here. In comparison Mount Pelee is rather a small volcano. This is all I can say about danger."

FOOD TREATMENT.

Old Stomachs Made Over

Improper medicine knocks out as many stomachs as bad food, but proper food will nearly always restore the health that nature intended. "I suffered with chronic constipation for a long time and two years ago became an invalid, being unable to retain anything on my stomach," says Mrs. F. M. Buss of Millersburg, Ky. Physicians pronounced it catarrh of the stomach and bowels. In fact, the entire alimentary canal was involved, caused they said, by continued use of purgatives. For several weeks I could not retain more than a teaspoonful of any kind of fluid at any time and at this stage of my illness a friend suggested that I try Grape-Nuts.

I commenced by taking only a teaspoonful at a time of the water poured, while boiling, over two teaspoonfuls of the Grape-Nuts. In five days, I was able to digest a teaspoonful of the Grape-Nuts themselves, and in less than a month could digest an ordinary meal. I can eat anything now, after having used Grape-Nuts for nearly two years, and am entirely cured of constipation. It is a wholesome, pure and invigorating food."

ESCAPED PRISONERS TRY TO ROB A FARMER IN KANSAS

SETH WELLS GIVES GOOD ADVICE

He Tells Farmers to Sell Wheat and Corn and Avoid Shrinkage

Topeka, Aug. 6.—Seth Wells, of Erie, Republican nominee for state auditor, is not only an editor but also an authority on agricultural subjects. He gives this advice in the last issue of his paper about the marketing of their grain crops: "Wheat, from the time it is thrashed, will shrink two quarts to the bushel, or 6 per cent, in six months, hence 94c a bushel in August, when first thrashed, is as good, taking into account shrinkage alone, as $1 in the following February. Corn shrinks much more from the time it is first husked. One hundred bushels of ears as they come from the field in November, will be reduced to not far from 80, so that 40c a bushel as it comes from the field is as good as 50c in March. In the case of potatoes, considering rot and shrinkage, between October and June there will be a loss to the holder of 33 per cent."
